Sidney School Area Report

In order to overcome conflicting dates, the Sidney Township School Area Board held its November meeting on Wednesday evening, Nov. 3rd at Glen Miller School. The members present were Chairman James Campbell, J. Sargent, H. Brown, H. M. Rutter, R. Harry.

In the correspondence was the resignation of Garnet Lindsay, caretaker of Belcrest School, who wished to be relieved of the position by November 22nd. A motion was passed accepting his resignation and the chairman and secretary were empowered to hire one for the balance of the year.

A survey of the schools had shown that practically all of them were without footballs for fall use. Most of the schools had been making use of the fine weather to play softball. The secretary was authorized to purchase a football for the schools which were without one.

Some time was spent in consideration of Mr. Macklem's report on the schools and teachers of the Area. They were pleased with the generally favorable report and especially with the good beginning made by the new teachers in the Area. The secretary was instructed to acknowledge receipt of the report and to summarize the recommendations made, so that they may be considered more closely at a future meeting.

Trustee Brown informed the Board that Mrs. Armstrong at Glen Ross School was planning an Open Night for parents of her school on the evening of Nov. 20th and through him extended an invitation to the members of the Board to be present. This invitation led to a discussion of last month's motion regarding Education Week, which is being held this year from Nov. 14th to Nov. 20th. The Supervising Principal reported that some very successful Hallowe'en parties, some in the afternoon and some in the evening, had been held in most of the schools. In some cases the parents had been invited to these. Only one case of damage to school property by Hallowe'en celebrants was reported to date.

Jas. A. Warren spoke about the public speaking contests which are annual affairs sponsored by the South Hastings Educational Association. As has been the custom the Sidney Council donates $10 for prizes but this year generously raised the amount to $15 so that each speaker would receive an award. Since their Monday meeting the number of entries has increased to such an extent that $15 would not cover it. The Board promised to be responsible for whatever more was necessary so that each contestant not ranking in the prize money would also receive an award. The largest number of contestants to take part in the township contests is expected this year.

The last regular meeting of the Board for the year will be held in Wallbridge school the second Monday of December.

New Kind Cancer, Fastest Killer Of All, Described

New York, Nov. 8 — (AP) — A new kind of cancer, the fastest killer of all, produced in rats by Japanese scientists in Nagasaki shortly before the atom bomb destroyed their laboratories, was described to the American Cancer Society Sunday.

This cancer contains a milky fluid. This fluid injected into rats causes death within one to three weeks, with cancers of enormous size.

The new cancer was not reported merely because it is many times faster than any other, but because it appears to be due to a virus, an extremely small particle. Scientists all over the world are studying the possibility that such virus particles may be at least part of the cause of human cancers.

All that is known about viruses is their existence and that they cause many different diseases. Virus particles cause common colds and infantile paralysis.

Sunday's report was made by Riojun Kinoshita, president of Osaka Municipal University and of the Japanese Cancer Society. He discovered the new cancer and the apparent virus cause in a single rat that was sent him by the Nagasaki scientists.

They started the new cancer by giving American rats, known as the Wistar strain, two chemical compounds by injection. The pair are potassium arsenite and o-amino-azotoluene. Why these two combined to start a new form of cancer is unknown.

Business Spotlight

(By The Canadian Press)

The official cost-of-living index is losing some of its upward momentum, but no one in responsible quarters will predict when it might come to a full halt and roll into a downward trend.

Now in its 21st month of a steady, record-breaking rise, the index slackened its pace during September by advancing only seven-tenths of a point between Sept. 1 and Oct. 1 — from 158.9 to 159.6 — but even this may not indicate the beginning of a long awaited recession.

The Bureau of Statistics calculates the index on the basis that living costs in 1935-39 equalled 100.

There is a possibility that the October reading — it will come in early December since the bureau reports always are a month behind — may show a recession. This might follow in view of the break which occurred in meat prices during October.

However, another rise for November and December already is in the making. Unless outbalanced by other factors, it could result from the five and 10-per-cent boosts which the government is allowing in rentals.

Long-range View

But, on the long-range view, it is hard to find a prediction as to what might happen beyond the year-end.

Right now, the world has more grain available than at any time in nearly 20 years, even though the world population has increased. Good crops have been reported in the United States and Canada as well as other countries and the possibilities of surplus stocks already have brought a decline in U. S. commodity prices.

Experts on economics agree that the effect should spread from food to other commodities. Normally, it would bring a tapering off at about the current level and then produce a down-trend.

But, countering this theory, is the question of rearmament. A growing steel shortage is developing on this continent, due mainly to the U. S. government orders for weapons, and it may bring with it still higher prices for both capital equipment and manufactured consumer goods.

Markets Saturday

Stocks rallied on New York Exchange, moved ahead fractions to a point; cotton dipped 50 cents a bale. Little effect on demand was noted in two-cent boost in price of lead. Demand surged forward. Prices slumped on Chicago Grain Exchange, but at Winnipeg trading was fair. The United Kingdom was allocated 800,000 bushels of wheat under the Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement.

Mrs. McInerney Could Not Stand Small Town Gossip

Lindsay, Nov. 8 (CP)— What was described by friends as "small town gossip" drove Mrs. Emily McInerney home to Scotland before she heard the verdict of a jury which convicted her daughter, Mrs. Jane McAllister, 25, of manslaughter.

Mrs. McInerney left nearly $300, donated by district sympathizers, untouched in a bank here.

"Dinna talk tae me about money," a friend quoted her as saying. "All I want is ma home. I canna help Jeannie now."

She was booked to fly from Montreal Sunday.

The little woman from Greenock was emotionally upset by the nervous strain of the week-long murder trial of her daughter, accused of shooting her husband, John McAllister. Mrs. McInerney was further distraught by news that her own husband was ill in Scotland.

Some of the war brides who rallied to help her and her daughter told her that her most private business was being discussed in shops, on the streets and in public meetings.

She told friends she was more than grateful for all that had been done for her, including the raising of $1,000 for a trust fund. But, everywhere she went, she was stared at and she felt that everywhere in this town residents were talking about her.

"Take me hame," she sobbed. "I canna stand it any longer."

Toronto, Nov. 8 — (CP) — Entries in dressed beef carcass competition at the Royal Winter Fair this month will be classified according to warm dressed weight. Classes have been set up for animals up to 525 pounds, 526 to 624 pounds and for those about 625 pounds.

Consecon

Consecon—Mr. Ewan McLean spent the weekend with his mother and sister, Margaret.

The Hallowe'en entertainment in the Masonic Hall on Tuesday evening sponsored by members of the Anglican Guild was a very pleasant evening. Proceeds $30.00. Allan Miller, Nancy and Bobbie Adair, Eleanor Tripp, Marlene Kaiser, Art Hewton and Leverne Phillips and others, won prizes. There was plenty of candy for all the children. Sandwiches, coffee and pie were also served.

Billy Rattray, Buddie French, and Billy Moreland, met with an accident west of Wellington in Thursday night, owing to the fog. The car was badly wrecked, belonging to Billy Rattray, while Buddie French had to be treated at the hospital for injuries while the other two fortunately escaped with bruises.

Mr. and Mrs. Everett McDonald are spending a week visiting the latter's mother in U.S.A.

Mrs. W. V. Zufelt, Mrs. Agnes McIntyre, Mrs. Alex Rattray and Mrs. Bert Rattray spent Thursday last in Toronto.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Fitchett have returned from their holidays, after visiting relatives north and at points east.

Friends here are sorry to learn that Mr. Lou Burley is a patient in Belleville Hospital.

Mr. Alex Rattray met with an accident to his car, during the fog recently, en route from Trenton.

Mrs. Jos. Thompson attended the funeral of Mr. Brickman at Belleville.

Friends are very glad that Mr. Ray Weese was able to come home from Kingston Hospital on Saturday much improved but still confined to his bed.

Mrs. Lee Clark entertained on Saturday evening a number of friends and neighbors, at a very pretty reception held in honor of her grand daughter, Lorraine, after the Mattis-Phillips wedding at the same home.

WEDDINGS

WANAMAKER—WOODS

A wedding of interest to the relatives and a very few intimate friends took place at Tweedsmuir Presbyterian Church, on Saturday, October 16, at 2.30 p.m., when Florence Martha (Mattie), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Woods, and Earle Nelson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Wanamaker, of Frankford, were united in the bonds of holy matrimony by Rev. J. F. Nute, assisted by Mr. Wm. Hynd, a lifelong friend of the Wanamakers, who gave the young couple an address of counsel and admonition starting out on the sea of life.

Mrs. Alberta Kearns Wilson, A.T.C.M., played the traditional wedding music and before the ceremony accompanied the bride's sister, Josephine, who sang "Thy Will Be Done", and during the signing of the register "Because".

The bride given in marriage by her father, wore a simple, princess gown of blush, Celanese, bridal satin with long train, and full length veil of hand-embroidered, English bridal net, held in place by a Dutchie band of satin, interlaced with curls of her childhood. She carried a cascade of white 'mums and roses.

The bride was attended by her sister, Louise, as maid of honor, and Marion Wanamaker, cousin of the groom, as bridesmaid, both wearing princess gowns of rust velvet, with rust velvet Dutchies and carrying cascades of rust 'mums and yellow roses. Gloria Leighton was a perfect little flower girl, wearing a princess gown of yellow velvet with yellow velvet Dutchie and carrying a nosegay of rust 'mums centred with a yellow rose.

The groom was attended by his cousin, Clifford Wanamaker, as groomsman. Keith Hutcheon, cousin of the bride, and Howard Wanamaker, brother of the groom, acted as ushers.

As Mrs. Wilson played Mendelssohn's March, the bridal party left the church, retiring to the church hall where the bride's mother received, attired in air force blue, with black accessories, and corsage of pink roses, assisted by the groom's mother, wearing fuchsia, with navy accessories and corsage of red roses. Just as the bride was leaving the church, a telegram was delivered to the toastmaster, Mr. John Pike, from Mr. Woods' sisters in Belfast, Ireland conveying "Best wishes and congratulations to Mattie and Earle".

The gifts from the bride and groom to their attendants were strings of pearls and tie clips; a cabinet of silver and a string of pearls to the bride, from the groom.

Later, the bride changed to her travelling suit of brown gabardine with brown accessories and top coat of Hunter's green, English twill. After their trip across the border, and to Western Ontario points they will return to spend a few days with the bride's parents before going to their home on the groom's farm, at West Huntingdon.

Out-of-town guests were from Grand Valley, Georgetown, East York, Windsor, Toronto, Belleville, Alderwood, Mimico, London, Frankford, West Huntingdon, Aurora, Sudbury, Hamilton and Guelph.

Provincial Meet Of Teen-Agers Held at Weekend

Hamilton, Nov. 8. (CP)—Teen-agers from all over the province gathered at Hamilton over the weekend for a conference on teen club problems. The conference was sponsored by the Westdale Teen's Canteen.

The delegates registered on Saturday morning at Westdale school and in the afternoon went to see the Wildcat-Alouettes game.

Rev. Norman Rawson was guest speaker at the opening dinner which was held at MacNeil Memorial Church. The entertainment was donated by the T. Eaton Co.

Mr. Rawson told the teen-agers of the start of teen age clubs in the United States by Dr. Roy A. Burkeheart, at Columbus, Ohio.

"Be yourself and act your age," was the advice given by Mr. Rawson. "Get as much out of your teen age as possible, play the game and try to co-operate. There are tremendous possibilities for teen canteens, be sure you use them and correctly."

The conference delegates attended a dance at Westdale school as guests of the Westdale Teens' Canteen in the evening.

At nine Sunday morning the delegates reassembled at Convacation Hall, McMaster University for discussion groups. Many topics were brought up that the delegates wanted answers to. These were discussed later in smaller groups.

Chancellor Gilmour of McMaster University led the conference in a church service on Sunday morning. The service was in keeping with Remembrance Day.

The first guest speaker at the farewell banquet was playing coach of the Wildcats, Frank Gnup. He spoke on football and the Wildcats in particular and told the delegates their job likened to that of a football player in that they all had to work if they wanted to have a good club.

Frank Filchock of Tiger fame came next. He told of the Tiger Club and some things on American Clubs.

Dominion Pres. Of W.M.S. Speaks To Local Group

The Afternoon and Evening Auxiliary Invictae Missionary Circle and C. G. I. T. members held a joint Thank-offering meeting at Bridge Street United Church on Friday.

At the conclusion of the pot-luck supper which turned out to be a bounteous repast, Mrs. W. J. Morrison moved a vote of thanks to all who had assisted. After the singing of a hymn she graciously welcomed the speaker, Mrs. Self, and the visitors from other churches. Miss Loretta McDougall then sang a beautiful and appropriate solo "Thanks be to God".

During the taking of the collection by the girls of the Invictae Mission Circle the hymn "We Give Thee But Thine Own" was sung.

The Worship Service followed under the leadership of Mrs. A. McLauchlin. The theme was "Christian Stewardship". The hymn "Sing to the Lord of Harvest" was sung and followed by a prayer by Miss Grace Kenny. Several passages from the book of Matthew were read by Mrs. R. Morden, and an excellent talk on Stewardship given by Miss Kenney.

"Our thoughts at this time turn to God the Giver to every human being. God has given a trust. Are we being faithful to that trust?" A lovely duet, "Feed My Lambs" by the Misses Eva and Ethel Colclough concluded the Worship period.

Dominion President Heard

Mrs. Amos, in a very capable manner, then introduced the speaker, Mrs. A. Roger Self, Dominion W. M. S. president. Mrs. Self proved a very eloquent and witty speaker. In carrying out the duties of her office she has journeyed from coast to coast getting first hand information on W.M.S. work in Canada. By her remarks she showed the answer to the theme of her address "Is W. M. S. Work Worth While?"

At Portage La Prairie there is an Indian Mission School of about 100 boys and girls. Here she saw them at work and at play. The girls in their Home Economics classes and the boys learning to farm. One name she asked us to remember — that of Irving Keeter, an Indian boy of such promise that the W. M. S. has created a scholarship for three years in Manitoba University for him.

At the Alberni Residential School an Indian girl, Judith Morgan, has been assisted by the W. M. S. to develop a natural artistic talent. At the exhibit of work from the Alberni school her paintings took a large and prominent part.

The response by the boys and girls of the Round Lake Indian School to her address was so inspirational and so hopeful for the future that it surely showed W.M.S. work worth while.

Visited W. M. S. Hospitals

She spoke of visiting the W. M. S. hospitals and of the wonderful and tireless work of the nursing superintendents, and missionary doctors, especially at Hearst, an 80 bed hospital and at Cold Lake, where Dr. Savage not only looks after a 26 bed hospital, but takes Sunday and week-day services, and leads a C. G. I. T. group and others.

People who give without counting the cost are our missionaries. Are we giving without counting the cost?"

She urged us to welcome the D. P.'s who are coming to our communities.

"I have seen the work and the workers and I know it is definitely worth while. But there is so much work and so many workers needed."

Mrs. R. D. Arnott very graciously extended a vote of thanks to the speaker on behalf of the joint groups.

The singing of the hymn "O Master of the Waking World" closed a very inspiring meeting.

66th Wedding Anniversary Is Celebrated

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Terry of Consecon, with a few of their friends, quietly celebrated their 66th wedding anniversary on Saturday, November sixth, at their country residence, on the outskirts of Consecon.

This grand old couple are often seen on nice Summer days, driving their car along the country roads. Their many friends extend to them heartiest congratulations and all good wishes for the days ahead.

L.O.B.A. Holds Regular Meeting

The L.O.B.A. held their regular meeting on Thursday, Nov. 4, with a large attendance. Visitors from Trenton were present, including the Right Worthy Sister Hill, Worthy Mistress, Sister Jones, and Worthy Mistress, Sister Donaldson of Wallbridge, with several other members also from Wallbridge.

The Stirling degree team carried out the initiation program, and exemplified the emblems of the Order in a most capable manner. A solo, by Sister McGee, of Stirling, was very much appreciated. Different speakers of the evening were, Right Worthy Sister Hill of Trenton, Worthy Sister Jones, Worthy Deputy Mistress, Sister Vantassell, also from Trenton, and Worthy Mistress, Sister Donaldson, of Wallbridge.

Community singing, under the leadership of Mistress Florence Insley of Point Anne, was greatly enjoyed, after which bountiful refreshments were served. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the ladies of 350 Belleville, for their kind hospitality.

FIND BODY OF ONE OF FOUR DROWNED

Athol Springs, N.Y., Nov. 8 — (AP)—Lake Erie has yielded the body of one of four Buffalo men whose fishing boat capsized in a storm three weeks ago.

Boys found the body, identified as that of John Koniarczyk, 34, on a beach near here Sunday.

53rd Anniversary Of Wedding Is Observed

Roslin—On Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Reid were honored on the occasion of their fifty-third wedding anniversary at a dinner party at the home of their son, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Reid. Members of the immediate family were present and spent this happy occasion with them.

A three-tier anniversary cake suitably decorated with candles adorned the dinner table. Many gifts were presented the happy parents who expressed their appreciation, and thanks to their children, and grandchildren for a very pleasant evening.

W. A.

The November meeting of the Woman's Auxiliary was held on Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Wm. Bates with nineteeen ladies present. The president, Mrs W. Slingerland, presided and the meeting was opened in the usual way. The scripture reading was given by Miss L. Wilson.

Several items of business were dealt with. The diocesan board letter from Kingston was read by the secretary. Mrs. Beazer reported on highlights from the W A. deanery meeting held at Marmora recently. The Roll Call was well responded to with a verse containing the word "Thanks".

Mrs. F. Meeks leader for the evening was in charge of the program. A humorous reading "Corn on the Cob," was given by Mrs. Wm. Gillespie. Misses Mary and Norma Bates favored with a duet "In the Garden." Mrs. Meeks gave a poem "Just Don't Say It."

An article "The Lion and the Mouse" was read by Miss Norma Bates. All joined in singing "O Valiant Hearts." The meeting was closed with prayer by the rector.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess, and a social time enjoyed.

Shower Held For Young Couple

Holloway.—Friends and neighbors numbering about fifty gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William Ray on Thursday evening, October 21, to honor their son, Floyd and his new bride with a shower.

Mr. Cecil Ketcheson acted as chairman. Miss Irene Sine read the address, Mr. Douglas Sills and Mr. Albert Tummon presented the happy couple with a beautiful floor lamp, and large wall mirror. The honored couple responded with short appreciative speeches. Refreshments were served before the gathering dispersed.

V.O.N. NEWS

At a large banquet the other evening, a young graduate nurse said to a fellow guest, seated beside her:

"I've just finished two years post-graduate work at the Toronto School of Nursing, and it wasn't until I had studied one of the courses given, that I realized or was even aware of the wonderful work that the V.O.N. carries on. It was all a big surprise to me."

A young mother of several small children said the other day in a telephone conversation:

"I've just had the V.O.N. in to see the baby about giving some serum, which the V.O.N. is qualified to do. Otherwise it would mean driving fifty miles or so to the baby specialist I go to, to give it. I honestly don't know what I'd do without the V.O.N. and the splendid work they do to help those in need of nursing care."

A man, whose aged, ill and bed-ridden father died recently said this:

"My father made his home with us, and my wife gave him good and kind care. But there were times, when it was more than she was able to do. It was impossible to get a nurse. But the V.O.N. came as often as she was needed. She eased my father in his illness and brought cheer and comfort with each visit, and altogether made our care a lighter one. My wife and I will never be able to thank the V.O.N. enough."

Your V.O.N. offers a voluntary nursing service. It is yours for the asking. Call 1125.

Fine Highway Opens Rich New Area Of Chicoutimi in N. Eastern Quebec

Quebec, Nov. 8 (CP)—For the settlers of Quebec's wooded kingdom of the Saguenay times are fabulous. In 10 years new industries, radio stations, cinemas, Modern stores, new parishes and a new diocese have sprouted in the rock and timberland.

Last week a $20,000,000 superhighway that promises to make the land the gateway to rich northeastern Quebec opened after four years' building. It cuts the travel time between Quebec and their "big city"—Chicoutimi— to a two-hour drive.

To the people of booming Chicoutimi it seemed almost too good to be true. During the last week, they travelled in 30 hired buses to view the new road, while some 2,000 autoists glided over its 103 miles, a government release said.

Ends Handicap

Oldtimers agreed "la route" had put an end to the Saguenay's traditional handicap—poor communications.

For years the Saguenay region was colonization territory. Before a rail line linked Quebec and Chicoutimi at the turn of the century, it was more than a day's trip by boat.

Twenty-five years ago when Chicoutimi's population was 8,937, a rough, bouncing 200-mile road was cut through. Later a slightly better road reduced the distance to 150 miles from Quebec City.

The war and hydro expansion at Shipshaw in 1942-43 started the present boom.

Chicoutimi's population, 16,000 in 1941, soared. The same was true of the nearby aluminum town of Arvida.

In 1944, the Quebec government launched the road project after engineers' preliminary estimates figured the cost at $6,000,000.

To do the job Canada's two biggest road construction firms were hired and $5,000,000 worth of equipment was brought in. Hundreds of men were set to blasting away at rock mountains, draining swamps and levelling valleys.

In one spot three power transmission towers had to be moved. At another engineers altered the course of winding Montmorency River.

Swamp-drainage involved dredging to a depth of 40 feet through large areas. Gaping holes had to be filled with stones and sand.

Opposed by Liberals

The project came into public prominence last winter when the Liberal opposition in the Quebec legislature attacked the Union Nationale Government for what it called "waste" on the Chicoutimi road.

The government pointed to engineering difficulties and argued that the future of the region justified the project.

The road was a political issue during last summer's provincial election campaign and charges and counter-charges flew from the hustings.

The people of Chicoutimi and the whole north shore region who stand to benefit most, wiped out by their votes Liberal representation in the district and re-elected Roads Minister Antonio Talbot, legislature member for Chicoutimi.

MEMORIAL TO AUSTRALIANS

Collingwood, Nov. 8 — (CP) — An Australian Air Force ensign was dedicated here Sunday at a memorial service for two Australian airmen, LAC. Colin Arthur and LAC. Claude Murray Ross, killed in 1941 when their aircraft crashed in Collingwood Bay. Gwen Arthur, sister of one of the fliers, came from Australia to attend.

Rawdon

How to Make Poultry Pay Subject of Talk

Rawdon—Agriculture and Canadian Industries was the subject of the November meeting of River Valley Women's Institute in charge of the convener, Mrs. Percy MacMullen. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Ed Kent and about forty ladies were in attendance on Thursday.

The guest speaker was Mr. G. W. Montgomery, who is the assistant to Mr. A. O. Dalrymple, Agricultural Representative of Hastings County. He spoke on the assigned topic "How to make poultry pay in winter months." He based his educational message on housing, culling, feeding, age, breed, attendants who care for the flock, cleanliness and weather. He urged against overcrowding and advised that each hen have four to six square feet of space. There should be one foot of hopper space per bird. It was advised to use finely ground oyster shell and proper ventilation is very necessary

Demonstration Given

Mr. Montgomery demonstrated with two live fowl the good points of a laying bird, and the poor points of a non-layer. This will be a great help in culling the flock. The use of leg bands is also an effective way of finding out which hens are producers. Several poultry bulletins were displayed and anyone interested can procure them from the agricultural office. The speaker felt that despite the high cost of feed, that with proper care, hens could be a profitable side-line.

A discussion period followed the address and Mrs. Ernest Carr voiced the thanks of the ladies to Mr. Montgomery for his interesting and helpful address.

Mrs. Sid Demorest read a poem entitled "Hens, then and now."

The convener furnished a cooked fowl which Mrs. Frank Carr used to demonstrate the proper way to carve. This proved very interesting and later the meat was cut in small pieces and served along with the sandwiches and cake.

Mrs. MacMullen also gave three gifts as a special surprise item of her meeting as follows:

To the youngest grandmother, Mrs. Morley Richardson.

To the oldest grandmother — Mrs. A. McCullough.

To the grandmother with the most great grandchildren —Mrs. Charles Conley who has 28 grandchildren and 14 great grandchildren.

Contest Omitted

It was regretted that a contest on poultry prepared by Mrs. C. Chard had to be omitted.

The house was beautifully decorated in Hallowe'en colors of black and yellow.

Mrs. Percy Utman, president, conducted the opening exercises and presided over the business period.

The roll call was answered with "How to make more money on the farm." The answers running all the way from hens, eggs, ducks, geese, turkeys, calves, strawberrie, garden produce, boarders, tourists, sewing and knitting.

Mrs. Thos. Hanna read four messages of thanks.

An invitation to visit Chatterton W. I. was accepted.

All members are asked to bring clippings, pictures or anything of historic value to the December meeting. These will be used for the institute scrap book which will begin with the date of organization in 1910.

Several members paid $1.25 each for overseas boxes.

Mrs. Ed Heasman gave a detailed account of the last boxes sent to Bristol W. I. in England. One contained 50 cans of salmon and the one forwarded in October contained articles of food for their Christmas party in Bristol.

Plans were made to begin a series of card parties in the near future.

The lunch committee served refreshments and a vote of thanks was tendered for hospitality and program.

Stirling

Power Problem Discussed By Village Council

Stirling village council met in regular session in the council chambers recently with Reeve Wells presiding and councillors Bailey, Bradshaw and Brooks present.

Communications were tabled from Unemployment Insurance Commission re amendments to Unemployment Insurance Act, Fire Marshal re steps to be taken in matter of fire fighting equipment in view of hydro cut offs from Picton Gazette, re publicity for Hastings County "Highlands of Hastings."

In a discussion on the matter of taking advertising in the Highlands of Hastings it was moved by councillors Bradshaw and Bailey that council authorize the placing of an advertisement in the said booklet similar in size to that carried last year.

Discuss Power Problem

A. Sprentall, manager of Stirling Hydro discussed Stirling's hydro problem with council and explained the difficulty experienced in trying to get the electrical consumption under the village quota. Council went into a committee as a whole on by-laws and passed a by-law naming Saturday, November 13th at 8 p.m. and the council chambers as the time and place for holding a court of revision on the 1948 assessment.

Reeve Wells introduced the matter of erecting the snow fence in the village stating that some 1600 feet of fencing was now owned by the municipality. The matter was left in the hands of the streets committee. The disposition of the fencing to the best advantage was discussed and the streets on which it will be erected were selected.

A number of minor items of business were discussed by council. Several accounts were passed for payment.

TRUE LIFE STORIES FROM THE FILES OF THE ST. JOHN AMBULANCE

Case No. 1

One day in 1946 the body of a four-year-old boy was seen floating in the canal at Cornwall. As the lad was being pulled from the water, Mrs. Lillian Halliwell and John McColl, two St. John Ambulance first-aiders, happened to be passing. Immediately they applied artificial respiration. Twenty-five minutes later when the fire department and a doctor arrived with an inhalator, the child was beginning to revive. The doctor gave full credit to the members of the St. John Ambulance for saving the youngster's life.

Case No. 2

The St. John Ambulance in West Vancouver received a midnight call from the police requesting that an ambulance and trained first-aiders be rushed to a burning cottage on a nearby mountain side.

In a matter of minutes, Transport Officer Mrs. Elizabeth Peake was on her way. At a lodge near the fire, the St. John first-aiders found three severely-burned persons suffering intense pain. First aid was quickly applied and the victims rushed to hospital. All completely recovered.

A tornado struck a residential district on the outskirts of Windsor. Seventeen persons were killed and over a hundred seriously injured.

An appeal for help was broadcast. Immediately, to the last man, the St. John Ambulance Brigade in Windsor answered the call.

Emergency first-aid stations were set up and for three days and nights these trained first-aiders gave unstintingly of their time and energy, relieving the pain and suffering of the injured.

Case No. 4

1948 Canadian National Exhibition is over and the St. John Ambulance again played its important part in treating and caring for the 3,925 men, women and children who sustained accidents or suffered illness.

A first-aid post was set up and 765 St. John personnel voluntarily served the needy, regardless of race, color or creed, during the two week period.

Faintings, heart attacks, illness, skyrocket burns, horse-bites and broken bones were all given prompt and practical first aid.

Day after day, all across Canada, the members of the St. John Ambulance quietly and efficiently render service to humanity. Their activities include training and service in first aid, home nursing, blood grouping, maternal and child hygiene, public duty, highway first aid system and the St. John Cadets.

All services are given voluntarily and without remuneration.

To carry on its great humanitarian work and to further and expand its activities YOU are urged to support the St. John Ambulance Appeal, November 1st to November 20th.

Please give as generously as your means will allow.

Detroit Red Wings Split Rugged Weekend Games To Hold Leadership in N.H.L.

(By The Canadian Press)

Beaten 2-0 by Montreal Canadiens Saturday night, Detroit Red Wings roared back Sunday to plaster Boston Bruins 7-3 and protect their first-place spot in the National Hockey League.

Montreal's win—Bill Durnan's third shutout this year—moved Canadiens into a second place tie with Boston, four points behind Detroit.

New York Rangers battled Toronto Maple Leafs to a 3-3 draw Saturday and then dropped a 4-2 decision Chicago Black Hawks. That gam. put Rangers and Black Hawks into a tie for the cellar position with four points each, three behind Toronto.

Seven men scored Detroit's seven goals as Red Wings finished their toughest weekend this year by polishing off Bruins.

Ted Lindsay, Jerry Couture, Jim McFadden, Pete Horeck, Bill Quackenbush, George Gee and Bud Poile got them.

Warwick Tallies Two

Grant Warwick got two goals for Boston before being banished in the final period for fighting back at Gordon Howe.

Harry Lumley made 26 saves against Canadiens in the Saturday game, but it wasn't enough to stop Big Butch Bouchard. Bouchard, who scored only four goals in all of last season, scored twice in less than a minute of the first period.

Although the weekend left Red Wings four points ahead, Montreal had one and Boston two games in hand.

Bill Moe, just nicely recovered from the pre-season car accident that badly crippled the Rangers, was carried from the ice Sunday night when Doug Bentley inadvertently broke his stick across Moe's mouth, loosening six teeth.

Bentley potted two goals as the Hawks got their second win this year, with Bill Mosienko and Jack Stewart each getting one. Edgar Laprade got both of them for Rangers.

Against Toronto the night before, certain victory was snatched from the Rangers with 54 seconds remaining. Trailing 3-2 with less than two minutes to go, Coach Hap Day pulled goalie Turk Broda and sent six men against Sugar Jim Henry. After two faceoffs in Ranger territory, Ted Kennedy pushed the puck home.

Rookie Clint Albright, Don Raleigh and Pentti Lund scored for Rangers with Harry Watson gettin Toronto's other two goals.

Tricolor Defeats McGill by 12-5

Montreal, Nov. 8 — (CP) — A mud-spattered Queen's University squad mucked their way over a mud covered gridiron to a 12-5 victory over McGill Redmen here Saturday in an intercollegiate intermediate football League game played before empty stands.

Queen's broke into the scoring column mid way through the first quarter after they had sloshed through to the Montreal eight-yard line. Pryor slid the rest of the way for the touchdown.

The convert attempt failed when Queen's Bolton kicked a mound of mud instead of the ball.

In the second quarter Montrose ploughed across the McGill line for Queen's second major. Jack Cuddy's placement was good for the convert point.

The visitors earned an extra point when McGill's Don Wilson was rouged on Parkinson's kick after slipping on his own goal line.

The Redmen came through late in the third quarter for their sole touchdown which came after Jack Dannaher picked up a blocked Queen's kick at midfield and skidded the rest of the way to paydirt. The convert failed.

INDUSTRIAL EXPANSION

New Delhi — (CP) — Seven schemes for the expansion of the cement industry in India have been sanctioned by the Government of India. These schemes, it is expected, will add more than 1,000,000 tons of cement to existing production.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Referees of the Belleville District Hockey League under Referee-in-Chief Speedy St. Louis went into conclave over the weekend—and emerged with a lot of resolutions under their collective belts. First and foremost, St. Louis definitely impressed upon his employees that they must rule with a firm hand—and throw the book at any offending player. There'll be no nonsense and the rules of play will be rigidly adhered to. Present at the meeting were Messrs McKenna and Gray, RCAF, Trenton, Perry Everett and Bill Holway, Belleville and Bill O'Malley, Trenton.

Speedy went over the "book" carefully and various rules went under discussion and interpretation. "The main thing" St. Louis said, "is to keep the game under control at all times. If an officials 'bears down' at the start of the game, players will not attempt to pull the wool over his eyes. A few stiff early-game penalties will work wonders and go a long way to keep the game and players under control."

There will be no pussy-footing or panty-twisting as far as hockey officials are concerned. And that goes for their attitude toward fiery spectators as well. St. Louis instructed his men to immediately call the police and have any bottle-throwing spectator evicted from the Arena.

St. Louis will carefully coach his staff—and will work games with each of them. On opening night—and possibly the following two or three hockey nights, the referees will work single games with the chief, until he is satisfied that they are capable of handling the games themselves. Final selection of the referee staff will be made at a later date.

It was not definitely decided over the weekend (This was written last night) whether the league would officially open on Tuesday as scheduled, or not. Manager Walter Gerow and his staff are having difficulties with the making of ice—and this morning officials of the company who sold the plastic floor to the city, were here on an inspection visit. The outcome is published elsewhere.

Northern Electric and the Belleville Rockets took the ice for their initial practices over the weekend, but were forced to retire after a brief workout, due to ice conditions. The CNR Diesels met the same circumstances.

Secretary Jack Christie, Toronto, of the Ontario Minor Hockey Association declared himself to be exceptionally well satisfied with the Association's Referees' Forum held in Kiwanis Centre on Friday night. He expressed the sincere appreciation of himself and the OMHA to the Kiwanis Club for their generosity in granting the facilities of the Centre for the meeting.

Approximately thirty past, present and future referees and linesmen with a sprinkling of interested players of the district were present. They represented Belleville, Trenton, Port Hope, Lindsay, Cobourg, Tweed, Stirling and Marmora. Speedy St. Louis represented the Belleville District Hockey League.

With Secretary Christie were E. M. Downey, Port Hope who acted as chairman; assistant chairman Sam Curry, Tweed. Otto Hartwick, OMHA executive member, Bolton, Ont., Bernard Hodgett, T.C.S., Port Hope and Bert Hick of Lindsay. Downey told the assembled referees that the Forum was called in order to acquaint officials with the proper discharge of their duties and to arrive at a uniform interpretation of the rules. Further it is hoped it would serve to encourage retired hockey players to take up referee duties especially in the minor leagues. It was suggested that above this, the officials would serve in town and city leagues of higher ratings—and help other organizations. The OMHA, he said, would back its officials to the limit.

Mr. Hodgett of Trinity College School, Port Hope, discussed the conduct of referees while on the ice. He urged them to always be on time, be neatly and as far as possible uniformly dressed, and not to mingle with the spectators.

Fraternization with players will be strictly avoided by the efficient officials, he said. If any discussion crops up, the referee wil confer with the team captain, manager or coach. He will not tolerate anything of a rough nature—and should rule with a firm hand throughout the entire game.

Jack Christie discussed a number of special rules as laid down by the OMHA such as body-checking in centre ice, dressing of thirteen players including an extra goalkeeper; signing of certificates etc. He pointed out that the overtime period in minor hockey are of thirty minutes duration and period must be completed. In other words there no "sudden death" goals to decide the overtime outcome of a game.

During a question and answer period, "Peg" Hurst, well-known Oshawa referee and former goalkeeper, discussed the rules of the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association. Definite interest in many rules and other phases of hockey was noted in the many questions asked and the subsequent discussions. At the conclus'on of the meeting, Secretary Christie expressed his pleasure at the interest shown as evidenced in the fine turnout—and expressed the hope that all four minor classes of hockey would operate in this district the coming winter.

SAVE ELECTRICITY!
GOOD CITIZENSHIP is a lot of little things

YOU CAN SAVE ELECTRICITY

The tremendous post-war growth of Ontario's industries has resulted in unprecedented demands for hydro-electric power. To keep these industries producing, every one of us must cut down our use of electricity. You can save power by turning off all lights in rooms not in use . . . by switching off electric stoves and other appliances as soon as you are finished with them. Use electrically heated water sparingly . . . do not use electric heaters or grates. Save all the electricity you can . . . in your home, your office, your shop . . . and prove your "Good Citizenship".

You can help this public service effort. Make a note of some of the little things which, in your opinion, contribute to Good Citizenship.

St. Louis Flyers Suffer First Loss in 10 Games

(By The Canadian Press)

St. Louis Flyers dropped into second place in the western division of the American Hockey League Sunday night after being handed a 4-1 loss by Pittsburgh Hornets. It was their first defeat in 10 games.

A third period goal by Peanuts O'Flaherty Saturday night gave Pittsburgh a 3-3 tie with St. Louis.

Cleveland Barons came from behind in the last three minutes of play to tie Indianapolis Capitals, 4-4 Sunday night. Providence Reds trounced Philadelphia Rockets 10-1 and New Haven Ramblers pinned a 4-2 setback on the Springfield Indians.

In the Pittsburgh - St. Louis Sunday night game, O'Flaherty, Harry Taylor, Phil Samis and Ted Sloan scored the Hornets' goals while Bill McComb racked up the lone Flyers' counter.

Pittsburgh snipers Saturday night were Ray Ceresino, Rudy Migay and O'Flaherty. McComb, Eddie Olson and Lloyd Doran got the Flyer goals.

The Cleveland goal - getters against Indianapolis Sunday night were Bryan Hextall, Pete Leswick with two, and Freddy Thurier, Joe Lund, Lee Fogolin, Al Dewsbury and Pat Lundy tallied for the Caps.

Harvey Fraser, veteran centre, scored four of Providence's 10 goals against Philadelphia.

Score Two Apiece

Jack Stoddard and Johnny Chad scored two goals apiece while Jackie Hamilton and Roger Bedard got two singles.

Sam Mulholland bagged Philadelphia's lone counter.

In the New Haven - Springfield game Sunday night Bill Summerhill scored the two Springfield goals in the third period. Goals by Ken Davies and Jean Paul Davis in the first stanza got New Haven away in front. Fred Brown and Bill Ramsden each tallied in the second.

Dense indoor fog caused postponement Saturday night of the Providence-Hershey game.

In the other Saturday encounters New Haven Ramblers and Philadelphia Rockets battled to a 2-2 draw. George Johnson and Sherman White shared New Haven scoring honors while Kenny Kilrea and Chuck Kraiger tallied for Philadelphia.

Buffalo's No. 1 forward line of centre Murdo McKay and wingers Fred Hunt and George Pargeter led the Bisons to a 4-1 victory over Springfield Indians Saturday night.

Floyd Curry and Pargeter scored for Buffalo in the first period while Len Curick scored Springfield's only marker in the same session. Hal Laycoe made it 3-1 in the second period and Hunt sank the final Bison counter in the last stanza. McKay had three assists.

Goals by Cal Mackay, Enio Sclisizzi and Mel Podolsky enabled Indianapolis Capitals to nudge out Cleveland Barons 3-2 Saturday night. Pete Leswick and Bobby Carse racked up a goal apiece for the losers.

The Big Seven

(By The Canadian Press)

Grant Warwick Boston Bruins' little pepper pot, vaulted into top spot in the National Hockey League scoring race over linemate Ed Sandford by picking up two goals in Boston's lone week end encounter. Warwick now has 12 points and Sandford 11. Third member of the torrid Bruin trio Pete Babando, added a pair of assists to retain third place with 10 points. Chicago's Doug Bentley cashed two markers and garnered an assist to slide into fourth place with nine points.

Eight Canadians Play on Paris Hockey Squad

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Paris, Nov. 8 (CP)—When eight youthful Canadians made their 1948 hockey debut with Le Racing Club De Paris, French newspapers devoted more space to their accents than to their stickhandling abilities.

Particularly intrigued was Le Figaro. It said that the French spoken by Jerry Genest of Otterburn, Man., a racing club forward was the kind one doesn't hear around Paris any more.

Parisian French or no, Racing Club won its opening game 9-3 against a London all-star team. Playing before a slim crowd of 2,000 in the Palais Des Sports, the Paris team thus took up where the 1947 club left off.

Last year, sparked by such veterans as Ossie and Herbie Carnegie, Negro stars from Northern Ontario, Racing Club defeated all European competition with ease. The Carnegie brothers are missing this season, but Le Figaro predicts Racing Club will be "tres dangerous rivaux" nevertheless.

The eight Canadians, recruited principally from Winnipeg and Sudbury, Ont., live in a small hotel in the Victor Hugo district of Paris. They are billed as amateurs and will play most of their games in the Palais, a dimly-lighted auditorium whose ice surface isn't up to the standard of most Canadian rinks.

The racing Club directorate, which decides what teams will meet the Canadian-dominated squad, includes Charlie Michaelis, and Jo Longmans, well known in Parisian sporting circles. Playing coach is Pete Bessone of Boston, one of two Americans on the team.

Steve O'Neil Fired As Manager Of Detroit Tigers

(By The Canadian Press)

Steve O'Neill, who gave Detroit one world championship and three American League runner-up clubs in his six-year stay here, was fired Saturday as manager of the Tigers. He was the seventh major league pilot to lose his job this year.

One of the other six, Stanley (Bucky) Harris, deposed New York Yankees manager, has been rumored as likely successor to O'Neill.

An announcement from Detroit's general manager, Billy Evans, said no successor has been chosen. It said O'Neill's contract is not being renewed on a belief "that a charge in field management would be desirable".

Steve Levantis, 32-year-old veteran Toronto Argonaut lineman who has played with five Dominion championship football teams, Saturday announced at Toronto he is hanging up his playing togs for good. The burly middle-wing was assistant coach this season, supervising line duties under Tedder Morris.

Herbie Burron of Winnipeg, who played with St. Boniface, Man.. Seals when they won the Memorial Cup in 1938, has been appointed coach of Winnipeg Canadiens Junior Hockey Club, it was learned Sunday night at Winnipeg. He replaced Hugh Millar who was unable to obtain his release from Detroit Red Wings of the National Hockey League to coach the Winnipeg Club.

President Clair Warner of the Western Football Conference announced Sunday at Regina that Hec Crichton of Toronto will officiate at Thursday's game in Calgary when Saskatchewan Roughriders and Calgary Stampeders meet to decide the West's Grey Cup football entry.

Henri Rochon, Canada's ranking tennis player, Saturday moved into the quarter-finals of the Mexican National Tennis tournament at Mexico City. Battling from behind, Rochon defeated Rafael Ortena. Mexico, 2-6, 3-6, 9-7, 6-2, 7-5. In the critical third set, with the game score 2-5 against him, the Canadian defended against match point three times.

MAY FIGHT AGAIN

Boston, Nov. 8 (AP)— Joe Louis who says he'll fight again "if a good man shows up and people think I should," will continue an exhibition tour tonight by going four, rounds — no decision — against Boston's Johnny Shkor.

"I haven't signed to fight anybody," the 34-year-old world heavyweight champion reiterated to sportswriters Sunday night at a reception.

Eric Chipper Wins Jeff Russell Trophy Award

Ottawa, Nov. 8 (CP)— Eric Chipper, 33-year-old star outside wing of the Ottawa Rough Riders, is winner of the Jeff Russel Memorial Trophy for outstanding sportsmanship and playing ability in the Big Four.

Outside winger Keith English of the Montreal Alouettes, playing his first year in senior football, is holder of rookie of the year award, held by the Riders for the last two years.

These two selections, Chipper and English, followed voting by 17 officials and five governors of the Big Four. They were announced by D. Wes Brown, secretary of the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union, last night.

The ward to Chipper, outstanding placement kicker followed his brilliant win for Ottawa Saturday when his placement kick in the final seconds of the game gave the Riders a 14-12 victory over the Toronto Argos.

Captain of the Riders, top dogs in the Big Four, Chipper joined the team 10 years ago after one season in junior football in the junior city league.

Chipper wound up the schedule with a total of 37 points.

He becomes the sixth Ottawan to take the award, first presented for competition in the I.R.F.U. by the friends of the late Jeff Russell in 1928. Last time Ottawa captured the award was in 1945. It was held by Virgil Wagner, Alouettes star half-back last year.

The rookie of the year award donated for competition three years ago, was twice captured by Ottawa Big Four players. Bernie Brennan won it the first year, then Nelson took it, before Keith English swung the award over the the Montreal side.

WEEKEND STARS

(By The Canadian Press)

Butch Bouchard, Montreal defenceman who scored the only two goals Saturday night when Canadiens shutout Detroit Red Wings 2-0.

Harry Watson, Toronto winger who fired two goals and assisted on the tying marker in the last minute when the Leafs battled New York to a 3-3 deadlock Saturday night.

Doug Bentley, Chicago veteran who picked up two goals and an assist when the Black Hawks whipped New York 4-2 last night.

Bill Quackenbush, rugged Detroit defenceman who scored a goal and assisted on two others when Detroit downed the Bruins 7-3 Sunday night.

Grant Warwick, Boston's left-winger who fired two goals as the Bruins went down to defeat before the high-flying Red Wings

How television makes jobs for Canadians

The eye of the television camera is an image-orthicon tube. The heart of the receiving set is a cathode-ray tube. Most metal parts of these tubes are nickel or nickel alloys.

In television receivers there are also from 16 to 32 or more radio tubes of which the metal parts are nickel, nickel alloys or nickel coated. Nickel is also used in x-Ray tubes and in long distance telephone systems, including those using the new coaxial cable.

Television has been developed through long and exhaustive research by, individuals and manufacturers of electrical equipment, and in this research the International Nickel research laboratories have co-operated to the fullest extent.

The development of television has given rise to an entirely new market for Canadian Nickel. New jobs are created for Canadians both in the Nickel industry and in industries which make equipment containing Nickel.

Thus does research develop better products, create more employment.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

Accordin' to Gordon, opener of one in a suit shows better than average in all essential items. Among these items are aces and kings and queens, known as high cards. They are the no-trump tricks.

With 12 high cards in a pack, average for each player would be three. Better than average is four. An opener, therefore, has better than average in no-trump tricks. Accordin' to Gordon, that is.

According to cumbersome systems, no-trump tricks are based on a count known as honor tricks. These are combinations that include the jacks and tens with the 12 high cards, reckoned with fractions.

Their openers show two and a half or three honor tricks. If part of them are jacks and tens, fewer high cards are included. Therefore, such openers may not have better than average in high cards.

According to point system, an opener shows a count of so many points. This number includes fractional values that include jacks and tens. It may mean fewer high cards, of course.

Therein lies one of the main differences between a Horse Sense opener and the others. It is in the fact that the others may end at at a no-trump contract that is not sound enough in high cards.

They place reliance in tens and jacks as a matter of rule. The Horse Sense opener does not. He relies on the 12 biggest (high) cards. Jacks and tens are employed only as an emergency gamble.

South opened with a bid of one spade with this hand:

♣A 8 4 2

The pair ended at a contract of three no-trump that was defeated. No wonder. The opener should have had at least four high cards. He was one high card short, accordin' to Gordon.

When you open with less than four high cards, it is an unsound no-trump basis. According to mathematics. According to common sense. Accordin' to Gordon.

Peter Campbell, Owner Toronto Ball Club, Dies

Toronto, Nov. 8 — (CP) — The man who took over Toronto's baseball Maple Leafs and lifted them in two years from the International League cellar to the pennant died in hospital yesterday.

He was Peter G. Campbell, 56, president and general manager of the club and one of Canada's most colorful sports figures. He had been ill since mid-September with pnemonia and heart complications.

Himself a noted hockey and football star in his youth, he was one of the founders of the Toronto Maple Leafs of the National Hockey Club.

Mr. Campbell and a group of associates took over the Leafs in 1941 when the team's fortunes were at its lowest ebb in history and talk of moving the franchise was rife. Two years later, Leafs won the International League pennant. They had won only one in the previous 16 years.

Mr. Campbell never won a Little World Series nor another pennant. But he put the club on a sound financial basis.

He was born at Petrolia, Ont., and spent his youth at Peterborough.

At Trinity College school, in which he never lost interest, he captained both football and hockey teams. Serving overseas in the First World War with the 48th Highlanders, he won the Military Cross.

Mr. Campbell was unmarried and is survived by a brother, Allan.

After the war, he helped form the brokerage firm of Campbell, Stratton & Company and later joined the advertising department of the Toronto Globe and Mail.

Mr. Campbell battled for everything his club achieved. Once he stormed into an International League meeting, demanding the other clubs sell him players so Toronto could quit the cellar. He got them.

FIRST-CLASS CITIZENS

Brantford, Nov. 8 (CP)—Veterans Minister Gregg said Sunday Canadian veterans were first-class citizens when they shed their uniforms. In an address at Brantford's Remembrance Day service, he thanked veterans for the way they had served country both in war and peace.

His Arm Cut Off Man Walked Mile To Get Ambulance

Boring. Que., Nov. 8. (AP)—A lumber mill worker had his arm cut off at the shoulder Sunday and then walked more than a mile to this town to get an ambulance to Portland. Police said Henry Francis Meeker, 62, was given a "fair" chance of recovering at a Portland hospital. He was cleaning a planer at a mill near here when his right garment sleeve tangled in the machine and pulled his arm into the cutter. He was alone.

CHARGED WITH THEFT

Oshawa, Nov. 8 (CP)—In a sequel to a report of a Hallowe'en "shooting feud," Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Marnien have been charged with stealing ducks from the J. J. Fleming farm north of here. They will appear in court Tuesday.

Earlier, farmhand Clarence Smith, 18, and Cecil Winacott, Marnien's 16-year-old brother-in-law, told police the farm premises were invaded by prowlers who fired small-calibre rifles. But later they admitted the story to be a fabrication, pleaded guilty to a charge of creating a public mischief and were remanded for sentence.

Marnien, manager of the farm, at the time the youths put forward their shooting claims reported that 50 ducks had been stolen from the farm.

The Council of the Township of Sidney met on Monday, November 1st., at Wallbridge. All members present. It was decided by the council to advertise the closing of a portion of road beginning at a point 60 rods east of road running north and south, north of Johnstown Church in the 3rd line of Sidney in N.E. Pt 8 and N ½ 9.

Moved by B. Bleecker, seconded by C. Frost: That road voucher No. 11 for $2,080.15, relief vouchers for November and December $261.40 and November pay sheet be paid.

Moved by B. Bleecker, seconded by L. Grills: That a grant of $15 be given as prizes for public speaking contest in Sidney township.

Moved by L. Grills, seconded by B. Bleecker: That Roy Woods be instructed to make the special assessments within the water areas.

The council decided to investigate the area of land situated between the Airport and Town of Trenton before considering the restricted area by-law. The Reeve and Deputy Reeve were appointed to a committee to interview Bata Shoe Co., re arrangement for application to be reconsidered by Central Housing and Mortgage Corporation.

The following by-laws were passed by council:

(1) To regulate the use of land and the character, location and use of buildings and structures in the 1st and 2nd concessions and Broken Front of Sidney Township.

(2) Enacting rules and regulations covering the construction, maintenance and operation of a water works system in certain defined sections or areas in Sidney Township.

Council adjourned to meet December 15th, at 11 a.m.

R. Vanderwater,
Clerk.

Handkerchief Dropped by Bandit

Philadelphia, Nov. 8 (AP)— A handkerchief dropped by one of two bandits was the only tangible clue police said they had today in the murder of a newsdealer's wife. Mrs. Helen Pietrzak, 31, was shot to death in her home Sunday after the bandits had trussed her and her husband, Theodore, 35, in their bed with a clothesline. Detectives said the slayers escaped with $600 in cash.

LITTLE HOPE OF FINDING SURVIVORS OF PLANE

Saigon, Indo-China, Nov. 8 — (Reuters)—Little hope was held here today of finding survivors from the Paris-Sealgon DC-3 plane which disappeared about 60 miles from Pnom Penh, capital of Cambodia, Tuesday. Official sources here denied a report that the plane had been found and that the passengers were being kept alive by parachuted food parcels.

Toronto Argonauts Eliminated From Big Four Playoffs In Last Scheduled Game of Season

(By The Canadian Press)

Toronto Argonauts came within 12 seconds of beating Ottawa Rough Riders — but even a victory wouldn't have put them into the Big Four football playoffs.

Their chances were killed by the 26-9 beating Montreal Alouettes gave Hamilton Wildcats.

By half-time Argos knew they were out of the picture after three consecutive years of winning Dominion titles. But they died with their boots on.

Trailing 11-0 at the start of the last quarter, they fought back into a 12-11 lead. Then, with 12 seconds left, Eric Chipper kicked a 35-yard field goal to give the Rough Riders a 14-12 victory.

In the Western Conference, Saskatchewan Roughriders halted the mighty Calgary Stampeders with a 4-4 tie, leaving the Western title hanging on the outcome of the second game of the two-game total-point series. The game is in Calgary Thursday.

The University of Western Ontario set a new Canadian record by racking up their 27th undefeated game, a 34-9 victory over McGill. In the other senior intercollegiate game, Bruce Cummings kicked the University of Toronto to a 4-0 win over Queen's.

Ottawa and Alouettes open their Big Four playoff round in Ottawa Thursday. The second game of the total-points series will be in Montreal Saturday.

Hold Game Edge

In the Ontario Rugby Football Union, unbeaten Hamilton Tigers hold a one-game edge over Toronto Beaches Indians. Hamilton won the first game of the best-of-three series 8-0 in Toronto Friday with the second game due Saturday in Hamilton.

Bob Paffrath had shot the Rough Riders into a second-quarter lead by going five yards for a touchdown that Eric Chipper converted. Brian Lynch snared an Argo lateral and went 16 yards for another major in the third.

Then Argos fought back. Jack Wedley broke through to block a kick and Royal Copeland dove on the bouncing ball as it skittered across the Ottawa goal line. Joe Krol converted. Minutes later Rod Smylie blocked another kick and two plays later Copeland hurdled the Ottawa line for another major that Krol converted.

The game looked in the bag after Krol sent a towering punt deep into the Ottawa end zone. But little Wilf Tremblay, who appeared hopelessly trapped, ran it out to his own 30. With little more than a minute to play, Ottawa rolled down the field to set the stage for Chipper's game winning placement.

Rolling for 19 first downs and 235 yards rushing, Montreal completely smothered Wildcats, leaving Hamilton with only one win at the end of the season.

Wagner Scores Two

Virgil Wagner of Alouettes went for two touchdowns against Wildcats and Keith English — winner of the Big Four rookie award this year — and Bob Cunningham each went over once. Steve Nemeth converted all four of them and Fred Kijek kicked two singles.

Billy Myrmylyk kicked a field goal and converted Bill Damiano's touchdown for Hamilton.

Calgary's Keith Spaith collected all the Stampeders points in the Western playoff while Saskatchewan scored on a field goal by Gabe Patterson and a single by Ken Charlton.

Although six Mustang regular were out of action, Western put on its greatest offensive of the season as Jack Parry scored three touchdowns and three converts against McGill, Doug Gray got two touchdowns and Blake Taylor added the other.

Quarterback Rocky Robillard converted his own touchdown and kicked two singles to account for eight McGill points and Doug Heron booted a single that Parry couldn't run out.

Bruce Cummings booted a field goal and a single in the first quarter as Varsity and Queen's battled knee-deep in mud. In a thrid-quarter drive the Gael's battled right to the one-yard line but failed to dent the Blues line.

Three Pickups In Running For Horse-of-Year

Toronto, Nov. 8 (CP)—Canada's 1948 racing season ended at Dufferin Park here today, leaving three top-flight candidates for the title of "Canadian horse of the year" — Winnipeg-bred Victory Gift, Oshawa-bred Canada's Teddy and Last Mark, King's Plate winner owned by Jim Fair of Cainsville, Ont. and each was a bargain-basement pickup.

The award won't be decided on the track but "best-horse" discussion will probably add zip to annual arguments between loyal east and west sports fans.

In purse earnings for the season, Fair's colt has an edge of $170 with a $21,570 total against Victory Gift's $21,400. Canada's Teddy is a poor third with only $15,705.

But Teddy fans point to the four-year-old's won-and-lost column which shows nine firsts in 12 starts—he was an "also ran" in the others. Victory Gift came up with seven victories, three second places and an also ran in 11 starts while Last Mark's record showed the bay colt with five firsts, three seconds and five times out of the money in 13 calls to the post.

Apart from their records, the case history of each is a rags-to-riches story.

A few years ago Scotty Kennedy of Winnipeg bought Omar's Gift from his friend, R. J. Speers for a token of 37 cents—all the money he had on him at the time Victory Gift is the first foal from the 37-cent horse and rates about the greatest bargain in Canadian racing.

Right behind comes Canada's Teddy, now owned by Morris Fishman of Toronto. Teddy's dam, Wee Toddler II, was won for $1 by an Oshawa man in a raffle. The owner took the mare to R. S. McLaughlin's Oshawa stable and was given a service, free of charge, to Teddy Wrack. Result of that mating was Canada's Teddy.

Jim Fair paid $215 for his colt's parents—$50 for the sire, Koenigsmark, in 1933 and $165 in 1922 for McTab, the mare that foaled Last Mark when she was 25.

Hamilton Tigers Still Leading In Senior O.H.A.

(By The Canadian Press)

Hamilton Tigers came right back and walloped Stratford Indians 7-0 Saturday night, after the Indians overpowered them 7-1 last Friday.

The Senior Ontario Hockey Association league - leading Tigers had little trouble disposing of the Indians. They came out of a scoreless first period to count four goals in the second and three in the third.

In another O. H. A. senior game, Toronto Marlboros grabbed the third-place position by defeating Kitchener - Waterloo Flying Dutchmen 2-1.

In the junior loop, Oshawa Generals moved into a third - place tie with Barrie Flyers as they downed Galt Rockets 7-1 in the junior loop; Toronto St. Michael's College juniors downed the fourth-place Guelph Biltmores 6-1 and the league-leading St. Catharines Teepees defeated the cellar-dwelling Toronto Marlboros 5-3.

The famous old Conick. Shillington and Brady trio led the Tigers to victory, the former with 3 goals and an assist. Shillington notched a goal and two assists while Brady was credited with 3 assists.

Toronto, led by shifty Johnny McLellan, broke a 1-1 deadlock early in the third period. McLellan blasted the puck into the open corner of the net that Pelletier didn't see.

Marlies jumped into a 1-0 lead in the first period when Bill Johnson scored on a goal - mouth scramble. Fleet Leo Curik clicked for Kitchener when he beat Howie Harvey on a hard, long shot.

Led by Ted O'Connor

Led by Ted O'Connor with two goals, Oshawa Generals easily downed Galt. Galt had little to offer on the attack and it wasn't until the last 30 seconds of regulation play that Bouycoff slapped in a pass from Pete Tkachuk to rob netminder Stew Hendry of a shutout.

Ron Stephen and Dick Gamble put Oshawa into a 4-0 lead in the second period. Third period goals by Hal Hooper, Chuck Blair and Stephen clinched the game.

St. Michael's took an early first period lead, Joe Decourcy scoring when the game was less than two minutes old. Guelph roared back and Ron Plumb got the equalizer minutes later. Gord Hannigan put the Irish back in the lead on a lone rush before the period ended.

St. Michael's came out of a scoreless second period and notched three goals in the final frame — Marshall, Hannigan and Bonhomme taking the honors.

St. Catharines took a 2-0 lead in the second period on goals by Bud Evans and Fred Hildebrand. Toronto Drove back and tied the game up shortly after — Neil Grenke and Moe Galand scoring. But Gerry Toppazzini drove back to St. Kitt's and got the extra goal for Teepees.

Hildebrand counted early in the third period to give St. Catharines a 4-2 margin on a three-way play with Toppazzini and Bill Bushlen. Minutes later, Geo. Armstrong cut the lead down when he counted for Marlies. Marlboros pushed hard to get back in the game but a goal - mouth scramble netted St. Catharines one goal with 25 seconds remaining in the game.

Only one game is slated in the O. H. A. tonight. Owen Sound Mercurys clash with Stratford Seniors.

Dallas Texans Win Two Games Over Weekend

(By The Canadian Press)

Dallas Texans snapped out of their scoring doldrums with two weekend victories over Fort Worth, leader of the United States Hockey League's southern division.

Dallas beat the Forth Worth club 6-1 Sunday night and 8-4 Saturday. Tod Compeau set the pace for Dallas Sunday night with three goals. Previously, Dallas had won only one game and tied two.

Kansas City Pla-Mors, who suffered their first defeat Thursday, tied Tulsa 4-4 Saturday and skated over Omaha Sunday night 9-2. Harry Groves, Ray Powell and Bert Olmstead each scored twice for the Pla-Mors against the Knights.

In the first four minutes of the St. Paul-Houston game Sunday night the Saints scored three times and Houston once in a wild flurry of action. The Saints won 5-1. St. Paul stopped Omaha Saturday, 8-6.

Minneapolis marked its fifth straight victory Saturday in defeating Houston 4-2.

C. E. "Cliff" Argue Elected Vice President of P.L.B.A.

C. E. "Cliff" Argue, former president of the Belleville Lawn Bowling Club and one of its most active members, was elected vice president of the Provincial Lawn Bowling Association at the annual meeting held over the weekend in Toronto. This is indeed a signal honor for the Belleville Club and lawn bowling in Eastern Ontario. By his election, Cliff will become president in 1950 and only three men previously in Eastern Ontario have held this high post.

Mr. Argue has only been bowling for nine years but in that time he has put a lot of his time and ability into the pastime. He has accepted office in various associations of bowling and in each has given whole heartedly his support and energy to the furtherance of the cause. In 1939 he was persuaded to join the Belleville Club and at once became an enthusiast of the Summer pastime. In 1940 he accepted the position of games chairman of the local club and the following year was nominated and elected to the highest honor in the gift of the association, that of president, and in this capacity he served until 1944. He also accepted the chairmanship of the Corbin Gold Cup tournament, in fact, it was his own brain child, and under guidance and that of an energetic committee, it has become the outstanding tournament in this section of the Province and probably over the entire Province.

First District Chairman

In 1945 the district Lawn Bowling Association was formed and Cliff was the first chairman and again under his guidance the district produced the winners of the Governor-General trophy, the local two rinks winning the honors in 1947. Branching out into a wider field, Mr. Argue was appointed to the Council of the P.L.B.A. in 1946 and in the two succeeding years he was named to the executive of the governing body and finally becoming vice president.

During his term in the executive chair, the Provincial lawn bowling championships were held in Belleville and Kingston, which brought further distinction to the local club. During his years with the local club many changes have taken place and all has been due to the financial assistance derived from the Corbin tournament. He has served as Greens chairman on many occasions and the bowlers have always had as good greens as could be furnished. His election will be hailed with satisfaction throughout eastern part of the Province.

Four Junior Football Teams In Running

(By The Canadian Press)

Four junior football teams—survivors of eastern and western semi-finals — still are in the running for the first official Canadian junior championship since 1933.

Point Edward and Hamilton Wildcats will meet next Saturday in the eastern finals while Saskatoon Hilltops will battle Vancouver Blue Bombers winners of an official Canadian junior title last year — for the western title in Saskatoon next Saturday.

Point Edward won the Ontario union title by beating Hamilton Tigers 14-3. Wildcats, Big Four junior champs, defeated Westmount Warriors, Quebec union winners, 24-0.

Saskatoon, Saskatchewan winners, smashed the Manitoba champions, Winnipeg Rods, 12-6.

Saskatoon won the first game of the total-points series 21-7. Vancouver was idle during the weekend after eliminating Calgary from the title hunt last week.

Halfback Carl Andreef ran for two touchdowns over a rain-soaked field as Wildcats eliminated Westmount. The other majors were scored by Ernie Allard, Garnet Steeves and Brian Timmins, Jr., son of a famous footballer.

A New Travel Ration Period

Begins

November 16th

AS ANNOUNCED BY THE MINISTER OF FINANCE THE REGULATIONS GOVERNING THE USE OF U.S. DOLLARS FOR TRAVEL CONTINUE IN FORCE.

As in the past, it will be necessary for Canadians to obtain a permit from their bank if they wish to take out of Canada more than $10 U.S. or more than $25 in U.S. and Canadian currency combined.

Reports show that the saving of U.S. dollars made possible by travel rationing can be expected to amount to between $40 and $50 million during the period November 16th, 1947 to November 15th, 1948. This substantial sum was thus made available for the purchase of many essential supplies and commodities during this time.

The regulations governing the amount of U.S. dollars available for different travel purposes are outlined below:—

Pleasure Travel

The maximum amount of U.S. dollars which any Canadian resident may obtain for pleasure travel purposes during the twelve months beginning November 16th, 1948, is $150. In the case of children of eleven years and under, the amount is $100. There is no restriction on the number of trips as long as the annual allotment is not exceeded. Any U.S. dollars obtained for one trip and not used on that trip must be brought back to Canada and exchanged for Canadian dollars at the traveller's bank immediately on his return. No credit for funds thus turned back can be allowed against the annual ration for subsequent trips.

Business Travel

Applications for U.S. dollars for business travel must include a certification by the employer that the travel is in his business interests. Reasonable amounts of U.S. dollars may be obtained for this purpose.

Travel for Health or Education

Applications for U.S. dollars for health or educational reasons are to be made on special forms available at chartered banks. These applications will be forwarded by banks to the Foreign Exchange Control Board for consideration. Applications for health travel must be accompanied by a medical report on forms which can also be obtained at chartered banks. The Department of National Health and Welfare acts as adviser to the Board in reviewing these medical reports.

Border Travel

A Canadian resident may take out of Canada without a permit up to $25 in currency, of which not more than $10 is in U.S. currency. For this purpose, he may purchase up to $10 U.S. in any calendar month. This is in addition to the annual travel ration.

Travel Requiring Sterling Funds

Applications for sterling funds for travel in sterling area countries are normally approved for any reasonable amounts.

THE VENABLES

BY KATHLEEN NORRIS

"Is that so?" her father asked, half smiling.

"But don't you tell Mama we know!" Flo urged him, in a panic.

"No, no," he agreed, "we mustn't do anything to upset Mama.

They said nothing more on the subject; Flo, was in his arms, rested her head against his shoulder and felt safe and content. She knew he was pleased with her.

Willie was so sure that she would not survive her tenth confinement that something of her nervousness affected the other women of the family, and anxiety mingled with the usual Christmas preparations.

But the children as usual would hang up their stockings, and there were of course to be a trimmed tree and a turkey. Delightful expectation tamed the nursery into extraordinary good behavior for days beforehand.

Their little sisted was born prematurely, late on Christmas night. Willie's agonies began early in the morning, almost before the capering and night-gowned band had streamed shrilling downstairs to investigate the stockings at seven o'clock. The children only knew that their mother was in bed, with Dolly and Mrs. Catlin from next door in attendance, and that their father had disappeared to find Mrs. Howden and Dr. Swann.

The girls went back to school on January fifth and were immediately made important by the announcement that they had a little sister born on Christmas Day, who had died on New Year's day. The girls at school said "Aw-w-w!" several times in impressed tones.

The Wilhelmina and Paul Venables, a few days after New Year's, came the strangest hour of their married life. A sense of everything being wrong, somehow, had haunted Willie all through the later weeks of pregnancy.

It seemed to Willie that in all her nine previouse experiences the last weeks of waiting for a baby had never moved so slowly. The holidays had been shadowed first by her helplessness, then by her illness, then by the death of the poor little waxen-faced baby. She lay in bed fretting and restless; with all the children at home it was terrible not to be able to go about the house.

Paul hired a carriage, and he and the doctor went away with the baby who had died on New Year's day.

Paul came back overtired and laid down beside his wife; Lily brought him up a steadily held plate of milk toast for his supper. Flo came in, promising that order and harmony should rule downstairs, carried away her mother's hot-water bottle to see that it was filled afresh, brought it back and placed it in the bed.

Willie got up for a few hours the next day and went feebly about the room. It seemed odd not to have Howden in charge, no new baby to nurse. Paul had gone back to the bank at his usual hour; he kept it up for a day or two and then surrendered to the "Spanish influenza" that was so prevalent that winter.

The children were in school again, but it seemed odd to have Paul lying quietly in bed, his face flushed, his face altered by a week's growth of beard.

Willie was immensely relieved when the day came when he felt better, got up and bathed and shaved and read the newspaper when he had gotten back into the freshly made bed. Spencer and Virgie-Lou came in and played on the rug by the fire, and he said he liked to see them there.

But that evening something went wrong. Paul wasn't so well. When everyone else in the house was in bed, Dr. Swann came in and after a few minutes with Paul settled himself downstairs in the library.

"I thought I'd stay a little while, Miss Willie," he said. "I want to see that boy a little later."

Willie went slowly downstairs, leaving the old man reading under the dropped Welsbach burner. Something was slowly beginning to frighten her; she did not know what it was or exactly whence it was coming but it was there. Her heart began to beat unsteadily; she wished she were a little girl again and could run to Ma. Ma was heavily asleep; Dolly, all of them, were asleep.

Except Paul. His bright eyes met her when she came into the room they had shared almost all their married life. He looked pale tonight after all the days of heat and fever; his gesture brought her to his side.

"I wonder if I could see those little girls of mine," he said in a whisper.

Willie knelt down and put her hands over his limp, clean, idle hand. He was wandering a little in his mind, she thought. The girls were asleep in bed.

"Hello, dear," she said gently. She began to tremble very much. They looked at each other.

"Swann go?" Paul asked, after a long moment.

"No. no; he—he's staying awhile."

She could not see to say anything else. She had dropped her eyes, and now she could not look up.

"We didn't think it would end like this, did we dear?" whispered Paul. "I know—I know it's been hard for you—so many babies, and so hard to get a good girl to help you—"

"Paul, please—" she stammered in terror.

"I always thought—I always thought—" he said dreamily, "that we'd live to see them grow up—that it would be easier. The girls are going to be such a comfort in a few years. Lily—and my Flo—there's great stuff in her, Willie."

His voice dropped, and he seemed to doze. Willie loosened her hands; she was somehow in the hall, flying downstairs. There was a responsive stir; the doctor was in the sickroom, her mother was up, Dolly was blundering about. Shadows leaped and raced in the familiar shabby hall; voices whispered.

"He's fretting for you, Miss Willie," the doctor said, in the doorway. Willie went back to the bedside, sank on her knees again, and Paul opened his eyes.

"I'm going to buy my wife some violets, Pussy," he murmured in a shadow of his own voice, with a deep, wise smile. He had brought her violets, his first purchase for her as a husband on their wedding day. She was choking, her face against his hand; the others in the room heard her cry of protest.

"No, Paul—no—"

"There's been a lot of happiness, hasn't there, Willie?" the man whispered.

"Oh, my dear, all happiness! All happiness! Her voice came thickly. "Paul, dearest, don't leave me. We'll go away, dear, just you and I—to Shotwell Street or anywhere, Paul, and you can rest and rest—and we'll pay all the bills—"

The busy whisper went on, reassuring. She would economize now; she would do all the things she had promised and forgotten! Willie held his hand to her face; now and then laid her cheek lightly for a second against his own.

After a moment or two her words faltered; things were getting stranger and more frightening than ever; something was happening—something was happening—She looked fearfully over her shoulder; in the dim lamplight her mother and Dolly and the doctor were watching her, Behind them wide-eyed night-gowned children were peering in. Paul opened his eyes.

"Let them come in," his lips said, without sound. Willie was still weak from her recent confinement; she got to her feet shakily, caught Flo's firm young hand as she slipped to the floor in a faint.

The Venables children were again the centre of attraction at school. They were going to leave Miss Marchand's for always, and maybe live in the Mission and anyway go to public schools. They were to take their books and slates and pencil boxes home that very afternoon.

This threw the whole school into almost unbearable excitement. Maybe to move to the Mission and go to the public school.

The school had heard some days earlier that the Venableses' had died. They looked with respect and interest at Lily and Flo, clad in fresh heavy black. But at the time there was no suspicion that they were to leave Miss Marchand's.

This bomb burst at recess. The cold little girls, blown by the wild sunshiny wind, hopped up and down and marveled at it.

"Lily, will you like public school?"

"Well, we don't know. We think we will."

"You see, Papa hadn't paid our bills to Miss Marchand," Flo explained brightly, "and a public school you don't pay at all, so why shouldn't you go to public school if your father is dead?"

Willie had been widowed a week tonight, and the first shock and strangeness were slowly wearing away. She looked pretty in her new black. After the birth of Ida and during Paul's brief illness she had looked pale and weary, but now there was a rested look in her face, some color in her cheeks.

The thought came to her over and over, with other not all unpleasing thoughts of her new responsibilities and independence, that she would never have another child. She would never feel again those sensations of weakness and sickness and despair.

She had been married at 23, nearly nineteen years ago. Willie had loved her husband, but in the strain and pressure of her life she had had small time to analyze when her feelings toward him never had been quite simple or comfortable.

She was 40 now, youth was gone. The old singing days, the days when she had worn her madras dress with the blue sash and had danced at the Occidental Hotel and been complimented by old Major Hooper, were gone.

She had six living children, four dead; she was widowed. But deep down in her heart something was deeply content. Having stepped from her mother's guardianship to Paul's with no thought of ever disobeying either, she was now tasting, with a secret thrill that made even these sad, disorganized days memorable and important and not unbearable, the joy of being herself.

That night Flo, Lily and George rode home on the street car and entered the house to tumble books, slates and accumulate school treasures on the floor of their mother's room, before going silently to her as she sat beside the fire to embrace her, with tears in their eyes.

"We mustn't cry now," Willie said, "because Papa always was brave, and he'd want Mama and his little girls to be brave too. Now gather up your things, girlies, and take them into the back room."

Florence stood quaking. "Yes, ma'am."

The house was scented heavily with cabbage, in the dark Winter afternoon. Dolly clumped upstairs with an armful of fresh clothes and towels, and lighted the hall gas, and turned it down to a bead. Grandma was astir, and two aunts, Ida and Harriet, had come to dinner. There was family company for dinner every night now, which made life interesting. Aunt Daisy was having dinner at Aunt Ida's house, to keep an eye on Louise and Calvin.

Aunt Harriett was very gay; she made a great deal of fun of herself for being an old maid. Her sister Ida had been for fifteen years the wife of an officer in the merchant marine; her sister Willie had been married longer than that.

Years earlier Ida had found a very nice fellow officers of Edward Persons, who had certainly shown Harriet some attention and had even taken her driving once in the park. But nothing had come of it.

Willie for years had asked unmarried clerks from the bank to come out to dinner, and had played duets with Harriet, and seen that the meal was good. But still Harriet was unwed, and she was 33 now and so really what she called herself, an old maid.

Drew Visiting In the Maritimes

Charlottetown, Nov. 8 —(CP)—George Drew, new national leader of the Progressive Conservative party, arrived here Sunday night on the first lap of a tour of the Maritime provinces.

In a brief interview as he stepped from a plane at the Charlottetown airport Mr. Drew said he had come to the Maritimes to learn at first hand the problems of the people.

The 54-year-old former Ontario premier said he will undertake a tour of other provinces as soon as time permits. Meantime, he will campaign in the Ontario constituency of Carleton where he will seek election to the House of Commons Dec. 20.

NEED DATES WITH DENTISTS

Niagara Falls, Nov. 8 — (CP)—Many schoolchildren here should have dates with the dentist. A dental checkup made during the last year shows that 93 per cent of the 2,484 children between five and 15 years examined, have bad teeth.

EIGHT MISSING OR DROWNED IN NORTHERN RIVERS

Requests U.N. To Investigate Latest Crisis

Reports Persist Egyptians Evacuating City of Gaza

Tel Aviv, Nov. 9 — (AP) — Israel formally asked the United Nations truce headquarters today to investigate reports that "not inconsiderable numbers of British troops" have entered Trans-Jordan and that some of them have entered Palestine.

The Arab Legion of Trans-Jordan is British trained and subsidized. It bore the brunt of the summer fighting in the Jerusalem area.

Unofficial reports persisted here today that the Egyptians are evacuating Gaza, a southern Palestine port which partition gave to the Arabs.

Come From Mafrak

Private Jewish sources declared British troops were moving into sections of eastern Palestine held by the Arab Legion. These informants said the British troops came from bases at Mafrak and Aqaba, Trans-Jordan.

An Israeli spokesman called attention to a speech in which King Abdullah said Trans-Jordan "now has an air force." The spokesman said it is "well known Trans-Jordan never had one before; there has never been a Trans-Jordan warplane seen in the skies of the Middle East and if they have one now, it was acquired during and in violation of the truce."

An unofficial source asserted British shipments to Iraq included some of the newest British fighter bombers, the Fury. The Iraq previously had used old model Spitfire fighters and a few medium and light bombers.

The same unofficial informant asserted Britain has asked for use as barracks the big monasteries at Al-Tour and Isatia, in the Jerusalem area.

An Israeli military spokesman said trapped Egyptian troops in the Faluja pocket inland from Gaza in southern Palestine began heavy artillery fire at dawn against Israeli positions. This was presumed to be a covering action connected with an effort to escape. So far as is known, none of the Egyptians got through the Israeli ring and the firing died down.

This might have been the development which gave rise to an earlier and still unverified report that the Egyptians were evacuating Gaza.

(Egyptian army headquarters at Zorka denied that Gaza had fallen.)

The Israeli navy is known to have a tight sea blockade around Gaza, but there has been no suggestion here of any Jewish army pressure against the coast road from Gaza to the Egyptian frontier.

Meanwhile the political correspondent of the English-language newspaper Palestine Post, who usually closely reflects the Israeli government information line, said that preliminary talks between the Jews and Arabs now are going on in Paris.

There have been several reports from Jewish sources of peace talks in the last two days but they have been denied by Egypt's United Nations delegation in Paris. Authoritative U. N. sources said they had no knowledge of such negotiations.

CITIZENS ADOPT VARIOUS METHODS OF PASSING TIME

Toronto Experiences First Night-Time Blackout in Power Crisis

Toronto, Nov. 9 — (CP) — Ontario's largest city groped for candles and lanterns Monday night as lights went out in the first night-time blackout of the province's power crisis.

First switches were pulled at 7 p.m. and the last at 7:45 p.m. But most sections of the city were blacked out for less than the full 45 minutes—some for as little as 30 minutes. Hydro officials said it required several minutes to pull switches and make adjustments over the entire city but no one should count on the nightly interruptions lasting less than 45 minutes.

Mayor H. E. McCallum said the cutoff had enabled the city Monday to stay within its recently reduced power quota.

Residents groped in the dark, did their dishes by candlelight, reached for the telephone to call their friends or just sat around and waited for lights to come back on. The blackout started at 7 p.m.

But Alderman Allan Lamport complained there weren't enough lights off. He said he toured the downtown business area — exempted from the cutoff — and found it a "blaze of lights."

He said he would demand a special meeting of city council today to discuss the situation because there were ways of getting enough power "to keep small businesses out of bankruptcy."

Robert Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Hydro Commission, said the blackout was the city's own fault.

In a radio address after the cutoff he said Toronto people didn't realize the seriousness of the situation and weren't saving enough power.

Some Doing Fine Job

"I believe that if the waste of power is eliminated we in Toronto would not be faced with these nightly cutoffs," he said.

He said that many Ontario municipalities — particularly Stratford — were doing a "wonderful job" of saving power.

Street lights and street cars were not affected by the cut. Police said all was quiet while the lights were off and firemen answered eight calls to small fires but none of them were caused by emergency lighting systems.

Most people had emergency lighting of some sort ready. In a buying rush after the night cutoffs were announced they had exhausted supplies of candles, lanterns and flashlights as fast as they appeared on store shelves.

In suburban Toronto cutoffs were at different times and some suburbs escaped.

TRUMAN THANKS PAPER

New York, Nov. 9 — (AP) — The New York Star, the only major New York City newspaper to support President Truman, Monday received a letter of thanks from the President. The letter, addressed to publisher Hartley C. Crum, said "I am deeply indebted to you personally and to the New York Star for its support of me in the campaign —all the more so because of the opposition of such a large part of the American press."

FISHING BOATS COLLIDE

Portland, Me., Nov. 9 — (AP)—Two fishing craft collided while their crews exchanged greetings at sea last night. The 54-foot Fannie Belle of Portland, its stern cut off, sank, but its crew of four was rescued uninjured.

The Fannie Bell was valued at $17,000 by Arthur Black, treasurer of the Portland Fish Company, its owner.

HUNGRY CROWDS STORM SHOPS IN SHANGHAI

Economic Crisis Worst in Century

Shanghai, Nov. 9 (Reuters) — Hungry crowds today stormed rice shops in Shanghai where prices showed no signs of abating in the economic crisis, described as "the worst in 100 years"

Police armored cars —nicknamed flying-fortresses — were tearing through the city streets all day with screaming sirens in response to calls for help from shopkeepers.

Since Monday the prices of most daily necessities includng rice have doubled.

Rice rose to 1,800 gold yuan ($44 at the present black market rate) a picul of 170 pounds. Before the currency reform a picul cost $10.

Bread rose from 5 1-2 to 10 gold yuan a pound.

Most Shanghai food stores closed early today, compaining it was impossible to do business "owing to the minute-by-minute devaluation of currency."

City authorities were in conference throughout the day to discuss measures to cope with the rapidly deteriorating situation.

Foreigners here were more concerned about food because of the possible outbreak of violence than about the outcome of the civil war and its effect on the city.

Shanghai is literally starving in the midst of plenty, as rice and other foodstuffs were said to be plentiful in the countryside not more than 10 miles from the city limits.

Farmers were unwilling to sell for the inflated gold yuan and preferred to barter their products for their urgent needs, such as paraffin, sugar, cigarets, matches and soap.

Antique Lamps Soar in Value In Hydro Crisis

Toronto, Nov. 9. (CP)—Antique lamps, always expensive, have soared in value since the night cut-offs in power started Monday night. Dealers report they're doing a brisk business in ornate oil-burning lamps which sometimes sell for as much as $25. Simple kerosene lamps found in most summer cottages have jumped in price from about $1 to near $5, but these less expensive lighting fixtures are difficult to locate. Most stores are sold out of candles.

'Did Not Want To Break Law'

Toronto, Nov. 9 (CP)—Police said today that one Toronto citizen's regard for the law permitted a small fire in the window of a downtown store Monday night to grow into a $5,000 blaze while he summoned firemen.

The window could have been smashed and the fire smothered by hand, police reported, but said the citizen told them, "I didn't want to break the law."

Princess, Ideal Wife, Intends to Be Ideal Mother in Every Sense of Word

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Nov. 9 (CP)—In popular esteem Princess Elizabeth has proved herself a model wife — and most people expect she'll make an ideal mother as well.

As a wife, Elizabeth has had her share of difficulties. From a delirious whirl of courtship, culminating in the stately wedding at Westminster Abbey on Nov. 20, she had to come down to the work-a-day task of planning a home — and that wasn't all fun even for a Princess.

Like so many couples today Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh had no home of their own after the honeymoon and the first year of the marriage has been spent largely in other people's homes.

Hundreds of costly wedding gifts are still stored away until the time when Clarence House, St. James's, their London residence, is ready for occupation.

People in close touch with the court say the Princess has modelled her family life largely on the example of the King and Queen. She is, like her mother, a natural home-maker, but so far has not had much chance to make one.

Power Shortages May Aggravate Seasonal Unemployment in Areas

Ottawa, Nov. 9 — (CP)—Shortages of hydro-electric power may aggravate seasonal unemployment in some areas this winter, according to the labor department.

"Apart from seasonal developments in the labor market during the winter months," says the department in its monthly manpower survey, "severe shortages of hydro power may effect the employment situation in some areas.

"In addition, continuing shortages of key materials will likely continue to interrupt the continuity of work in some industries."

The seasonal shifts of employment, involving some 200,000 workers at this time of year, now are under way, the department's survey noted.

First result is that of Oct. 21 the number of jobless registered with National Employment Service had increased to 99,000 from 87,000 a month previously. Available jobs had dropped from 68,000 to 54,000.

The department said workers now are moving from farms, food-processing plants, hotels and other summer-active industries to woods employment, meat-packing firms and other winter jobs.

As construction activity declines with the onset of cold weather, the survey added, more seasonable workers will enter the labor market and an increase in the number of job-seekers may be expected.

With the ending of the harvest season, the department said, most areas reported their farm labor needs were satisfied for the first time in many years. Credit for this was given largely to the arrival of immigrant workers and to major transfers of harvest workers organized during the season.

In Ontario there were 30,000 unplaced applicants and 23,000 unfilled vacancies. Industrial expansion since the war's end has placed severe strain on hydro-electric resources, steel, and labor supplies in this region. Only minor lay-offs have so far resulted from the current shortage of hydro power, however. Reports vary from production slow-downs without lay-offs but with no further replacement hiring, to changes in hours, and work on Saturdays and Sundays. Logging operators estimate that their need for bush workers will be equal to last year's, but currently demand is slow.

Unplaced applicants and unfilled vacancies (in brackets) in National Employment Service offices throughout the Dominion at Oct. 21: Guelph, 218 (210); Hamilton, 2,700 (1,456); London, 892 (1,404); Oshawa, 1,175 (182); Ottawa, 1,982 (841); St. Catharines, 1,273 (125); Toronto, 6,848 (9,761); Windsor, 3,117 (187).

Geologists Move Into Bushland Seeking Uranium

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Nov. 9 (CP)—Mining men and geologists are trickling into the bushland 72 miles north of here after discovery of Canada's latest find of uranium, basic metal for atomic power.

The strike, in the area between Batchewana on the east shore of Lake Superior and the Montreal River a few miles north, led to the registering of more than 225 claims, reports said today.

Ontario's Department of Mines is checking reports, as well as Federal Mines Department officials who are in the area. Pitchblende ore from the 22-mile area between Pancake Bay and Montreal River was said to be rich in uranium.

The actual discovery was made about a month ago by Robert Campbell, Toronto mining man, who spotted the ore in coastline rock where erosion had bared a two-inch seam of shiny black pitchblende.

Campbell, reported to be following reports of early explorers in the area, discovered the veins along the south side of a gully. The district was said to be handy to highway, railway and water transportation.

Claims He Was Amnesia Victim, Is Now Free

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 9 (AP)—A former United States Army private, who claimed he was a victim of amnesia overseas but was sentenced to 40 years in prison for desertion, has come home a free man after serving twenty-one months.

Sitting beside his wife in their small bungalow here Monday, Gene F. Jackson smiled and said: "I guess I'm about the happiest guy alive. I owe everything to my friends. They didn't let me down."

Jackson made headlines in 1946 when he was picked up by army authorities while living in an empty freight car in France.

Jackson, who had been wounded in 1944 and was listed as missing in action, told authorities he had lost his memory and had wandered about Europe for two years, not knowing who he was.

NO MORE DUCKS SIGHTED

Montreal, Nov. 9 — (CP) —The duck crisis on the St. Lawrence River between Montreal and Three Rivers, Que., today appeared over with reports that ducks were moving normally now in waters which last week were oil-polluted to the extent that thousands died.

Canadian Passport On Black Market Worth $10,000

Kitchener, Nov. 9. (CP)—"A Canadian passport on the Swiss black market is worth $10,000," Mrs. Reinhold Lang, wife of a local industrialist, told the Kitchener-Waterloo Women's Business and Professional Club, Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Lang returned to Canada recently from a tour of Europe.

The speaker said that everywhere they went people voiced gratitude for the military help Canada gave during the war, and for the many parcels which have been sent to the continent since the Armistice.

An illustration of this gratitude was provided in France where a woman told Mrs. Lang: "If we could, we would stretch a blanket of orchids from Cherbourg to Halifax, because we respect, admire and love you."

She said that in Belgium she found the "people had everything we have in Kitchener. The people worked long hours to be able to buy luxury goods imported by the government."

She pointed out this was contrary to the British policy of keeping luxuries from the people so that exports can be boosted.

Target Practice Proves Expensive For Five Youths

Brantford, Nov. 9 (CP) — Target practice with a shotgun last Oct. 13 proved expensive for five Burford Township youths when they appeared before Magistrate R. J. Gillen here.

They were charged with damaging rural mail boxes by shooting at them with the shotgun and were each fined $16.50, including costs.

Joseph Mustos, R.R. 2 Scotland, admitted owning the weapon and said he was driving the truck while the four youths shot at the boxes. Pleading not guilty, he was convicted and given two weeks in which to pay the fine.

The other youths were Kenneth Donovan, William Makarchuk, and Clayton Good, all of R. R. 1 Hatchley and Louis Mustos, R.R. 2 Scotland.

Weather Synopsis

Toronto, Nov. 9 (CP)—Synopsis: The disturbance which was situated over Kansas Sunday night has moved northeastward and this morning it is centred over Illinois. As it continues its course into the Great Lakes' region today, cloudiness will increase over Southern Ontario.

DEMONSTRATORS FAIL TO 'CRASH' LONDON PAGEANT

Story of British Army From Early Days Told

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Nov. 9. (CP)—Demonstrators carrying political slogans and a large red banner today attempted to "crash" the Lord Mayor's Day parade as it moved through London streets.

The demonstrators, believed to be Communists, broke into the 1 1-2-mile-long procession as it turned into Northumberland Avenue. They attempted to form up behind marching guardsmen but mounted policemen quickly hustled them out of the parade.

At least half a dozen demonstrators were arrested.

The incident occurred in front of television cameras and was viewed by watchers over television sets in many parts of the country.

The show was largely a parade of old soldiers who by tradition "never die".

The city's historic pageant is held annually when the new Lord Mayor takes over his duties.

This year the procession proved that the veterans of Agincourt and Waterloo can easily be brought back to line with the aid of regimental quartermasters and friendly curators of museums, who acted as honorary wardrobe masters for the day.

Probe Reported Illegal Slaughter Of 20 Moose

Rouyn, Que., Nov. 9. (CP)—Investigation into reported illegal slaughter of 20 moose in the Kipawa Lake area went forward today under direction of Diley Gervais, game warden for this district.

Gervais said he was called in when meat from 20 dead moose was found rotting in the bush.

"It seems pretty definite that the moose were killed illegally by tourists without permits," he said. "They fly in from Sudbury and North Bay, slaughter the moose and take the horns. Then they leave the carcass lying there.

"We intend to go into the matter fully. It is difficult to keep a line on tourists who use planes. They can land on any one of a number of lakes, get their moose and leave before we have a chance even to learn about them."

Gervais said that last month he made 27 seizures of arms and game and registered 14 convictions.

The moose season in the district ended Oct. 31 and the slaughter is said to have occurred before then.

CANADIAN YACHT REACHES FIJI ISLANDS

Auckland, N.Z., Nov. 9 — (CP) —The 40-foot cutter-rigged Canadian yacht Escapee, skippered by H. G. Brock of Vancouver has arrived at Suva, Fiji, after a cruise from Vancouver by way of San Francisco, Honolulu, Fanning Island, the Marquesas, Tahiti, and Samoa, it has been learned here. After spending three months in the Fiji group Mr. Brock says he may sail to New Zealand before returning home.

Man Who Shot and Killed Gandhi Tells Court His Version of Crime

New Delhi, Nov. 9 — (AP) — The man who killed Mohandas K. Gandhi gave the court today his version of the crime.

The witness was Narayan Vinayak Godse, on trial with seven others. Gandhi, the Hindu spiritual and political leader, was shot Jan. 30.

Godse said 300 to 400 persons were present as Gandhi walked from Birla House to his doom. The killer's story went on:

"I had my pistol in my bush-coat pocket. I released the safety catch, put the pistol between my palms, bowed my head, closed my eyes and said: 'I bow to you Gandhi.'

"Immediately I fired. I wanted to fire only two shots, but somehow — I do not know how — a third shot came out.

"The first man to catch hold of me was a policeman. Then there was another man who had a stick in his hand. He began beating me on the head. I began to bleed. I told him, 'I don't care what happens to me. I have done what I wanted to do. I am prepared to lose my skull.'

"As the policeman caught me from behind, I saw another man take the pistol from my hand. I told him, 'Beware, the safety catch is loose.' He said threateningly, 'I am going to shoot you.'

"I said, 'I am ready. I don't care, but take care you don't shoot yourself.' Then I saw the crowd move about and the police took me to the station."

Rough Waters Claim 3 Hunters As Boats Swamped

One Man Drowned as Dog In Panic Climbs on Back

Toronto, Nov. 9 (CP) —Eight persons are either missing or drowned in the icy waters of northern rivers at the end of Ontario's first week of open hunting season, Provincial Police said here today. Five hunters are missing and believed drowned, the bodies of two have been recovered and one man is definitely known to have been drowned although his body has not been recovered.

Accidental shootings, which in past years have claimed most hunting victims were the cause of no deaths. All of the accidents were the result of rough water which swamped outboard motorboats, police said.

Police and woodsmen are dragging for the bodies of Melvin Morrison, 33, of Thornhill, and Robert Clapham, 25, of Toronto, believed to have drowned in the French River when their boat struck a floating log in rough water. Two hunting caps, identified as those of the hunters, were found.

Tangled in Ropes of Boat

The body of Rev. Ari Serson, 51, from Statesboro, Ga., was found yesterday tangled in the two ropes of a boat floating on Pelican Lake, near Sioux Lookout.

Three others, missing with Mr. Serson since Friday when they started out on a deer hunting trip, are still being sought. They are Peter Serson, 59, the minister's brother, Fred Besley, 27 of Statesboro, Ga., and William Evans, Canadian National Railways employee of Lookout, Ont.

The waters of Bear Lake, 40 miles east of Orillia, are being dragged for the body of William Chisholm, 58, of Sadowa, Ont., who was drowned when a panic-stricken dog climbed onto his back after his boat overturned. Three other hunters escaped to shore.

The body of 23-year-old Gordon Ryder, of Norwich, was recovered Monday night in Cranberry Lake, near Parry Sound, by his companions. His boat was overturned by high winds during the weekend as he returned to a hunting camp.

Tauno Hallikainen, 21, has been missing in bush country of Hyman township near Sudbury. He was last seen hunting deer about 1 p.m. Saturday. Search parties today recruited a blood hound to help in the search.

100,000-VOLT LINE GROUNDED NEAR CORNWALL

Cornwall, Nov. 9 — (CP) — Township police said today they are investigating cause of a 45-minute power blackout here last weekend which disrupted industrial production and affected domestic users.

Police said a 110,000-volt power transmission line had been grounded west of the city. Near the tower carrying the line police found several spent .22 calibre bullets and glass from smashed insulators. Police said they believed youthful marksmen using the insulators as targets were responsible for the wire's grounding.

DREW WILL VISIT HALIFAX ON TOUR OF MARITIMES

Says Unity of Canada More Important to Him Than Party Victory

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Charlottetown, Nov. 9 (CP) — George Drew, new national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, was due to leave here today for Halifax on the second lap of a tour of the Maritimes.

Mr. Drew, who had a busy time keeping up with official engagements Monday, had no pre-departure meetings on his official program.

Among the things he did during his first visit to the island was address a public meeting.

He told the meeting that the unity of Canada is more important to him than a party victory in the next general federal election.

Recalling that Prince Edward Island was the cradle of Confederation, Mr. Drew said "it seems particularly fitting that I should speak to you about the most important domestic problem facing our people today—the building of a strong, united and efficient system of government throughout Canada."

Despite what "propaganda agencies" had said his views on Dominion - Provincial relations had not changed since he resigned the Ontario premiership after being elected national leader of the party.

To lend emphasis to his point Mr. Drew quoted from a speech which he made to the Dominion-Provincial conference in 1945. In that speech he had said:

"We fully recognize the dependence of the people of every province on the strength and vigor of the whole nation for their continuing welfare and prosperity.

"Those principles are stated at the outset so that it may be clearly understood that our proposals are made in the belief that they should be equally acceptable in every part of Canada and are in no instance put forward with the thought of giving any special advantage to those who live in the province of Ontario."

SPRIG OF ROSEBUSH BROUGHT TO OFFICE

Here's one for the horticulturists. Shirley Moore, Rossmore, sent a sprig of rosebush to this office this morning with three Polyanthus blossoms.

General opinion around the office has it that the unusually warm weather of the past few weeks, coupled with the moisture in the air, is responsible for this bit of nature study. This Fall, it has not been unusual to hear of various plants and tree producing second growths of blossoms.

The gradually cooling temperatures are expected to cut short the advancement of these freak growths, however, and restore plant life to its accustomed order.

POST OFFICE HOURS REMEMBRANCE DAY

With regard to the observance of Remembrance Day, November 11, the postal authorities state that the following services will be afforded at the Belleville Post Office for that day.

There will be a morning delivery only in the city, while rural areas having street letter box collections will be given full delivery as usual. The wickets will be open from 8:00 a.m. to 12:00 noon, and the lobbly will be open to the public from 6:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

39 SHOPPING DAYS TILL CHRISTMAS

CANNIFTON HOME SLIGHTLY DAMAGED

Presumed to have caught fire from an over-heated stove pipe which passed through the roof, the home of George Thomas, Cannifton, suffered small damage shortly after six o'clock this morning. A call was put through to the Belleville Fire Department, members of which made a run to the scene and quickly had the fire extinguished with the use of the booster tank. Damage to the dwelling was limited to a small area in the roof and the gable end.

Sales, Ad Club Constitution Drawn Up

The constitution of the newly formed Belleville Sales and Advertising Club was drafted last evening at the second meeting of the organization. Committee members appointed to draft the constitution of the club include E. Bernstein, Harold Seldon, Jack Wilson, Charles Lundy and Frank Murray as convener.

Program of the newly organized club will be three-fold, it was decided. First purpose of the club will be to develop the art of advertising and salesmanship and secondly to encourage an interchange of creative ideas in advertising and selling. The third purpose of the club will be to promote sociability within the advertising fraternity.

A further meeting of the club will be held Friday evening following which it is expected the inaugural meeting of the club will be announced and Mr. Murray will represent.

Y's Men Hold Regional Conclave At London

The past weekend marked an outstanding event of the Y's Men's Club international, that of the Ontario Regional Conclave at London, Ontario. Those attending from the Belleville club were Larry Buck, Austin Watkins, Bill Hutchinson, Mac Dowsett, Vic Lancaster, Bert Hiles, Rev. Don Amos and retiring second term district governor Bud Trill.

Saturday afternoon was spent as a general get together and an opening period consisting of a question box discussion. The conclave banquet Saturday proved to be the highlight of the conclave in that World Outlook, one of the main themes of Y'sdom, was carried to all those present by Jake McColly from Harrisburg, Pa.

His speech took Y's Men all over the globe, China, Japan, Argentina, India, Hawaii, Peru Czechoslovakia, Burma, and Mexico. He stressed that we must not only know our next door neighbor well, but we must know our neighbor from overseas. Branching out from world outlook two subsidiary themes were stressed that we have two roads ahead to choose from the road of the atom whereby we carry on and let Communism get that grip it seems so determined in getting on the road of Christ whereby we not only think but put into action all prejudices on color and religion, and that the other theme of a full life by the 4 F's—foolishness with fellowship and fun with philosophy.

A two hour entertainment program was greatly enjoyed by all after the banquet.

World Outlook

The guest speaker at Sunday morning's breakfast was the Rev A. W. Sheehy who again brought world outlook to the Y's Men in the New Testament Miracle of the Feeding of the Five Thousand. An open forum in World Outlook Boys' Work and New Club extension was held directly after breakfast. Paul Hartman who was the Belleville Y's Men's guest last Thursday gave a short talk on how Jew, Christian and Moslem get along at the Y in Jerusalem. A review and summary again stressing World Outlook of Y'sdom was given by J. Hartley Fowler, Toronto, secretary World Committee National Council Y.M.C.A.

Among those elected at this fall conclave were Jim Kendrich as Ontario Regional Director succeeding Gord Henry, Woodstock and Don Waite, Sudbury as Eastern District Governor succeeding Bud Trill, Belleville.

Hunter Struck By Own Bullet

Bancroft— Douglas Robinson, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Robinson, Greenview, was accidentally shot late Monday afternoon while out in the bush with a hunting party.

When Robinson fired a shot from his own rifle, it is believed that the bullet struck either a rock or a tree and ricocheted, striking him in the chest. He was rushed to the Bancroft Red Cross Hospital and was attended by Dr. O. W. Anderson, Bancroft, who found that when the bullet struck it glanced off a rib, and, although it punctured one lung, Robinson's condition is not considered serious.

Mayor D. L. Storey Addresses Rotarians on City Business

Despite city expansion and its accompanying expenditure, the city tax rate (47 mills) will remain unchanged next year, Mayor D. L. Storey said in a luncheon address to the Rotary Club yesterday. Stabilization of the tax rate for next year, is due in part to the new assessment.

The city's chief magistrate also announced that he had "thrown his hat into the mayoralty ring for re-election next year."

The mayor gave the clubmen a more or less detailed account of his stewardship predicting that under able administration the city will grow and with its growth its young people will be secure.

In lighter vein, the mayor acknowledged that he "didn't know very much about things and for the first six months he sat by and listened to fourteen aldermen talk. (Rotarian Jamieson Bone:—"And then you didn't learn anything".)

"It's a great life," the mayor went on. "It took a lot of time clearing up the work of the previous administration's business such as parking meters which, by the way, are now bringing in a revenue to the city of $400 weekly."

Refers to Incinerater

Referring to the city incinerator question, Mayor Storey said: "That installation which would cost $90,000 a few years ago would now cost upwards of $300,000. "He had" he said, "been trying to sell his council the idea of a bulldozer which could dig deep ditches wherein garbage could be buried."

He anticipated that 750 new homes would be built here this year. The city now boasted 43 industries with the strong possibility of more locating here. "More industries," he predicted, "would stop the exodus of young citizens to metropolitan centres. With their location here, there would be jobs for all."

Fifty per cent of the city taxes go to education, 25 per cent go to the gas company debentures which run to 1962, while the city actually controls the balance.

Claims Council Changes Mind

The city council meets every Thursday, the mayor told the clubmen and discuss city business. On Monday in open council eighty per cent of that business undergoes a change of mind on the part of council.

Stating that the Public Utilities is "run by three men" Mayor Storey said he had tried to put things across but was voted down by two elected members. "I am having trouble there and am trying to get a commission of four men, so something can be done."

Passing on the various city departments, he said the police department is more efficient at the present time than any he had seen for some time; the fire department was functioning satisfactorily as were the arena commissions and other city organizations.

Planning boards, he said too were trying to plan so that there would be no shack-towns on the edges of the city. In three or four years, these committees will have achieved something.

The general hospital problem was almost the straw that broke the official camel's back, according to the speaker. "The institution was $73,000 in debt and we have been trying to find the money to pay the bills". He predicted that in six months, the hospital would be something of which the city would be proud.

New Administrater

A new administrator had been brought in. Hospital rates had been raised to $7.50. Indigent patient rates were $2.50 but were costing $8 and $9. "If grants were not forthcoming, the tax rate would have been forced up," he said.

The city had purchased the county home for $300,000 and had received a governmental grant of $100,000 for the purpose. The county home farmlands will be converted into building lots ranging in selling prices from $1,000 to $250 each. The Home itself will be converted into a convalescent hospital. With the Ontario Government grant of $3,000 per bed and a federal grant of $1,500 per bed, the city will shortly have a $500,000 institution at a cost of $40,000.

Sewage Disposal

"Next year," Mayor Storey said, "if I'm here, it is my intention to make plans for proper sewage disposal. The sewers in Belleville are all undersize resulting in back-flows after heavy rains."

Speaking again on housing, the mayor stated that applications from 250 veterans are on file. "We already have 103 of these houses being built which do not cost the city anything. We get a federal grant of $600 and a provincial grant of $300 per unit. In ten years the city will derive a fine tax revenue from these properties".

The speaker was introduced by Rotarian Jamieson Bone with club appreciation expressed by Rotarian Fred Chamberlain. Rotarian Art Hill was acting chairman in the absence of President Mack Macklem.

Madoc

Special Services Feature Reopening Of Trinity Church

Madoc—The anniversary and reopening service of Trinity United Church, Madoc, were held last Sunday with large congregations present at both services The church looked beautiful with its new ceiling and complete decoration inside and outside. A new wiring job and new light fixtures contributed to the beauty of the church. Special contributions made possible the installation of new lights in the auditorium, over the outside doors and on the pipe organ and the pulpit.

With large baskets of 'mums and several large ferns, the church was tastefully decorated The official board placed baskets of bronze 'mums in recognition of the splendid response of the congregation to the decoration fund which the Board appreciated Trinity Ladies' Club also placed two large baskets of gold 'mums. A floral offering of a lovely basket of flowers by Miss Ella Adams, in memory of the men of the church, who paid the supreme sacrifice in the World War, graced the front of the altar.

The guest speaker for the services was the Rev. C. A. Perkins minister of Holloway Street United Church, Belleville, who delivered two inspiring and helpful messages. The speaker took for his theme in the morning "The Church and Her Obligation," and in the evening "The Highway to Heaven." Trinity United Church choir ably assisted in the service with appropriate anthems; Mrs Wesley Hulin, Mrs. J. Smith and Mrs. McKinly. Mrs. Rankin contributed a trio and Miss Phyllis Beatty A.T.C.M. delighted all with two well rendered solos Mrs. Lesley Ashley, the organist of the church; was most efficient at the pipe organ. At the evening service Mr. Stanley Hawthorne organist of St. Peter's Presbyterian Church assisted with the music. The organ and piano duets were greatly appreciated by the congregation.

An interesting and impressive feature of the evening service was a service of dedication. This was conducted by the minister of the church, Rev. Alfred Poulter. The congregation assembled in a dimly lit church and at the appropriate time, as the minister dedicated the lights to the service of the church. The full lights were turned on, the amber-lit lanterns bringing out the beautiful peach colored tints of the walls, and the lights back of the organ creating a delightful twilight sky blue effect on the choir alcove.

The minister of the church extended a cordial welcome to Rev Heaslip, minister of St. Peter's Presbyterian Church, who assisted in the evening service, and to the congregation of St. Peter's who withdrew their service for the occasion, also to the many other visitors from other congregations who were present.

Agriculture Should Be Ready to Meet Foreign Competition

London, Ont., Nov. 9 (CP)—Agriculture may expect "reasonable prosperity" in the next few years but even now should be prepared to meet competition in foreign markets, Robert McCubbin, Liberal M.P. for Middlesex East told the Caradoc township federation of agriculture annual meeting Monday night.

Discussing T.B. area testing cattle, Mr. McCubbin thought that the present rate of compensation to farmers whose animals had to be destroyed was too low.

He suggested that the province assume part of the compensation payments. Later, the meeting suggested a $60-$100 scale of compensation for grade animals. At the present time the basic valuation is $260 with the farmer receiving only two thirds.

Victor Dore Flies To Unesco Meet

Paris, Nov. 9 (CP)— Victor Dore, Canadian ambassador to Belgium, left here today by plane for Istanbul to attend the preliminary executive council meeting of the United Nations Educational, Scientifical and Cultural Organization.

From Istanbul he will proceed to Beyrouth, Lebanon, to head the five-man Canadian delegation at a three week U.N.E.S.C.O. conference starting Nov. 17. The other four members of the delegation will fly from London Nov. 14.

In addition to Dore, the Canadian delegates are Dr. John Robbins of the Dominion Bureau of Statistics Felix Desrouchers, Parliamentary Librarian A. W. Crawford of the Veterans Department and Charles Jennings of Toronto, supervisor of programs for the CBC.

Home and School Club Hears Dr. Bert Howard

The King George Home and School Association held their regular monthly meeting on Monday evening with the president, Mrs. N. Meldrum, in charge.

The classrooms were open and a good number of parents took advantage of this opportunity to meet with their child's teacher and discuss his progress.

Rev. Dr. Bert Howard, principal of Albert College was the guest speaker and was introduced by Mr. Everett Fairman.

In the course of his remarks Dr. Howard explained the purpose of the Juvenile Court soon to be established here. It is hoped by this method to give young persons who have taken a wrong step the chance to have an intelligent, kindly and informed consideration of their case rather than arbitrary judgment.

Dr. Howard's discourse concerned a "Child's Charter of Rights."

"A child comes into the world by the wish of his parents and the least the parents can do is to see that he is given the divine right of a good start in life physically," said the speaker. "It is appalling to see the neglect and nutritional deficiency in even well-to-do homes."

Home Place to Teach

"A child has a right to a proper spiritual and moral life, and home is the place where the greatest teaching can be done. It is the parents' responsibility to see that the child has a right understanding of himself. When you find you cannot answer a question tell the child you don't know but you'll find out, and then find out. The parent is the person to give the child this information.

"A boy has a right to his father, which must not be handed over to his mother. A boy needs his father's judgment and understanding and he will accept it rather than his mother's. And a girl has a right to her mother.

"A child has a right to a good environment. We cannot isolate a child in his home, he has to go downtown and mix with others. Let us make sure it is a good community for him.

"Also a child has a right to his own individuality and parents should not decide that a boy must follow a certain profession because his father did, when the boy may have no aptitude or liking for that profession."

Mr. M. Hackett expressed the thanks of the listeners to Dr. Howard.

Mrs. M. C. Ward spoke on the subject of a Health Unit for Hastings County which it is hoped will be established. This service would be a benefit to all residents of the city and county, and by having proper health supervision for children a stronger and healthier generation would result. She appealed to the Association to give their support to this project.

Tea was served by members of the association and a social hour was enjoyed.

Douglas Ross Winner of Public Speaking Contest

Douglas Ross, Thurlow Junior Farmers Club, was the winner of the annual Hastings County Junior Farmers' public speaking contest held in the Huntingdon township hall at Ivanhoe on Friday evening.

Three contestants participated in the event, the winner speaking on a rather timely subject "Hydro and its uses on the Farm." Other speakers included Burton Hubble of the Sidney Junior Farmers who spoke on "Youth and Their Responsibilities" and Miss Ann Harrington of the Sidney Junior Institute, speaking on "Conservation."

John Huffman, president of the Hastings Junior Farmers acted as chairman for the evening while judges for the event were Mr. John Mahon, agricultural teacher at the Stirling High School; Mr. Donald A. Taylor, agricultural representative for Prince Edward county, and Mr. Newton T. Ashton, agricultural representative for Lennox and Addington.

Douglas Ross will now represent Hastings in the district elimination contest at which top speakers from Hastings, Prince Edward, Northumberland and Peterborough, will compete for the right to represent the district in the zone finals.

OBITUARY

LATE ERNEST COURNEYEA (Stoco)

Funeral services for the late Ernest Courneyea, Stoco, were held at St. Edmund's Church Monday morning with interment at St. Edmund's Cemetery. Rev. Father McCabe conducted the funeral service. Pall bearers were N. Mulroney, Pat Mulroney, Eddie Goulah, Louis Genore, Charles Rashotte and Wm. Rush.

The late Mr. Courneyea died November 4th at his home in Stoco following a lengthy illness. Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Albert Courneyea he was born 62 years ago at Stoco and had resided all his life in the district where he was a successful farmer.

He was a member of St. Edmund's Church and also of the Holy Name Society. His wife, the former Ellen Moran, predeceased him 28 years ago.

Surviving are three sons, Kenneth, at home; Donald of Toronto and Bert of Sutton, Ontario, and one daughter, Margaret, of Toronto. One sister, Annlien, and two brothers, Francis and Leo of Tweed, also survive.

Police Court

Fine Levied For Charging Too High Rental

Two L.C.A. charges and one rental case were the only three charges heard in the local Magistrate's Court held this morning before Magistrate T. Y. Wills. Both inebriates were given the conventional jail term in lieu of payment of fines.

A local resident pleaded guilty to charging a higher rental than had been set by the rental board and was assessed $25 fine and $3.50 costs.

Investigator C. McBride stated the resident had charged $8 per week rental when the board had fixed the rental at $5.

E. E. Follwell acted as special Crown prosecutor in the case.

Police Blotter

A hydro pole on Bleecker Ave. came to grief Monday afternoon when a local laundry truck driven by Bert Gill, Coleman Street, ran into the pole breaking it off at the base. The truck was proceeding north on Bleecker when it swerved to the east curb, striking the pole.

Alex Dickie, Carrying Place, reported the theft of two sweaters from his car which had been parked on Dundas Street. The car had not been locked.

Gasoline thieves were busy in the vicinity of Tabernacle United Church. A Charles Street resident complained that he had parked his car in that vicinity and later discovered that the gasoline tank cap had been removed.

Fall Plowing About Completed

Toronto, Nov. 9 (CP)— Farmers across Ontario are completing their preparations for winter, it was shown today in the weekly agriculture department crop report.

Fall plowing is nearly finished, and only a few scattered crops of apples, turnips, corn, flax and sugar beets remain to be harvested.

Western and Southern Ontario areas welcomed recent rains, which added to low water supplies. Only in eastern Ontario has the low rainfall made poor grazing conditions, and many farmers are concerned over their water supply.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Nov. 9 (CP) — All groups slipped downhill as trading slowly increased on the Stock Exchange here today. Industrials and base metals showed the severest declines. Golds weakened but a few issues in the juniors attracted attention.

Industrials slipped steadily throughout the session, following the trend established in New York. Papers, utilities and steels were among the heaviest losers. Goodyear fell seven points.

Penny golds were in the spotlight for some heavy trading and strong gains. Roche and Mosher awoke today for strong advances. Dome slipped in the seniors to a new low and Sylvanite, Wright-Hargreaves and Giant Yellowknife were losers.

The base metals list was in a one-way downward movement.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

Toronto, Nov. 9 (CP)—Trade was active on the local livestock market up to noon as prices remained firm at the week's advance. Receipts were: Cattle 1,200; calves 250; hogs 400; sheep and lambs 500. Left from Monday's trading were 1,900 head and the present supply includes 800 stockers.

Weighty steers were $18-$25 and butcher steers sold at $17-$22 with boners down at $14-$16 Heifers were $16.50-$21 with fed yearlings downward to $9. Bulls were $20-$21.50 for good butchers with lights downward to $14 Stockers were $16-$19 with feeders up to $20.50.

Calves were steady at $27-$28 for good to choice with plainer kinds at $17-$25 and grassers at $14-$15.50.

Hogs were still unsettled.

Lambs were steady at $23 for good ewes and wethers with $1 discount on bucks. Sheep sold from $5-$10.

BUFFALO LIVESTOCK

Buffalo, N.Y., Nov. 9. (AP)—Cattle 200: receipts included three loads Canadian steers, heifers. One load good Canadian yearlings $28; one load medium Canadian steers $24; beef cows $17-$19; good weighty sausage bulls $21-$23.

Calves 100; receipts included 30 Canadian calves. Good, choice eligible to 35; common, medium $28-$33.

HOGS

Toronto, Nov. 9 — (CP) — Hog prices at Stratford today were reported unestablished. At Hull, Grade A delivered were $1 down at $38.25. Hogs off truck were unquoted.

Hunter Bags Doe, Seeks Aid, Finds Doe and Seal Gone

Peterborough, Nov. 9 CP)—William Woytko, an employee of the International Harvester Co., at Hamilton, had Monday off work because of the hydro shortage.

He and six colleagues headed into Peterborough County for a deer shoot. Woytko shot a two-year-old doe late in the afternoon, then went for one of the gang to help him carry it out. When he returned to the spot here he had left the doe hanging it was gone. And with it went his deer seal which he had attached to one of the front legs. The tag number is 60857.

This means Mr. Woytko lost his deer, and can't get another one because his deer seal is gone too. The other six had no luck.

HELD IN STRANGE MURDER

Surly and defiant, 15-year-old Rafael (Rock) Villasenor is shown after he was picked up by police for questioning in the brutal strangling of 13-year-old William Gervais in Chicago. The body of the boy was found stuffed into an electric conduit box in Fuller Park a short time after his mother had dropped dead of a heart attack while reporting his disappearance to police. Young Villasenor is described by police as leader of juvenile delinquents who used Fuller Park for sex and drink-orgies. (Central Press Canadian)

Passamaquoddy Power Project May be Revived

Ottawa, Nov. 7 (CP)—Possibility of reviving the Passamaquoddy Tidal Power project on the New Brunswick-Main border will be reviewed by the international joint commission, the External Affairs Department announced today.

The department said the commission, which has jurisdiction over Canada - United States boundary waters, will undertake a limited review, without committing either country to even a full investigation of the Quoddy power prospects.

The new reference to the commission apparently has been instigated by Maine interests, Senator Owen Brewster, Maine Republican, has been prodding the U.S. State Department for some months to have an investigation made of the prospects of going ahead with the development.

As originally proposed in the 1920s, the project called for developing some 3,000,000 kilowatt hours of electricity per year through harnessing the great tidal range of the Bay of Fundy. It would involve damming Passamaquoddy Bay, on the border and Cobscook Bay wholly within Maine. Electricity would be generated by controlling the flow between the two basins.

The Roosevelt administration spent some $7,000,000 in shore installations on the Cobscook end before abandoning the project in 1936. Canada has not spent anything on the scheme, and the Cobscook phase did not reach the point where the Dominion even was consulted.

COMMUNISTS HAMMERED

Singapore, Nov. 9 — (AP) — British air and ground forces hammered today at communist insurgents, estimated to total 3,000 to 4,000, remaining in the thick Malayan jungle. A large - scale operation appeared to be under way in Selangor state, 250 miles northwest of Singapore.

The R. A. F. announced that Spitfires and Beaufighters smashed with bombs and rockets for 35 minutes at an insurgent-held area northeast of Borga, in Selangor. Later fighter-bombers strafed the same area with cannon and machine-gun fire.

Small Quantity of Uranium Reserves May Limit A-Power Says Scientist

Chicago, Nov. 9 (AP)—A research scientist today claimed that the rate of atomic bomb production in the United States threatens to exhaust the country's entire uranium reserves in 30 years.

The rate of bomb production, he told a group session of the American Petroleum Institute, is "a reason for pessimism" in considering the future of atomic power for industrial uses.

Eugene Ayers, chief chemist of the Gulf Research and Development Company, Pittsburgh, said the world supply of recoverable uranium "is believed to be about 10 times as great as that in the United States." Thorium, another fissionable element that might produce industrial power, is present in about similar quantity, he added.

"Our annual production of uranium now is said to be more than 1-30th our entire reserve," he said in a paper prepared for the meeting. "If the rate of production is constant over the next 30 years, we shall have no uranium left; for, unlike petroleum, there is little likelihood of extending our uranium reserve by large discoveries."

Because the world's supply of fissionable materials is "definitely limited" he said, the kind of atomic energy now understood "cannot be regarded as the predominant energy source of the future."

"If uranium were used to produce as much energy as petroleum," he said, "it would become a very rapidly vanishing resource."

He said it has been estimated that petroleum is 100,000 times as abundant in the United States as are uranium concentrations running down to 1-10th of one per cent.

Thus, he added, atomic energy "is unlikely to become important except for the limited uses demanding the highest energy potential."

Uranium Find Made in Bushland Near L. Superior

Sault Ste. Marie, Ont., Nov. 9—(CP) — A rush to register claims in the area between Algoma Bay and Theano Point, an eight-mile stretch of rugged bushland bordering on Lake Superior 72 miles north of here was reported today at the local mining recorder's office of the Ontario Department of Mines. The claims surround the Oct. 8 discovery of pitchblende containing uranium, basic metal for atomic power.

A total of 68 claims have been officially registered, mining recorder W. N. Miller reported, and the demand for registrations is continually mounting. The office has been cleaned out of its supply of blueprints in the unorganized area and more will be received from Toronto today.

225 Claims Staked

He said that the report of 225 claims in the area was "approximately correct," indicating that staking work has already covered an area of about 18 square miles along the whole 22 mile shoreline from Pancake Bay north to the mouth of the Montreal River. The mining recorder's office has been kept busy since Saturday morning when the first registration rush started.

George McLeod, general manager of Algoma Ore Properties who have a considerable interest in the area, Monday substantiated reports of the strike and said today that approximately 800 acres would be staked before the end of the day. Registrations on the Algoma ore lands are being taken on the site, he said, but a total figure of the company's staking would not be known until officially claimed at the local recording office.

Provincial and Dominion government geologists who went into the area last week so far have declined to make any comment on the pitchblende to the strike.

Early Discovery of Copper

The mining strike north of Alona Bay recalled for local historians, the discovery of copper in the vicinity of what is now called Copper Mine Point, about eight miles south of the original pitchblende find of a month ago.

The pioneer English explorer Alexander Henry was reported to have discovered copper in the vicinity of Mamainse now called Coppermine, in 1764 or shortly thereafter in 1771 "an air furnace" was built on a site at Point Aux Pins (Pine Point) 12 miles west of the Sault on the north shore of St. Mary's River and a barge was constructed there to navigate Lake Superior in search of the copper strike.

In 1772 a sailing sloop was also built at the point and some copper ore was brought from the Mamainse shore to Point Aux Pins.

In the following year the copper vein however narrowed from 30 to four feet and the British syndicate gave up the project and returned its mining men to the Sault. What copper ore had been collected was sent to England and there was no record as to whether Ontario's first ore furnace, latterly listed as an iron ore smelter, ever functioned in any operational work. The Theno strike also recalled Algoma's biggest gold rush at Lochalsh in the Michipoten district in 1936 when more than 200 claims were staked and registered in a period of about five days.

The Localsh field is still a gold producer although only in a small operation.

NO STAMP ISSUED

London, Nov. 9 (Reuters) — After "most careful consideration" it has been decided not to issue special postage stamps to mark the birth of Princess Elizabeth's baby, postmaster general Wilfrid Paling said in Parliament today.

He had been asked by a Labor Member how many different denominations of special stamps were being prepared for this ex-

Pope's Vicar In America If War Comes

Montreal, Nov. 9 (CP)—While Western nations are strengthening their bulwarks against communism, a Canadian Roman Catholic priest, home from Europe, reported Monday on Vatican plans for maintaining Papal authority in the event of an emergency.

Rev. Edward Sheridan, on his way to teach in Toronto's Jesuit Seminary after two years in Europe, said the plans were known in Rome a year ago. They embraced appointment of an unidentified prelate in the Western Hemisphere to act as vicar for the Pope in case the Vatican administration, in an emergency, could not continue in Rome.

The Jesuit father said in a lecture that he had learned of the plans "on good authority" in Rome.

"The matter has been known in Rome for a year," he said in an interview. "A young Cardinal of the Western Hemisphere has been named to act as vicar for the Holy Father if the Pope and the Vatican should suddenly find themselves isolated, whether by war, the Communist threat or even the creation of an Italian government which did not have the support of the people.

No Other Details

"I do not know the name of this Cardinal. I have no other details but the fact is known in Rome. If the Holy Father should be isolated he would delegate such powers that Papal authority would not cease to exist under an circumstances."

The priest, who declared the Vatican considers war as "not only a possibility," said the plan is simply a "precaution." It was the first time in contemporary history that such a precaution had been taken.

In his lecture, Father Sheridan said Soviet satellite countries in Europe are in advance stage of integration. This was not a purely defensive measure as the Communists would have us believe but rather a preparation for war.

Russia, he said, is aiming at world communism under Soviet leadership, and is "willing to achieve this end by war if and when she thinks she can wage a war successfully."

Three Fishermen In Cabin Cruiser Reported Missing

Detroit, Nov. 9. (CP)—Three fishermen in a cabin cruiser were reported missing today on Lake St. Clair.

They are Charles Apel, Earl Rennie, and William Sattler, Jr., Detroit.

In Sattler's father's 19-foot cruiser they set out at 2 p.m. Monday from Huron Point, near Mt. Clemens. They expected to return Monday evening. When they had not returned today, authorities were notified.

The Macomb Sheriff's office speculated their cruiser was drifting on the lake. The same boat was reported to have developed engine trouble on a fishing trip Sunday.

Still missing were two duck hunters whose overturned rowboat was found Monday near Point Mouillee, on Lake Erie.

The two are Leon Sweitzer and Charles Belcher. They were last reported seen Saturday night.

43,000 ANIMALS, BIRDS TREATED BY HUMANE SOCIETY

Toronto, Nov. 9 (CP)— The Toronto Humane Society had a busy time in October—nearly 43,000 animals and birds were treated in the Toronto area during the month by the society's inspectors and veterinarians, it was announced today. Cattle, sheep and swine numbered more than 40,000; 2,345 dogs and cats were treated, but poultry were healthy last month — only 206

Sir John A's Wit Delights Drew

Charlottetown, Nov. 9. (CP)—George Drew, who as national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party has pledged to fight for the rights of the provinces, today visited the chamber where the Fathers of Confederation first met.

Mr. Drew and his wife were shown through the chamber by Premier Jones of Prince Edward Island, a close friend of the new leader despite their divergent political views.

In the chamber, located in the 100-year-old legislature building, are the tables and chairs used by the Fathers of Confederation at their historic meetings.

Mr. Drew laughed heartily when shown a sample of Sir John A. Macdonald's wit. Sir John, registering for the meetings, gave his occupation, as a cabinet maker. Local historians say that at the time, Sir John was trying to form a new cabinet in Upper Canada.

On the wall of the chamber is a tablet, erected several years ago to commemorate confederation. Mr. Drew said he liked the inscription on the tablet and he yanked a crumpled piece of note paper from his pocket and wrote down the words. This is the inscription:

"In the hearts and minds of the delegates who assembled in this room on Sept. 1, 1864, was born the Dominion of Canada.

"Providence being their guide they builded better than they knew."

The visit to the confederation chamber was one of several calls made by Mr. and Mrs. Drew, who arrived here on the first lap of a tour of the Maritime Provinces.

PRINCESS

After a family Christmas with the King and Queen at Sandringham in Norfolk, Elizabeth and her husband lived, for some weeks, at the Kensington Palace apartments of Princess Alice, Countess of Athlone. While she and the Earl of Athlone, a former Governor - General of Canada, were away in South Africa.

Soon after they settled into their country home at Windlesham Moor, the Duke was posted to the Naval Staff Training College at Greenwich, where an exacting course, calling for much hard study, kept him away from home most of the time.

All this year Elizabeth has been awaiting the birth of her first child with the same eagerness as any young mother — and taking just as close an interest in the preparations.

She has made it clear that she intends to become a mother in the fullest sense of the word, and will not delegate to servants duties which she believes should be her own — despite the calls of public life upon one so close to the throne.

Ask Death Penalty For 21 Members Nazi Foreign Office

Nuernberg, Nov. 9 (AP) — The American prosecution asked the death penalty for 21 members of Hitler's wartime foreign office.

Prosecutor Robert W. Kempner, in his closing argument in the "Wilhelmstrasse" war crimes trial, said:

"The defendants in this case are more culpably responsible and deserve no less punishment than the German soldiers and civilians who have been sentenced to death for enforcing the murder policy transmitted to them from above."

The Change That Light Makes

There are now three power cuts in force, one for the arly morning, one for the late afternoon and one for the vening, making necessary a number of adjustments in ustoms such as the hours of eating and entertainment.

The last cut which went into force Monday evening as been ominously hinted at for some time as the seriousess of the water shortage was impressed upon the users electricity in the effort to bring about reduction in the mount of power used if possible in every establishment.

The order of the third cutout of power does not lessen e appeal which still goes out — to save and save power y turning out wherever possible lights so that a minimum energy will be used and so ease the general situation.

How much people appreciate their electricity is now all o apparent when it is not so freely used as once it was. heap and easy to handle, electric power has built up such eneral use as could not have been anticipated some years go. Modern developments industrially and the expansion population, the building of more and more dwellings and e weather have played their part to bring on the lean inter seasons until new power developments are brought . In the interim, myriads of families are going to use andle light during the dark periods, light, which their reat grandfathers respected and we moderns have rather corned in the ocean of white light from hydro-electric lants. Others are reverting for the periods of the blackuts to the glass or metal lamps of about the first part of e century when coal oil was burned as fuel. Today there scarcity of the old glass lamps but in many homes these scarded oil lamps which were carried about the house d do not depend upon a switch but a wick and a match e making their appearance refurbished and polished with mething of their ancient glory. Candle sticks and modn lamps too are making their appearance. From attic d cellar endless numbers of these lamps have been ought down and up to shed light when the power is off. an's resourcefulness does not fail him — somebody reembers where the old lamps were and soon they are reieved from the dust and limbo of forgotten articles of eneral use many decades ago.

At the same time, there is demand for modern lamps d it seems insatiable.

Meanwhile hydro power remains though restricted. hile few persons ever contemplated a situation would evelop such as this water shortage has created, they know eir dependence upon Hydro and while people use substite lights or sit in darkness in the evening spells of lightssness they know there still is the Hydro which is perorming a great service.

Those who can save power should still make the effort d if all do the utmost to save the result will help.

What of This November?

What could be more lovely than a day in November ke that which was yesterday. Here was no aspect of erceness and wildness which often is the mark of the leventh month, the last but one in the procession of onths to the year's end. Nature is bare at this time, but here is considerable warmth and there is reason for good heer. The sun shines and there are the birds which never eave the northern clime. The woods are leafless except he evergreens and there seems a sort of brooding which omwhat resembles the mood of Indian Summer. Now ndian Summer is a season sometimes very definitely mark- d and at other times not clearly defined, merging rather ith usual aspects of the November scene.

The poets have never failed to speak of the wild ovember winds, the thick vein of rain which so often falls. ut just now the scene is lacking that sense of pain with hich the poets clothe the month.

November is at least the month of preparation for the cy blasts which drive across the countryside. Kindly this ear, the month has allowed days of grace to enable people to catch up with the still undone tasks about the home. t the same time it is enabling much outdoor work to be one unimpeded with frozen soil or snow. On are the torm windows which it is one of the never-to-be-forgotten asks of the householder to put on as protection. Leaves hich dot the ground are many of them still uncollected nd most of these will probably await the genial sun of nother year six months hence when all nature will rouse ankind to the urge to get out on the grass and clean up he lawn. But that is the business of next spring, ot of early November which has not yet felt the cold.

NECKWEAR DISCUSSION

Said the four-in-hand to the plain bow tie:
"A handsomer portion of silk am I,
And I've richer colors than you to please
My countless number of devotees.

"For my wearers I always have something new,
But there seldom appears any change in you.
Your bow-tie men are a sorry lot.

Said the bow tie meekly: "I know it's true.
You have numerous friends and I but few,
But I never show where the gravy slopped,
And I wear no smudge where a bean has dropped.

"I may be plain but I need no brace
Of silver or gold to hold me in place.
I may be common and dull of hue.

WILL THE CHANGE MAKE A DIFFERENCE?

Do people find happiness when they divorce and remarry??

Sometimes. When marriages are contracted between people utterly unlike in temperament and ideals, when one member of the union violates all the laws of decency and restraint, then it sometimes happens that such people in their next venture find the peace and happiness denied them in the first.

But we are generous in our estimate of the situation if we say that this happens frequently. It does happen, but it does not happen frequently. Most people who have not found happiness in their first marriage do not find it in their second or third. And the reason is quite easy to understand. Their marriage probably failed not because of circumstances but because one or perhaps both of the contracting parties had characterer weaknesses which would have caused them to bog down in almost any situation. These character weaknesses were not necessarily flagrant sins. People usually fail in marriage because they are selfish, because they have never grown up, because they are stubborn and lacking in a willingness to give and take. Unless their characters change, they find themselves as unhappy in the second marriage as they were in the first.

The great rush to the divorce court represents a desire to change a situation and reflects the hope that by so doing happiness will ensue.

SELF FREEDOM

Many of us, though living in a free country, and apparently free ourselves, still make slaves of ourselves. And only through force of will do we give ourselves a daily taste of self freedom.

When Theodore Roosevelt was President he set aside ten minutes each day just for the reading of poetry. I am sure he must have thing in a regular way, and set a time for doing it, it is amazing how much can be accomplished over the length of a year.

busiest people have the most time.
busiet people have the most time.

And they accomplish the most without worrying about it. To me the silliest boast of anyone is that one, so familiar to us all, "Oh, I never take a vacation. I don't need it!" Everyone needs a vaca-

Especially do we need it to discover our self freedom.

Each of us would live a much happier life, and a more peaceful one, if we set aside a "daily vacation," and adhered to it by a taste of some literary or musical treat, or devoted to some interesting hobby. Variety is what cheats, and laughs at, increasing age. The accomplishments of some people read like miracles, but it is all because they get fun out of their work and don't worry about the setbacks that creep in.

My experience has been that the men with the greatest responsibilities are the easiest to see and to engage in talk — so long as there is something worth talking about. Big men welcome this brief period of self freedom.

Benjamin Franklin took time out each day, during his early days, to check up upon himself, to see if there had been any self improvement. It was this habit that undoubtedly led him to check up on the needs of his community and nation, for his mind was ever busy thinking out some new improvement. He had plenty of self freedom because he took it! You

Mackenzie's Column: Great Majority Against Policy Of Aggression

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press News Analyst)

Foreign Minister Molotov of Russia, in opening the Moscow ceremonies marking the 31st anniversary of the Bolshevist Revolution, declared the defeat of Thomas E. Dewey in the United States presidential election "shows that the great majority of Americans are against a policy of aggression."

Well, Molotov is dead right in thinking the great majority of Americans don't want war. They certainly do not! But he is wrong in drawing this conclusion from Governor Dewey's defeat, since the latter persistently campaigned for peace.

Americans want peace, and the thing that gripes us most is that the communists won't let us have it. Sure, we are arming; we are bolstering our fighting forces; we are helping non-communist Europe get on its feet economically and militarily, and we are considering a military alliance with Canada and countries of Western Europe.

But all this is in the interest of defence. Were the Russians so naive as to think we would sit twiddling our thumbs and let the red steamroller run over us? I'm sure they have given us credit for more sense, but our defensive activities naturally provide them material for propaganda such as both Marshal Timoshenko and Marshal Bulganin, minister of armed forces, emphasized in their speeches in connection with the red anniversary.

Follow Stalin

The two famous marshals followed Premier Stalin's recent lead in characterizing the western powers as war-mongers. Both called for military preparedness by the Soviet Union, but said the forces of peace wouldn't permit another war. Then came a great parade of Russia's military might.

This pious declaration for peace has a strange ring, coming as it does from leaders of a communist empire which is waging a fierce "cold war" against all non-communist countries.

Dominated by Force

The American people want peace. I believe that the average Russian also wants peace. But the average Russian isn't a communist. He is one of the scores of millions who are ruled by a small minority who dominate by force and the terrorism of secret police.

Thus the problem is how to release the world from the fear of this minority dictatorship which has spread itself by strong-arm methods over many countries. The way things look now the solution is to continue the erection of barriers of military preparedness and so hold the red advance until the peoples already under its domination are able to deal with the menace in their own way.

There is nothing more certain than that the oppressed peoples will revolt against totalitarianism in due course.

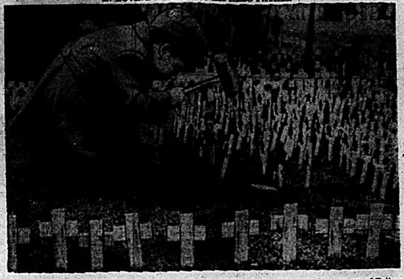
IN LOVING MEMORY OF HIS HERO FATHER



A field of remembrance was dedicated at London's famed Westminster Abbey to the memory of Britons who lost their lives in two world wars. After the dedication, 4-year-old Christopher Veall entered the enclosure and placed his own little cross to honor the memory of his father, Captain Charles Veall, who died during World War II. Role of Airborne Armies Outlined By U. S. Officer

Rivers, Man., Nov. 9. (CP)—Airborne armies, under proper conditions that include adequate supply, could strike deep behind enemy lines in any new war and could probably hold out for at least a month alone, an American army officer said today.

Lt.-Col. Hugh Harris, an exchange officer serving at Canada's first peacetime combined operations school, also said that the U.S. is studying methods that could permit elimination of the individual parachute as well as numerous other developments in air landing techniques and methods.

He outlined several possibilities in airborne operations during one of the lectures given by the school's staff before 30 visiting reporters and photographers.

Col. Harris said a landing deep into Germany was in the cards for a U.S. airborne army in the late stages of the war. The situation at that time held two of the major conditions he cited as prerequisites for success: air superiority and tactical developments which made it possible and feasible to shift air emphasis from fighters and bombers to transport planes.

He sidestepped a question as to whether airborne developments had made amphibious invasions obsolete but indicated that such a successful penetration could only come in the later stages of a war that had settled into a slugging match.

It would also require an eventual junction with friendly forces through reunion with the main land front. He thought problems of supply could be licked to the point where an army could survive a month on its own, but there was still a long way to go.

Col. Harris said post-war developments had altered the organization of U.S. airborne divisions so that all combat troops could be borne into action by parachute.

The Packsack of Gregory Clark

It is manifestly as unfair to expect the average college rugby player of real talent to shine in philosophy, mathematics and languages as it is to expect the average top honors men in those subjects to get out there and run forty-five yards for a touchdown against a ravening field.

Occasionally, but only occasionally, do you find an outstanding scholar who is also an outstanding rugby star. Yet this is the double ideal towards which many universities aim. Others are more realistic.

It is said they let the rugby coaches mark the examination papers of the team. And a very reasonable idea that is. True, the coach may not have passed his entrance. But is it not merely the examination papers of the thirty students who constitute his team and the spares which he marks. He has something to do, in a strange and psychic sense, with all the thousands of papers being marked by all the professors on the faculty.

For what is the rugby team in a modern university?? Some say that it is the attraction which draws students to the university. It is a means of publicizing the university. Others say it is a circus spectacle which keeps the university before the eyes of the common man. It is the excuse for graduates to return to the university precincts. But there is another and often forgotten function of a rugby team which has to do with the morals of the student body.

No man can sit, one of thousands, in the bleachers of his college stadium and watch a handful of his fellow students going through the gruelling labors of a rugby game without his inner conscience stirring. No man can watch a victorious team of a handful of his fellow students achieve their triumph without feeling that he is part of a struggling, striving and victorious organization. A successful rugby team imparts, to thousands of anonymous Joes, the will to strive.

The marks the philosophy professor writes on the anonymous Joe's paper is likely a little higher mark because of the mark the rugby coach is rumored to have

RH FACTOR AND ERYTHROBLASTOSIS

From tests of a thousand persons chosen at random it has been estimated that 86 per cent of all individuals are Rh positive and 14 per cent are Rh negative. Rh stands for Rhesus — this factor or substance in the blood was recognized by experiments involving the use of the rhe-investigations or common brown monkey.

The Rh factor is inherited as a Mendelian dominant.

Of 111 women who gave birth to babies with erythroblastosis 100 were Rh negative and only 11 were Rh positive.

If the mother is Rh negative and the father is Rh positive either one-half or all the children will be Rh positive, depending on whether the Rh factor in the father is homozygous or heterozygous—find these $10 words in Webster if you didn't major in genetics.

The important point is that such inheritance of Rh positive blood accounts for many still-births, because the mother's Rh negative blood is destructive to the blood of the fetus—so that the child is born dead or, if born alive will very likely have a severe kind of anemia with jaundice, called erythroblastosis.

Not the first-born child, as a rule, but usually the second or third child.

Twins born to an Rh positive father and Rh negative mother showed an interesting difference—one twin was Rh positive and died of erythroblastosis; the other was Rh negative and was unaffected. Yet the first born of this same couple was a healthy child with O Rh positive blood—she was nine years old when the twins were born. Then there had been a second child stillborn or rather a spontaneous abortion when the first child was three years old. It seemed almost certain that any children subsequently born to this couple would be affected. Yet they were so anxious to have another child that artificial insemination with semen from a donar with Rh negative blood was tried twice at monthly intervals It failed. Then semen from another Rh negative donar was used and this time the woman conceived and bore a healthy Rh negative child.

Laboratory tests readily determine whether an individual's blood is Rh positive or Rh negative. Perhaps such testing will soon be the commonplace way to determine before marriage whether erythroblastosis is likely to occur. Of course marital blood incompatibility may be due to other differences besides the Rh factor, but exact knowledge of these differences and their effects is still insufficient to warrant any definite inference or warning.

Transfusion of even a small quantity of Rh positive blood into the veins of a female child or young woman may produce a reaction in the child's blood such that, if or when she marries and bears a child her child will be as likely to be born dead or to have grave jaundice and anemia at birth (erythroblastosis) as is the second or third born of an Rh positive father and an Rh negative mother.

It is now advisable to make available in every community a panel of blood donors with Rh negative blood, in each of the four blood groups, especially for transfusions for erythroblastosis in the newborn and for emergencies in obstetrics for women with Rh negative blood.

Salty Taste

What makes the saliva in the mouth taste salty? (B. W. V.)

Answer—Taking too much salt in and on food. Taking certain medicines. Slight bleeding from gums.

Cream of Tartar

My phisicion advised me to use cream of tartar in place of lemonade. Kindly tell me if it is all right. (Mrs. J. R.)

Answer—Yes, if you use it as your physician directs. A familiar old recipe for a cooling, mildly diuretic drink was made by dissolving half an ounce of cream of tartar in three pints of boiling water and adding half a cupful of sugar and half an ounce of fresh lmon peel. Wine-glassful every two hours for two days.

Canadian Program Brings "Outside" to Arctic Region

By EDWARD PALMER
Canadian Press Staff Writer

It isn't a well-known program to those outside its orbit and its annual entrance is not attended with great fanfare. But for the 15,000 persons living in the Northwest Territories and the Canadian Arctic the Northern Messenger program of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation is a link with friends and families and a solace through the long northern winter.

The Messenger's 1948 season starts Nov. 5 and 6 when personal messages begin flowing out of stations in the Prairies and the Maritimes to trappers, traders, settlers, missionaries and mounted policemen, telling of births and marriages or just bringing a cheery hello from the outside world.

The idea of the service was born in the '20s. At that time station KDKA in Pittsburgh was one of the United States' most powerful transmitters, and one of the few heard clearly by residents of the Far North. Through negotiations KDKA in 1926 began sending personal messages to those who had no other contact with the outside.

In 1933 the service was taken over by the CBC which developed it into a far-reaching organization. This year the service is handled from Winnipeg; a change from previous years when it originated in Toronto.

Messages must be 25 words or less and must be of a personal nature. The messages are recorded by three men announcers and one woman and sent to the transmitters for broadcasting. They are aired on Friday night and Saturday morning from three Prairie stations—CBW, Winnipeg; CBK, Saskatoon; and CBX, Alberta. One week later the same recordings are relayed from eastern stations, including the big CBC transmitter, CBA at Sackville, N.B.

Large Area Served

Although the 15,000 persons served by the Messenger live in an area of 2,500,000 square miles, the CPC says 99 per cent of the messages are delivered. A few ference on one broadcast, but in misses are caused by radio intermany cases, the messages have been relayed by word of mouth months later by someone who heard them perfectly.

Usually the messages are cheerful: 'It's a seven-pound girl: mother and daughter doing fine," "Don't forget to look after yourself, darling, I love you," and "Please hurry up and come home, Daddy." Sometimes they tell of domestic tragedy; "Your mother passed away last week," "We had a fire and the house was destroyed."

At the end of each winter when the broadcast closes, all the greetings sent during the season are mailed to Ottawa. They are then forwarded north on the next supply boat.

Each program of the Messenger sends about 200 messages. Those addressed to people whose names begin with "A" are read first one week and those starting with "Z" are first the following week.

The most joyful of all events in the calendar of the north is the Christmas broadcast of the Messenger. The time is extended to allow almost twice the number of messages and everyone in the Arctic and sub-Arctic gathered around the radio.

It isn't unusual for a lonely man to travel 350 miles by dog-team to hear the Christmas messages and though there may not be a message for him personally, he feels united in the common spirit of the festival.

WHERE MANIAC SHOT ELEVEN PERSONS, EIGHT DIE

The above grim scene in the Bethel Court area of Chester, Pa., shows several of the eight dead victims of a madman who posted himself at a second-storey window with a 22-calibre rifle and wantonly shot down passers-by until he was cornered by police and committed suicide. Three others were wounded before the madman, identified as Melvin Collins, 38-year-old Negro of Virginia, ended his life. Among his victims were a city detective and a seven-year-old boy. All except one of Collins' victims were Negroes. Police were unable to find any explanation for the shooting. (Central Press Canadian)

Police Keep Mum On Construction Worker's Death

Rapides Des Joachims, Que., Nov. 9. (CP)—Police kept mum today on investigations into the death of a 52-year-old boiler foreman whose body was discovered Sunday fully-clothed in a ramshackle "Inn" in this power-site town.

The body bore three deep head wounds, taped with adhesive. It was found sprawled on a bunkhouse cot by a liquor inspector, probing how illegal liquor had been getting into the area.

Police did not eliminate the possibility of foul play, but district coroner Dr. L. P. Renaud of nearby Campbell's Bay, Monday night said the cause of death of Leo D. McLellan in the one-storey inn, may be attributed to heart failure.

An autopsy on the body likely will be held Tuesday by Dr. J. M. Roussel of Montreal. A homicide squad of Quebec Provincial Police, Montreal, is investigating the case.

Meanwhile, police have questioned and released Paul Belliveau, 58, owner of the Rapides Inn, after they had located him on the opposite side of the river, preparing to entrain for Montreal. He has been warned not to leave the arena.

Three other men, located in the inn Sunday, said they knew nothing of McLellan, who had been staying there for two weeks before his death. A considerable amount of money which it was believed he carried has not been found.

On preliminary questioning, police were told McLellan had been drinking heavily before his death. They also learned he had fallen some time during Sunday, cutting his head. Two of these cuts were just below the hair line, on either side of the head. The third was on the right side near the temple.

McLellan, a native of St. Andrew's West, near Cornwall, is survived by a son, Grant McLellan, stationed with the R.C.A.F. in Western Canada.

SHIPPING TIE-UP AVOIDED

New York, Nov. 9 — (AP) — A tie-up of shipping along the east coast of the United States, which had been threatened for any time after midnight tonight, was avoided early today by tentative settlement of pay demands of 45,000 longshoremen.

The agreement with ship operators, subject to ratification by the employers and the members of the International Longshoremen's Association (A.F.L.), provides a basic wage increase of 10 cents an hour and other benefits.

TEN INJURED IN ILLINOIS

Kanakee, Ill., Nov. 9 — (AP)— Ten persons suffered minor injuries Monday night when the New York Central's eastbound passenger train, "The Cincinnati Night Express," collided with a freight engine near the station here. Left-Wing Dean Says Third War Will be Lengthy

Ottawa, Nov. 9 (CP)—Dr Hewlett Johnson, Dean of Canterbury, said Monday night Russia does not want war but that a third world conflict "would be the most prolonged and bloody warfare the world has ever known."

The left-wing dean was addressing an audience which officials of the sponsoring committee estimated at 1,200.

The dean argued that, in a third world war, the western Allies would have against them the Chinese Red army, 100,000,000 Partisans in eastern Europe and Soviet Russia.

Dr. Johnson said "terrible suspicion" had come over the Russians when they were surprised by the Allied use of the atom bomb against Japan. It kept them from letting foreigners travel freely in Russia.

O.E.S. Chapter Duly Installs Year's Officers

Bancroft — On Friday evening, Bancroft Chapter O. E. S. No. 157, held its installation of officers at a regular meeting of the Chapter. The room was newly decorated for the occasion which added much to the impressive ceremony. The Installing Board was as follows: Sister Edna Broad, P. D. D., of Belleville, as installing Matron, assisted in the East by the following: Sisters Kathleen McFarlane, P. D. D., of Napanee; Violet Fuller P. M.; Lillian Rupert P. M.; Ethel Blatherwick P. M.; Bros. W. G. Broad P. P., Archie Eddy P. P., Reginald Wiggins P. P., all of Bancroft Chapter, No. 157. Sister Hilda Ellerbeck P. M., of Bancroft Chapter, as Installing Marshal. Sister Nellie Davy P. M. Chaplain; Sister Abagail Brown as Warder; Bro. Reginald Blatherwick as Organist, and Sister Georgina Mullett, as Soloist. The Installing Board were escorted into the Chapter room by the choir and sang, "As with Gladness Men of Old". Following this the following list of officers for the ensuing year were installed:

Worth Matron, Mrs. Enid Eddy; Worthy Patron, Mr. Roy Foster; Assoc. Matron, Mrs. Lila Severin; Assoc. Patron, Mr. Hugh Vance; Secretary, Mrs. Margaret Follis; Treasurer, Mrs. Francis Vance; Conductress, Mrs. Bella Wiggins; Assoc. Conductress, Mrs. Irene Hopper; Chaplain, Mrs. Ethel Blatherwick; Marshal, Mrs. Gertrude Vader; Organist, Mr. Reginald Blatherwick; Ada, Mrs. Elsie Foster; Ruth, Mrs. Susan Hillis; Esther, Mrs. Florence McKenzie; Martha, Mrs. Helen Marston; Electa, Mrs. Lillis Reid; Warder, Mrs. Beatrice Palmateer; Sentinel, Mr. Bert Ellerbeck.

The Worthy Matron was installed by her husband who also presented her with an arm bouquet of roses. During her installation the soloist sang "My Task" After the installation of the Star Points, which was carried out by Sister Kathleen McFarlane, P. D. D., of Napanee, a very pretty star ceremony followed.

Visitors present for the occasion represented Chapters from Napanee, Belleville, Madoc, and Stoney Creek, Ontario. The I. P. M. Sister Margaret Follis, and I. P. P. Brother Jack Follis, were escorted to the East, and presented with the jewel of their office by Sister Violet Fuller P. M. and Brother Reginald Wiggins P. P., of Bancroft Chapter.

The evening was brought to a close by the refreshment committee serving a very delicious buffet luncheon. This evening will long be remembered by the members, and adds another link in the chain of memories.

Poor Diet Cause Of Tooth Decay

Edmonton (CP)—Civilization may be good for some people, but for Canada's Eskimos it spells only trouble—dental variety.

Dr. R. J. Tickle, Australian dentist who has spent his summers since 1940 travelling in the Canadian Arctic, says Eskimos are living on a restricted diet which plays hob with their teeth because many of the natural game animals are protected.

Instead of fatty foods and meat they are eating more and more proteins and carbohydrates with a high sugar content. Such a diet causes a "complete breakdown" of the Eskimos' teeth in a very short time.

Since 1940, Dr. Tickle, a faculty member of the University of Toronto, has travelled from Aklavik to Hudson's Bay filling cavities and doing extractions for the Eskimo population.

This summer he spent at the Anglican mission in Aklavik "catching up with the year's decays." There is no resident dentist at the far northern town so he has his work cut out for him to attend as many of the natives in the Mackenzie-Bay region as possible.

"Inherently the Eskimo have excellent teeth, not subject to decay.

However, marked deterioration of their teeth is now evident."

He said the Dominion government is becoming more health conscious about its wards, the Eskimos, and is considering adding dental care to the large-scale medical services.

But Dr. Tickle thinks this is only half the solution. A balanced diet must go hand in hand with frequent dental care for healthy teeth.

Women's Activities

ST. PAUL'S W.A.

Stirling—The regular monthly meeting of St. Paul's United Church Women's Association was held at the home of Mrs. C. I. Hatton, on Tuesday afternoon, with a large attendance. Mrs. Walter Elliott, president, conducted the opening exercises, and the business.

The October visiting committee, Mrs. Claude Tucker, and Mrs. George White, reported thirty-three calls. Mrs. R. Christie and Mrs. J. Irish, will act as the visiting committee for November.

Mrs. C. Pitman, convener of the Friendly Workers group, gave a complete report of their month's work and gave another donation of fifteen dollars to the W.A.

Mrs. A. Armstrong, group leader for the Blue Cross plan for hospital care, stated that the group had been accepted protection to become effective the first of December. Only members who have been active for six months can apply.

Plans were completed for the bazaar, and afternoon tea to be held, Tuesday afternoon, Nov 23rd, in the community hall. The committee appointed to investigate the building of the new kitchen is as follows: Mrs. W. Elliott, Mrs. Nora Wescott, Mrs R. A. Patterson, Mrs. Maurice Bell, and Mrs. Harold West.

Mrs. R. W. Barber had charge of the program. Miss Mildred White read the Scripture lesson followed with prayer by Mrs. G W. Jones. Mrs. R. W. Barker gave an interesting paper on "Cancelled Prayer."

The guest speaker of the afternoon was Rev. H. C. Vaclavik who addressed his listeners to show appreciation for the contribution new Canadians are making to Canadian art.

Mrs. W. Elliott on behalf of all the ladies present graciously thanked Rev. H. C. Vaclavik for his timely address and showing of the beautiful exhibits.

The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction. Dainty refreshments were served by the committee. Mrs. Oliver Stapley voiced sincere thanks to the hostess, Mrs. C. I. Hatton to the guest speaker, Rev. H. C. Vaclavik, and all who made the meeting a success.

W. M. S.

Eldorado—The November meeting of the Eldorado and Union W. M. S. was held at the home of Mrs. Cecil Blackburn, with ten members present. The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. Cecil Blackburn. Hymn 314 was sung followed by the Lord's Prayer. Roll Call was answered by a verse on peace. Secretary and treasurer reports were given. Mrs. Albert Empey then offered prayer for our missionary. A reading was given by Mrs. Empey on "What do we seek first." Correspondence was then dealt with.

Mrs. Cecil Blackburn took charge of the worship service, taken from the Missionary Monthly. The theme was: "Thy Kingdom Come." Quiet music was given by Mrs. Empey. Hymn 76 was sung. Offering was then taken and Mrs. Cecil Blackburn dedicated same. Mrs. Clifford Chambers then gave the study book based on "the life of Helen Penn" which was much enjoyed.

As this was the annual meeting Rev. A. Poulter of Madoc, took charge of the election of officers with following results:

President, Mrs. Cecil Blackburn.

1st Vice Pres., Mrs. Clifford Chambers.

2nd Vice Pres., Mrs. K. Bateman.

KEEN AGE CLUB

The Keen Age Club of Tabernacle United Church, held their meeting at the home of Mrs. P. Huddleston, the attendance being exceptionally good.

The business part of the meeting opened with Mrs. D. McLean introducing the guest speaker, Rev. F. Harback, minister of Tabernacle United Church, he spoke on Reformation of the Church and Mrs. J. Hall passed a vote of thanks on behalf of the Keen Age Club.

Mrs. Thompson read the minutes for approval and Mrs. Kellher presented the treasurer's report; Mrs. J. Hall welcomed the new members.

The members discussed the Keen Age Club anniversary and decided to have a pot luck supper and Christmas party also assist in making costumes for the Sunday School Christmas concert.

Mrs. Firth, sewing convener, distributed material and wool to make children's wearing apparel, to be sold at a later date.

Refreshments were served by the hostess, members of the Club assisting.

PLAINFIELD W.M.S.

The October meeting of the Plainfield W.M.S., was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Rollins, with an attendance of 26 members.

The meeting opened with Mrs. Bernice Moore as leader, all singing softly 'Sweet Hour of Prayer'. Mrs. Ed. Emerson in charge of the devotional led in prayer. She then read an item "The Word of Truth".

Mrs. Sherman Parks read the 1st Scripture lesson, a hymn was sung and three more passages of Scripture were read by Mrs. Fred Hall, and Mrs. Fred Prindle respectively.

Mrs. Emerson told the story of the "Legend of the Black Madonna", which each one enjoyed. Two verses of "In Christ There is no East or West" was sung.

Offering was received and dedicated. Minutes were read and adopted. Roll Call was well answered by a Bible verse containing the word "Truth". Treasurer reported $100 had been sent to the Presbyterial treasurer. Proceeds from the rally were $105.92 clear, from expenses.

Mrs. Ralph Sills, vice president, as guest speaker, gave some highlights from "The School For Leaders". This was given in a very capable manner and thoroughly enjoyed.

Mrs. Clayton Hall had charge of the Study Book on "China". She was assisted by a number of the members reading papers she had prepared. She also conducted a quiz at the end of the reading.

Mrs. Fred Prindle, Mrs. Clarence Marshall, and Mrs. Fred Hall, were appointed as a committee to make out the slate of officers for the November meeting. Three quilts were handed out on the different roads to be quilted.

A solo was rendered by Mrs. Moore and the benediction pronounced by Mrs. Harry Harrison.

Refreshments were served by the hostess and her helpers and a social half-hour spent.

TABERNACLE W. A.

The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Association of Tabernacle Church was held in the church parlor on Thursday afternoon, Mrs. Nelson presiding. Mrs. Adamson taking charge of devotional. The subject being "Prayer". Mesdames Brickman, Townsend, Baird and Robinson read from the Book of St. Matthew, some of the Prayers of Jesus. Mrs. Adamson explained each passage read.

Mrs. Harback introduced the guest speaker, Mrs. Wagar, who gave an outline of the "Blue Cross" group insurance.

The president thanked the speaker for the interesting talk. Reports were given, also discussion on the bazaar to be held in the church in December.

Lloyds of London once sold ships by candle. When a ship was being auctioned, a stump of candle was lighted, and the instant the candle went out, the highest bidder at that moment got the ship.

CATCH "ATTACKER"

Vermillion, Alta. — (CP) — Several boys set gopher traps to safeguard a hide-out on the south side of town from attackers. They caught one — a skunk.

Second spring would seem to be in the offing judging by this cherry tree on the Fisher fruit farm near Queenston. Susan Remple of St. David's, is a bit puzzled by the blossoms which burst forth on the tree for the second time this year.

Dancing of Allyn McLerie Acclaimed by N. Y. Critics

By PAT USSHER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

New York. (CP) — Canadian-born Allyn McLerie, the ingenue lead in "Where's Charley?", says "I couldn't make up my mind whether to be a dancer or an actress so I finally decided to be both."

In either capacity she's a standout.

A slender, attractive brunette, with a soft, musical laugh, Miss McLerie began her professional stage career at 14, as a ballet dancer with the San Carlo Opera Company. She played in Toronto and Hamilton, Ont., during a six-week tour.

But the young actress—she's in her early 20s—was lured by the footlights from infancy. She told about her theatrical progress in an interview, after a matinee performance of "Where's Charley?", the musical version of "Charley's Aunt".

"I love the play," she said. "I like the part because it gives me a chance to do everything, not just dancing—singing, acting and comedy. It's my favorite role to date."

And for her performance she's received bouquets from the critics.

Allyn moved with her mother from Grand'mere, Que., to Brooklyn when she was three years old. Her father, Allan Gordon McLerie, a First World War flier who subsequently became the first man to fly a winter mail route in Canada, died shortly before his daughter was born. Allyn took piano and dancing lessons but when she was 11 decided to specialize in dancing. Practising the piano was too boring.

Road to Stardom

In 1943, while still in high school, she danced in the ensemble of "One Touch of Venus" and once played Sono Osato's role. A year later she was understudy to Miss Osato in "On the Town". Eventually she took over the starring role—and married Adolph Green, a co-author of the musical.

After the show closed, fortune frowned. She was signed for another but it was never produced; she almost, but not quite, got into "Allegro" and "Park Avenue", and she appeared only briefly in "Bonanza Bound" which never reached Broadway.

A year ago she was dancing with John Butler at New York's fashionable Cotillion Room and making a success of it. But she ended that engagement because ball-room dancing wasn't what I wanted to do".

Hollywood was next—"not for any special reason; I just got tired of not working". She sang and danced with Perry Como in "Words and Music", a film awaiting release.

Hollywood brought her new Broadway spot, too. It was there she met George Abbott, producer of "Where's Charley?" in which she now is playing.

Allyn is obviously thrilled by her success as the demure Amy Spettigue. No wonder. The critics called her "delightful", "versatile", "warm and graceful" —even "a sensation".

"I guess that I'm really interested in now is acting. I've done so much dancing already," she said when asked about her future plans.

2 New Members Welcomed At Kiwanis Auxiliary

The November meeting of the Kiwanis Ladies' Auxiliary was held at the Centre with 43 members present. The President, Vi Kuntze welcomed two new members and Flossie Smith gave a detailed report of the bazaar and thanked all who had helped to make it successful. Committee chairmen gave their reports—Bessie Marsh on purchase of chairs, Gertrude Cross on Welfare Work, Gertrude Button on the Hobbycraft Sewing Class; Ella Trepanier on the rummage sale to be held later this month.

It was unanimously agreed that for her work in the Red Cross Group during the war period and later in organizing the Auxiliary, Harriet Edwards should be made an honorary past president of the Auxiliary.

The November birthday draw was won by Ethel Storey.

A draw for a child's dress was won by Leah Shapiro.

Entertainment was in charge of Irene Ogilvie and Beryl Bateman and bingo was played for the rest of the evening. Many of the members won small prizes. The special prize donated by Hazel Baragar was won by Vera McIntosh.

Refreshments were served by Carm Mott and her committee.

Refresher Course Is Successful

Lectures of a high educational standard are anticipated by graduate nurses attending the refresher course at the Ritchie Memorial Residence, Belleville General Hospital.

On Friday Nov. 5 the first of the series was held. Mrs. Lorne Donaldson, president of the Belleville Community Nursing Registry, introduced the speakers: Dr. J. B. McKay, Director of Laboratories and pathologist, Belleville General Hospital, and Miss Markle, Reg. N., nursing instructor.

Dr. McKay spoke on laboratory services, dealing with (a) Basal Metabolism and (b) the R. H. factor. Mrs. Mulligan, technician, very kindly demonstrated the use of the machine to determine the Basal Metabolic Rate.

The history of the R. H. factor was outlined by Dr. McKay stating that the two most important situations where troubles arise are in (a) pregnancy (b) administration of repeated blood transfusion.

Dr. McKay pointed out that laboratory findings are only part of a complicated picture of diagnosis; history and careful physical examination are most important and if laboratory results do not fit clinical examination they should be repeated or disregarded.

Miss Markle in a very capable way, spoke on the administration of medicines, with special emphasis on the giving of penicillin, and streptomyoin. She stated that the sole responsibility for administration usually rests on the nurse; so it was important that nurses know the correct dosage, time of administration and results obtained.

Misses V. Armstrong and H. McGreary moved a vote of thanks to the speakers of the evening.

The refresher course sponsored by the Community Nursing Registry, is continuing weekly for November, and is open to all graduate nurses, active or non active in Belleville and district.

Mr. Lennox, pharmacist at Belleville General Hospital and A. B. Collins, K.C., will be lecturing next.

Kingston Road W. A. Holds Tea And Bazaar

The ladies of Kingston Road W.A. held a bazaar and tea at the church, with the president, Mrs. Walkom, in charge.

The tables were very lovely decorated in white and trimmed with orange. The home-cooking table was well supplied with many dainties as, home-made candy, pies, tarts, cakes, cookies, buns and canned food. This table was served by Mrs. Ryan and Mrs. K. Reid.

Many aprons and other useful household articles in sewing, knitting, and crocheting, were well taken care of by Mrs. C. MacDonald and Mrs. E. Gazley. Flowers and a grab box were looked after by Miss T. Shaw.

A lace cloth covered the centre tea table and around this table were smaller one. Tea was poured by Mrs. T. Logan and Mrs. W. LaRue. The guests were served by Mrs. F. Parrott, Mrs. Grass, Mrs. M. Reid and Mrs. M. LaRue. Ladies refilling the tea plates were Mrs. Conboy and Mrs. Holloway.

Mrs. Garbutt was in charge of the making of tea.

The ladies of the organization report that the results of their venture have been very gratifying and they all appreciate the patronage of their guests.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Teen-agers Can Reallly Be in Love Two of Them Insist

Not long ago, in this column, I answered a letter from a teen-age boy who was greatly perturbed over a misunderstanding with his girl friend.

"I love this girl more than anything else in the world," he wrote me, "and I always will."

In my reply, I told this lad, as I usually tell other teen-agers who are fully convinced they are deeply and permanently 'in love", that I think it too bad for boys and girls his age to concentrate exclusively on any one person to such an extent, and that I was sure he would believe himself equally in love with many other girls before he was ready to pick one for "always".

For these statements, I am severely, and sarcastically, taken to task by two teen-age girls who sign themselves—a bit more accurately, I think, than they intended—"Disgustingly Yours".

In a postscript, they ask me to "Excuse mistakes" in their letter. Sure, girls, I'll excuse the mistakes. I'll go even further than that and correct them for you, so that other readers won't have the trouble I did sometimes, figuring out just what words you meant to use anyway!

Here goes:

"We have just finished reading your 'column', we use that term freely if that's what it is, in which you told a 15-year-old boy that he 'could not possibly be in love'. A group of us teen-agers wholeheartedly disagree with you, but how could you possibly know about love when you are probably still a Miss! And probably 'sweet Sixty and never been kissed'.

"Remember our great-grandmothers married when they were 16, and had a family by the time they were 20. They were just as happy as 16-year-olds who you say don't know the meaning of love. Do you think our great-grandmothers were so stupid that they didn't know when they were in love? And they didn't need people like you to tell them if it was just a passing fancy! And they were all very happy.

"You have a lot of nerve implying that we have feelings of a mere infant! Ask any good doctor and he'll tell you the we are well over the half-way mark of being mature and capable of having mature feelings.

"As for yourself, we suggest that you see a good psychiatrist because we feel sorry for anyone who cannot realize that 16-year-olds have feelings as well as you 'experienced' people! We can't understand how you got a job on such a column when you can't understand the problems of people younger than yourself. We'd like to see the group of teen-agers you're getting your ideas from. We do agree with some things you say, but we put our foot down on this issue.

"We would like very much for you to correct the impression you have made on other people. We will be watching your column to see if you will admit your mistake. Seeing so many of us disagree with you!"

Sorry, girls, but somehow your letter doesn't seem to convince me that I made a mistake. On the contrary, I'm afraid it only strengthens my belief that you, as representatives of the teen-age group, have a long way to go, and a lot to learn, before you'll be anywhere near "the half-way mark of being mature". Maturity, you know, has nothing to do with the number of years you have lived, but depends entirely on what you've got out of those years and how you've developed in them.

As for those great-grandmothers, I think they married at 16 because, in their day, there was nothing else for them to do, and they weren't by any means, all happy. Some of them were fortunate enough to be so, but others stuck it out because they had no other alternative.

Think it over, girls—and grow up a little.

Fashion Flashes

BIG HIT of the season is the costume of many fabrics and more than one color. A beauty for street wear is a suit with a jacket of bright red tweed lined with the same licorice-striped gray wool jersey as is used for the sweater blouse. The skirt is of black wool, and very slim.

NOT ONLY back interest but side interest dominates many of the very latest frocks. Brown woollen is used for a very slim long-sleeved dress with a smart asymmetrical neckline. A big double cascade of brown taffeta and black crepe animates the hipline to almost the hem.

QUITE SMALL hats continue to ride the smartest heads, although here and there the big dinner hat is commencing to be seen. Nice for daytime wear is a small cloche of chamois-yellow fur felt trimmed with a big looped bow of coffee-colored satin, nice for wear with brown furs.

BEAUTIFUL ACCENTS mark some of the new evening frocks. White satin is used for a strapless frock cut on princess lines, the flaring skirt trimmed at the front and side with a softly embroidered fern design executed in white velvet with touches of black velvet and tiny jet and crystal beads.

GOOD COLLEGE CHUM is a three-piece suit. The jacket is of tiny taupe and brown checked woollen, the skirt of brown woollen, and the loose, three-quarter length topcoat is of the same check, but slightly larger and is lined in blonde muskrat.

COMING IN again is the all-over beaded dinner dress. A very slim dress with deep oval neckline and short sleeves has all-over jet bead scallops embroidered on black marquisette over a black silk slip.

If You Wash Your Own Hair Be Sure to Do a Good Job

Average hair needs two soapings and several rinsings to leave it shining lustrous

.... By HELEN FOLLETT ....

Beauty shop owners complain that the grand army of home shampooers is increasing day by day. Many women are too busy to spare the time for professional treatment, or the size of the grocery bill forces them to economize. If you are a self-head washer, perhaps it would be well for you to keep in mind the way the work is done by expert operators.

The first step is a thorough, rousing brushing. The hair is brushed from the crown in all directions, from the nape line upward and in small strands, all with a rolling motion of the brush. Firm bristles are essential. This grooming removes much of the surface dust. Then follows a five-minute scalp massage to make the flesh glow and to loosen any dead scalp scales that may be present.

Rinsed With Spray

The hair is rinsed with a spray and a strong current of fairly hot water before soap or shampoo is applied. The hair must be lifted as the water flows over the head.

When applying the shampoo agent use the cushiony ends of the fingers of both hands. The first application must be rinsed away. The second one should fluff up like egg white. If it does not there must be another rinsing and a third application. It is not easy to get hair clear. One must not be casual about this treatment.

For Permanent Wave

If you have a permanent wave, give the hair a steaming after the final rinsing. Moist air causes the silky shafts to take on more of the curl quality, forming tiny coils. Cold water should never be used; it makes the wave string out.

Use warm towels when drying the hair. Rubbing the scalp gently, placing the fingers firmly on the flesh, and moving the scalp and not the fingers, will promote circulation, help to warm the scalp and dry the hair.

If you must have a pin wave, moisten each strand as you form it into a circle.

Her Son's Teacher is Right About How to Address an Envelope

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

In adrressing envelopes I have always written the name of the city and the name of the state on the same line. That is, on the first line I write the name; on the second line, the street-address; on the third line, the city and state. And generally I abbreviate the name of the state. But my son's teacher teaches him that he should never write the name of the city and the name of the state on the same line. . . city name third line, state name fourth line. Also her pupils are not allowed to abbreviate the names of the states. This is the form she makes them follow:

Mrs. James Robinson
25 Park Street
Pleasantville
West Virginia

Is the form I use incorrect? Or should I follow her envelope-form?

Mother

Three cheers for Teacher . . . she is absolutely right, and you would be wise to adopt her excellent form for addressing envelopes. No abbreviations except, necessarily, Mrs. (or Mr.). Street spelled in full (Avenue, Road, should be too). Name of state not abbreviated. Name of city and name of state on separate lines. . . . obviously clearer and more convenent for the Post Office attendants and the mailman.

Their Son Would be Third of That Name . . . Therefore "III"

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My husband's father is living. My husband, named for his father, is John Paul Foster, Jr. I am to have a baby soon, and if it is a boy we would like to give him the same name as his father and grandfather. Then would his name be followed by "III" or "II"? And will you please explain the "why" of your answer?

Madeline B.

Your son would be John Paul Foster, III. The reason: he would be the third of that name. (1) Grandfather, John Paul Foster. (2) Father, John Paul Foster, Jr. (3) Son, John Paul Foster, III.

Adoption Not Announced in Newspaper

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My husband and I are going to adopt a baby, and we expect to have it next month. Is it customary to send to the newspaper the announcement of an adoption?

F. L.

No.

Serve Drinks From Separate Table.

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

As a housewarming party we are going to give a cocktail party, using the dining-room table for the service. Should the foods be placed toward one end of the table, and the cocktail service at the opposite end?

B. P.

It is much better form, and usually more practical, to put only the foods on the dining-room table, and to serve the drinks from a separate table, or from the dining-room sideboard. On this separate table or sideboard you should have at least two trays, one for the cocktail service ,and one for soft drinks.

Christmas . . . Not "Xmas"

Please, when you choose your Christmas cards, choose ones that say "Christmas". . .pass by the ones that use the abbreviation "Xmas". Christmas is such a beautiful word . . .and so much more beautiful to look at than the abbreviation "Xmas" . . that it should be featured.

Pedicure Routines

BEFORE
AFTER

There's a good chance that you will come out skipping and dancing.

To the average woman, foot ills—like tiresome and unpleasant relatives—must be endured. She has her regular dates for shampoo and wave set, she anoints her sacred complexion every night of her life, she keeps a watchful eye on diet so the svelte shape will not get out of form. But for her poor feet she does practically nothing except to pack them into attractive shoes.

When feet are tired, smarting and burning, professional attention will do them a world of good. Painful feet make you ache all over. No doubt they are often the cause of unexplained grouches. Take yourself now and then to a beauty shop where you can get a first class pedicure. You may go in clopping and hobbling, but there's a good chance that you will come out skipping and dancing. Besides, you will pick up valuable information concerning the care of your feet.

Your reporter will tell you about the routine. The treatment begins with a warm, antiseptic foot bath with a five minute soaking to loosen the cuticle around the nails, so it can be lifted freely with the orangewood stick. Thickened flesh around the nails can cause plenty of trouble.

After the rinsing and drying, nail polish is removed with an oily agent. The nails are filed straight across. To cut down at the sides will cause the flesh to thicken, and ingrowing nails may result. A sharp cutting instrument is never used. Keep that in mind; have a long, thin, flexible steel file for the purpose. When the scissors are used, the eaves may be rough and uneven, you'll get snags in those pretty nylons.

Friction with a buffer follows to help keep the nail surface smooth. If you haven't a buffer, use your fingers. This part of the treatment hurries up circulation, gives the nails a healthy color.

A cuticle cream is applied. The flesh is lifted gently with the orangewood stick that is sent in small circles. The stick should be wrapped in cotton. The flesh must never be forced back at the bases of the nails. A soapy scrubbing with a small brush follows. After a thorough drying, polish is applied.

Then follows the most pleasant part of the treatment, a rousing foot massage. The operator uses thumbs and fingers, works from the bases of the toes up to the ankle, then almost to the knee, pressing into the flesh with a rotary movement. Special attention is given to the back of the foot, just above the heel, where the flesh is likely to be coarse. There is a wringing manipulation from knee to ankle to relax tight leg muscles.

All this takes not more than forty minutes and the charge is reasonable.

Picton

Tomato Growers Seeking $35 Ton for First Grade

Picton, Nov. 9 — Prince Edward County Canning Crop Growers' Association went on record at their annual meeting as favoring $35 a ton for first grade tomatoes next season and $25 ton for second grade. A price of $30 ton for corn was also asked. The price of peas was left in the hands of the local board until the matter of proposed grading is settled.

The largely attended meeting, with president S. C. Peck in charge, endorsed the principle of the uniform contract and the principle of selling peas on a graded basis. William Walker of the Ontario Marketing Board outlined the proposed new contract.

Taking part in the discussion, growers voiced complaints concerning the manner in which grading of tomatoes is being carried out here, but spoke in favor of the principle of grading. Discussion, pro and con, reached a climax when Ronald Hyatt of East Lake declared that so far grading of tomatoes here has been a farce. "Up to the present, no real grading has been done. Number twos have been graded as number ones. This has been done instead of canners raising prices for the top grades. It has been a short season and in order to get tomatoes, canners have had the tomatoes graded higher than they should have been. The principle of grading is correct but there is going to be a general rebellion when real grading goes into effect as it will when there is a bumper crop."

"The present method of grading must be cleaned up," Mr. Walker announced. "To make a success of grading peas it will be necessary to start on a different basis," he said.

Should Not Change Grades

A. N. L. Butler, who is carrying out experiments in the county and elsewhere said: "I see no reason for changing the interpretation of grades. A standard is a standard and must not vary according to the size of the crop."

Answering criticisms that canners had ordered peas cut earlier than growers sometimes wished, in order to get tender and higher - grading peas, Mr. Butler said there are diseases that make it wise to harvest early. He told of two which were widely prevalent here and elsewhere this year. He urged growers to take up production problems with their agricultural representative. He said plant growers' schools had been a success, and a canners' fieldman school is to be held in Hamilton.

West Ontario Problem

President Peck related difficulties experienced in Western Ontario this year due to over-contracting by factories. Thousands of bushels were brought to Prince Edward and other factories for canning as a result. He reviewed the efforts of the Marketing Board.

Complaints by Growers

Secretary Reynolds told how this year's prices had been negotiated. He told of complaints by growers of peas who declared canners had ordered them cut when they were just ripening. There is nothing in the board orders to stop this, he said.

"If canners demand peas that way we should have grading. If they want choice tender peas, they should pay accordingly," declared Mr. Reynolds.

"Canners should have sufficient equipment to handle the acreage they contract. There is far too much over-contracting and peas are not being taken in as fast as they should be," he said, as he reminded of loss suffered by growers when peas are not threshed promptly after harvesting.

Why Graded Peas?

Agriculture as a whole must be prosperous if the world is to be prosperous, said W. Walker. This year especially, the Marketing Board is trying to put peas on a graded basis. Why advocate grade? It has been a seller's market, but how long will it last? Surpluses are beginning to appear here and there, and one of them is in peas. The quantity of standard and substandard grade peas is partly to blame. To keep the seller's market, quality must be maintained. The people are quality conscious, said Mr. Walker.

Didn't Pay For Quality

Most canners in Ontario did a good job on quality this year, but they didn't pay for that quality declared Mr. Walker, as he related how some growers, selling to factories where grading was done had much larger returns. Some sold on grade in Napanee brought $80 ton (contract price here was $65).

Uniform Contract

Mr. Walker read the proposed uniform tomato contract, which is not complete due to the fact that cost of production varies in different parts of the province—it is necessary to secure an average. A uniform contract should give equal treatment to all growers and provide for some equity in the deal between buyer and seller which should bring a better understanding of each others responsibilities in handling the crop. Growers have complaints regarding peas left unharvested in the fields through no fault of their own and want a better understanding of service charges and their deductions. Then there is the question of the processors over contracting tomato and pea acreage which is considered the basis of most marketing problems in causing restrictions, rejects, long waiting to unload and loss in yield per acre, which is the final pay-off to the grower.

One point stressed in the new contract is that no contracts be signed before the 9th of January. The price bargaining committee is put in a bad situation when some canners have 80 per cent of acreage contracted before any price is set, said Mr. Walker.

Other points in contract include delivery to only one processor unless there is an agreement between canner and grower buyers responsible for delivery schedule and if unable to carry out, canner to weigh and pay for them.

Would Necessitate Change

Mr. Walker spoke of the proposal that the contract contain a clause whereby a representative of the local board may look after other interests in investigating and take part in settling disputes when they arise in the field and not months afterwards. Such action would necessitate a change in the act.

Production and quality go hand in hand. Canners must build sufficient equipment to handle the acreage contracted said Mr. Walker.

Mr. Walker urged growers commend those who did good work in their behalf; regardless of politics. He quoted Hon. W. Goodfellow that farmers must work collectively and co-operate to maintain parity of prices.

S. C. Peck told of experiences with a Trenton plant where pea grading is carried out. They do not contract for more than they can handle. They will take no more growers until another grower drops out. This year $75 $88 ton was paid for graded peas by that plant. He felt selling by grade means better returns.

D. K. Spencer said if the Trenton firm had any peas left in the field they paid the same price as for the green peas.

Roy Shortt spoke of the benefits of having a field man to investigate any compaints and this principle was endorsed when seconded by D. K. Spencer.

Use of Hampers

Mr. Walker told how use of hampers instead of heavy crates are used by growers west of Toronto. He cited several benefits. Willis Sills related an experience to the contrary, but A.N.L. Butler said experience showed use of hampers resulted in better quality tomatoes after picking.

Growers' Experience

Neil Parks, East Lake, told of experiences with a grader this year, over differences in ideas as to grades. He felt there is room for improvement in the training of graders. He reported a grader had said the canner paid his wages and he would grade to please the canner (the grader is paid by the government.)

Agricultural Representative Donald Taylor thanked the County group for its support of the tomato growing competition and told of the fine results.

Prevention of Blight

A. N. L. Butler stressed the necessity of thorough spraying or dusting of tomato plants. There has been some disappointment which may be due to lack of thoroughness. Proper application is important to success. The only way to control blight is to prevent it, as to prices for 1949, he felt that decision as to whether canner or grower would pay the cost, would be a factor.

Among those contributing to the lively discussion were A.S. Horsey, Clarence Hicks, Lyle Branscombe, George Pike, Harold Foster, J. Dick, H. L. Bryant, G. Sprigings. The auditors' report was read by Oscar Parks.

Attendance at the Ontario Convention in Hamilton, Dec. 9th. and 10th., was urged by Mr. Walker. One feature will be a demonstrating of peas. Since women do a good deal of the work in harvesting of canning crops, they are to also attend.

Directors of the Prince Edward C.C. Association were named as follows:

Hugh Russell and S. C. Peck for Ameliasburg W. T. Cunningham and Robert VanDusen, Hillier D. O. Reynolds and Oscar Parks, Hallowell; Roy Shortt, Harold Barker, Sophiasburg; John Wilkinson, H. C. Hicks, North Marysburg; Keith Walker and Geo Ackerman, South Marysburg; Harold Foster, Neil Parks, Athol. First named represent growers of peas and corn second named for tomatoes.

Centenary

Centenary—Centenary Church was filled to capacity on Sunday for the celebration of their 80th anniversary. Both morning and evening services were very well attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Coleman Townsend and children, and Mr. and Mrs. Herb. Townsend of Holloway, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. H. Garrison.

Mrs. F. French, Mrs. M. Spafford and Mr. W. Kelley were visitors during the week at the home of Mrs. J. Kelley.

A number of men from the community have left for two weeks' deer hunting in the northern part of the county.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Marshall and Mrs. W. Ray, had dinner on Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. E. Ray.

Guests at the home of Mrs. L. Hall on Sunday included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Moon and Mr. and Mrs. Cyril McMullen, Miss Doreen Hall, nurse-in-training at Kingston General Hospital, was home also.

Mr. and Mrs. John Elliott of Aneroid, Sask., have left for home after spending some time with the latter's sister, Mrs. G. Shortt and family.

Mr. and Mrs. A. Christopher and family, of Frankford, also Mr. Frank Moody, attended Centenary church on Sunday morning, and were dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Elwin Hart.

A group of young men from the community including Ted Aikens, Cliff Langstaff, Burton Hubble, Bruce Holton and Orval May spent a very enjoyable weekend in Toronto, St. Catharines and Niagara Falls stopping at all points of interest. The trip was sponsored by the Junior Farmers' Association.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Hunt and children, and Mr. Rowe Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Lee of Belleville and Mr. Frank Aikens, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Aikens and Ted on Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Thrasher and children of Belleville, were guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. Thrasher.

Friends of Mrs. Fred Edmondson are sorry to hear that she is still confined to bed at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. Edmondson.

Wallbridge

Wallbridge — Sunday afternoon callers of Mr. and Mrs. F. Harris were: Mr. and Mrs. Frank Langabeer, Mrs. B. Latchford, Mrs. M. McPherson and James, of Belleville, and Mrs. Donald Jones of Trenton.

Mr. and Mrs. B. Hamann are entertaining relatives from U.S.A. this week.

Wallbridge Church was filled on Friday evening with teachers, parents and friends from the various schools in Sidney township, when 19 pupils took part in the annual public speaking contest sponsored by the South Hastings Educational Association. The pupils did exceptionally well and everyone was given a prize.

Mrs. Jas. Sine has returned home from Belleville General Hospital where she has been receiving treatment for a lame knee.

Mr. R. F. Elliott and his son, Mr. C. M. Elliott, school principal at Copper Cliff, and the other relatives, have the sincere sympathy of the community in the great loss they have sustained with the passing of Mrs. Elliott early Sunday evening. Mrs. Elliott has been in fairly good health when she took a poor spell Saturday forenoon from which she never recovered. She was an active member of the W.M.S. having served as president for two years and also in other capacities. She was a most faithful teacher in the Sunday School and in her life she stood ever for what was right and for the good of the community.

Truman Sheds Cares of State, Takes Vacation

Key West, Fla., Nov. 8 (AP)—Harry S. Truman shed the cares of state today to frolic in the Florida sunshine.

The President of the United States started a vacation at this naval submarine base in the company of a small group of White House friends.

Many decisions involving changes in his administration may be made before Truman returns to Washington two weeks from now. But for the present, he is in no hurry to act.

It is known that he is looking around for a new secretary of defence to replace James V Forrestal when the latter steps out, and, so the official story goes, he will not press Robert A. Lovett to stay on as undersecretary of state.

Intimates of the President are speculating whether he will name Gov. C. Wallgren of Washington State to an important post.

There likely will be lengthy discussions before the vacation is over on the state of the union message Truman will send Congress in January. Without question it will embrace a new demand for civil rights measures which stirred controversies within the party in the south, but failed to rob Truman either of re-nomination or re-election.

This also will embrace:

A new plea for the Taft-Ellender-Wagner housing bill as originally proposed; a minimum wage of at least 75 cents an hour; repeal of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act; authority for rationing and price controls; federal aid to education; a national health program including compulsory prepayment of medical costs.

Marmora

Church Parade Canadian Legion Well Attended

Marmora. —The annual church parade of the Marmora Branch No. 237 Canadian Legion and its Ladies' Auxiliary took place on Sunday evening with the special Remembrance Day service at St. Paul's Anglican Church, being well attended.

Rural Dean J. M. Brownlie, chaplain of the Branch officiated and delivered an appropriate discourse on the text "These are they which came out of great tribulation". The rector also joined the organist, Mrs. L. R. Rundle, in rendition of the duet "In Flanders' Fields". The two minutes silence was observed and the Last Post and Reveille was sounded by Robert Sanderson.

Business Spotlight

(By The Canadian Press)

Are Canada's vast forest resources nearly finished? A difficult question to answer — and one of vital importance to every Canadian when it's remembered that the gross annual value of forest products runs about $720,000,000 and forest wages alone exceed $440,000,000 yearly. In 1947, for instance, forest exports were worth almost 30 per cent more than agricultural exports.

Gordon Godwin, vice-president of the Canadian Forestry Association, believes the lumbering industry is in grave danger. He said recently that our supply of accessible softwood forests will last only about 53 years — and no one knows how much re-forestation will be completed in that period.

Happier Picture

Officials of the Newsprint Association of Canada paint a less gloomy picture. They contend that the lumbering picture is changing from the old, thoughtless "tree mining" operations that left thousands of square miles denuded of all life. More responsible pulp and paper and lumbering companies now are planning for the future and many rich stands are being replanted virtually as soon as the mature trees are cut down.

Still Spotty

But the officials admit that no over-all program of conservation is being carried out and that some companies still strip the land for the sake of immediate profits. Added to these man-made hazards, fires, insects and disease destroy more than one-quarter of the living trees depleted every year.

But even here, the picture isn't too gloomy. It has been estimated that an average annual growth of 12 cubic feet per acre of forest land is all that is needed to replace annual consumption. The Dominion Forest Service reports that "over considerable tracts annual growth exceeds 25, 30 or even 40 cubic feet per acre."

Future Worries

Nevertheless our lumber men are worried. In order to clarify and point out the dangers, the Newsprint Association soon will publish a short, comprehensive volume giving the whole picture. If Canadians become fully aware of the dangers to one of our most vital industries, the Association believes, our forests will be safe for the future.

Doctor on Call At Royal Palace From Now On

London, Nov. 9 — (Reuters) — Sir William Gilliat, Princess Elizabeth's gynaecologist, who will deliver her baby in her own room on the second floor of Buckingham Palace, said today that from now on he is on call for the Palace.

But he refused to say whether next Saturday, Sunday or Monday is the expected date of the Royal birth — as reported by London papers — or whether the pain-killing drug trilene will be used as an anaesthetic.

"It would be unethical to disclose secrets between myself and any patient, therefore I can not tell the press any details of the royal birth," Sir William said.

Meanwhile Britain is planning celebrations which may rival those of the victory days.

The mayor of one London district is giving one guinea ($4.20) in a post office savings book to every child born in his district on the same day as Princess Elizabeth's baby.

A business man in another district is presenting every baby born in his district with a National Savings certificate.

Whether boy or girl, the baby will be the next heir to the throne after Princess Elizabeth herself.

If it is a boy, it can not become Prince of Wales until after she succeeds to the throne, as this title is reserved for the heir apparent.

If it's a girl, she will be displaced if a boy is born later.

Princess Margaret, 18-year-old younger daughter of the King and Queen, will become third in line of the throne.

Milk Control Act Needs Amending Says CCF Member

Toronto, Nov. 9 — (CP) — Ted Isley, C.C.F. member of the Ontario legislature for Waterloo South, said Monday night that the Milk Board Control Act passed during the last legislature session "is disrupting" orderly marketing of milk.

The C.C.F. opposition will demand at the next session that the act be amended to meet farmers' needs, he said in a speech prepared for delivery over the Ontario network of the CBC.

Mr. Isley, a milk producer, said that under former legislation, milk producers' negotiations with dairies were undertaken on a province-wide basis through the farmers' provincial organization.

"This new . . . act has changed all that," he said. "There is a trick clause in it which enables the dairies in any town or city to insist on bargaining only with the producers who actually sell milk to them — not with the provincial organization — they play one group against another and force poorer conditions on all of us."

The result was that producer groups were able to reach a new agreement with the dairies after weeks of negotiations. The problem was aggravated by the fact that farmers were finding it harder to dispose of their milk due to high prices.

Mr. Isley said that farmers, despite rocketing production costs, were only getting about 10½ cents a quart for milk that costs consumers 18.

He claimed that since last April no regulations under the new Milk Control Act have any legal force because when the former act was repealed all regulations then in force died with it. No new regulations had been passed.

Jamestown, N.Y., AP)— Patrolman James O'Brien saw the theft of a quart of milk from a neighbor's home, but made no arrest.

He watched the culprit carry the bottle to a nearby lot, remove the cap and lap away.

O'Brien figured there wasn't much sense in arresting a police dog.

San Francisco (AP)— A bookstore offered a $2.50 book free to the public today. The book — "How to Predict Elections."

Olean, N.Y. (AP)— Fellow policemen have been getting patrolman John Panado's goat.

It was clapped into jail when caught after two recent escapes from Panado's home.

Port Colborne, Nov. 8 (CP) — The William C. Warren was pulled off the rocks east of the channel in the outer Port Colborne harbor about 8:30 a.m. by the Mohawk Deer of Mohawk Navigation Company.

A launch owned by Marr Brothers carried a cable to the Upper Lakes and St. Lawrence freighter and the Mohawk Deer, in charge of Captain Harry Finn, had little difficulty pulling the Warren off the rocks.

She is being moored at the Maple Leaf Milling Company dock for examination. It is not believed there was any serious damage to the Warren.

Mrs. Anderson, a war bride, left England in 1943 to live in Detroit. Margaret was born in Mt. Clemens, Mich.

HANDS AT WORK...

LEARNING AERO ENGINE AND AIRFRAME MECHANICS

ONTARIO'S products are desired and purchased by people all over the world and the capacity to produce such goods largely determines the economic welfare of every man, woman and child within her borders. Because the sale of every article produced in Ontario brings valuable dollars into this Province, we all are more assured of job security . . . and we and our children can have more of the better things in life. To produce such goods in sufficient quantities, skilled labour is vital. That is why every single one of us should be glad that war veterans are constantly being trained to provide the skilled hands so needed by industry. Veterans receive ON THE JOB training under expert instructors in our Ontario factories.

This training, provided through the co-operation of the Department of Veterans' Affairs, the Federal Department of Labour and the Ontario Department of Education, starts veterans off on the road to skilled craftsmanship. Taught to use their hands in general aero engine and airframe work, both on military and civilian aircraft, these veterans may qualify for a Department of Transport license, authorizing them to declare aircraft airworthy. In aircraft manufacturing plants and on flying fields throughout Ontario, these newly-skilled veterans will have the opportunity to apply their talents and training. Their efforts will help to make Ontario a finer place in which to live and will contribute to the welfare and happiness of all her citizens.

AERO ENGINE MECHANICS

H. Parry, 25, of Oshawa, Ontario, a Canadian Army veteran, is shown making an adjustment to the engine of a Cub Trainer. Students work on various types of aircraft ranging from the Cub Trainer to multiple engine military aircraft. Many veterans, trained as ground crew specialists during the war, have chosen to take post-war training in this occupation for which they are particularly suited. For them the transition to peace-time employment has been easier.

Pro Hockey Fast Becoming Young Man's Game; Only 19 In N.H.L. Over 30 Years of Age

Montreal, Nov. 9 — (CP)—Pro hockey today is a young man's game and just to make it official, statistics released by the National Hockey League show the average age of N. H. L. players this year is 25.4 years.

Only 19 of the 101 players in the league have reached the 30-year mark.

Toronto Maple Leafs have the youngest team this year but they also have the oldest player in 34-year-old Turk Broda. Silver-thatched Neil Colville of the New York Rangers is three months younger than Broda.

The Leafs also have the youngest player in the league in right-winger Fleming Mackell who is 19. Montreal's Eddie Dorohoy is the second youngest by three weeks.

Detroit has the second youngest club this year with an average age of 24.9. Two players on the Red Wing squad have just seen 30. They are Jack Stewart and veteran Sid Abel. Gordie Howe, young Detroit point-maker is the youngest on the team at 20.

Montreal has a player average of 25.4 years. They have five players on their roster 30 or over. Murph Chamberlain and Bill Durnan are both 33 and Joe Carveth, Billy Reay and Elmer Lach all have reached the 30 mark.

Boston Bruins ice the fourth youngest crew with the average player being 25.9. The five in the 30-or-over bracket are Jack Crawford, 33; Frank Brimsek, 33; Woody Dumart, 31; and Milt Schmidt and Pat Egan, 30. Ed Sandford and Paul Ronty are the Bruin Cubs at 20.

Chicago and New York fight it out for the oldest-team with the Black Hawks winning the dubious honor. The Rangers average 26.1 years and the Chicago squad are a fraction off with 26.2. Roy Conacher, 32, Doug Bentley, 32, and Red Hamill, 31, are the Hawk elders while Neil Colville, Bill Moe, 32, and Buddy O'Connor, 32 are the Ranger vets.

In 1617, Canada's first farmer, Louis Hebert, used a scythe to reap his harvest. Working by hand, he could barely provide enough grain to supply his own family.

The pioneer farmer and his sons, with their one horse, worked long and hard to grow enough food for their own use.

In 1852, farmer Daniel Massey made the first mower in Canada. Later Alanson Harris designed the reaper. Their combined efforts in 1891 helped develop the wheatland of the West.

The introduction, in 1910, of the combine, made it possible to reap and thresh 25 acres a day. Now, one man with modern equipment can cut and thresh 50 acres a day.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor

The opening games of the Belleville District Hockey League scheduled for tonight at Memorial Arena were postponed late yesterday after lengthy discussion between arena officials, the Arena Commission representatives and others. Ice conditions, it was felt, would not permit the games to be played. The regular scheduled games for Thursday will now constitute the "openers" and the ceremonies slated for tonight's curtain raisers will go on as planned.

The games originally scheduled for tonight will be played at some time during the schedule, League executives announced. It is unfortunate that the set back occurred as the league schedule is somewhat cramped for time as it is. But that's that and it cannot be helped.

Northern Electrics got in an hours practice yesterday morning as did the RCAF Coaches squad—but Manager Walter Gerow in consultation with an official of the company from which the plastic floor was purchased are of the opinion that more ice should be made before the teams go into loop action—and thereby hangs the tale of postponement.

Following a discussion on ways and means of deciding the winner of the "Most Valuable Player Award" a handsome $55 "Marine" overcoat donated by the Bell-Moore Company of Napanee in conjunction with the Sterling Clothing Company, Montreal, the executive of the district hockey league decided on what they think is the fairest and most impartial scheme.

In short, it's this. Three well-known sportsmen of the city who are well versed in hockey—and who are in no way or manner connected with the league or any of its teams or executive will select three players from each team each playing night. The players will be judged on a point system, 5-3-1 etc and the findings of the judges sealed in an envelope. The envelopes will not be opened until the ends of the schedule when the winner will be decided.

It was felt the point system would be the fairest way. For instance a certain player may turn in a spectacular performance two or three nights and win a five-point award. Meanwhile Joe Deakes has been plugging away consistently getting the odd goal and assist and in more ways than one being a very useful man. Judges will act independently and will not know who their counterparts select.

Promoter Murray Swartz will debut his Armouries Boxing Show Friday night under the sponsorship of the local branch of the Canadian Legion with what appears to be a standout card. For the first time in many a moon, heavyweights will crash into action and the big boys should be a decided asset to an otherwise colorful card. Swartz has secured Irish Keith McCoy (180) of Trenton who will meet Rocky Dean (183) in the heavyweight class—and these mittmen should provide one of the highlights of the card.

Headlining the first Armouries production will be the clever Fred Harding, Oshawa, who tips the scales at 118 pounds and who is regarded in many boxing circles as the leading bantamweight of the country. Harding will match blows with featherweight Tommy Corrick of Toronto, who is under the management of the well-known "Deacon" Allen.

Harding, incidentally, was the runner-up in the recent Dominion championships and has piled up an enviable record in pugilistic circles. He recently fought Bud Henry here and created a hghly favorable impression on the fans with his slashing dashing style of attack. It should be one of the best bouts ever seen here.

Henry, likewise, is on the card and will clash on Friday night with Wally Hiltz of the Classics Athletic Club, Toronto. Hiltz is regarded as aheavy puncher with a fast cagy style of offense that has carried him to the decision in many a hard-fought bout. All-in-all the card is another of those stellar attractions which is bringing Matchmaker Swartz much favorable comment from fistic circles in this city and district.

The Belleville Baseball League will tie on the nose-bag at the St. James Hotel next Monday night when the executive and the boys get together for the first annual bun-feed. Reports will likely be aired and a few business items dispensed with. Should be quite a show.

The Brunswick Balke Collender Company has designed two appropriate mementos for those rarities in five-pin bowling, the perfect game keglers. The mementos come in the shape of a gold lapel pin or a chain medal. The pins will be awarded to those bowlers who achieved the near-impossible in sanctioned league or tournament play. The mementos will be awarded by the company, free gratis. Joe Legault, veteran bowler of this city, bowled a perfect score on a Peterborough Alley in tournament play last spring. Jack Young of Stewart Warner also bowled a perfect game at the Bowl-O-Drome last spring in a league game.

Cliff Argue, veteran lawn bowler and lawn bowling official ofthis city was named vice-president of the Provincial Lawn Bowling Association at its annual meeting on Saturday. The honor to Argue is well-merited as it is extremely doubtful if anyone, in this section of the country at least, has done more for the game and its promotion than he. He has put in many arduous hours in organization and promotion work and it is mainly through his efforts that the lawn bowling sport is enjoying its present high popularity in this city and distrct. The P.L.B.A. has a decided personal asset in its new vice president, and this column in conjunction wits lawn bowlers of the city and district offers its congratulations.

Alouettes Will Be Minus Two Men for Playoffs

Montreal, Nov. 9 — (CP)—Although two of their stars may be sidelined for the opener of the Big Four finals here Thursday, Montreal Alouettes feel they are no worse than an even - money bet to jolt Ottawa Rough Riders.

The football fever hit this metropolis after Alouettes clinched a playoff spot by beating Hamilton Wildcats on the weekend and early ticket sales point to a crowd of 20,000 fans or more for the first game of the home-and-home, total-point series.

Steve Chamko, one of the granite blocks in the Als' forward wall, was injured Saturday in Hamilton. He spent the weekend in hospital there and was brought to Montreal Monday. It is feared he suffered a kidney injury.

Halfback Bob Cunningham is down again with a recurring shoulder ailment which kept him out of the first four games of the season.

"I believe the club, man-for-man has reached just the right pitch where they'll win against any odds," said Coach Lew Hayman. The Ottawa club is at full strength and that will give them a superiority complex. We beat them twice before and our club has its mind made up that it can and will do it again."

The Alouettes line, which has had its off and on moments, looked good Saturday against the Wildcats and is reported to be in top fettle for the opener. Hayman has an able substitute for Chamko in Ollie Segatore who played a whale of a gem last weekend.

The backfield, with the exception of Cunningham is in top - notch condition.

270 Bonus-Tag Players in Draft At Cincinnati

(By The Canadian Press)

The Major League draft meeting at Cincinnati Nov. 10 shapes up as a headache for bonus-minded baseball club owners

Of the record total of 5,370 eligibles in the annual draft, 270 are bonus-tag players. These are the athletes who received figures exceeding $6,000 to sign, but were recalled from the minors by the big league clubs at the close of the season.

Among the most publicized—and highest paid—bonus players falling into this category are Hugh Radcliffe and George Zoeterman. Radcliffe, property of the Philadelphia Phillies is listed on the Toronto roster. Zoeterman, Chicago Cub chattel, is on the Seattle list.

A light aircraft carrying six members of the Czech International Hockey team from Paris to London was several hours overdue at London's Croydon airport Monday night. The plane was bringing the Czechs to London to appear in a hockey game between Britain and Czechoslovakia. Eight other members of the Czech team already in Britain took the ice against Britain but the non-arrival of their colleagues left them short of substitutes.

From Sydney, N.S., comes word that Larry Travis, Sydney Millionaires defenceman, has been ordered to report to Springfield Indians of the American Hockey League He is expected to leave Sydney Wednesday. The 21-year-old Winnipegger talked with Springfield owner Eddie Shore by long-distance telephone Monday night but Shore refused to give him permission to remain with Cape Breton Senior League Millionaires.

Carl Liscombe of the front-running Providence Reds continues to hold his top place in the American Hockey League scoring race with 25 points, it was announced at New York Monday night. One point behind the Perth, Ont., righthander, who won the A.H.L. scoring title last season, is Murdo Mackay of Buffalo Bisons who last week ousted Sid Smith of Pittsburgh Hornets for second place. Smith now is in third place with 20 points, tied with George (Wingy) Johnston of New Haven Ramblers. Tied for goal leadership with 11 are Liscombe, Paul Gladu of St. Louis Flyers and veteran Pete Leswick of Cleveland Barons.

Ray Powell and Bert Olmstead of Kansas City Pla-Mors, each with 20 points, topped the United States Hockey League scoring list in games through Sunday, officials announced today at Minneapolis. Powell has 10 goals to his credit with an equal number of assists while Olmstead led the assist department with 12. Hank Blade, also of Kansas City, tied with Powell on goals but his five assists dropped him into 4th position.

After giving an impressive demonstration of his famed two-fisted punching power, heavyweight champion Joe Louis Monday night at Boston came out of an exhibition bout with Johnny Shkor of Baltimore with a slightly scraped upper left eyelid. That minor injury, resulted from an accidental head bumping just before the end of the four-round no-decision engagement.

The Canadian racing season wound up Monday with the closing of Toronto's Dufferin Park's Ascot meet. Polly Last, two-year old filly owned by Doug Ness, won her fourth straight start at Dufferin, by taking the featured fifth race from Addison Stable's Blue Regent.

Nearly 50 hockey hopefuls reported Monday as coach Ace Bailey called the first practice for his University of Toronto Blues, intercollegiate hockey champions for the last two seasons. Bailey has nine members of last year's title team returning this season.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By ALAN RANDAL
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Montreal, Nov. 9 (CP)—D. A. L. (Dunc) MacDonald has seen a good many sports events and sports writers come and go, what with his scrivening for the Montreal Gazette and getting around England for some years in the interest of dog racing and viewing all the sports he could there. Now he has doped out what he calls "The credo of a sports writer, with apologies to practically no one."

Here, says Dunc, are the beliefs of a sports writer:

That journalism is a stepping stone to public life.

That a sports writer must wear a hat with a turn-down brim.

Or, failing that, must wear his hat perched on the back of his head.

That he must watch all sports events with a steely glint in his eye and a grim mouth.

That he must never cheer in the press box.

That he must talk out of the side of his mouth.

That the greatest movie he ever saw was "Front Page."

That he is certain he recognized himself as one of the characters.

That some day he will write like "Damon Runyon.

That newspaper men can't get arrested.

That there is no news; it all happened many times before.

That all managing editors are an unprintable name.

That the cardinal sin is to refuse a drink at any time.

That all newspaper men type with two fingers.

That sports writing is the greatest game in the world.

That all sports writers are grossly underpaid.

That if a fellow were smart he could get out of it and go into the advertising business.

That the adjective is the most useful of all the parts of speech.

That he can never use too many adjectives in a lead.

That it is all right to pinch a couple of paragraphs out of some one's column in an out-of-town paper.

That if he is desperate, it is all right to pinch the whole story.

That he was going to write that very yarn anyway.

That some day he will buy a weekly paper and get away from it all.

Heavyweights will make their debut in local boxing shows at the fine card being presented in the Bridge Street Armouries here on Friday night. Bud Henry, pictured above will meet Wally Hiltz, Oshawa in one of the bouts while heavyweights Irish Keith McCoy, Trenton and Rocky Dean Oshawa will cross gloves. The main bout sees starry Fre Harding, outstanding Canadi bantamweight tangle with Tomm Corrick, another clever boxer from Toronto.

Military Jumping May be Out In Next Year's Show

New York, Nov. 9 (AP)—The National Horse Show, which winds up its eight-day run in Madison Square Garden tonight, will be back again next year but there is an even chance that military jumping will not be included on the program in the future.

The theory that the horse no longer has a place in the modern military machine has extended to this fashionable extravaganza and threatened to deny it one of its most colorful spectacles.

As the 60th annual show entered its final day, President Alfred G. Tuckerman disclosed that:

1. Attendance has fallen off this year, apparently because of the absence of the United States army team, disbanded shortly after the 1948 Olympics.

2. Unless the United States army returns its team to competition international military jumping—as such—may be left off the 1949 program altogether.

3. As a substitute, a plan is being considered whereby the international jumping events will be opened to combination teams of civilian and military riders similar to those which compete in the Olympics.

Tuckermar pointed out that if the combination plan is adopted such countries as Italy and Switzerland, where civilians and army horsemen ride on the same teams might be represented in the show.

In addition, a military team from Chile, which has not been represented in recent years, might be invited, along with those of this year's competitors from Canada, Mexico and France.

Sharing the concern of the national officials over the situation are the Pennsylvania National Show and the Toronto Royal Winter Fair.

The military jumping is a feature of all three shows, which share the expenses of the teams from foreign countries.

Without the United States army team ,the Mexicans have made a runaway of the military events here. They have won nine, the Canadians two and the French one.

Gateman Bars Freddie Mills From Entering

London, Nov. 9 (CP)— Morning newspapers today displayed prominently Cape Town dispatches saying that Freddie Mills, world lightweight champion, was barred from the Members' enclosure at South Africa's Newlands cricket ground where the touring Marylebone cricket club was playing Cape Province.

The stories say that Mills, who Sunday knocked out John Ralph, South African heavyweight, flew in from Johannesburg to visit his wartime friend, Dennis Compton, who invited him to the club dressing rooms to visit him. The accounts continue:

Despite protests of team captain George Mann and Brig. Michael Green, tour manager, club chairman Walter Mars upheld the gateman's ruling that "you can't come in."

When the team emphasized Mills was at the grounds by invitation Mars was reported as replying:

"This is a private club and such people are not required here."

Frank Roston, Daily Express says that Mars, interviewed later, said "I have no objection to professional boxers as a class but I only had to take one look at Mills and his party (Manager Ted Broadribb and trainer Don McCorkindale) to realize they were not the type we desire to mix with our members."

Reuters, however, quotes Mars as saying that Mills and Broadribb were not denied access to the pavilion but were only prevented from reaching the dressing room through the members' bar, admission to which is reserved.

N.H.L. Highlights

Splitting two games during the past week, Detroit Red Wings remained atop the National Hockey League with 13 points. Tied for second place with nine points are Boston Bruins and Montreal Canadiens. Toronto Maple Leafs are next with seven points and are followed by Chicago Black Hawks and New York Rangers who have four points each.

Grant "Nobby" Warwick, Boston's aggressive right winger, has taken over the scoring leadership from teammate Ed Sandford. Scoring two goals on November 3rd, Warwick upped his goal output to six, and this coupled to his six assists gives him 12 scoring points, one more than Sandford and two more than another Boston player, Pete Babando. Sandford has five goals and six assists while Babando has five of each.

Warwick is the top goal scorer with six, and is tied with Sandford, Billy Reay of Canadiens and Gordon Howe of Detroit with most number of assists at six.

Bill Durnan of Canadiens chalked up his third shutout of the season on November 6th as Canadiens whitewashed Detroit 2-0. This gives the Montreal netminder the most number of shutouts among the goalies. Harry Lumley of Detroit has two and Chuck Rayner of Rangers has one. Lumley has the best record among the League's goaltenders with a goals-against average of 1.33. In nine games he has allowed 12 goals to be scored on him. Durnan is next with an average of 1.62 goals-against in eight contracts.

Kenny Reardon of Canadiens has taken over the "bad man" role with a total of 22 minutes spent in the penitential pew. Canadiens are also the most penalized team with a total of 94 penalty minutes recorded against them.

Retired Inspector Of C.P.R. Dies

Toronto, Nov. 8 (CP)—Edmund Arthur Conway, 59, retired Inspector of the Canadian Pacific Railway's Ontario district, died Sunday. He was one of the founders of the Ontario Police Association and served for a time as its president.

Born at St. Catherine, Que., he joined the C.P.R. in Montreal as a constable. He became an investigator and later was appointed Inspector of Investigation. Prior to coming to Toronto 19 years ago, he was posted to Saint John, N.B., for 18 months. He retired in 1942.

Grid Feud Flame Fed by Blasts Of Sports Scribes

By ED ROMAINE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Vancouver, Nov. 6 (CP)— The East-West football feud, touched off by angry verbal blasts from sport scribes, today showed no signs of abating.

The feud started when Ken McConnell of the Vancouver Province and Don Carlson, sports editor of the Vancouver Sun, charged indifference in the east has resulted in the "Kiss of Death" being planted on its brethren in the west by American football.

McConnell and Carlson charged the Canadian style of play is having its death throes in Western Canada and is being rapidly replaced by the American code.

Andy Lytle, sports editor of the Toronto Star, had a sharp retort:

"It is nothing short of myopic stupidity to say because the West is turning eyes over the border for competition any portion of blame for such a situation is traceable to eastern influence."

McConnell replied:

"Lytle is the citizen suffering attacks. We have consistently supported Canadian football. The junior finals would never have been staged but for our efforts.

"But just as consistently the East has sneered at our efforts and now the West is thinking only of American football."

Lytle charged McConnell's statement harmed "the pleasant relationships which should exist between all sections of Canada particularly in sport."

"It is whining and ill-informed explosion such as these that foment ill-will. It would be different if the criticism McConnell offers, in order to alibi the western province's inability to meet the east on relatively even football terms, was based on anything but inaccuracies."

To that McConnell replied:

"A lot of the usual unpolished malarkey by Lytle.

"Strangely —or is it —he does not deny one statement I made.

"The Canadian game," said McConnell, "is dead in the west. Gone and forgotten and quite probably not missed."

Ike Williams K.O's Garcia In First Round

Philadelphia, Nov. 9 (AP)—The status of Buddy Garcia as a lightweight title contender is a moot question after the Texan's one-round kayo Monday night by champion Ike Williams.

The discussion arose as the principals and fans at Monday night's non-title bout divided into two camps.

One group insisted Garcia, the Galveston, Tex., hopeful, was knocked out by a stomach blow after the bell ending round one.

The other was equally insistant the payoff punch and the bell arrived together.

Garcia, who weighed in at 136 to Williams' 140, gave evidence of making it an interesting evening for the ringsiders in the three minutes' action of the first round.

He lived up to his pre-fight declaration that he would trade the champion blow for blow and waded in, apparently undaunted by the Trenton, N.J., champion's famed bolo blows to the body.

As the bell ended the round Williams landed a withering right bolo to Garcia's mid-section and the Texan dropped to the canvas writhing in agony. The fight was awarded to Williams when Garcia's manager, Eddie Walker, indicated his boy would be unable to come out for the second round.

The fight had been arranged as an over-the-weight 10-round contest with the object of testing Garcia as a title contender. What happens now is anybody's guess.

In another scheduled 10-rounder, Li'l Arthur King of Toronto recently crowned British Empire lightweight champion, took only 24 seconds of the second round to knock out Nat Harden, 140, of New York. King weighed 136.

After a slow first round King caught Harden with a left hook to the jaw to end the contest.

King won the title from Billy Thompson in London lastmonth. Last night's bout was his first in the United States.

FIGHTS LAST NIGHT

(By The Associated Press)

Philadelphia: Ike Williams, 140 Trenton, N.J., knocked out Buddy Garcia, 136, Galveston, Tex., (1) (non-title).

Philadelphia: Arthur King, 137, Toronto, knocked out Nat Harden, 140, New York (2).

Boston: Don Williams, 145, Worcester, Mass., stopped Roger Whynott, 149, Mahonebay, N.S. (7).

Providence, R.I.; Steve Marcello, 135 3-4, Providence, outpointed Tony Ducharme, 137 3-4, Montreal (8).

London: Henry Hall, 145, Sheffield, outpointed Ernie Roderick, 145 1-2, Liverpool (150) (Hall wins British welterweight title)

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 9 (AP)—Wanna go bowling? ... it really is too early to guess at the teams for those Jan. 1 football "Bowl" games, but the real puzzler seems to be the Orange Bowl set up ... the Miami folks didn't begin serious scouting of possible teams until last week ... prospect is that the southeastern champion will go to the Sugar Bowl and the next best to the Orange Bowl ... maybe the Camelia Bowl promoters at Lafayette, La, were calling a shot when they invited the North Carolina footballers to train there along with the Tar Heel basketball team, which plays Arizona in the Bowl feature ... some of the hopefuls who'd like to get invitations are Clemson (Scoop Latimer guarantees a good attraction at reasonable rates), and St. Thomas (Minnesota).

Henry Rang the Bell

Henry Billups, ancient Negro bell ringer at the College of William and Mary, made two predictions last week ... the first was that "Mistuh Truman is goin' to upset Mistuh Dewey.... ... Henry was so certain about the election that a wagered a container of his favorite liquid refreshment on the outcome ... successful in that, Billups wagered another bottle that William and Mary would upset North Carolina in football Saturday ... "I sure could use that drink Saturday night," he explained ... presumably he was glad to settle for a pint.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

Two heads with but similar thoughts. Two minds that merge until they are virtually one. And a knowledge of sound basics. These are what make the most effective bridge partnerships.

A player may open with one in a suit. But he is likely to end in no-trump before the bidding closes. Notice how many old-timers go down at no-trump contracts. Let me tell you why.

Their opening of one in a suit may contain what they call three honor tricks. These may be two aces and a king. Or three aces. These are only three of the 12 biggest (high) cards in a pack.

Responder in a suit shows three or more tricks. Among them he is not required to have more than two high cards. If opener has no more than three, only five high cards are in their pair.

Such an opener and his partner start out as aggressors with no more than five of the 12 highest cards. Their opponents will have the other seven. This is spotting the foe a majority of high cards.

Now, look. With opponents having most of the high cards, who says it is sound to play at no-trump? Only a fool. Or only players whose ignorance of fundamentals offers no warning of their deficiencies.

An opener of one in a suit should have no less than four high cards. This means better than his average of the 12. Only then is he sure that the opponent pair will not have more than his side.

A suit opener may claim that he does not intend to end at any no-trump contract. But he has no assurance that it will end in suit. His partner will have something to say about it.

♠A 9
♥K 7 6 2
♣J 5 3

It is sound opening of one diamond. It contains four high in case partner responds in no-trump. Or later insists on going no-trump. Have enough to back your stuff.

World of Friendly Red States Aim of Russia

Edmonton, Nov. 9 (CP) — Eric W. Morse, National secretary of the United Nations Association in Canada, said in an address Monday night it is just as unreasonable to say war is inevitable as it is to say peace is inevitable.

Speaking on Russia's foreign policy before members of the Edmonton branch of the Association, Mr. Morse said Russia is not interested in military conquest but is concerned with fostering conditions which force the people of various countries to accept communism.

The Russians feel that they can be secure only when the world is filled with "friendly" communist states but they will not follow the same pattern as Hitler. They feel there is plenty of time to control the world.

The Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Nov. 9 (AP)— So you think being a movie star is a young person's job?

Would it surprise you to learn that the average age of top male stars is 40 years?

And for the women—32 years?

Those are two of the startling facts I have uncovered in a survey of the 100 top stars in United States movies.

First of all, we must understand what a star is. Not every film personality is a star. The best way to judge is whether the person's name means anything at the box-office. Does the person attract a large audience on the strength of his or her name alone?

Strangely, there are more male stars than female. Thus it was harder for me to narrow down the men's list to 50 names. But I finally reached a count of 100 names, equally divided between the sexes, and the list contains every star who is really important in Hollywood.

The matter of ages is a big eye-opener. The male average of 40.7 and the female of 32.4 years may cause some controversy about whether the screen is giving youth sufficient opportunity. Of course, it can be argued that some of the younger players have not reach-star status, and it takes time.

Oldest male star is Wallace Beery, 59, and youngest is Mickey Rooney, a mere stripling of 28.

Marlene Dietrich, the world's most glamorous grandma, is the eldest of the ladies at 44. Film veteran Shirley Temple ranks youngest at 20.

The hundred stars have served a total of 1,341 years before the cameras. Male stars have averaged 14.4 years in the movies, the women 11 years. It should be noted that some of them worked here several years before reaching stardom. The highs and lows:

Myrna Loy and Joan Crawford, 23 years apiece; Lizabeth Scott, four; Wallace Beery, 35 years; Burt Lancaster, three.

Does a college education help one become a movie star? The record answers no.

Only 33 of the 100 stars went to college. And several never got beyond grammar school.

Alaska Highway Subject of Talk To Kinsmen

An illustration of the rugged mountainous country through which the 1,600-mile Alaska Highway snakes its way between Dawson Creek and Fairbanks was given members of the local Kinsmen Club at their regular dinner meeting Monday evening when J. C. R. Punchard, equipment engineer with Northern Electric Company was the guest speaker.

Mr. Punchard was with a survey party which in the spring of 1946 prior to Canada taking over the highway from the United States, made a survey of highway telephone facilities and also for the determination of possible sites for the establishing of radio relay stations.

The survey party traversed the entire length of the highway by motor and also flew over the route in low flying aircraft from which likely mountain peaks were located on which might be established the radio relay stations.

Experienced Fine Weather

Contrary to what might have been expected the party experienced fine weather during the stay on the highway from late March into May. The temperature each day rose to well above freezing. One feature of the Arctic was clearness of the air it being possible to see up to 100 miles wherever a line of vision for this distance was available.

Construction difficulties in building the highway were outlined by the speaker who showed a group of lantern slides depicting highway and adjacent mountain scenery. He stated the highway was still not open to public travel without a permit. This was because of the lack of stop-over and motor servicing facilities.

Navy League Heard

H. N. Becker, local representative of the Navy League of Canada, spoke briefly to the club members on the work being done by the Sea Cadets and asked for volunteers to assist in canvassing in the forthcoming Navy League campaign.

In keeping with the decision of the club to make a survey of children's eyes in the public and separate schools of the city, the executive announced the purchase of a new testing machine with which the school nurse can do the testing. The machine purchased is the American Optical Project-O-Chart which is used in conjunction with the Massachusetts Vision Test.

Club president Frank Lang presided over the meeting with Jim Ward introducing the guest speaker. Club appreciation was expressed by Don Ridley.

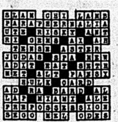
Answer to Yesterday's Puzzle



Little Benny's Note Book

was on my back on the liv-room floor wondering whether start to begin my homewerk wait till pop or ma reminded and I said, Hay pop, hay ma et you cant guess what this book it.

it be the story of your p said, and I said, G, pop did you guess? That's just t it is, a diary. Somebody t of gave it to me when I only 6 years old so I could te down everything that haped to me, because here's what ays in the frunt, "To Benny Chrissmas, 1945."

ell, what an intristing thin that lithe volume may bring hundreds of dollers at public auction he said.

Then, G, pop, how mutch is it werth now? I said, and he said Well, it may have a certain sentimental value, but let's not be mercenerry.

I think he awt to reed some of it aloud to us, ma said. It would be nice to hear some of the little things he was thinking and doing when he was just barely old enough to write. Dont you think so William? she said, and pop said Well yes, in a way, but then in another way it scarcely seems rite to pry into his private life at sutch a tender and defenceless age.

Goodness, he couldn't of had mutch to hide, I hope, ma said and pop said, Just a same, it's a delicate problem. Maybe we better leave it up to him. Benny Sure, pop, I dont mind, I said Here's the ferst page, Januerry Ferst. It says on it, "I started tc pop said. Go on, he said, and I said, That's all, that's the only thing it says in the whole diary.

Draught Beer Scarce in N. Y. As Strike Sequel

By M. L. STEPHENSON

New York, Nov. 9 — (AP) — Getting a glass of draught beer in New York City is a big project these days — about as tough as during prohibition.

You don't have to sneak up an alley, rap three times and ask for "Joe."

You walk right up to the bar, and almost apologetically state your desire. If you are lucky, you get a glass of beer on draught. Sometimes you get beer in a bottle. But likely no beer at all.

The drought started 28 days ago when some 3,000 brewery truck drivers went on strike, and it's been growing worse.

The strike started as rank-and-file protest against a new delivery time schedule, provided in a contract negotiated by officers of the Brewery Workers Union (C.I.O.).

The men contended the schedule was an unjustified "speed-up," a hazard to their health and a safety menace to the public.

Eight city breweries are tied up, with many inside workers as well as drivers idle, and local distribution of four additional companies is shut off.

About the only bars and cafes with draught beer are those which were pre-strike keg customers of out-of-town breweries. Most of these breweries have refused to take on new customers here during the tie-up. And what draught beer the old customers do get is quickly consumed as new customers flock in from neighboring bone-dry bars.

Stratford Indians In Third Place Of Senior Race

(By The Canadian Press)

Stratford Indians moved by two idle teams into third place in the Senior Ontario Hockey Association race by downing the second-position Owen Sound Mercurys 7-2 Monday night.

Indians counted once in the first period, three times in the second and three more in the 3rd as they hoisted themselves out of a cellar-spot.

George Blake gave Stratford a one-goal lead in the first stanza, Joe Nelmes and Doug Mullen put them three up in the second before Murray Fife and Buck Forslund scored for Owen Sound.

Before the second period ended playing coach Billy Woodward and Blake gave Indians a 4-2 margin.

Woodward, Blake and Joe Nelmer scored for Stratford in the third period.

Tonight, Stratford meets Owen Sound while Stratford Kroehlers clash with the league - leading St. Catharines' Teepees in the junior loop.

S. Africa Plans For Closer Union

Paris, Nov. 9 — (CP) — South Africa told the United Nations today she has made plans for the closer union and integration of Southwest Africa with her own Union territory.

In a statement to the trusteeship committee, the Dominion's chief delegate, Eric H. Louw, said flatly his government rejects any moral or legal obligation to submit the former mandated territory to indirect United Nations control under a trust agreement.

South African forces took Southwest Africa from Germany in 1915. Since 1920 it has been administered by the Union under a mandate from the League of Nations. Gradually the laws of the Union have been introduced and on April 11, 1947, the Union parliament decided that the territory should send representatives to the Union parliament.

NEW TYPE OF MACHINE FOR SPRAYING FRUIT

A new type of fruit spraying machine, shown during its demonstration at Marden, Kent, Eng., is hauled by a tractor to the site to be sprayed. The invention is unusual in the fact that previous machines have used high pressure while the "Autoblast" uses low pressure insecticide with high pressure air. This mobile plant virtually created its own hurricane, which, impregnated with insecticide, is carried to the topmost branch of the highest tree, and so applies a fog-like drench of pest destroying insecticide that completely envelopes the tree. The machine is rightly named because it creates a 100-mile-an-hour gale, at the point of ejection, by means of a fast revolving fan rotating in an enclosed cylinder while the machine roves freely over the ground that is to be covered. Security Council To End Meetings By December 16

Paris, Nov. 9 (CP)—The United Nations Security Council decided today to end its Paris sittings not later than Dec. 16, council delegates said.

The council made this decision at a closed morning session.

From Dec. 16 until Jan. 1, no meetings will be scheduled, the delegates said.

Fernand Van Langehove of Belgium, December president of the council, was asked not to call any session after Dec. 16 except in an extreme emergency.

The council will resume its work at Lake Success after Jan. 1.

Bruins' Line Holds First Three Places in Scoring

Montreal, Nov. 9. (CP)—If Boston Bruins had another line their Sanford-Warwick-Babando combo, the National Hockey League race wouldn't even be close this season.

Official N.H.L. statistics released today show the Bruins' high-production unit still running one-two-three in the scoring parade.

Grant Warwick, the hard-driving little winger obtained by Boston last year in a trade with New York for ill-fated Billy Taylor, has taken over first place from line mate Eddie Sandford. Warwick picked up two points in the Bruins' only game of the week to up his total to 12, once more than Sandford. Stocky Pete Babando holds down third spot with 10 points.

Detroit's Ted Lindsay, top goal-getter in the circuit last season with 33 markers, is tied with Warwick for most goals so far with six. Warwick, Sandford, Billy Reay of Montreal, and Gordie Howe of Detroit share leadership of the assists department with six apiece.

Bill Durnan of Canadiens chalked up his third shutout of the campaign when the Habitants blanked Detroit 2-0 Saturday night and now tops the goalies in that column. Harry Lumley of the Red Wings has the best goals-against average among the net-minders. He has allowed 12 counters in nine games for a 1.33 percentage.

Jack Stewart, Detroit's solid blueline blocker, has taken over badman honors with 23 minutes of penalty time. Close behind with 22 minutes is Canadiens' Ken Reardon.

Football Fans Jostle Wickets For Pasteboards

Ottawa, Nov. 9 — (CP) — The home-and-home, total point series between Montreal and Ottawa for the Big Four football championship this week already has turned into a strenuous spectator sport as fans of both towns jostle at the wickets for tickets.

Rough Riders, top dogs in the playoff series, planned a special excursion train to Montreal for Thursday's Remembrance Day opener, with 3,500 spectators expected to make the trip. Meanwhile the Ottawa club, which shipped 550 reserved seat tickets to Montreal Monday had a frantic call for more pasteboards.

J. P. (Jimmy) McCaffrey, manager of the Riders, said special bleachers were being sought for next Saturday's game here. He forecast a crowd of at least 16,000 in the limited Lansdowne Park facilities for the final game.

Although Riders sustained some bruises in the bone - crushing final scheduled game fith Toronto Argonauts last Saturday, it was expected Ottawa will probably be at full strength for Thursday's contest.

Centre Don Loney, who sat out the last half of the Toronto game, was considered a doubtful starter, but it was considered likely that linesman Jack Waggoner's knee injury would be better by Nov. 11, as well as Bob Paffrath's ailing ankle and Doug Smylie's injured foot.

Even With Als

Coach Wally Masters recalled in an interview that in the 12 scheduled games of the 1948 season, the only two games Riders lost were to Alouettes.

"We're even with Montreal on the series, and although we feel we weren't up to scratch on the two we lost, that's part of the game," he added.

Riders will carry with them to Montreal not only the prestige of finishing first in the Big Four schedule but the 1948 Jeff Russel Trophy winner and runner-up.

Eric Chipper, veteran placement kicker and outside wing with the Ottawa club, was announced as winner of the trophy Sunday night. The day after he won Riders' final regular schedule game against Argos with a 35-yard placement on the second-last play of the game.

Halfback Howie (Touchdown) Turner, it was learned, finished second in the voting for the Jeff Russel Award with 6 points compared with his teammate's eig

Third and fourth in the voti respectively, were snapback D Turner, Toronto Argonauts, Herb Trawyck, Montreal linem with four and three points.

IN TWO short years we have added over 257,000 telephones, put in hundreds of switchboards and trained thousands of people to extend and improve your telephone service.

We are adding more telephones to meet the continuing demand for service just as fast as equipment becomes available.

All this is being done in the face of rising costs. Yet, up to now, there has been no increase in the basic telephone rates established 21 years ago.

For you, this means greater value than ever before: for us, the satisfaction of providing "the best telephone service at the lowest possible cost".

MORTGAGE INSURANCE

HOME is where your heart is.

✩ Next to loving his wife and children, the average man is in love with his home.

✩ His spare time is devoted to making it more "livable". He is forever busy with hammer and saw, screwdriver and pliers, paint brush or garden spade—determined to convert the house into a "home".

✩ Most men assume a mortgage when they move their families into "homes".

✩ The mortgage is often a source of worry, too, because they fear what may happen if it becomes necessary for the mortgagee to foreclose at some future date.

✩ That is the reason why mortgage life insurance is becoming increasingly popular. For about 1% additional interest (depending upon age of the home-owner) it is possible to secure a policy which will pay off the mortgage in event of the home-owner's death—thus making sure that the family will be able to continue to call the house "home", with only taxes to pay and normal "wear and tear" to finance.

✩ Plans are available for both types of mortgages.

✩ If you are paying for your home on the amortized basis—a fixed amount monthly, just like rent, for twenty or more years, there is a plan which gears in with the outstanding amount of principal at the end of each year.

✩ Or if your house has one of the older styles of mortgages where you pay interest plus a fixed amount on account of principal each year, there is a yearly-reducing plan to keep pace with it.

✩ May we tell you more about the cost of a mortgage policy for your own case?

DEPARTMENT OF TRADE AND COMMERCE
TENDER NO. G26-C39-3

SEALED TENDERS enclosed in envelopes marked according to the above Tender No. and addressed to The Secretary, Canadian Commercial Corporation, (70 Lyon Street), Ottawa, Ontario, will be received until 4.00 P.M. (E.S.T.), on the 24th day of November, 1948, for Renovation of the Heating System at the Armoury, Cobourg, Ontario.

Tender forms will be supplied by the Canadian Commercial Corporation upon request. No tenders will be considered unless made on such forms and all tenders shall be subject to the terms set forth or referred to in such forms.

The Plans and Specifications are on exhibition at the Offices of the Canadian Commercial Corporation, Room 1213, No. 2 Temporary Building, (70 Lyon Street), Ottawa, Ontario, at which offices copies may be obtained upon deposit of $25.00 in the form of a certified cheque made payable to the Receiver General of Canada. This deposit will be remitted when such copies are returned in good condition. Plans and Specifications are also on display at the Belleville District Builders' Exchange, 52 Alexander Street, Belleville, Ontario and at the General Post Office, Cobourg, Ontario.

Each tender must be accompanied by a certified cheque on a chartered bank in Canada payable to the Receiver General of Canada, or by bearer bonds, as specified in the form of tender, for ten per cent (10%) of the amount of the tender.

All deposits so made will be returned unless, in the case of the successful tenderer, he should decline to enter into a contract for the work when requested to do so or should fail after accepting the contract to complete the same satisfactorily.

The lowest or any tender will not necessarily be accepted.

THE VENABLES

BY KATHLEEN NORRIS

Tonight Harriet made them all laugh by telling of a mere boy of 25 who had had the audacity to ask her to walk to North Beach with him after lunch on Sunday.

She and Daisy boarded in a very nice place on Bush Street now. They and their mother had had a home to themselves until recently; now old Mrs. Hawkes lived with her daughter Willie, and for the time being the unmarried daughters had been left in the chaperonage of the boardinghouse keeper. Paul's death of course might make a difference; they might all live together now; it depended on Willie.

So Willie found herself really important. The insurance money was nearly three thousand dollars; it would be a little less, of course, when Mrs. Howden's ten dollars, Dr. Swann's twenty-five, and the funeral expenses had been subtracted; still it was an impressive-sounding sum, and Willie could not understand how she came to be in possession of it.

"I stopped the children at Marchand's today," Willie said in her older sister.

"That was because it was too expensive, wasn't it, Mama?" Flo asked, eager to help the conversation along.

"Never mind," said her mother.

"H'm!" said Ida. "Aunt Lizzie's advise, I suppose."

"Well, she spoke as if she was interested." It was all very well for Ida to speak slightingly of Aunt Lizzie, Willie thought, but after all Aunt Lizzie had no children and lots of money, and while Ida had a husband to support her, Willie was now a widow. "I have to think of the future, Ida," she said mildly.

"Oh, goodness, I suppose so," Ida conceded with a sigh. She resented the influence of Paul's rich sister-in-law. But for Aunt Lizzie Venables, Ida would be more important among the women of the family; Ida, who had such a nice house and such a steady good husband.

Edward Parsons had property besides his pay; they owned their own home and intended to send Calvin to college. But of course Ida had two children, who would always come first with her, and Aunt Lizzie had none and so Aunt Lizzie must be made much of from now on!

Edward was away at sea just now. He would return in ten days.

"It's so strange," Willie was saying dreamily. "A month ago I expected to have a little nursing baby at this time, and of course Paul — Paul was here to manage everything—"

She fell silent on a great sigh, looked at her food.

"Eat your dinner," said her mother.

The dinner was corned beef and cabbage and mashed potatoes and tea; steam rose from it and scented the room; steam formed on the cold window-panes.

"If we all took a big place together we could take a few boarders, Willie," said her mother.

"Oh, I don't know!" Willie said, shrinking visibly. "I think I'll just stay along here for a while. Is that Dolly ironing again?"

The thump, thump of the irons could indeed be heard from the kitchen.

"She said she only got half through," Flo volunteered.

"Well, I don't know why she only got half through!" Willie said fretfully.

"She wastes a lot of time reading dime novels," Harriet opined. "I don't know what you pay her for, Willie. She's never caught up."

Dolly came in with the pudding; carried away a tray so loaded with plates that spoons and forks were cascading from it audibly as she opened the kitchen door.

"She's terrible," Willie murmured. "You girls help clear."

"I don't think they ought to help, Willie," Harriet protested. "You've got a servant; let her do it. If she has to iron all evening, well, she just doesn't get her evening out, that's all."

"I'll let her iron until about nine," Willie decided, "and then if she isn't through I'll tell her to let the rest go, and go out with May if she wants to. May's the youngest girl, and my goodness, she has it easy — no children of course, and she can entertain in the kitchen one night every week.

Flo's heart swelled with sympathy for Dolly, and she made a mighty resolve. No homework tonight, nor for many nights, thanks to the change in schools, so she could go out to the kitchen and help Dolly with the ironing. And Lily, fired by this example, helped with the dishes.

There was not so much ironing, after all. Flo was quick about everything she did, if sometimes slipshod and careless; she was competent too; in many ways far ahead of Dolly already. She could segregate the contents of the wash basket with a speed that amazed Dolly, putting plain things in one heap; attacking more complicated ones first; giving an effect finally of something like magic in her work.

Presently everything was done, even before the half-hour after eight had struck, Dolly's friend May came in in time goodnaturedly to help Lily put the hot plates and cups on the higher shelves; Dolly gulped down hot tea and a mouthful of greasy cool cabbage and bolted into the cluttered storeroom adjoining the kitchen to put on the blue dress and the red-glass pin. The air from the room trickled out, stale, sickening. Dolly never opened her window, winter or summer.

When she emerged, with her feathered hat on, and her red-perspiring face plastered with dead-white powder, Dolly had time for a last quick tribute of appreciation to Flo and Lily. She stooped to a pantry drawer, rustled among dishclothes, brought forth a stiff hard bar of delicious sweet chocolate, broke it, and put it into the sister's hands.

They secreted it instantly, went upstairs awed at Dolly's generosity, their hearts warm. To mention the gift would mean confiscation, biting reproof, punishment of both themselves and Dolly. They did not mention it.

They did not even dare eat it at once, for Mama had been especially tender since their father's death and might decide to come in and kiss them good night. It was decided that they should hide it, and enjoy it tomorrow, when they would offer to go to the store for Mama.

As they came upstairs, their mother and Aunt Ida were just emerging from Uncle Roswell's room. Grandma and Aunt Harriet were in the upper hall. Uncle Roswell had been home all day, very quiet. But they had heard him shouting and muttering, the way he did usually, all through the preceeding nighht.

"Poor boy, he can't get over Paul's death!" their grandmother was saying.

"I'd get him over it," said Ida. She and Edward had small sympathy for Roswell.

"Don't talk that way!" her mother said sharply.

"Well, I'm not going to put up with it; he can put that in his pipe and smoke it!" Willie said in an undertone, her face pale with anger and her pale lips twitching nervously. "Paul had enough of it! He always said Roswell could get work if he wanted to, and now he's going to!"

"Well, he will, he will," the old woman muttered placatingly.

"I wouldn't feel it was right to spend Paul's money for him," Willie continued, in quiet virtuous decision.

"What are you going to do, turn your brother into the streets?" demanded Mrs. Hawkes.

"You always stood up for Ros, Willie," Harriet reminded her.

"I know I did! And I know it cost Paul Venables good money paying his bills and giving him one silver dollar after another, and that time he paid his bail—" Willie's eyes met those of her older daughters, spellbound, almost up the stairs. "How long have you girls been there, may I ask?" she broke off to ask quietly.

"Just a minute, Mama," Flo was a trifle premature with her reassurances. "We didn't hear anything," she volunteered.

The four women exchanged glances, the oldest presently saying mildly:

"Your Uncle Roswell feels kind of sick tonight. Go down and tell Dolly to bring him a cup of good strong coffee. That's all he wants; no bread or anything. Just coffee."

"Really — it's my house, Mama—" Willie murmured faintly.

"Well, you want your brother to have some coffee, don't you, Willie?" the old woman demanded, rallying from the instant's check.

"Well, I suppose so. Go down and tell Dolly, Flo," Willie said.

"She's gone out, Mama."

"Who has?"

"Dolly. She went out with May"

"Who told her she could go?"

They were in trouble again! Helping Dolly had not been such a good idea, then. Lily and Flo backed against the wall like arctic oxen facing an enemy, and prepared for siege.

"I suppose you didn't tell her she could go, Lily?"

"I told her," Flo said with a heroism of which she herself had not believed herself capable; "I told her you said that if the dishes and ironing weren't done at 9 o'clock she could go out with May. And we helped her. Mama; I did the ironing and Lily wiped the dishes!"

Willie stood speechless. Harriet's light little laugh broke the silence. "You see how it is, Willie. You spoil her, and so she does not even tell you when she's going out.

"I'm not thinking of Dolly," said Willie measuredly. "I'm thinking of the two girl's who say they love their widowed mother, say they loved their poor dead father — I'm not up to spanking them; I simply can't do it; I'm too tired." Willie reflected, even as she talked.

The girls burst into tears. They sobbed incoherently that they loved both Mama and Papa.

"Well, go get undressed and get into bed," their mother said wearily, "and I'll attend to you later. I'll go down. Mama, and make Roswell some coffee. No, I'll go."

"I'd go in a minute, Willie if I could make coffee," Harriet said. In the end all four women went down. When they came upstairs 20 minutes later the older girls, quaking expectantly in bed, could hear them crying in explanation and reconciliation. Willie never meant to speak sassy to Ma; it was only that she supposed she had been through a great deal..

Then Aunt Harriet's voice, broken by tears, but laughing: — "Why goodness gracious, Willie, you didn't say anything to Ma! She's not going to hold anything against you, are you, Ma?"

"Willie's been more than a sister to this poor boy!" This was Grandma. "If you other girls had done half for Roswell that Willie's done, you might talk!"

"Ma, Edward Parsons put up ten dollars of his own money..." Aunt Ida was heatedly getting into the argument now, and presently Uncle Roswell's heavy voice was added: "Oh, thanks, Ma, that smells good. Thanks, Ma."

Then Virgie-Lou began to whoop with croup, and there was talk of goose grease, and Aunt Harriet came in to rummage in the dark on Grandma's commode, among the soap dish and tooth brush cup and bottles and around the pitcher and basin for the bowl of goose grease.

"Both those girlies sound asleep; I wouldn't punish 'em tonight, Willie; they didn't mean any harm," Flo and Lily heard her say, as she left the room. They went off into real sleep passionately loving their Aunt Harriet.

Aunt Hattie had once given music lessons; Aunt Daisy had once painted satin covers for perfume bottles. The former considered herself therefore a musician, the latter an artist. Aunt Hattie always assumed an authoritative air when music was under discussion; Aunt Daisy went into technical raptures over sunsets or city lights in dusk.

Both had been gently, imperceptibly edged out of the practice of their avocations by the increasing number of trained and experienced workers in both fields.

They withdrew to their mother's home, and when Ma went to live with Willie were uncomfortably and temporarily housed in the large boardinghouse of Mrs. Cameron Kennedy Sunderland on Bush Street, near Stockton.

Mrs. Sunderland's husband had owed Mrs. Hawke's husband seven hundred dollars for more than 20 years. Both men were long dead. But the sense of obligation remained, and Mrs. Sunderland, upon the suggestion being made her, expressed herself as willing to have the Hawkes' girls with her for a while and write it against the old debt.

It was not a happy arrangement, for Hattie and Daisy had but one crowded room between them, and that was high up on the fourth floor in space that had been built in bonanza days. They felt themselves unwelcome, and even though they were lodged and fed at no expense to themselves, their lack of spending money was an embarrassment and cramped them in every way.

Grimly honest, Mrs. Sunderland wrote off the Hawkes girls' occupancy of one of her eight-dollar rooms as dead loss. Her husband had borrowed from George Hawkes as he had from everyone; she owed the Hawkeses just about one year's board, for two. Her charge for two in that was fifteen dollars a week. She would be just that much out of pocket while the Hawkeses stayed; no help for it.

Shots Are Fired At Opposition Leader in Cairo

Cairo, Nov. 8 — (Delayed by Censor) — (AP) — Police said shots were fired tonight at Mustapha Nahas Pasha, leader of the opposition WAAFD (Nationalist) party, and a hand grenade was thrown at his home. He was not injured, but three of his bodyguards were wounded slightly.

They said Nahas Pasha, 72, Egypt's wartime premier, was driving to his home when another car began following him. As he alighted, shots were fired from the other car. Then the grenade was thrown. It caused little damage.

Canada Moves Out Of Red in Trade With United States

Achieves Favorable Balance For First Time Since 1945

Ottawa, Nov. 10 — (CP) — Canada is moving out of the red in her trade with the United States.

During September, the Bureau of Statistics reported Tuesday, she achieved a favorable balance of trade with the U. S. for the first time since August, 1945, when the heavy flow of war shipments from this country was tapering off.

The September favorable balance was $11,400,000 — the first substantial peacetime credit balance since the middle 1930s. In that month, excluding gold shipments, Canada sold the U. S. $162,000,000 worth of goods and imported only $152,700,000.

The credit balance in September, together with successive decreases in the adverse balance in earlier months of this year, brought the cumulative debit balance for the nine months to $265,700,000, compared with $718,300,000 in the corresponding period of 1947.

The improvement in the country's trading position with the U. S. stems from the government's so-called "austerity" program.

September commodity trade balance with Britain was favorable to the extent of $24,100,000 against $27,900,000 in August and $39,400,000 in September last year. For the nine-month period, the balance in favor of Canada was $300,100,000 compared with $11,500,000 a year ago.

The favorable balance with all countries during September was $64,400,000 — highest for the year to date — compared with $20,000,000 in August and $13,400,000 in September, 1947. The all-countries credit balance during the nine months was $261,600,000 against $135,000,000.

Imports from abroad during September totalled $221,700,000 against $208,100,000 a year ago. The nine-month total was $1,923,300,000, compared with $1,896,200,000.

AMELIASBURG HOUSE BURNED, ONE DAMAGED

Fire Departments from City and Trenton Air Station Answer Call

One large brick residence in the village of Ameliasburg in Prince Edward county, was completely destroyed, and a second large dwelling was damaged, when fire broke out early this morning. At one time the fire threatened the entire east end of the village before it was brought under control.

Fire departments from Belleville and from the Trenton Air Station answered the call for assistance and succeeded in confining the blaze to the two dwellings. Several families were forced to flee the flames in their nightclothes.

The fire started in the back part of the Dr. Fielding residence, which was occupied by an airforce couple, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Withers and their three weeks old baby. This house was a complete loss and the fire spread to the Arthur Corfield residence next door where the back kitchen and garage were damaged before the blaze was extinguished.

Villagers Answer Alarm

Villagers who answered the alarm succeeded in saving considerable of the house furnishings in the Dr. Fielding residence, and also carried the household effects in the Corfield dwelling to safety. Dr. Fielding, who lives in New Jersey, visits his summer home only occasionally but leaves household effects in the residence.

Fire Chief Gerald Vance of the Belleville Fire Department, who with four men answered the alarm with the city pumper, stated today that a strong west wind blowing at the time of the fire threatened the entire east end of Ameliasburgh village.

Heat Was Intense

The Belleville department concentrated its efforts on saving the Corfield residence and after using the water in their booster tank drew water from a nearby cistern.

"The heat was so intense," stated the fire chief, "that the paint on the firemen's helmets peeled We had to keep turning the hose on the men so they could continue to fight the blaze."

The fire chief could not state how the blaze had originated but stated the Fielding residence appeared to have been heated with coal heaters. The loss caused by the fire was not estimated.

RATIO OF CIVIL SERVANTS TO POPULATION IN ONTARIO

Toronto, Nov. 10 — (CP)—According to 1946 figures, the ratio of civil servants to population is substantially lower in Ontario than in any other province except Prince Edward Island.

In Ontario with a population of more than 4,000,000 one person in every 425 is a civil servant compared with one in every 470 in P. E. I., with a population of 94,000.

Saskatchewan with the highest ratio has one in every 140 of a population of more than 895,000.

Weather Synopsis

Toronto, Nov. 10 (CP) — Synopsis: An intense disturbance over Northern Ontario is moving towards Hudson Bay. In its wake strong westerly winds have brought cooler air from the central plains across southern Ontario. A less active disturbance over southern Manitoba is moving rapidly southeastward and is expected to move across the Great Lakes area on Thursday accompanied by snowflurries Cloudy cool weather with occasional snow is anticipated for most of Ontario on Remembrance Day.

Cuba Reciprocates Passport Courtesy

Havana, Cuba, Nov. 10 (AP)—The Cuban State Department announced Tuesday that Canadians could visit Cuba for six months without a passport visa. The Cuba chancellory said the action was taken in reciprocity with a similar measure adopted by the Canadian government authorizing Cubans to visit Canada without a passport visa for six months

RUSSIANS RELEASE 54 GERMAN RIVER CRAFT

Frankfurt, Nov. 10 — (AP) — British and United States officials said Tuesday the Russians have released 54 German river craft seized several months ago while en route to Berlin. They still hold 38. "The Russians gave no explanation either to bizonal river authorities or to the crews of the freed ships," officials of the transport group said. "They simply gave them permission to depart."

3-YEAR TERM GIVEN WAR BRIDE AT LINDSAY

Judge Says Accused Not Criminally Inclined

Lindsay, Nov. 10. (CP)—Jane McAllister, 25-year-old red-haired Scottish war bride, was sentence today to three years on a manslaughter charge arising from the pistol slaying of her naval veteran husband.

Mr. Justice R. W. Treleaven said he had taken into consideration the fact that Mrs. McAllister was in ill-health following recent operations and that she was not criminally inclined. He could not accept the defence counsel suggestion of a suspended sentence.

The red-haired war bride from Scotland's Clydeside town of Greenock was tried last week for murder but the Assize Court jury, which returned its verdict late Saturday, reduced the charge to one of manslaughter and convicted her on the lesser charge.

John McAllister, 29-year-old former Hamilton war veteran, was fatally shot through the head while lying on a bed in the dollar-a-week log shack he and his wife occupied near Kirkfield, 20 miles north of this Victoria County town. Mrs. McAllister was found wandering in surrounding woods at dawn next day, an old single-shot pistol clutched in her right hand.

In the witness box, the young widow claimed that during the last few months of her three-year married life she was beaten, kicked, cursed by her husband, who spurned her love after an operation made her sterile. She said the final, fatal quarrel followed an announcement by John McAllister that he intended to find love in the arms of other women.

While the courtroom audience composed largely of other war brides breathlessly followed her every word, she said that on that Sunday night she took the pistol down from the kitchen wall to frighten her husband, not to kill him. She claimed she remembered nothing of the moment when the pistol allegedly discharged in the bedroom.

Her mother, Mrs. Emily McInerny, with a ticket provided by "hame folk" in Scotland, flew to Canada to stand by her. But Mrs. McInerny, heartsick over smalltown gossip and the word that her own husband was ill at home, left Lindsay for Scotland eight hours before the verdict came.

"Keystone Cop" Dies

San Fernando, Calif., Nov. 10 (AP)—Edgar Kennedy, 58, one of the original "Keystone cops" who wowed silent film audiences died Tuesday at the Motion Picture Hospital after a long illness. Kennedy's last movie appearances were in R.P.O.'s "Average Man" comedies, and he had appeared in more than 500 pictures since his screen debut in 1911.

TRADE DELEGATION RETURNS

Madrid, Nov. 10 — (Reuters) — A British trade delegation will return to London by air today after two weeks in Madrid. Talks with Spanish authorities were understood to have been interrupted owing to the difficulty of increasing trade between the two countries because of the artificially high rate of the peseta.

Only 7 of World's 57 Nations Outside Red Orbit Raise Enough Food for Own Needs

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP) — Only seven of the world's 57 recognized countries outside of the Soviet orbit raise enough food to meet their own needs.

This was reported today by the Food and Agriculture Organization, a United Nations agency set up to improve food production methods and uses. Russia and Soviet-dominated countries are not members.

F. A. O. said those countries which could feed themselves if their production is equally distributed in proportion to domestic needs, are:

The United States, Canada Australia, New Zealand, Norway Switzerland and Denmark.

Outside those seven, the F.A.O found this picture:

"For the world as a whole per capita supplies of food and fibres are far below pre-war levels.

"Even taking into account government plans for substantial increases for 1949-50 and beyond it is apparent that present plans even if fully carried out, can not meet the great need for the products of agriculture and forestry."

Reports of the member countries also showed these worldwide trends:

Forestry—"The world appears to be heading toward a chronic wood shortage with cutting continuing at a rate so rapid it exceeds replacement."

Economic and social policies — "Many countries seem to need clear policies for improving living conditions of rural countries."

Land management and nutrition—Most countries have increased efforts along two major lines: "1. Special attention has been given to reducing waste, which in pre-war years cut deeply into the supply of food for human consumption. 2. Action has been taken to increase the flow of farm supplies to urban groups and, in some instances into export channels."

Ripe Strawberries, November Golf, Late Flowers Features Of Canada's Mildest Autumn

(By The Canadian Press)

Golfers tramped Calgary links and dandelions were still blooming this week in Winnipeg as most of Canada enjoyed the mildest fall weather in the memory of many an old-timer.

There were butterflies at the lakehead and Ottawa could still boast nine lilac trees in bloom and one white rose. Brantford gardeners tended the last lingering apple blossoms and bunches of chrysanthemums which should have withered with frost long ago, a Canadian Press survey showed today.

Toronto weather experts explained that great currents of air which usually sweep eastward across Southern Canada and the Great Lakes at this time of year, bringing icy polar air, were moving across the sparsely - populated far north, leaving more southerly sections to bask in almost spring-like weather.

Somewhere, (the weather men couldn't guess where) a kindly anti-cyclone, an area of extremely high pressure, had disrupted the normal pattern of the world's air currents.

Vancouver was foggy, rainy, cold and damp but Vancouverites were used to that. Edmonton was bright and sunny and snow that fell Sunday had disappeared. Calgary enjoyed one of the longest and brightest Indian Summers on record. There had been only a trace of snow — last Sept. 23.

At Fort William and Port Arthur temperatures of 50-60 degrees above zero, which the twin cities enjoyed until Monday night when a heavy frost set in, are believed to be the highest for a number of years. Strawberries were picked late in October.

Toronto temperatures for the first eight days of this month were 11 degrees above normal, one degree below the 1938 record for the same period. The first brief flurries of snow fell on Toronto Oct. 18, a phenomenon.

An almost week-long fog which settled over Eastern Canada recently paralyzed Great Lakes navigation and played havoc with airlines schedules but Galt mushroom growers had no complaints. They say the fog produced one of the biggest harvests of mushrooms known in those parts.

Cornwall residents picked strawberries, raspberries and late blooms.

British Policy Blamed For Drop in Bacon Supply

Ottawa, Nov. 10. (CP)—Agriculture Minister Gardiner, in a statement today, said Canada could be supplying the United Kingdom with "at least twice as much bason as she is" if Britain could have followed a different policy since 1943.

The Minister took exception to a dispatch which quoted Food Minister Strachey as telling the Commons a temporary decline in Canadian supplies for export was responsible for cutting to half the British bacon ration—to one ounce weekly for the four weeks starting November 21.

"I do not wish to comment on Mr. Strachey's reported statement in particular because I know from experience that unless one has the complete pronouncement the meaning can be misrepresented," Mr. Gardiner said.

However, he recalled that in 1943 Canada has been given to understand that the U.K. would not be able to import as much Canadian bacon after the war. Production at that time had been built to a level at which Canada could deliver 700,000,000 pounds of bacon a year.

Mr. Gardiner continued:

"In 1943 when a turn came in the fortunes of war and victory was assured, Mr. Scott Wasson, agricultural adviser to the British Embassy at Washington and now to the United Kingdom Minister of Agriculture, came to Canada and addressed meetings of farms and warned farmers that the United Kingdom would be unable to buy such quantities of bacon after the war..

"These speeches were delivered as an explanation of the reduction in the contract for 1944 and 1946 from 675,000,000 pounds to 450,000,000 pounds annually, and were a warning to our farmers that if their production remained up they could not depend upon the U.K. market".

He quoted from a statement by Mr. Watson issued in Washington at the time, saying that Britain would want Canadian wheat and cheese after the war, but that after such purchases, she would likely be hard up for Canadian exchange to buy bacon.

Royal Baby Will be Next in Line To Elizabeth in Succession to Throne

London, Nov. 10 — (CP) — The baby expected to be born to Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh this weekend, whether a son or a daughter, will inevitably be next to Elizabeth in line of succession to the throne.

If the child is a son it will always keep that place; if a daughter it would be displaced if a son were born later. Whether boy or girl, the child will move Princess Margaret from second to third place in line of succession — and Margaret will drop one place farther down for every child that is born to Elizabeth.

In the meantime, Princess Margaret remains second heiress to the throne. She could only be heiress presumptive if her sister came to the throne without children. (At present Princess Elizabeth is heiress presumptive).

Official records show that the line of succession passes from the sovereign through his eldest son, or if there is no son, through his eldest daughter. Therefore, even if Princess Elizabeth is never crowned queen, her children will be heirs to the throne after the present King.

The royal baby, if a boy, will almost certainly be given four names, including George (after the King), Philip (after his father), Louis (after his uncle, Earl Mountbatten), and probably Andrew as a compliment to Scotland.

If a girl the baby will probably be named Elizabeth, Mary and Alice — the latter after Philip's mother.

Children of princesses take their titles from the father, not from the mother. Therefore, because the King created Lieut. Mountbatten H. R. H. Prince Philip as well as Duke of Edinburgh, the infant will be styled prince or princess.

The position regarding titles of members of the Royal Family is regulated by an edict issued by George V in 1917 which very much limited use of the style of prince and princess.

Forrestal, Bullitt Off to Conferences

Washington, Nov. 10 (AP)—Defence Secretary James Forrestal left Tuesday for a quick swing through western Europe. Aides said the trip was not prompted by any emergency, but it was assumed that his conferences abroad would touch on the subject of proposed United States military assistance to western European nations. At the same time, William C. Bullitt, former ambassador to Russia, left by plane to make a rapid survey of China's needs.

Snowflurries Likely For Toronto District

Toronto, Nov. 10 — (CP) — Snowflurries are forecast for Toronto tonight but weather men say it is not unusual to have snow here at this time of year.

Snow has fallen in Toronto as early as September — in 1859. Tonight's flurries will be the city's second snowfall of the year. There was a light 15-minute fall Oct. 18. The temperature is expected to drop to 32. Lowest Nov. 10 temperature ever recorded was 17 above in 1898.

MOSCOW PRESS STRESSES TRUMAN MAY VISIT STALIN

Reports Based On Washington Dispatch

By EDDIE GILMORE

Moscow, Nov. 10 (AP)— The Moscow press gave heavy play today to a Tass dispatch from Washington quoting an American newspaper as saying President Truman may come to Russia for a personal talk with Prime Minister Stalin.

The fact that this item was published here at all is not without significance. Its publication caused much comment in the foreign colony of Moscow.

The Soviet News Agency dispatch said the Washington Times Herald printed the report. (The dispatch may have referred to a syndicated column, Tris Coffin's Daybook, published in the Times Herald. It said Monday President Truman wants a conference with world leaders on peace and might even go to Moscow.)

No Definite Decision

The dispatch said that, "although no definite decision has been reached, Truman presumes he can meet Stalin at his place (presumably Washington) instead of going to Moscow."

"However," it added, "if Stalin does not leave the Soviet Union Truman is filled with such a determination to put into effect his program that possibly he will himself go to Moscow."

Walter Bedell Smith, United States ambassador here, planned to leave for Berlin this week, but an informed source said there was no connection between this and the Truman-Stalin report. Smith is said to be going to Germany on personal business.

While the Soviet Press published this talk of peace, it continued to hammer away on the Korean question. The press said the rebellion in south Korea still was in progress on a big scale, but that American troops were helping to smother it.

Stalin on Vacation

A foreign source said that, while a meeting was possible eventually, a three-power meeting of British, French and American representatives was likely to precede it in order to work out an agreement on the approach.

Persons who follow Russian policy closely said they believe if such an effort came from the west, Stalin probably would look favorably upon it.

Stalin still is in the south on his annual vacation.

Dogs Kill 35 Turkeys

Brantford, Nov. 10 (CP)—Jack Timson who runs a turkey farm at nearby Caledonia said today he heard a commotion near his turkey pen Tuesday night and found four or five dogs slinking away. They had chewed through a wire mesh and killed 35 turkeys. Ten turkeys are missing and the birds that survived are so badly bruised and off feed that they will not be suitable for market. He estimated his loss at $234.

Trappist Monks of Oka Enjoined Not to Speak by Fifth Century Rule

Oka, Que., Nov. 10 (CP)—The secret of the Trappist Monks of Oka is still secure.

That today was the only news—and not much news at that—from this silent community scarcely 30 miles southwest of Montreal, a community of unknown men and a secret that is one of the best guarded in Canada.

The unknown men are the monks of this largest of six Canadian Trappist monasteries. Their's is the silence, since they are enjoined not to speak by the fifth century rule of their order.

And the secret is the formula for making the now-famous Oka cheese, the stand-out product of their 1,800 acres of farmland which roll down from the hills to the shore of the Lake of Two Mountains.

The monastery has a personnel of 180 composed of priests who chant the offices of the church and lay brothers. There are 78 of the former.

These tonsured men follow the life pattern of St. Benedict of Italy who founded the order. Aside from making full use of modern agricultural technique and construction one day goes by after another in about the same manner it did in 1881. It was then that Oka's founder took root here in 1881.

None but members of the community are allowed to learn the monks' process whereby they make their cheese, rich in aroma, mild in flavor.

The monastery is more than self-supporting.

Ordinarily the monks rise at 2 a. m. Sundays they sleep less, get up at 1.30 a. m. from their beds of boards and straw mattresses. On solemn feast days the rising is at 1 a. m.

They eat a diet almost entirely vegetable, shunning meat, fish or eggs. Cheese is permitted and the 5 a. m. breakfast follows church services. Most monks live to an old age.

The day includes seven hours of prayers for the priests, or choir monks, and four hours of manual labor. The lay-brothers do most of the monastery work while the priests chant their office in church.

King Will Tender His Resignation Next Monday

Announcement Made To Canadian Legion Council

Ottawa, Nov. 10 — (CP) — Prime Minister Mackenzie King will tender his resignation to the Governor-General next Monday, Nov. 15, he announced officially today.

Mr. King made the historic announcement in a letter read to a luncheon meeting opening the annual three-day meeting of the dominion executive council of the Canadian Legion. Six cabinet ministers were present as the letter was read by Lt.-Col. L. D. M. Baxter, Dominion president of the Legion.

The prime minister said he had hoped to associate his resignation with Remembrance Day, Nov. 11, and announce his retirement from the prime ministership after placing the government's wreath at the base of the national war memorial here.

However, the ill-health which confined him to his home at Laurier House had made this impossible.

Regrets Inability

"I had hoped," his letter read, "that my last official act as Prime Minister of Canada might be in the nature of a silent tribute to the memory of those who gave their lives in the cause of freedom. I deeply regret having to forego this cherished hope.

"After conferring with the Governor-General and with Mr. St. Laurent, I have decided to continue in office for the remainder of the present week, and to tender my resignation as Prime Minister to His Excellency on Monday next, Nov. 15.

"While I much regret not being able to convey this word in person to yourself (Col. Baxter) and others who may be present at today's luncheon, I am happy to have the privilege, through the Legion, of making known to my fellow countrymen the day on which I shall seek to be relieved of the responsibilities of office."

Two Boys Burned To Death When Tractor Overturns

Staples, Ont., Nov. 10 — (CP)—Two 12-year-old boys, Russell Burton Waites and Clair Will, were burned to death Tuesday night when a tractor they were riding overturned and exploded in the Michigan Central Railways stock loading yard here.

The school chums, who lived in Essex county, had left the Will's farm shortly after eight p.m.

Apparently the boys drove the tractor into the stockyards to turn around and head back to Staples, when the machine upset and burst into flames, provincial police said.

Rescuers pulled Waites clear of the overturned tractor but he died a few minutes after being released.

Efforts were made to rescue the Will boy but he was pinned under the tractor and rescuers were kept back by the intense heat.

HIGHWAY UPKEEP

Toronto, Nov. 10 — (CP)—The Ontario Highways Department has spent an average of $1,000,000 monthly this year on repairing roads throughout the province it was reported today. Approximately 300 miles of paving was laid during the period.

FEDERAL CONTROL IN POWER CRISIS SEEN POSSIBLE

Toronto Using 216,800 Kilowatt Hours More Than Quota

Toronto, Nov. 10 — (CP) — Toronto blacked out for the second straight night last night. But it saved only one-quarter of the power it must save to get within its quota.

Officials estimated the city saved 55,000 kilowatt hours by the blackout starting at 7 p. m. It still is using 216,800 kilowatt hours more than its quota.

Hydro officials have warned if the city does not meet its quota, feeder lines may be cut to the city, blacking out street lights, street cars and hospitals, so far untouched by the regulations.

At a city hall meeting called to discuss the situation, Mayor Hiram McCallum said he would ask federal control of electric power if the city didn't make it.

"Some people will not co-operate voluntarily and it might be that we will have to use compulsion," he said.

Toronto is the only city in Ontario that has failed to "work out its own salvation," Robert Saunders, chairman of the Provincial Power Commission, told the meeting.

Elsewhere in the province, cities were escaping the evening cut-offs. St. Thomas had its first afternoon cut Tuesday while Wiarton decided on a one-hour daily cut to get within its quota.

In New Toronto, Police Chief R. W. Weatherup warned merchants to keep valuables out of store windows during blackouts. He said it was an invitation to robbery. Owen Sound Merchants decided to stop using electricity for display purposes for at least 2½ hours daily, instead of closing one day a week. Hamilton has avoided cut-offs by switching working hours in industry.

ARTHUR HARMAN FLIES TO BRITAIN TO VISIT RELATIVES

Former deputy chief with the Belleville Police Department, Mr. Arthur Harman, Albert Street, flew to England on Sunday where he will visit his three brothers and two sisters for the first time in 22 years. It was the first time Mr. Harman had travelled by air and Monday afternoon he wired his safe arrival to Sgt. Clarence Arnott of the local police department.

"Splendid trip," wired the former deputy chief, "will write later." Mr. Harman left Montreal at 4:30 Sunday afternoon and flew direct to London, England.

EMERGENCY LIGHTING EQUIPMENT USED

The Kiwanis Club Hobbycraft classes are to be held at the appointed hours of 7:00 to 8:30 p.m. on Mondays, Wednesdays and Fridays.

To cope with the hydro cut-offs, emergency lighting equipment is to be installed.

BANNER WARNS MOTORISTS OF SCHOOL

Words of wise counsel are addressed to motorists on an overhead banner stretched from either side of Dundas Street near the corner of Queen Alexandra school grounds.

"We Love Our Children. Drive Slowly. School Zone." These words catch the eye of the motorist as he enters the city from the east or tops the brow of the hill on Dundas Street. Added precaution is taken in the posting of a guard to aid children in crossing the street.

EDUCATION MINISTER VISITOR AT O.S.D.

Hon. Dana Porter, Minister of Education in the Provincial Cabinet, visited this city at noon in company with Roscoe Robson, M.P.P. for Hastings East. He was taken to the Ontario School for the Deaf, where he met W. J. Morrison and staff and inspected the school. This evening Mr. Porter will speak to the Deseronto Chamber of Commerce on Development and Planning, he being the minister of that department when the speaking engagement was made.

BUSINESS, INDUSTRY WILL REMAIN OPEN

Tomorrow, Thursday, Nov. 11, "Remembrance Day," will be observed as a holiday in the city by banks, government offices, city offices and all schools, and not by the city in general, it was learned today. Most places of business and industry will function as usual, with the exception of the traditional two-minute silence observed at 11 a.m.

"JUDY" RETURNED SAFELY TO HOME

Thorough efficiency was demonstrated on the part of the local constabulary in the case of Judy who ran away from home early this morning.

Stowing away in a visitor's car when it left a Dundas Street residence, Judy was missed shortly after, and a plea was sent in to the police station to locate the runaway and return her to her home.

The alarm was sent out, and shortly after a constable located the fugitive and escorted her to the safety of her home. Every care and consideration was used in the locating and safe return of Judy—a Boston Bull terrier.

VETERANS' OFFICER ANNOUNCES CANDIDATURE

Everett Liddle, veterans' officer of the veterans' unit of the Unemployment Commission in this city has announced his candidature for the office of Alderman in the forthcoming municipal elections. Mr. Liddle has taken a great interest in veterans' affairs in this district since his return from overseas in the First World War. Mr. Liddle was a contestant for the Aldermanic Board last year and was just nosed out.

4,000 POPPIES GIVEN TO SCHOOL CHILDREN

The Poppy Committee has made a donation of 4,000 poppies to pupils of the collegiate, public and separate schools of the city with the request that they be worn on Thursday in remembrance of those who gave their lives in two World Wars. The committee has also requested that all who purchased wreaths would be at the Cenotaph on Thursday to deposit same on the memorial tablet. More than 300 wreaths have been sold to merchants and private individuals.

PET BEAR CUB ESCAPES CUSTODY

If residents of the Rossmore district some morning find a small bear cub browsing through their garbage pails they need not be alarmed that wild animals have taken over the village.

For the six-months-old bear cub will be one which yesterday escaped custody from a pen on the premises of Stan White, who, during the past summer, kept two cubs as pets.

"The cub is perfectly harmless," stated Mr. White this morning, "but apparently he must have thought he would like his freedom for a while."

Mr. White said the two cubs were kept in a wire pen, the wire of which became loosened by the bears' paws. One cub crawled through and disappeared but the other apparently felt he was being fed well enough at home. The owner of the cub bear will make an attempt to find his pet this afternoon, although he expects the cub may return of his own accord.

SEEK ADDRESS OF STINSON FAMILY

Local police have been asked to assist in finding the whereabouts of a family named Stinson who are believed to be residing in Belleville or district. Mr. and Mrs. Stinson, first name not known, have a son, Berkley, who has been left a legacy and a firm of Prescott solicitors are anxious to find the family. Persons knowing the whereabouts of the family are asked to contact Police Chief Walter Probert at the local police station.

RADIO NETWORKS UNABLE TO ESCAPE POWER SHORTAGES

Even the radio networks have not been able to escape the inconvenience of the power shortage and subsequent cut-offs.

An announcer on a Toronto network apologized publicly for the low pitch of voices over the air during this morning's pre-noon cut-off. Working on emergency power units, the station was subjected to 'surges' in power and he stated that this morning the surges were down, causing the vocal changes.

Remembrance Day Service Held At Collegiate

In commemoration of those who paid the supreme sacrifice and those who served during the two World Wars, the students of Belleville Collegiate and Vocational School held a special Remembrance Day assembly this morning.

The program was presented by students under the supervision of the faculty over the public address system. All addresses and recitations were made off-stage The stage itself was appropriately decorated with a large centre cross flanked by two crosses of smaller stature heading a simulated grave plot dotted with red poppies.

Mr. C. Templer played the musical interlude preceding the program, and accompanied the hymns on the console organ. The opening hymn was followed by the scripture reading and a short prayer. An address, summarizing the history of the two World Wars and the signing of the Armistice was read, followed by the famed poem, "In Flanders Fields."

The roll of the names of those graduates of the collegiate who lost their lives in either war was read, and the Last Post sounded.

The respectful one minute's silence was observed and the playing of reveille followed. The service concluded with the singing of the hymn "O Valiant Hearts" and the National Anthem.

Police Blotter

Five local juveniles were apprehended by city police yesterday on charges of stealing fruit from the car of a soft drink and fruit dealer. The young boys were said to have taken two cases of grapes and one case of radishes from the dealer's car.

A shot from the service pistol of a local police officer last evening ended the life of a skunk which had been annoying residents at a Station Street address. The skunk was caught in a trap and was later dispatched by the officer who was called to the scene.

Provincial police were notified that a car owned by Dennis Meagher of Read had been stolen.

Veterans, Organizations, Civilians Will Take Part in Memorial Tribute

"Remembrance Day is not one for veterans of the wars alone. Rather it is a day which all residents of the Dominion should observe and in the observance pay memorial tribute to the gallant sons of this country, and the Allied countries, who gave their all that all might live in peace. Regimental Sergeant Major Duffy, Hastings and Prince Edward Regiment and president of the Belleville branch of the Canadian Legion said today.

Veterans of two world wars, regardless of affiliation in Canadian organizations, Polish, Imperial and others, are cordially invited to attend the services and take part in the parade and other functions which will mark this city's observance of Remembrance Day, Thursday.

Start at 10:30

Men and women of all the armed services, auxiliaries of service organizations, detachments of the permanent forces are expected to once more honor the glorious dead of the Dominion. Civilians bearing wreaths, will also join the parade of the veterans.

The day's activities start with the assembly of all veterans at the Bridge Street Armouries at 10.30 a.m. preparatory to marching to the Station Street Cenotaph for special memorial services.

Legion officials have announced that if weather conditions do not permit of holding the parade the Memorial Service will be held in the Bridge Street Armouries starting at 11 o'clock.

The parade, including bands of the RCAF, the Salvation Army, and the Belleville Pipe Band will march along Front Street to the Cenotaph.

At night, the Canadian Legion is sponsoring a banquet to be held in the Armouries at which Major H. M. Bell, of the DVA will be the guest speaker.

Will Hold Luncheon

In the Army, Navy Air Force Veterans in Canada Club rooms on Front Street, members will observe the anniversary with luncheon refreshments and a program of entertainment.

Parade officials also announced that those outside of the armed services and war veterans circles who purchased wreaths are invited to march in the parade. Those who find it unable to do so may drive to the cenotaph and deposit their wreaths at the ceremony.

War veteran organizations of the city extend a cordial invitation to the general public to join them in the observance of Remembrance Day.

Few Complaints Are Being Made On Shortage of the 'Light Brigade'

Housewives of the city forced practically overnight into a Florence Nightingale role, are taking the evening and other "blackouts" in their stride.

Candles to the right of them
Candles to the left of them
Candles in front of them,
Sputtering, glowing.

Inconvenient? Yes, but the evening dimout is forcing the head of the house, Junior and Jane, to be home on time for the evening meal. The blackout deadline, unless the dinner is postponed, gives the hard-worked housewife-cook a chance to get the evening work done before the box offices open at the theatres. For the majority of them are forced to use candles, or lamps (if they're lucky and reach the lamp-distributing stores on time) during the time the Hydro Commission is desperately trying to pile up much-needed kilowatts.

Was there a hair-do frayed?
Was there a gal dismayed?
"Charge for the lamps," they said
While the managers wondered.

Flashlights, coal-oil lamps, gasoline lamps are scarcer in the city today than Dewey celebrations in the United States. First intimation of the evening blackout saw scores of house and apartment owners, not to mention shopkeepers, haunt hardware and other shops which sell these light-producing articles, heretofore used only by residents of the rural back-fifties and others not blessed with hydro.

Theirs not to reason why,
Theirs not to sit and sigh,
Theirs just to go and buy
Lamps by the hundred.

However, housewives in this city are at least a bit more fortunate than their counterparts in some of the metropolitan centres. There, it is stated, candles have been rationed and the unfortunates who do not get under the wire in the mad dash for the wax and wickies, are forced to sit and twiddle their thumbs in the dim light of apartment and house.

Half a light, half a light
Sometimes none burning.
In the dim, darkened house
For hydro they're yearning.

Generally speaking, residents of this city are gradually adapting themselves to a serious inconvenience. Thus far there have been no mass complaints, rather a willingness on the part of some, mostly housekeepers, to conform to the request of the powers-that-be to conserve the "power-that-is."

Hotels and restaurants have installed lamplight systems so their regular clientele can get their meals at regular hours. The general health of the city should be improved if eating at regular hours, is, as doctors and others claim, one of the first requisites to long life. The boys who burn the midnight oil are not inconvenienced, although some of them are forced to undress in the dark when the early morning blackout arrives.

And someone the other day, remarking on the absence on hydro vehicles of the well-known slogan "Hydro is Yours — Use It" suggested that it be changed to "Hydro Will be Yours — If You Don't Abuse It." If you persist in abusing it, it will be

Candles in front of you,
Lamps to the left of you,
Flashlights around you
While everyone wonders.

Mrs. John Stuart Sails for Home To Aid Her Son

Southampton, England, Nov. 10 (CP)—Mrs. John Stuart sailed for Canada Tuesday aboard the liner Acquitania to aid her son William charged in Kitchener with public mischief.

(In New York, Cunard-White Star officials said the Acquitania should arrive in Halifax Nov. 17.)

The public mischief charge was laid in connection with the disappearance last Sept. 13 of Mrs Emma Pohl, 37-year-old housewife.

(The decomposed body of Mrs. Pohl ws found near Plattsville Oct. 25.

(Police who questioned William Stuart quoted him as saying he met Mrs. Pohl the day she disappeared, paid off a $600 debt he owed her for two years and was given a receipt. A handwriting expert described the receipt as a forgery.)

Aweek ago in London, where she had been visiting friends Mrs. Stuart said she had what she believed was vital evidence concerning the money which allegedly passed between her son and Mrs. Pohl.

She said Mrs. Pohl had told her in private that she had given William $600 to buy a car for "mutual pleasure."

TIME SERVED COUNTS

Toronto, Nov. 10 (CP)—George Hawkins, convicted Sept. 9 at Whitby on a charge of dangerous driving, Tuesday lost his appeal against both the conviction and the sentence. But time already served on his term of four months in jail will count, the Ontario Court of Appeal ruled.

Snub to Red Big Shot Costs Profs Their Jobs

Berlin, Nov. 10 (AP)—Jena University snubbed a Russian big shot two weeks ago. Now it's been purged.

Dr. Friedrich Hund, internationally known president of the venerable institution, had to resign and Professor Hans Leisegang, 58-year-old philosopher was fired by the Russian-controlled ministry of education. in Soviet-occupied Thuringia.

The charge: They were "hostile to our new democracy."

Dr. Marie Torhorst, Moscow-trained minister of education said:

"On Oct. 25 one of the most important representatives of Soviet science, dean of the philosophy department of Moscow University, Professor Tschemodemoff, held a lecture at Jena University.

"Of this lecture, which was highly important from a scientific as well as a political viewpoint Jena University took no notice at all, although the president had been informed well in advance.

"Realizing his severe neglect of this occasion, Dr. Hund offered his resignation.

"Professor Leisegang stated his hostile attitude toward our new democracy in a manner so unveiled and harsh that his immediate dismissal had to be ordered by Frau Dr. Torhorst."

There have been previous reports of rebellion at the university, in the form of student strikes against the education ministry.

Canada May Be Aircraft Arsenal Commonwealth

New York, Nov. 10 —(CP)—Business Weeks says in its current issue that Britain, the United States and Canada have framed a plan to make the Dominion an aircraft arsenal for the Commonwealth in the event of another world emergency.

The magazine says in a feature titled "Washington Outlook" that under the plan Canada would "take on the job of building transports and bombers." The United States contribution would be largely engineering know-how on high speed aircraft.

(In Ottawa Monday, a source commenting on the report said: "That will cost money. Who will pay for the supplies?")

Business Week says that under the plan —"quietly framed" in London, Washington and Ottawa — Britain would be able to concentrate on producing jet fighters.

The magazine says "a buildup of Canadian production is under way."

It adds:

"Two British companies have acquired plants — one in Toronto, one near Halifax— to be operated by Canadian subsidiaries with American help.

"Also, Fairchild and the Royal Canadian Aid Force are dickering on Canadian production of the Fairchild C-82 packet transport; Electric Boat's Montreal subsidiary, Canadair, probably will get the job on licence from Fairchild."

Another periodical Air Week in last week's issue said that while Canada's manufacturing industry still is tiny by United States or British standards, it is likely to play an important role in the air rearmament of the Commonwealth and of the Western Union powers. With increased importance, the magazine said will come increased size.

Air week pointed out that during the Second World War Canada produced more aircraft per capita than any other allied country.

Industries Shut Day a Week

St. Catharines, Nov. 10 (CP)—More than 80 large and small industrial power consumers here were ordered today to shut down one full day a week and work Sundays in order to keep the city within its daily power quota of 348,480 kilowatt hours.

The Public Utilities Commission announced the order this morning in the face of mounting hadpower consumption. Earlier it had threatened such action, but voluntary methods had brough the city under quota. However the new seven per cent cut last week, plus higher demand caused by shorter colder days, produced the new order which is effective Monday. A schedule of daily shut downs has been drawn up.

3,356 Sealskins To Go on Block

Ottawa, Nov. 9 (CP)— Sealskins will go down under the auctioneer's hammer in Montreal Nov. 17 and Fisheries Minister Mayhew will be on hand to see the job is done properly.

This is the fisheries department last seal auction of the season and 3,356 "Alaskan sealskins" will go on the block. The pelts will bring the total offered this year to 12,641.

The Pribilof seal herd in Bering Sea now numbering more than 3,000,000 animals, is protected by an agreement between Canada and the United States. The latter supervises the killing of a limited number each year, about 70,000 annually in recent years, and Canada receives 20 per cent of the "take."

From this year's operations Canada has received 14,028 skins. The business brings more than $500,000 annually to the government treasury.

Heinz Heir Arrested

New York, Nov. 10. (AP)—John La Porte Given, Jr. 41, heir to the Heinz pickle fortune, was arrested early today on the accusation that he attacked an elderly man with a cane which contained a 28-inch sword.

Police said he tried to beat R. Howard Beardon, 63-year-old Negro, on a mid-town Manhattan Street.

Bail of $1,000 was set for Given in felony court pending a hearing Nov. 24. Paul F. Reilly, assistant district-attorney, told the court the food-family scion had offered $100 to a policeman "not to arrest him".

LOSES APPEAL

Toronto, Nov. 10 — (CP)—Ontario Court of Appeal Tuesday dismissed an appeal by Rosario St. Denis against his conviction at Cayuga on a charge of armed robbery. Time served pending the hearing of the appeal will count.

Interment took place at Frankford Cemetery. The bearers were Charles Treverton, Roy Boldrick, Cecil Sine, John Chisholm, Lawrence Ketcheson and Arthur Clare.

Gang Blamed For Assault On Policeman

Toronto, Nov. 10 — (CP) — Police officials today said a gang bent on vengeance was responsible for a brutal assault on Police Constable John Gaw in an East Toronto park late Tuesday night. Gaw suffered blackened eyes and a broken nose. One knee cap was broken from repeated kicks of his assailants.

Police said the gang was one which Gaw had scattered several times. He was waylaid on his way home from duty.

His wrist watch and wallet were taken by the thugs who left him unconscious.

During a search of the park police found the body of William Clancy, 55, of Toronto, in a clump of bushes. Officials said they believe the man's death was due to natural causes, and said there is no connection between the two cases.

Arrested for Indecent Assault and Theft

Toronto, Nov. 10 — (CP) — Richard Frewin, 21, was charged with robbery and indecent assault today following an attack early this morning on a 20-year-old Toronto girl returning home from work during a power cut-off.

Police said the girl was walking in York township when a man came up from behind and grabbed her. Police said street lights were out.

After the attack the girl said the man left with her purse. She went directly to the police who picked up Frewin a short time later.

Dog Sits Down To Lord Mayor's Banquet

London, Nov. 10 — (CP)—A dog sat down to dinner Tuesday night with 800 dignified and somewhat amazed members of London society at the Lord Mayor's banquet.

A disdainful - looking black-and-tan Pekinese named Black Knight, whose ancestors go back to the time of the Ming dynasty, arrived for the dinner at the Guildhall in a limousine. He was carried by Lady Munnings, wife of Sir Alfred Munnings, president of the Royal Academy.

Black Knight lapped up a little turtle soup, then took a couple of licks of champagne—Hollinger 1937 — and tackled a little roast partridge.

Only when the speeches began did he get bored. Then the only dog ever to go to a Guildhall dinner went to sleep.

Money Confiscated From Laval Given Back to His Widow

Berlin, Nov. 10 — (Reuters) — A large sum in United States, Swiss and Spanish currency, confiscated from Pierre Laval, former head of the Vichy government, when he was detained by American troops in Austria at the end of the war, has been returned to his widow, Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States military governor in Berlin, disclosed Tuesday in his monthly report.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Nov. 10 — (CP) — Industrials continued downward as trading slackened on the stock exchange here today. Golds firmed after slipping in early trading and base metals moved irregularly easier.

Steels and papers continued to lead industrials as they slipped steadily downhill. Utilities also weakened and foods and refining oils were fractionally easier. Losses were generally confined to fractions with key issues showing the widest changes. International Paper added ¼.

Base metals bounced up and down with action slowing up. Smelters recovered an early fractional loss only to slip in mid-session 1¾. Noranda, Quemont, Waite Amulet, Labrador and Falconbridge were among the later losers.

Junior golds continued active on mild advances. Hollinger and Wright-Hargreaves brightened in the seniors.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

Toronto, Nov. 10 (CP)—Trade continued rather dull on the local livestock market up to noon. Prices remained about steady. Receipts reported by the Dominion marketing service were: Cattle 1,000; calves 500; hogs 300 sheep and lambs 500. Left from Tuesday's trade were 1,400 head.

Plain to medium weighty steers were $18-$22 with butcher steers and heifers mostly $17-$21 with boners downward to $14. Butcher cows were $13-$17.50 with canners and cutters at $8-$12. Bulls sold at $15-21. Fed yearlings were $20-$28 with a few good feeders at $20-$21.

BUFFALO LIVESTOCK

Buffalo, N.Y., Nov. 10 (AP)—Cattle 400. Beef cows $17-$19; fat dairy type $17-$18.50; cutters $14.50-$16.50 canners $12.50-$14; good weighty sausage bulls $21-$23.

Calves 100. Good, choice $34-$35; common, medium $28-$33.

Hogs. Good, choice $22-$24.50; good sows $20-$23.

Lambs and sheep 200; good, choice eligible to $26. Good, choice ewes eligible to $10.

HOGS

Toronto, Nov. 10 — (CP) — Hog prices at Stratford settled this morning, unchanged from last quotation. Grade A were $30.60 to farmers, delivered and $30.75 to truckers. At Hull, hogs off truck were unquoted. Grade A dressed were unchanged at $30.25, delivered.

CHEESE BOARD

A price of 34¼ cents for colored cheese was realized on the Belleville Cheese Board Tuesday evening when only 625 cheese were offered for sale. All factories offering colored cheese accepted the above price but five factories refused to sell their white cheese at 32¾ cents. Only 87 white cheese were sold at this price.

Only November cheese were offered on the board with members voting to meet again next week. The factories represented and the cheese each offered were as follows:

Britain's Gives $1,605,380,000 To Other Lands

London, Nov. 10 — (Reuters) — Britain has given £401,345,000 ($1,605,380,000) to other countries since the end of the war, Christopher Mayhew, undersecretary for foreign affairs, said in parliament Tuesday night.

This covered free supplies and services, straight grants, debt cancellations, contributions to international relief organizations and other non-recoverable items.

They include £155,000,000 to U.N.R.R.A., £55,000,000 to Italy, £49,000,000 for civil affairs following liberation in Europe, £31,000,000 to Greece, £30,000,000 to Malta, £16,000,000 to The Netherlands, £16,000,000 to Austria, £15,000,000 to Burma, £11,200,000 to the international refugees organization and £5,000,000 to Poland.

In Paris, Britain told the United Nations last night she is ready to contribute £1,000,000 as her share of relief for 350,000 Arab refugees from the Palestine war.

More Harmonious Relationship Urged at Halifax

Halifax, Nov. 10 — (CP)—Haligonians are hearing some straight salty talk on a subject that is tender and almost publicity taboo in this old port — naval personnel - civilian relations.

The straight-from-the-shoulder talk is coming from Rear-Admiral E. R. Mainguy, new flag officer Atlantic coast. It has already won him admiration from hardy bluenosers.

In a special memorandum promulgated to ships and establishments of the navy's Atlantic command, Admiral Mainguy gives a curt command that can be summed up in: "Behave yourself."

Admiral Mainguy said Haligonians had a tendency, when they saw a sailor misbehaving, to remark: "There's the navy, drunk again."

More friendliness on the part of Haligonians and more co-operation by the navy would lead to a more harmonious relationship, he said.

A haze of bad feeling between naval personnel and civilians, particularly since the sailor - led, $3,000,000 VE-Day riot, has persisted in ranging over Halifax. And the navy thinks it got blamed for a lot of things it didn't do on that explosive day.

Three Rouyn Hotel Keepers To Face Charges

Rouyn, Que., Nov. 10 —(CP)—Three Rouyn hotel keepers will face charges of selling liquor after hours, George Descent, head of the Noranda unit of the Quebec Liquor Police, announced here today.

Mr. Descent said that the three hotels were known to have sold liquor as late as 5 a.m. Monday, four hours after regular closing time. He added that special Montreal investigators for the Q.L.C. were here to investigate charges by Mayor M. Paul Cuddihy of the after-hours sale of liquor in hotels.

Mr. Descent said he was not officially advised that orchestras would be banned in Rouyn hotels despite rumors to that effect. He said, however, that acting on instructions from provincial headquarters he instructed hotel keepers not to renew contracts with their orchestras.

Must Strengthen Organization Says George Drew

Halifax, Nov. 10 (CP)—George Drew, National Leader of the Progressive Conservative party, told a group of supporters Tuesday night that organization will have to be strengthened if the party is going to win the next federal election.

In a speech at the annual meeting of the Nova Scotia Progressive Conservative Association, Mr. Drew said that if the party's candidates were going to win, organization was vitally necessary. But party organization alone would not bring victory unless the people believed that the Progressive Conservatives would carry out the policies for which they stood.

The meeting was one of a number of events on the heavy schedule being followed by the 54-year-old former Ontario Premier during his current tour of the Maritimes. He arrived here Tuesday from Charlottetown.

In his pep talk on organizational work, Mr. Drew said he does not think the party should criticize Liberals as Liberals. The Progressive Conservatives should rather make their purpose clear.

"Many Liberals will support us because they know that the present government has abandoned all Liberal principles."

He stressed that in the vote uncast in the last federal election rested the possibility of the party's victory in many ridings. But at the same time he warned against trying any "shortcuts to power."

"I hope that at no time will our party attempt to imitate socialism or any other allied form of government which has undermined every country in which it has been tried.

"I hope our party will stand without any fear of equivocation as a bulwark against communism ever becoming a threat in Canada."

Christian World Losing its Faith Says Moderator

Ottawa, Nov. 10 — (CP) — The Christian world is losing its faith in God, Dr. Willard Brewing of Toronto, Moderator of the General Council of the United Church in Canada, Tuesday night told a session of the Ottawa Presbytery.

Dr. Brewing said Christianity was becoming irrelevant even in the sick room and death chamber because of medical control. Books used to be permeated with religion, but now 79 per cent of the reading material in the average Christian home was secular. Gradually Christianity was being curtailed.

In an earlier address Dr. Brewing said the United Church would shortly launch a campaign to recruit 125 men a year during the next five years for the ministry.

"If we are going to get enough men and the right kind of men, we will have to magnify our office," he said. "We must fill the ranks of the ministers in order that the church will not be weak."

Thickest Fog Grounds Planes, Delays UK Traffic

London, Nov. 10 (Reuters)—Aircraft were grounded and road and rail traffic delayed in southeast England today by the thickest fog since last winter.

In London, after a spectacular crimson dawn, the fog settled down and blurred roads, railroads and airfields. Aircraft could neither take off nor land at London airport, and early flights were postponed. Normal conditions were not expected before noon.

Visibility was so low that, even when given the all clear, trains were only able to travel at a crawl. Bus conductors had to get off their vehicles and walk ahead to show drivers the way.

Northolt airport, west London terminal for scores of continental and British Isles air services was strikebound as well as fogbound.

The strike arose when the engineers refused to work a new scheme—endorsed by their union—providing for incentive bonuses. They claimed that it would affect their basic rates and that they would lose money.

$75,000 HEADQUARTERS

Kitchener, Nov. 10 (CP)—The Kitchener-Waterloo unit of the Army, Navy and Air Force Veterans Association today announced they will build a $75,000 headquarters here.

Work on the project will start "early next spring," retiring President George Blain said. The unit has already purchased a downtown apartment building at a cost of $22,000 and will remodel the building and add a two-storey addition to the rear.

MODEL HELD

Carol Dunbar (above) an attractive Hollywood model, was taken into custody after a marijuana raid on Hollywood apartment by narcotic squad officers. Howard Cook, a salesman, was also taken into custody. Officers say they found 40 "reefers" in the apartment and also an address book containing the names and unlisted numbers of many screen celebrities. (Central Press Canadian)

UEFFB Drive For $5,000,000 Planned

Toronto, Nov. 10 (CP) — A fund raising campaign aiming at $5,000,000 will be opened November 14 by the United Emergency Fund for Britain Organization. Of this total Toronto will be expected to contribute $1,100,000 to the relief of British families.

Plans call for an overall voluntary aid to Britain program with donations being used to send bulk food. Arrangements have been made to drastically cut cost of dockage, handling, inland transportation and warehousing in Britain. The gifts will be free from customs and excise duties.

Close Call for Airliner

Ney York, Nov. 10 (AP)— A transatlantic plane with 23 passengers — and only 17 minutes of fuel in its tanks —made an emergency landing in pea soup fog Tuesday night at International Airport. The Air France Constellation circled the huge airport at Idlewild, Queens, for more than an hour and a half while field officials tried to track down a small aircraft lost in the fog. The small plane later landed at another field.

GROMYKO GETS RED BANNER OF LABOR

London, Nov. 10 — (AP) — Moscow radio said Tuesday night that Andrei Gromyko, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, has been awarded the red banner of labor for "outstanding services rendered to the Soviet state in the diplomatic sphere." Gromyko is permanent Soviet delegate to the United Nations Security Council.

Champion Steer Class for Junior Farmers at Royal

Toronto, Nov. 10 (CP)— The King's Guinea's prize, offered to the owner of the baby beef champion steer at the Royal Winter Fair, has drawn 96 entries from junior farmers of Ontario.

The entry list sets a record in the competition for the 50 guineas (about $210) and the honor of showing a blue ribbon steer. Contestants must be members of the 1948 Boys' and Girls' Calf clubs of Ontario.

Exhibits must reach the fair not later than Nov. 20. Judging takes place Nov. 22 and the top-ranking animals will be awarded during the horse show that night. Then they are to be sold by public auction the following Wednesday.

The winner last year was Kenneth MacKinnon, 18-year-old farmer from Hillsburgh in Wellington County. And the Black Angus steer which won him the coveted award was later sold for $10,000.

Contest rules require that all exhibits be sired by a pure-bred bull and out of a cow of beef breeding. Cross breeds shall be considered the same breeding as the sire. Calves for the event must be born between May 1, 1947, and Feb. 1, 1948. Live weight of 650 pounds or more also is a requisite.

Fair officials have received entries from Brant, Bruce, Carleton, Dufferin, Durham, Grenville, Grey, Hastings, Huron, Kent, Lambton, Lincoln, Middlesex, Northumberland, Ontario, Oxford, peel, Perth, Simcoe North and South, Sudbury, Muskoka and Parry Sound, Victoria, Wellington, Wentworth and York.

Travelling President

President Truman set a pace in his election campaign which makes other records look faint. Before the convention which chose him as candidate he had travelled 30,312 miles. Afterwards his travels were intensified and all in all he set up so great a mileage that it is doubted if his record will be surpassed. He wound up with a whirlwind finish.

Speaking of this mileage the Montreal Gazette notes that the late President Taft was the first to win the name of "travelling president."

"Certainly he ran up an impressive total, which comprised 28,639 miles. But President Taft was somewhat in advance of his time. For his immediate successors were content with far more restricted movements. President Wilson registered only 10,550 miles, a little over one-third of Taft's redoubtable standard. President Harding advanced slightly, with a record of 13,336 miles."

"Then came President Coolidge; and the qualities of reticence which reduced his words to an historic minimum, extended also, it would seem, to his movements. His record went down to 6,372 miles, a little better than a fifth of the Taft standard. President Hoover added only 2,000 miles to Coolidge's movements. But with the coming to office of Franklin D. Roosevelt, a president known over the world, the record jumped from Hoover's 8,000 miles to a total of 29,332 — even greater than that established by President Taft. Now President Truman, in less than a term, has overtopped even the record of President Roosevelt."

"The presidency of the United States is evidently becoming, among other things, a roving commission."

Looking to the Future

Edinburgh festival this year attracted over 230,000 persons for the performances. The visitors came from all parts of the British Commonwealth. More than $400,000 in tickets was spent. Besides at least 200,000 people patronized events which were not strictly within the festival program such as displays of piping and dancing, Highland games and dramatic entertainments.

Well might Edinburgh, Scotland, the Athens of the North, be the scene of so great a festival. Scotland is a land of song and its glorious past influences its present in so many ways.

Before the last skirl of the bagpipes had echoed in Princes Gardens, Edinburgh, and the golden, flood-lit Castle had dimmed to its normal grey, the energetic Festival Committee had announced tentative plans for 1949. Next year's Festival of Music and Drama will be held from August 21st to September 11th. The Glyndebourne Opera will again appear during the whole three weeks, when Mozart's "Marriage of Figaro" and possibly Richard Strauss' "Ariadne" will be given. Sir Thomas Beecham has agreed, "in principle" to take part, and will probably conduct the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra in three Sunday evening concerts. It is hoped that the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra will again visit Edinburgh and efforts are being made to engage a small Italian mixed capella choir.

The enormously successful 16th century Scottish morality play, "The Three Estates," so brilliantly produced by Tyrone Guthrie in the Assembly Hall of the Church of Scotland, will be revived and may become a permanent feature of future festivals.

Tastes in Literature

The tastes of most people in literature, as in other things, set fairly early in life, and is essentials do not alter. In youth, the tastes are more catholic, and minds are more receptive to new ideas and new forms, comments the Royal Bank of Canada in its newsletter. It is well worth conscious effort to maintain this attitude in later years, for the results are many, and often unexpected. On a first meeting with modern poetry, for instance, some people may dismiss it in bewilderment; but put previous prejudices away and try again, and you may feel as uplifted as Keats' "watcher of the skies, when a new planet swims into his ken."

It is a good idea to buy books carefully selected to do what you want them to do. The very presence of a well-chosen shelf of books is elevating to the spirit, and the handiness of books will make it easy to fill in an evening, or a half-hour before bed, or a quarter-hour while waiting for dinner, or five minutes waiting for a favorite radio program. It is amazing how short periods of reading the right things add up to worthwhile educational achievement.

STRENGTH for The Day

Dr. Earl L. Douglass

A LITTLE-KNOWN BOOK

The Book of Revelations is a closed book to the average Christian. This is largely because people fail to read it in the light of the historical situation amid which it arose.

It was written by the Apostle John about the year 90 A.D. and was addressed to churches in Asia Minor which were suffering extreme persecution. Its message to humanity is that the unseen powers at the disposal of men are inestimably more potent than the materialistic powers in which the world at large puts its trust.

Too often the book has been used as an almanac in an attempt to forecast the future. It undoubtedly has much to say about the future, but its chief aim is not to disclose what is going to be but to encourage and sustain believers amid the challenge of present trials.

Revelation is a book to be read and reread thoroughly in these days of world chaos. It calls upon Christians everywhere to be faithful and never give up their conviction that the hand of God at last decides all issues, and that even though we must suffer for the right, the triumph we experience is worth all its costs.

"Be thou faithful unto death," is the command repeated over and over again. It is counsel not just for the Christians in the first century, but for the sincere and earnest believers of today.

Today's Talk

TROUBLES

Not in this world, at least, will any of us ever be without his own troubles. And since we are all in the same boat as regards them, we can only decide to handle them with patience and intelligence, trying to keep most of them in the infant class, not allowing them to reach adulthood!

Edward Everett Hale once wrote: "Never bear more than one trouble at a time. Some people bear three kinds: all they have ever had, all they have now, and all they expect to have." That's compounding them!

Even when only handling one trouble at a time, the aim should be not to allow it to get too important. Troubles are temporary affairs. They become permanent only when invited to become so. On the other hand, we are all inheritors of them to a greater or lesser extent. Handling them is the problem! And it is the way we handle our problems that makes them seem either big or little.

We wouldn't amount to much if we never had troubles. Troubles emphasize character. They are a test of patience, of self-mastery, and courage. There are even those who thrive on them! But what teachers these troubles are! They teach us to be kindly, tolerant, and magnanimous.

Troubles are personal property. No one else wants them. Even the old earth shies away from them, for, as Ella Wheeler Wilcox wrote:

> "For the sad old earth must borrow it mirth,
> But had trouble enough of its own."

Troubles and struggles, however, are what have made the great of this earth, and inspired them to persist and create, no matter what, come what may. All worth while of the earth have been those who went through trouble after trouble. Even Columbus had a mutiny on his hands, but sailed on, and on, and on. The world is full of troubles today. But time, patience and an unfaltering faith will melt most of them away.

Mackenzie's Column:

Chinese Situation Nearing Desperate Stage Says Writer

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press News Analyst)

This column rarely uses the term "desperate" in describing a situation, because that word implies hopelessness. But the position in China has deteriorated to a point which certainly is crowding desperation.

That unhappy land, housing close to one quarter of the globe's population has sunk so deep in the chaos of civil war and economic collapse that no man can predict her fate.

The question of whether Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek can maintain his Nationalist government and defeat the Red rebellion is a matter of anxious speculation.

The Chinese Communists, having overrun strategic Manchuria now are driving southard in China. The great northern metropolis of Peiping, spiritual capital of the country, is in a state of panic—a city of doom. The Communists continue their drive towards Suchow, the last northern gateway to Chiang's capital, Nanking.

Meantime the economic situation has worsened.

Deeply Concerned

Small wonder that officials in Washington are deeply concerned. Small wonder that there should be speculation whether the Generalissimo's government can triumph over the Communists.

As for Chiang, he gives the impression of having no doubts of success. He has called on his followers to prepare for eight more years of war against the Chinese Communists, thus tacitly admitting that it is a long, tough job, but he maintains an air of confidence. He declares that peace can only be attained by destroying the Communists throughout China.

State Secretary Marshall conferred privately in Paris Tuesday, with Communists throughout China's United Nations delegation chief, Dr. T. F. Tsiang. The future extent of American military and economic aid to Chiang's regime is said to have been discussed.

Seeking Plan

American delegation officials in Paris said state department experts are seeking a plan to reconcile the realities of the Red military gains with the American desire to give effective aid to the Nationalist government. At the same time William C. Bullitt, former ambassador to France and Russia, said in Washington he was leaving for China to make a survey for the joint congressional economic co-operation Association Committee. He hopes to return by Christmas with a report on China's needs to meet the Communist military threat.

Taproom Goes Intellectual

Kitchener, Nov. 10 — (CP) —Wartime "panic" drinking is over and the taproom of today is going intellectual. Bigger Planes, Radio Stations Needed in Berlin

Ottawa, Nov. 10 (CP) — Solon Low, National Social Credit leader, believes that what the allies need in Berlin are bigger planes and radio stations to counter Russian propaganda.

There was also the need for Canadian participation in the Berlin airlift, he said Tuesday night in an address before the closing convention of the Ontario Social Credit Association.

The allies must stay in Berlin. "If they do not, they will lose prestige—and Berlin."

Recently returned from a trip to Germany, Mr. Low said larger planes are needed to carry supplies into the beleaguered allied sections of Berlin.

"Canada should do her share by supplying pilots for some of these planes."

"I believe Canada should stand beside the other members of the Commonwealth to see that Germany does not surrender to Russia."

Radio stations should be established in Berlin by Britain, France and the United States to counteract Russian propaganda being transmitted daily over the powerful Russian stations in that city.

Mr. Low added that the Berlin situation was "one of the slender threads by which the peace of the world hangs today."

He admired the "magnificent restraint" shown by the allies in the face of Russian antagonizing behavior. If this restraint continued, there would not be a war in the "near future."

Loudspeaker Wires Cut Before Red Dean Arrived

Montreal, Nov. 10 (CP)—Very Rev. Hewlett Johnson, the "Red Dean" of Canterbury, was sabotaged here Tuesday night as he spoke to members of the McGill University Student Christian Movement — somebody had cut the loudspeaker wires before his arrival.

As the S.C.M. has no large assembly room, students had rigged up a system of loudspeakers so the group could listen in rooms and halls on each floor.

Only those on the main floor could hear Dean Johnson as he told students that dicussions for lasting peace would ultimately begin on the basis of the six points made by Henry Wallace, unsuccessful candidate for the United States presidency.

Dean Johnson said he felt "a dash of and spice of illegality" about the meeting.

"It would be that I am addressing a body of very valiant McGill rebels."

Dean Johnson was constantly heckled and at times stopped speaking until the crowd quieted.

The Anglican clergyman will speak here again tonight and Thursday night. His speech tonight was scheduled for the Church of St. John The Devine after an earlier request for use of the Montreal High School Auditorium had been refused.

SEEKS FIFTH TERM

Guelph, Nov. 10 — (CP)—Mayor Gordon L. Rife today announced his candidature for the office of mayor for a fifth term. In making his decision, Mayor Rife said this would be the last time he would contest the mayoralty.

He is standing for office to support plans for a new $1,500,000 general hospital, a plebiscite for which will go before the electors on December 6.

WINTER COUGH AND HIBERNATION

You poor geeks with "catrrah", chronic rheumatiz, chronic bronchitis, emphysema, bronchiectasis, winter cough, asthmatic wheeze, sinus trouble and "lowered resistance," often think you know better that I do about the effects of cold, dampness, sudden changes, and all that sort of everyday "exposure." Moreover being well versed in almanacology and experienced, you go right on worrying, fussing and spoiling your enjoyment of life in order to conform with the childish health rules handed down to you from people who ascribed most of the illness they couldn't understand to night air miasma, low ground and bad climate.

All right, Lay back your ears and go right on coddling yourself. But I keep hammering away at you for another reason. There is always the possibility that some young ones will become interested, you know. In fact I find considerable compensation in the willingness of the young ones to accept scientific facts and the experience of people who know what exposure to cold, dampness and similar discomforts means.

Frankly, if you are not too set doesn't it seem absurd to weigh the exposure involved in walking down to the corner for some groceries or down the garden path to that famous structure on a raw November day, without your rubbers on, as telling against that of the forest ranger, the polar hunter or explorer, the sailor who drifted in the sea for days or weeks before rescue or the soldier who endured the cold and wet in trench or foxhole under enemy fire for days and nights? Without exception these people have found that exposure did not cause illness.

Don't let it worry you, old timers. You can still fall back on the argument that these people were used to exposure. If that is not enough you can say, they had good resistance. And you can dig up eminent medical authorities who at one time or another espoused both arguments. But you can't find any scientific evidence to warrant the belief that there is any such thing as being used to exposure or any such state as resistance, other than specific immunity as against diphtheria typhoid or smallpox.

Chronic bronchitis, with or without emphysema or bronchiectasis, is generally more troublesome in the winter time because the patient in the winter season—

1. Gets less sunlight or skylight on naked skin.
2. Spends more time in overheated, dried out atmosphere.

Fear of the imagined ill effect of "exposure" to cold and wet keeps the man or woman with "winter cough" from going out or staying outdoors even when circumstances make him or her free to do so. If the poor misguided victim considers the weather inclement or a bit damp or the wind too cold or penetrating, he or she generally remains indoors instead of getting out every day for a good walk.

Emphysema is dilation, ballooning, of aircells in the lungs with atrophy, wasting and weakening of the elastic walls of the air cells. When this occurs with chronic bronchitis the patient's chest is constantly overfilled with air and he or she wheeze more or less with any activity.

Bronchiectasis is ballooning dilation of one or more bronchial tubes. It occurs in many cases of chronic bronchitis (winter cough). It accounts for the extraordinarily large quantity of sputum brought up by a hard coughing spell usually in the morning.

More about this Friday.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Hygiene For Girls

Daughter, 15, has not yet menstruated. I am worried. Should I give her (an absurd nostrum)? (Mrs. O. M.P.)

Answer—I'll keep it secret Ma'am, but don't let anybody hear you mention that nostrum again in regard to "female weakness." Send a stamped self addressed envelope and ask in writing for pamphlet Hygiene for Girls and Health for Women.

Thumb Sucking

My 5 months old son has the habit of sucking his thumb. He has been doing this since he was two months old. At times he would rather suck his thumb than take his bottle. (Mrs. W. N. C.)

Answer—The infant was cheated out of his birthright. The bottle permits milk to flow too rapidly. The feeding intervals should be more frequent — every hour or two, rather than on four-hour schedule. Send stamped self addressed envelope for pamphlet on Thumb-Sucking.

ONE MINUTE NEWS ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

PISTON PACKING SERVES 20 YEARS

Recently your Johns-Manville reporter saw an Asbestos Packing that had more than 80,000 working hours to its credit. This particular seal had been in service 14 hours a day for over 20 years, on the piston rod of a large air compressor. Even after these hours of gruelling work it was still good.

Of course, air compressors are by no means the only place in which packings are used. Hardly a machine can run without these vital industrial servants. For example Johns-Manville makes hundreds of styles and types of packings— they are used wherever a seal is needed to prevent leakage of steam, air, gas, oil, water or other liquids.

In addition to the many standard forms of sealing materials, Johns-Manville also specializes in "tailor-made" packings for specific jobs. Years of research and development enable J-M to supply a packing for every application.

Canada Remembers Dead Of Two Wars in Awed Silence

Ottawa, Nov. 10 (CP)— Canadians tomorrow will mark the 30th anniversary of the ending of their first major war even as the shadows of international hostility darken the world.

On this Remembrance Day, the thoughts of millions will go out to the 100,000 graves in France, Belgium, Holland, Italy, Britain, Japan, Hong Kong and elswhere that tangibly represent the national sacrifice in two conflicts.

The ritual that has become tradition will speak its solemn voice from coast to coast, in cities, towns, and hamlets. The two minutes of silence, the bugle, the laying of the wreaths, the hymns, the hushed reverence will unfold around local monuments.

There will be no public speaking of the doubts and fears that will haunt every moment of ceremony.

At Ottawa, a Russian military attache will take his place in the line of foreign representatives who place their wreaths. He will be dressed in the brown uniform of his country.

Traffic Halted

The capital will see its annual observance take place at the national war memorial instead of before a temporary cenotaph on Parliament Hill. All traffic through the square that is the heart of the city will be halted during the program.

Hundreds of veterans and serving soldiers will parade to the stately arch and watch the Governor-General, the Prime Minister, a war-bereaved mother to represent all war-bereaved mothers, the foreign representatives and then the people place their wreaths.

A band will play. A choir will sing. A gun will signal the silence. A bugle will sound the Last Post.

The Governor-General will also place a wreath in the memorial chamber in the Peace Tower of the centre block of parliament where a book of remembrance lists the name of every Canadian killed in the First World War. From there he will go to a saluting base across from defence department headquarters to take the salute as veterans and soldiers march past a platform that will hold himself, the prime minister, the chiefs of staff and others.

Nov. 11 has been tacitly accepted as Remembrance Day for both wars. There has been some talk of changing it to a day that would embrace both conflicts but nothing has come of it.

Members of City and District Parishes Hear Bishop Lyons Discuss Lambeth Conference

The Rt. Rev. John Lyons, D.D., Bishop of Ontario Diocese, addressed a large gathering on Tuesday evening of persons from the city and district parishes on the Lambeth Conference held in Lambeth, England.

Speaking from the pulpit of Christ Church, after an introduction by the rector of that church the Rural Dean Rev. J. Grant Sparling, the Bishop spoke at some lengths on the various phases of the Conference activities.

The Lambeth Conference was held in historic Lambeth, England, during the period of July 1 to Aug. 8 inclusive. It was a world-wide gathering of 329 Bishops, and the result of nearly two years' planning and preparation. The Conference evolved, historically, from a suggestion by the first Bishop of Ontario Diocese, the late Archbishop Lewis, in 1867 as a medium through which Bishops of the world could gather in order to discuss problems confronting them in the best interests of the church. Passed by the Synod, the suggestion was approved by the Archbishop of Canterbury, Bishop Longley, and since its inception eight conferences have been held.

Commended English People

The speaker commented warmly on the systematic routine and smoothness with which arrangements were made and performed during the weeks of the conference. He enthusiastically commended the long-suffering English people for the gracious hospitality accorded the visitors at no little sacifice and effort While attending the sessions, the visiting bishops were received by Royalty and on one occasion tendered a social function by Prime Minister Clement Attlee and his wife at 10 Downing St. Winston Churchill was noted by the speaker as "a wonderful man and still the man of the hour of the British peoples."

The opening service of the conference was held in Canterbury Cathedral amid historic splendor. The Archbishop of Canterbury broadcast the message to the church and to the world at this service while seated in the famous St. Augustine's Chair, dating to the year 497 A.D. The speaker noted his impressions of the historic reminders of the progress of the church which are in evidence in this great edifice. The service was most inspiring, opening with the 122 Psalm and a congregational hymn sung by the noted choir of the church.

Discussed Church Problems

Having no legislative or administrative powers, the Conference met for discussion on church problems and to arrive at decisions which would be influential to the furtherance of the progress of the church. The speaker considered that the participants had obtained "a fresh vision of the Anglican Communion in its outreach in all parts of the world." Discussions were held on tasks facing each representative in his own area of the world. The bishops acquired a mutual understanding of each other's problems and a common understanding which resulted in fresh strength to the church.

The first two days of the conference were devoted to receiving the numerous guests and tributes. The program for the conference was outlined. A ten-day period of conference as a unit ensued, after which the meeting broke up into committees for discussion on various problems and topics facing the world and the church. Two weeks were devoted to the committee discussions, following which the conference met as a unit to hear the committee reports. After the reports were heard, suggestions were made and the committee adjourned to discuss these suggestions. The amended reports were brought before the conference and adopted.

Meetings in Camera

In commenting on the lack of publicity on the conference, the speaker noted that the meetings were held 'in camera', and until the issues were decided very little information could be given the public prior to the conclusion of the sessions. Within two days after the end of the conference a report was issued to all churches, and at the end of ten days a condensed booklet report had been printed for circulation, allowing the public an opportunity to read the decisions and procedure of the conference.

In speaking of some of the splendid church services which the conference attended, the speaker elaborated on the climaxing and concluding service held in Westminster Abbey. Describing the service as most inspiring, the speaker told of how the procession with the choir entered the church, filing past the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, and through the Abbey to the Chancel The music was supplied by the incomparable choir, supported by a band and six trumpeters, attending by Royal permission. At the conclusion of the service, the speaker described his feeling of almost indescribably deep-felt spiritual exaltation as the choir congregation, and band united in the Te Deum.

Replying to the query, "Do you think the conference accomplished anything?" Bishop Lyons stated that it was too early to assess the value of the conference. but history alone could give a proper evaluation to its success.

In reply to a second query "What did the conference do to show the laity how to discharge their duty towards the church?" the bishop urged his listeners to read the conference report, and take note of the six articles impressed upon the laity as ways to aid the church. The prime one of the six was "attend church and worship."

"It is a privilege, an opportunity, and a duty to make the Gospel of Jesus Christ the religion of mankind", the speaker concluded.

Rev. J. Grant Sparling expressed appreciation to the bishop on behalf of his audience for his stirring message. Mr. D. Cook, organist, supplied the organ music prior to the address and accompaniment to the congregational hymns.

Tweed

Special Music Features Church Anniversary

Tweed, (Specal.)—St. John's United Church observed the 56th anniversary of its founding, Sunday with capacity congregations participating in both services.

Rev. A. L. Sisco, B.D., the minister of the congregation introduced the guest speaker Rev. George A. Williams, B.A., of Toronto.

Mr. Williams chose for his sermon "My Church" and "The Price of Discipleship", both very appropriate to the occasion and interesting and educational to his listeners.

The anniversary service was further observed at the evening service, when the congregations of St. James' Anglican and St. Andrew's Presbyterian churches joined to hear the visiting preacher. Rev. Mr. Downing of St. James' assisted in the evening service.

Excellent Music

The services were featured by the excellent music of the choir of fifty-four voices, under the direction of Mr. S. H. Connor, principal of Tweed Consolidated School. Comments on all sides were of a most favorable nature, many stating that they believed it was the finest choir singing they had yet heard in St. John's United Church ,and comparing the choir with those of many city churches.

At the morning service the Senior Choir sang O. E. Excell's rousing "O For a Thousand Tongues to Sing". So effective was the presentation of this anthem that the choir was asked to repeat it at the evening service. A ladies' two-part arrangement of "Father, Most Merciful", (Franck), was most beautifully done.

Four New Members

At the evening service the Senior choir anthems included Maunder's "Sun of My Soul", in which Mrs. Sharp sang the soprano solos most pleasingly. This anthem displayed the skill of the choir in rendering both fortissimo and pianissimo passages. The concluding anthem "Saviour, Now The Day is Ending" was sung from memory, with Mrs. Connor singing the contralto solo in her usual pleasing manner.

The Junior Choir sang "My Task" and "Gently Evening Bendeth" (two-part). Their sweet voices contributed much to the effectiveness of the service.

Throughout the day, Mr. Fred Porter presided most capably at the organ console, and contributed greatly to the over-all success of the anniversary services.

The excellence of the music was in no small measure due to the recent acquisition of four new members in the tenor section: Messrs. J. H. Kellett, Harold Knapp, G. H. Cotton and Cliff Cotton, all from Sulphide Nichol's Chemical Works. Their splendid voices and knowledge of music have raised the calibre of the choir from mediocre to well above the average even for city churches.

UPROAR IN HOSPITAL AT PRINCE GEORGE

Prince George, B. C., Nov. 10—(CP) — Six displaced girls from Europe arrived here this week to work at the hospital and promptly became involved in an uproar.

Nurses' aides at the hospital refused to share the same dining room and living quarters with the newcomers.

It was understood today that harmony had been restored.

One of the nurses' aides was quoted as saying the trouble started because "we couldn't be expected to share quarters with untrained girls who are merely domestics."

Legion Attends Divine Service

Tweed (Special) — Tweed branch of Canadian Legion held their annual church parade to St. James' Anglican Church Sunday morning, where they attended divine service.

Rev. Downing, newly-appointed Chaplain, and life member of the Legion, conducted the service.

About 50 Legion members and ex-servicemen paraded under the command of President Len Taylor, led by the Tweed High School Bugle Band.

Mr. Downing in his discourse stressed the importance of bravery and endurance in a Christian soldier's life.

ROYAL BABY

Today princes can transmit princely title only to the next generation and princesses cannot transmit it at all. Thus the son of the late Duke of Kent is H. R. H. the Duke of Kent and a prince. But when he grows up and marries, a son would not be considered royal and will be His Grace the Duke of Kent.

If Elizabeth has a son when she comes to the throne, he will automatically be heir apparent — the title given to the eldest son of the sovereign.

As heir apparent, her son would become Duke of Cornwall in the peerage of England and Duke of Rothesay in the peerage of Scotland.

The heir apparent, however, does not automatically become Prince of Wales, as this title is conferred at the sovereign's pleasure. In fact there have been six Dukes of Cornwall who were not created Prince of Wales.

The last Prince of Wales, now the Duke of Windsor, became the Duke of Cornwall on the accession of his father to the throne on May 6, 1910 and was created Prince of Wales on June 23 the same year.

PUBLIC TOUR MINES

Wellington, N. Z. — (CP) — Regular sightseeing tours of coal mines in this district have been inaugurated by A. C. Baxter, M.P., who hopes to bring about a better understanding between miners and the rest of the community.

WEDDINGS

MORGAN—COULTER

A pretty wedding was solemnized at 2 o'clock on October 30, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Coulter, of Roslin, when their daughter, Lois Elaine, became the bride of Harry George, son of Mr. and Mrs. Murray Morgan, of West Huntingdon. The Rev. F. C. Beazer was the officiating clergyman.

The home was prettily decorated with pink and white streamers and white bells.

Miss Doris Alexander, cousin of the bride, presided at the piano and during the signing of the register played "I'll Walk Beside You".

The bride entered the livingroom on the arm of her father, to the strains of the Bridal Wedding March, and took her place beneath an arch of evergreens, pink and white streamers, white bells, and Autumn flowers. The bride was lovely in a street-length dress of queen's blue crepe, trimmed with lace, with black accessories. Her corsage was of American Beauty roses.

Mrs. Harold Elliott, Trent River, twin sister of the bride, was bridesmaid, wearing a dress of rose crepe with brown accessories and corsage of yellow roses.

Mr. Elmer Morgan acted as his brother's groomsman.

The bride's mother receiving in a dress of black crepe and black accessories, was assisted by the groom's mother, who wore a dress of grey crepe with matching hat and black accessories. Both wore corsages of pink roses.

A dainty buffet luncheon was served to about forty guests. Those who served were, Mrs. Clarence Kincaid, Misses June Sills, Madeline Robertson, Doris Alexander and Shirley Simpson.

The bride's gift to her bridesmaid was a strand of pearls; to the pianist, a china cup and saucer, to those who served, dainty handkerchiefs. The groom's gift to the bride was a three-strand pearl necklace and to the groomsman, a tie set.

Amid showers of confetti and good wishes, the happy couple left for a trip to Ottawa, and other eastern points, the bride travelling in a suit of loganberry-wine gabardine, with matching topcoat, and black accessories. On their return they will take up residence at Roslin.

PATRICK—DAINARD

A very pretty wedding was solemnized on Nov. 6, at 2 p.m., at the home of the bride's parents, when Lena Florence, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Dainard, Campbellford, became the bride of Ronald Irwin Patrick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calet Patrick, Frankford, in a double-ring ceremony. The Rev. H. G. Lester, of Warkworth, Ont, officiated.

Mrs. Budd Patrick played the wedding music and during the signing of the register, a duet was rendered by Mrs. Budd Patrick and Mrs. Douglas Buck.

The bride given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a gown of white satin and lace, with floor length veil. She carried a bouquet of red roses.

Her attendants were Miss Lillian Vansicklem, Norham, Ont., who wore a gown of blue rayon sheer, and carried a bouquet of mixed flowers and Miss Helen Patrick, niece of the bridegroom, wore blue net over pink taffeta, and carried a nosegay of red roses.

Mr. Russell Patrick, brother of the groom, was groomsman.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, at which the bride's mother, wore a gown of blue-flowered crepe, and was assisted by the bridegroom's mother, wearing black crepe with sequins, in receiving the guests.

For travelling the bride wore a brown suit with brown accessories on their honeymoon to Watertown, New York, and points west and upon their return will reside in Frankford.

Out-of-town guests were, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Eddy and family, of Roseneath; Mr. and Mrs. Don Dainard, of Campbellford; Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Demille and family, of Wooler; Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hillier, of Trenton; Mr. David Dainard, of Trenton; Mrs. David Fairman, (grandmother), of Toronto; Mrs. Ida Dainard (grandmother), of Hastings; Mr. Russell Patrick, of Frankford; Mr. Lyle Wilson, of Belleville; Miss Shirley Sagar, of Belleville; Mr. and Mrs. Budd Patrick and daughter, Helen, of Frankford; Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Solmes and son, Paul, of Batawa; Mrs. Douglas Buck, of Frankford; and Mr. and Mrs. Calet Patrick, of Frankford.

WILL NURSE PRINCESS ELIZABETH

Miss Helen Maud Rowe, of Camden-road, St. Pancras, is to attend Princess Elizabeth when her baby is born within the next few days. She will stay at the palace from four to six weeks to attend the royal baby. A temporary nursery has been set up in Buckingham Palace. If blue satin bows mean anything, the Princess is expecting a boy. The centre piece in the nursery is a cradle with blue satin bows, which could easily be changed to pink if the baby is a girl. Public Wants Traditional Pomp When Elizabeth's Baby Born

London, Nov. 10. (AP)— The birth of Princess Elizabeth's baby, expected this weekend, will be as unceremonious as Royalty can manage to make it.

But traditions that die hard in this land of long memories will see to it that the general public gets a good show of pomp and circumstance.

The King has tried to tone down the event. That was made clear in his unexpected decision to dispense with the "archaic custom" of having the home secretary come to the palace to "witness" the royal birth.

On this occasion, for the first time since James II became the father of the "Old Pretender", there will be no representative of the people "in the proximity" of the delivery room.

It was popular suspicion that James' son was not royal, but a changeling smuggled into the palace in a warming pan, that started the custom.

This time the King's secretary simply will telephone Home Secretary Ede, who in turn will phone the Lord Mayor of London. The Lord Mayor then will notify the Dean of St. Paul's Cathedral.

St. Paul's Dean will call out the members of the Antient Society of College Youths, an honorary group of veteran bell-ringers who will peal the bells of the great cathedral in honor of the royal birth.

Other bells will peal from Westminster Abbey and in the cathedral towns of Canterbury and York.

The King's Secretary also will cable the news to the heads of the seven Dominions, touching off popular celebrations in these globe-circling countries.

As the messages are flashed and throngs of Londoners clamor in front of Buckingham Palace for a glimpse of the new father, Prince Philip, the guns of the Royal Army and Navy will be unlimbered.

Woman Singer from Nova Scotia Finds Fame in Foreign Lands

By ROD CURRIE
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Halifax (CP)—Portia White of Halifax, internationally known negro contralto, says she is "greatly encouraged with the interest Canadians are taking in the arts."

Miss White returned recently from Europe after a combined study and concert tour which took her to Paris and London.

She said that during the past seven years "Canada has taken a new interest in the arts." She credited this to the "hundreds of musical and dramatic groups that have been formed throughout the Dominion."

She believes "that glee clubs and music festivals make children conscious of good music at an early age."

We should not have to import performers from Europe, said Miss White, as there is an abundance of "natural talent" here in Canada. "However," she added "I think it would be beneficial to import teachers to accelerate interest."

Commenting on her tour she said "If I did not love Canada and Canadians as I do, I should like to make my home in Paris."

In Paris, despite strikes and a lowered standard of living, the arts have not suffered as greatly as one would expect, she said.

One of the things which impressed her most was the fact that the class of people who looked ill-fed and poorly-clothed were the ones who patronized the opera.

She pointed out that the Paris opera houses are supported by the government and that the fees are so reasonable everyone can enjoy the fine music.

Miss White, member of a large Halifax family, received the greater part of her musical education here.

A pleasant, graceful performer, she is rated as one of Halifax's greatest ambassadors of good will. She will be invited to take part in the city's Bicentenary celebrations next year.

Marmora

Chicken Supper Features Bazaar

Marmora. (Special.) — The twenty-eighth annual bazaar of Sacred Heart Church opened on Tuesday evening in the Town Hall, and was largely attended. The chicken supper was of the usual fine standard and was efficiently served by the women of the parish.

The fancy goods table in charge of the Catholic Women's League had many exhibits of very fine work. This booth was in charge of Mrs. Charles Cook, and Mrs. James Black. The candy booth and fish pond were in charge of the girls of the Sodality and were well patronized. The home cooking table in charge of Mrs. B. Hughes and Mrs. M. Reid was also doing a good business.

Vistors from out-of-town included Rt. Rev. Dean Garvin and Rev. Father Walsh, Tweed; Rev. Father Hyland, Madoc; Rev. Father O'Hearn, Stirling; Mrs. Z. Lafontaine, Miss Colleen Lafontaine, Miss Ann Rayburn, of Tweed.

Women's Activities

ST. PETER'S W.M.S.

Madoc.—St. Peter's Presbyterian W.M.S. held their November meeting at the home of Mrs. Chas. Spencer. The president opened the meeting with a call to worship and a hymn. During the business period a nominating committee composed of Mesdames Curry, Brett and West, were named to bring in a slate of officers for 1949.

Mrs. Dave Blakely took charge of the devotional period with Mrs. Woods reading the lesson from St. Matthew, 20th Chapter, a hymn and prayer followed.

The topic "Looking Ahead" was ably taken by Mrs. Allan Johnson and Mrs. Blakely. They showed the great opportunities in India, China, and Formosa for the spread of the gospel as never before, as to how Christians in those countries help to support the cause by giving gladly.

Miss Vankleek read an article on India. The Lord's Prayer in unison was used for the closing of the meeting.

A pleasant social half hour was enjoyed. The hostess assisted by Mrs. A. Blakely served afternoon tea.

TABERNACLE W.M.S.

"The Faith whereby the Church Must Live", was the theme for the worship service led by the President, Mrs. A. D. Archibald, at the November meeting of the Tabernacle Woman's Missionary Society held on Tuesday afternoon in the church parlors. Quiet music with Mrs. Duff at the piano and hymn "Joy to the World the Lord is Come", was sung and Mrs. Archibald offered prayer.

The Scripture lessons were read by Mrs. F. Isard, Mrs. A. H. Fisher, and Mrs. F. B. Jarrell. Mrs. J. Brennan received the offering, which was dedicated to the evangelization of the world, and to the coming of the Kingdom of God.

In the business period which followed the secretary's report given by Mrs. F. Lent, and the Treasurer's report by Mrs. Brennan were adopted as read.

Donations were accepted for a gift of an illuminated screen for the use of the Misses Coultes and Willows of Maynooth.

Mrs. Duff and Mrs. N. H. Robb to have charge of the Christmas meeting in December, which will open at 2.30 p.m., when Mrs. William Harrison, Mrs. A. H. Fisher and Mrs. F. B. Jarrell will bring in the new slate of officers.

The literature secretary, Mrs. William Baird, was requested to order fifty of the United Church calendars to be sold.

The corresponding secretary, Miss M. Johns, read a letter from Mrs. H. Froats, a member who resides out of town at present, and Mrs. F. R. Harback, moved that an answer be sent to this letter, with the sincere wishes of the W.M.S. members that Mrs. Froats leave her membership with the Tabernacle.

Mrs. Arthur Charlton gave the 1st chapter of the Study Book on China, "West of the Gorges", with Mrs. A. H. Fisher, Mrs. Wm. Baird, Mrs. F. Isard, Mrs. A. Townsend, Mrs. F. B. Jarrell and Mrs. Robb, with the questions on the chapter. Mrs. Archibald followed with a talk on China, and closed the meeting with a Prayer of Thanksgiving for the pioneer missionaries to West China.

WOOLER W.A.

The afternoon auxiliary of the Woman's Missionary Society met at the home of Mrs. W. A. McColl on Thursday afternoon with an attendance of twenty-two. The Worship Service was conducted by Mrs. P. Gooding with Mrs. A. G. Austin and Mrs. Way giving the scripture readings. A reading was given by Mrs. Douglas Brown, a solo by Mrs. R. Redcliffe and a duet by Mrs. Jenners and Mrs. Vansicklin. During the business period Mrs. C. McMaster, Mrs .C. Dunn and Mrs. W. A. McColl were named a nominating committee for next year's officers. Mrs. M. E. Maybee, of Trenton, a visitor, gave a few remarks. The chapter in the Study Book was presented by a skit, those taking part were Mrs. S. L. Terrill, Mrs. R. Redcliffe and Mrs. J. J. Way.

Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Mrs. H. Gainforth, Mrs. P. Gooding, Mrs. C. Dunn, Mrs. Vansicklin and the hostess and a social half hour enjoyed.

ST. JOHN'S W.A.

Stirling.—St. John's W.A. held its regular meeting on Tuesday with Mrs. W. Savage presiding. Mrs. H. Smith acted as secretary and Mrs. B. Woodbeck presided at the piano.

The Visiting Committee, Mrs. Earl Morrow and Mrs. Edgar Morrow reported making a number of calls. Mrs. Savage gave the highlights of the Deanery meeting, held at Marmora, recently.

Mrs. Melville Tanner gave a chapter of the Study Book.

The program was under the direction of Mrs. C. Vance and Mrs. Morrow. Rev. A. J. Anderson, rector, gave a very interesting address, followed by a very fine reading by Mrs. Anderson.

The Society was greatly honored by His Lordship Bishop Lyons and Mrs. Lyons, joining the members for a cup of tea.

Mrs. H. Smith and Mrs. W. Graves will be the program committee for the next meeting. The singing of a hymn and prayer by Rev. Mr. Anderson brought the meeting to a close.

Mrs. H. Cooke moved a vote of thanks to all who had made the meeting a success.

WILL HELP SON

Mrs. Yvonne Barrows, mother of the teen-age youth who allegedly killed Colin Cameron MacKellar, Montreal textile executive, in the Waldorf-Astoria hotel, New York, is shown in her hotel room. Her son, Ralph Edward Barrows, 18, is charged with the murder and Mrs. Barrows came from Grand Rapids, Mich., to help him, if she can. (Central Press Canadian)

Madoc

O.E.S. No. 143 Installs Officers

Madoc.—On Monday night, Madoc O.E.S. Hall was the scene of the annual installation of the officers of Madoc Chapter No. 143, Order of the Eastern Star. The hall was prettily decorated with O.E.S. colors, for the year red and gold and baskets of bronze 'mums.

Mrs. Edna Broad, P.W.M., and P.D.D.G.M., was the installing matron, while Mr. Bill Broad asted as installing patron. They were assisted by Mrs. Bella Wonnacott, Mrs. A. McGlashon, D.D.G.M., Mr. Nobes, while Misses Jobson rendered two solos. Mrs. Lola Fraser as organist, Mrs. Georgina Nobes, installing chaplain, Mrs. Margaret Follis, installing marshal and Mrs. Myrtle Derry, Mrs. A. Kernahan, Mrs. P. McCoy, Mrs. J. Reid and Mrs. K. Holmes, honorary star points. The installing ceremony was very impressive and beautiful.

The retiring Matron, Mrs. Myrtle Derry was presented with her past officers' jewel by Mrs. Blanche Keller, while Jesse Reid presented Tom Lloyd, the retiring patron, with his badge of service. The Matron-elect Mrs. Ida Broad was presented with a sheaf of bronze 'mums by her husband and son and daughter. She also received many other gifts with the good wishes for a pleasant and happy year. A pleasant social hour brought to a close a very pleasant evening. Guests were present from Belleville No. 55, Minerva, (Belleville); Tweed, Havelock, Bancroft, and White Heather Chapter, Toronto.

Officers for the year:

Worthy Matron, Mrs. Ida Broad; Worthy Patron, Newell Broad; Associate Matron, Mrs. Theresa Kilpatrick, Associate Patron, Don Armstrong; Secretary, Mrs. Helena Whytock; Treasurer, Mrs. Carrie West; Conductress, Mrs. E. Club Activities

HALLOWAY Y.A.G.

The Halloway Young Adult Group held their re-opening meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. Hough.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry McMullen were in charge of the program. Everyone joined in the singing of Hymn 388 "O Master Let Me Walk With Thee".

The scripture lesson was read by Coleman Townsend. A reading was given by Beatrice Snider. Hymn 497 "O Safe to the Rock That is Higher than I". Mr. Shorten then told of his trip west. It was decided to have a pie supper with moving pictures in the church at Halloway on Nov. 17.

A contest was then put on by Mrs. H. McMullen after which refreshments were served by the hostess, and an enjoyable hour was spent by all. The meeting was closed by the benediction.

ST. ANDREW'S CLUB

Stirling—Miss I Muirhead, local high school teacher, was the guest speaker at the meeting of St. Andrew's Club, held in the church on Monday evening. Mr. George Crown presided, Miss Marilyn Eggleton filled the duties of secretary and Miss Doreen Fox read the Scripture lesson.

Mrs. Don McIntosh introduced Miss Muirhead and she gave an interesting talk on her trip to Quebec and the Canadian West. Her address accompanied by illustrations took the form of a kaleidoscopic picture of Quebec, also the interesting features in buildings and French life. The lakes and mountains were the main features of her talk on the Canadian West, which dealt particularly with the area around Banff, which is the headquarters of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police. Both of these topics included personal happenings of interest during her trip.

Misses Doreen and Mary Agnes Fox accompanied by Miss Marilyn Eggleton at the piano sang two typical French songs. Mr. George Crown thanked Miss Muirhead for her address which everyone enjoyed.

It was decided that the club would donate $20 as a thank-offering to the church. The meeting closed with the Mizpah benediction.

BEAUTY

By HELEN JAMESON

Facial Radiance Wins the Prize

Your features are bequeathed to you by your parents and grandparents. If you selected good looking ancestors, you are in luck. If you don't like your inheritances, however, there is plenty to be done about the matter. The color of your hair can be changed. You can glamorize your complexion. Certain make-up will play up your eyes. Your eyebrows can be remodeled. So why worry?

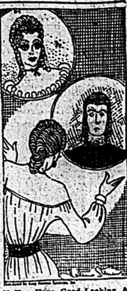
Better than all these benefits in the way of appearance is facial radiance. This you can create without spending a thin dime. When the eyes have sparkle and animation it doesn't matter what their shape or color may be. The plainest mouth can be beautified by a friendly smile. It is what you put into your face, not just what you put on it, that makes it attractive.

Because a woman has perfect features does not necessarily mean that she is beloved. Something more than inherited good looks, together with modern make-up improvements, is necessary. Another woman may have mouse-colored hair, a sallow complexion, a figure that would drive a dressmaker crazy, but, if she has charm and sweetness of character, plus facial radiance, she possesses an eloquent loveliness that knocks the spots off physical perfection.

Affability oils the wheels of human existence. It does wonders for the lady in the looking glass, with whom one must live all one's life long. It imparts warmth and lively animation to the face.

The woman who has a face that makes you think of a deep freeze should take a tumble to herself. She isn't getting anywhere; she never will. In the garden of women she is the touch-me-not. Nobody wants to touch her, put an arm around her. Her granite map keeps everybody at a distance.

Because she seldom smiles, the muscles of her face have taken on a sort of tenseness and rigidity. The contours of her face have no softness. Lips are tightly compressed, suggesting that she disapproves of pretty nearly everything, that she doesn't know the meaning of the word tolerance. She is, by nature, an antagonist.



If You Have Good-Looking Ancestors, You Are in Luck

This type of woman cannot hope to be attractive in any way. She cannot hope to be happy. She fights with the members of her family, she criticizes her friends, she is rude to people who wait on her in stores. That's how she got the face she has. She made it. It is her own work.

No woman who hasn't a kindly feeling toward her fellow creatures will ever win beauty laurels. No make-up will disguise a curdled disposition or a mean, small soul.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

He Wants a Divorce—She doesn't

When a man wants a divorce and his wife, for whatever reason, doesn't want to give it to him, does she gain anything by her refusal?

The answer to that, as I see it, is that whether she gains or not, depends on her particular circumstances.

For example, I doubt very much if the woman who writes me the following letter is going to gain anything at all by insisting that her husband stay married to her.

Here is her story:

"My husband and I have been married several years and have three small children. I did and still do love my husband very sincerely, but now I wonder if it is possible to both hate and love a man at the same time."

She then goes on to say that her husband is the type of man who is swayed by practically any pretty face or figure; that she suspects him of having had a number of affairs, which he refuses to admit. On the contrary, when she has confronted him with what she believes to be evidence of his philandering, he becomes abusive, and has even gone so far as to strike her.

In addition to this personal violence, he takes delight in subtly taunting and humiliating her in public.

"He is so clever at baiting me," she writes, "that our friends never notice anything but my own nastiness, so that I appear to be the unreasonably jealous, catty, nagging wife of a martyr husband".

At this time she believes her husband to be having an affair with a woman in their immediate social circle.

"He hasn't really admitted he is having an affair with her," she says, "but he doesn't deny it, either. Instead, he enjoys taunting me about it, and says if I do not like what he does to get a divorce. I have explained that because of the children, I will not get a divorce, and begged him to consider their lives. He seems however, to really want a divorce although he has convinced our friends that he doesn't if I will stop my jealous nagging. I don't particularly blame this woman, because there have been others before her, and he has probably done a perfect job of selling her the idea that I am the trouble-maker and he the patient, abused martyr. What can I do to hold our children's home together?"

Now, as I said in the beginning, I doubt very much if this woman is going to gain anything at all, even for her children, by trying to hold a husband who wants to leave her. The argument that a home should be held together because of the children does not seem to me a valid one. The word "home" implies a happy place where love is, and where a family lives together in peace and harmony. If these conditions do not prevail, the home is no home at all but merely a mockery of one, and almost certain to harm children more than help them.

Instead of letting her husband bait her into a state of mind where she gives him grounds for presenting her to other women as a jealous, nagging wife, she would be far better off, I am sure, if she would tell him he can leave any time he wants to.

She could then decide whether she wished to divorce him, on the ground of his infidelity, or, if she preferred to remain, married to him, she could sue for a separation. In either case, he would have to assume the burden of support of herself and the children.

In the event she is unwilling to do either of these, however all she can do is to stop quarrelling with her husband and let him go his own way. For as things stand now, she is only making an unhappy home still more unhappy for her children by keeping up this constant fighting.

Fashion Flashes

GOOD THEATRE suits are one of the season's delights. Black broadcloth is used for a slim, long-skirted suit, with the jacket cut like that of a man's smoking jacket, and worn with an ermine pillbox and muff and a rhinestone-touched black satin blouse.

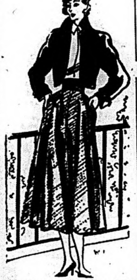
THE SHINING SUCCESS of satin for evening is well expressed in a slim dinner dress of slipper satin in deep eggplant purple. Deep neckline is straight, with wide, slanting sides. Shoulders are squared; sleeves are long and tight. From the beltless waist at the side, the skirt falls to the hem in a double cascade and is deeply slashed.

BRIGHT TOUCHES of beads and embroidery bring new interest to blouses. Blue, red and crystal beads, with touches of gilt, pearls and rhinestones, describe a fake necklace and pendant on a blouse of silk crepe.

NEW INTEREST for the fur-trimmed cloth coat. Taupe suede finished woollen makes a handsome coat, its capelet trimmed with a double band of Norwegian blue fox, with bands of the smoky fur for the cuffs.

HANDSOME INDEED are new shortie coats of mink. One in silver blue mink has raglan sleeves worked into a sunburst effect across the shoulders. Cuffs are split below a full, straight sleeve and there is a removable Ascot scarf.

For Town And Country



Grey Flannel and brown corduroy

By VERA WINSTON

HERE IS a happy example of the well-bred casual look in clothes, most functional, yet properly decorative. The skirt is of gray flannel, is gored, and has slit pockets at the hips and stitching on the seams. Over the simple white crepe shirt is worn a dark brown corduroy waist-length jacket bound with braid. A cummerbund of the corduroy hooks at one side. A beret of corduroy tops this neat rig, one that would be especially nice for a college or career girl, or for country wear.

MOTHER 248 POUNDS
BABY 17 1-2 POUNDS

The vital statistics of Conway, Ark., were given a bulky boost when Mrs. Ira Z. Hackler, who weighs 248 pounds, gave birth to this bouncing baby boy who tips the beam at 17 1-2 pounds. Other strange figures go on the records. Elmer Paul, the baby in question is 24 inches long. The father, Ira Hackler, is a brick-mason...63 years old. It might be added that Dr. George Harrod, the country doctor who brought Elmer into the world, was 79 years of age.

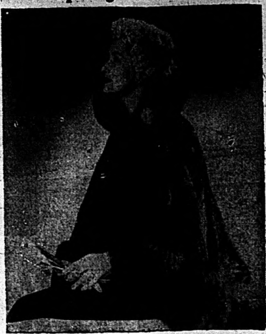
Opening the Season



The first Tuesday in November, this year saw the gala series of performances which had sixty times opened the formal season in New York City...the National Horse Show, no less, which is as big a break for fashion as it is for equine firsts.

Top hats flourish on the beaux; the belles attend in the most extravagant gowns or the smartest of new dinner frocks and hats. (Incidentally, the vogue for an inevitable hat with any evening gown short of the most ball gown type is with us again, as of pre-Depression and pre-Flapper Fanny...and a good thing, too.) In this photograph of a lady looking over the International Teams at the show, we have a broadtail cape with fox banding, designed by Esther Dorothy; a terrific diamond clip and notable diamond earrings, by Harry Winston; and a reverse ostrich (he has refused to bury his head) in a "wig" dinner hat of white feathers edged with silver, by Mary Goodfellow. The whole over a sleek black crepe dinner gown with futuristic pannier skirt.

Problem of Form Name to Use After Divorce

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

My divorce will soon become final, and I must make a decision about the form of my name after my divorce. I know that it is correct for a divorced woman to drop her husband's first name and use instead her maiden surname. But this a problem for me, because my maiden surname is also a man's first name, and so, in the combination with my married surname, it gives the impression of being a man's first name, instead of my maiden name. Can you suggest a solution for this problem?

Reader

My suggestion is that you use the initial of your first name. For example, let's suppose your maiden name was Marian Anthony; your married surname, Robbins. Then your name after your divorce: Mrs. M. Anthony Robbins.

Seating - Arrangements Place Cards for Small Tables at Buffet Party

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

At our Sunday evening buffet parties my husband and I are planning to have the guests sit at bridge tables. And, instead of not having the places at these tables assigned, we would like to have definite seating-arrangements. Is this correct? And for this would it be proper for us to use place cards on the bridge tables? And, if so, shall I write first names (or even nicknames) on the cards, or the formal name as at dinner parties?

Hostess

Yes, it is correct to have definite seating-arrangements for the tables-for-four or other small tables at a buffet party. Hostesses quite often plan to do this, so that they may seat together people whom they think will be especially congenial, or whom they wish to have know one another better, or for any other reason that seems a good idea. Yes, you may correctly use place cards. . . and on them write the first names, nicknames if you wish.

When Another Organist is Asked to Play at a Wedding

Dear Mrs. Beeckman:

In my wedding plans I have an organist problem. Before my family moved to this town three years ago I had always attended the church back home and we all knew the organist very well, both professionally and socially. I would like very much to have this organist play at my wedding, but of course I don't want to hurt the feelings of the organist of the church in which I am to be married. How do I go about inviting the out-of-town organist? And what about fees?

Bride-to-be

The accepted professional courtesy about this is that you should talk your plan over with the organist in the church in which you are to be married and explain the situation to him. It is he, not you, who invites the organist. Professional courtesy also suggests that you give the organist of the church his usual fee, whether or not he plays for the wedding. And you should give your home-town organist his usual professional fee, and also pay his travelling-expenses.

Frankford

Frankford.—Mrs. William Davidson of Deloro, visited friends and relatives in the village on Tuesday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Tarr have moved to Rainy River.

In the Trenton-Frankford mixed bowling league Wednesday night, the Petunias from Frankford, knocked their Trenton rivals, the Egg Graders, out of first place, by taking all three games from them. The other Frankford entry in the league took a firm hold on last place, as they dropped seven points to the Spark Plugs from Trenton.

Harder Bonisteel has returned to Frankford, after a trip to Florida.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Dafoe and Mrs. Fred Stuckey motored to Toronto on Wednesday.

The first regular meeting of the newly organized Frankford Lions' Club was held Wednesday evening in the Community Memorial Hall. A large number were present, and an excellent repast was enjoyed by all. Following the banquet, a number of business items were discussed, and committees were appointed. The Lions Club officially took over the supervision of the Trent Valley Juniors, which has to date been handled by private citizens of the town. One of the first items the Club will undertake, is the repair of the piano in the Memorial Hall basement, which was damaged by a would-be prankster over the Hallowe'en weekend.

Extensive work is being done on the hill north of Frankford, leased by the Belleville Ski Club for their winter activities. Some of the members of the club who have inspected the new site, report that it is one of the finest they have seen in Ontario.

Saturday was Poppy Day in Frankford. The local branch of the Canadian Legion reports that it was a most successful day. The success of the day was possible only through the splendid work done by the boys and girls of the village, who turned out to sell poppies.

The Badminton Club is completing arrangements for their Sadies Hawkins Day Dance.

Tom Johnson of Kingston is visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Johnson for a few days.

Owen Slingerland of Queen's University, spent the weekend in town, visiting friends and relatives.

Wesley Lohnes has returned to his home in Massey, after spending a week in Frankford.

SUB-ARCTIC POWER—Overcoming sub-Arctic difficulties and hazards, engineers of the federal resources department have harnessed a new source of power for development of rich mining lodes in the Yellowknife area of the Northwest Territories. Started in 1945, the project to utilize the tumbling Snare River, 200 miles south of the Arctic Circle was officially opened last month. This aerial photo by the National Film Board shows the general area of the development, which yields 8,350 horsepower for this rich mining area. (CP Photo)

Engineers Harness New Source Of Power for the Development Of Rich Mining Lodes in North

Ottawa, Nov. 10 (CP)—An electrical shot-in-the-arm has been injected into the dreary land of muskeg and snow just south of the Arctic Circle.

Resources department engineers overcoming sub-Arctic difficulties and hazards, have harnessed a new source of power for development of hte rich mining lodes in the Yellowknife area of the northwest territories.

It is the Snare River Storage and Power Project, launched by the department in 1946 and now spilling out 8,350 horsepower from the tumbling Snare River just 200 miles south of the Arctic Circle. The project was opened officially Oct. 4.

As Canadian Hydro projects go the Snare River job doesn't bulk large; it turns out about enough energy for a town of 5,000 or 6,000. But its completion in the face of major obstacles represents an important page in the story of man's mastery of the north.

It is the most northerly power development of its size on the continent. And it was put into production only after a long and carefully - planned campaign against the tricky northern seasons, which fought the engineers at every turn.

Because of the short navigation season on northern rivers, transportation was the major obstacle The builders utilized everything including barges, planes and sleds to get their 2,400 tons of material and equipment to the power site

In the summer of 1947, part of the gear was moved by water From the railroad at Waterways Alta., it was floated down the Athabaska River, toted over a 12-mile portage to the Slave River and down the Slave to Great Slave Lake. It was ferried across the lake to assembly points for winter haulage to the dam-site.

Because of pressure ridges and gaps in the ice, a lake haul during the winter was a ticklish job Tractor trains made the haul proceded by scouting snowmobiles testing the ice. The route was inspected daily by a small plane.

One tractor broke through and sank in 24 feet of water, but its driver escaped with the rest of the train. The tractor was recovered later. That was the only mishap in the hauling of $500,000 worth of material across the ice.

Power from the project now is going to the giant Yellowknife Gold Mines, Ltd., so far the only actual customer, but by next summer it will be piped to the town of Yellowknife near that mining site 94 miles south of the Snare River site.

A town of about 3,000, Yellowknife now gets its power from its own diesel plant and from Consolidated Mining and Smelting Company. The Snare River horsepower will enable the townsfolk to indulge in such luxuries as electric stoves.

SMITH BROTHERS BLACK COUGH DROPS

Attempt to Save Fire-Blackened White, Jack Pine

Blind River, Nov. 10 — (CP)—One of the biggest timber salvage jobs ever tackled in Canada is going full blast in the fire-blackened Mississagi forest northwest of here.

Its object is to reclaim as much as possible of the valuable white pine and jack pine scathed last summer by the red hot breath of Northern Ontario's giant forest fires. Fire-killed timber, worth perhaps $10,000,000 altogether, is being cut down and put into the Mississagi River as protection against insect damage.

Lands department officials estimate that the 900 men engaged in the operation will save up to 200,000,000 board feet of timber, equivalent to one-third of the total normal yearly yield of Ontario forests.

The men, crack woods workers supplied on a contract basis by some of the north country's largest timber operators, are working against time. Unless the most valuable stands of pine are salvaged before spring, insect attacks next summer could cause heavy damage.

Does Little Damage

The case of second-rate timber and the pulpwood in the burnt-over stands is less pressing. Operations next year and in other seasons to come will deal with it. Insect attack on pulpwood inflicts little damage, so far as the market price and the demand for pulp logs is concerned.

The best of the salvaged timber may find its way into railway ties or gold-mine props and shoring. Some of it will be used in heavy construction calling for high-grade material.

In the most heavily burned limits of the Mississagi, the fires, which burned from late May until the end of July, destroyed much of the fruits of 100 years of growth. But the ashes had barely cooled before foresters started replanting the trees by dropping seeds from planes. Already most of the seeds have sprouted and taken root.

Ameliasburg

Ameliasburg.—Varied flowers with evergreens and Autumn leaves formed an inviting setting for the seventy-sixth anniversary of Burr's United Church at the Sunday evening service.

Rev. J. F. Lane gave an impressive sermon from Luke 9-62; to a well-filled house. The musical portion of the service contributed by Wellington choir and leader, Mr. T. Fillingham added much to the essence of Worship. Solo parts were given by Mr. Reg. Bishop and Miss Harvey.

As a mark of appreciation, members of the choir, with Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Lane and those responsible for their transportation, were graciously invited to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ewart and Douglas Harns, where assisted by members of the congregation they were served refreshments. A thank offering of over $140 was received.

A large number of friends of the recent bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McFaul, gathered at Allisonville Hall on Friday evening and showered them with many lovely and useful gifts and a host of good wishes.

Mrs. J. E. Moran, Crofton, was guest of honor on Friday evening at a birthday dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ross and Ronald Burr. Other guests included. Mrs. Elwood Spencer, Centre; Mr. George Huffman, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Huffman and Jimmy.

Mr. Murney Parks has gone north for the deer hunting season.

Mrs. Murney Parks has strained the ligaments of her leg from the effects of a fall which has necessitated the wearing of a cast for several weeks.

MIGRAINE: "I suffer periodically from migraine headaches which nearly drive me mad. Is there any cure for them? By the way, what does migraine mean?"

Usually the ache is in one side of the head; hence the name "migraine," a corruption of the Latin term "hemicrania" meaning half the head. Migraine headaches, the doctors tell us, result from eye-strain, nerve-strain, worry and too much fussy attention to detail. Such headaches usually attack high-strung folks who try to load too much into one day. The doctors' advice—take it easier.

VITAMIN E: "What is the source of vitamin E? I've read that Dr. Vogel advocates vitamin E for heart and kidneys."

Sources of Vitamin E are: wheat-germ oil and leafy green vegetables such as lettuce, spinach and watercress.

FLOUR BAG LETTERING: "I have saved up forty flour bags! But can't remove the lettering. Do you have a good solution? The cotton is so firm."

One successful method is to wet the lettering in vinegar, rub lard into all the lettering, roll up and leave overnight. In the morning, wash in warm soapy water. Another method is to soak the bags in a solution of half water glass and half water overnight, then wash out in the morning.

LIPSTICK: "How can I remove lipstick from my chenille bedspread? My small son got hold of my lipstick and I wish you could see the spread!"

Tamblyn's have a lipstick remover called Liporem, which should make short work of the stains.

Rev. J. O'Gorman Vicar-General of Chaplains, Dies

Timmins, Nov. 10 — (CP) — Rev. John R. O'Gorman, 68, English-speaking vicar-general of the Canadian armed services in the Second World War, died Tuesday night after a long illness.

He was the first Roman Catholic priest to say mass in such parts of Northern Ontario and Northwestern Quebec as Earlton, Englehart, Elk Lake, Gowganda, Larder Lake, Tomstown, Matheson, Val Gagne, Cochrane and Amos.

Father O'Gorman spent 25 months overseas as a Canadian army chaplain during the First World War.

When the Second World War broke out, he enlisted immediately and was appointed head Roman Catholic chaplain of Military District No. 3 with headquarters in Kingston and was named English-speaking vicar-general of the entire armed services. He assisted in much of the organizational work of the chaplain service.

He was discharged from the army in 1944 with the rank of lieutenant-colonel and returned to his duties as parish priest of the Church of the Nativity here.

Born in Renfrew

Born in Renfrew, Ont., in 18880, he obtained his early education in the Renfrew Separate School and in Renfrew High School. Then he was graduated from University of Ottawa with his Bachelor of Arts degree in honor philosophy. His theological education was obtained at the Grand Seminary in Montreal from which he was ordained Dec. 17, 1904.

His first appointment was at Brudenell, Ont. From there he went to Haileybury, then a pioneer settlement, to Cobalt and then to Timmins.

He went to Rome in 1909 to study and remained more than a year on the continent, travelling extensively.

Survivors include five brothers, Msgr. M. J. O'Gorman and Dr. Vincent O'Gorman of Edmonton, and George, Daniel and Thomas of Toronto, and a sister, Mrs. P. J. Passett of Cobalt.

Will Lie in State

The body will lie in state at the Church of the Nativity, Timmins, Wednesday afternoon until the funeral mass Thursday morning led by Right Rev. Louis Rheaume, Bishop of Timmins. It will then be sent to Renfrew, where it will lie in state in St. Francis Xavier Church Friday night until solemn mass conducted Saturday morning by Msgr. M. J. O'Gorman, pastor of Sacred Heart Church, Edmonton. Burial will be in the Roman Catholic Cemetery in Renfrew.

FREE DRESSINGS

More than 100,000 free cancer dressings have been provided by the Canadian Cancer Society to sufferers in the Toronto area.

Missing Child Dies Within Hour After Being Found

Arden, Man., Nov. 10 (CP) — The most intensive search ever carried out in this district 95 miles northwest of Winnipeg—extending over 23 hours and involving 450 volunteers — has come to a tragic ending.

The object of the search, 18-months-old Rose Marie Lemky, died en route to hospital at Neepawa Tuesday after being found semi-conscious by six searchers. She had been missing from her farm home since Monday afternoon.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Lemky, were reported to be in Neepawa, 15 miles away, when the tot was found huddled in a clump of bushes 1½ miles from her home.

An R. C. A. F. helicopter from the joint air school at Rivers, Man., and used in the successful search for five naval personnel rescued from northern Saskatchewan in September, participated in the hunt for the little girl for two hours yesterday.

Exhaustion evidently had overtaken her. She appeared to have fallen in her tracks and to have made no effort to protect herself from an overnight temperature of 20 degrees.

Dr. W. A. Howden of Neepawa attributed death to exposure. A postmortem examination will be made.

Relatives said Mrs. Lemky had left the girl and her four-year-old brother, Kenneth, alone in the house while she visited neighbors. She had locked the door, but on her return found both children missing and the door forced open.

Individual Error Blamed for Death Of Parachutist

Rivers, Man., Nov. 10 (CP) — Individual error, not failure of equipment, today was blamed for the death of Lieut. Gerald A. Lynch of Montreal, 30-year-old instructor in parachute technique at this joint air school.

The young officer dropped 700 feet to his death from a Dakota aircraft as his main and emergency parachutes failed to save him during a routine jump Tuesday as part of a demonstration of combined operations put on for a party of 30 press and radio reporters.

The jump, timed to coincide with the visit of the press party was made by a special company of about 45 men whose assignment was to seize certain targets on the camp site.

Three Dakotas carried the company. Mustang fighter planes covered the group and the Dakotas followed up by dropping supplies.

Lieut. Lynch, a French-speaking Canadian, was one of the leaders of the group, being in charge of a "stick" of 14 men. His death represented the first fatality in more than 20,000 training jumps by Canadian soldiers since the Second World War. He had made between 35 and 40 jumps previously.

Camp officers described the chances of such an accident as "one in a million." A formal inquiry will be conducted.

Should Check Equipment

High officers on the station said a "stick leader's" duties required him to check the equipment of his men before checking his own.

It was believed Lieut. Lynch after inspecting his men, had failed to close completely the hook which locked his "static line" to an anchor line in the transport aircraft. The "static line" hauls the main parachute out of its pack.

All paratroops in training were impressed with the danger of failing to close the locking hook authorities said.

Control tower officers, who followed the jumpers through binoculars, were the first to know an accident had occurred. An ambulance reached the scene five minutes after Lieut. Lynch fell but he died about an hour later.

Stage Steadily Being Set For Resignation

Ottawa, Nov. 10 — (CP) — The stage steadily is being set for Prime Minister Mackenzie King's resignation, which, his associates say, will take place "some time next week."

Although no date has been announced, some observers believe the resignation ceremony has been set for next Wednesday. A source close to Mr. King said only a few people have been told of the actual date.

Still confined to Laurier House, in Ottawa's Sandy Hill district, the ailing 73-year-old leader of the party in power conferred with the Governor-General Tuesday.

Viscount Alexander of Tunis visited Mr. King at his home. There were indications that the resignation date and the procedure to be followed were discussed.

However, J. E. Handy, Mr. King's secretary, would only say that the Governor-General visited with Mr. King and had a "long talk."

Making Good Progress

As to Mr. King's health, Mr. Handy said the Prime Minister was resting quietly but was "making good progress towards recovery." Mr. King had been stricken with a blood circulation ailment on his recent trip overseas.

Following the Governor-General's visit Tuesday, a source said the ceremony in which Mr. King will submit his resignation will be kept as simple as possible.

As soon as Mr. St. Laurent is sworn in as prime minister, Mr. King will return to Laurier House where he will continue to live after his resignation.

He has been living at Laurier House since he became leader of the Liberal party in 1919.

It has been his residence during the 21 years he has been prime minister and during the years he has been leader of the opposition.

This was during the brief reign of Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Conservative premier from June 28, 1926, to Sept. 25, 1926, and the longer reign of Rt. Hon. R. B. Bennett, Conservative premier from Aug. 7, to Oct. 23, 1935.

Mercurys Wallop Stratford Indians By 8 to 2 Score

(By The Canadian Press)

Owen Sound Mercurys, smarting from the shellacking they took the previous night from their same opponents, swept back with a revenge Tuesday night to wallop Stratford Indians 8-2 and ease the memory of their earlier effort. On the two games the Mercurys came out on top a goal better since they lost to the Indians Monday night by a 7-2 score.

Led by fleet Tommy Burlington with three first-period goals, Mercurys win strengthened their hold on second place in the Senior Ontario Hockey Association race with the win.

In a Junior O.H.A. game Tuesday night, Stratford Kroehlers edged out the league-leading St Catharines Teepees 3-2. It was Teepees' second defeat of the season.

Burlington's three goal splurge shot Owen Sound into a 3-1 first period lead. Johnny Messmer started Stratford off early in the period when he beat netminder Tommy McGrattan on a close-in shot.

Mercurys were quick to lengthen their margin in the second frame. Murray Fife and Pat McReavey beat goaler Bobby Bindernagel before the mid-way mark.

Freddie Smith scored for Owen Sound within six minutes of the final session when he took a pass from Art Hayward. Bill Woodward counted his second goal for Stratford on a lone rush minutes later. Murray Fife and Dick Forslund each counted once to finish the scoring.

Led in First Frame

Joe Bragagnolo gave Stratford a first period 1-0 lead scoring on a blue-line screened shot past Don Campbell on a three-way play with Pierre Cadieux and Bob Houston.

Con Switzer, who scored both St. Catharines goals, got his first tally early in the second period on a pass from Gerry Toppazzini. Jimmy Pernfuss came back to put Stratford into the lead minutes later.

A third period breakaway by Switzer gave St. Catharines the equalizer but Pernfuss drove back and notched the deciding goal with less than five minutes remaining in the game. The win leaves Stratford in sixth-place in the scoring race.

Tonight Kitchener - Waterloo Flying Dutchmen clash with the league-leading Hamilton Tigers in the second division. In the junior circuit, St. Catharines meets Stratford and Barrie Flyers clash with Guelph Biltmores. The cellar-dwelling Toronto Marlboros play Oshawa Generals and Galt Rockets meet the undefeated Windsor Spitfires.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Members of the Belleville District Hockey League at a special meeting last night ordered a further postponement of the opening games of the schedule. Ice conditions forced a postponement of the originally scheduled Tuesday opening and it was felt by the master-minds that sufficient time should be given all teams to get in one or two practices. Ice conditions now are reported excellent by the Memorial Arena management.

Prexy Eddie Schrieder, commenting on the postponement said that he felt it was only fair that all teams be given a chance to practice before taking the ice in scheduled games. It was his desire, he said, to give the fans of the city, the best hockey the league could produce, and teams which had not skated thus far would not be in any condition to give a fair account of themselves.

As matters are, there are several counter attractions scheduled for Thursday night, which would serve to detract from a first-night crowd. Teams originally scheduled for next Tuesday night will formally open the league. And this brings together in the opening clash the Belleville Rockets juniors and Cobourg Orphans and Trenton Hockey Club and Trenton RCAF Flyers in the nightcap.

Due to the recent developments in power cuts and evening blackouts, the league games slated to start at 7.30 p.m. will get under way at 8 o'clock sharp. With the dimout in action from 7.15 to 7.45 teams will be dressed and ready to step on the ice for the pre-game warm-up the minute the lights flash on.

In the meantime all teams in the loop are arranging practice dates and the majority of them will be ready for the fray when the league gets under way next Tuesday. From reports from the various camps, all squads appear to have plenty of power with some observers of the opinion the league will rate favorably with the Intermediate "A" calibre of hockey. And incidentally, team managers will be interested to know that the deadline for signing players has been extended by the executive from November 20 to November 25th. All certificates must be in the hands of the league secretary by midnight the latter date.

Promoter Murray Swartz and the Canadian Legion here are leaving no stones unturned to make their boxing debut in the Bridge Street Armouries next Friday night a success. Swartz has obtained the services of some of the starriest leather-pushers in this part of Ontario, and all indications point to a fine evening's entertainment for boxfight fans.

Ronny Mansfield, Belleville, Wilf Duby, Trenton, Gerald Kilis, Trenton and a number of other local beak-busting favorites are lined up on the card with a standout headline attraction which sees Fred Harding, Oshawa, clash with Tommy Corick, Toronto. Heavies too will make their debut here when Irish Kieth McCoy (that guy should be able to fight with a name like that) and Rocky Dean of Oshawa scrapping in the big class. Bud Henry is back again while Glen Dafoe, also sees action.

Arthur Duncan of Batawa, has been re-elected president of the Trent Valley Hockey League. Charles Puffer of Norwood is vice-president and Bill McCaw of Batawa secretary-treasurer.

Nine teams were represented at the organization meeting: Lakefield, Norwood, Campbellford, Warkworth, Hastings, Marmora, Madoc, Tweed and Frankford-Bata Combines. There are three new rinks on the circuit at Hastings, Marmora and Lakefield.

Notre Dame can have its "Irish", the Army can have its starry backfields; Krol and Copeland of Argo fame will do in Toronto and Western's famed Mustangs can have their Parry's and McFarlanes. But ask any kid attending St. Michael's Academy which is the best midget pigskin-chasing galaxy in these parts—and you'll get a universal answer.

For the green-sweatered kids who carried high the football gonfalon of St. Mikes this year piled up an enviable record in midget circles. Grouped with the OSD and BCI youngsters, the Green completed an undefeated, untied season, winning all its five scheduled games. Furthermore the Irish goal line was crossed but once during the season while its starry backfield ripped over the opposition line for a total of 94 points. And that's a record of which any team should be proud.

Coach Jack Doran, is justifiably proud of his light, fast squad, and to the coach himself goes not a few plaudits. Jack is a veteran of the gridiron and has coached many a speedy St. Mikes team to victory. He had a powerful line in Lynch, Callaghan, Pigeon, VanNorman, O'Sullivan, Carey, Garvin, Nolan and Rupert. Fleet backfielders backed up their line with swift point-getting thrusts with Green, Schrieder, Lally, Whalen, Merrell and Barrett being the high scorers of the squad.

The team lined up with Lynch, snap; insides, Pigeon, Van Norman; middles, Nolan, Callaghan, O'Sullivan; outsides, Carey, Rupert, Garvin; quarter, Green and halves, Schrieder, Barrett, Whalen, Lally and Morrell.

DIVIDED VIEWS

London — (CP) — Special research is being made into the effect of automobile radios on road safety. Dr. W. H. Glanville, director of Britain's Road Research Laboratory, said there were two views: one that radios relieved driving strain; the other that they were a distraction.

PILGRIMS RAISE CROSS

Point Navarre, Que., — (CP) — Pilgrims from Canada and the United States visiting the sanctuary of Our Lady of the Seven Sorrows in this Gaspe Peninsula village, have donated enough money to erect a cross on the grounds. The cross will be raised before next summer.

Boston Bruins To Meet Detroit On Home Ice

(By The Canadian Press)

Boston Bruins will be on their home ice tonight when they seek revenge for the 7-3 beating they took Sunday from the first-place Detroit Red Wings.

While the National Hockey League's two top clubs are battling in Boston, Chicago Black Hawks and New York Rangers will be fighting in Madison Square Garden for the cellar spot.

The Boston - Detroit game means a lot to both teams in the early - season race. A win for Boston would put them — temporarily, at least — into second place all alone, two points ahead of Montreal Canadiens. Red Wings are riding a three - game winning streak.

After losing 4-2 to Chicago last Sunday, the crippled Rangers — all but goalie Chuck Rayner—got the worst tongue-lashing of the season from Coach Frank Boucher.

"You're big boys," he told them Tuesday, "let's see you dish it out instead of taking it all the time."

Defenceman Bill Moe is expected to play part of the game, despite a stick in the mouth in Chicago Sunday which has been troubling him ever since. He had just recovered from head injuries in Rangers' disastrous preseason auto crash.

For Chicago, the game is the start of a four-games-in-five-nights grind. Bill Tobin's Hawks move on to Montreal Tuesday, Toronto Saturday and back home Sunday to play Detroit.

Rangers and Hawks are tied for last place in the loop.

Coach Charlie Conacher of Chicago shifted the Conacher-Stewart-Bodnar line in early-week workouts. Gus Bodnar, regarded as a natural centre when he played with Toronto last year, was shifted to right wing with Jimmy Conacher put in the pivot spot.

The fourth-place Maple Leafs hope to have right wing Howie Meeker back in harness for Saturday's game — their only tilt this week. Meeker broke a toe three weeks ago against Montreal and has been lagging, despite a specially-reinforced boot.

In workouts Tuesday, coach Hap Day moved Flem Mackell up to Meeker's spot on the Kennedy-Lynn line and put utility man Joe Klukay in Mackell's slot alongside Max Bentley and Les Costello.

Both Western Junior Clubs Will be Strong

Saskatoon, Nov. 10 (CP)—Western football fans are assured of a top-notch representative in the East-West junior football final in the east Nov. 20, whether it be Vancouver Blue Bombers or Saskatoon Hilltops, the two teams left in the west.

Both carry impressive records into their sudden death western Canada final here Saturday.

Vancouver's line-up, minus 8 of the players who carried the club to an unofficial Canadian junior championship over Hamilton Tigers last year, is lighter than in 1947, but makes up in speedy plays from a T-formation.

Coached by Ranji Mattu, only known Hindu football mentor on the continent, Bombers also feature a wide-open style of play and a nifty passing attack.

During the season, the Vancouver team won six of seven starts their only loss being in their own league.

Operating from a T-formation, Hilltops are coached by Bob Arn, a school teacher who spends his vacations at universities in the United States where he picks up first rate football savy.

In 12 games this season, Hilltops dropped only one verdict—a 9-6 decision to Regina Bombers.

Eastern Canada Football Finals Will be 2 Games

(By The Canadian Press)

The Eastern Canada football final will be a two-game, total-point series for the first time in history if Hamilton Tigers beat Toronto Beaches Indians and make the finals.

President Jack Lang said in Hamilton Tuesday night both Ottawa Rough Riders and Montreal Alouettes— Big Four playoff contenders — had agreed to play two games.

Tigers won the first game of their best-of-three playoff series with Toronto.

At Saskatoon, Kent Phillips, Canadian Rugby Union president, said Tuesday night that unless arrangements for an east-west junior football final can be made before Saturday there may not be any final. He was commenting on a report from Myer Insky head of a committee set up to arrange for the Canadian junior final, that the group would meet to discuss arrangements as soon as the eastern finalist is decided.

Montreal Canadiens split up into two teams for an exhibition game in Valleyfield, Que., Tuesday night with the Whites defeating the Reds 6-3.

Proceeds of the game went to the Valleyfield Braves junior team of the Quebec Junior Hockey League Association, compensation for the transfer of star forward Bernie Quesnel. Quesnel, league leading scorer in the J. A. H. A. last season when playing with Valleyfield, joined Nationales, a Canadian farm team, this season. Valleyfield refused to give him his release unless they received something in return, and as a result the National League Canadiens agreed to play an exhibition game.

An ice "world series" between the American and the National Hockey Leagues is not far off, Maurice Podoloff, A. H. L. president said in Buffalo Tuesday night.

Podoloff told sports writers and broadcasters that relations between the two leagues have never been more harmonious. A central registry for the two was being considered.

Joe Louis, world heavyweight boxing champion, protecting a puffed left eye, toyed Tuesday night with 181 pound New England heavyweight champ, Bernie Reynolds of Fairfield, Conn., in a four round exhibition bout before some 5,000 fans.

Reynolds proved a willing, but cautious opponent. The champ was in charge throughout and emerged unscathed. The Brown Bomber received a slightly scraped upper left eye-lid in the opening bout of his exhibition tour Monday night.

The Professional Golfers' Association let go with an inflationary note today.

It announced in London that it will charge $3 a day to see professional golfing aces of the United States and Great Britain play for the Ryder Cup at Ganton, Yorkshire, next Sept. 16 and 17.

That's twice as much as it cost in 1937, the last time the matches were played at Ganton.

Canada's badminton team which meets India in Toronto Dec. 3-4 in the first round of the 10-country Thomas Cup competition will be named Nov. 23, R.B. Banks of Toronto, secretary of the Canadian Badminton Association, announced Tuesday. Trials will be held in Toronto and Vancouver.

First trials will be held in Toronto this weekend with singles and doubles players from Quebec Ontario and Manitoba on view.

In singles competition this week Dick Birch of Toronto, three times Canadian champion, heads a list of five players from Ontario. They are: Jack Muir, Bev Westcott and Don Smythe, all of Toronto; Ted Barber, Stratford, and Ted Pollock, Kitchener.

The doubles will bring together Pollock and Roy Smith of Woodstock, Canadian champions; Reg Little and Grant Henry; Muir and Westcott; Gordon Simpson of Montreal and Ken Forsythe of Winnipeg.

Edward Hanlan (Ned) Ten Eyck, the first American to win the Diamond Sculls at Henley-on-Thames, England, will retire as Syracuse University's rowing coach, in June it was reported Tuesday.

Ten Eyck, who succeeded his father, James A. Ten Eyck, as Syracuse's rowing coach in 1938 reached the university retirement age a few years ago.

The Philadelphia Rockets of the American Hockey League announced Tuesday they had borrowed Billy Walsh, promising young defenceman, from Stratford Indians, Ontario Hockey Association seniors.

Walsh will play with the Rockets against Springfield tonight and return to the Stratford lineup for a Friday night game. The 22 year-old Canadian will replace the injured Chuck Kraiger.

Baseball Draft Will Take Many Players to Majors

Cincinnati, Nov. 10 (AP)— A score of "bushers" more or less will leap to the major leagues today as the two top loops handpick talent from the minors in the annual baseball draft.

This is no catch-as-catch-can affair, for the big leaguers know just which players among the more than 5,000 eligibles they'd like to add to their rosters.

Chicago Cubs get first chance, having finished last in the National League, and Chicago White Sox, cellar dwellers in the American, reach into the grab bag second. Then the opportunity to choose a player alternates between the leagues, in reverse order of the finish in the standings, until Cleveland Indians get the final first-round chance.

Then they start all over until everyone is satisfied, or until a club's roster, including the drafted talent, reaches the player limit. Once a team passes its chance, it is out of the game.

Wrong guesses in the draftees have been numerous. A year ago the major league bosses, most of whom are willing to trade a bucket of ashes for a load of coal anytime, picked up 29 players for $272,000 in the draft.

Thirteen clubs grabbed off the talent but, of the 29, only seven stayed up for the year, four were recalled after being farmed back to the minors, and 18 failed failed to stick at all.

Cunningham Will Play for Alouettes In Rider Tilt

Montreal, Nov. 10 — (CP) — Montreal Alouettes' hopes received a shot in the arm today when it was announced that halfback Bob Cunningham would play in the Big Four play-off opener here tomorrow.

Cunningham has been one of the most potent Alouette groundgainers this season.

"Cunningham will be ready but he may have to be used sparingly in the opener," coach Lew Hayman said.

This cuts the Als' injured list to two men. Definitely out for the season is Steve Chamko who was high up in the running for the Joey Richman Trophy, awarded annually to the best Montreal lineman. Steve is in hospital with a kidney injury received in last weekend's game at Hamilton.

The other Alouette sidelined for the remainder of the season is Ralph Webber, 220-pound middle. He received a wrenched knee earlier in the fall.

The betting boys around Montreal who set the prices are rating the Rough Riders as 7-5 favorites to win the series. The Als are favored to win the opener with a three-point margin and the Ottawa squad is figured to win the second in Ottawa Saturday with an eight-point edge. The play-off is a two-game total point series.

"If the line gives our specialists a chance to perform, we can win." Hayman said.

"We've got backs who can run as fast, pass as well, catch as well and kick as well as they can."

Hayman has a couple of sharp passers in Bruce (Bones) Coulter and Steve Nemeth. Nemeth played his best game of the year at Hamilton last Saturday. His trouble this year has been finding a receiver that could hang on to his fireballs.

For ball-carriers he has an array that are potential threats including Virgil Wagner, leading scorer in the Big Four, Cunningham, Joey Pall, and Billy Bass.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 10 —(AP)— Russ Meyer, the pitcher recently shipped from the Cubs to the Phillies, is an off season student at Western Illinois State College and hopes to become a sophomore in December... a journalism student, Russ has been assigned to cover junior varsity sports this fall ... Lefty Gomez has taken over the job abandoned by Bob Quinn as contact man for a big sporting goods house .. rival hockey goalies Chuck Rayner of the Rangers and Jim Henry of the Black Hawks are co-owners of an Ontario hunting lodge called "Hockey Haven." Hope it shows a net profit.

All Work, No Play

Bob Higgins, Penn State coach recently sought relaxation from the strain of football by joining a mail order song "club" which teaches members to pick out tunes on the piano ... for a while Bob had some enjoyable evenings puttering around the keyboard ... but last week, with the important Penn game coming up, the pressure apparently got him ... Bob was heard dictating. "Dear Sir, please discontinue my membership. I still don't know how to play 'Home on The Range.'"

Time Out

Grid fans who have nominated Columbia as the last-minute-loss champ, had better watch Texas A. and M. ... the Cadets had a touchdown scored against them by Villanova in the last 37 seconds, by Texas Tech in the last seven and by TCU in the last 10 seconds of the first half.

ANAFs Increase Lead in City Darts League

The Army, Navy, Air Force team increased their lead in the Service Darts League by one point at the regular weekly games the other night, defeating the Follwell Supply Co. team by a 6-5 count. The ANAF'S now lead the loop with 37 points, a six point lead over the second place 9th Anti-Tank Regt.

Scores were close with all teams playing consistent darts. In some cases the matches were not decided until the last game had been played. All scores were identical with the Hasty Pees taking the measure of the CNR Veterans 6-5 and CNR Stores turning back the Anti-Tankers' bid for victory by the same count.

The league standing up to Monday night last is:— ANAF, 37; 9th Anti Tank Regt. 31; Hasty Pees, 26; CNR Stores 22; CNR Veterans, 21 and Follwell Supply Co., 17.

New Comet Keeps Astronomers On the Jump

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 10—(AP)—The new comet rushing through the sky was reported Tuesday "brighter than Venus."

And it was leading astronomers here on a merry chase; they were having a hard time charting its path.

Until they determine the direction in which it's moving, they can't tell when and where to look for it.

First sighted at a South Africa observator, the comet was later spotted by watchers in Argentina, Mexico and Australia.

Tulsa Oilers Carries Prestige Of First Place

(By The Associated Press)

Tulsa Oilers carried the prestige of first place into Dallas today for their second United States Hockey League game in as many nights with the Texans.

The Oilers downed Dallas 8-2 Tuesday night at Tulsa. A second-period drive that produced six Tulsa goals turned the trick.

Fort Worth, idle Tuesday night shares the southern division lead with Tulsa, each team having 10 points in the standings.

Jud McAtee and Dick Butler were the individual stars in the Tulsa victory. Both scored twice in the big second period and Butler pushed in another tally in the final period for the hat trick.

Art Strobel saved Minneapolis Millers in the only other game Tuesday night. His score with less than two minutes remaining in the game at Omaha gave the Millers a 3-3 tie.

The draw advanced Minneapolis to a tie for second with St Paul Saints in the Northern Division. The Saints invade Kansas City in the loop's only other game tonight.

"Our Gang" Team Rolls High Score In Major "B"

The "Our Gang" team of the Major "B" (Tuesday) League romped home with the high-score bacon at the Recreation Alleys last night turning back Blacks Meats' by three points to one with an aggregate score of 3147 as against 3029 rolled by the "butchers."

The Ontario Intelligencer team, suffering from the dim-out, took another loss, dropping four points to the Saco squad. Sacos scored 3092 to the printers' 2181. The remaining game saw the "Just Ussers" defeat the Army, Navy, Air Force Veterans by three points to one.

High triple of the evening was 685 rolled by Bly of the Sacos team, with Marriott of the ANAF Veterans copping high single with 285.

Al Adams was awarded the prize for high triple in the Open Bowling session, a Saturday feature of the Recreation Alleys. His score was 714.

The scores:

Our Gang, 3 points	3147
Blacks, 1 point	3029
Ont. Intell., 0 points	2181
Saco, 4 points	3092

MUST GO BACK

Cleveland, Nov. 10 —(AP)— Continual headaches may force pitcher Don Black of Cleveland Indians to go back to the hospital soon, physicians reported Tuesday night.

Dr. Edward Castle, team physician, said X-rays will be taken tomorrow to determine whether an operation is advisible. If it is, Black will have to return, probably next week, for several weeks.

Black left hospital only a few weeks ago in the belief that he had just about recovered from the brain hemorrhage he suffered during a game Sept. 13 with the St. Louis Browns.

Russians Set Up Six Road Blocks At Sector Borders

Berlin, Nov. 9. (AP)— The Russians imposed new traffic controls today in an effort to seal off the last trickle of supplies from the Soviet sector into blockaded Western Berlin.

The Russians announced they had set up six major road blocks at sector borders to inspect all vehicular traffic. The points are manned by Soviet-controlled German police with Russian forces in reserve.

No foodstuffs or other cargo are being passed, unless accompanied by "release permit" signed by Communist city officials. All other cargo is being confiscated.

The Soviet announcement said the tightened measures are necessary "to protect the economy of the Soviet sector of Berlin and the Russia occupation zone".

William T. Babcock, United States Deputy Commandant, said he believed the newest Soviet action was connected with Russian suspicion that the western powers would soon use only their own currency in West Berlin.

Business Spotlight

(By The Canadian Press)

All preliminary arrangements have been completed for the Maritimes' first aviation plant and work on its construction is scheduled to get underway the first week of December.

Fairey Aviation Company of Canada, a $6,000,000 subsidiary of the British Fairey firm, will establish the plant at Eastern Passage, the largely military-civilian airport near Dartmouth, across the harbor from Halifax.

C.E. Hibbert, general manager of the new firm, says that during the first six months' work on the plant about 100 men will be employed, and when production begins that figure will be jumped to 500.

The company's purpose is to design new aircraft with the preliminary work being done in England. Mr. Hibbert estimated that, without about 30 engineers "we could turn a new plane in 15 months" under that arrangement.

(Business week in its current issue says that Britain, the United States and Canada have framed a plan to make the Dominion an aircaft arsenal for the Commonwealth in the event of another world emergency.

The magazine published in New York, says in a feature entitled "Washington Outlook" that under the plan Canada would "take on the job of building transports and bombers."

The United States contribution would be largely "engineering know-how" on high speed aircraft.

Tuesday's Markets

New York, Montreal and Toronto stocks moved lower Tuesday. On the Winnipeg Grain Exchange, the United Kingdom was allocated 450,000 bushels of wheat under the Anglo-Canadian wheat agreement. Export buying in wheat and corn futures brought late price rallies on the Chicago board of trade.

Manslaughter Charge Will Be Laid Says Crown

Toronto, Nov. 10 — (CP) — A manslaughter charge will be laid against Vernon Welch of Aylmer, Ont., in connection with the poison death of his wife there, Deputy Attorney-General C. R. Magone announced Tuesday.

Welch was tried earlier this year at St. Thomas on a charge of murder but a jury reduced the charge to manslaughter and convicted him on the lesser count. On appeal, the conviction was quashed without a direction for a new trial.

Mr. Magone said the appeal court did not direct a new trial because there was no indictment on the manslaughter charge, the verdict of manslaughter having been brought in while the accused was charged with murder. He added that the judgment does not prevent the manslaughter charge being laid now.

Welch is serving a one-year term for escaping from the Elgin county jail at St. Thomas last summer while awaiting the result of his appeal.

You can raise the dickens with a no-trump bil. Or you can raise to show how many no-trump tricks you have. Which do you do? Depends on whether you know what it takes for a no-trump raise.

Count as one no-trump trick each high card; that is, each ace or king or queen. Know the basis of no-trump tricks for each hand. Each voluntary no-trump bid by either shows an additional high card.

An opener of one in a suit shows five suit tricks of which four are high cards. Thus, the opener guarantees four no-trump tricks even though his first bid is in some suit.

His partner is assumed to have two tricks. Such a partner must not respond with a bid unless he has more than two. Of these three or more, a response in a suit guarantees two high cards.

If either bids no-trump without being forced, such player shows another high card. Either is forced only when the other makes some takeout to a new suit. Or one of them has made a jump.

When forced to bid a player may have no more suit bids. He must then bid no-trump. Such a no-trump does not show another high card. It is not a voluntary no-trump bid.

See this pair:

SOUTH

♠A Q
♥A K 10 8
♦A 8 4
♣J 5 4 2

NORTH

♠K J 8 5
♦K 9 6
♣Q 10 7 3

The bidding goes like this:

South	North
1 H	1 S
1 NT	2 NT
3 NT	Pass

The forced south one no-trump bid shows no more high cards. The north voluntary raise to two no-trump shows another (third). The south voluntary raise to three no-trump shows another (fifth) high card.

Each no-trump raise predicts the high card type of tricks.

The Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Nov. 10 (AP) — Do you want to be a movie star?

Well, it might help if you hailed from New York.

And were born in May.

And had brown hair and stage experience.

These are some more conclusions from a survey of the "golden 100" top stars in Hollywood.

New York State is far ahead in the number of stars it has donated to the screen — 19 out of the 79 born in the United States.

Twenty-one of the stars are from outside the United States — eight from the British Isles, four from Canada and the rest scattered.

Horoscopers may find some reason, but it beats me why so many film stars were born in May — 14 of them. Closest months are August with 12 and September with 10.

The stage is still the best source for top film talent. Of the hundred, 77 have had footlight training. Fourteen had no previous acting experience and five came from the music field. Two apiece came from sports (Esther Williams, Sonja Henie) and radio (Gen Autry, Roy Rogers).

The average female star is five feet, 4½ inches tall and weighs 116 pounds. Top gal is Lauren Bacall at five feet, eight; June Allyson and Ann Sothern tie for shortest at five-feet-one.

The average male star is a fraction under six feet tall and weighs in at 172. Tip-topper is Dan Dailey at six-feet-four; Low man in the glamor poll is Mickey Rooney with a rugged five-feet-two.

Brown hair is the most popular among the stars, although this is a category that fluctuates more than the others. As we went to press, there were 19 brown-haired gals in the top 50, 16 blondes, 11 redheads and four with black hair.

Brown-haired males are even more predominant. There are 38 of 'em. Blondes total a mere four, redheads two, black-haired two.

The remaining four are hard to classify; they're in the toupee boys.

Mysterious Radio Broadcast In Slovak Tongue

Washington, Nov. 10 — (AP)— A mysterious radio station broadcasting in the Slovak tongue from somewhere in Europe has stirred official interest here. United States government monitors recorded the initial broadcasts of a "free and democratic Slovakia" station without pinning down its location. The first announcement said the station would try to supply communist-dominated Czechoslovakia with news from "outside the iron curtain."

Insemination Unit Described To Kiwanians

The intricacies and techniques of the system of artificial insemination were outlined to members of the Kiwanis Club at their Tuesday luncheon meeting in the Kiwanis Centre, in conjunction with the work of one of the newer industries of this area.

The guest speaker, Dr. Keith Mitchell, was introduced by Bill Miller as a native of the Owen Sound area, where he also received his education, and a graduate of the Ontario Veterinary College in Guelph. A veteran of World War II, Dr. Mitchell is the veterinarian at the Artificial Insemination Station which is situated west of Belleville.

In his talk, Dr. Mitchell outlined briefly the background of the process, dating it back to an early period in history when the Arabs were the first to use it in breeding their famed stallions. Since that time the process has been tried with success on most forms of animal life. The major use is made in cattle ,breeding, however, and Russia is said to be foremost with the development. The United States was cited by the speaker as being far ahead of Canada in their methods, choosing their sires by progeny tests rather than appearances and this has led to the development of finer grades of cattle.

Helping Cattle Industry

The process has been developed to serve the cattle industry in many advantageous phases. It allows increased and faster breeding over the natural method, allowing a farmer to build up a larger herd in shorter time and acquire a better grade of animal. It is economical from the standpoint of cutting down the expense of the upkeep of sires, and also eliminates to a high degree the hazard of disease.

Since its inception, the station and its ten sub-stations have encountered obstacles in the minds of the public, who, not fully acquainted with the methods and results of the service build up misguided expectancies which often lead to disappointments in the immediate results. These obstacles are decreasing as gradual education of the farmers aid them to understand better the work that the unit is doing.

The appreciation of the meeting was expressed to the speaker by Ed Logan, and the customary presentation was made by the president, Ted Schwab.

The attendance prize, donated by Jack Bonn, was won by Angus Duffy.

Group 2 of the W.A. of the United Church realized $105 from a rummage sale last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. John B. Dunkley have arrived at Pacific Grove California, where they will spend the winter.

When Mrs. S. P. Dodds entertained Cherry Valley branch of the Women's Institute yesterday it was the 31st year she has been hostess for the November meeting. Remembrance was the theme of the program. The tea table was centred with yellow 'mums and yellow tapers in brass holders The branch executive assisted in serving.

A spectacular blaze that did no damage attracted a crowd last evening. Starting from unknown origin, the fire swept through a portion of the town marsh.

Rural hydro cuts did not go into effect last week as the 6 to 7 p.m. time was protested by farmers. The new hours in Picton district are from 9 to 10 a.m. and 4 to 5 p.m. Either of the interruptions will be suspended if consumption is kept within the quota.

Little Benny's Note Book

Pop was thinking and smoking and ma was just thinking, saying William, do you believe women are serious minded?

My dear, there's nothing more serious than a serious minded woman, pop said, and ma said Well I'm glad to hear you say so because P. Willis Hinkle in his collum yesterday took the stand that the average man underestimates the brane capacity of a woman, and the naturel result is the conversational level between most married cupples is very low Now is there any reason why you and I shouldn't be discussing topics of werld intrist rite now at this moment? she said.

My dear, pop said. Start the ball rolling, he said, and ma said, Well for instants, what do you think of the future of the atomic bomb?

I think it has a brilliant future pop said. In fact, by present indications, it will be in sole possession of the entire future. What's your attitude on plastics as a substitute for everything else? he said, and ma said, Well, I hope not, I'm sure. I mean, everything in its place, but not anything can take the place of everything. I mean absilutely nuthing, she said

Very soundly reasoned, my dear, pop said, and ma said, Are you in simpathy with Marshall Teeto or Marshall Stalin?

I'm in simpathy with Marshall George, otherwise known as George Marshall, pop said. What do you think is going to happen in France? Do you think De Gole is the man? he said, and ma said No, I dont, I dont like his face. settles it. Do you think the radio should grow more serious? Oh dont take time to answer that William, it just reminds me. Goodness, I'm glad I started this I might of compleetly forgotten that this is Wensday, the Merdu Hour night, she said.

And she hurry up went to the radio, and pop got in back of the

"BELLEVILLE'S LARGE USED CAR DEALE

THE VENABLES

BY KATHLEEN NORRIS

Hattie and Daisy talked of getting pupils, of taking a "nice little flat" on Jones Street and having their mother with them. Emmeline Sunderland knew well that they never would. She resigned herself to their presence for one entire year. It would pass.

Being a good business woman, she presented them with a receipted bill for each week: "Credited to acc't of Miss Harriet Hawkes, fifteen dollars. Balance due to Miss Hawkes, $——" As the balance dwindled she felt that they would notice it and make different arrangements, but they never mentioned business.

Sometimes Flo and Lily stopped in the afternoons to see their aunt. The Misses Hawkes had a life membership in the Ladies' Exchange because their father had been one of the original sponsors of the daring new idea of a business run by and for women. Why shouldn't they profit by it? Other women duly had their numbered tickets, Daisy would repeat over and over again, and regularly took in cakes and jellies, dressed dolls and bed jackets. On one memorable Saturday Hattie and Daisy took their nieces there; they never had to pay for luncheons, but they did not like to abuse the privilege by bringing guests.

However, they introduced their nieces on this great occasion to Miss Georgie McHenry and Mrs Pierce Whitney, sisters, who were on the board of directors and by chance also lunching there, and both these great ladies were cordial to Flo and Lily. Flo and Lily had a lot of time to study the exquisitely dressed dolls in the cases after lunch, for Aunt Hattie fell into a long undertoned conversation with Miss Black at the counter.

Miss Black was trying to get Aunt Hattie to come into the Exchange and help out.

"Try it, Hattie," she urged. "Thirty dollars a month, you know, and you don't have to get here until nine. It's often later than that, on account of poor Ma being so sick. Come on!"

"Carrie Bates worked in here," Aunt Hattie offered, "and Georgie McHenry had the gall to ask her to wait on table one day!"

"I know; she does that now and then when we get rushed. But who cares? 'Twon't hurt you, and you don't have to tell your mother."

"Oh, I don't think I will!" Hattie persisted. And in a moment she and the happy girls were out in Post Street again. "I trust you noticed the individual who was looking at my pretty nieces all through lunch; I like his style!" Hattie said gaily, as they crossed the street to the big library.

"Didn't you see that lieutenant?" Flo merely looked bewildered, but 16 year old Lily laughed and flushed consciously. She was very pretty and knew it.

They had sold the house on Jones Street now and were presently going to live in the Shotwell Street house after all. There had been great talk about it, and some weeping on Willie's part, for she couldn't understand about mortgages and thought it was simply dishonest for the bank to give her only eight hundred dollars for a good eight-room brick house with a bath and gas laid on. To say nothing of their plastering a great sign, "To Be Sold to Close an Estate," right in front of the japonica tree.

Paul's old friend Major Burns had come to her with an offer that she could not afford to refuse, distasteful as it was to her. He spoke of his old houses in Shotwell Street; one was vacan . "Miss Willie" and her children could move into the empty one and occupy it "until something better turned up," rent free, as soon as they liked.

No gas, of course, and no bathroom; "can't have everything!" said the old Major gaily. Flo looked at her mother; did Mama remember that this was the very house to which they might have moved with Papa more than a year ago?

Apparently not. Willie showed nothing but a sort of sulky resentment. She lingered on in what she called "her own house" in Jones Street until her money was all but exhausted and then grudgingly accepted the offer. Willie couldn't understand what had become of all that money. She was positive that she was being cheated.

She had kept no count. All the counterfoils in her checkbook were blank. She would have to take the bank's word for it, but she knew they were cheating her! Banks always cheated widows.

But on a warm, dusty September evening, when she had less than a hundred dollars in the world, Willie hired the man from the fruit store, who had a wagon, to make four trips, bundled clothes into trunks and packed china in barrels, and late in the following day, with Georgie and Weeny, got into a Union Street car, transferred across Kearney, transferred again to Howard, and reached her new home just as sunset was giving way to dusk.

Earlier in the day Flo and Lily had gone ahead. Moving day had been a great day in their annals. For the first time Flo had felt stirring within her the intoxicating sense of independence, usefulness, power.

Holding tight to the smaller children's hands, they had ordered their groceries, proceeded to their new address, studied its shabbiness and forlornness with admiration, and taken possession. When the first load arrived they did their best with it; all day long they worked hard, trying to surprise Mama when, tired and blue she should arrive.

It was a hard house to make attractive. It reared itself like a grizzled old wolf at the top of a steep flight of steps that rose through bulkhead from the sidewalk, with a steep garden path above that. It was three stories high, gray, dilapidated beyond anything they had ever observed in a human habitation before; windows were broken, door panels cracked; floors actually rotted away under heaped accumulations of old carpets, newspapers and rubbish.

There were many rooms. Flo and Lily exulted in space, counted four, five, six, seven bedrooms; seven upstairs and two more downstairs.

The Venables' furniture looked like nothing at all as it arrived and was set about in so much emptiness, with its ugly sides in view and its decent surfaces covered with old quilts.

No bathroom. This was rather a shock to the girls as they appreciated the full inconvenience of the situation. Tomorrow was bath night.

Light was a more serious problem. The new house had no gas, and the Venables had no lamps except one kitchen lamp that had been screwed close to the stove on a bracket and had a glass reflector to make it even more bright.

Flo and Lily were not equal to putting the beds together. Someone else would have to do that. But they got out china and blankets and pillows; washed Spencer's dirty tear-streaked face, fed him bread and milk and apricots, bedded him down soggily among ticking pillows and odds and ends of covering, and were triumphantly ready with a candle-lighted table in the kitchen when their mother arrived.

But long before she reached the kitchen on her dreary tour of investigation, Willie was pale with despairing determination, Old Major Burns must be crazy; they could not stay here. Oh, no,no, no!

They would all go down at once to the Occidental Hotel. Major Hooper would trust them for a few weeks until "something else turned up." He had been a partner of Grandpa Hawkes in early days.

Her daughters looked at her aghast. Virgie-Lou, also weeping passionately, crowded against her. All the work of the long day had been for naught. Flo narrowed hers stubbornly, shot out her jaw.

"Mama, you can't leave this place, because they'd come in and steal your things. Your spoons and everything," she said.

Willie looked at her apathetically. "Nonsense, Flo. We could lock up."

"But you can't, Mama! There's no key to the front door, and there is no lock at all on the back door!"

"Mama, we have some eggs ready to scramble," Lily suggested timidly, "and we have tomatoes and tea."

"I'm hungry!" Georgie said in a roar.

"Yes, I know you are, darling." Willie's expression was still set; she did not take off her coat or hat; tears streamed down her face. But she began to help them with the meal.

Dolly had left them. After seven trusted years, with eight months' pay due her, she had misbehaved shamelessly and had duly been dismissed at a moment's notice. Willie had found her blubbering over the writing of a letter to a sailor now thousands of miles away and had seized a letter, as was an employer's right, and had discovered the truth. "What you don't know is that I am going to have a baby," was one of the phrases. That ended everything.

The quicker the girl got out of the house after that, the better.

But it made hard times and a hard move all the harder. And now, as Willie sat here forlornly among the children, at the end of this gritty, cool, dreary day, she told herself that she really did not know what she was going to do.

In her desolation she turned to Flo and Lily, and they comforted her. They liked it! It would be all right in the morning and they would get keys for the doors and everything!

"My poor fatherless baby," Willie murmured, struck by the sight of Spencer, pale and weary, curled down among old comforters, fast asleep like a gypsy's child. And presently she began forlornly to laugh.

There was a pump at the sink — the only source of water in the house. The dishes were washed in cold water; the fire was out by the time the girls remembered the kettle.

"Tomorrow we'll fill all the buckets and have it going all day!" Flo said valiantly. "After all, when Grandma Venables came out to California in a prairie - schooner . . ." she began animatedly.

The candlelight flickered faintly from one gaunt room to another. A kindly neighbor saw it and came over at nine o'clock. Her husband and sons would come in in the morning and put up the beds, she stated.

Many Students Need Vocational Guidance Help

Marmora—The monthly open meeting of Marmora Home and School Association was held in the Public School on Monday evening with the president, Mrs. W. G. Chrysler, in the chair.

Mrs. R. E. Neal gave the treasurer's report; W. J. Cottrell as Publicity Convener gave his report, followed by Mrs. C. Jones with the report of the membership committee, showing present paid-up members to number twenty-nine. The president announced the meeting of the executive for November 24.

Two solos were then rendered by Rev. J. M. Brownlie with Mrs. H. Rennie as accompanist. His numbers were "It's Morning" and "In Flanders Fields."

Vocational Guidance

The guest speaker of the evening was James Musgrove, Director of Vocational Guidance for South Hastings. He was introduced to the gathering by W. R. Hamilton, B.A., principal of Marmora High School, and gave an enlightening talk on the subject of "Vocational Guidance". He pointed out that vocational guidance was the more necessary today because of the change in the educational system. More is expected by industry and business of the graduates of schools.

The frequency of staff changes and the increases in the size of many schools also tend the more to the need for vocational guidance. New techniques are being developed. There is also an increase in personal problems among students, our living tension is increasing and the tension in the adults goes back to the pupils.

The vocational guidance program has five phases which he enlarged upon in turn— 1. Group work; 2. Counselling service; 3. Accumulative records; 4. Testing; 5. Placement.

Offers Suggestions

He concluded with some suggestions where the Home and School Association could be helpful—one being the formation of a special committee to deal with such phases as were possible. The speaker was heartily thanked for his message and answered a few questions put to him.

C. I. Frederick, Principal of Queen Mary School, Belleville, who accompanied him, conveyed greetings from Queen Mary Home and School Association and further emphasized a few points of the speaker.

Following the National Anthem refreshments were served to the fine attendance present by the committee in charge.

Women Teachers Meet

Marmora Unit of the Ontario Women Teachers' Federation met at the home of Mrs. W. M. Regan, on Monday evening, with ten members present. Mrs. Regan presided. The main business was a discussion of the new Superannuation Fund.

Greatest Battle In Chinese History Near Nanking

Martial Law Restores Order, Food Riots Disrupt Routine

By HAROLD K. MILKS

Nanking, Nov. 11. (AP)—The greatest battle in Chinese history involving more than 1,000,000 men by government estimate, raged north of the Yangtze today with Communist troop having a slight numerical advantage.

Government Spokesman Lt.-Gen. Teng Wen-Yi said the battle was joined along the Suchow defence line which guards the road to the national capital.

Teng said government troops outfought the Reds during the opening phases of the giant battle but that they had made successive withdrawals to "shorten their lines".

He said Reds under Generals Chen Yi, one-eyed Liu Po-Cheng and Chen Keng already were throwing all available manpower into the fight, on which hinges the fate of North Central China.

Teng said the Reds had hurled 21 armies numbering 500,000 men into the battle.

(Communist broadcasts heard in San Francisco by The Associated Press said the Reds have bottled up 350,000 government troops in the Suchow area).

The government spokesman said the Communist had already suffered 30,000 casualties around Suchow. He said that was more than three times the number suffered by government troops.

Martial Law Evoked

In Nanking and Shanghai martial law restored order after food riots had disrupted the routine in both cities Wednesday.

Food shops reopened in Nanking. Residents calmed down from Wednesday's hysteria. But in Shanghai many jammed railroad stations trying to get out of the city to safety in the country.

On the political front, the official Central News Agency said Premier Wong Wen-Hao had withdrawn his resignation and agreed to continue in office under a new policy.

Rigid domestic censorship prevailed. The right of mass meetings was cancelled. Strikes were prohibited both by workers and merchants.

All American military groups moved out their wives and children. They were flown to Tsingtao, northeast of here, and Shanghai, where they were placed immediately aboard an army transport.

Other foreigners were growing restless. British, French, Australian and other consulates in Shanghai said they had no evacuation orders.

MORE COMPENSATION FOR CATTLE DESTROYED

London, Ont., Nov. 11—(CP)—Increased compensation for grade cattle destroyed in TB tests being made in Middlesex county was recommended Wednesday night by two township federations, Mosa and Lobo. Both asked that the valuation per animal be $100 instead of $60.

CLAY PROMISES TO KEEP AIR-LIFT PLANES FLYING

Russia Threatens to Force Down Planes Straying From Corridor

Berlin, Nov. 11 (AP)—British and United States planes flew the supply route to Berlin today in the face of a Russian threat to force down planes straying from the 20-mile wide air corridors to the former German capital.

The American answer to the Russians' threat, made Wednesday night, was a terse promise from Gen. Lucius D. Clay, United States military governor that "we will keep them flying."

Both British and American authorities said publicly the Russians would be held responsible for any action they take.

The Russians, citing a long list of alleged violation of their territory, also said they would force down "all aircraft without identification marks of nationality" flying over the Soviet zone, including the three air corridors.

The second threat presumably refers to non-military planes, which do not carry nationality markers.

The Russians posted another warning at the Berlin air safety centre that they will hold three hours of air-to-air (probably plane to target) firing practice today over a field in the British Bueckeburg air corridor. At other points in the corridors, they said, they will hold "local flying manoeuvres."

Although both Britain and the United States have said in the past they would use fighter escorts if necessary to keep the air lift going, American pilots said they had standing orders to obey any Soviet fighter plane seeking to force them to land.

Take More Serious View

One group of Allied officials took a more serious view of the Russian threat. They pointed out previous threats of action against the air lift had been threatened in the Soviet press but the Russians had not heretofore committed themselves in official notes.

The three air corridors between Berlin and Western Germany were established by four-power agreement. They are approximately 20 miles wide each. In addition there is an international air band around Berlin 20 miles wide.

The American section of the air lift was sharply curtailed this morning as fog shut down the Frankfurt and Wiesbaden loading bases.

The R.A.F.'s Gatov airfield was busy landing planes from Fassberg Vand Wunsdorf in the British zone. American planes also fly coal from Fassberg to Gatow.

British authorities made no formal answer to the Russians but a spokesman said R.A.F. pilots remained within the air corridor.

Weather Synopsis

Toronto, Nov. 11 (CP)— Synopsis: Broken clouds lie over Ontario this morning and the air is crisp with temperatures around the freezing point reported from most localities. Occasional sunshine during the day will raise temperatures to near 40 degrees in Southern Ontario.

A weak disturbance west of Lake Michigan pushing eastward will cross southern Ontario tonight. ..Its approach will bring cloudiness and some rain or snow to Southern Ontario this afternoon and evening.

In the wake of this disturbance fresh air from the Prairies will bring continuous cool weather with variable cloudiness to most of Ontario.

Further Co-operation by Users Would End Evening Blackout; Consumption Now Within Quota

Three Hydro cut-offs of two and one half hours daily, including the evening half hour blackout, are holding Belleville's Hydro consumption to within the quota set for this city, according to Mr. O. H. Scott, local manager of the public utilities.

The present Hydro quota set by the Ontario Hydro Electric Commission for this city is 96,700 kilowatt hours. Prior to Hydro restrictions going into effect the average daily power consumption in the city was close to 120,000 kilowatt hours.

With Hydro consumption now down to within the quota of 96,700 kilowatt hours, no additional cut-offs are contemplated by the local commission. The utility manager further promised that should power use in the city be cut by further co-operation on the part of users, the evening blackout would be dropped just as soon as possible.

Hydro consumption in the city on Tuesday was practically even with the quota, it was stated by officials. When asked if the Wednesday afternoon holiday would mean a saving of electricity the manager replied that previous experience had proven this not to be the case.

"It looks as though the merchants turn off lights at the store end go home and turn them on," said Mr. Scott.

Fracas Between Gangs of Youths Will be Aired

Toronto, Nov. 11 — (CP) — A fracas between gangs of youths from Toronto and suburbs last Saturday and Sunday nights at a suburban Malton dance pavilion will bring seven youths into nearby Brampton court, police said today.

Three boys were charged with causing a disturbance Saturday when some Malton youths tangled with a Toronto group.

Police said the Sunday night affray developed into a riot after Malton youths said some "zoot-suiters" looked like members of the Beanery gang, a group of Toronto youths who were blamed for several other disturbances during the last few months.

About 100 youths were reported to have taken part in the Sunday night fracas before police arrived and arrested four on disturbance charges. Two Malton boys were reported injured during the fights.

American Guns Nearly Ready For China

Washington, Nov. 11 — (AP) — The first major shipment of American guns and ammunition to China since the Communist sweep in Manchuria was said today to be nearly ready for departure.

The report lacked details and official confirmation, but it came from both Chinese and American sources after the State Department disclosed that more than $112,000,000 has been withdrawn by China from the $125,000,000 Congress voted this year for military assistance.

Most of the money has been paid over to the army for arms, ammunition, vehicles and radios which the Nanking government has said Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist forces must have to stem the Communist advance in North China. Shipments thus far have been confined largely to equipment rather than actual weapons and ammunition, informants said.

Other developments meanwhile testified to the urgent attention being given China's plight by top-level administration officials.

Recovery Administrator Paul G. Hoffman, for instance, said it is "definitely a possibility, but not a probability" that he will make an on-the-spot survey.

1,200-Foot-Long Kenya Gold Strike Is "Promising"

Nairobi, Kenya, Nov. 11 — (Reuters) — The gold strike reported seven weeks ago in the Kibigori Hill area, near Kisumu, Western Kenya, today was officially termed "promising."

The Kenya mines department said strong veins extended over the 1,200-foot-long strike, bearing "considerable amounts of visible gold, some of which is primary."

Examination of the goldfield showed that rocks of the Kibigori formation spanned at least five miles, and the department recommended further prospecting.

The strike was made by four prospectors about 25 miles from the point where gold in payable quantities was first discovered in Kenya.

Ages Ago Head of Comet Struck, Devastated Three Eastern States

By OSWALD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

New York, Nov. 11 (AP)—Evidence that the head of a comet once hit and devastated what now would be parts of three eastern states was reported to the Geological Society of America here today.

The impact was tremendous and spread over parts of what now are North and South Carolina and Northeastern Georgia. The report was made by Professor W. F. Prouty of the University of North Carolina.

The head of this comet was not a solid piece of iron or stone. It was big cluod or chunks of either or both kinds of material. Each chunk was a meteor. The sizes may have been barrels; automobiles or some even larger.

They formed, when they hit, what now are called the Carolina Bays. For nearly 20 years there has been a scientific controversy as to what formed these bays. Elliptical depressions in sandy country, they are filled-up craters, according to the comet theory. Their elliptical shape was due to the comet's head coming in at an angle.

Prof. Prouty's picture was of a comet's head so great that not all its parts hit at once. The cloud of stones or of iron chunks was widely spread. Double bays were formed, he says, by one of these chunks following another that had hit a little earlier. These overlapping hits all were made by pieces of the comet travelling in tandem, one after the other.

They fail to fit exactly, he says, because of the speed of the earth's rotation. As a result, each following hit in a tandem was a little farther toward the west. This, Prof. Prouty said, is actually the formation of the multiple bays, and shows that a comet made them.

Hunting Guide Fatally Shot By Accident

Burks Falls, Nov. 11 — (CP) — Bill Phillips, 20-year-old Burks Falls hunting guide, died Wednesday night a short time after he was shot in the back with a bullet from a .303 calibre deer rifle. Provincial police said the shot was accidentally fired by a fellow- guide, Jimmy Weber, 17, of Burks Falls.

Police said the accident occurred late in the afternoon while Phillips and Weber were guiding a party of deer hunters in the woods a mile south of Burks Falls. The two youths were preparing to set the dogs loose when Weber accidentally discharged his rifle. Two doctors who were in the hunting party rushed the injured guide to hospital in Bracebridge but he died either on the way to the hospital or immediately upon arriving there.

Phillips was the son of Mr. and Mrs. William Phillips, whose home is about a mile outside of Burks Falls.

Constable B. R. Ball of Burks Falls investigated the accident.

67 Charges Read Against One Man

Toronto, Nov. 11 (CP) — Nearly an hour was spent in court Wednesday reading out 67 charges of forgery, uttering and false pretences against Hugh McIntosh, 30, of Brandon, Man., and Raymond Jackson, 16, of Montreal.

McIntosh pleaded guilty to 20 charges and Jackson pleaded guilty to 11. Thirty-six charges were withdrawn. Both were remanded until Nov. 24 for sentence.

Police testified that McIntosh and his companions obtained a total of $7,907 in fraudulent cheque deals in several Ontario towns and cities, including London, Barrie., Bradford and Oshawa. Police said McIntosh is wanted on similar charges in four Western Canada cities.

Many of the cheques were issued to the staff of Sunnybrook Hospital in Toronto by the Department of Veterans' Affairs and police said McIntosh obtained the cheques by posing as an insurance agent. The cheques were then altered to larger amounts and cashed.

Hydro Consumption

Toronto, Nov. 11 — (CP) — Of 10 Ontario municipalities for which figures are available, five yesterday exceeded their hydro-electric power quotas.

The following figures are in kilowatt hours:

Over: Kingston, 11,100; London, 3,000; Oshawa, 6,080; Peterborough, 4,300; Woodstock, 1,745.

Under: Brantford, 4,000; Kitchener, 7,000; Sudbury, 6,205; Timmins, 5,120; Waterloo, 1,000.

TICKETS VERY SCARCE

Toronto, Nov. 11 (CP)—There's not a ticket to be had for Saturday's football game between University of Western Ontario and the Univrsity of Toronto, athletics director Warren Stevens said Wednesday noght.

"If we only had 40,000 seats at varsity stadium we'd fill every pew in the place," he said.

VISHINSKY RANTS AGAINST BRITAIN, U.S. ABOUT BERLIN

Says They Sabotaged Efforts to End Deadlock

Paris, Nov. 11 (AP)—Russia today charged anew that Britain and the United States wrecked attempts to end the Berlin deadlock.

In an angry speech, Andrei Vishinsky, Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister, told the 58-member United Nations political committee:

"We were told if we took one step in the Berlin question, then international confidence would prevail. We did take that step, but it was wrecked."

Vishinsky said Britain and the United States "simply crossed out and pigeon-holed" agreements with Russia in Moscow on the Berlin deadlock, as well as agreements reached at Yalta in 1945.

Vishinsky's latest tirade came during a debate on a Soviet proposal for a one-third reduction in armaments by the big powers and a ban on atomic weapons.

To Review Problems

American delegation sources confirmed that State Secretary Marshall will meet President Truman in Washington later this month for a complete review of foreign policy problems.

While the survey would include all aspects of the current policy conflicts between the United States and Russia, the American delegation said it knew of no definite plan for a meeting of Truman and Prime Minister Stalin.

Dispatches from Moscow Wednesday reported all newspapers carried stories of a possible meeting between the two chiefs of state.

At Key West, Fla., where Truman in vacationing, a spokesman said there are no plans of any kind for a Truman-Stalin meeting.

The Moscow dispatches, interpreted by some delegates here as showing a new Russian willingness to attempt to settle the east-west conflicts, were just one move in the Soviet Union's fresh diplomatic pattern.

Indirect Approach

Sources in the United States delegation even interpreted recent Russian-block attacks on John Foster Dulles, Republican foreign-policy expert, as preparation for a "peace offensive" These sources said the slurs on Dulles may be intended to show the Slav peoples that a settlement with the United States is possible now that the "war-mongers" have been kept from American office.

Russia's Deputy Foreign Minister, Andrei Y. Vishinsky, last year listed Dulles as the No. 1 American "war-monger."

DOGCATCHER TO BE PAID COST OF IMPOUNDING HORSE

Timmins, Nov. 11 — (CP) — Timmins town council voted to pay dogcatcher Hec Brousseau for the cost of keeping a horse he impounded. Its owner Joe Sandula, said he couldn't afford to pay the $2 a day — required by a by-law — for the two weeks the horse had been impounded. It was picked up when it wandered into town from the bush.

Thieves Break in Maxville Branch Bank During Night

Cut Through Vault Door Destroying Locking Bar

Maxville, Nov. 11 (CP)—Thieves broke into the Bank of Nova Scotia here Wednesday night, rifled safety deposit boxes in the vault and escaped with undetermined loot in a duplicate of an unsolved bank robbery at Carp last year. Unofficial estimates placed the loss at $100,000.

Bank officials said they did not know how many deposit boxes had been smashed open and had no idea of the value of the bonds and securities they presumably contained. The bank's own funds contained in a separate safe in the vault and amounting to more than $15,000 were not touched.

Inspector S. Hunter of the Ontario Provincial Police said the raid on the bank "look likes a duplicate of the Carp robbery."

Thieves who have never been traced broke into the Bank of Nova Scotia's branch at Carp, July 29, 1947, and looted safety deposit boxes of $229,000 in bonds and securities. The loss at Carp was not finally established until months later and it has never been known whether it represents the total taken by the thieves.

In the Maxville robbery expert cracksmen entered the bank by smashing a washroom window at the rear and then cut their way into the vault with an acetylene torch. They cut a small hole straight through a 2 1-2 ton door to the main locking bar behind, without touching the combination. Destruction of the heavy locking bar enabled them to enter the vault.

T. J. Bourke, manager of the bank, said no estimate even of the number of safety deposit boxes rifled could be made until finger print experts from the Provincial Police Criminal Investigation branch in Toronto arrived to examine the vault.

"We aren't touching anything until the finger print expert gets here," he said. "We don't know how many have been broken into—we're trying to make up a list but we don't know whether it's complete."

It was believed three or four men must have been involved. After the thieves entered the vault they lifted down to the floor complete "nests" of 18 deposit boxes at a time. Using the acetylene torch and wedges they then smashed the backs of the entire nest of boxes. Mr. Burke

18 Head of Cattle Electrocuted As They Drink

Winchester, Nov. 11 (CP)—A freak electrical accident Wednesday night killed 18 head of purebred Holstein cattle on W. J. Fawcette's farm four miles from here.

A power line had come in contact with the water supply line in the cattle's stalls, and they were electrocuted as they drank.

Prayer For Peace Girdles World As People Pause in Silent Tribute

London, Nov. 11. —(CP)— A prayer for peace girdled the world today as people paused at the 11th hour in silent tribute to the dead of two world wars.

Still known as Armistice Day in most parts of the world, the memorial date is celebrated as Remembrance Day in Canada and Britain.

In Britain, where Remembrance Day was observed last Sunday, there was only one Armistice Day program. A plaque in memory of 10 United States and six R.A.F. airmen killed in crashes at Much Wenlock, Shropshire, was unveiled there.

The 30th anniversary of Armistice Day in the United States found military and civilian leaders calling for renewed dedication to universal peace.

The centre of the American observance was the tomb of the Unknown Soldier in Arlington National Cemetery. Three scores of patriotic and civic groups placed wreaths.

President Vincent Auriol led France in paying homage to the men and women who gave their lives for the country in wartime.

In Germany the United States army observed the anniversary by giving a holiday to all but essential personnel. There were no parades or oratory.

At Notre Dame des Victoires in Paris a plaque was dedicated to the memory of Quentin Roosevelt, aviator son of President Theodore Roosevelt, who was shot down in the First World War.

At least one person in Communist-run Czechoslovakia remembered the day.

Someone, no one knew who, put a small bouquet of yellow flowers at the foot of the pedestal on which once stood the statue of the late President Woodrow Wilson of the United States. The Germans pulled down the statue during the occupation.

$50,000 Fire Loss In Tillsonburg Drying Plant

Tillsonburg, Nov. 11 (CP) — A $50,000 fire Wednesday night raged through two sections of the Sam G. Vance Co. Ltd. seed drying plant and elevators and destroyed a large quantity of seed corn before 25 local firemen controlled the flames.

For a time the blaze threatened the Canadian National Railways station and other nearby buildings but firefighters confined the outbreak to the immediate area.

During early stages of the fire, it was reported that a freight car loaded with seed corn was destroyed. But workmen with a truck towed the freight car to safety.

The fire, third in the Vance factory within 10 years, was blamed on spontaneous combustion in the corn-drying kiln. A blaze struck the plant in 1939 while another fire caused $100,000 damage Christmas Eve, 1941.

The flames attracted hundreds of spectators from this Oxford County town 20 miles south of Woodstock and from the surrounding district. It was reported that the fire could be seen for miles.

Firefighters held the blaze to the front part of two buildings. Public Utilities Commission employees cut all hydro wires leading to the factory to reduce danger of firemen being elctrocuted.

Urges Early Posting Of Overseas Mail

Ottawa, Nov. 11 (CP)—Christmas parcels to destinations in Britain should be mailed by Nov. 15 and letters by surface mail should be on their way not later than Nov. 29, the post office announced Wednesday. Parcels or letters to overseas friends farther away than Britain should be mailed now, the post office warned in a statement.

Jerusalem-Tel Aviv Road Again Civilian

Jerusalem, Nov. 11 — (AP) — The road between Jerusalem and Tel Aviv became a "civilian" road again today. Ever since the first Palestine truce last June it has been considered a military route and civilians have needed special permits to use it. The permit system was abolished today.

RED RASPBERRIES IN NOVEMBER

Red raspberries grow and mature in November, Fred Elgie, 82 Everett Street, Belleville, knows from experience. On Wednesday the tenth, there were picked off the raspberry bushes in his garden on Princess Street, Picton, no fewer than thirteen to fifteen sprays fully developed and bearing the rich-tasting red berries in profusion. The sprays were brought to Belleville and produced as evidence of this unusual growth. The patch on which they were growing gave a good record of itself last summer, the bushes bearing a large crop.

SUFFERS MINOR INJURIES

Mr. D. W. Grills, 12 Chatham Street, suffered minor injuries early last evening when struck by a local service truck at the corner of Bridge and Front Streets. The truck by which Mr. Grills was struck was owned by Howe and Hagerman, local plumbing contractors. Mr. Grills was admitted to hospital but it was not believed any bones were broken as result of the accident.

ESCAPEE FROM JAIL PICKED UP HERE

The observation of Police Constable Harold Reid led to the arrest early this morning of an escapee from the Cook County jail in Chicago, Illinois. The man gave his name as Robert Davidson, age about 22. The governor of the above jail was notified of the arrest by local police.

Constable Reid reported that shortly before 4:00 o'clock this morning he saw Davidson acting rather suspiciously on Front St. The officer followed him south on Front Street and apprehended the man when he showed an apparent interest in the soft drink stand located on Firemen's Park.

The man was lodged in the police cells for the remainder of the night and today was taken to the county jail.

SNEAK THIEF BUSY IN BLACKOUT

A sneak thief during the early blackout last evening entered the workshop of L. C. Richardson, 169 William Street, and made off with an electric grinder and a suit case containing jack planes and other equipment. Police were informed of the theft and are investigating the disappearance of the articles.

SEA CADET CORPS WILL BE INSPECTED

The combined Belleville-Trenton Sea Cadet Corps will undergo an inspection by their divisional officer, Lieut.-Commander J. A. Christ of the Royal Canadian Navy [illegible] this evening aboard the "Ship Quinte."

The inspection is an annual affair at which the visiting inspecting officer watches the youthful sailors go through their paces. Past inspections have always received favorable commendation, an indication of the high degree of training the cadets receive.

Large Crowd Attends Bazaar Despite Rain

Cold, drizzling skies were not sufficient to dampen the ardor of friends and patrons of the bazaar and tea held under the auspices of the Prince Edward - Belleville Women's Club in the assembly rooms of the Y.M.C.A., Campbell Street, on Wednesday afternoon.

Mrs. F. Lent, president, assisted by Mrs. M. B. Weese, past president, received the numerous guests at the door.

The large assembly room, made doubly large, by the pushing back of the folding doors, was delightfully inviting by the soft glow of lighted tapers on little tables, and here and there, vases of lovely, bronze and golden baby 'mums, which had been donated by Mrs. W. Barber. Large bows of bronze and gold crepe paper adorned the doors, and the large pillars while graceful garlands of the same went from chair to chair, dividing the tea room from the tables of home-cooking, candy, and fancy goods.

Tempting Food

On entering, at the right, was the home-cooking table with its array of raisin pies, apple pies and raspberry pies with that delicious red syrup oozing up through the openings in the golden-brown crust; cookies with raisin eyes; hermits bursting with nut-meats; tea-biscuits that would taste so good 'dunked' in honey or maple syrup; white, loaf cakes; and jars of canned strawberries, plum jam, pickles, peas and pepper relish. Over all this presided Mrs. James Garbutt and Mrs. Norman Montgomery.

The candy table came next with boxes of home-made chocolates, some centred with whole walnut meats and some plain; marshmallows were encrusted with toasted cocoanut; maple cream, with nut-bits protruding; mouth-watering chocolate fudge, nut-coated; and creams of pink, green and white. This was presided over by Mrs. J. M. Boyd and Mrs. G. Spencer and, like the home-cooking table, had its eager patrons.

Next and last came the fancy goods, or home sewing table. Here one could find almost anything needed for home and personal use; dainty handkerchiefs with crocheted borders; some with blue knot stitch and some with pink. Others had tatted edgings; some blue, and some pink. There were lovely cross-stitched embroidered pillow slips; embroidered rose-sachets to tuck away between sheets and linens; satin-covered dress-hangers; pretty aprons of all colors shapes and designs, over forty in number; and then there were two little cakes of soap dressed to look like penguins in crocheted wash cloths with tiny wings at the sides, a sort of two-in-one idea, so that the process could be accomplished in one swish, emblematic of these days of 'rush.' A crocheted doll in a red and white wool dress, which was purchased almost as soon as put on exhibition. Behind this table of useful articles, hung up so all might see, was a beautiful handmade quilt in pink and white, representing in design 'The Side-Walks of New York.' This drew many an admiring look, and was, indeed, a fine example of art and what can be accomplished by small pieces of cloth, artistic talent, and a great amount of perseverance. Mrs. C. Roblin; Mrs. S. Anderson; Mrs. F. B Jarrell and Mrs. W. F. Osborne were the conveners of this table.

Attractive Tea Table

At the far end of the room was the long tea table with its Irish lace cloth, centred by a delft-blue bowl of bronze and golden hued baby 'mums, and on either side, twin, crystal candelabra, each with two golden tapers. At either end was a lovely tea service, presided over by Mrs Woodman Thomas, and Mrs. Wardner, who poured the tea during the first hour, and by Mrs. W. LaRue and Mrs. G. French during the second hour. Trays of delightful little sandwiches, of every shape and bearing out the color-scheme of gold and bronze, were continually being replenished by the gracious servers, Mrs. A. McCoy, Mrs. R. Pierson; Mrs. H. Button, and Miss Clara Anderson, while Mrs. G. Cornish; Mrs. G. A. Miller; Mrs. L. Graham; Mrs. Dulmage and Mrs. F. Sprung in turn replenished the needs of those seated at the ten little tables so spaciously arranged through the large room. Each of these little tables had a white, tea-cloth, a tall golden taper in a silver holder, and a small, glass plate with carrot spirals, celery lillies, ruby-hearted olives, and dainty slices of sweet pickle.

Musical Background

Above the murmur of happy voices could be heard the silvery notes of the piano as Mr. William Connor played songs from the past and present, and many other musical selections, so that the mental as well as the physical was refreshed, thus adding a pleasing background and making the bazaar and tea something to be remembered.

The treasurers were: Mrs. Percy Parliament and Mrs. Loral Wannamaker. The conveners of the tea Mrs. C. Earle, Mrs. M. Rorabeck Mrs. J. Weese and Mrs. G. Gorsline.

Sea Cadets Open Campaign For Funds

The Navy League of Canada is holding its annual appeal this week for the financial support of the citizens of this community. For more than fifty years, the Navy League has been the recognized agency dealing with the men of the sea, and during that time it has sponsored the Sea Cadet Movement.

The primary object of the Navy League is to give young Canadians an opportunity to improve themselves, and provides the facilities whereby this can be accomplished.

Their youth training program captures the imagination of youth in their formative years and appeals to their natural inclinations. Step by step they learn the value of discipline; that it is best to play the game of life according to the rules. They learn fair play, teamwork and how to co-operate, and to apply what they are learning in mathematics at school to their study of navigation and other subjects connected with seamanship.

The Belleville Corps known as the H.M.C.S. Quinte is part of this organization with headquarters on the harbor front, which when completed will provide adequate space to train 150 to 200 boys, present complement about 100 cadets.

These quarters to date have cost: Building $4,000, changes and repairs approximately $5,000. It is felt the building committee has made every dollar go a long way and deserves a lot of credit. To complete this project including a heating unit and storage space will require at least another $4,500, not including the annual cost of upkeep.

Officials feel the H.M.C.S. Quinte is a valuable asset to Belleville and district, and that every citizen should have a financial interest in same.

This year they are asking for $4,500, to meet immediate needs, and respectfully solicit your support.

Campaign officials here are: Chairman, Navy League, Belleville Division, A. G. Stackhouse; vice chairman, Dr. George Faulkner; treasurer, Thos. Wrightmeyer; secretary, Wilbur Fox; advertising and publicity, A. G. Stackhouse; finance chairman, H. N. Becker; vice chairman, P. H. Wills; chairlady, Mrs. George Faulkner.

Impressive Remembrance Day Tribute Paid to War Dead In Ceremonies at Cenotaph

City streets resounded to the tramp of feet and the strains of martial music as veterans of two great world conflicts paraded to the Station Street Cenotaph to pay memorial tribute to those who gave their lives for civilization in two great holocausts of war.

Bereted and bemedalled veterans of the fighting divisions of the World War 1, grizzled, grey-thatched, marched shoulder to shoulder with their younger comrades of the Second World War while crowded streets were hushed as the colorful parade swung along the city's main thoroughfares to the brief service.

Mingling with their comrades were the women members of the armed services and the medical corps. Members of the ladies auxiliaries of war veterans organizations added color to the parade.

R.C.A.F. Bugle Band

Under the command of Parade Major, RSM Duffy the parade, headed by brilliant standards of the color party swung from the Armouries to Bridge Street shortly after 10.30. The smartly accoutred drum and trumpet band of the RCAF, Trenton Air Station sounded a lively march and the precision marching of a flight of RCAF airmen heralded the beginning of the parade.

Members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Canadian Legion followed with upwards of 250 veterans of both wars in the rear. The smart Salvation Army followed in order leading detachments of the city police and fire departments. The smartly apparelled members of the Quinte Sea Cadets Corps came next with a detachment of the Belleville Collegiate Army Cadets bringing up the rear.

The parade marched smartly up Bridge Street, turned north on Front to Station Street thence to the Cenotaph on Station St.

Hundreds of Wreaths

Adding perhaps a sombre touch of color to the parade were the hundreds of wreaths carried by veterans and civilians.

Crowds lined the streets under sullen threatening skies reminiscent of that November 11th, 30 years ago when a war weary world shook loose the shackles of conflict. The wheels of industry and business seemed to pause in those moments of marching men and women.

At the Cenotaph a large crowd of spectators, who braved the rawness of the chill November wind awaited the arrival of the parade. Union Jacks and the Canadian ensign fluttered in the breeze. Cars lined surrounding streets.

The crowd surged toward the Cenotaph as the various units of the parade formed a hollow square about it. The service began.

Hymn Opens Ceremonies

Major, the Venerable Archdeacon F. A. Smith scheduled to conduct the service was unavoidably absent and his place was taken by Wing Commander the Rev. J. Grant Sparling. The service opened with the hymn "O God Our Help in Ages Past" followed by a re-dedicatory prayer by Wing Commander Sparling.

Then under the dull November skies memory flitted across chasm of time as the assemblage stood with bared heads and observed the traditional two-minute silence. Downtown clocks were striking the hour of eleven. Then the haunting notes of "Last Post" rang out from a pair of trumpets. Again in the background echoed the soft melodious strains of a well-known hymn played by the Salvation Army Band. The lively strain of "Reveille" echoed across the crowd packed square. Veterans sprang to attention. The service was over.

Wreaths Deposited

One of the most impressive features of the service was the depositing of wreaths on the Cenotaph. Never in the history of the city has the monument been so lavishly decorated with these mementos of memory. Business, industry, the professions, private individuals, organizations, the armed services, lodges, clubs, in fact a pronounced cross-section of the city paid humble tribute to its dead in this manner. Wreaths were extended high along the base of the Cenotaph.

The wreath of the Province of Ontario was deposited by Mrs. F. J. Bradley, well-known war mother of this city. Alderman H. J. Clarke, Charles L. Hyde and Claude D. Tice placed the wreath of the City of Belleville. Slowly in threes, residents of the city and representatives of its organizations reverently deposited the poppy wreaths. It is estimated that upwards of three hundred of these tributes were laid at the foot of the Cenotaph.

Best in Many Years

The parade, according to officials, was one of the best the city has seen in many years. Veterans of all ages, and representatives of all units turned out to honor their dead, while the civilian population in numbers far exceeding those of other years joined them in the solemn observance. Another colorful feature of the observance was Pipe Major Jamie Clark, 79-year-old veteran, who was resplendent in his Scottish kilts, busby and pipes.

Remembrance Day will be further observed this evening at a banquet in the Armouries sponsored by the Canadian Legion. The Army Navy Air Force Veterans in Canada branch here will also hold forth in their clubrooms with entertainment and luncheon.

Britons Blame Each Other For Bacon Ration Cut

By JAMES McCOOK
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London, Nov. 11 (CP)—Britons tend to blame each other, rather than Canadian or other producers, for the month-long 50-per-cent reduction of their treasured bacon ration from two ounces weekly, effective Nov. 21.

For years, government and newspapers have urged householders and local governments to see that every scrap of waste food was kept for pig feed. But the swill barrels that used to decorate almost every suburban street now are seen less frequently.

The Daily Mirror said the "culprits" responsible for the bacon cut are the housewives who will not save their scraps and the local councils who do not regularly collect waste food from the housewives who do save it.

Britain's hog population has risen to 2,000,000—300,000 more than a year ago—chiefly due to increased feed supplies made available under agriculture ministry policies.

"If we saved all our scraps and they were used for pig food we could have 4,500,000 pigs as we had before the war," said the Daily Mirror. "They would cost us nothing to feed—and we could abolish the bacon ration."

When Food Minister John Strachey announced the reduced ration to one ounce, he said that the "short fall in Canadian and other bacon shipments is, we hope, a purely temporary affair."

A Food Ministry spokesman said he had no comment on the statement of Agriculture Minister J. G. Gardiner in Ottawa that Canada could be supplying Britain with "at least twice as much bacon as she is" if Britain had followed a policy of encouraging higher Canadian output.

Board of trade figures showed that although recent shipments have fallen in eight months of 1948, Canada has raised bacon shipments to Britain from 1,500,000 hundredweight, in the same period of 1947 to 1,600,000.

Strachey has reiterated that if Britain can afford it, she will continue to buy heavily in the Canadian market.

Son of Lindsay's Mayor Sentenced To Three Months

Lindsay, Nov. 11 — (CP) — Douglas Lamb, 26-year-old son of Lindsay's Mayor Charles Lamb, today was sentenced to three months definite and two months indefinite on a charge of reckless driving. An Assize Court jury convicted Lamb Tuesday, reducing the original charge of manslaughter laid after the death of John Horton Sept. 9 in a traffic accident.

Mr. Justice R.W. Treleaven said he could not do otherwise than impose a jail sentence. "I am sorry for your wife and child but so many times the innocent must suffer."

An appeal of clemency was made by Lamb's counsel, R. I. Moore, his father and Rev. W. J. Scott were called to give character evidence. Mr. Moore mentioned Lamb's four years service overseas and said he did not rehabilitate himself as readily as some veterans.

There was evidence at the trial of drinking among occupants of a car which overturned, killing Horton, who was a member of the party.

AWAY WITHOUT CLOTHES

Barrie, Nov. 11 —(CP)—Wayne McClurkin, five, in hospital for observation after a traffic accident, yielded to wanderlust early Tuesday. Without bothering to put on any clothes, he struck out from the hospital and had gone a quarter of a mile when a taxi driver picked him up and returned him to the hospital.

OBITUARY

WESLEY DOOLITTLE
(Belleville - Bloomfield)

Wesley Doolittle, a former resident of Bloomfield, Prince Edward, died on Wednesday afternoon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ralph Wood, 98 Cannifton Road, after a brief illness. He was born 89 years ago in Prince Edward County and the greater part of his life was passed there. For the past five years he made his home in this city with his daughter, Mrs. Ralph (Hazel) Wood, who alone survives him. He was a member of the Society of Friends at Bloomfield.

Resting at the Thomas C. Thompson Funeral Home, 38 Everett Street; the funeral announcement is made in this edition.

JOHN PERCY REYNOLDS
(Rossmore - Ottawa)

John Percy Reynolds, Rossmore, died in the Belleville General Hospital Wednesday evening after an illness of three weeks' duration.

Born in England the late Mr. Reynolds was in his 42nd year and was a son of Mr. and Mrs. John Reynolds. For some time he lived in Ottawa and for the past six months he resided at Rossmore and was employed as a salesman with the White Lumber Company of this city. He was a member of the Church of England and when in Ottawa he was a member of the Junior Board of Trade and the Ottawa Hunt and Golf Club. He enlisted in 1943 during the Last Great War and was a lieutenant in the Governor-General's Foot Guards, Ottawa.

Surviving him are his wife, the former Doris Dawson; two sons, John 13 years of age and David 5 years old; his parents and one sister, Mrs. Barbara Campbell, Vancouver, B.C.

Resting at the Belleville Burial Company Funeral Home, Campbell Street, whence the body will be forwarded to the McAvoy Funeral Home, Ottawa on Friday noon. The time of funeral has not yet been arranged.

Shannonville
Home and School Assoc. Formed

Shannonville — A large number of interested parents and friends attended a meeting in Shannonville School Wednesday evening for the purpose of discussing the possibilities of forming a Home and School Association in this community.

Mrs. Plumpton of Corbyville and the principal of the Corbyville school, Mr. Lachlin addressed the meeting. Their splendid address stirred up much enthusiasm and it was agreed unanimously to organize a Home and School Association in Shannonville.

Mr. William Slavin was elected chairman pro tem and Mrs. Spencer the secretary pro tem. The nominating committee to be as follows. Mrs. Kenneth Juby Mrs. Clifford Maracle, Mr. Geo. Brant, and Rev. Mr. Caldwell.

It was decided to hold the next meeting on Monday night at 8 p.m. for the purpose of proper organization The nominating committee at that time presenting their slate of officers. An official organizer from Kingston is to be present to install the new officers and assist in the organization. This meeting is to take the form of a pot-luck supper. Mrs. Kilborn moved a vote of thanks to the speakers of the evening. All parents and interested friends are heartily invited to attend the next meeting.

Police Blotter

A break-in at the office of the British American Oil Company on South Front Street was reported to local police this morning. The entry into the building was discovered when employees reported for work this morning. It was not stated whether anything was taken.

Would-be thieves also made an attempt to enter the York Trading Company and this morning when officials of the firm reported for work the tools apparently used in the attempted entry were found at the scene. Police intimated that apparently the thieves had been scared away from the premises before they were able to effect an entry into the building. A claw bar, lining bar, spike hammer and axe, apparently stolen from the C.P.R., were left at the scene.

ST. JOHN AMBULANCE APPEAL

The St. John Ambulance Appeal is now before the public and I would respectfully request that the Citizens of Belleville do all in their power to make this campaign for funds a success and thus ensure a continuance of the very fine work of the Order of St. John.

D. L. STOREY,
MAYOR.

Jean, Doug, and Lois Brickman wish to thank everyone who so kindly assisted them during their recent bereavement. N11

Jack Benny Show Main Battleground Radio Networks

Hollywood, Nov. 11 (AP)—The war of networks broke into the open today with the Jack Benny show as the main battleground.

Both NBC and CBS are dangling million-dollar offers before the "tightwad" comic. The newspaper Variety reported NBC the winner with an estimated lure of $4,000,000. Benny's lawyer denies a deal has yet been made.

Meanwhile, CBS is bringing up reinforcements.

This is no cold war. It has been waged hot and heavy over cocktails in Hollywood's huckster-havens.

It started a year ago when NBC dealt a heavy blow by luring away such CBS stalwarts as Jimmy Durante, Ozzie and Harriet, Take it or Leave it and the Hit Parade.

Bereft of all but one top-notch show—Radio Theatre—CBS tried to develop its own new ones. Then Columbia pulled it own coup.

The trade was startled by the news that Amos N' Andy, who had graced NBC since the crystal-set days, were going over to CBS. The complicated deal was a lawyer's delight, but roughly it goes like this:

Amos 'N' Andy incorporated themselves, then sold their entire rights to the Harlem characters to CBS. A. 'N' A. will receive a reported $2,000,000 over five years, plus a weekly salary, plus a share of profits. The sale is reported to the treasury department as capital gains, taxable at 25 per cent, instead of the sliding income-tax scale.

MUST SETTLE ANNEXATION QUESTION FIRST OF ALL

Port Colborne, Nov. 11 (CP) A dispute between Port Colborne and Humberstone over the proposed annexation of Humberstone Wednesday delayed action on a request that water be supplied to a Veterans' Land Act subdivision outside the town. Town council said it was sympathetic, but couldn't provide additional services outside the town limits until the annexation question had been settled.

Thousand Mass About Memorial To Pay Tribute

By DOUGLAS HOW
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Ottawa, Nov. 11 (CP)—Thousands of Canada's big and little people massed around the National War Memorial today in a Remembrance Day ceremony that left the stately monument alive with the red of poppied wreaths.

On the 30th anniversary of the 1918 armistice, the Governor-General, wearing the uniform of a Field Marshal, stepped forward and placed the first of the many wreaths.

He was followed by Mrs. C. H. McDonald of Ottawa, mother of two men who fell in the Second World War and the representative of the mothers of Canada who have been bereaved by war.

The third wreath was placed by acting Prime Minister St. Laurent and then there were many more. Foreign wreaths included those of Russia, Britain, the United States, Italy, Czechoslovakia and other countries.

The ceremony was the traditional one that was being enacted simultaneously in cities, towns and villages all across the country.

It was broadcast nationally by the CBC.

The R.C.M.P. and R.C.A.F. bands played "O Canada," followed by the hymn "O Valiant Hearts" sung by a special choir. The two minutes of silence were ushered in by the firing of a gun and the sounding of the Last Post by Legion buglers. They were ended by the gun and Reveille.

The placing of the wreaths came after the hymn "Abide With Me."

Ex-Alcoholics Celebrate Year Of Sobriety

Toronto, Nov. 11 — (CP) — Nine men, all former alcoholics, celebrated an anniversary Wednesday night. For each of them it marked at least 12 months of complete sobriety, and each received a silver medal inscribed with the letters "AA", standing for Alcoholics Anonymous. Two mottos on the coin read "Easy Does It," and "First Things First."

Their anniversary dinner was held in the Fred Victor Mission on Yonge Street in east-central Toronto. In the basement of the mission is a room which is called the Snake Room by Toronto's drunks who sleep there when no other beds can be found.

"I was one of the best-known frequenters of skid row," said one of the nine Wednesday night. "I was a rubby-dub. I drank screech, canned heat, cheap wine, goof."

He recovered, he said, when he found there were others like him —"we talked about our problems and started helping each other." The medal he received Wednesday night was "Our passport back to normality."

10,000TH IMMIGRANT

Toronto, Nov. 11 (CP) — A Trans-Canada Air Lines North Star touched down at suburban Malton Airport Wednesday carrying 27-year-old James Brechin of Glasgow Scotland, the 10,000th Briton to come to Canada under the Ontario Government's air immigration scheme.

Heavy Cruiser Eventually Sinks In Target Practice

Seattle, Nov. 11 (AP)— The heavy cruiser Pensacola, survivor of an atomic bombing, took every punch the United States Navy could throw for six hours and 30 minutes Wednesday, then quietly sank.

The veteran of 13 battles with the Japanese was listing far to port just before she went down.

"Heavy cruisers were pouring shell into her at long range when we arrived," said Paul Wagner, Associated Press photographer. He hovered over the scene in a navy patrol bomber.

"They moved up, swung into single file past the Pensacola and poured broadsides into her. Dive-bombers, rocket-firing planes and destroyers all had their turns."

A torpedo finally ripped her bow away, but she stayed afloat for another 64 minutes.

The navy said the manoeuvre was designed to test fleet tactics weapons and personnel.

In 1946 the Pensacola sailed into Bikini for the testing of the atom bomb and two blasts failed to sink her.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

Toronto, Nov. 11 — (CP) — Prices were about steady on slow trading up to noon on the local livestock market. Plain to medium cattle comprised the bulk of the supply. Receipts reported by the Dominion Marketing Service were: cattle 250, calves 40, hogs 150, sheep and lambs 30. Left from Wednesday's trading were 800 head.

Butcher steers and heifers sold at $16.50-$20.50 with boners selling downward to $13. Butcher cows were $13-$17. Bulls brought $14.50-$20. Fed yearlings were $20-$25. A few feeding steers sold from $18.25-$20.

Calves continued steady at $27-$29 for good to choice with heavies downward to $18.

Hogs continued steady at $30.75 for Grade A; $30.35 for B1 and $25 for sows, dressed.

A few good lambs sold at $23 for ewes and wethers with $1 discount on bucks. There were no sheep offered.

HOGS

Toronto, Nov. 11 (CP)—Hog prices at Stratford today were unchanged. Grade A delivered were $30.60 to farmers and $30.75 to truckers. At Hull, hogs off truck were unquoted. Grade A dressed were $30.25 delivered.

Unions Form Council For Municipal Action

Stratford, Nov. 11 — (CP) — Labor Unions Wednesday night formed a new organization known as the Stratford council for municipal action, it was announced today.

A spokesman for the organization said council is "dedicated to participate in all phases of municipal political activities," including the city council, the board of education, the Stratford hospital trust, and other bodies.

Twenty-two delegates present at meeting represented all Canadian Congress of Labor, Congress of Industrial Organizations and American Federation of Labor unions in the city.

Butter Imports Not Expected To Fill Consumers Demands

Ottawa, Nov. 11 — (CP) — Canada has less butter than a year ago. Production is down, and so is the amount on hand, despite imports of 3,000,000 pounds up to now.

Bureau of Statistics figures issued today also indicate expected imports of 12,000,000 pounds more will not close the gap between this year and last year. Last winter, the shortage became so acute that most distributors resorted to voluntary rationing.

At Nov. 1 stocks of creamery butter in cold storage amounted to 32,175,000 pounds, — down 18,983,000 from the same date last year, and 1,478,000 below Oct. 1.

These stocks included 3,000,000 pounds of the recently authorized imports.

The bureau reported output had fallen in the first 10 months of this year from 265,531,000 in the same period of 1947 to 255,414,000. October production dropped to 23,985,000 from 27,058,000 a year ago.

Cheese stocks at the start of this month also were down 415,000 pounds last year to 43,430,000 pounds, 6,851,000 less than on Oct. 1.

Cheddar cheese output for the first 10 months was 82,806,000 pounds, compared with 114,666,000, and October production was down from 10,488,000 to 6,468,000.

Shell egg stocks were sharply lower Nov. 1, amounting to 1,264,000 dozen, compared with 6,742,000 dozen a month before and 5,574,000 a year ago. Holdings of dressed poultry totalled 14,110,000 pounds, compared with 10,860,000 on Oct. 1 and 22,381,000 a year ago.

Jan Bata Name To Disappear Says Czech Paper

Prague, Nov. 11 (CP)— The name of Jan Bata, famed industrialist who founded Czechoslovakia's giant shoe, leather and rubber industry during the first republic after 1918, is to disappear, the newspaper Svobodne Slovo says today.

The new name was not made known. The newspaper says the name has losts its old advertising value. Rival concerns outside the country use the name, the paper adds, and Russia, now the country's largest single purchaser of shoes, "does not insist" on the use of the trademark Bata.

The Bata family left Czechoslovakia before the German army marched into the country. They set up a shoe plant at Batawa, near Belleville.

Says Europeans View Canada as Kind of Paradise

Paris, Nov. 11 —(CP)— Mayor Alcide Cote of St. Johns, Que., en route home after more than a month in France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Italy, said today he was amazed by the glamor Canada now has in Europe.

"Everywhere I went it was the same," he said in an interview. "Everybody — even teachers and relatively well-paid industrial officials — brighten up when they hear you are from Canada."

The mayor added:

"Before the war only a few people in Europe heard about Canada; now it seems everybody has heard of it as a kind of paradise and wants to go there."

In Milan he attended a rally of 80,000 Communists carrying red flags and Stalin posters. When Cote didn't join in the cheering a hostile group surrounded him, but with the aid of his guide he managed to make a "discreet exit."

said he thought each nest must weigh more than 200 pounds.

Mr. Bourke said that when he reached the vault this morning no papers were scattered about. The bank's records as well as the money had been left untouched.

Boxes Rifled

Inspector Hunter said there in-Inspector Hunter said there were indications that all the deposit boxes had been rifled but he was not certain.

The robbery was discovered at 6.45 a.m. when the janitor, Steve Saunders arrived to make his morning rounds. He saw the vault door open, phoned Mr. Bourke and called the local police officer, Constable Calvin Mackenzie.

Value of the thieves' loot could not be determined at once since bank officials have no record of the contents of privately owned deposit boxes. The loss must be computed from the records of the individuals who had bonds and securities in the boxes. A completely unofficial estimate, not confirmed by bank officials said the loss would probably run as high as $100,000.

Washington — (AP) — The 150-year-old White House has given new evidence it needs a going-over: Margaret Truman's Grand piano almost fell through the floor.

The story came Tuesday from Mrs. India Edwards, head of the women's division, Democratic National Committee.

Mrs. Edwards said the President's daughter made the discovery recently when she returned to the White House and found the piano sitting lopsided in her room on the second floor.

Investigating, Margaret found one leg of the piano had gone through the floor. Space between prevented it from punching a hole in the teak oval ceiling of the family dining room beneath.

White Plans, N.Y. — (AP) — "Has the jury returned its verdict yet?" a woman telephoned Westchester county courthouse Tuesday.

The Supreme Court jury commissioner replied that no jury was deliberating at the time. The woman spluttered a denunciation of her husband and added:

"He hasn't been home all night and telephoned to tell me he was locked up on a deadlocked jury."

Newark, N.J. — (AP) — Baldy, a well-named robin, is the bird that came to dinner in the Dunbar home.

Baldy arrived, hungry, without feathers, four months ago, after 12-year-old Shirley found the birdlet under a nest from which it had fallen.

Now Baldy eats olives and raw hamburger. He wears a snood Shirley knitted.

Quebec Towns Must Reduce Use of Power

Noranda, Que., Nov. 11 (CP) — Municipalities in northwest Quebec were warned today that unless they voluntarily reduce power consumption by 10 per cent their hydro supplies will be cut off for two to three hours a day.

B. V. Harrison, vice-president and general manager of the Northern Quebec Power Company whose hydro storages have been lowered by the long summer and fall drought, said he was "disappointed" by the town's response to a request for cooperation.

"The mines of the district," he said in a prepared statement, "are taking their full 10-per-cent cut but we are disappointed with thhe towns and are now notifying them that unless they are able to show a full 10-per-cent cut in the next few days, we are going to be compelled to cut power off entirely in the municipalities for from two to three hours a day to make up deficiency."

ASK UNRESTRICTED SALE OF CHEDDAR DURING WINTER

Kingston, Nov. 11 — (CP)—The Kingston Cheese Board Wednesday decided to ask the Ontario Cheese Producers Association to permit Kingston members to have unrestricted sale of cheddar cheese during the winter. Under Ontario government regulations, all cheese must be sold on the boards.

Greater Care by All And Less Driving On Front St. During Blackouts Urged

Evening blackouts in the city are creating a hazardous traffic situation, it was stated this morning by Police Chief Walter Probert, as he urged motorists and pedestrians alike to exercise extreme caution in order that serious accidents may be prevented.

"With streets completely darkened as the result of street lights being cut off, pedestrians particularly are asked to be careful in crossing streets and should do so only at street intersections," warned the chief. He added that pedestrians should also avoid stepping out from behind parked autos as with street lights out motorists are unable to see in the shadows.

At the same time motorists were asked to drive with extreme care and to be always on the lookout for persons crossing streets in the blackout. This was particularly important, it was stated, because of the slippery condition of the streets resulting from wet leaves on the pavement.

Motorists were also urged to be co-operative with police officers on traffic duty at the main intersections during the blackouts. In the cross lighting of cars converging on intersections from all directions, it was stated that it was difficult to see traffic officers on point duty.

Motorists could relieve the congestion at the main intersections during the blackouts by not driving on Front Street whenever this was possible. The police chief urged that during blackouts motorists refrain from driving in the business section whenever possible.

Injured Woman Found in Ditch Likely Car Victim

Toronto Nov. 11 (CP)— Police today are investigating the case of 35-year-old Mrs. Ruby Ing, who was found in a ditch beside a suburban road north of Toronto. They believe the badly injured woman may have been struck by an automobile which failed to remain at the scene.

Police said however, that her shoes were laced on the wrong feet. They are puzzled why she should have been walking along the lonely road and said there was a possibility she was thrown from an automobile.

Mrs. Ing suffered fractured skull, broken left arm and severe cuts and bruises. Police are waiting until she recovers consciousness so that they can interview her.

She came to Toronto from Peterborough about six weeks ago, and has been employed as a waitress.

Business Spotlight

By The Canadian Press

Manitoba, as figures covering a 10-year sample period show, has made impressive strides in industrial output.

In 1933—taken as the basic year because it represented the depth of the depression—the province's manufacturing production was worth, in round figures, $83,000,000.

By 1944 this had been more than quadrupled at 352,000,000. In the period under review the employment more than doubled, rising from 18,871 to 40,937 between 1932 and 1944. Total wages rose from $18,000,000 to $62,000,000.

Salaries and wages paid industrial workers now are running at the rate of nearly $80,000,000 a year—a return which, as one source put it, "makes all the difference between good times and depression."

It is significant that 8 per cent of Manitoba's industrial production comes from plans in the greater Winnipeg area.

Manitoba regards a diversified economy as a stabilizing influence in an area in which grain growing is a basic undertaking.

Meantime, employment, wages and industrial output are high and there appears to be no sign of a slackening of employment apart from seasonal recessions.

New York stocks rallied near the close Wednesday after early weakness. Industrials were weaker on the Toronto and Montreal Boards. Base metal issues fluctuated at Toronto and mines were easier at Montreal. In the face of hedging sales, coarse grains weakened on Winnipeg grain exchange. Support was light in oats and barley and rye sold down.

GUEST SPEAKER

"Their Name Liveth Forevermore"

Solemn services, commemorating the dead of the two World Wars and dedicating the lives of the people of this day, thirty years after the first struggle against tyranny and aggression and three since the second of these catastrophic struggles which ended in May 1945 were held in a great part of the world. In every clime these days are recalled since almost the entire world had twice become involved in conflict.

In the democratic countries, veterans gathered and rededicated their lives to the cause of freedom and the nations which cherish liberty affirmed their loyalty to the cause which they have supported by their wealth and the resources of the lives and valor of their sons. In silence millions upon millions, veterans who served in the wars and civilians, assembled to do honor to the memory of the illustrious dead. It was a day of deep emotion as the services of rededication to the noble cause of the preservation of peace and freedom and the democratic way of life were observed in metropolitan centres, in smaller cities, towns and hamlets.

Before countless memorials everywhere were met the peaceloving peoples, the silence of the throngs broken by the prayers and the singing of hymns and by the sounds of the bugle blowing "The Last Post." Such scenes are never to be forgotten for their influence lasts through the years. They will linger for ages to come as a deepening influence moulding human lives.

Twice the world has been tested by being forced to meet the aggressor by the loyalty of the sons and daughters of freemen who played their part nobly. On these solemn occasions of remembrance there is a revival of the vows of rededicating the peoples to the cause of the maintenance of freedom and to the perpetual remembrance of those who spent the "rich red wine of youth" for freedom and country and brought victory to their countries and their cause.

On Remembrance Day people look into their hearts to see that the cause of liberty which called so many into conflict in which so many fell for the good of all, is foremost. Again they offer their labors and duty in the cause of their country. There is in them a yearning for the assurance that peace will never be broken and man has faith that soon or late mankind will come to see that only in peaceful relations between nations can mankind find the highest destiny, which is good will among all the nations of the world. That state has not yet been reached but despite discouragements man will press forward toward that goal as the supreme achievement of humanity —a world where nation can trust nation and where nations will have the assurance that peace and harmony in the world are the true ideals and that war may be no more.

On this day of memory millions ponder over the precious liberty they as democratic peoples enjoy, they find liberty worthy of every sacrifice and defend it against any force which might threaten the accord of mankind. Human emotions run deep and in the throngs gathered together this day are those whose memories recall noble youths who gave their all in the wars to preserve liberty. The memory of those who fell is an impulse towards that world federation for which humanity trusts and hopes when no nation shall open a quarrel with another but when international problems will be solved not in the furnace of war and the afflictions it brings, but in the fusion of nations in the hope of peace and the abolition of war.

War's cost in treasure and in the riches of life expended in battle is staggering. It consumes wealth, but its greatest curse is that it takes the youngest and the noblest, "the rich red wine of youth."

On this day of dedication to the memory of the fallen and to the ideals of faith and freedom the world looks with prayer towards that day of that ideal state of a warless world and an assembly of understanding and unselfish nations bound irrevocably in the cause of the maintenance of liberty and freedom.

RESTORE LONDON'S CHURCHES

The rebuilding of the first of London's fine churches, damaged by bombs, has now begun. This is All Hallows by the Tower which stands on one of the most historic sites in the capital. It was used for a Roman temple, and the Christian Church has stood there since Saxon times. Wellwishers overseas have sent both gifts of materials as well as money. Steel from Texas is being embedded in piers which will carry a new roof. More steel and tiling for the floors have come from Canada with timber to follow.

ARMISTICE DAY

Comes such an honored day in vain?
Is war a never-ending blight?
Is peace so difficult to gain?
Must justice always bow to might?

Following the first war's final shot,
Talk of a second war began.
With all the agonies forgot
Now for a third war must we plan?

Will men for war forever build?
Will grim destruction never cease?
In all the arts are we not skilled
Enough to build a lasting peace?

While still our hero dead we bring
Back to the land they loved again,
This day should set us wondering
If hope for peace on earth is vain?

THE WAR IS OVER—GERMENY HAS SURRENDERED —ARMISTICE TERMS ACCEPTED BY GERMANY — Early this morning citizens were awakened by the persistent ringing of the city clock bell and the blowing of locomotive and factory whistles. Lights commenced to soon show from windows of all houses and crowds of people were soon upon the streets. The celebration of victory commenced about four o'clock in the morning and lasted all day. In the special early editions of the local papers Mayor Platt proclaimed a public holiday and all citizens were free to enter into the celebration of victory and peace—joy was unconfined. All kinds of vehicles were called into service and many of them were soon decorated and filled with cheering men, women, boys and girls. They paraded the streets; bands played and hundreds of people jammed the sidewalks. At eleven o'clock a service of thanksgiving was conducted upon the court house lawn.

STRENGTH for The Day

A PRAYER FOR PEACE

God of the nations, in Whose hands all people of the world may rest in security, give us confidence that in these days of trial we will not be forsaken of Thee. We have passed through valleys of darkness, and we are not sure even yet that our feet are in the pathways of peace. Against Thy kingdom, principalities and powers still conspire, and the ambitions of men still rise up to defy Thy holy will.

But Thou, O God, Who are love and peace incarnate, give Thy Spirit to Thy children in every tribe and nations. Cause men to see with divine simplicity that there is no cause for quarrel between the common peoples of the earth, that strife destroys all things we most desire, and that war is a dreadful sin against the love and sovereignty of God. Sustain with Thy power those leaders who seek peace and pursue it, and curb with Thine Almighty hand the ambitions and enterprises of those who would recklessly plunge themselves and us into war.

In all our ways may we acknowledge Thee to the end that true prosperity, the security of household, and the right to live, love and work become indeed the possession of every child of Thine upon the earth. Strengthen Thy Church in all its branches, that men may be led to put their trust in the Prince of Peace and to give their hearts completely to the Saviour of men. Amen.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

HEALTH OF MIND

There can be no genuine health of body without health of mind. Yet an endless number of people are concerned about the health of their bodies, while neglecting the health of their minds.

Often is quoted the famous proverb from the Old Testament, "As he thinketh in his heart, so is he." Our thoughts control us. They give us both health and illness, according to how we shape them. Happy, constructive thinking can save many a doctor's bill. Often the doctor can tell you nothing more than to think straight and clean! But his pills can't do this.

I once attended the performance of a popular play. I regretted it afterwards because of its sordid parts. Upon leaving the theatre I caught the remarks of two men who sat next to me. One said: "Such a play leaves a bad taste in my mind." That is the way I felt. On the other hand, I have come from plays and pictures that have uplifted and stimulated me in both mind and body after the experience.

It is far more important to keep the mind in health than the body, for if the mind is healthy the chances are that the body cannot help but be the same. I like the Y.M.C.A. emblem of Body, Mind and Spirit. But the key to all is the mind — a healthy mind.

You get a healthy mind by giving it the right food and nourishment. Books and contact with interesting and instructive people help to keep the mind in a healthy condition. Segregating oneself, self-pitying, and becoming a habitual complainer are like feeding the mind poison. Actually it is just that. But what a powerful antidote to ill health of body is that simple and universal remedy —cheerfulness!

Every message or impact of beauty, of good or ill report leaves its influence upon the mind. If we are thrilled and made happy in mind, the body reacts in the same manner. The physician can do much to relieve an ailing body, but God and yourself together hold the secret remedy to happiness and health of mind.

Mackenzie's Column:

Possible Meeting Between Truman, Stalin Awaited

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press News Analyst)

Speculation over the report of a possible meeting between President Truman and Prime Minister Stalin in Moscow has swept both hemispheres like a prairie fire, demonstrating anew the intensity of world interest in any such parley.

It's noteworthy that the Moscow press has given heavy play to this report which was carried by Tass, the Soviet news agency. Tass attributed the information to an item by the Washington Times-Herald, evidently referring to a column by Tris Coffin.

The story has met with mixed reception. State Undersecretary Lovett said in Washingtn Wednesday he knew nothing to substantiate the idea of such a meeting. The presidential press secretary, Eden Ayers, who is with the chief executive at Key West, offered no comment but recalled Truman's repeated assertions that he would be glad to talk with Stalin any time the Soviet chief wishes to come to the United States.

Of course Truman did have a plan to send Chief Justice Vinson to Russia recently, but State Secretary Marshall persuaded the president not to do that. However, the president left the door open for possible consideration of a similar mission.

New Sidelight

From well - informed American sources in Paris comes the sidelight that Truman and Marshall are expected to confer shortly over the whole field of America's relations with Russia.

Well, what of the advisability of a Truman-Stalin meeting, assuming that it could be arranged?

On the credit side one can see that it would give vast satisfaction to those who feel the United States is missing a bet by not attempting such a direct approach. Furthermore it would put the United States on record as having gone the limit in trying to achieve peace, even though the effort failed.

On the other hand there would be the danger that the move would be interpreted as appeasement. Such an interpretation would give Moscow grand propaganda with which to convince their own people, and doubtful foreign lands, of red Russian supremacy.

Then there is the definite danger that the Russians, after smoking the pipe of peace, might employ the following period of trustful tranquility for the expansion of their fifth-column projects in foreign countries. That's a tough suggestion to have to make, but past experience shows that it is in the cards. Employment of the double cross not only is one of the cardinal methods of communism, but is actually part of the written code.

Two Men Held For Cattle Theft At Morrisburg

Morrisburg, Nov. 11 — (CP) — Ontario provincial police today held two persons for questioning in connection with a cattle-rustling ring believed to be operating in this area. Police decline to disclose the identity of the men.

The men were held following discovery of a carcass in a deserted barn in nearby Edwardsburg township. Police said there were indications the barn had been used as a slaughter-house.

Eighteen cattle have been stolen from district farmers in the last year, police said, and one farmer lost four in a month.

Several men have been questioned about the cattle thefts over a period but all have been released.

PERSONAL HEALTH TALKS

By WILLIAM BRADY, M.D.

(Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Letter should be brief and written in ink. Owing to the large number of letters received only a few can be answered here. No reply can be made to queries not conforming to instructions. Address Dr. William Brady, care of this Newspaper.)

WOULD YOU RATHER BE UP OR LIE ABED?

The birth of a child is not a purely mechanical function . . . The whole woman, her mind as well as her body, is involved. . . this fact is often overlooked. The emotional factor in childbirth is frequently entirely forgotten.

So says Dr. Grantly Dick Read whose book Childbirth Without Fear (Harper & Bros.) is required reading for every prospective mother. Your public library may have it.

In an address delivered before the medical and nursing staff of New York City's maternity centre association, Dr. Read, of London said, "You will be amazed at how well your patient is after a natural childbirth . . . the hormones released by satisfaction, joy and happiness . . . create physical and mental well being."

Every prospective mother who is vouchsafed the privilege of studying Dr. Read's fine book will experience some of the physical and mental well being the Doctor describes.

In my diffident if not modest manner I venture to say that every prospective mother who sends two bits and stamped self-addressed envelope for my booklet, Preparing for Maternity, will derive more or less physical well being from studying the booklet—it will relieve her mind of some of the myths and morbid fancies she has acquired from old wives' tales

In view of Dr. Read's insistence that childbirth is a natural physiological function and like other physiological functions, should be painless (don't mistake labor and work for pain and suffering) some other advice he gave in his address seems inconsistent. He said:

"Don't be deceived, though, into letting the woman get up, to stay up too soon. Keep her in bed at least nine or ten days..."

That's fine old nineteenth century practice. Where has Dr. Read been these past few decades? He should tell that to the old ladies in the hospital ward Mrs. G. W H. mentions in her communication to this coumn:

Dear Dr. Brady:

I was glad to see your article on early ambulant care of maternity cases. The encouragement it offered new mothers and new grandmothers is much needed.

I have children aged 16, 13, 10 and 14 months. With the first three I was kept in bed for nine days to three weeks and endured a series of discomforts—foot cramps, backaches, retroversions and what have you.

With our little postscript I was out of bed after a good night's sleep (nine hours) and by the time the baby was 12 hours old I was waiting on the five other patients in the ward, whose ages ranged from 20 to 34—all of them scared stiff to follow the doctor's advice to get up promptly after delivery.

Feeling silly at taking up a needed hospital bed, I went home in three days, where I carried on with the children's but no outside help, in our eight room house.

No ill effects — in fact I feel younger than ever. (Mrs. G. W H.)

How pleased those nice old (fashioned) ladies lying there in the hospital waiting for something to happen would be if Dr. Read would call and tell 'em, as he told the medical and nursing staff of the maternity centre association:

"Keep her in bed for at least nine or ten days. If she walked on all fours, it might be all right to permit her to get up the next day. Since she doesn't walk on all fours, she will be amost sure to have trouble in three or four years particularly if she has one or two more babies."

What the mysterious trouble the woman will have some day may be secret Dr. Reed does not reveal.

Sounds like the familiar fishwife warning to young people who sit on the "damp" ground or go out in the cold without their woolens on—you'll get the rheumatix some day if not now.

As for walking on all fours—that's precisely what every woman should do as soon as she gets out of bed after delivery — walk around the room on all fours three times a day at first, and steadily increase the dose day by day. The monkey walk, Call it. Still better, do the dachshund crawl—knee-chest position, on hands and knees but with chest lowered almost on floor. Both of these exercises are fine for restoring the figure and promoting involution or return of everything to normal after childbirth.

LOSES LEG AND FOUR FINGERS IN WHIRLING PROPELLER

New York, Nov. 11 — (AP) — John Donlan, 40, airlines mechanic at La Guardia Field, lost his right leg and four fingers of his right hand Wednesday when the small baggage tractor he was driving ran into a whirling propeller during a heavy rain. Donlan also suffered a mangled left leg. Hospital authorities said he was in critical condition.

A GREAT DAY

Toronto, Nov. 11 (CP)—It's a big day today for Phyllis and Barbara Davidson, twin granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. A Davidson. They were born in the 11th hour of the 11th day of the 11th month exactly 11 years ago today.

The Packsack of Gregory Clark

On the fringes of most cities in Canada in recent months have sprung up extraordinary suburbs complete with avenues of modern small houses, a street of smart new shops, service stations, beauty parlors and churches. In these shining new suburbs you will also find, in their new offices, doctor, dentist and lawyer.

When you move into your new bungalow in one of these dream communities, an extraordinary thing almost immediately happens. The Welcome Wagon calls at your door.

Barely have you got your furniture unsheathed, hardly have you got the plaster dust swept up and the putty stains erased from the new window panes before there is a ring at your door: and there is the Welcome Lady. She has come in her car, the Welcome Wagon.

She brings you gifts: a bag of flour, a great wad of steel wool, cleaning fluids, cleansing powders, and, for a smile, hand lotion.

But with her gifts she also hands you tickets or cards entitling you to all manner of free articles of use to be had by merely calling at the neighborhood stores mentioned on the cards. Free hair do's at the beauty parlor, free grease job at the local garage, a free photograph of little Junior at the local photographer . . .

The Welcome Lady also answers all your questions about the new community. She gives you a letter of welcome from the mayor, a map of the city and a free bus ticket for a sight-seeing tour of your new home town.

The people back of the Welcome Wagon are, of course, the merchants of the district backed by the makers of standard articles of food and utility.

But it is not new. When my great-greatgrandmother Duncan arrived as a bride at her log cabin in the Penetang road, they didn't have wagons; but the Welcome Man and the Welcome Lady were there, carrying clothes baskets. Bread, lard, cured ham, pickles, wild fruit preserved and honey of the wild bee. A bag of feathers to start a tick; a remedy against the black flies and mosquitoes; a setting of goose eggs.

Welcome is an old, old thing, older than merchants.

WEDDINGS

GRAHAM—ELLIS

Shannonville.— A very pretty wedding took place in Holy Trinity Anglican Church, Shannonville, at high noon, Saturday November 6, when Miss Flora Ann Ellis, Herchimer Avenue, Belleville, was united in the holy bonds of matrimony to Mr. Donald Gardiner Graham, of Campbellford. The rector, Rev. Mr. Caldwell officiated at the ceremony. Beautiful white chrysanthemums and six tall tapers adorned the altar.

The bridesmaid was Miss Emma Ellis, a sister of the bride.

The best man was Mr. Joseph A. Clarke, of Campbellford.

The bride wore a floor length gown of mauve crepe, and the bridesmaid wore a blue gown.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Mr. George Ellis.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. George Ellis of Belleville and the groom's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Graham.

B.C.I. Drama Club Will Present Play by Barrie

With an eye to past successes, the public is looking forward to the opening night of the Belleville Collegiate Drama Club's newest effort, "The Admirable Crichton," which has been widely publicized the past few weeks. These young thespians which uhite within the halls of the Collegiate are noted as past masters at the art of drama presentations. Drama, comedy, costumes, greasepant, scenery and the rest of the theatre's props have been the media through which this group have captivated the hearts of their friends and families in past years.

The newest production, "The Admirable Crichton," opens Thursday evening, November 18, in the Collegiate Auditorium and runs for two nights. Written by the popular Scotch author, J. M. Barrie, the play deals with a haughty, aristocratic English family and the problem of equality of the servant and the master. The scene is a desert isle on which the family is cast after their yacht is shipwrecked. The story threads through the activities of the years that the family are marooned, and returns them again to England, much different persons than at the outset of the play. All in all, the plot is one which will captivate the interest of the observer and is guaranteed to hold it throughout its entirety. The story is well sprinkled with humorous dialogues and scenes.

The cast is composed of 26 young actors, with ten principals. Many of the principals are those who have entertained capacity audiences in the past productions. The actors are supported by an experienced directing staff and advisory committee.

Tickets for "The Admirable Crichton" are on sale at the Quinte Book Shop for the Thursday night production, and Friday night ducats will be available at the Collegiate.

FOXBORO GUILD

The November meeting of the Presbyterian Guild and W.M.S. was held Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Chas. Bailey. Owing to the inclement weather there was a small attendance. Scripture lesson by Nellie Bell, and the meditation, based on the Scripture reading by Miss Bailey.

It was voted to hold another sale of home cooking instead of the annual bazaar. Mrs. Earl Ketcheson was in charge of the study book, "Our Commission in India and British Guiana". The next meeting to be held at the home of Mrs. James Lake. Collection was $3.45. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Two Noted Medical Specialists Will Be in Attendance at Royal Birth

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Nov. 11. (CP)—Two of the most responsible doctors in Britain today are Sir John Weir, in general charge of the royal birth, and Sir William Gilliatt, gynaecologist to Princess Elizabeth.

Sir John is blunt and good-humored, with a deep Scottish voice and the old-fashioned bedside manner of the family physician. But he has a thorough grasp of all the latest trends and discoveries in medical science.

Sir William is recognized as one of the most experienced women's doctors in Britain. He is no stranger to royal births, for he brought the Duchess of Kent's children into the world and those of many other British aristocrats.

Both doctors will be in charge at Elizabeth's confinement. Two or three other first-ranking medical specialists will be standing by on Sir William's instructions, ready to come to Buckingham Palace if any complications should develop.

An anaesthetist will also be at the palace, for neither Princess Elizabeth nor the Queen share any of the old-fashioned prejudices against the use of analgesia, and this modern aid to childbirth is likely to be used by Sir William.

At the Palace Elizabeth has all the facilities of a modern hospital. There is a fully-equipped surgery, normally used as a first-aid room and for dental treatment.

When the last royal baby was born at Buckingham Palace more than 100 years ago, a crowd of relatives and household servants witnessed the event while others waited in an adjoining room.

But when Princess Elizabeth's baby comes, probably this weekend, all of the rooms and corridors will be cut off from the rest of the palace and placed "out of bounds" to anyone whose presence is not essential.

Church Anniversaries

BOWERMAN'S CHURCH

Burr's —The ninety-third anniversary of Bowerman's Church was celebrated on Sunday evening. The occasion was soul awakening. Much painstaking effort and thoughtful action on the part of its members and adherents during the past several months tended to make it so. The service throughout was aglow with a fervor reminiscent of earlier days of worship, when the gallery and main floor pews of this church were filled at each meeting.

The thoroughly renovated and modernly-lighted church further delighted the eye with five floral offerings about the altar.

An evangelistic message from Luke 13-24 was given by the pastor, Rev. J. F. Lane. A community choir of twenty led by Mrs. G. Hendry at the organ, assisted in the singing of the three familiar hymns "Unto the Hills", "Rescue the Perishing", "Softly and Tenderly" and contributed two choral selections. A basket of lovely flowers from the Charles McFaul family in memory of their mother, stood before the altar paying silent tribute to the work of a former member whose demise occurred eleven years ago on November 6.

A handsome leather-bound gold leaf Bible for the pulpit was presented to the church by Mr. Arthur Morden in recognition of his parents, the late Mr. and Mrs. David Morden. The gift was accepted on behalf of the congregation by Mr. Lane, who offered a dedicatory prayer.

Each portion of the service combined in testifying to the large gathering that the faith of our fathers still lives, and were impressive elements in the re-dedication at this anniversary of this sacred shrine to the future worship of God.

A special feature of this anniversary will be a church supper on Wednesday evening provided by its co-workers at Allisonville Hall.

Shannonville

Keen Competition Features Public Speaking Contest at Melrose Hall

Shannonville—Miss Verna Fox, Mrs. William Slavin, Mrs. G. M. Fraser, Margaret Slavin, Mr. Reynolds and Rev. A. W. Lougheed attended the Tyendinaga Township public speaking competition in Melrose Town Hall on Tuesday evening. Rev. A. W. Lougheed was chairman. Miss V. Fox sang several fine solos. Mrs. Harrison of Plainfield presided at the piano for a community sing-song The judges, Mrs. Clare Weise, Mrs. John Milligan and Mrs. G. M. Fraser had a very difficult task in deciding the prize winners of the evening.

Junior Class

In the junior class the first prize winner was Rosemarie Shannon of S.S. No. 22. The winner of the second prize was Jimmy Stafford of S.S. No. 29. Rosemarie spoke on "A Trip to Toronto" and Jimmy's subject was "A Dream." The winners in the senior class were Roberta Allen of S.S. No. 29 who was awarded first prize for her speech on "Our Forests" and Ross Parks of S.S. No. 22 the second award for his speech "Hydro on the Farm."

The three finalists to compete in the county finals in Queen Alexandra School in Belleville this Friday evening were: Rosemarie Shannon, Jimmy Stafford and Roberta Allen.

Mr. H. Harrison, the president of the South Hastings Educational Association, addressed the gathering and explained the association sponsored the finals in Belleville where the Col. Roscoe Vanderwater Public Speaking Trophy will be competed for, also the county gold medals for the High Boy and High Girl. There will also be books and silver dollars awarded the county finalists.

Awards Prizes

Mr. B. Walsh, Reeve of Tyendinaga township awarded the prizes to the winners of the Tyendinaga township contest. He also announced that special awards would be given all contestants of the evening by the township. Mr. Reynolds, secretary of the Teachers' Association is to be commended on his work in arranging this successful public speaking competition. The competitors also deserve special mention for their efforts.

Contestants, Subjects

The other contestants, their schools and the subjects they spoke on are as follows:

Dorothy Walsh, S.S. No. 10 — "Conservation of trees and wild life in Ontario."

Jimmie Miller, S.S. No. 10 — "Rail Fences."

Mary Bertrand, S.S. No. 17 — "Conservation of forest in Ontario."

Barbara Milligan, S. S. No. 11—"Princess Elizabeth."

Lynn Cole, S.S. No. 11—"Conservation of trees and wild life in Ontario."

Franklin Phillips, S. S. No. 4—"The Life of Babe Ruth."

Shelva Jean Cummings, S. S. No. 4—"Canada's most priceless possessions—her forests."

Joan Walsh, S.S. No. 9—Conservation of forests in Ontario."

Agnes Pascoe, S.S. No. 9—"Conservation of forests in Ontario."

Margaret Slavin, S. S. No. 1 — "Marco Polo".

Shannonville

Rev. A. L. Shorten Guest Speaker At Anniversary

Shannonville—A large congregation attended both morning and evening at the annual anniversary services in Shannonville United Church. Rev. A. L. Shorten, of Foxboro, was the guest speaker at both services. Mr. Shorten gave an inspiring address at the morning service, "The Church in Action," relating some of the highlights he received from attending the meeting of the General Council in Vancouver last month. The choir rendered a voluntary "Let Jesus Have His Place in Your Heart" and Mrs. James Vesterfelt sang a solo. Greetings were received from the Rector, Rev. Mr. Caldwell and the warden of Holy Trinity United Church, Shannonville.

At the evening service Mr. Shorten took as his subject "I am not ashamed of the Gospel of Jesus Christ." This was a challenging address to all who call themselves Christians. With illustrations from the life of Christ, he showed that the Christian way of life demands the whole of a person. The Scripture was taken from the seventh chapter of Matthew. A quartet comprising Mrs. Damon Hinchey, Mrs. Elmer Vivian, Mrs. James Vesterfelt and Mrs. G. M. Fraser, sang the selection "Waiting on Jesus". For the closing number of the evening, the choir rendered "Take Jesus With You." The soprano solos taken by Mrs. Aubrey Whiteman and Mrs. James Vesterfelt, and the alto solos, by Mrs. Elmer Vivian and Mrs. Damon Hinchey.

The church was tastefully decorated with cut flowers, the gift of the Woman's Association of the church. The flowers were later distributed to members of the congregation ill in hospital and at home.

Showgirls Must Wear Brassieres On Television Shows

London Nov. 11 (AP)— Showgirls can prance around without brassieres in Paris —but not in London. Especially not on a television show.

"That's the breathless word from the BBC which found it necessary to pull quite a lot of wool over customers' eyes Tuesday night.

Occasion was a television show of the famed Paris Lido Cabaret —imported lock, stock and curves for 90 minutes of Parisiene frolicking.

The BBC put its foot down quick when goggle-eyed producers saw four-semi nudes dressed as one put it "with their chests free."

Brassieres, and "filmy bits" for elsewhere, were hastily ordered.

Sighed lissome 20-year-old Yvette Comets, one of the showgirls: I knew the English were particular about these things. Anyway, it makes a change."

80th Anniversary Is Observed By Centenary U.C.

Two very impressive services marked the 80th anniversary of the founding of Centenary United Church on Sunday, Nov. 7th., with large congregations at both morning and evening. The church, recently decorated presented a lovely appearance which was enhanced by a beautiful display of flowers and potted plants.

The minister, Rev. A. C. McCallum, conducted both services. The Rev. Bert Howard, D.D. Principal of Albert College, Belleville, was the special preacher at the morning service, and brought to his hearers an inspiring and challenging message. He based his remarks upon the call of Joshua to the leadership of the children of Israel and emphasized the necessity of individuals of accepting life as a great opportunity for the development of the best things in life. His message was punctuated by timely illustrations drawn from a wide experience.

The choir under the direction of Mr. D. A. Thrasher with Miss Elinor Roblin at the piano rendered very acceptable music. Miss Barbara J. Houston, Belleville, as guest soloist sang very effectively "Bless This House."

The Rev. Donald C. Amos, B.A. minister of Bridge Street United Church, Belleville, was greeted by a large congregation at the evening service, and was listened to with attention. His sermon will long be remembered by many. The choir, again, rendered special music in two anthems. While the Rev. Roy Rickard was the guest soloist.

History of Church

Centenary Church forms part of the Bayside pastoral charge of which the Rev. A. C. McCallum is the minister. The church is situated on the Frankford road between the second and third concessions in Sidney township. The church reflects great credit to the early pioneers who built it. A plaque of stone fitted into the brick wall over the main entrance bears the inscription "Centenary M. E. Church 1868."

One of Centenary's ea[illegible] preachers was the Rev. Am[illegible] Campbell, who entered the ministry in 1863. He built a home beside the church for his retirement. It is now owned and occupied by one of Centenary's esteemed members, Mrs. Judson Kelley.

The church holds an important place in the life of the community and is ably supported by the people. Mr. Reg. Edmundson is clerk of session, Mr. Elwin Hart, secretary of board of stewards and Mr. Edgar Ray, church treasurer.

Women's Activities

AIKENS' W.M.S.

Members of Aikens' Woman's Missionary Society held their Autumn Thank-offering Service on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Sam Marshall when they had as guests, the members of Tabernacle W.M.S., and several former members of the society.

The worship service led by Mrs. Everett Hubble was opened with a piano duet by Mrs. Lee Grills, and Mrs. Harleigh Hamilton. "Thy Kingdom Come—through the healing ministry of the Church" was the theme for the worship period.

Mrs. Ross Marshall favored with a solo and the Thank offering was received and dedicated with prayer by Mrs. Stanley Spafford.

Mrs. Fred Westover welcomed the guests and Mrs. Archibald expressed appreciation for the kind invitation to join with Aikens at their Thank offering meeting.

A short business period was in charge of the President, Mrs. Selburn Westover, when plans were made for the Christmas meeting, and white gift service.

Mrs. Wilfred May of the visiting society, and a former member of the Aikens' community, presented a beautiful basket of multi-colored chrysanthemums to the society in loving memory of her mother, Mrs. Bruce Hogle, who had been a valued member of the Auxiliary.

A solo by Mrs. Cornell of Tabernacle, accompanied by Mrs. M. P. Duff was thoroughly enjoyed and appreciated by all present.

Mrs. Spafford, in a few well-chosen words, introduced the guest speaker of the afternoon. Mrs. Harback, also of Tabernacle W.M.S.

In her opening remarks, Mrs. Harback said, "We are grateful for the friendship that we have made in Aikens' Auxiliary", and thanked Mrs. Spafford for her glowing words of introduction.

The words of Jesus, as a new commandment to His Disciples, "Love one another, even as I have loved you", was the text chosen by Mrs. Harback for a most stirring address.

She spoke of the world situation and said that the Christian church could change it from total destruction to world peace, but to do this, we must all be aroused to action within our church.

She challenged her listeners with, "Let's be intelligent Christians; know your faith—don't hope and pray for a better world if you don't believe in Jesus Christ. She said we must all make ourselves ready and willing to sacrifice—not just by giving an extra 25c for the Thank offering but actual sacrifice as Jesus referred to when He said: "Greater love hath no man than this—that a man lay down his life for his friends". Mrs. Harback closed with this most challenging question "Will you lay down your life that others may be saved?"

Mrs. Harleigh Hamilton voiced the appreciation of all present to Mrs. Harback for a very challenging and thought-provoking address. The singing of a hymn and the W.M.S. watchword closed the meeting. During the social hour, delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Marshall and the committee in charge.

The offering amounted to over $40.00.

CANNIFTON W.M.S.

The November meeting of the Cannifton W.M.S. was held at the home of Mrs. Earl Anderson. Mrs. Chas. Mills then thanked all who had in any way remembered her husband in his recent illness. Letters were also read from others in appreciation. Mrs. Roy Pound consented to help Mrs. Carl Ellsworth with the band, when she could. A committee was chosen to conduct a Christmas program. Little Miss Marion Brenton took up the offering.

Mrs. Jack Williams had the study book, and spoke on "Helen Penn" as being the first woman ordained in China. Those taking part in the reading portions were, Mrs. R. Pound, Mrs. H. Farnham, and Mrs. W. Brenton. The sum of $42 was received from the dime cards. Mrs. R. Pound showed some beautiful Christmas cards and writing paper which she is selling to help the finances of the Mission Band. Mrs. Anderson took up the flower offering. It has been a successful year under the able president, Mrs. H. Twiddy. The branch has reached all objectives.

Mrs. Williams read a list of the officers for 1949. Mr. Trumpour conducted a short service. There were twenty-one hospital calls made during the month and fourteen home calls. Delicious refreshments were served and all declared Mrs. Anderson an ideal hostess.

The officers are as follows:

President, Mrs. H. Twiddy; 1st Vice President, Mrs. D. Brenton; 2nd Vice President, Mrs. R. Pound; Recording Secretary, Mrs. J. Trumpour; Treasurer, Mrs. H. Empson; Corresponding Secretary, Mrs. G. Brenton; Christian Stewardship, Mrs. J. Williams; Temperance, Mrs. C. Mills, Mrs. Putman, and Mrs. Whitfield; Press, Mrs. H. Howard; Pianists, Mrs. E. Anderson and Mrs. H. Farnham; Supply, Mrs. W. Brenton; Mission Band, Mrs. C. Ellsworth; Finance Committee, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. H. Empson, Mrs. Mills, Mrs. J. Trumpour; Flower Fund, Mrs. E. Anderson; Literature, Mrs. Loucks; Missionary Monthly, Mrs. H. Brenton; Community Friendship, Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Howard, Mrs. Holgate, and Mrs. Williams.

MT. CARMEL W.A.

Brighton and Murray— The November meeting of Mt. Carmel W.A. was held at the home of Mrs. N. Innes on Tuesday afternoon. In the absence of the President, the Vice President, Mrs. G. Chapman, took charge of the meeting and conducted the devotional exercises. Mrs. Ray Hennesy gave a short reading from "Strength for the Day". Mrs. Harold Hennesy read a poem on "Autumn" by Edgar Guest and the W.A. creed was repeated in unison. The gift of a Kenwood blanket for Mrs. Arnold Porter, (Mae Chapman), was shown. Several bills were paid and the quilting of another quilt was discussed. Christmas cards, seals and stationery were sold.

At the close a social time was enjoyed.

BOTTLE-FED BABIES
If your baby is bottle-fed, be sure to watch little bowels closely. Mother's milk has a natural laxative effect which helps take care of baby's need. Lacking this, a bottle-fed baby often gets fretty, feverish and suffers constipation and upset stomach. Santa Will Carry Bigger Toy Pack For British Tots

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London (CP)—Kindly-faced men with rosy cheeks and a way with children will soon be stepping into high boots and red and white cloaks for duty in the toyland of London stores.

But, say the men who will house this year's Santa Clauses, children are more critical nowadays and only men who look the part will be chosen. Their beards could be real.

"Playing Santa Claus is readily becoming an actor's job," said the manager of a West End store. "False whiskers often disappoint the children, unless they are worn with stage aplomb. And we cannot find enough suitable types with real beards."

A burly Fleet Street reporter, chosen to play Santa Claus last Christmas, caused a sensation in toyland when he told a percocious seven-year-old to "put that —train down."

"I don't expect I shall be asked to play Santa again," he said.

In several stores Santa is making his appearance already. Fortunately toys are more plentiful and Christmas stocking prospects are the best for years.

Big Variety

A tour of stores and warehouses revealed shiny metal clockwork and electric trains, dapple rocking horses, dolls that snap open their eyes when touched, and streamlined cars with jump-on tires such as today's young Britons have never seen.

Many toys have been freed for the home market this year by the Board of Trade's removal of quota restrictions. A few fairy-cycles will make a post-war reappearance. But, said a spokesman for the makers, "most are still going for export."

A number of stores are selling golliwogs and teddy bears at from 15s ($3) to £5 for luxury models. Rocking horses are back but at high prices—from £3.10s to £5.

For the under-fives there are strong wooden trucks and wagons at seven shillings and metal pedal cars at 22s 6d. One store has small metal clockwork cars with steering wheel and brake for two shillings, doll's prams at 23 shillings and rubber-tired scooters at 11 shillings.

Oxford and Regent Street firms are combining to make an avenue of spangled Christmas trees decorating store facades. Electric fairy lamps will reappear in all parts of the West End, but their use may be restricted because of wintertime power cuts.

"I believe that, despite the troubled international situation, this Christmas will be more like pre-war than any we have seen since 1939," said the head of a large store in Holborn.

Empire Awaits Coming Birth of Royal Heir

By ED L. CAMPBELL

London (AP)—To the cheers of millions last November, the greatest royal wedding in history made Princess Elizabeth, heiress-presumtive to Britain's throne, wife of Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, and erstwhile Prince of Greece and Denmark.

With that brilliant wedding the elder daughter of the King captured and held world headlines. Now, nearing the year's end, she again is the central figure in a world event—the expected birth of another possible King or Queen.

Ahead of her lie perhaps years of quiet motherhood. She herself plans it that way. The headlines will go back to her parents and to her vivacious younger sister, Princess Margaret. But the year now passing has been and will be hers.

The wedding was followed by a two-part honeymoon that started with a week in pleasant, old-world Romsey, Hampshire, and ended in the snow-covered Scottish Highlands.

Mid-December brought the young bride back to her parents' home at Buckingham Palace to make one formal appearance. She gave a tea to 300 citizens to thank them for wedding presents.

Her husband had to go back to work with the Royal Navy. His commanding officers were kind, though. They moved him to a desk job in London, at the Admiralty.

The Royal family went to Sandringham for Christmas. It was a month's holiday for the newlyweds, with their closest friends and relatives.

Parliamentry Squabble

Back to London they came in mid-January to face one of two unpleasant incidents that marred the year—a parliamentry squabble over the amount of money the country should allow them for expenses. The figure finally was set at £50,000 ($200,000) a year, temporary housekeeping in an apartment at Kensington Palace. This unimpressive red brick building hasn't much to commend it as a modern home, but fire had destroyed the Sunningdale Park country home which the King had planned for the couple; and staid Clarence House, their town residence, was awaiting bomb damage repairs.

The Princess plunged into a busy round of engagements in February—a speech at the opening of a club for non-commissioned officers, a farewell address to the troops leaving for duty in North Africa, a visit to Lower Bridge juvenile court. She participated in a big society wedding and went to a music hall. On Feb. 13 she and Philip were involved in a minor motor mishap. No one was hurt.

The last phase of the wedding ended Feb. 28 with the closing of the public exhibition of her wedding gifts at St. James's Palace.

March started with more public appearances. She and the Duke spent two hours—like many new-Annual Homes exhibit. She visited a London diamond-cutting factory with Queen Mary, and saw for the first time a 54-carat pink diamond given her as a wedding present.

The first rumor of her pregnancy was published—in the United States—about this time. British publications quickly picked it up but Court circles refused comment.

Moved to Windsor

April brought news that she and Philip were going to Paris. About this time, Elizabeth moved down to Windsor Castle with her parents and caught a cold. It was her only illness of the year. April 18, she celebrated her 22nd birthday with a family party.

Ceremony claimed her again April 23. She and Philip, along with other distinguished British figures, were admitted to the Ancient Order of the Garter at Wind-

Attending a charity ball May 5, she danced until 1.45 a.m. but was up early next day to open a "Health of the People" exhibition.

The great Paris visit May 14-17 was all that even a fairy-book princess could desire. Cheering crowds greeted their every appearance. French officialdom showered them with honors. She was given the Grand Cordon of the Legion of Honor, Philip the Croix de Guerre. Some dour Scots disapproved of their Sunday trip to Lonchamps race course, and a brief newspaper controversy raged.

Elizabeth renewed her public engagements. She spoke at the reopening of bombed Coventry's central square, became on honorary Doctor of civil laws at Oxford University and was accorded the freedom of Cardiff.

Then the Palace formally announced June 4 what all the world knew; the Princess was going to have a baby. She made a few more public appearances. She visited a fashion show, and opened an annex for children at the Queen Elizabeth hospital in Banstead.

The Royal Family went to Balmoral, their summer home in Scotland, in July and Elizabeth went with them. She spent the summer in seclusion walking about the grounds, taking short automobile rides, planning her baby's arrival. She returned to London for October.

ADVISES IMMIGRATION BE HALTED FOR HOUSING

Toronto, Nov. 10 — (CP)—York county council Tuesday asked the provincial government to stop encouraging immigration until suitable housing facilities are available. "It is time for the senior governments to realize we have a housing problem," said Reeve George Mitchell of North York who introduced the motion. "The governments should see that housing is provided before these people are brought out to Canada."

Linguist Detects Burr and Brogue In West's Speech

Winnipeg (CP)—To the care of a noted English linguist and writer—Dr. E. W. M. Tillyard, master of Jesus College, Cambridge—a Scottish burr and Irish brogue are more easily recognizable in Western Canadian speech than a Yankee twang.

Dr. Hillyard said he found the influence of the English spoken in Scotland and Ireland heavy in the speech of westerners.

"A lot of Scots came over here, didn't they?" he asked during an interview.

Discussing education, he said studies in how to write and express oneself should be compulsory.

"We must separate teaching of how to write English and the appreciation of great authors."

Literature should not be forced on anyone.

Dr. Tillyard offered the opinion that the best way to spread literary appreciation in Winnipeg, for example, would be by means of small study groups. People should start with whatever kind of reading interested them, but should broaden their interest later.

Need For Verbs

Asked if basic English had a future, he replied, "I hope not. It puts a wrong twist on the language, emphasizing the noun. A rich vocabulary of verbs is extremely important for good writing."

He thought that neither British nor North American dialects would lose their identities.

"With radio and whatnot there will be a big common ground, but we shall keep our local characteristics."

Asked about the North American comic strip as a literary form, Dr. Hillyard confessed he was not "up" on the funnies.

He thought Canadian short stories reflected the country well and showed mature wormanship.

His lecture tour of Canadian universities is sponsored by the Humanities Research Association of Canada. His topic here was "Humane Research."

Dr. Hillyard is author of standard works on Milton and Shakespeare. While in Winnipeg he gave a special lecture to advanced English students and teachers of the University of Manitoba.

Vancouver Taxi-Men Check Own Drivers

Vancouver (CP) — "Smart-Aleck" taxi drivers are being rapidly weeded out in Vancouver since owners set up their own pooled "Taxi Court." Owners claim they had to take action to keep insurance rates within reason and even—in some cases — to remain insurable.

The pool, including more than 50 per cent of all cabs in the city, employs its own traffic officer, tries its own offending members and sentences them to suspension of from a few days to a year.

Ted Flint, former cab driver, is the lookout man. He drives an unmarked car and patrols streets looking for transgressors, mostly at night when drivers think they have a clear road.

The speeder is his No. 1 quest —and speeding is anythin 30 miles an hour and 25 mil hour on some bridges. Weavi and out of traffic lanes, illeg turns and left hand turns ar on his list of offences.

Every Wednesday the meets to try offenders. One c cut lad, a veteran with a good record, appeared before the " of five.

He admitted he was along a main street, b late and there wasn't fic.

"Six months suspension" the verdict.

Fear of losing a week or a months work is making dr think twice before stepping on the accelerator and infrac are becoming fewer and few

Painting is Fun Say 3 B. C. Wives

Vancouver (CP) — Kitchen equipment includes some rather startling objects in at least three Vancouver homes.

Ensconced among the cooking implements are easels, paint tubes, stained brushes and canvasses in various stages of completion.

Mrs. W. A. Chipping, Mrs. L. M. Reid and Mrs. D. M. McQueen admit their kitchens are not as neat as they could be—but there are compensations.

They find their hobby, to which they devote themselves in time snatched from more mundane tasks, amply rewarding.

"You don't require a lot of talent," says Mrs. McQueen. "Just an urge to work with colors."

All three agree that painting is the "most wonderful form of relax

Canadians Asked To Dedicate Selves to Country

Halifax, Nov. 11 (CP)— George Drew, national leader of the Progressive Conservative party, called on Canadians Wednesday night to dedicate themselves to serve their country in the spirit of those who had given their lives for Canada in the two world wars.

In a pre-Armistice Day-speech at a public meeting, Mr. Drew said that on the occasion he felt it fitting to recall that men had given up their lives fo rthe cause of freedom and security.

"I believe we should dedicate ourselves to serve our country — no matter what form or level it may take—in the spirit of those who gave their lives for Canada," said Mr. Drew.

The 54-year-old veteran of the First World War, now on a tour of the Maritime Provinces, said there is evidence that efforts are being made by Communists and by "another party" in Canada to use prejudice and hatred as a political weapon. He urged that supporters of his party not use such tactics.

He urged supporters to advance the party's principles of freedom and security in a way that would "convince the people of the sincerity of our desire to live up to those principles and to serve the people."

Another speaker at the meeting was Robert L. Stanfield of Halifax, who a few hours earlier had been elected leader of the Progressive Conservative Party in Nova Scotia. He said the party has no magic wand to produce unparalleled prosperity, but it will give the province "clean revitalized government" which will not hinder progress.

Mr. Drew said he realized that freight rates, effective transportation and adequate bridges were problems in the Maritimes, but his election to the national leadership was so recent he could not comment on them. The former Ontario Premier said he is seeking information and advice on the problems.

Court Dismisses Sol Allen's Suit Against Gardens

Toronto, Nov. 11 (CP) — Sol Allen's suit against Maple Leaf Gardens, Pinkerton Detective Agency and two Pinkerton employees was dismissed Wednesday with costs.

Allen, a Toronto theatre director, sued for damages on grounds that he was wrongfully excluded from the Gardens and mistreated by the Pinkerton men. Allen testified he left a hockey game at the Gardens and when he tried to get back in he was manhandled by the detectives and suffered humiliation and physical injuries.

Police testified they suspected Allen of gambling activities at local race tracks.

Thousands Idle Due to Strike Of Longshoremen

New York, Nov. 11 (AP)— A major part of American shipping was crippled today by longshoremen's strikes on the east and west coasts.

The port of New York, foremost in the world's commerce, was almost paralyzed as thousands of men stood idle.

The blitz also hit the important harbors of Philadelphia and Boston, where other thousands joined a rank-and-file protest against a wage settlement negotiated by A.F.L. union leaders.

The S. S. America, Queen of the United States Merchant Marine, was due to steam into the New York strike area today with nearly 1,000 passengers from Europe. They faced the possibility of toting their own luggage — as passengers did on several ships sailing and arriving Wednesday.

The British liner Mauretania, which had been due here tomorrow with more than 1,000 passengers from Southampton, has been diverted to Halifax. Special trains will carry passengers from there to New York and other major United States cities.

Shipping operations in the east and gulf-coast ports depended upon three-day voting on the wage pact by 65,000 members of I. L. A. locals in ports from Maine to Virginia. The voting ends tonight.

Final tabulation of the voting was looked on as the determining factor in whether the walkout would be short or long.

The New York port tieup, which affects several piers on the New Jersey side also, came after locals in Manhattan and Brooklyn rejected the tentative settlement with the New York Shipping Association. The pact, announced early Tuesday, would raise the day-shift straight-time pay from $1.75 to $1.85 an hour and the night and weekend overtime rate from $2.62 1-2 to $2.77 1-2.

Ontario Plans Immediate Start On Conversion

Toronto, Nov. 10 — (CP) — Chairman Robert H.Saunders said today the Hydro Electric Power Commission of Ontario plans to make an immediate start on the $200,000,000 Southern Ontario change-over from 25 to 60-cycle power.

A bill authorizing the project was passed without opposition at the last session of the Ontario Legislature. Mr. Saunders said a formal statement outlining the general plan will be made within a few days.

"With new power plants under construction it is imperative that we get ready at once to receive this 60-cycle power," he said. "The problem of an immediate start is engaging the attention of the Commission right at this moment."

GO ON SEPARATE FEEDER

Toronto, Nov. 11 (CP) — A group of 122 suburban York township industries Wednesday night agreed to go on a separate hydro feeder system and take a one-day mid-week shutdown to avert power cutdowns. The separate feeders will cost an estimated $15,000, to be shared by the industries on the basis of their consumption.

Mounting Costs Of Child Welfare Are Discussed

Ottawa, Nov. 11 (CP)— The thorny question of how much the Ontario government should contribute to welfare services was thrashed out Wednesday at the Eastern Regional Conference of the Association of Children's Aid Societies for Ontario.

At the opening of the one-day meeting, Dr. G. M. Gelbert, acting mayor of Ottawa, told the more than 100 delegates that the municipalities were feeling a "growing resentment" toward the government because of the rapidly mounting costs of child welfare, coupled with the "niggardly grants from the provincial government."

"We must emphatically press the provincial government for an agreement, whereby it will enter into with the municipalities, to bear a sizeable share of these rapidly mounting costs," he said.

Dr. Gelbert said that in the last 20 years, costs of children's aid in Ottawa had risen from $11,000 annually until they stood at $250,000, to which "the Ontario government contributes the disgraceful amount of $1,500."

B. W. Heise, Ontario Deputy Minister of Welfare, later told the gathering that relief appropriations for welfare were rapidly increasing.

"For child welfare services in this province—including mothers' allowances—there has been appropriated $5,000,000 for 1948-49," he said.

A total of $2,000,000 also had been appropriated for unemployment relief and $9,500,000 for old age pensions. This along with $500,000 for other purposes brought the province's welfare grants to $17,000,000.

"Add to this the federal grant of $21,000,000 for old age pensions and the total will be in the neighborhood of $38,000,000," he said.

At other sessions Wednesday delegates discussed various phases of their work. Isobel Allen, Director of Sunnyside Children's Home, Kingston, Ont., led a discussion on "Institutions for Maladjusted Children."

At a later session Gwyneth Hughes of Peterborough was chairman of an institute on "Child Care practices."

Sir Oliver Franks Says Marshall Plan Has Helped Britain

New York, Nov. 11. (AP) — Sir Oliver Franks, British Ambassador to the United States, said Wednesday night the Marshall plan is a gesture of "magnaminity and generosity" which has helped Britain "see its way out of the woods".

He cited three "fundamental principles" on which western-bloc countries are building with help from the European Recovery Program:

"First, the equality of men, the worth of the individual, and the value of the individual human person; second, the sense of belonging; and third, a like-mindedness of the fundamental principles of society."

Sir Oliver said the "Iron Curtain" is not merely a physical barrier but "symbolizes a barrier of minds". He called for "ideas, words and means of discourse which can cross this barrier".

Guelph's New $425,000 Gardens Are Opened

Guelph, Nov. 11 — (CP) — A note of alarm based on present world instability keynoted the address of Col. L. M. Stuart, who today spoke at a Remembrance Day ceremony marking the official dedication of Guelph's new $425,000 Memorial Gardens and recreation centre. The building, one of the finest sports centres in Ontario, was dedicated to the city's departed heroes of two world wars.

"There is a feeling of insecurity abroad. Freedom is again in peril, whole nations have sunk in slavery," said Col. Stuart, commanding officer the 11th Field Ambulance in the Second World War. "Pray God that wisdom may prevail and that we will not be subjected to a conflict more horrible than any this troubled world has seen."

A crowd which filled the 4,200-seat arena attended the ceremony.

Mayor Gordon Rife spoke briefly declaring that the citizens had gathered for a two-fold purpose to honor and pay respects to those who made the supreme sacrifice and to dedicate the Memorial Gardens in their memory.

A Remembrance Day parade preceded the ceremonies.

RETIRED CONTRACTOR DIES

Toronto, Nov. 11 — (CP)—Robert Robertson, 72, retired contractor and builder, died Wednesday. Buildings he constructed included the University of Toronto's Convocation Hall and the University physics building and the original Royal Ontario Museum.

2-MILLION-VOLT X-RAY MACHINE GIFT

New York, Nov. 11 — (AP) — The Lila Motley League for Cancer Research announced Wednesday it is giving a 2,000,000-volt X-ray machine — largest ever used medically — to the hospital for joint diseases here. The league is composed of friends of the late Lila Motley, who died of cancer in 1943.

Suit Dismissed Against Estate Of Legal Wife

Toronto, Nov. 11 (CP)— The suit of Miss Julia Robertson, of Toronto, who sued the legal wife of the man with whom she lived for 27 years, was dismissed Wednesday by Mr. Justice W. F. Schroeder.

Miss Robertson told the court that during the Second World War her common-law husband, the late James Robertson McIntosh, had received $50 a month from her pay as a member of the Canadian Women's Army Corps.

Mr. Justice Schroeder said he knew the army made allowances for common-law wives, but never for husbands. "I didn't know the army went that far," he claimed.

Miss Robertson claimed the whole of McIntosh's estate, some $1,600 in money, jewelry and an automobile, or in the alternative $7,200 owed by the deceased for services rendered, including board and lodging and medical expenses.

The disputed will, made in 1917 while McIntosh was in the army left all his property to his wife, Jemima McIntosh, of Dundee, Scotland.

Surgeon Starts Heart Pumping After Stoppage

Point Pleasant, N.J., Nov. 11—(AP)—The anesthetist turned to Dr. Henry S. Ivory during a minor abdominal operation on a woman patient Tuesday to report that her heart had stopped beating.

In another moment the patient stopped breathing.

Dr. Ivory started artificial respiration, called for heart and respiratory stimulants. They proved unavailing.

The chief of the Jersey Shore General Hospital staff made his decision immediately.

He cut through the girl's chest wall, reached into the chest cavity and began to force her heart to pump again by manipulating the delicate organ with his hands Soon the heart was pumping on its own.

Today, the patient, Miss Rose Havens of Lakewood, was reported in fair condition.

Arbitration Board Will be Named To Set Price

Toronto, Nov. 11 (CP)— A Board of Arbitration will be appointed to decide what price Ontario farmers will get for their milk next year, Ontario Premier Kennedy announced Wednesday.

He said the Whole Milk Producers' League, and the Distributors Association were unable to agree on a new contract to replace one which expired Oct. 31.

Producers already have nominated Roy Lick of Oshawa, Secretary of the League, as their representative and the distributors are expected to appoint a representative this week.

The two groups have been negotiating for several weeks but it is not known what price the farmers are seeking. They receive $4.05 a hundredweight in Toronto and $3.90 in other markets for whole milk. Secondary milk used for processing, now brings $2.90 a hundredweight.

The hispute is believed to be over secondary milk. Farmers said so much milk is classified as secondary milk that they receive an average price of approximately $3.50 a hundredweight which they say will not cover production costs.

MAKES SPECIAL TRIP

Toronto, Nov. 11 (CP)—Very Rev. Hewlett Johnson, the Dean of Canterbury, will make a special plane trip from Montreal tomorrow to address students at the University of Toronto, it was announced Wednesday night by Frank Rebick, vice-president of the University's Humanist Club.

The "Red Dean" will speak under the sponsorship of four undergraduate organizations.

Driver of Bus In Toronto Crash Dies in Hospital

Toronto, Nov. 11 — (CP) — Kenneth Paton of Hamilton, one of 26 sent to hospital from the tragic bus-street car collision last Saturday which has claimed seven lives to date, was released today from hospital here.

He is the third of the injured bus passengers to be released. Twenty-two persons are still in hospital.

The seventh death from the crash occurred Wednesday when 24-year-old Frank Rowe, driver of the bus which carried members of Hamilton's Argyll and Sutherland Highlanders home from a reunion party here, died of injuries.

Rowe was possibly the only person who, police think, could have thrown some light on the cause of the crash in which more than 50 persons were injured.

TRAWLER BREAKS DOWN

Halifax, Nov. 11 (CP) — The fishing trawler Florence and Lee is broken down in the Atlantic 60 miles off Halifax, R.C.A.F. search and rescue here reported early today.

They said the R.C.M.P. cutter French was expected to leave port this morning to go to the aid of the drifting vessel, wallowing in the path of strong easerly gales sweeping up the eastern seaboard.

It was not known how many were aboard the vessel.

77th Anniversary Of Mount Pleasant United Ch. Held

Rawdon—On Sunday, November 7th, Mount Pleasant United Church was filled to capacity, with several standing throughout the service, when worshippers gathered from near and far for the 77th anniversary of the founding of the church.

The edifice was artistically decorated with beautiful potted plants which added to the service.

Mrs. Malcolm Sharp presided at the piano, and Mrs. Kenneth Weaver, accompanied on the organ. The morning prelude was "Gloaming" and during the offertory "Meditation in G."

The full choir rendered an anthem "With Heart and Voice" and Mrs. Marguerite McMullen rendered a vocal selection "Show me my Task."

In the evening the opening prelude was 'Largo" and for the offertory they gave "The Restless Sea." The full choir rendered two anthems "Just for today" and "Abide With Me."

The pastor, Rev. H. C. Vaklavik gave two outstanding addresses basing his themes on Bible passages on the teachings of Jesus Christ. He urged the worshippers to follow Christian teachings in the everyday life of business and to ever strive to build up a Christian Canada.

Over three hundred and thirty-three dollars was placed on the plates at the two services.

On Monday evening a successful pie social was held at the church hall, when one hundred and twelve dollars was realized.

The stage was nicely decorated with potted plants and crysanthemums.

Rev. H. C. Vaklavik presided over an interesting program of music, solos and duets, given by Mr. and Mrs. J. Pollock, Donald, Barbara and Marina, of Rush Point, North Havelock. The group played piano, two violins and two guitars.

Miss Barbara Fargey, Ridge Road, contributed four readings which were greatly enjoyed.

Mrs. Marguerite McMullen, with Miss Betty McConell as accompanist, led in a round of community singing.

At the close of the program an abundance of sandwiches and pie was served.

Plans are underway for the redecoration of Mount Pleasant United Church early in the new year.

Melrose

Melrose—Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Murray, Merriton, spent the weekend with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McMechan.

Quite a number of the members of Melrose W. I. attended the Area Convention in Belleville last week. East Hastings District had the honor of having this year a member of Melrose branch, Mrs. Roy Badgley, as area chairman, and a member of Quinte Branch, Mrs. Arnold Mitchell, as Provincial Board Director. Doctor Tries for Human Life Span of One Hundred Years

By JOAN CAPREOL

Esher, Surrey, England (Reuters)—Dr. Maurice Ernest, Britain's authority on longevity who at 77 doesn't look a day over 55, plans to turn his big home into a longer-life experimental station where his patients can defy age.

"Of course, I guess I'm my own best patient," he said.

"Pick me out any passage of the smallest print in that book and I'll read it to you. I have never worn spectacles.

"Look at my hands. There are no black or brown spots of age." His hands, with their firm skin, could have belonged to a man of 30.

"I have all my teeth. My voice is said to be young. I feel fine. Oh, yes, and I can hear. Life is just beginning."

Twenty years ago, Dr. Ernest, only five feet, two inches tall, founded the Centenarians' Club. It now has 6,000 members, including many in the United States and Canada and 1,000 honorary members who claim they are centenarians.

Dr. Ernest believes the time will come when people will live to be 200 or 300 years old if they want to.

He wants to live until 1971, and believes that if he doesn't kill himself in his car he has a good chance of doing so.

"I do not believe in monkey glands. They are silly: Voronoff was silly. Rejuvenation cannot be brought about by panaceas, glandular treatment or injections.

"But it is possible to add many years to people's lives by institutional treatment."

Treatment is Secret

Dr. Ernest could not be pinned down to defining "institutional treatment." It is his secret, he said, and it isn't dangerous.

First step, he said, is to get rid of the idea that the human life span is 100 or so at most.

His patients must have a sincere desire to live on as able-bodied, clear-minded centenarians. They must come with their vital organs intact or he could promise them no "decent old age."

"I am not an old crank," he said. "I advocate a drink once in a while."

He eats everything, smokes an occasional cigar, sleeps for eight hours. He is the father of six daughters and one son.

Most famous member of the centenarians' club is 92-year-old George Bernard Shaw. "He will probably live to be 100 anyway. He has the advantage of living in the open air. He does not smoke or drink and is a vegetarian besides. He sits in his summer house all day. He sleeps as long as he likes. He sits and vegetates. He can live until he is 110 unless he has done certain things in his youth which have harmed his vital organs."

Author of many books on longevity, Dr. Ernest has the world's largest library on the subject. British Museum authorities say the 1,000 works in French, German and English are unique. His parting shot to this reporter, was: "Oh by the way, if you want to live longer, go easy on the exercise. I don't think much of too much exercise."

FEMININE TOUCH HELPS BERLIN AIRLIFT

Queen's Tartans Start Scottish Clothing Trends

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London (CP)—The Queen started a tartan "boom" in Britain's autumn fashions when she wore tartan—for the first time as Queen—at this year's Braemar Gathering, the Highland Games held yearly during the royal visit to Balmoral Castle.

With a straight kilted skirt of Balmoral tartan she wore a short, plainly tailored jacket of blue tweed with rounded corners. The lapels and pocket flaps were tartan. Her hat was a felt Balmoral with traditional feather mount.

Immediately there was a demand for straighter tartan skirts with plain jackets of the shorter length and Scottish bonnets.

Plain checks, glen checks and clan tartans are all being used in coats, suits and dresses—especially by Scottish designers.

Designers are finding inspiration in Scottish history.

The Stuart period inspired one ensemble called "Bonnie Prince Charlie." A dashing grey doublet with pointed ends had regulation buttoning—three metal buttons on cuffs and pocket flaps, one button at the waist and two at the breast.

Tartan is used in a long sleeved bodice of waistcoat style trimmed with cairngoru buttons and topped with pleated cape of waist length. Here again the skirt is pleated at back and straight in front.

Louder the Better

Tartan coats are mainly confined to the swagger styles — full swing backs, high collars and large pockets. And the louder the check the better. Some plainly colored swaggers and fitted travel coats have linings of tartan with skirt to match.

There are chic "new look" dresses in tartan for afternoon wear. One is in red and green tartan with raglan shoulders, narrow sleeves, fitted bodice, tight waist, hip pocket accentuation and bustle effect.

A tartan of dull blue and green is used in a high-collared dress with all round pressed pleating starting from the low fitted hipline. Add to this a collarless velvet jacket of matching blue with short fluted basque, a matching tartan Balmoral bonnet with feather mount and a tall slim tartan parasol and you're ready for cocktails or shopping in town.

Teen-agers also have gone tartan minded—especially in party dresses.

There are delightful examples in taffeta for the junior miss and her little sister that could have stepped out from Victorian portraits with their big bows, frilled hems and lace embroidery.

For those who haven't "courage" to wear tartan clothes there are tartan accessories aplenty to brighten up neutral colors — tartan Scottish bonnets, handbags, umbrellas and parasols.

Brain, Skeleton of Famous Racehorse to be Preserved

By SHAUN McQUILLAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

London (CP)—News of the death of Brown Jack, equine idol of racegoers during the early '30s and best-loved stayer in British racing history, recalls many stories of his career.

For instance, he is the only horse to have had a sermon preached about him, to have a 219-page biography, a partiality for Cheddar cheese hot beer, and whisky.

His name was coupled for years with that of the late Steve Donoghue who rode him in his unprecedented triumps in the Queen Alexandra Stakes—at more than 2 3-4 miles the longest flat race in England under Jockey Club rules. He won it six times in succession from 1929 to 1934.

His successes with Steve—they became known as the "old firm"—were legend. So was his companionship with Mail Fist, a horse that often acted as his pacemaker and, as often, faded gracefully out of the picture.

Brown Jack always preferred to travel facing the engine, loved the noise and bustle of the racecourse, and after a while cultivated an odd kind of dance, a two-step shuffle, as he neared the winning post. Donoghue maintained it was "just to amuse himself and show his own delight at having won."

Another of his queer habits was to sit on his manger while he slept. Efforts to provide leather and felt "buttock-warmers" were discouraged when he ripped them off the cold iron manger framework. He seemed to find the cold metal soothing.

Remembered by Fans

After eight years' racing he was retired. He had won 25 of his 63 races and earned more than £24,000 ($96,000) for owner Sir Harold Wernher. Such was his fame that in 1944, 10 years after his last race, admirers were still sending him lumps of sugar saved from their rations for Christmas presents.

And when he came of age in 1945, he got a telegram from Steve Donoghue saying: "Best of luck in 1945 from your old pal Steve." Brown Jack then was at grass on a farm near Market Harborough, Leicestershire—his home for 14 years. Under Food Ministry regulations he was not earning his keep and was entitled to a ration of oats.

The Peter Pan of racehorses is not likely to be forgotten by future horse-racing lovers. The British Museum is to exhibit his skelton and his brain will be preserved.

It also goes on record that his stout heart weighed 19 pounds — nine pounds more than average.

Among races Brown Jack won were the Ascot Stakes (1928), Goodwood Cup and Doncaster Cup (1930), Chester Cup and Ebor Handicap (1931), Prince Edward Handicap, Manchester (1932) Rosebery Memorial Handicap (1933)—and, of course, his phenomenal Alexandra Stakes record.

Burr's

Burr's—Mr. T. H. Burris, tax collector, for Hillier Township, was a caller in this community this week, delivering the not too welcome tax bills.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Vincent spent a recent evening at the wedding anniversary of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Thomas, Mount Pleasant.

Mr. Goldie Carter of Queen's University, spent the weekend at his home here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Carter and Edison.

Mr. Oliver Edwards spent a recent weekend with Mr. Goldie Carter at Kingston. The two boys motored to Syracuse and spent the day on Sunday.

Mrs. Clayton Carter spent a few days with her son, Allan, and family in Trenton.

Detroit Tigers Get Robinson For Billy Pierce

Detroit, Nov. 11 — (AP) — Detroit Tigers are digging for added punching power to put at the disposal of the man who succeeds the discharged Steve O'Neill as manager.

They hope to get some of it from Aaron Robinson, Chicago White Sox catcher obtained Wednesday in a swap for pitcher Billy Pierce.

Robinson comes to Detroit in a straight player deal. The swap was engineered at the major league draft meeting in Cincinnati by the Tigers' general manager, Billy Evans, in conversations with Frank Lane, new general manager of the Sox.

Robinson, 32-year-old former New York Yankee catcher who went to the White Sox in a trade for pitcher Ed Lopat a year ago, hit only .249 for the White Sox. He bagged eight homers.

It's believed he'll deliver the long ball more frequently here, however, for he's a strong left-hand hitter and will be aiming for Briggs Stadium's moderately short 325-foot right-field fence.

Pierce, 21-year-old graduate of Detroit sandlots and Highland Park (Mich.) high school, came to the Tigers during the war as a curve - balling left-hander with promise.

Moved in and out of a Detroit uniform, he had his best year with the Tigers' Buffalo farm club in the International League in 1947 when he won 14 games and lost eight. Recalled last season, Pierce won three games and lost none but was used in only 55 innings.

BELATED DAMAGES

Belfast (CP)—John Campbell, 19, was awarded £500 ($2,000) damages in Ulster High Court because of a beatng he received four years ago in a Belfast industrial school.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Young hockey hopefuls of the city, aspiring to heights of shinny glory under the aegis of William Cook, Dick Beare, et al, will trot out on the Memorial Arena ice tonight between 8.15 and 9.15 to show their wares to the management, Coach Ken McNaught and a couple hundred curious railbirds. The 1948-49 edition of the Rockets juniors is far from being an entity, for Manager Cook has informed his regulars of last year, and all and sundry of this year, that the jobs are not yet filled—and won't be until the present crop of junior-age puckists, has been thoroughly analyzed, sorted and given a strenuous playing once-or twice over.

Contrary to rumors along the hockey rialto, the Rockets squad has not been selected. True there's a nucleus from last year—but the positions are as wide open as the mind of a Dewey better a week ago Tuesday. As a matter of fact M'sieu Cook, in keeping with a promise made some time ago—that all kids of junior age would be given the chance to make the team—had strongly intimated that he would not enter his Rockets in district league competition, until that promise had been fulfilled. So tonight, the promise will be kept. Any and all youngsters of junior age are cordially invited to bring their hockey equipment and try out with the squad. Be ready to go on the ice at 8.15.

Trenton Hockey Club had a strenuous hour's workout on the ice on Tuesday night, and from first observations won't be any pushovers for any of the other clubs. Jim McDonald, who modestly stated that he was shy four of his more outstanding stars, iced a team that packed plenty of pre-season power and strength in all departments. Schmidt, last year's defence sensation is back againand going strongly. Watson, whose hat-trick performances last season made him one of the most talked-of players in the district is back again as is Bridgeman in the nets. Most of last years faces are back with the team being well-bolstered with some sturdy juniors and newcomers. Don't sell Trenton short.

Cobourg Orphans will take the ice tonight immediately following the Rockets Juniors workout. Napanee and the Canadian National Diesels worked out last night, and with other teams scheduled for practice the rest of the week, the squads should be all ready to tee off in regular league play next next week.

One of the highlights of the Armouries Boxing Show on Friday, at least from a local standpoint will be the clash between Ronnie Mansfield, of this village and Glen Dafoe, of Trenton. Mansfield made an auspicious comeback recently and flashed a lot of the form that made him popular with the fans here two or three years ago. He is still a dangerous puncher, fast afoot, and an opportunist. Dafoe, on the other hand, still favors his wide open swinging style that has gained him the victory nod on several occasions, and the plaudits of the fans the few times he was on the short end of the judges score. Both boys are willing mixers and there won't be a dull moment in this fight.

Other bouts which will add lustre to the main bout attraction between starry Fred Harding, Oshawa and Tommy Carrick, Toronto will be those between Gerald Ellis, Trenton's promising mittman and Danny Renwick, Toronto, another light-footed speedster who can throw punches with the best of 'em; Wilf Dubie, classy Trenton boxer and a favorite with the fans here who meets Remo Oderico, of Toronto; Ray Lucas, hard-hitting Bellevillian who clashes with smart little George Wanamaker of Trenton and Roy Deshane, Trenton, who opens the show against Max Mayles, of Toronto.

Note to the Peterborough scribe:—Keep that item—"No word yet from Belleville or Kingston regarding a senior "B" entry", standing. It should be good for three or four weeks.

And while on the Petes subject, the Legionnaires and Petes senior "B" squads aren't letting any of the well-known grass thrive under their hockey feet. They're organized, have their talent scouts out for material—have worked out in the Lindsay Arena, and just to get their "feet" in, in case there's an entry from this village, will work out in Memorial Arena over the weekend. According to friend Cec Perdue, the roll-call of both squads sees a lot of the veterans shouting "Here" while a few strange names also decorate the payroll.

While the hockey representatives of the Liftlock village, whether senior 'B' or intermediate 'A' (a rose by any other name) were not exactly the white-haired boys while battling with our stalwarts, they were to Belleville hockey fans what "Bunny" Dunlop is to the wrestling faithful. They hated to see him win, but they flocked in droves to see him perform, just in case he was beaten. The Petes were and still are, one of the best, if not the best, hockey drawing cards here, and to prove that, their battle with a Toronto Club played here last March drew the biggest gate of the season. The best of luck to 'em—when they're not playing our Redmen — to date known as the Lost Tribe.

St. Louis Flyers Hands 4-2 Defeat To Providence

(By The Canadian Press)

St. Louis Flyers, leaders in the western section of the American Hockey League, Wednesday night handed a 4-2 defeat to first place Providence Reds in the Eastern Division.

Flyers scoring was divided between Paul Gladu, Johnny Mariucci, Johnny Raynak and Ernie Trigg — two of the goals coming in the first frame and two in the middle period.

Johnny Chad and Pete Kapusta racked up a marker apiece for the losers.

Pittsburgh Hornets and Cleveland Barons battled to a hard-fought 3-3 tie with Stan Kemp getting a pair of goals for the Hornets. Sid Smith got the other tally.

Pete Leswick hit the mark twice for the Barons while Ralph Wycherley got a single.

Hershey Bears scored their first shutout of the season, blanking Washington Lions 4-0. Hershey snipers were Arnold Kullman and Frankie Mario with a goal apiece and Zellio Topazzini who racked up two counters in the second stanza.

Goals by Ken McKenzie, Murdo Mckay, Les Douglas, Doug Lewis, George Agar and Art Lessard put Buffalo Bisons ahead of New Haven Ramblers 6-1.

Jack Gordon spoiled Buffalo goalie Connie Dion's shutout in the third period when the Bison's Ken McKenzie was serving time.

Philadelphia Rockets went down to a 6-4 defeat under pressure of the Springfield Indians.

Bill Gooden tallied twice for the victors while Otto Schmidt Wimpy Jones, Leo Curick and Bill Summerhill got a marker apiece.

Phil Hergesheimer, Kenny Kilrea found the range for the Hornets and Pidhirny chalked up a pair of goals.

Stampeders Hold an Edge In Betting Odds

Calgary, Nov. 11 (CP)—Calgary Stampeders, unbeaten in league competition all season, today held a slight edge in betting odds as they prepared to meet Regina's Saskatchewan Roughriders here for the western Canada football championship and the right to play the east for the Canadian title.

It's expected a capacity crowd of more than 9,000 fans will turn out regardless of weather for the final, for it was 37 years ago that the old Calgary Tigers beat Winnipeg Rowing Club in the 1911 western classic. This foothills city hasn't had a team of western champions since then.

At Regina last Saturday the teams battled to a 4-4 stalemate in the first of the two-game, total-point series, and today's fixture has assumed the status of a sudden-death affair.

Fred Grant, Roughrider coach said his team was in "top shape," a sentiment echoed by Stampeder coach Les Lear for his own charges.

It's expected the temperature will be around 47 degrees above zero by game time. Cloudy skies and cool winds are forecast.

Both teams went through light drills Wednesday, practising behind locked gates to prevent any leakage of possible surprise plays

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 11 (AP)—Louisiana's celebrated college football doubleheaders, which aren't doing too well this season, will be back in full force next fall . . . . Between them Tulane and Louisiana State will play 13 homes games against such rivals as Notre Dame, Navy, North Carolina, Georgia Tech, Georgia and Alabama . . . and the usual day-night setup with an 85-mile drive in between will be in effect. . . . Chicago baseball fans are needling young Chuck Comiskey by calling him the "Conference Champ". . . since taking command of the White Sox, Chuck has had two important announcements, and he's been scooped on both of them before he could have a press conference and give out the news.

Gene Bearden, World Series pitching hero, is an uncertain about the place and date of his birth as Dizzy Dean used to be. . . . Two rookies flingers due for tryouts with Buffalo Bisons next Spring, boast a total of nine no-hit games in American Legion baseball. Robert Peter Andres of Cincinnati tossed four in one season, two in a row, and Andrew Prieboy, Jr., of East Chicago hurled five . . . Each has had just one year of professional experience.

Virginia's footballers got all steamed up for the North Carolina State game last week when they reached Raleigh, N.C., just in time to hear a broadcaster predict that State would win by at least 20 points .. . After the game a Virginia tackle commented: "I don't know what he calls himself down here, but I'm sure it was just Dr. Gallup hiding out in Carolina."

Ronnie Mansfield, shown above, will be seen in action against fast-moving Glen Dafoe, Trenton, in the semi-final of the Armouries Boxing Show on Friday night. Mansfield, a clever boxer and hard puncher, is rated one of the city's best fighters, but he runs into plenty of opposition at the hands of Dafoe, whose wide open swinging tactics have carried him to many a victory. Both boys like action — and the fans will get plenty of just that when the pair meets.

Chips Are Down For Alouettes Against Riders

Montreal, Nov. 11 (CP)— The chips are down today as Montreal Alouettes tangle with Ottawa Rough Riders in the first game of the big four football play-offs at Delormier Downs.

The Als, rated as seven to five under-dogs, are going into battle with three of their most valuable players watching from the sidelines—halfback Billy Bass and linemen Steve Chamko and Ralph Webber.

Bass is a recent blow to the Alouettes undaunted spirit. He developed water on the knee since the Montral club downed the Wildcats last weekend in Hamilton.

Montreal coach Lew Hayman plans to try for a big score in this opener of a two-game total-point series.

"We have everything to gain and nothing to lose, by gambling on rolling up as big a score as we can in the opener, Hayman said Wednesday as he put the final touches to his play-off strategy.

Attendance figures for today's game have been estimated at as high as 20,000, but overcast skies and a forecast of scattered showers might keep all but the died-in-the-wool fans home.

The Big Seven

(By The Canadian Press)

The Big Seven in the National Hockey League scoring race remains unchanged with no new entries after Wednesday night's game. Still leading the race is the torrid-Bruin line of Grant Warwick, Ed Sandford and Pete Babando. The trio's chance to add extra points were squelched Wednesday night when the Bruin-Detroit game was stopped in Boston because of fog in the rink.

The Leaders:	G	A	PTS
Warwick, Boston	6	6	12
Sandford, Boston	5	6	11
Babando, Boston	5	5	10
D. Bentley, Chicago	4	5	9
Lindsay, Detroit	6	2	8
Kennedy, Toronto	4	4	8
Reay, Montreal	2	6	8

Oshawa Generals In Third Place Of Junior Race

(By The Canadian Press)

Windsor Spitfires made it an impressive eight-for-eight Wednesday night as they downed Galt Rockets 6-3.

Windsor, holding down second place in the Junior Ontario Hockey Association race in their undefeated role, popped in two goals in the first period, one in the second three in the third.

In other junior games Wednesday night, Guelph Biltmores moved into fourth place by defeating Barrie Flyers 3-2. Oshawa Generals took sole possession of third place by besting the cellar-dwelling Toronto Marlboros 5-2, and Stratford Kroehlers handed St. Catharines their third loss of the season with a 6-3 count.

In the only senior game, Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen climbed out of a cellar position by defeating the league-leading Hamilton Tigers 5-3.

George Ouellette opened the scoring for Windsor in the first period when he beat Galt netminder Slim Sommerville on a lone rush. Bill Newcombe got the equalizer minutes later, also on a solo effort. Gert Giesbrecht put Windsor ahead mid-way through the period on an assist from Francis O'Grady.

Galt drove back in the early moments of the third period and tied the game up when Pete Tkachuk beat netminder Bill McMeekin on a close-in shot that caught the corner. Spitfires pulled away again when O'Grady scored.

Bruce Giesebrecht and brother Bert, along with Marcel Pronovost tallied for Windsor in the third. Pete Tkachuk counted for Galt.

Fourth Place Tie

Guelph moved into a fourth-place tie with Barrie Flyers with their win over the Flyers.

After a scoreless first period Guelph took the lead when Ron Plumb fought his way around the Barrie defence and blazed a back hand shot into the net. Ron Ashbee got the equalizer later.

Mel Mullen sent Guelph ahead in the third period and seconds later Archie Richardson batted in Guelph's third tally on a goal-mouth scramble. Barrie got one back when Jimmy Keefe scored.

A four goal splurge in the third period gave Oshawa their win over Marlboros.

Marlboros got the only goal of the first period, Bobby Knowles scored on a goal-mouth scramble.

Lorne Pirie put Marlies ahead 2-0 early in the second frame on a lone rush. Dusty Blair counted for Oshawa minutes later.

Frank Hooper with two goals, and Jack Burton and Dick Gamble with singletons finished up the scoring.

Stratford grabbed a 3-1 lead in the first period on goals by Francis O'Hearn, Jimmy French and Jimmy Pernfuss. Bud Evans got St. Catharines' goal.

The teams split two goals in the second period — Joe Bragagnolo and Jack Leckie counting for Kroehlers and Bill Buschlan and Evans scoring for Teepees.

Handed Four Loss

Hamilton was handed its 4th loss in 11 starts as Kitchener-Waterloo defeated them.

The Dutchmen rammed in 3 goals in the first period and one in the second before Tigers answered. Then Tigers got hot — counting three times before the end of the period.

Don Grasser got his second goal of the night in the third period when he made an end-to-end dash to beat netminder Art Childs on a close in shot for the clincher.

Other Dutchmen marksmen were, Don Bauer with two and Mike Dziura with a singleton. Dillion Brady, Carl Smelle and Johnny Conick scored for Hamilton.

No O.H.A. games are scheduled for tonight. Tomorrow night, in the senior loop, Toronto Marlboros meet Hamilton and Owen Sound Mercurys clash with Kitchener. In the Junior Division, Toronto St. Michael's College plays Barrie, and Oshawa clashes with Guelph.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By ERWIN FRICKE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Cancouver, Nov. 11 — (CP) — The Pacific Coast Hockey League is through being a pariah.

During the war years and until this season the coast circuit was sort of a mongrel loop — neither amateur, professional, nor semi-professional.

Hockey experts treated it with contempt when the P.C.H.L. was referred to in the same breath as the National Hockey League. Amateur outfits like the Western Canada senior circuit questioned whether the coasters were "Simon-pures."

But this year the P.C.H.L. is definitely professional and Don (Vancouver Sun) Carlson says he already can see the difference.

Carlson quotes Bill Carse, former Edmonton junior amateur star who has run the gauntlet to the N.H.L., as saying:

Wingmen now keep on their wings. Centres work along imaginary centre lanes.

"Last year often you could lay one finger on eight or nine players jammed in one corner."

Ain't Nuttin' 15 to 1

Harry Truman's triumph in the United States presidential election apparently confirms the old phrase: "There just ain't nuttin' 15 to 1."

The thought of how much of the old mazoola the betting commissioners in New York must have dropped prompts Ken (Vancouver Province) McConnell to tally recent occasions in which the betting boys have been "in the switches."

There were the three Tony Zale - Rocky Graziano fights — the low man on the betting poll won every time. Then Zale met Marcel Cerdan and Tony was 8 to 1 to beat the Frenchman. The latter pulverized Zale.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

The primary rules in no-trump bidding can be packed into half a nutshell. Like every Horse Sense bridge rule, one sentence tells the story. You can read it right now.

A high card is any ace or king or queen; each high is a no-trump trick; opener of one in a suit shows four; responder is assumed to have two; each voluntary no-trump bid by either shows one more high.

When is a no-trump bid voluntary? When it is not forced. When is a player forced to bid? When partner takes out to a new suit. Or whether either partner has made a jump of any kind.

So, assume no jump has been made and see when a no-trump bid is voluntary. When either partner has rebid a suit; assisted a suit; bid no-trump. Any no-trump bid thereafter is voluntary.

Open one heart with this hand:

♥A Q 9 7 3
♦A Q 8
♣K J 7

Among other things your opening shows four high cards. But you have five high cards. This is one high card more than you promised. Therefore, you have one future voluntary no-trump bid.

Suppose partner responds with a spade, a forcing takeout. With no more takeouts and no assist, bid one no-trump. Unable to see tricks enough for a game, you must not jump.

This forced one no-trump bid of yours does not reveal your fifth high card. Why? It was not voluntary. So, you still have a high card unrevealed. It may be used for a future voluntary no-trump bid.

Suppose partner then bids two-no-trump. It is not forcing. Now bid three no-trump, a voluntary no-trump bid. It shows your fifth high card. Without this fifth high you should pass two no-trump.

Perhaps you think this is too brief for so important a subject. But it all simmers down to this: When forced to bid, a no-trump bid shows nothing new; when not forced, no-trump shows another high card.

Hollywood, Nov. 11: (AP)—What happens when a star misbehaves in public?

This question was directed at Dore Schary, production boss at M.G.M., most star-laden of the studios.

"The star is brought to the studio and talked to," Schary answered. "He is told to straighten himself out, not only for his own good, but for the good of the studio and the industry."

Does being jailed and other bad publicity hurt a star's popularity?

"The. . . public is essentially sympathetic.

"However, if the offenses are repeated, or the star is involved in an unsavory scandal, he will lose the public's sympathy and suffer a gradual decline in popularity."

That brought us to the question "what makes a movie star?"

"It takes several factors—talent, appearance, personality. But most important is what you can call animal magnetism or projection. It's the ability to reach the sympathy of an audience.

"Sometimes this magnetism comes over immediately. Jimmy Cagney was an instant hit when he played Lew Ayres' friend in 'Doorway to Hell'. Others take longer to put it across.

"Clark Gable was well known in pictures, but was never a top star until 'It Happened One Night.' Spencer Tracy was another slow starter."

Can a studio create stars?

"No. The studio can provide many things for players—create a personality for them, give them leading roles and get them before the public by means of the columns and magazines. But only the public can make them stars."

Is the star system a menace to good pictures, as some critics claim?

"There is no such thing as the star system. Stars are so much a part of the business that they can't be considered a 'system'.

"The people want to have heroes to pull for when they go to the theatre. That's why only the people can make a star."

Welsh Minister To be Appointed If Govt. Changes

By JAMES McCOOK
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Nov. 11 (CP)—Welshmen will have their way if a Conservative government is elected in Britain in 1950—and a Wedsh minister to look after their interest in parliament.

Winston Churchill, party leader speaking at the annual Conservative conference at Llandudno Wales, said the Conservatives look to Wales to "play an increasing part in British affairs."

"We have come to Wales for this conference. The cause of freedom is at stake and have we not often been told freedom dwells among the mountains?"

The Labor Government, despite urging by many members of Welsh descent, has declined to approve Welsh demands for a status similar to Scotland, which has its own secretary of state in the National government and Scottish office departments established in Edinburgh.

In the language of state, Scotland is a "kingdom" and Wales a "principality." In effect, England and Wales are grouped for administrative purposes and Scotland has a substantially separate administration for Scottish affairs.

D. R. Grenfell, Labor member of parliament for Gower and a former Nova Scotia coal miner has been the leader of a group of 36 members of parliament, representing Welsh constituencies or of Welsh descent, who have persistently asked the government to approve Welsh aspirations.

Government statements of policy have set forth a determination to see industries developed in Wales to check the danger of unemployment similar to that of the '30s and the drift of younger people away from Wales. If the principality's economic welfare is assured, the government suggests it will do well to continue in its present administration/association with England.

Welsh spokesmen say frankly they are jealous of Scotland with her own secretary of state and northern Ireland with her parliament. They do not want separation from the United Kingdom but recognition of their ancient status.

LONDON SCULPTOR BUSY

London, Nov. 11 — (CP)—One of the busiest sculptors in London is Charles Wheeler, creator of the new fountains opened in Trafalgar Square by the Duke of Gloucester.

He now is working on an even larger fountain group for the Lever Art Gallery at Port Sunlight, near Liverpool, and has just completed models for a war memorial to men killed at Tobruk.

EXHIBITION OF EXHIBITIONS

Glasgow, Nov. 11 — (CP)—The Scottish Industries Fair to be held here in the fall of 1945 is being organized as "The exhibition of exhibitions," Dr. C. Macrae said in an address. The fair, which will be held Sept. 1-17, will be advertised throughout the world. It was hoped it would emphasize the quality and variety of Scottish manufacture.

AT THE CAPITOL—Wallace Beery and Gladys George have a slight altercation in this scene from "Alias a Gentleman," current attraction at the Capitol screen. Others in this comedy-drama of an ex-crook who tries to crash society include Tom Drake and Dorothy Patrick. On the same program "The Bold Frontiersman," starring Allan "Rocky" Lane. Matinee daily at 2.00.

New York—An enterprising young man stole a big Eeighth Avenue bus from a transit garage Wednesday night and ran it over its regular route, collecting fares.

Business was fine until the free-lance operator sideswiped a taxicab near 42nd Street.

He kept right on going, but a few blocks farther on he crashed into a taxicab and overturned it. No one was injured but an ambulance and police radio cars converged on the scene.

The driver surveyed the growing commotion, climbed from his seat and strolled off into a subway station.

That was the last seen of him. And the lone passenger in the bus at the time couldn't furnish a description.

Baltimore—Remember the gag that goes: "If you don't like the weather here, just wait awhile—it'll change?"

Well, at 3:45 p.m. EST, Wednesday the temperature in Baltimore hit 72 degrees, just two degrees below the all-time high for Nov. 10.

At 7 p.m. it was snowing.

And the weatherman says it'll be freezing tonight.

Hollywood—Maybe Hollywood, frequently crticized for its morals, is improving.

For the first time in its 14 years, the jail with a 28 capacity had not a single occupant Tuesday night.

New York—Here's a fish story that's no pipe dream:

A Bronx apartment house was without water Wednesday, and members of 65 families were beating a concerto on the water pipes.

A city maintenance crew responded to the tumult, loosened the main feed pipe and turned on a key fire hydrant.

Out of the hydrant reeled a large eel which ended the water shortage. Housewives and maintenance men scrambled for the eel. The maintenance men won.

One housewife said: "It would have looked pretty good in a pot."

went to the market with ma help her carry things, and ma d, What's a matter with your ot?

Nuthing, ma, I said, and she d, Then stop limping.

Which I did for a while, and n I started again, ma saying there something wrong with ur foot, or isn't there?

No mam, I said, and ma said, I ow whats a matter. You deritly let me tak you out of at shoe store the other day th shoes that are too small for u, she said.

Well jimminies, ma, if my shoes re too tite, I'd be limping with both feet, wouldn't I? I said, and ma said, Suppose you had 3 feet what then? I never saw sutch a boy. I made you walk up and down that store a half a duzzen times to be sure the shoes were roomy enough. If you haven't got sense enough to know when your shoes are too tite, you'd better go through life accompanied by a mind reeder, she said.

But G roozalem, ma, I tell you they're not too tite, I said, and ma said, Then there must be something wrong with your foot because there's no 3rd possibility.

Yes there is, ma, there mite be a little stone in one of my shoes and that's just where there is, I said, and ma said, Then for land sakes why dont you take it out?

Because I'm trying to find out how the Hindoos in India can lie on a board full of nales without feeling it, I said. I'm starting by just standing on one pebble, to see how it would feel to stand on just one nale, I said, and ma said Would you like to find out how it would feel to sit on a few good slaps rite here in the street amung all these people?

No mam, I said.

Which I wouldn't of, more on account of the publicity than the slaps, so I took the pebbles out of my shoe and ended the subject.

eels Like Different Woman Since Syntona Built Her Up ought Grand Relief From Backache, Nervousness and Dizzy Bilious Spells, Says This Grateful Woman.

"For some time I was in a bad-rundown condition and I am mply delighted with the good ults I got by taking Syntona rbal Compound," says Mrs. ice Pearce, 73 Wharncliffe Rd. rth, London, Ontario, in a rent report.

I felt completely tired and worn . Appetite was poor and I was bject to dizzy spells and bilious acks with spots floating before my s. Worst of all were my nerves ich were so bad I often felt lucky I got more than a few hours sleep night. I suffered with backache d constipation.

After trying various other things taking Syntona and I want know how much this medicine ped me. My appetite is imved wonderfully. I am not having dizzy spells or bilious attacks , constipation and backaches do trouble me and my nerves are so proved that I am able to get sound, tful sleep. I cannot tell you how ased I am and I shall be glad to commend this medicine to other ople."

The action of Syntona is often prising to many people, but there is good reason for this. Syntona contains 12 herbs and roots that act on stomach, kidneys, liver and bowels. It helps rid system of excess acids and impurities and promotes better assimilation of food for increased strength and energy.

Syntona is sold and recommended in Belleville at DOLAN THE DRUGGIST. Find out how it can help you, too.

Chicago Black Hawks Left In N.H.L. Cellar as Boston And Detroit Wings Fogged Out

(By The Canadian Press)

Boston Bruins and Detroit Red Wings skated around in the fog for nine minutes Wednesday night and then decided to call it a night.

Referee Bill Chadwick decided the dense fog in Boston Garden was a bit too thick and ordered the game replayed tonight.

For Chicago Black Hawks, the fog they've been in most of the season lifted in the third period of their game with New York Rangers Wednesday night. But they came out of it too late to catch the Rangers who beat them 4-3 in registering their second win this year.

It left the Hawks alone in the National Hockey League cellar, two points behind the Rangers.

It was the first time in N.H.L. history that game has been postponed after it started. Usually mild weather was blamed for the soft ice which Chadwick decided was too dangerous. There were no "fog checks", but the capacity crowd of 13,900 was told the ticket stubs would be honored tonight.

Black Hawks move up to Montreal for tonight's other game.

Veteran Edgar Laprade whipped in two goals for Rangers while Winnipeg's Don Raleigh and Rookie Clint Albright got the others. Gaye Stewart, Roy and Jim Conacher scored for Chicago.

Trailing 4-1 at the start of the final period, Hawks put on a heavy drive that forced Coach Frank Boucher to put five Ranger defencemen on the ice to beat off the desperate Hawks in the final period. He made the shift when Coach Charlie Conacher pulled Sugar Jim Henry from the Chicago nets and iced six forwards.

Laprade sent Rangers ahead in the first period on a pass from Ed Kullman. Raleigh followed two minutes later after Albright made the play. Rangers lead was cut by Roy Conacher's 35-foot shot with assists going to Metro Prystai and Adam Brown, only to have Laprade tally again at the end of the second period from Bill Moe and Tony Leswick.

Jim Conacher and Stewart scored four minutes apart during the third-period drive.

LAST NIGHT'S STARS

(By The Canadian Press)

Ranger Centre Edgar Laprade whose two goals helped stave off a determined Chicago power attack, as New York edged the Black Hawks 4-3.

Sugar Jim Henry, who performed brilliantly in the Chicago net kicking out sure goals repeatdly to keep the Hawks in the game until the last minute.

Bespectacled Rookie C. Albright who sparked the Rangers with a goal and an assist.

Newark Bears Franchise Will Be Unloaded

Newark, N. J., Nov. 11 (AP)— Now that New York Yankees have admitted they want to unload the costly Newark Bears' franchise of the triple-A International Baseball League the only question that remains to be answered is:

How are the Yanks going to get rid of the Bears?

Co-owner Dan Topping finally confirmed Wednesday the rumors that the Bears are for sale.

He added that he'd probably be able to clarify the situation today after a meeting among George Weiss, Yankee general manager, Parke Carroll, a Bear executive, and Frank Shaughnessy, president of the International League.

There are several major-league clubs that might be interested in buying the Bears — if only to own a triple-A club. The club that buys, however, will have to be willing to lose money in return for the development of players, for the Bears have been in the red for several years.

Now—She Doesn't Feel Tired The Way She Used To

...And WHAT a Difference In Her Figure and Pep!

The pepless, exhausted feeling, common to many women, is often due to low blood count. Lack of sufficient red corpuscles, resulting from iron deficiency, may be robbing your body of vital oxygen. And you must have plenty of oxygen to help explode your energy and give you "going power". Get Dr. Williams Pink Pills today. They are world-noted for the help they give in increasing the number and strength of red corpuscles. Then with blood count up, most people regain that glorious feeling of health and energy that gets them out of the old rocking chair into the activities they need to help restore a youthful, fit appearance. Don't delay — ask your druggist for Dr. Williams Pink Pills at once.

Frank Boucher's Air Force Flyers Defeat Verdun

Ottawa, Nov. 11 —(CP)—Frank Boucher's second-place Air Force Flyers Wednesday night dug the Verdun Rams deeper into the cellar when they swamped the Quebec stick - wielders 3-0 in the first half of an Eastern Canada Senior Hockey League doubleheader Wednesday night.

In the nightcap Hull Volants staged a thrilling third-period rally to tie Ottawa New Edinburghs 4-4 and thus retain No. 3 slot in the league standing.

Stan Rocke led the R. C. A. F. Flyers scoring with a two - goal effort, one in the first and another in the second frame. Stan Molinski came through with another for the Flyers in the first.

The 'Burghs boys surprised Hull with a three-goal splurge in the first frame in the second half of the doubleheader. Scorers were Johnny Kuzmanski, Giles Bourdon and Howie Armstrong.

Hull started to click in the second period when Smiley Meronek and Louis LaFlamme slammed in the rubber into the 'Burghs net. Auclaire came back with another notcher for the 'Burghs in the 3rd frame.

Hull came through with a goal by Bilodeau. Then with 20 seconds to play, Meronek banged home a pass from Leger to tie up the score.

Vancouver Will Be Given Expenses To Come East

(By The Canadian Press)

Dr. H. G. MacDonell, president of the Ontario Rugby Football Union Junior League, said in Kitchener Wednesday night the expenses of Vancouver Blue Bombers would be guaranteed if the Vancouver club qualifies to come east for the Canadian junior football final.

"If they qualify and come east, their return expenses from Saskatoon to the eastern game will be guaranteed," he said.

Vancouver play Saskatoon Hilltops in Saskatoon Saturday in a sudden-death game for the western junior title. The winner will meet the eastern champions—either Point Edward or Hamilton Wildcats.

Assumption High School Purple Raiders won their second straight Windsor Secondary Schools Association football title Wednesday night by defeating Patterson Collegiate Panthers, 13-11, in a sudden-death playoff.

Raiders now meet Sarnia Collegiate in a sudden-death W. O. S. S. A. semi-final in Windsor Saturday.

Ben Hogan, who has earned $32,113 in the Professional Golfers' Association tournaments this year, picked up another honor Wednesday when it was announced at Chicago he was named — "golfer of the year" in a poll conducted by the P.G.A.

The Texan was chosen by the press and radio of the United States in a practically unanimous vote, said George Schnetter, chairman of the P. G. A. tournament committee.

A damage claim for injuries suffered by a rail-seat spectator struck by a stick during a hockey game at Toronto Maple Leaf Gardens Oct. 26, 1947, was dismissed in appeal court Wednesday.

Mrs. Ernest Payne of Toronto, attending a National Hockey League game, was struck inadvertently by a stick during a dispute between two players, Gaye Stewart — then with Toronto Maple Leafs — and Johnny Mariucci, Chicago Black Hawks' defenceman. She claimed damages on the grounds that the seats were not protected from danger as skillfully as was possible.

Judgment was reserved on a claim for damages from the players.

Henri Rochon, Canada's No. 1 tennis player, and Alfredo Ramos of Mexico were eliminated Wednesday in the first doubles of the Mexican national tournament.

They lost to Gustavo Gonzalez and Pedro Hernandez of Mexico, 6-4, 4-6, 4-6, 6-4, 7-5.

In the singles championship, Rochon reached the semi - finals Tuesday, defeating Mexico's Davis Cup team player, Gustavo Palafox. The Montrealer meets Anselmo Puente, seeded No. 2 today.

Fred Haney, once skipper of St. Louis Browns, Wednesday was named manager of Hollywood Stars of the Pacific Coast League. He succeeds Jimmy Dykes, who stepped out of the job late last season.

France's Marcel Cerdan, world middleweight boxing champion, plans to go to the United States about Nov. 17 for a series of exhibition matches.

Lew Burston of New York, who arranged Cerdan's affairs in the States, announced the trip. Cerdan is visiting at his home in Casablanca following a tour of France since he returned from lifting the title from Tony Zale Sept. 22 in New Jersey.

Kansas City Pla-Mors Away Out in Front

(By The Associated Press)

With a trio of fast-skating stick-handlers leading the way, Kansas City Pla-Mors are running away from the rest of the United States Hockey League.

The Pla-Mors knocked off St. Louis Saints 5-3 Wednesday night. In 11 games this season the Pla-Mors have lost only one. They've been tied twice.

Hank Blade, Bert Olmstead and Ray Powell comprise the high-scoring trio.

Blade marked up his second three-count of the year when he scored two goals in the first period and another in the second. Powell and Olmstead accounted for the remainder of the Kansas City scoring.

Tulsa cut loose a scoring blast for the second night in a row to win at Dallas 10-6 in a southern-division game. The Oilers scored seven times in the first period. Lloyd Gronsdahl, Ching Dheere, Dick Butler, and Joe Schertzel poured in the seven goals.

Gronsdahl accounted for three, Dheere two, and Butler and Schertzel got single tallies.

25 Jap Leaders Blamed for War Atrocity Deaths

Tokyo, Nov. 11 — (AP) — An estimated 1,000,000 war atrocity deaths were blamed today on 25 Japanese leaders by an international court.

Hideki Tojo, Japanese premier for most of the war, and his 24 co-defendants sat grim - faced through the reading of the court's judgment in their war-crimes trial. They may know their fate late tomorrow.

To a world shocked by Nazi wartime atrocities the court released these comparative figures.

The Nazis and Fascists captured 235,473 prisoners from Britain and the United States. Of these, 1,348 — or four per cent— died in captivity.

The Japanese captured 132,134 prisoners from the same two countries. Of these, 35,756 — 27 per cent — died in captivity.

Tod Compeau tried to keep pace during the wild session, knocking in two Dallas goals.

STRIKE IN JAPANESE COAL MINES

Tokyo, Nov. 11 — (AP) — One-fifth of Japan's coal mines were shut down today as miners in local unions went on a 24-ho strike for higher wages and r tirement pay.

THE VENABLES

BY KATHLEEN NORRIS

Lily and Flo, their muscles sore, their faces dirty, their fingers stiff and burned and odorous of ashes and hot candle wax, slept on a wide mattress upon which one sheet had been stretched and over which a welter of blankets was loosely piled.

"Flo," Lily breathed, when everyone was asleep. "Listen."

Flo moved in the darkness. Their faces almost touched.

"Listen," said Lily. "You know the Kindero boy that was helping his father today?"

"Yare," Flo answered, expectant.

"Well, listen. When his father was taking the table in and you were in the hall with him, he tried to kiss me."

"Oh, he didn't!"

"Yes, he did."

"Oh, Lily! What'd he want to do that for?"

"I don't know. But boys — boys do."

"Oh, Lily!" was all Flo could gasp. But the familiar world she had known rocked under her and about her, familiar thoughts took on new shapes, and something that was childhood drifted away like mist, forever. Boys were kissing Lily! She lay flat and straight; oddly, newly conscious of her arms and her legs and the swelling softness of her breast, and the deep flush on her face.

"Flo, I like boys," Lily confessed. "I hate him, because his father has a fruit store and he smells and he's so fresh!" she hastened to amend it. "But I like nice boys."

"Lily Venables, wouldn't you catch it from Mama if she heard you say that!"

"Well, I don't care! I don't want to be an old maid like Aunt Hattie and Aunt Daisy."

"You wouldn't have to be an old maid. You could be a — a doctor or something."

"Well, but if you didn't marry you'd be an old maid."

"You would not! You could have a lot of fun."

"You couldn't have children."

"You could adopt one."

"Well, I'm going to get married," Lily stated.

"Well, I'll hate your husband, and I'll always — hate him!" Flo said angrily. And being tried and excited, she cried herself quietly to sleep, at the thought of her loneliness when Lily was gone.

They had been only a night or two in the new home and were still feeling uncomfortable and strange there when Uncle Roswell came to see them. Willie had said good-bys to him in no uncertain terms while breaking up the Jones Street house. It was dreadful to talk to one's brother this way, Willie had conceded, weeping, but Roswell knew very well that she had not any money now, and he ought to be helping her instead of expecting her to help him!

But only a few days later he came to find them in Shotwell Street.

He had a bag of greasy lemon cookies in his hand; his manner was friendly and admiring. He came into the kitchen — it was just dinnertime — and spoke timidly to everyone in turn even to Spencer who was about to be taken to bed by Flo. Well, they surely had made the place look nice; he wished he could have helped them, but he had had a chance for a job.

"And the job is pretty important these days, Willie," he said, sitting at the kitchen table in his old black coat that was swollen and green at the seams with his spats on, and his dirty old gloves held in his hand with his hat and stick.

Willie said nothing. She was tired to despair; she had gotten ten big splinters at once into her palm when she had stumbled and fallen flat on the floor earlier in the day; only half of them had been coaxed out.

Tojo, Six Others To be Hanged For War Crimes

Life Imprisonment Meted Out to Other 16 on Trial

By RUSSELL BRINES

Tokyo, Nov. 12 — (AP) — Death on the gallows was decreed today for Hideki Tojo, the cold, calculating Japanese who led his country to ruin in the world's bloodiest war, and six of his 24 top leaders.

Life imprisonment was meted out to 16 others, including Marquis Kochi Kido, close adviser to the Emperor.

Shigenori Togo, foreign minister at the time of the Pearl Harbor attack, drew 20 years in prison.

Peg-legged Mamoru Shigemitsu, the statesman who hobbled aboard the United States battleship Missouri to sign the surrender terms in Tokyo Bay, got seven years imprisonment.

An 11-power court convicted all 25 defendants of war crimes. It sat for more than 2½ years, but took only 21 minutes to read the sentences.

Sir William Webb of Australia, president of the court, pronounced the sentences in a deathly silent and packed courtroom. Each man filed in separately and stood in an otherwise empty prisoner's dock to hear his sentence. Each attempted to subdue emotion, but varied reactions were noticeable.

Tojo took his death sentence with a wan smile. He bowed politely to the court as did most of the other men.

Seventy-four-year-old Gen. Jiro Minami, former war minister, seemed befuddled and surprised with his sentence of life imprisonment. Gen. Hiroshi Oshima, former ambassador to Germany, stood arrogantly as he was sentenced to life and stalked away without the polite bow.

MacArthur Sets Deadline

Gen. MacArthur, Allied occupation commander, set Nov. 19 as the deadline for petitions in behalf of the defendants to be submitted to him as reviewing officer of the tribunal's decision.

No date for the carrying out of the death sentences was set.

A close guard was placed on all of the Japanese for fear some might try to take their own lifes.

Justice Delfin Jaranilla of the Philippines, in concurring in the court's opinion said he differed with some of the sentences and felt they were too light. Justice R. B. Pal of India dissented in a 1,235-page document filed with the clerk. His dissent in the main said Japan did not seem more aggressive than the rest of the world powers.

Sir William Webb of Australia, tribunal president, said he concurred in the sentences but added some additional remarks.

MacArthur requested members of the Allied Council for Japan and the heads of the Tokyo missions of all Allied governments on the tribunal to advise and consult with him Nov. 22 in regard to the sentences.

The 25 Japanese were all convicted of varied roles in Japan's 14 years of aggressive warfare.

Tojo was convicted of seven counts, including the main charge of conspiracy, and separate counts for aggressive war on the United States and her allies and atrocities against all of the Allied Powers.

CLOSE TO 500 CLAIMS STAKED IN URANIUM HUNT

One Prospector Staked 30 Claims Before News of Discovery Leaked Out

Sault Ste. Marie, Nov. 12 — (CP)— Take it from Bob Campbell, the 34-year-old Toronto man who found uranium on the Lake Superior shore 80 miles north of here, there's a rainbow at the end of every trail.

But the trail that led him to the radioactive deposits in the black rocks near Alona Bay started when at 18, he took a 10-day prospecting course sponsored by the Ontario Government. It led him through the goldfields of Northern Ontario and northwestern Quebec, to California and finally to this district.

While picking up the prospecting skill which helped him find the metal used for production of atomic energy, Campbell learned to keep a secret. He managed to stake 30 claims in the new field before news of his discovery leaked out.

Announcement early this week of the Algoma district find brought a rush prospectors to the the area. By Thursday night close to 500 claims had been staked mining men said. Staking in the area extends for 14 miles north and south of Campbell's field and eight miles east and west.

Algoma ore properties, a subsidiary of the Algoma Steel Corporation here, is reported to have 50 claims. Some of the best-known mining men in Canada, racing against the onset of the bitter northern winter, are putting finishing touches to their claims.

Staked Last Summer

Several of the same prospectors staked claims last summer in a uranium rush to the coral rapid section north of Cochrane in northern eastern Ontario.

Mining men say there is a possibility that efforts will be made this winter to start shaft sinking operations on Campbell's property. Most of the claim-stakers expect to delay exploration until spring.

A reference in an old provincial government report to the finding of uranium minerals 70 to 90 miles north of the Sault sent Campbell on his luckiest trail. He made his strike on his second day in the Alona Bay area. This is the way he described in his diary the events leading to the discovery:

"Went over several high hills where we had boat wreck ... lake rough ... came on narrow gorge with steep cliffs and noticed green rock filling about 40 feet wide ... wanted to check contacts of this greenish rock with granite (early reports made mention of this.)

"I got some real kicks on the Geiger counter an electronic device used to detect presence of radioactive minerals) ... got rather excited because I believed I had found it.

"Looked around a bit and checked counts up the gorge ... I got some samples of a dark mineral having physical properties of caracite (the pitchblende referred to in early reports.)

"Very strong reaction on counter ... found quite a lot of yellow stain here and there ... believe this may be ord find of 1947 because of coincidence of facts."

Weather Synopsis

Toronto, Nov. 12 — (CP) — Synopsis: It is cloudy over most of Ontario this morning. A disturbance developing over the central states is expected to pursue an eastward course toward the Great Lakes regions. Its approach will be heralded over Southern Ontario today with increasing cloudiness and strengthening southerly winds. Rain is forecast for all southern regions on Saturday with continuing mild weather both days.

CHINESE TROOPS TAKING UPPER HAND IN BATTLE

Chiang Kai-Shek May Move Capital South

Nanking, Nov. 12 — (AP) — Savage Nationalists attacks reportedly routed nine Red columns at the Grand Canal today in the mammoth Suchow battle.

The Communists, pro-government newspapers said, withdrew in disorder, leaving 37,000 dead and wounded. They had tried to sneak 135,000 Tsinan veterans across the canal for an attack on Suchow's left flank, 30 miles east of the government bastion.

(The Communist radio heard in Peiping, said the Reds were annihilating the Seventh National Army Corps east of Suchow and had cooped up the Second Army Corps west of the town. The Red radio said two National divisions went over to the Communists on Monday north of Suchow.)

Bloody Fight

The fight at the canal was bloody. The Nationalists were credited with turning back more than 20 Red charges. The Reds, reports said, were using what the Chinese call "human sea" tactics —waves of men charging almost shoulder to shoulder.

Automatic weapons and low flying strafing planes took a heavy toll.

More than 1,000,000 combatants have been committed by the warring Chinese factions.

Foreign diplomats in Nanking generally expected Chiang to order the capital transferred southward in view of his decision to carry on what he calls his "eight years of war" against the Reds.

American dependents were leaving in United States transport planes operating from the same busy Nanking airfield used by Chinese war craft. They were being flown to Shanghai and Tsingtao to board ships for home.

United States consular officials urged American women and children at Tsingtao to evacuate because of the spreading hostilities.

Although under martial law, life in the capital was almost normal. There was little excitement and no disorders — a sharp contrast from the food riots of recent days.

St. Laurent Says Canada, Between Two Great Powers, Cannot Remain Neutral in War

Ottawa, Nov. 12 (CP)— Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, who becomes Prime Minister of Canada next Monday, says that Canada cannot remain neutral in another war because the conflict would swirl around her "very gates".

Speaking Thursday night to a national audience over the CBC freetime political broadcast known as the "Nation's Business", he said:

"If a third world war should break out, Canada could not be neutral. We are situated right between two great powers, and whether we liked it or not, another world war would be fought at our very gates.

"It would, moreover, be a conflict not merely between two great powers, but between an atheistic Communist world and our democratic Christian civilization."

He said that war was not "inevitable" but stressed that anyone who believed that war was "an impossibility must be lacking in most elementary realism."

It must be admitted now that the United Nations had failed to banish the threat of another war. Despite the patience and tolerance of the "genuinely democratic" nations, one of the great powers through "ill-will and constant obstruction" had prevented the establishment of international security and co-operation.

In the face of this growing insecurity, the freedom-loving nations had no course but to combine their strength to face "the menace of totalitarian and imperialistic Communism."

Steps towards such an alliance — the North Atlantic Security Pact—already has been taken by Canada, the United States and the countries of Europe's western union. Soon they would begin the actual negotiations on a defence treaty.

Canada's geographical situation, her historic ties, her material well-being and, above all, her national security, made it "imperative" that she join in this North Atlantic community.

"We do not want a third world war", said Mr. St. Laurent. "Let us all do everything we can to prevent it. . . .

"Anything less than a North Atlantic pact would give us no real hope of maintaining a preponderance of material and moral strength on the side of peace. And it is only if we can maintain an overwhelming preponderance on the side of peace that we can maintain the peace."

Police Continue Wide Hunt For Safecrackers

Maxville, Nov. 12 —(CP) — Townspeople and farmers in this community 60 miles east of Ottawa today were counting up losses as police continued a wide hunt for safecrackers who escaped with bank loot estimated at between $150,000 and $200,000.

Some persons said their life savings in bonds and securities had fallen to the thieves who cut open a Bank of Nova Scotia vault Thursday with an acetylene torch and cleaned out safety deposit boxes of cash, securities and jewels.

Reports are that between 100 and 125 of the 200 safety deposit boxes were rifled.

A large sedan bearing Quebec licence plates gave police their only clue to the whereabouts of the men. The vehicle, reported stolen from Montreal, was found abandoned near Hawkesbury. Police said it was possible the vehicle was used in the getaway.

Meanwhile, Inspector Ward Kennedy of the criminal investigation department, Ontario Provincial Police, Toronto, arrived in nearby Cornwall, to take charge of the investigation.

A small square window in the two storey red brick building provided an entrance for the thieves. Using an acetylene torch which they later left behind, they cut a small hole through the steel vault door and the main locking bar behind it. With the locking bar severed, the heavy door could be opened.

The robbery was discovered at 6:45 a.m. by the bank's caretaker Steve Dawson.

News of the robbery spread quickly through the district. An elderly woman made her way to the bank. When told of the theft she said: "There goes my $25,000 in life savings." There were tears in her eyes.

A feed and coal merchant, William Macewan is reported to have been one of the largest losers.

Power Cutoff Silences Alarm In $100,000 Fire

Beamsville, Nov. 12 — (CP) — A power cutoff silenced an alarm siren Thursday when a $100,000 fire broke out in a sulphur-grinding machine at the Barlett Spray Works.

Hydro officials, notified by telephone, threw in the switches to enable sounding of the siren. Then, just as firemen reached the scene, the power at the plant went off and sprinkling system pumps stopped operating.

The fire, believed caused by a spark from a piece of metal as it went through a grinding machine, levelled all but the office building of the plant which manufactured sprays and dusting powders for the fruit and vegetable crops of this Lincoln county section of the rich Niagara Peninsula orchard and garden belt.

The plant stood in Clinton township, a short distance northeast of Beamsville and about 10 miles west of St. Catharines.

The only source of water to fight the fire was a nearby creek, almost dry after the summer's drought. Fire trucks threw suction hose into the creek but leaves jammed their pumps.

Workmen said the fire started with an explosion in the hammer mill. Flames immediately raced through the plant.

Ken MacMillan, 19, in the factory with fellow-workers Garth Notman and Bill Mowat, said he ran to try to shut off the hammer mill but smoke drove him back. Flaming sulphur burned his hands.

Provincial Constable Frank Cooney of Beamsville used the radio transmitter in his automobile to spread word of the outbreak.

"It looked just like a bomb explosion," he said later. "The first thing I saw was a big balloon of black smoke shooting into the air. Then the flames shot through the roof."

Two Battling Bucks Set Free by Officer After Antlers Tangled

Caro, Mich., Nov. 12—(CP)— Eyewitness reports of a terrific battle between two, 200-pound buck deer were received today from two Caro hunters.

Marshall Gerlach and Paul Rowland, hunting rabbits in the Deford state game area near here, watched the two bucks struggle fiercely, their antlers interlocked. Conservation Officer Henry Predmore, who freed the foes by shooting off a portion of their antlers, estimated they had been fighting for seven hours.

One buck, with a 16-point horn spread, trotted away when he was freed. The other dropped, exhausted. In their fight, the deer had trampled underbrush in an area five rods in diameter.

FATHER, THREE CHILDREN BURNED TO DEATH IN HOME

Daughter Escapes Flames By Jumping Out Window

Sydney, N.S. —(CP)— A crippled father and three of his five children died today in a fire which destroyed their home at West Bay, 80 miles west of here.

Dead are:

Ernest John Levantie, 52; two sons, Neil, 12, and Joe, 10, and a daughter, Betty, six.

Another daughter, Kay, 14, escaped the flames by jumping from a second-storey window.

The only other member of the family, a daughter, was staying at the home of a neighbor at the time of the outbreak.

Mrs. Levantie died a year ago and Mr. Levantie, a steelworker, established a home in West Bay.

Seven Drowned In Plane Crash Near Liverpool

Liverpool, England, Nov. 12 — (AP) — A twin-engined plane carrying six passengers and a crew of two plunged into the Mersey Tidal Basin Thursday night and sank. All but one of the eight persons aboard are believed to have been killed.

One survivor, a male passenger, swam ashore. The body of another man was washed ashore today.

The plane, with seven passengers and two crew members, left the Isle of Man Thursday for a trip to Dublin.

One of the passengers, a young woman, was five minutes late for the return flight to the Isle of Man and the plane left without her.

Because of fog, the plane was unable to land on the Isle of Man and was attempting to reach Speke airfield near Liverpool for an emergency landing.

BWI to Discuss New Federation In Commonwealth

Bridgetown, Barbados, Nov. 12 — (CP) — British West Indian delegates met here today to discuss plans for a new federation within the Commonwealth.

Representatives of 13 colonies got down to the job of blueprinting a new nation — a Caribbean Dominion in what was once the Spanish Main.

Sir Hubert Rance, chairman of the standing committee on closer association, told the delegates "This conference, recognizing the desirability of political federation of the British Caribbean Territories, accepts the principle of federation."

NEW OPPORTUNITIES FOR BLIND

Brantford, Nov. 12 — (CP) — New opportunities have been opened up for graduates of the Ontario School for the Blind, Education Minister Dana Porter said Thursday during his first visit to the school. He said one graduate had received his Doctorate of Philosophy from Columbia University and was lecturing at the University of Toronto and three more were in their final year at McMaster University.

Possible 'Leak' On Jet Fighter Probed by RCMP

U.S. Magazine Publishes Details, Specifications

Ottawa, Nov. 12 (CP)— The RCMP are investigating a possible leak of information regarding a new experimental jet fighter on which details and specifications were published this week in a United States magazine.

The aircraft XC-100, is being built at the Malton plant of A.V. Roe Company of Canada.

An official statement from the chief of the air staff, Air Marshal A.M. Curtis today said that if investigations show that an offence has been committed under the official secrets act "the person responsible will be prosecuted."

Officials Concerned

Officials, it was learned, are concerned not so much with any actual information disclosed in the article as to the manner in which the information was gained. It was previously known that the fighter was being developed and some articles have been written about it.

However, officials are concerned that such a leakage of information might result in some future leak of really important secrets. Employees at the A.V. Roe Plant are sworn to secrecy and under the official Secrets Act are liable to heavy penalties up to several years' imprisonment for divulging information.

Suspects Outsiders

Toronto, Nov. 12.— (CP)— Leakage of information on Canada's first jet fighter "came from outside the company," Murray Willer, assistant sales manager of the A. V. Roe Company, at Malton, said today.

Although "all possible sources are being checked," he did not believe anyone in the company was responsible for the article in Aviation Week, a United States trade journal. It described alleged details of the Canadian XC-100 jet fighter "nearing completion at Malton."

"It is amazing how complete their information is, but some of it is definitely in correct," said Mr. Willer.

Boiled or Steamed Dana Porter Likes His Cabbage Strong

Woodstock, Nov. 12—(CP)— Should cabbage be steamed or boiled?

Ontario's minister of education, Dana Porter, found himself in the soup here this morning when he peered into a pot of boiling cabbage at the rural shop and home economics school. The minister maintained cabbage should be steamed to retain food value. Mrs. Helen Yule, instructor, disagreed. Cabbage boiled, not too much, while it did not retain as much food value as when steamed, did not have a strong cabbage flavor, the pert, blonde teacher told the minister. Steaming cabbage would come later in the course she explained.

The minister left maintaining cabbage should be steamed—he liked the strong flavor.

RUSSIA AND WEST OPPOSE AIRING IN UN ASSEMBLY

West Sees Chance of Issue at Stake Becoming Oratory Target

Paris, Nov. 12 (CP)—Russia and the Western Powers were reported today to be opposed to airing the delicate Berlin deadlock in the United Nations General Assembly.

Reliable sources said Argentine delegate Juan A. Bramuglia, November president of the Security Council, has asked Secretary-General Trygve Lie not to step into the Berlin case.

Sources close to Bramuglia said he was planning to deliver a similar message to Herbert V. Evatt, Australian External Affairs Minister and President of the Assembly, who has been reported ready to raise the Berlin issue in the 58-member Assembly, where there is no big-power veto.

Bramuglia's visit to Lie followed a series of conferences between him and delegates from the western and "neutral" powers on the Security Council.

Opera Star Stabbed But Continues Role to Play's End

Pittsburgh, Nov. 12 (AP) — Raoul Joblin, Metropolitan Opera star, carried on in true theatrical tradition Thursday night despite a wrist stab wound sustained during the third act of Carmen.

Although bleeding from the wound inflicted accidentally by leading lady Gladys Swarthout, Jobin continued on stage but fainted as the curtain fell for the end of the act.

Jobin, portraying the role of Don Jose, was stabbed during a "quarrel" with Miss Swarthout, playing Carmen, after Don Jose had given up his family and his army career to join Carmen and a band of smugglers in the mountains.

Jobin sang the fourth and final act as the audience of 3.800 was unaware of the incident. Later he went to a hospital where five stitches were taken in his wrist.

UNOFFICIAL RECEPTION COMMITTEE FOR IMMIGRANTS

Toronto, Nov. 12 — (CP) — There's always an unofficial reception committee for immigrants from Europe arriving at Toronto's Union Station. The station staff includes: a Czech floor-washer, an Italian in the baggage room, Dutch and Swedish red caps and a waitress who speaks French.

Rain of Shooting-Stars Pelting Earth From Exploded Earth-Size Planet

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
(Associated Press Science Editor)

New York, Nov. 12 — (AP) —A planet, just about earth's size, that exploded for some unknown reason is probably the source of the rain of shooting-stars that now pelts the world.

Studies to show this were reported to the Geological Society of America's annual meeting today by H. H. Hess of Princeton and E. P. Henderson of the United States National Museum, Washington.

The planet's story they found written in the minerals forming a meteorite that was picked up in Kansas. It was made mainly of the same kind of black rock which in Canada is the great source of nickel in the Sudbury basin.

How this kind of rock is formed is known from laboratory tests and from theories. This meteor, they found, was formed in a place corresponding exactly to the bottom of the sort of chamber, deep underground in our own earth, where the hot molten rock known as magma is formed by heat and pressure.

This particular meteor was formed at a temperature somewhat hotter than melting iron. But it did not come out of volcanic eruption. It was part of some layers of mineral, stone and metal that were dropped to the bottom of the great cauldron deep in the lost planet. This process is known as "layering," and is much like the dropping of flat tea leaves to the bottom of a cup.

The geologists reported also that the meteorite "left this environment with catastrophic suddenness," meaning that the planet exploded. They said that several lines of evidence suggest that the parent planet was about the size of the earth.

The shooting stars falling into the earth's atmosphere daily are like a rain of dust, and astronomers estimate them high in the millions. Some hundreds or thousands each day are fair-sized chunks, and occasionally one weighs many tons. Comets that broke up by getting too close either to Jupiter or another of the giant planets, are also thought to furnish some of the shooting stars.

Two Women Die, Two Men Injured At R. R. Crossing

Baden, Nov. 12 — (CP)—Condition of Louis Prang, of Zurich, injured Thursday night in a level crossing crash in which two women were killed, was still critical today, hospital officials said. Dan Oswald, 66, also of Zurich, was in fair condition.

The dead were Mrs. Thelma McClinthey, of Kippen, Ont., and Mrs. A. C. Levey of Seaforth, Ont. Hospital officials said today Prang suffered a collapsed chest and internal injuries. Oswald suffered injuries to his right elbow and body bruises.

Police said the four were riding in an automobile driven by Prang. The car stopped at the level crossing and Prang was trying to back off the tracks when the train struck and carried it 300 yards down the track.

Eyewitnesses told police the car turned out and passed three other vehicles waiting for the train to go by.

Last Election Should Have Taught Lesson

Chicago, Nov. 12 — (AP) — New stories which suggest what is going to happen should not "leave what has happened out of sight," newspaper editors were advised Thursday.

J. R. Wiggins of the Washington Post told a meeting of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association:

"The last (United States) election should have taught us not to anticipate the outcome of elections. There has been such a trend in writing on what's going to happen that many of us are so far ahead of what has happened that we leave the facts out of sight."

Carl Saunders of the Jackson, Mich., Citizen-Patriot said "Anticipatory or speculative writing sometimes aggravates the reader by putting him more in the fog."

Coleman A. Harwell of the Nashville Tennessean said "The important thing is to put facts first and interpretation second."

Over 100 New Mental Clinics, 27,000 More Hospital Beds Needed

Boston, Nov. 12 (CP)—Canada requires an additional 27,000 hospital beds and more than 100 new clinics to cope with the problems arising from mental illness, G. D. W. Cameron, Deputy Minister of National Health, said here today.

In an address prepared for delivery to the health officers' section of the American Public Health Association, Dr. Cameron reviewed the National Health program announced last winter.

His statement that the country needs 27,000 more beds in mental institutions was based on the estimate that 5.75 beds are required for each 1,000 of the population.

"If requirements are met on the basis of five beds per thousand, there is a shortage of 17,000 beds for these cases," he said. These cases included the mentally ill, mentally deficient and epileptics.

"As in other countries, the problems arising from mental illness are particularly acute in Canada and are complicated by serious shortages of all types of trained personnel and facilities for institutional care," he declared.

"On the basis of one mental health clinic for every 100,000 of the population, more than 100 clinics are still required to meet the need of the provinces.

The health program provides for an initial grant of $4,000,000 for mental health work, with three increases of $1,000,000 at two-year intervals.

"The two most immediate problems...are the provision of additional beds and the training of psychiatric and other staffs," he said. "A considerable part of the mental health grant will be required to train the large number of qualified personnel that will be required."

RADIO AUCTIONEERS HOLD REHEARSAL

Thursday evening the regular weekly meeting of the Y's Men's Club was held in the Y.M.C.A. During the evening further plans for the forthcoming Radio Auction were discussed. Arrangements were made to display articles for sale on Radio Auction in a Front Street window. This display will be made up of such articles donated by merchants and manufacturers who are unable to display their donations in their own windows. After the regular meeting the auctioneers held a meeting to smooth out any rough spots before they take to the air Tuesday, November 16th.

A sextet consisting of Bud Trill, Vic Lancaster, Aust Watkin, Mac Dowsett, Bill Hutchinson and led by Bert Hiles sang to the amazement of the club.

President Larry Buck presided over the meeting and Vic Lancaster was sergeant-at-arms. Les. Reid won the booster prize.

ST. JOHN BRIGADE FURNISHED ATTENDANTS AT PICTURE FILMING

The men's and women's division of the St. John Ambulance Brigade assisted at the Capitol Theatre during the filming of the Sins of the Fathers. Although the men's division has been discontinued, those, who at one time were attached came forth voluntarily to help the women's division as the shows were run for men and women separately. This is just one of the many services that are undertaken by the St. John Ambulance Brigade.

Safety Driving Awards Made To Five Local Men

In recognition of one year's driving without accident, five local drivers of the Direct-Winters Transport Company were awarded a safe driving badge at a safety meeting of the company held this morning.

The awards were made by the Belleville branch manager of the company, Mr. R. H. Godden, as tangible recognition of the effort on the part of the drivers to keep the accident rate down in Belleville during 1947. The awards are part of the Safety Campaign of the company, inaugurated three years ago to cope with the steadily mounting toll of accidents on the highways and in conjunction with the insurance companies. Since its inception the system has proved successful and records show a marked decrease in accidents during that period.

The drivers, whose duties take them on Belleville streets and the highways around the city, who were the recipients of the awards were R. Belshaw, E. Fitzgibbon, W. Denyes, H. Young and a former employee, T. Bleekman.

Such a record of successful driving is no small achievement when one considers that company records for the year 1948 show a total of 226,300 miles covered by drivers of the Belleville branch, and a total of 6,056,400 miles covered by the company drivers in Ontario for the period between January 1 and October 30.

"Ship Quinte" Cadets Inspected By Navy Officers

The cadets of the "Ship Quinte" fell in for quarters last evening with a little extra snap and precision and excitement was predominant, especially among the younger hands. To those who had not previously undergone the ceremony, the inspection by the visiting Navy officers was something that required an extra effort on the part of all hands.

The inspecting officers, Lieut.-Commander J. A. Christ and Lieut.-Commander D. Olive, came aboard shortly after the ship's company were drawn up to receive them. They were accompanied by Mr. R. Stiver, head of the Navy League, in Belleville.

All hands were told to classes while the visitors conferred with the ship's commanding officer, Maxwell. The upper deck and stores were inspected and the inspectors expressed favorable commendation.

In four divisions, the hands were taking classes in semaphore, squad drill, and a blackboard talk on small boats. The instructing officers handled their classes capably, illustrating the manoeuvres or flag positions and explaining and assisting the inexperienced hands.

When the ship's company was again drawn up for evening quarters, the visiting officers spoke briefly, touching on points of their training and expressing their satisfaction with the turnout and records of the ship and its crew.

ANAF Veterans Entertained In Club Rooms

Members of the Army, Navy, Air Force Veterans in Canada, Belleville Branch 201 held a brief business session at their regular monthly meeting in the Front St. club rooms last night, with the rest of the evening being given over to Remembrance Day observances.

In the morning a large turnout of members of the club attended the special Memorial Services held at the Station Street Cenotaph in conjunction with other veterans' organizations and unaffiliated comrades.

Special entertainment featured the after-meeting get-together of the veterans with the well-known local entertainer Frank High acting as master of ceremonies as well as contributing several humorous readings.

Frank Hockaday and his ventriloquist stooge had the veterans in paroxyms of mirth with their act. It was well done and Mr. Hockaday received a fine ovation at the conclusion of his offering.

Miss Barbara Diment, pretty singer and dancer gave an outstanding performance with her vocal solos and clever dance routines.

Refreshments of sandwiches, pickles, cheese and coffee were served the veterans by members of the Ladies' Auxiliary at the close of the entertainment.

A special feature of the club activities tonight is the challenge darts game between four selected members of the ANAF team and four chosen from that of the Follwell Supply Company team. Much is said to be at stake on the outcome, and a large following of darts enthusiasts will take in the contest. The games get under way shortly after eight o'clock.

Communism Challenge to Our Beliefs, Our Inherited Faiths Major Bell Tells Veterans

"By being steady of mind and political habit, by believing we can only fall from craven fears of being great," can we hurl back the challenge of a semi-barbaric power which is emerging by age-old aggression into its destiny," Major Hugh McLachlan Bell, DVA executive, Ottawa, told 500 war veterans at the Canadian Legion Remembrance Day banquet in the armouries last night.

"We find its code of conduct, its philosophy alien and its ruthlessness appalling. The challenge is to our beliefs, our temples, our inherited faiths and our parliamentary system of government," Major Bell said.

He recalled the historical days of the years prior to 1814-1914 when Britain with her trade disrupted and prestige diminished appeared to be reduced to a defeated nation. As the 100 years closed she had advanced in social progress and in the legal rights of man and has assumed a world role of moral power. Her Empire was a regency of character as well as monarchy.

Know What Fighting For

"We know once more for what our comrades fought and for what they died. Our homes, gardens, the seas that gird our shore; the red and gold of the maples, forests, rivers, the temples to the God of our Fathers-all, that is the Canada of our past and our future—unconquered and free—the goodly place of our inheritance."

The spiritual renaissance of love of country on the part of the veterans is one of the great good things to come out of the war years. Major Bell told the veterans, "It can mean so much to the Dominion. It can give itself generously for fine aims if fostered and encouraged. The Canadian Legion's task is to capture it for the services of Canada in little ways and great."

He had left Canada three times for further shores—and three times he had returned, the speaker said. "I found here each time what is common to all—opportunity, goals to win, defeats to suffer, service to give. Canada offers them to all with eyes to see and the wit and willingness to work. What more can we ask? Complete security? What a life."

No One Wants to be Robot

"Who wants to be a robot in an ordered economy where some unknown planner determines where he shall work and live. Who wishes to be bound to this or that city or province without choice to travel only on police permits? Who wishes to be denied a chance to fortune—or to failure—both are the gifts of freedom."

"Those who do" said Major Bell, "should move on and out to where their happiness under other banners and other regimes seem to promise that they may do so and cease to bedevil us with their treason and discontent. I often wonder why they do not go. I often wonder why they can love a fantasy of political ideology more than our freedoms, hard won under the law from ancient wrongs."

The speaker was introduced by Captain Gordon Miller, Canadian Legion, with the appreciation of the assemblage expressed by Lieut. Col. Jack Cousins, commanding officer 9th Anti-Tank Regt.

500 in Attendance

Upwards of 500 veterans, men and women sat down to the sumptious banquet readied by Mrs. Charles Jeffs and the members of the Ladies' Auxiliary of Branch 99 Canadian Legion here.

Symbolic of the heroic dead were three vacant chairs placed at a special table over which shone the suffused light of white candles.

Following the address of welcome by Chairman Max Matthews and the invocation by Major the Rev. Arthur Smith, the lights in the banquet hall slowly died away. Only the light of the candles shone over the table with its vacant chairs.

Veterans stood at attention. Came the hushed reverence of the two-minute silence. Then the fine tenor voice of James Bankier singing the immortal "In Flanders Fields" echoed through the building against the background of the softly played piano accompaniment of Leo Riggs.

Muted trumpets sounded the "Last Post". A pause and the lively strains of the "Reveille" rang out over the assembled veterans.

Toast To Veterans

In a toast to the veterans of 1914-1918 RSM Angus Duffy asked "what kind of men were they to start with nothing yet defeat one of the finest armies in the world?. They overcame obstacles of no equipment and by their courage and endurance overcame the horrors of trench warfare. There is nothing special about them. They look a little older, but they did the impossible and made Canada the finest country in the world. They gave us younger chaps all that is good.'

Proposing the toast of Remembrance Hon. Capt. the Right Rev. Monsignor J. F. Nicholson, M.C. said "Tonight we keep vigil with our youngsters of other days. Tonight our thoughts go across the seas to our old comrades who came with victory and remained with death the men who did not come back.

"The heart of Canada beats with pride for those who died for those who loved her. When they went out to die they did not go alone for side by side went with them their Blessed Lord who had died for them. They went to their reward. Though they are separated from us, they are nearer than before. After the gloom of Calvary comes the dawn of the Resurrection. Eternal rest, grant unto them O Lord and let Thy light shine upon them. May they rest in peace."

Appreciation Expressed

Appreciation of tributes from the veterans of the second world war to those of the first, was expressed by Mr. Dave Batchelor "I hope we deserve them," he said. He recalled the famous 39th Battalion which he said" was the parent of the famous Hasty Pees.

Mr. Henry Becker proposing the toast to the veterans of World War II recalled the blody battles of Dieppee, Caen, Italy and Sicily. "We are proud to honor you men and women. We knew you would carry on gloriously, and Canada stands an honored nation because you carried on in all your glory. We're proud of you because the service of the men and women of 1939-45 has never been equalled or surpassed.

"You veterans of 1914-18 set for us of the second world war a very difficult task," Major Austin Walters said responding to the toast. You established a courage and endurance that was hard to live up to. Churchill had you in mind when he mentioned blood, sweat and tears. We hope, in your expectation that we lived up to your standards."

Scrolls Presented

One of the features of the banquet was the presentation of honor scrolls by the City of Belleville to her war veterans. Mayor D.L. Storey presented Miss Theda Cole and Mr. Harold Quincy with the scrolls personally as a symbol of the general presentation to the men and women of Belleville who served in the armed forces. Other scrolls were presented to veterans in a room specially set aside for the purpose.

In his presentation address Mayor Storey said "this morning homage was paid to the memory of those who did not come back. May their memory ever be bright and their deeds of valor inspire us to protect our homeland whenever duty calls us.

"May I on behalf of the citizens of Belleville who desire to acknowledge you, the men and women who went forth to battle that we should be free, present this scroll thought somewhat belated as token of the esteem and gratitude of your fellow citizens. This scroll is given to you today in honor of the many sacrifices you made for King and Country."

Band Concert Given

During the banquet the Belleville Municipal Band under the baton of Bandmaster L. F. Addison played several selections. Miss Barbara Diment's fine voice was heard in solo and later she executed clever tap-dance routines. Piper Jamie Clarke serenaded the assemblage with the pipes.

Door prizes were won by Major Harry Alford, Pat Blacker and Jim Archer.

Much credit for the success of the banquet goes to the ladies auxiliary and the hard-working committee under the chairmanship of Max Matthews, composed of Gordon Miller, Jack Irvine, Fred Lazier, Harold Reid, Mike Smigarouski, Les Digby and Ernie Dainard.

Holloway Cheese Factory to Close, S. Kelly Tells of Early Operations

Believed to be the oldest operating cheese factory in the Bay of Quinte district the Holloway cheese factory, ten miles north of the city, is reported to have made its last cheese. It is said that the building and equipment will be sold.

The old cheese factory was built back in 1867 and each year since that time has turned out its normal complement of cheddar cheese. Only one other factory in the Belleville district—Bayside—is older, but this factory ceased operation a number of years ago.

Other old factories in the district are Sidney Town Hall factory at Wallbridge and East Hastings factory at Latta. The latter factory is still operating in the original building but Wallbridge factory has been replaced on two occasions.

Formerly Big Producer

Mr. Samuel Kelly, 88-year-old farmer of the Holloway district and one of the early patrons of the Holloway factory, notes that years ago considerably more cheese were made than during recent years. Some patrons would then send as much milk in a day as many patrons do now in a week. Also, there were about three times as many patrons.

When the factory commenced production over 80 years ago 60-pound cheese were made instead of the 90-pound cheese common today. These were stored in the second storey of the factory building and without cooling facilities were kept sometimes for several weeks before being shipped. Then each farmer drew his own cheese to market, drawing 50 cheese to a wagon load.

Wagons instead of motor trucks were then used to draw milk to the factory and farmers with milk routes drawing up to ten cans of milk sometimes received as little as 25 cents per trip.

Early presidents of the factory were James Bird, Peter Daly and Adam Rushlow. Present head of the factory is Clayton Wright of Holloway.

In the early days no whey was drawn from the factory, recalls Mr. Kelly. Patrons then kept their hogs in community pens near the site of the factory and hired a man specially to feed them.

Modern Equipment

Today, however, although cheese is made in the original building, the Holloway factory is well equipped with electric lights and appliances and also has refrigeration for cheese storage. It is understood the equipment will be sold while the company will also dispose of the building.

"It will be a shame to close up the factory," stated Mr. Kelly, noting that the patrons would be sorry. Falling off in the number of patrons is understood as the reason for closing the factory.

The cheese factory is not the only pioneer industry in the picturesque village of Holloway. There is also a grist mill, the building of which dates back even further than the factory. The mill, built as a flour mill, was constructed in 1855 and farmers for miles around brought their wheat to be milled. Two decades ago the mill was damaged by fire but was restored as a grist mill.

Drew Addresses Students, Citizens At Amherst, N.S.

Amherst, N.S., Nov. 12 (CP)—National leader George Drew of the Progressive Conservative party is facing a diversity of audiences in his Maritime tour.

Today he addressed the students of Mount Allison University, Sackville, N.B., and citizens of the Maritime Railway Hub of Moncton, N.B.

Thursday he spoke to a public meeting at the agricultural and textile town of Truro, N.S., and then visited the Martime fall fail here to address the assembled farmers and townsfolk.

The day before that he became embroiled in a convention at Halifax, when his party selected a Nova Scotia leader. The new leader is Robert L. Stanfield, a Halifax lawyer. Mr. Drew also took part in Remembrance Day ceremonies, addressed the Progressive Conservative provincial delegates and the students of Dalhousie University.

He told farmers here Tuesday night that the Maritimes ranked high in Canada as a place where the soil could be made to produce more through the use of better seed, better coil cultivation and better conservation methods.

At Truro, Mr. Drew urged his listeners, regardless of their political views, to take an active part in politics. He said only 65 or 70 per cent of the people ar exercising their franchise.

"I think we should remind them and ourselves that there are millions of people today under the slavery of dictatorship mainly because at one time they did not think politics was their business," said Mr. Drew.

"In Europe there are socreless millions who if they had our freedoms would regard them as their greatest asset."

IN MEMORIAM

ARMITAGE—In loving memory of a dear wife and loving mother Dorothy Isabel Armitage who passed away suddenly Nov. 12, 1945.

Her last parting wish
We would liked to have heard,
And breathed in her ear,
Our last parting word.
Only those who have lost,
Are able to tell,
The pain in our hearts,
In not saying farewell.

Lovingly remembered by husband and family. N12

ARMITAGE—In fond and loving memory of my mother, Dorothy Isabel Armitage, who passed away Nov. 12, 1945.

I often sit and think of her
When I am all alone,
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.
Like ivy on the withered oak,
When all other things decay,
My love for her will still keep green
And never fade away.

Always remembered and sadly missed by daughter Isabel and son-in-law Earl. N12

ARMITAGE—In ever loving memory of a wonderful mother, Dorothy Isabel, who departed this life Nov. 12, 1945.

The dearest mother a world could hold,
The cheeriest smile, a heart of gold,
And those who knew her all will know,
How much we lost three years ago.
Always a smile instead of a frown,
Always a hand when one was down,
Always so true, thoughtful and kind,
What a beautiful memory she left behind.

Always remembered and sadly missed by daughter Ivy and son-in-law Allen. N12

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank everyone who worked so hard saving our house, also the Belleville Fire Department and Trenton Air Force. Arthur Corfield, Ameliasburg. N12

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Nov. 12 (CP) —Prices tended to weaken as the post-holiday session progressed. Golds continued easing down at the lowest level in five years. Industrails were strong at the opening but early gains were washed out towards mid-session.

Base metals slipped from early advances.

Industrials moved ahead briskly in the first hour but fractional gains were wiped out in later trading as steels, foods and utilities dipped. A few papers brightened and refining oils were down from their initial firmness.

Junior golds attracted heavy action for small gains. Senior issues and producers weakened as the price level eased to the worst in five years.

Smelters was ahead fractionally in the industrials but slipped down 1-2 in mid session trading. Noranda, Silanco, East Sullivan and Hudson Bay were among the losers.

PRODUCE MARKET

Toronto, Nov. 12 — (CP) — Produce prices on the spot market here today were quoted as follows:

Churning cream unchanged. No: 1, 74 cents fob; 78 delivered. Butter prints unchanged. First grade 70½; second grade 69½.

Demand for medium and pullet eggs here is only fair but other grades are moving well. Country shippers quoted graded eggs, cases free: Grade A large 56, Grade A medium 50, Grade A pullet 45, Grade B 48, Grade C 38-39. Wholesale to retail: Grade A large 62, Grade A medium 56, Grade A pullet 50, Grade B 52, Grade C 42.

Butter solids are unchanged. First grade 68, second grade 67.

HOGS

Toronto, Nov. 12 — (CP) — Hog prices at Stratford this morning were unchanged. Grade A dressed were $30.60 to farmers, delivered and $30.75 to truckers. At Brantford hogs were unchanged. Grade A $30.60.

POLICE COURT

Pleading guilty to a charge of assault, L. Kirkpatrick, 81 South George Street, was fined $5 and $3.25 costs when he appeared in police court before Magistrate T. Y. Wills today. Kirkpatrick was charged with assaulting Leoda Trudel of the same address, the offence taking place earlier in the week.

A rental case took up most of the morning's court proceedings, the accused being charged with charging a rental greater than that fixed by the rental control board ,and also of giving illegal notice for the tenant to vacate. The accused pleaded not guilty on both charges with Magistrate Wills reserving judgment for two weeks.

OBITUARY

MRS. CHARLOTTE GIBBS
(Formerly of Belleville)

Mrs. Charlotte (Richens) Gibbs, widow of John Gibbs, and formerly of this city, died at the home of her son, John Gibbs, at Mount Pleasant, near Brantford, on Friday last, Nov. 5th. She was in her 80th year and was born in England. Twenty-five years ago she came to Canada and prior to moving to Mount Pleasant, she made her home in this city for fourteen years. Old friends here will regret to learn of her death.

Surviving her are three sons, John Gibbs, Mount Pleasant; Reginald Gibbs, Australia, and Arthur J. Gibbs, Trenton; four daughters, Mrs. G. Hughes and Mrs. P. Ruttan, both of Belleville, and two daughters now living in England, also three sisters in England.

The funeral was held on Monday afternoon, Nov. 8th., from the Thrope Brothers' Funeral Home, Brantford. The service in the chapel and at Farringdon burial ground, Brantford, was conducted by the Rev. G. L. Hammill, minister of Knox Presbyterian Church.

The bearers were E. Flanders, Neil McPherson, John Redditt, A. Smallwood, K. MacPherson and James Smeaton.

Grand Governor To Visit Moose

Visitors at the meeting in the Oddfellows Hall of the Loyal Order of the Moose in Belleville Thursday evening, November 18, will be the new Grand Governor of Ontario, George Wentworth, accompanied by Pilgrim Brother Joseph Jackson. The visiting dignitaries are stopping in Belleville while on an extensive tour of cities in Canada and the United States.

An invitation is issued to all lodge members and interested citizens to attend the meeting and hear these speakers. Motion pictures will be shown on the two centres, Mooseheart and Moosehaven. A social hour will follow the meeting.

48-Year-Old Note Found in Bottle

Brighton, Eng., Nov. 12 (CP) —A letter apparently dropped overboard in a bottle from a ship leaving Australia 48 years ago was picked up and forwarded to an address here.

Yellow with age—it is dated October, 1900—the letter still is legibel, and the text suggests that the writer, who signed himself Arthur Spears, expected it to be washed ashore by the next tide. Addressing it to an aunt (whose name is not given), he wrote:

"I cannot find any way of sending this except in a bottle, as I was too late for the postman at Melbourne .... Let me know if you get it...."

15 Former Guards Hanged for Deaths More Than 4,600

Munich, Nov. 12 — (AP) — Fifteen former guards of the Muhlhausen concentration camp were hanged today for slaying more than 4,600 wartime prisoners, including 47 British and American airmen.

They had been convicted by a United States war crimes court of exterminating prisoners by various methods, including shooting, hanging, beating, trampling, drowning, suffocation and injections.

Thirteen of those sent to the gallows this morning were S.S. storm troops) men. Two were former prisoners convicted of turning on their fellows.

FIELDS BEQUEATHES $2,500 LIQUOR STOCK TO FRIENDS

Los Angeles, Nov. 12 — (AP)— Comedian W. C. Fields, whose fondness for tippling is legendary in the movie colony, left his $2,500 liquor stock to a few choice friends, his lawyer told Superior Court Thursday. Leo Scharmer, representing Fields' estate, asked that Fields' disposition of his wet goods be made part of the will.

IS BACKACHE JUST A SIGN OF AGE?

Many people suffer an aching back needlessly—believing you must expect a few aches and pains when you're "getting on" in years!

But backache is often caused by the faulty action of kidneys and liver. See how much better you feel after taking Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, and your kidneys and liver both filter out impurities from your bloodstream. That's because this time-proven Dr. Chase remedy treats two conditions at once—contains special remedial ingredients for both the kidney and liver disorders which often cause backache.

If you're feeling worn-out, tired, headachy—with painful joints and aching back—look to your kidneys and liver. Try Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver

French Zone Gets Free Ride But UK and US Pay

By DON DOANE

Berlin, Nov. 12 — (AP) — The French zone is getting a free ride on West Germany's band wagon—with Britain and the United States putting up the cash.

But British and United States officials predict their zones of Germany will profit in the long run by bringing the French zone in as a full partner, even if it does not pay its way.

The business band wagon of Western Germany is the joint export-import agency (J.E.I.A.) which handles all foreign trade, J.E.I.A. was setup last year by Britain and the United States, with $100,000,000 working capital.

Now the French have agreed to join the trade merger, bringing foreign trade of their zone under J.E.I.A. control. No French money contribution is involved.

Neither is the French zone expected to contribute any export supplies to the trizonal trade pool. In fact, it will add to the trade deficit, for a while at least.

However, Lawrence Wilkinson, United States economics adviser, says the merger will eventually help all West Germany — and thus all the Western Allies — by increasing production.

The French zone is smaller than either the British or American. It also is industrially poorer, especially since the Saar was attached to France. Timber is one of the zone's chief exports. It also exports chemicals, machine tools, watches, precision instruments, and refractories, which are heat-resistant mineral bricks.

Last year its exports totalled about $15,000,000. By contrast, the combined British and American zones are exporting at the rate of about $600,000,000 a year.

British and American authorities are gambling that some day soon a united Western Germany can be made to pay its own way, and thus get it off the shoulders of their taxpayers.

AIR LINES STAFF SHUTTLED

Gander, Nfld., Nov. 12 — (CP) —Two hundred and eighty employees — the entire Trans-Canada Air Lines staff here — are being shuttled by air to Sydney, N.S., today. The staff includes operations men, caterers and service crews.

The move is being made in line with the difficulty of servicing the big Newfoundland airport due to the railway strike.

Russians Build Memorials From Reich Chancellery

Berlin, Nov. 12 (AP)—The Russians are tearing down the last reminders of Adolf Hitler in Berlin and even closing the hole in the ground in which he is believed to have died.

Rising in the place of Hitler's buildings and monuments are memorials to Prime Minister Stalin and the Red Army. The Russians are using all the best materials from the left-over Hitler structures for memorials of their own.

The last major relic of Hitler, his massive Reich Chancellery, now is being torn down in the Soviet sector of the city.

The unheralded project was part of a program of ruin removal in the central district of Berlin. The order was to tear down or dynamite what remained of the government building which Hitler himself designed with the aid of Albert Speer. Along with it goes the balcony from which Hitler used to address admiring crowds.

Long ago the fine Italian and Bavarian marbles were dismantled by the Russians for use in construction of Soviet Army war memorials in this conquered city. They also took the fine woodwork.

The Russian-controlled Berliner Zeitung said the chancellery debris will be used to fill up the cavity left by the blowing up of Hitler's spacious private air-raid shelter in the chancellery garden.

It was in this underground shelter that Hitler and Eva Braun were believed to have committed suicide along with the entire Goebbels family, in the last days of the Battle of Berlin.

TWO MORE BANNERS WILL BE PLACED

Arthur Keegan, the Mayor of Foster Ward," who so kindly donated to the city council the banner placed over the street on Dundas Street, warning motorists of a school area, has announced his intention of donating two more to the city to be placed at strategic points. The one placed on Dundas Street has helped along with the school guide at that point in considerably slowing down vehicular traffic on this busy thoroughfare.

Newfoundland's 32-Day Railway Strike Ends

St. John's Nfld. Nov. 12. (CP) —Newfoundland's 32-day railway strike ended today as 2,500 workers accepted a government compromise offer on their wage demands.

First details released on settlement said goverment, operators of the 500-mile railway, had offered the men a wage increase of 10 cents an hour for one class and $20 a month for others.

Further details were not immediately available.

The strikers, members of the railway co-operative board, walked off their jobs Oct. 11 demanding a wage jump of 15 cents an hour.

TOBACCO BALING STARTS

Brantford, Nov. 12 —(CP)— District workers have started baling 1948's 95,000,000 pound tobacco crap—one of the most valuable in the history of Ontario's tobacco belt.

Although the market opened Nov. 2, only 4,500,000 pounds remains unsold.

Woman Found Dead in Bed

Housekeeper for William R. Potts, 172 Burnham Street, Miss Olive Tyndall, age about 45 years, was found dead in her bed this morning, it was reported today by local police.

Coroner Dr. R. T. Potter ordered a post mortem to be conducted and this afternoon the body was released to the undertaker for shipment to Toronto on the evening train. It was not learned from the coroner whether an inquest would be ordered looking into the woman's death.

Miss Tyndall had been acting as housekeeper in the Potts' home for the past nine months. It is understood there is a brother in Toronto and a sister in Ottawa.

The body is resting at the Grant Funeral Home until Saturday afternoon and then will be forwarded to Toronto for burial.

WEATHER BALLOON LANDS

Dundalk, Nov. 12 — (CP) — A weather balloon sent out by the United States Air Force at South Ridge, Mich., came down on Gordon MacKinnon's farm 10 miles west of here. A note attached to the balloon explained it had been sent 12 miles up to obtain temperature, pressure and moisture records.

Ten Cents a Year

The cost of keeping up the United Nations and 12 of its specialized agencies is said to be one dime per capita of the peoples of the United Nations. This prompts the Christian Science Monitor to remark that "the Second World War cost us each a thousand times more a year. And two thirds of the dime we are each giving to the U. N. this year will go to care for the refugees and displaced persons of the struggle.

"Never has a more inflated price been asked for a more inferior commodity than war," says the newspaper, "Without being advocates of peace at any price, we can safely say that we are getting our ten cents' worth out of the United Nations, with all its imperfections and might even be prepared to go a mite higher in our expenditures for peace."

Oil Lamp and Candle

With the return of the oil lamp from the dust of a generation in attic or basement, for the time being an era of moderation has come in. What is the glory of the lamp as compared with the brilliant radiance of the electric light? Compared with the candle the fair-sized electric light bulbs are almost suns. The sudden burst of light when the power returns after the period of ban is dazzling and by it the faint light of the candle seems hopelessly weak. But even in the comparative dimness of homes now lighted in the cut-off periods the candle and the lamp seem in time to catch something of radiance as the eye and mind grow accustomed to them. At the same time they reveal to this swiftly-moving world of machinery and invention that the coal oil lamp and the candle served well the generations which are gone. It may be that even today some will at times come to feel a friendship for the candle and the lamp of old for they lighted the great ages of the past. The candle showed the way through centuries while the coal oil lamp was really comparatively new.

It is hard to realize that there are great numbers of Canadians now fully grown who had not seen an oil lamp until the past few days and nights. Candles are even more familiar than the much more modern oil lamp for candles with their light threw a ray into the darkness of ages ago. The greatest of British poets and world poets speaks of the faint candle light of centuries ago in these words: "So shines a good deed in a naughty world." The candle was and is the symbol of light, faith, hope and culture. It is much used today in religious services and in festivities. What would Christmas be without candles?

Now the coal oil lamp never had that distinction because it was too near our own age though a generation or more old. Now the lantern for instance is another of those bringers of light which have lived and will live in history. It adorns modern home entrances and rooms though it is lighted not by tallow or wax but by electrical energy.

Lamps had to be treated with care in other years. They must be kept clean, the chimneys must be polished within to remove the smoke, which is thrown off by the combustion of the oil. Filling the lamps was a duty that the modern electricity burner does not appreciate.

To feel the burst of electric light when it fairly explodes in a room is something only the modern age has known. In it there seems so great a waste of energy as compared with the mild and moderate light of oil or wax candle. That it may have the effect in time of inducing more consumers to be more careful as to amounts of electric light burned to no advantage is something to be hoped for. Dwellers in the lamp and candle ages knew nothing like it and yet those were happy days and days when the foundations of the modern era were laid. The men and women of those days were the builders of their time.

It is a long way to spring and users of electricity will have many opportunities of getting acquainted with the coal oil lamp and the candle. The lamp does not fare too badly by contrast and it made and makes rooms light as it enabled boys and girls of yore to study.

LETTER XXII

Beloved, we are facing now the time you used to dread.
There are pads upon his shoulders and a helmet on his head.
He is prouder of his sweat shirt and the cleats upon his shoes
Than the surplice worn on Sundays when he marches
by the pews.
And, exactly as his father's were, his eyes are now a-gleam
As he joyously announces:
"I'm a member of the team!"

From after school to supper
you will find him in the yard,
Unafraid of bumps and bruises,
learning how to be a
ing and the way to throw a pass.
If as willingly he studied he'd be leader of his class.
I remember as I watch him getting ready for a game
How you worried for his safety when his daddy did the same.

Beloved, it has happened! ten years old and something more.
With a uniform upon him like the one his father wore.
Through the curtain do you see him? Do you shudder
when he's thrown?
Do you worry as you used to in the years so swiftly flown?
Do you fret about the bruises and the bumps upon his brow?
Well I thought I ought to tell

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BY-GONE YEARS.

20 YEARS AGO

NOV. 12TH., 1928.

Mr. T. Sullivan and family are spending a few days in Toronto.

Mr. Alex Scott spent yesterday in Kingston.

Mrs. William Pomeroy, Oshawa, is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. Ross, Charlotte Street.

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Galway spent Thanksgiving with their daughter in Toronto.

Miss A. Palmer spent yesterday here with her parents at their home on Albert Street.

Mr. Stanley Flagler was home from Montreal to spend Thanksgiving with his mother, Mrs. P. Flagler, Bleecker Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. George Lee are spending a few days with relatives in St. Catharines.

30 YEARS AGO

NOV. 12TH., 1918.

Yesterday morning Nov. 11th., when the great news came that the war is over, Prof. Ernest Wheatley, organist at St. Thomas' Church, and an ardent Britisher, born and bred on the old sod, was one of the first to respond to the glad tidings and he went at once to St. Thomas' Church, turned on all the lights to invite worshippers and played the Hallelujah Chorus on the organ. As the grand notes of this triumphal chorus swelled from the heart of the organ and the heart of the organist at 4.30 o'clock in the morning, passerby, fortunate enough to hear the music, were treated to a masterpiece.

The union Thanksgiving service on the Court House lawn yesterday morning at 11 o'clock was attended by hundreds of citizens. The proceedings commenced with the singing of the Doxology, accompanied by the Salvation Army Band. Adjutant Goodhew of the Salvation Army led in repeating the Lord's Prayer. This was followed by the reading of the 46th psalm by the Rev. D. C. Ramsay of John Street Presbyterian Church. The hymn "All People That on Earth do Dwell" was announced by the Rev. W. H. Wallace of the Baptist Church. The Rev. A. S. Kerr of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, offered a fervent prayer of thanksgiving. The hymn "O God Our Help in Ages Past" was announced by the Rev. S. C. Moore of the Tabernacle Church. Appropriate prayers were read by the Rev. Rural Dean Swayne, Rector of Christ Church, and the benediction was pronounced by the Ven. Archdeacon Beamish, Rector of St. Thomas' Church, who presided. The Rev. Dr. Scott, of Bridge St., Church, was unable to be present owing to illness.

40 YEARS AGO

The boys' running race at the Driving Park was an interesting event. It was a two mile race for lads under fifteen years years of age. The following entered the race: J. Alexander, T. Barrett, J. Marshall, A. McGie, E. Hagerman, J. J. Roe, all of Belleville, and C. Watson, Deseronto and N. Charlebois, D. & D. Institute. The race was run in fairly good time considering that the track was sticky. J. Alexander took the lead and was never headed although Hagerman and Charlebois stuck close to him until half a mile from the finish when he cut loose and won easily. The time was 12 minutes and 10 seconds. The runners finished in the following order: J. Alexander, E. Hagerman, N. Charlebois, A. McGie and J. J. Roe.

Mr. Lorne W. Marsh has announced that he will be a candidate for the office of Mayor at the coming elections.

Venison is being offered for sale in several of the local butcher shops.

STRENGTH for The Day

Dr. Earl L. Douglass

THE GOLDEN KEY

There are some people who never seem to get over the tragic experience of death, when it touches a loved one or a friend.

It is easy to understand, of course, how parents who have lost a child will feel the poignant sorrow of that loss as long as they live. The same is true when husbands or wives are torn from each other in like fashion. But for so many people the very experience of death itself is so shocking that whether it come to an aged member of the family or to a child or to a person in middle age, the experience seems in itself to be so inconceivably dreadful that many find it impossible to recover from its effects.

But why should this be? Every human being that has ever lived has experienced death, and all it. Do you think a good God would make the whole race go through an experience which is essentially dreadful and tragic? No. "Death," as Milton said, "is the golden key that opens the palace of eternity." If we could only be conscious of the reality of that bright, heavenly world which is nearer to us, probably, than any of us suspect, we would not regard as cruel and tragic the things which God sends eventually upon all his children.

Mackenzie's Column:

China Reaching State of Chaos As War Continues

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press News Analyst)

The question of what — if anything — the United States can do within reason to save Chiang Kai-Shek's Nationalist regime from utter collapse in face of the Chinese Communist onslaught has received no satisfactory answer thus far.

Hourly the situation becomes more critical, and on top of the military crisis the political and economic situations continue to show a shocking deterioration. China is in a state of chaos.

The first major shipment of American guns and ammunition to China since the Red victories in Manchuria is said unofficially in Washington to be nearly ready for departure. Of course any help is good help — but it will take more than a bucket of water to halt the Chinese conflagration.

Promising Suggestion

The most promising suggestion came from Dr. Chen Li-Fu, vice-president of the Chinese national parliament, when he was in the United States three months ago. During a chat in New York he said he believed the Chinese government's military success must be premised on economic reform.

Chen figured it was useless for the government to keep chasing the Reds all over the place, expending men and material under present conditions. Without economic reform the war could run on indefinitely. Therefore, he would drive all the Chinese Communists north of the Yangtse River and then hold the line on the Yangtse while Southern China was put on its feet economically.

Significant Argument

If you will look at your maps and refresh your minds on the manner in which the great Yangtse cuts China in two from east to west, you will see the significance of Chen's argument. At first glance this plan would seem to be an over-simplification of the problem, but the more one studies it, the more reasonable it looks as a possible solution.

As things now stand China must assume most of the burden of working out her own problem. She has had much American help and she is getting more. However, there is no indication that the United States intends to take over the job of cleaning out the Chinese Communists.

Duplessis Says Teachers Have No Right to Strike

Quebec, Nov. 12 (CP)—Premier Duplessis Thursday night asked the President of the Corporation of Quebec Catholic teachers, Leo Guindon, to "repudiate" a reported strike-threat statement involving French-speaking Montreal Catholic teachers.

He warned the teachers—dissatisfied over a cut in recent salary demands—that the government would fail in its duty if it "countenanced even indirectly an intolerable illegality especially in the domain of education."

The Premier told a press conference that the province cannot "pay pensions to those practising disorder" and that "teachers have not the right to strike under human or natural laws."

Premier Duplessis said he hesitated to believe that Guindon made the statement attributed to him.

"If Mr. Guindon made the statement I regret it infinitely for him and for the cause he defends. If he did not it is his duty to establish the facts and repudiate the statement squarely."

The Montreal teachers involved are members of L'Alliance Des Professeurs Catholiques De Montreal, an affiliate of the Province-Wide Corporation of Catholic Teachers whose membership is about 10,000 lay teachers.

Teachers recently appealed to the Quebec Municipal Commission and Arbitration Board ruling handed down Aug. 27 awarding maximum salaries of $3,200 for men and $2,100 for women.

The Municipal Commission cut it by $100 in each case the salary maximums awarded by arbitration. There is no legal appeal.

Original demands for the teachers were maximums of $3,500 for men and $3,200 for women.

Russia Launches New Propaganda Peace Offensive

Paris, Nov. 12 (AP)—High western-delegation sources said today Russia has launched a new "propaganda peace' offensive" around the world. The west, they said, plans to meet it at every point.

One leading delegate to the United Nations assembly told reporters privately that Russia is exploiting the reported possibility of a meeting between President Truman and Prime Minister Stalin for such propaganda purposes.

He said everyone wants peace and that the reports of the possible Truman-Stalin meeting amount to a campaign to weaken the position of the western powers.

The United States delegation to the assembly, meanwhile, refused to say anything on the reports of a possible meeting of Stalin and Truman. They maintained their position that they knew nothing about it here.

The delegation spokesman would not confirm or deny whether the subject would be discussed by State Secretary Marshall and Truman when Marshall returns to Washington.

Washington Spotlight

Cost $79,000 More to Inaugurate U.S. President Than to Launch Canadian Prime Minister Into Job

By GEORGE RONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Washington, Nov. 12 (CP) —It costs at least $79,000 more to inaugurate a United States President than to launch a Canadian Prime Minister into the job of leading a nation. The Canadian ceremony costs next to nothing.

Most of the cash for the American ritual goes for lumber— because Americans like to see their President installed in office.

Next Jan. 20, when President Truman formally takes over for another four years, there'll be pomp and fanfare aplenty in this show-loving capital. For a few thousand lucky persons, there'll be "ringside" seats.

On and near the board steps of the huge, grey capitol building, workmen these days are erecting a grandstand and benches for the hour-long ceremony. The price tag: $79,372.

Simple Procedure

When Prime Minister Mackenzie King retires Monday, he will simply pass the word to Viscount Alexander, the Governor-General, and recommend that Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent be asked to form a government.

St. Laurent, new leader of the Liberal party, will be summoned by Lord Alexander and will submit to him the names of his cabinet minister choices. The Governor-General will say he approves—and the changeover will be history.

The Canadian public will see nothing of the ceremony nor of the formal swearing - in of St. Laurent as Prime Minister.

It's as simple and private as that.

Truman's inaugural will be witnessed by more than 100,000 Washingtonians.

The main section will seat 828 persons—cabinet officials, congressmen and supreme court judges—and will cost apout $27,000. That's $32 a seat. Directly in front of this stand will be benches for less-important dignitaries.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

WEALTH

The richest people in this world are not the ones with the most money, but those who have given away the most of what money can't buy. Money can't buy love, nor can it buy appreciation or understanding. Often I think that the wealthiest of all men and women are the poets and naturalists.

Thoreau wrote his greatest book, "Walden," in a small shack that he built himself for less than fifty dollars. That one book has enriched the minds and hearts of millions of people and will continue to do so beyond all speculation. And hidden away in the forest, near the upper Hudson River, is another cabin, called "Slabsides," that John Burroughs loved, and where for years he wrote of the birds that were his friends, and which inspired his entire life.

Long ago I gave up the idea of ever wanting to be a rich man in money. Its only advantage seem- much; therefore that one being at a disadvantage. But with an accumulated knowledge and a well-stored mind, rich in the treasures that are a free gift to all, you can keep giving this wealth away, and every time that you do you become that much richer!

Everyone can be mentally and spiritually rich — if he has the ability to love and appreciate. People who look up from the lap of Nature into the gold of the Sun and into the shining eyes of the night sky have already drawn upon God's bank and had their draft honored! It is impossible to adequately appraise the wealth that we accumulate through a love for all forms of beauty or through the wonder of friendship.

A mere book may cost but a few cents, or a few dollars — but that purchase price has nothing to do with its value. Many a book has changed the entire course of one's life. Could anyone put a price upon such a book? How lucky is anyone who has centred his wealth in people and great books!

SIMPLE HOME MADE HUMIDIFIER SAVES FURNITURE, COMPLEXIONS, TEMPERS, FUEL AND DOCTOR BILLS

Presuming you are willing to concede that it is healthful to moisten the winter air when you take it indoors to cook it, you will want to know how to go about humidifying or conditioning the indoor atmosphere, perhaps on a small scale at first, in order to find out for yourself just what effect it may have on your temperament and health, to say nothing of your good looks if any.

The last eight years of the time I served before I arrived where good doctors go when they die, we tried the experiment on a larger scale. Having nothing to do to while away the time but dash off an article for this column and answer a few hundred letters every day. I busied myself through eight winters as maintenance man for a fourteen-room collection of humidifiers, in the tallest house on Agassiz Circle in the drifting snow and bitter Lake Erie winds just forninst the bowling greens in Delaware Park, if you know where Niagara Falls is when the water is turned on.

Each of the humidifiers on the sixteen or eighteen radiators held two or more gallons, so I had eight strenuous winters lugging water around the three floors—to say nothing of the water I spilled by accident.

But those were balmy winters at our house—and I do hope you will not crack wise about the adjective. The heating was by hot water, and coal fuel—except the last four or five winters when we used gas—the ideal lazy man's fuel, for you set the thermostat at the proper joint and forget it for the rest of the winter.

Aside from the kindness of the conditioned or humidified atmosphere to skin and mucous membranes of nose, throat, sinuses, bronchi, we found that we were comfortable with a household temperature of 68 degrees F That means a saving in fuel if you find a higher temperature necessary in your dried out atmosphere.

The humidifiers which evaporated at least a gallon of water a day in each room were galvanized tanks as wide and long as the radiator on which each was placed and about 4 inches deep. The tops, lids or covers were freely grilled front and back to allow the warm air and water vapor to flow freely. Suspended on a wire ladder frame in the tank were many loops of wicking or crash dipping into the water.

Finished to match the radiators these were not unsightly. They were not expensive either. We felt we couldn't keep house without 'em.

No doubt modern built-in automatic air-conditioning apparatus is quite as efficient. I don't know —it is too complicated for me to understand what makes an automobile go when you press the button, release the brake and give it the gas. If she fails to go when I have done that, I just wait till some schoolboy comes along The boy jiggles a gadget here and there and tells me to try again— and away she goes.

Such a schoolboy with some manual training and a few tools could make these humidifiers for his own home and, I should think for a good many offices, shops living rooms and bedrooms where the air needs humidification.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Real Doctor Exposes a Fake

I have bronchietasis and I have derived great relief from following the suggestion in your column —every morning I rest for several minutes with elbows on floor, which helps to clear the breathing passages. Also , , , but my doctor advises me to pay no attention to your column as you are a fake. (M. G. J.)

Answer—That and other measures beneficial in chronic bronchitis (winter cough), emphysema, bronchietasis, asthma, chronic sinusitis and allied conditions, are described in booklet Call It Cri For copy send twenty-five cents and stamped self addressed envelope. If you can persuade your doctor to specify anything in the booklet or elsewhere that justifies his opinion of me I'll be grateful to you and to your doctor. Five will get you ten that your doctor judges me mainly by the picture the Pooh Bah of the A. M. A. paints of me from time to time when my column occupies newspaper space he covets for his column.

ABOUT JOHNS-MANVILLE

ARE YOU FROM MISSOURI?

"Show me, I'm from Missouri"! That's what your J-M reporter said the other day when someone told him of a Johns-Manville Asbestos Shingle that spent 37 years on the roof of a building and was still as good as new. Seeing is believing though! This shingle, which had stood the brunt of snow, ice, rain, wind and scorching sun for 37 years was as good as new.

No one knows how long a Johns-Manville Durabestos Shingle will last. Not one has ever burned —not one has ever worn out! Made of asbestos and cement Durabestos Shingles are rotproof, fireproof and weatherproof. They're beautiful, too — with a rich grained appearance of fine weathered wood.

Garson to Have Ticklish Problem To Deal With

By R. K. CARNEGIE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, Nov. 12 — (CP)—Stuart Garson, if and when he becomes Justice Minister — probably next week — will have a ticklish problem placed in his lap right at the start.

It is the abolition of appeals to the Privy Council in London and making the Supreme Court of Canada the court of final approval.

The National Liberal Convention last August forced the issue by a plank in the party platform in favor of abolishing appeals to London.

The Privy Council gives judgments on cases dealing with the jurisdictions of the provinces and the dominion. A month ago it found that the Saskatchewan Legislature was within its jurisdiction in passing a tax law after the Supreme Court had held the legislation ultra vires under the British North America Act. Whether the provinces would fare as well in their disputes with the Dominion, if they could not appeal beyond the Supreme Court here, has been debated for years.

Important civil actions also may be carried to the Privy Council and several go forward each year.

Before the Second World War C. H. Cahan, Montreal lawyer and former Secretary of State, moved in the Commons that appeals to the Privy Council be discontinued. After a considerable debate, Rt. Hon. Ernest LaPointe, then Justice Minister, proposed the bill be referred to the courts to see whether parliament had the authority to abolish appeals without amending the B. N. A. Act. The Privy Council has since ruled that it has such authority.

Three Views

There are three views on the matter:

1. Abolition of all appeals to the Privy Council.
2. Restricting appeals to constitutional disputes between the dominion and the provinces.
3. No change from existing procedure.

In the United States, where the Supreme Court in Washington is the last court of appeal, presidents have been accused from time to time of appointing judges known to be on the side of wide federal jurisdiction as against state rights.

Whether there were any basis for these accusations or not, some provinces may insist that before they give up the right to carry their disputes to the Privy Council, they should have some say in the constitution of the Supreme Court.

Since the Dominion government appoints all judges it would hardly be expected to agree to share with the provinces the right to name the highest judges in the land. The present practice is to name two judges each from Ontario and Quebec, one from the Maritimes and two from the western provinces. There is no law that requires this, but it nevertheless is the accepted rule.

P.E.I. Farmers Using Planes to Market Produce

By IRVING C. WHYNOT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

Summerside, P.E.I., Nov. 12—(CP)—The farmers of Prince Edward Island believe they have firmly established themselves in the field of flying produce to market.

The practice got started in 1940 when an airport opened at this Northumberland strait town of 6,500 and trade with United States bases in Newfoundland began when the U.S.A. entered the war.

Skymasters of the U.S. air force make thrice-weekly runs into Summerside to pick up farm produce, mainly dairy supplies. The flights have been dubbed the "milk-and-butter run."

One Summerside dairy alone ships 2,400 quarts of milk a week. As an indirect result of Summerside's flying trade, American planes have also started to call at Sydney, N.S., for additional supplies.

Even live animals—including cows—have been flown into Newfoundland but island farmers have no fear that sizeable dairy production can be built up in the old colony, thus cutting down on their own income from this source.

As they see it, Newfoundland hasn't got the necessary feed for large dairy herbs and any percipitible drop in the dairy market will be more than offset by the demand for feed. Islanders figure they just can't lose.

Another possibility for development loomed when a Summerside firm announced it had perfected a method whereby it could can live lobsters—and keep them alive in the tins for six days.

That means lobsters can be canned here, flown anywhere in Canada and still be alive and fresh when opened. The method of canning is a closely-guarded secret.

Six-Power Parley On Ruhr Control Opened Thursday

London, Nov. 12 — (AP) — A six-power conference on control of the Ruhr opened Thursday with a French demand for strict international regulation of coal mines and steel plants in the rich German industrial valley.

French delegate Herve Alphand led off with a vigorous French protest over Anglo - American plans to let the Germans finally decide whether the industries will be socialized or privately run.

Chief dispute among the six powers — Britain, the United States, France, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg — is over the question of how much control an international authority should have over the industries that built Hitler's war machine.

Anglo - American occupation authorities said Wednesday that ownership of the coal mines and steel plants would be turned over to German trustees under allied supervision. Final decision on state of public ownership of the industries would be made by a freely-elected German government when it is established, the announcement said.

All Protest

A British spokesman said all had protested that future ownership "should have been a matter for the (allied) governments themselves to deal with in a problem which France considers of vital importance."

The conference was called to draft a control statute along lines the six powers agreed to last June

Under that agreement the International Control Authority would supervise the distribution of Ruhr coal, coke and steel to Germany and Europe in order to prevent a rebirth of German aggression and to all the European recovery program.

In France two leaders made Armistice Day addresses a sounding board for their views on the Ruhr.

President Vincent Auriol, said it would be "unpardonable" to let the arsenal of the Ruhr be restored "into the hands of Hitler's accomplices." Auriol, a socialist, repeated the French demand for internationalization of the Ruhr.

Edouard Herriot, president of the National Assembly, said "it appears that one has already forgotten the errors made after 1918."

Canada Producing its First Pure-Jet Fighter Aircraft

New York, Nov. 12. (CP)—Aviation Week said in its current issue that Canada is producing its first pure-jet fighter aircraft.

The magazine, giving no indication of its source of information, said "First details reveal that the Avro Canada XC-100 is a tandem-seat, all-weather fighter powered by two 6,500-pound static thrust Rollys-Royce Avon axial-flow turbojets, capable of a speed of 675 miles an hour."

"The Canadian government has been impressed by the possibilities of the XC-100, which incorporates all the latest ideas culled from winterization and sub-zero experiments carried out by the R.C.A.F. in recent years," the magazine added.

The magazine said the XC-100, built to R.C.A.F. specifications, now is nearing completion at the Malton (Toronto) A. V. Roe Canada, Limited, plant. The aircraft is primarily the work of J. C. M. Frost, British designer, Aviation Week added.

The aircraft will be one of the most powerfully-armed jet fighters in existence, utilizing four 300 MM. cannon developed from a wartime German design, the magazine said.

"If the XC-100 proves the success that Avro Canada expects, it will be offered to both British and American governments."

The article was accompanied by a simple, perspective sketch of the XC-100, which the magazine described as an all-metal, low-wing monoplane of between 23,000-27,000 pounds, according to range.

Night Interceptor Radar

The nose portion carries American night interceptor radar, four cannon and a rearward-folding nose wheel leg, the magazine said. The crew of two is protected by an optically flat cannon-proof windshield and a one-piece canopy.

The magazine said a high conventional tailplane and straight-forward fin and rudder are employed.

"Most novel feature of the XC-100 is the mounting of the jet units above the wing roots and close to the fuselage," the magazine said.

At Toronto, M. D. Willer, vice president, of A. V. Roe of Canada Limited, which manufactures the "hush-hush" jet fighter, said on Thursday he was "disturbed" that information has leaked out through United States sources".

Mr. Willer said inquiries were being made into the leak of information. The information is "not all accurate", he added.

He said the magazine's drawing is just "a guess". "They drew a diagram of what they thought it looked like."

Toronto to Have Three Cuts Daily Over Entire City

Toronto, Nov. 12 (CP)—Ontario communities shuffled cutoff schedules today to bring power consumption within their quotas and Toronto's 700,000 citizens studied a standardized program of interruptions which go into effect here next Monday.

Instead of cutting off power section by section across the city, Toronto hydro officials plan a system of three daily week-day breaks covering the entire 35 square miles simultaneously. The cuts will be for one hour each at 9 a.m. and 4 p.m. and 45 minutes at 7 p.m.

A. M. Ashworth, general manager of the Toronto hydro, said the scheme will give a period of uninterrupted supply throughout the working day and also will avoid confusion.

The Saturday hydro load in Toronto now is nearing capacity, Mr. Ashworth said. Sunday and the hours between midnight and 7 a.m. daily still are available for industry shifts.

Toronto's Board of Education is continuing its search for emergency lighting equipment for its schools. It has spent $20,000 already on the project and is prepared to spend up to $75,000.

At Beamsville, a fire broke out in a fruit-spray plant while the town fire alarm was silenced by a power cutoff. Hydro officials turned on the power to enable the siren to be sounded but time was lost and the plant was destroyed.

Scattered rainshowers were reported at some points in Central Ontario Thursday. But word of snowflurries in the north appeared to spell an end to Hydro Commission hopes that heavy late Fall rains would replenish shrunken water supplies before Winter closed in on the province.

SOCIAL AND PERSONAL

Mrs. V. J. Uens, 62 Canniffton Road, Belleville, and Mrs. Harry Cunningham, Rossmore, are spending two weeks at Sherlock Holmes, Lodge, Vennacher.

Mr. W. D. Embury, William Street, is in Toronto attending a Printers' Convention.

Women's Activities

CHRIST CHURCH GUILD

Hillier.—The November meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Hermon Weese with twenty-five adults and eight children present. Rev. C. P. Heaven thanked Mrs. Weese for opening her home for this meeting, and everyone was pleased to have Mrs. Heaven at this meeting after her illness.

Plans were discussed for a bazaar which is to be held later in November. The conveners were appointed for the following tables:

Afternoon tea, Mrs. S. Thompson, Mrs. D. Boyle, Mrs. E. Lott, and Mrs. W. Wright; fancy work, Mrs. Noxon, and Mrs. A. Jones; Aprons, Mrs. H. Weese, Mrs. S. Weir, and Miss E. Terry; Touch and Take, Mrs. M. Hardy and Lorraine Alexander; Country Store, Mrs. Nind, Mrs. M. McFaul, and Mrs. C. Panting; Candy Mrs. Pritchard, Mrs. C. Margetson and Mrs. W. Dainard; Tickets for groceries, Sheila Terry, Helen Smith, and Mrs. D. Alexander; Fish Pond, Mrs. C. Benway, and Mrs. R. Margetson Home Cooking, Mrs. L. Leavens, Mrs. A. Weir and Mrs. C. Gamble.

The program consisted of readings by Mrs. C. Panting and Mrs. W. McFaul also a contest by Mrs. McFaul, Mrs. S. Weir being the winner.

At the close of the meeting, the hostess served delicious refreshments.

ST. JOHN'S LADIES' LEAGUE

Stirling.—The ladies' league of St. John's Church held their November meeting at the home of Mrs. Melville Tanner, with 22 present, Rev. Mr. Anderson opening the meeting with prayer.

Mr. Thos. MacConnell has very generously offered to donate a new church sign board which will be placed facing the highway on the north side of the church.

It was moved by Mrs. Bruce Bell and seconded by Mrs. Earl Morrow, that the Christian Social Council of Canada's book, "The Rural Church in Canada", be used as the study book for the coming years.

It was moved by Mrs. Villetorte and seconded by Mrs. Harry Smith that a copy of the book "The Lambeth Conference 1948" be purchased as an addition to our League library, which is available to all members. This interesting book is the Encyclical letter from the Bishops, together with the resolutons, and reports, of the conference, which took place in London this past Summer.

Mrs. R. Coombes spoke of the Blue Cross plan.

Mrs. Smith thanked Mrs. MacConnell and Mrs. Woodbeck for their work in renovating and arranging the choir gowns and surplices.

Mrs. Bell took charge of the "Armistice Day" program. After an interesting address, Rev. Mr. Anderson closed the meeting with the benediction.

The December meeting will be held at the rectory and Mrs. Noble and Mrs. Pepperall are in charge of the program.

Delicious refreshments were served by the hostess and Mrs. Walter Savage, after thanking those who had contributed to the program, moved a vote of thanks to Mrs. Tanner on behalf of the members of the League, for the most enjoyable evening spent at her home.

TABERNACLE C.G.I.T.

The Tuesday meeting of the Tabernacle C.G.I.T. took the form of an election meeting for the slate of officer for the coming year. Mrs. F. R. Harback presided, and the officers elected were:

President, Florence Nelson; Vice President, Ruth Bailey; Secretary, Wanda Lought; Treasurer, Annette Young; Pianist, Wilma Lought; Social Convener, Fern Beer; Press Secretary, Lois Wood and Flower Convener, Ruth Bailey.

A worship service was conducted on the theme "Jesus, Light of the World", with a painting by Coleman Burrs illustrating the theme. Following the service the meeting formed discussion groups for consideration of the sehvice and arrangement of the next program.

Dee Bee Spinsters' Dance Gala Event

Sponsored by the Dee Bee Workers' Agency of the Deacon Bros. Company, the annual Spinsters' Dance was held at the Club Commodores Thursday evening, with an estimated attendance of 150 couples. Music was by the Commodores Orchestra and vocalist Art Duby.

The well-arranged program ran smoothly under the capable 'emceeing' of Bob Tarbush, of Barrie, Ontario. Credit for the program arrangements went to Margaret Meeks.

The dance program was liberally sprinkled with novelty dances and a number of the couples were the recipients of prizes awarded for spot and elimination dances. The winning couple of the first spot dance were Miss N. Thebidau and her partner, George Gertow. The triumphant couple in the elimination dance were Miss E. Spafford and Frank Weir. The second spot dance award went to Miss Barbara Diment and partner, Bill Westfall. The balloon dance, in which the winner is decided by a lucky number in the balloon, was won by Miss Margaret Mayers and Bill Wright.

Shortly before midnight, a grand march was held and novelty prizes were given out. When the home dance was played at one o'clock, the revellers adjourned to their respective homes well satisfied with a successful evening's enjoyment.

The appreciation of the dance committee is expressed to Lattimer's Drug Store for their effort in handling the ticket sales for the event.

'Mr. and Mrs.' Club Group Holds Meeting

The "Mr. and Mrs. Club" of Bridge Street United Church met in the church parlor on Wednesday evening. A most enjoyable program was presented by the committee, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hodgson, Mr. and Mrs. N. O'Neil and Mr. and Mrs. Enos David.

A devotional period opened the program, followed by biography sketches of those present, and old favorites such as a spelling-match, a quiz, and impromptu speeches, with everyone participating. Prizes were presented to the winners and flowers to the couples having wedding anniversaries in November. Mr. Doug. Whillan reported on the business conducted by the executive and emphasized some of the coming events.

The Club adjourned to the parsonage for refreshments and made contributions to the funds of the Invitae Mission Circle which was holding a coffee party and bazaar on the same evening.

Women's Responsibilities in Future Of Canada Greater Than Ever Before

Mrs. Byrne Hope Saunders, C.B.E., editor of the Chatelaine magazine, and internationally known authority on women's activities, addressed a large and appreciative audience at the Women's Canadian Club luncheon in the Hotel Quinte, on Thursday afternoon, on the subject, "Are Women Equal to the Future?" After a few opening remarks by the President, Mrs. Arthur May, regarding old memories, which November 11th, brought to mind, she introduced Mrs. J. Grant Sparling, a personal friend of Mrs. Saunders, who, in turn introduced the speaker of the afternoon. She stated she wished to present Mrs. Saunders to the members of the Canadian Club first as friend; second as a moulder of public opinion, and third, as editor of the Chatelaine. Mrs. Saunders replied that she was glad to come as friend, and as one whose task it was to take the vague intangibles and translate them into the personal things of life.

"There are forces", said the speaker, "that are working from the inside, changing our homes and our conditions of life. More and more women are leaving the home to become women of the world. Canada is a young country, eager, full of hope and enthusiasm, so unlike the old countries with their dread, and hopelessness. They are grateful for the money and clothing that we send, but what they want most is a world where hope abounds, a world without war, and without destruction.

No Marriage Training

"In the last half century there has come a subtle change. What is happening to marriage? In the United States one out of two marriages is broken. We feel safe here in Canada, but these forces will sooner or later affect our children's lives. In the Washington conference, those who had been studying marriage conditions, wonder if we here in Canada are right, or if romanticism is the key-note to marriage. Marriage is a full-time job, and of all the occupations it is the only one we allow our young people to engage in without previous training.

"We spend thousands of dollars fitting them for doctors, lawyers, and many other professions," said the speaker, "but what have we done for the profession of marriage? Practically nothing. Our young people go into marriage blind-folded. In the United States, today, as a whole, one half the married women are working because the husband cannot maintain, on his wages or salary alone, the standard of living to which they have attained. The home suffers. The children suffer. What is happening there, can happen here. Therefore we must be prepared; we must train our young people for marriage.

One force that is injurious to marriage is the economic situation. "The best age for marriage," continued the speaker, "is in the late teens and early twenties. In Canada today the average age is 27 years for men, and 24 for girls. Half the men who married in 1945 were 25 years or over." Half the young men are pushing the marriageable age back simply because they cannot afford to keep a wife and children on the average salary. The earning power of young men is gradually going down and down and down. The earning power to the age of 25 has been cut in half.

The lads who married in our fathers' time, married young; made homes and reared their families. Today the lads have to wait years before they can do this. Some parents think it leaves a nice aroma to their names if they leave a large estate, but how much better it would be to give the lad a start now, so he could become established in a home of his own, and stabilized.

Scale of Earnings

Education plays a large part in the financial status of young men as regarding marriage. Those with four and one-half years of schooling have the average earning power of $681 per year. Those with five to eight years schooling, $909; those with from nine to twelve years, $1,215; while those having senior matriculation or University have $1,634 per year. Thus it can be seen they have education, but not the income, therefore cannot marry when they should.

The case of a young couple was cited; they were married when the young man had not completed his university course, and being too proud to accept assistance, quit and went to work, although the young wife pleaded with him to continue while she worked, and helped with the financial situation, he would not permit her to do so, and today they are merely existing. "Which is better," asked Mrs. Saunders, "to leave our young people to fend for themselves, or to help them out now?"

The home today, because of the existing conditions, is demanding more and more from teachers; things that should be taken care of by the parents are relegated to the teachers. The days when the children were contented in the home are slowly fading away, partly because there is so little home life like the old days when the family gathered together in the evening for reading, or music. Homes are becoming smaller also. Life is outside instead of inside. Eighty per cent of the mothers work, not because they want pin-money, but because they have to help support the home. Aside from the necessity for the mother working, there is the tendency to rely on mechanical means.

More Thought Needed

"Books are sent to us by various means," said Mrs. Saunders, "one, through the "Book of the Month Club". Our music comes over the radio, we are fast getting lazier and lazier. We cannot be static, we must either progress or retrograde. What can we do about these forces that are besetting us? By training our children; by the right relationship to our husbands, and by having a humorous approach to fear, whether it be fear of atom bombs, another war, or depression. We must think, and study, and get out with our convictions; to be positive with our opinions based on knowledge."

Turning from the home, and duties connected with the home and marriage, Mrs. Saunders touched briefly on the subject how are Canadians going to harness for good the capabilities of those women from forty to sixty, whose duties in the home have became less with the growing up of the children. These women who feel that they have pent up energies and want to do something, and yet do not know what to do. "We haven't learned to buy in the older women or the young, untrained ones," commented the speaker. "Winnipeg is the only city so far to undertake this responsibility to some degree. They have developed a "Big Sister Act". When the older women have been asked to do something, they have willingly replied in the affirmative, but added 'Get a young woman to help do it, and I will train her'.

"In summing up", Mrs. Saunders said, "woman's role is in making the home; setting the standards, and passing on the traditions. And I would like to leave with you two images, the first by Conrad: "Give yourself to the limitless, and by the movements of your arms and legs to support you, compel the deep, deep waters to bear you up." And the other is, the reply given by an old Scotch lady, to one cast down by fear and worry: "Don't worry, the Lord weel fit the back to the burden".

Mrs. May very graciously thanked the speaker for the splendid talk which she had given and for making the intangible things understandable, and bringing them down to earth.

Princess Will Share Presents With Other Women

London, Nov. 12. (AP)—A record baby shower for Princess Elizabeth's baby may overflow into many humbler British homes.

The Princess has let it be known she would like other babies arriving the same day as hers to share many hundreds of layettes given to her by loyal subjects and admirers the world over. The birth of Elizabeth's baby is expected some time this weekend.

In London alone it is estimated that at least 350 to 400 babies will be born this weekend.

Elizabeth and her husband, Prince Philip, may share their baby presents with perhaps 100 or more of that number.

A similar course with wedding presents was followed by the Princess when she was married last November. Overwhelmed with gifts from all over the world, she gave away some two dozen frocks and suits to other November brides of her own age.

Months ago, even before Buckingham Palace confirmed reports that a royal infant was expected, women of Britain and the Commonwealth lands started making nursery clothes and organizing Elizabeth needlework clubs.

The idea caught on, particularly in Australia and New Zealand, which the royal family expect to visit next year. Sydney has sent 900 baby garments, hand made and embroidered. Melbourne, Brisbane and other cities are contributing also.

From donors close to home have come lamb's wool and kid leather baby shoes, fancy shawls and crib covers, embroidered silk and knitting wool.

An American firm is rumored to have offered daily diaper service by air, each diaper to bear the royal crest. Much as Elizabeth might appreciate the offer, it no doubt will be turned down.

House-to-House Canvass, Tag Day Are Planned

The Belleville Nursing Division No. 150 of the St. John Ambulance Corps has begun its campaign to raise funds much needed in the operation of the public services offered by this group. A house-to-house canvass is being conducted and on Saturday, November 20, a Tag Day will be held in support of the campaign. Donations will be received at campaign headquarters, 295 Front Street.

Many public services are rendered by this association, among which are such efforts as the recent blood-typing campaign throughout the city's industrial plants and offices as well as to the general public. First aid instruction to organizations is another service. The above are merely two of the worthwhile advantages of having such an association functioning in the city.

The officers of the campaign are headed by chairman Harry Rollins. Other members are Messrs. W. F. Sandercock, J. W. Hodgson, Judge J. C. Anderson, Dr. G. H. Stobie, Mayor D. L. Storey, Rev. J. Grant Sparling, Msgr. J. F. Nicholson, Geo. Stokes, M.P., Elmer Sandercock, M.L.A., Lt. Col. B. C. Donnan, H. Seldon, Mackenzie Robertson, A. Leslie, T. Franklin, L. McLean, G. Proctor, L. Young, G. Freeman, D. MacDonald, H. Saunders, B. Macklem, T. Schwab, F. Lang, L. Buck, D. Boyce and Mrs. G. Smith.

Invictae Club Holds Coffee Party, Bazaar

Mrs. D. C. Amos opened her home on Wednesday evening for the annual coffee party and bazaar of the Invictae Circle of Bridge Street United Church. The guests were received by Mrs. Amos and the President, Mrs. Jeane Lloyd.

The drawing room was very colorful with 'mums in Autumn tones. The serving table was convened by Mrs. Eleanor Cass, assisted by Miss Mary Rutherford and Miss Isobel McCabe. The Christmas card table convened by Miss Florence Foster, assisted by Misses Nellie Morley, Doris Lloyd, Ruth Morgan, Muriel Hibbard and Shirley Counsell. The White Elephant table was convened by Miss Kay Declair, assisted by Misses Marion Nichol and Mabel Russell. Miss Marion Armond was in charge of the treasury at the door.

Guests were invited to the dining room by Miss Loretta McDougall, and Mrs. Jean Clapp was convener. Coffee was poured by Mrs. F. E. Houston, Mrs. C. B. Morgan, Miss Lazelle Brown and Mrs. A. J. Davis. Assistants in the tea room included Mrs. Phyllis Berry and Misses Marjorie Telford, Margaret Hillis, Jean Brickman, Lorraine Hopkins and Kay McKibbon.

The Experts Say . . .

By KAY REX
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, Nov. 12 (CP)—The national health and welfare department has gone right into the kitchen in its attempt to put Canadians on the road to proper nutrition.

In a booklet entitled "Good Red Blood," the department has provided some menus which follow Canada's Food Rules. There also are half a dozen recipes which are high in vitamins, but low in cost.

Liver Loaf (serves six) — Ingredients: one pound liver; one-half pound hamburg; one cup bread crumbs; one onion chopped fine; juice of half a lemon; one egg, well beaten; two tablespoons tomato catsup; one teaspoon salt; one-quarter teaspoon pepper; tomato juice or milk to moisten.

Skin liver, parboil in salted water from 10 to 15 minutes Drain, chop and mix with other ingredients. Pack mixture into a greased baking-pan. Bacon may be used to line pan or may be placed on top. Bake at 350 degrees for one hour.

Oatmeal Cookies (two dozen) —Ingredients: one-half cup shortening; one-quarter cup brown sugar; one-half teaspoon vanilla; one-half teaspoon baking soda; one-quarter cupj hot water; one-third cup raisins; one-half cup flour; one cup oatmeal; dash salt

Cream shortening with vanilla and sugar. Add hot water. Add oatmeal and sifted dry ingredients. Drop by teaspoonful on baking sheet. Press flat with fork. Bake at 375 degrees Fahrenheit for eight minutes.

Here is a "Food Rule" menu for one day: Breakfast—tomato juice; shredded wheat with milk; whole wheat bread; milk or cocoa made with milk. Lunch or Supper — Baked Beans; Whole wheat bread and butter; baked apple; oatmeal cookies; milk. Dinner—Roast beef; baked potato and beets coleslaw; gingerbread; milk or tea.

Home economics of the consumer section department of agriculture recommended the us of honey at the breakfast and dinner table.

"Mixed with peanut butter or chopped dried fruit or cottage cheese it quickly makes a delicious swet sandwich-spread for use at home or to pack in a lunch-box," says the department Honey sauce for pudding or ice cream always meets with approval.

When it comes to cake-baking the size of the egg often means the difference between success and failure. Home economists of the department of agriculture have been making tests on eggs and have found that although the yolks of different sized eggs did not vary greatly, there was a difference in the whites.

To obtain one cup of egg whites 10 pullet eggs are required, but only six large eggs. When beaten the whites of two large eggs made a generous deep meringue for a pie. Three pullet eggs were required for approximately the same volume.

Elizabeth's Baby Will Have Good Income Until 21

London, Nov. 12 (Reuters) — Princess Elizabeth's baby, which is expected this weekend, will get an income of at least £6,000 ($24,000) a year until it is 21.

Princess Elizabeth received this sum at the age of 11, when she became heir presumptive to the British throne in 1937 on her father's accession.

Her baby, whether boy or girl, will be second in line to the crown and, as such, entitled to an income of its own.

When Princess Elizabeth attained the age of 21 her annuity was increased to £15,000.

Earlier this year the House of Commons voted that on her marriage to the Duke of Edinburgh last November, her income be raised to £40,000, with an allowance of £10,000 for the Duke.

If Princess Elizabeth were to die before her husband and during the lifetime of King George, the Duke's annuity would be increased to £25,000 for any period during which one of their children is heir presumptive.

Princess Elizabeth pays income tax and pays for all her entertaining. She must pay the salaries of her household, including a private secretary, press secretary, ladies in waiting, and now a "nanny" for her baby.

King George has an income of £010,0000 a year. He meets all Queen Elizabeth's bills and expenses, but Queen Mary, his mother, has her own allowance of £70,000 to run her London residence, Marlborough House.

Princess Margaret gets £6,000 until she is 21 when her annuity will be increased to £15,000.

Advice to the Lovelorn

By BEATRICE FAIRFAX

Why Isn't She More Popular?

Dear Miss Fairfax:

Why is it that when I go to dances, some girls are asked to dance by boys and others aren't?

Could you please tell me how I can be asked also? I am not bragging, but they say I am a very good dancer.

"Wondering"

Dear "Wondering": Yours is a question that, in one form or another, has been asked by members of the female sex since the beginning of time. For what it really means is: Why are some girls attractive to men while others aren't? What is sex appeal, and why do some girls have it while others don't? And those are questions that are very difficult indeed, if not impossible, to answer.

There's one cheerful thing about this subject, however, and that is that all of us can make ourselves more interesting and attractive to others than we are if we want to take the trouble. It's a composite of a lot of things, such as making the most of ourselves in appearance, in manners, in personality, in disposition and in genuine interest in other people, so that they find us pleasant to be with. Many a homely girl has great charm simply because she's a good sport, has a lot of healthy interests so that she can talk about and do the things all normal teen-agers enjoy, is always good-natured, doesn't get hurt feelings and has a happy sense of humor.

Check yourself up on all these things, and see if you can't improve your standing in some of them so that you'll be more popular.

She's Married to a Philanderer

Dear Miss Fairfax::

I am 18, and recently met a married for almost a year.

My husband has fallen deeply in love with another girl, which leaves me very lonely and heartbroken. I have done everything in my power to please him, but he doesn't seem to understand or care anything about me, and he quarrels with me dreadfully if I do the least little thing he doesn't like. I have tried to convince myself that I would be better off if I divorced him, but I realize I love him too much to do it.

What would be best for me to do?

"Lonely Wife"

Dear "Lonely Wife": It is, indeed, a very heartbreaking and disillusioning experience for a wife of less than a year to find herself married to a philanderer. For I am very much afraid that is exactly what your husband is. I do not believe he is "deeply in love" with his present girl friend any more than I can believe that he was truly in love with you when he married you. His behavior indicates to me that he is a very weak character, whose shallow emotions are likely to be swayed by one girl after another and never long held by any one.

I'm sorry, but I believe you are quite right in thinking that you would be better off without him. Certainly I don't think you are going to get anywhere by trying to hold on to him. You would be far wiser to tell him that if he wants to go, you won't stop him. You won't be able to anyhow, and you might as well preserve your own dignity by not trying.

Let the Boy Write First

Dear Miss Fairfax:

I am 118, and recently met a college boy at a banquet held for the football team on which he plays. We had no formal introduction but I began talking to him so he asked me to dance and later asked my name.

He gave me his name and address and told me to write him, but I told him to write first. Then he said he was very busy but if I wrote first, he would answer very soon. Is it proper for girls to write first?

"Gloria Jean"-

Dear "Gloria Jean": I think it would be much more sensible for you to wait until this boy shows he is interested in you by writing to you. You don't want to put yourself in the position of finding that he leaves your letter unanswered, as might very well happen, since he feels he is "too busy" to write you first. It would be embarrassing to have him think he is more important to you than you are to him.

Fashion Flashes

THERE'S COLOR in some of the nicest of the new fur-trimmed suits. Vivid American Beauty woollen is used for a smartly fitted suit whose jacket has cuffs and a wide hem of black Persian lamb.

GIVEN UP for lost was silver fox, but somehow here it is, back again with a bang and doing wonderfully well. One of the most beautiful of the little furs at a recent event was an import, a deep, wide, melon-shaped cape of brightly frosted silvers.

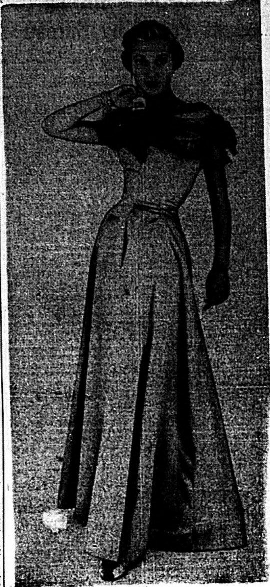
A SMART NOTION in the millinery field is a tiny evening cap of black sequins, which becomes even nicer when its very own back of ruffled black lace is tied on with lace streamers that form a pert bow in front.

IT'S EASY to laugh at rainy days now that cheery, colorful, well-styled rain togs are available at every price level. Something new is a grey glen plaid raincoat complete even to its own matching beret and umbrella.

GATHER UP a wardrobe of skirts and blouses if you want to make a small wardrobe seem large without any big expenditures. A slim skirt of black velvet for late afternoons, a black wool or crepe skirt for general wear and one of gray flannel for casual or sports wear will pay real sartorial dividends. There are smart sweater blouses of gray or black, wool jersey there are beautiful shirred chiffons; there are shining satins—in short, this is the biggest blouse and skirt season ever.

TWO OF THE BEST hats for every type are the beret and the pillbox available this season in all fabrics, colors and variations. A charming little pillbox is of black fur felt softly draped with tucked velvet and sporting a cluster of blondie feather curls for height.

Pink Satin Ball Gown



By PRUNELLA WOOD

Take your fund for the knockout evening dress of your season to a department store..and be amazed at what manufacturer designers do in the way of custom made looking gowns.

The aristocratic mauve pink satin ball gown shown here is not made to individual order, but it looks as if it were, and it can (and will) compete with any of them.

The slipper satin is moulded to the figure to waltz out into a wide skirt with a crisp, dipped silhouette; the off-sholder neckline is swathed romantically with seal brown tulle, caught with matching velvet bowknots. Not a cheap dress, of course, but not extravagant either and well within best-dress ideas.

NIBLO, MOVIE DIRECTOR DIES

New Orleans, Nov. 12 — (AP) — Fred Niblo, 74, former movie director and Broadway actor, died Thursday of pneumonia. He was one of the founders of the Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences and a veteran director in the early days of motion pictures, one of his best known productions was "Ben Hur" made in 1925.

BEAUTY

By HELEN JAMESON

Take a Backward Glance

A beautiful back, straight and erect, topped with graceful shoulders, is a grand good-looks asset. It gives distinction to the feminine shape. It makes bargain clothes look like a million dollars. It creates a youthful line, smartness and chic. Every so often a woman should stand before a full-length, triple mirror and take a backward look. Her figure may be undergoing changes that are not for the better, especially if she is edging along into the forties.

It is heaven's truth that few women have ever given a thought to the appearance of their backs. They spend money to keep complexions in prime condition. They spend freely for the shampoo and wave set, the intriguing hair-do. They fuss with their fingernails. But unless the bathroom scales give a discouraging report, they are not likely to worry much about their figures. That's bad. Figures can change almost over night. And it is the back that frequently takes on the middle-aged, settled look.

The body should be of normal weight and measurements, but that is not enough. Lines should be graceful. The spinal column is the support of the body. If it is not held properly the entire musculature weakens. Then what? Fat cells accumulate.

To have a beautiful back one must keep the chest lifted, the head balanced. The abdomen should be so self-contained that it is flat as a flounder. Permit the area south of the human equator to protrude and the back becomes rounded, lacks the neat nip-in at the waistline. Throwing the shoulders and arms forward is a habit that will cause the upper portion of the back to bulge and take on adipose tissue.

Any exercise that tends to make the muscles of the back strong and resilient will naturally make for more graceful outline. There is a certain double curve, well known in art, that has great beauty. You will see it in the bodies of young boys who are athletically inclined. When this curve becomes more apparent than normal, either above or below the waistline, the figure has begun to take on mature lines; youthful appearance has gone.

To restore contour, assume the correct standing position. Inhale as you square your arms. Place each hand on the inside, of the opposite elbow. Then arch the body forward and downward, bending at the hips instead of at the waist. Lift the body, bend far back. This arching movement will have a stimulating effect upon the interlacing muscles that extend from the shoulders to the hips.

Lie on your back on the floor and arch your body, resting on your shoulders and your heels. That's fun. Try it.

Woman Game Warden Has Albino Grackle

Port Credit, Ont. (CP) — Mrs. Harry McDougall, game warden for this district 15 miles west of Toronto, is one of only two bird-banders in Ontario. She captures her specimens with numerous traps, sunflower seeds and other tempting morsels.

Permanent guests at the sanctuary she maintains are a talking starling and a rare albino grackle. The other birds are not kept in captivity long but are released after being banded.

One of the game warden's helpers is an 84-year-old neighbor who has three traps in his garden and periodically brings birds to her to be banded.

Mrs. McDougall first heard of a talking starling from a family which has one possessing a vocabulary of 48 words and can speak whole sentences. A nestling starling the bird-lover obtained recently is learning to talk although "it may take about a year to teach it."

Color Important For Smart Style

Montreal — (CP) — Fashion is asking the girls to be more than smart-looking these days. They must look pretty too, says Mrs. Doreen Day, Montreal fashion expert.

"You must do everything you can do to make yourself pretty and feminine," she told women at a luncheon meeting. "This can be achieved by the use of color, bright shades a la Paris and sharp color from New York."

The silhouette, she said, must be adjusted to time and place, age and type. No sophisticate would choose "bouffant" or lace but rather a slim close-fitted model in black with jacket having gold accent.

Summer Tearoom Is Winter Rink

Convict Admits Wrecking Train To Rob Passengers

Norristown, Pa., Nov. 12 — (AP) — A 30-year-old former convict Thursday signed a statement admitting he wrecked a train so that he might get money by "searching the pockets of the dead and injured," District-Attorney W. Arnold Forrest announced. Two persons were killed in the wreck.

Forrest identified the man as James M. Johnson of Pocomoke City, Md. He will be charged with murder, Forrest added.

The wreck occurred May 9 at Valley Forge. A coroner's jury held that the tracks were deliberately tampered with in an attempt to wreck the train.

Forrest said Johnson served seven years in prison for attempting to derail a Pennsylvania Railroad train at Stanton, Del., July 8, 1940.

Prime Function Of Paper to Lead Not to Follow

Milwaukee, Nov. 12 — (AP) — The bulk of newspapers in the United States guessed wrong on the presidential election last week because "all of us were guilty of doing a little too much telling and too little explaining," Roy A. Roberts, Kansas City editor, said Thursday.

"Frankly, the mass public does not like to be told by newspapers or anybody else, for that matter, what they should do and think," Roberts, president and general manager of the Kansas City Star, said in an address prepared for the 29th national convention of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society.

"It's a prime function of a newspaper to lead, not to follow," the speech said. "But over the years I have sort of come to the conclusion that you serve your purpose more effectively by setting forth the facts and letting the public make up its own mind than by overstressing your own conclusions and expecting the mass public to accept your opinions.

"The mass public got the picture of a little fellow being ganged. Truman swung for the heart, Dewey countered at the head. When a political tide or trend sets in, it sweeps everything before it."

Committee Urges Decimal Coinage in South Africa

Capetown (Reuters)— A recommendation that the government take the necessary steps to set up a decimal currency in South Africa is contained in the main report of the Decimal Committee of the National Anti-Waste and Conservation Organization.

The committee recommends that no action be taken in regard to decimalization of weights and measures other than in the direction of simplification and correlation with the standards of other countries.

But on the question of decimal coinage, the committee states that during the 2 1-2 years of its investigations it found a clear majority in favor of a decimal system of currency.

Among advantages urged in its favor were that it would provide a simpler and more expeditious form of trade accounting and a more effective method of costing and pricing. In addition, the decimal system would be better for household and other monetary transactions.

The committee is convinced that the use of a single and comparatively small basic "measure of value," with consequent elimination of several "measures" would have beneficial results.

The single measure of monetary value would replace the present system of pounds, shillings and pence.

Referring to opposition to the system, the committee said there was a measure of opinion which acknowledges its advantages but was unable to support positive action at the present time.

Among reasons put forward against decimal coinage were that such a step would be taken only in concert with similar action by Great Britain, and that the cost of adjusting accounting machines and reprinting forms would make the change undesirable.

The committee observed that estimates placed the cost of altering or replacing machines at $20,000,000.

The committee believes there would be no insuperable difficulties to making the change in from two to three years' time since there is a considerable backlog of orders to be filled for new machines, and that many of the machines in use are old and need replacing.

Cost of the change would be about $40,000,000 in 10 years' time, the committee estimates. Members are sure that establishment of a decimal system would result in permanent advantages of great importance to South Africa.

As a final recommendation, the committee suggests that an official committee be appointed, representative of banking, industry, commerce, municipal and state departments to study the proposal and to deal with problems which might arise during the transition stages.

Minister Remembers B. C. Skull Binding

Vancouver (CP)—The days when British Columbia's Indians bound their skulls to produce cone-shaped heads were recalled here recently by Rev. G. H. Raley.

Dr. Raley spent more than 50 years wth the west coast natives, and now owns the "talking staff" carried by Chief Shakes when he went to Queen Victoria's Diamond Jubilee celebration.

He remembers seeing an Indian woman whose head had been bound with cedar strips when a child so that it measured 16 inches from chin to crown.

Britain to Have Bigger Papers In Near Future

London, Nov. 12 — (Reuters)— Britain will have bigger newspapers in 1949, Harold Wilson, president of the board of trade, announced in parliament Thursday.

The present four-page daily will be enlarged to an average of five pages — alternating between four and six pages — with appropriate increases for other national and provincial daily and also weekly papers.

In addition, Wilson said, it was possible to remove the restrictions on the freedom of circulation so that each newspaper will be able to print sufficient copies to meet public demand.

Viscount Hinchingbrooke, Conservative member for Dorset Southern told Wilson "not to lose heart" and to remember that British newspapers had 24 pages before the war.

Asked if the bigger paper involved buying more Canadian newsprint, Wilson said it had been made possible entirely by a remarkable increase in home production which was 45 per cent of pre-war output, a 125-per-cent increase since January. It was hoped that home production would be maintained and even improved in 1949.

Daily papers were of an average of five pages in September, 1947, before a cut reduced them to their present size.

Uruguay Welcomes Foreign Capital, Lowers Barriers

Montevideo, Uruguay —(CP)— A New South American haven for refugee money from any place in the world has been created in Uruguay under protection of a recently passed investment law.

Under the law, foreign investment capital is free to come into Uruguay and go to work, and a like freedom is extended for withdrawal of funds for re-investment elsewhere. There is a small tax, but the barriers existing in so many other countries against the movement of foreign capital are missing.

The law was enacted four months ago with opponents contending it posed a threat to the independence of local industry and with its sponsors maintaining it would attract investment capital.

So far, the anticipated flood of money is not in sight.

During the debate on the bill, two aspects were especially discussed. First, whether the law would protect the country from the danger of sudden withdrawal of capital and the consequent shock to national economy. Second, whether the expected large amount of new capital would take command of all industries and national resources with possible intervention in politics.

The first situation was considered settled when it was decided that the capital tax of a third of one per cent a year should be paid in advance for 15 years. During that time, investors were assured, the law would not be changed. This payment, it was felt, would insure against sudden withdrawal of funds while not imposing an absolute prohibition.

Outside Capital Needed

As to the possibility of the new capital dominating industry, most legislators and a good share of the public felt that it would benefit the country. At a time when national industries are growing rapidy — "in a country where everything is yet to be done," as one lawmaker said — a flood of outside investment money meant to some observers the possibility of rapid economic development.

The fact that so far no great international interests have come to Montevideo, as expected, has been interpreted by some as due to the recent depreciation of Uruguayan currency in terms of dollars. Others, however, discount this factor and say several investment companies are ready to come to Uruguay. They believe the peso fluctuation has been related to the world dollar shortage rather than to a feeling that Uruguay offers less security and steadiness than countries of more conservative economic policies.

One Uruguayan industry that seems to be attractive to foreign investment is the tourist business, although investments have been comparatively minor. Construction of several large luxury hotels is being planned in the Playas Del Este area, a region with the reputation of being the most beautiful in South America.

Few of Berlin's Missing Persons Found by Bureau

By JOHN PEET

Berlin (Reuters)—Nearly 300 persons were reported missing in Berlin during August, but Berlin's bureau of missing persons only managed to track down 125 of them.

The pre-war figure was about 50 missing persons each month. The increase is considered to be largely due to the general uncertainty of post-war life.

Police believe that 'kidnapping' by the Russians, although highly publicized, accounts for a small proportion of the disappearances.

Possibly 10 per cent of all those reported missing are persons who have gone into the Soviet zone surrounding the city to forage for food. They generally turn up a few weeks or months later, having been sent to labor camps in the Soviet Zone for "black market activities."

The great majority of those reported missing are youths and girls between the ages of 15 and 20, who find life in Berlin too dull and set off for the western zones to see the world.

In the west, they generally land sooner or later in a refugee camp. Their particulars are then sent back to Berlin.

There has, however, been so much mass migration in post-war Germany that many of them manage to conceal their identities successfully and are never reported.

A typical case was 16-year-old "Herbert," from Neurelin in the American sector of the city. After failing his school examination, he began to haunt the local black market. Hs ration cards were stolen there, and with a friend he decided to "go west" rather than go home.

Many Cross Frontier

It is not difficult for the young and healthy to cross the frontier between the Soviet and British zones, and a few days later Herbert presented himself at a refugee camp in the British zone.

Giving a false name, and claiming to have been expelled from Pomerania, formerly eastern Germany but now part of Poland, he was found a job with a local farmer.

Somehow local police found out that he came from Berlin. His particulars were sent through to the capital, and the bureau of missing persons confirmed that he had been reported missing.

Herbert is now sitting in a German detention home waiting for the blockade to be lifted so that he can be shipped back to his parents in Berlin.

The bureau of missing persons also has a large number of normal peacetime cases with which to deal. A large number of the persons reported as missing are husbands or wives who have decided to seek a little variety. In many cases, the husband has been away from home for years before his wife decides to track him down, in most cases because she wants to get a divorce.

A breakdown of the figures for August shows that of 292 persons reported as missing, 75 returned voluntarily to their families.

"Sometimes they only missed the last trolleycar, and that sent a nervous relative scurrying to report them as 'kidnapped'" a police officer said.

Bidden by King Returns to Sea

Titchfield, Hampshire, England, —(CP) — Among the clucking hens on his poultry farm, Mark Pinfield, former chief petty officer in the Royal Navy, thought the thunder of the guns at Jutland in the First World War sounded very distant.

Since those days, when he was a lad with the Grand Fleet, he had sailed as chief steward to the Prince of Wales, voyaged with Churchill to meet Roosevelt, and cruised to South Africa as caterer to the Royal Family in H.M.S. Vanguard.

All that was left behind in 1947 when he "swallowed the anchor" after 33 years with the Royal Navy. But at 53 the call of the sea —in the form of a personal message from the King — has reached him again. Their Majesties want him as chief steward on their voyage to Australia and New Zealand next year.

"This really will be my last commission," said Pinfield in his smart new uniform. "Difficult work? Not a bit. The King and Queen are always so appreciative it makes catering for them a pleasure."

THE VENABLES

BY KATHLEEN NORRIS

"I hope you appreciate," said Uncle Roswell solemnly to Georgie, "that this little mother of yours is giving her life to make [illegible] children grow up to good [illegible] and women. Nobody to help her now! I skipped lunch today, and that stew surely does smell good, Willie," he added. "I was wondering — I don't suppose you could put me up here for a day or two? I brought the children some little cookies — children like cookies. Last night — in fact for a night or two — I've stayed with Burgess — not comfortable. Well!"

"Come into the other room a minute," Willie said, flushed from [illegible] from the oven door, as she [illegible] at the browning biscuits, straightening an aching back. She and her brother went into the dining-room, where the dirty china still stood about in odd lots and half-opened hampers and barrels still exuded twists of newspaper. When she came back into the kitchen she was alone.

Flo had to take Spencer upstairs; she looked from the upstairs hall window and saw Uncle Roswell walking slowly down the gritty street into the lone glare of sunset light. He was walking very slowly; he had left his cookies in the kitchen and was pulling on his old dirty gloves.

A pain as keen as physical pain assailed her spirit, and for a moment she felt like catching up the "two bits" change that stood on the bureau and running after him.

"Here, Uncle Roswell, this isn't much!" she could say. 'And thanks for the cookies!"

Instead she stood still, and the little scar of pity and regret established itself, never to leave her heart again as long as she lived.

Lily was not living at home now; that was one reason that Flo could make new school friends and why she felt so delightful a sense that new and exciting things were happening.

Lily lived most of the time at Aunt Lizzie's and went to Miss West's school. All the richest and smartest girls in town went there, so Lily had opportunities to make new friends, too.

Lily had been a rather scrawny and colorless child, but she was ripening into strange beauty now, prettier every day. She had pale corncolored hair, dark eyes heavily lashed under clear dark brows and cheeks beginning to be tinged with pure pink.

If her teeth were not as fine as Flo's big, firm white teeth, they were at least better suited to her small red mouth. Lily was daintily made as to wrists and ankles, too, and carried herself with a little air of pride.

Aunt Lizzie, who had always rather feared and disliked Willie's brood — those pale wild children who were always getting disgusting sicknesses — had noted that they were growing into really attractive young people.

Georgie was handsome and sturdy and sometimes cleaned his hands and anwsered answered hands and answered politely; Flo was an amusing monkey, and Lily was the kind of daughter Aunt Lizzie would have wanted, had a child of hers lived.

She was thanked effusively for her generosity toward Lily, but almost from the first Lily took possession of her starved and lonely heart, and the gay, artificial little voice, the swift feet, the flyaway gold head of her niece entirely changed the atmosphere of the old house.

At first Lily was bitterly homesick in her new great room, with its double bed and steel-rodded fireplace and high draped windows, and cried for her mother and Flo.

But shweas h

But she was allowed to come home for a night or two and go back for a night or two and so became accustomed to formal meals in big dark rooms and all the echoes and silences of Aunt Lizzie's house.

And in no time she was weaned and liked to play her part of the little princess in the gloomy palace, liked her associates at Miss West's, and began to grow up like a flower in a forcing bed.

Her aunt took her downtown and bought her clothes — a school dress with bretelles and braid trimming, patent-leather shoes, a beaver hat infinitely becoming in its velvety blackness to Lily's fair hair and dark eyes, new lisle stockings, a blue coat with two little shoulder capes.

Some of these things were duplicated for Flo. But even without them Flo was rejoicing wholeheartedly in her sister's good fortune. She did not want to live with Aunt Lizzie; she preferred Shotwell Street with its inconveniences and responsibilities.

But for Lily the handsomer setting was wholly right. The sisters always parted with tears, but their hours together were more delightful than ever, and when they shared the same bed at either house they usually whispered and giggled half the night.

Thrown upon her own resources, Flo developed rapidly and independently. She read all the books she could find, went back to David Copperfield and Bleak House over and over again.

Flo never went to bed without setting the lamp carefully on a chair beside her and laying at least six cumbersome volumes where she could reach them. She might read only one, but she would not run the risk of finishing that one and finding herself bookless.

Rose Richards speedily became her intimate and inseparable friend. Refugia was charming and generous and deliciously amusing in her odd use of American words and phrases, for Refugia had been born in Costa Rica, and Spanish was her mother tongue. And Emily Parke was attractive, maddening nice some days and terrible snobbish and silly others.

Rose and Flo were warmly friendly with both. But it was with Rose that Flo could be confidential; it was Rose who came to Shotwell Street and helped with Saturday work and understood all about poverty and changed times and uncovered floors and the inconvenience of having no bathroom.

Rose was human; she had known trouble, too. Her mother was dead and her father had gone to the Klondike, from which only the scantiest of letters trickled back. Rose lived with her grandmother in a boarding house in Howard street. She had one sister whom she adored, Lin, ten years older than herself, who was teaching school in Santa Barbara.

(To be continued)

Rose did not know the meaning of snobbishness. One Saturday after school had reopened it was arranged that Flo should go with Rose to see Rose's sister Lin, who had returned to Berkeley's to teach.

They had determined to take a basket lunch, walk from the train up to the college, sit on the grass under the oaks somewhere and have their picnic, and afterward walk to Miss Buckmaster's academy and see Lin.

That afternoon spent with Lindsay Richards, in her room at the girls' school, was an enchanted time for Flo. All too soon the Autumn sunset was coming in at the windows.

Lin sat back in her chair, with her teacup held in both hands, resting herself as if she were a little tired, and drew the other two into conversation.

"Are you planning to go to college, Flo?" Lin asked, in her friendly, interested way.

"I'd love to." Her heart was set on it now. "But I don't know whether my mother could spare me. And I'd have to have — Rose and I were saying — about three hundred dollars, wouldn't I?"

"It would depend on the courses you took. But if you didn't take too many units you'd have time to do something outside. I did that. I tutored five evenings a week and all Saturday morning, and earned twelve dollars a week."

"Ah, but I'm not smart enough to tutor anyone!"

"You could do this, Flo," Lin said. "You could be what they call 'student help' in some family. You're supposed to give them two or three hours' work a day, for your room and board. An hour getting breakfast and clearing up, and an hour and a half helping with dinner. Then you have no living expenses."

"Oh, I could do that!" Flo answered eagerly, her imagination instantly seizing up the possibility. "I can cook, you know, and I am fast about dishes!"

She stopped, arrested and a little embarrassed, but it was a wonderful feeling of embarrassment too, at Lin's look. Lin was half smiling, but there were tenderness and admiration in her eyes.

"You're magnificent, Flo, but Rose said you were!" she said quietly. Flo could not speak.

It was dark when Flo got home. Her mother was glad to see her; the potatoes would not get done, and Willie had made two failures of white sauce. Flo, casting her hat and coat on the stairs, took possession of the milky, lumpy messes and, while she strained regaled her mother on the events of the day. But she said little of Lindsay. Lindsay's name was to be sacred forevermore. Not even Rose would ever know what it meant to Florence Venables.

Just before Christmas Lily came home to spend a few days giggling and chattering with Flo, making much of her small sisters, conferring in the old happy way about Christmas presents, and bringing the exciting news of Aunt Lizzie's secret.

Lily was to have a magnificent coming-out ball in two years; they all knew that. But meanwhile she and Aunt Lizzie were going for a six-month visit to Europe! Starting right after New Year's!

"Flo, I think you ought to hate me, going to Europe when you have to stay here and wash dishes!"

"But I'm so glad to have anything happening to us, Lily!"

"You know Aunt Lizzie's going to put a hundred dollars to Mama's account in the bank on the first of every month," Lily volunteered.

"I know. Gee, she's kind."

"But does Mama know about writing checks?"

"I think she does now. I know she never wanted to learn while Papa was alive."

"Doesn't that time seem long ago, Flo?"

"Well, doesn't it?"

Rose had gone to Berkeley to be with Lin for part of the vacation, which simplified matters at home, and after Aunt Lizzie and Lily had been duly started eastward from Sixteenth Street on their glorious journey, and Mama had done a little crying and a little boasting for a few days, Flo went to Berkeley to spend 2 days with Rose and Lin at Miss Buckmaster's.

The lavish scale on which the big school was run pleased Flo. No scrimping on butter and vanilla and chocolate here! There was a Chinese cook in the kitchen with two assistants, and the girls had sumptuous meals — breakfasts with popovers and broiled chicken and bacon, ice cream for lunch, omelette souffle and cold turkey and pumpkin pie for supper.

Under and over and through the other enchantments was the constant rapture and thrill of being near to Lin.

Quite suddenly, in January, she decided to be a good student; overnight her homework rose from indifferent performance, or no performance at all, to heights that rendered her teachers speechless and astonished even herself.

At home she was a model of helpful goodness. She helped George with his school work, mothered her two younger sisters, patted little Spencer.

Willie depended upon her more than upon any other human being. "Flo, taste this and see if it's soured," "Flo, do something to this pudding." "Flo, you'll have to go to the store," were phrases constantly on Willie's lips. Imaginary praise from Lin was always on Flo's ears.

• • •

One hundred dollars a month, munificent as the allowance had sounded when Aunt Lizzie had proposed or rather stated her intention of giving it, was none too much money, Willie discovered, when six hearty appetites must be satisfied, to say nothing of the enormous quantities of tea and bread and butter that Martha consumed.

And when in January her mother and her sister Daisy joined the family in Shotwell Street, finances became a problem indeed.

Old Mrs. Hawkes had a pension of thirty-seven dollars and sixty-five cents a month. She did not come to her daughter with any intention of settling upon Willie for life, she stated repeatedly and firmly. But at the same time she did not belong to a generation that saw money in regular or definite sums.

In the course of a month to order half a ton of coal and pay for it, to buy Georgie new school shoes and bring home a bakery cake, was Mrs. Hawkes' idea of assisting. She spent her money as, when and how she pleased. If some small charge was exacted at the door she would call for Willie.

"Willie there's a man here wants thirty-five cents for the paper!"

She and Daisy took possession of two unused rooms at the end of the upper hall.

Daisy also was dissatisfied. She expressed herself all day long and every day as feeling that it was a terrible imposition on poor Willie to move in on her. Willie was having a hard enough time with those five children to feed.

"Mama likes it!" Flo might say, bustling about the kitchen with dinner preparations while Martha ironed in the big gaunt laundry.

"Well, your Mama oughtn't like it. And I'm surprised you can say that, Flo. You know how little money she has. It's not right to have two families living together!"

Drawing the old black pot of pork and beans to the front of the oven to stir it, Flo considered that in Aunt Daisy's place she would go into the Ladies' Exchange and wash dishes. Or she would wash dishes for Mrs. Sunderland, at the big boardinghouse. Mrs. Sunderland was always complaining that one could not get girls to work as "kitchen helpers" in these pampered times. Yet someone had to wash all the dishes in the world, and very few ladies "did their own work."

Lin and Rose were very much interested in the occasional letters or messages that Flo had from Lily. It appeared that they had very definite plans for going abroad themselves as soon as Rose finished high school.

"I hope you're going with us," said Lin. "We've never asked anyone else, have we, Rose? But we do ask you. You'll be our court jester."

Europe! And with Rose and Lin! The secret dream lent magic to everything she did and thought. Lily's letters were not exciting, did not sound even happy; Lily was homesick, and she hated hotels.

Aunt Lizzie would not— indeed could not in safety — let her do anything alone, and she did not like the things Aunt Lizzie wanted to do. Churches and galleries and dinners downstairs in a family hotel filled with English people and their horrid-looking girls with governesses.

They sat in the salons writing letters all morning, and in the afternoon went to a gallery or a church or ruins, and then they came back to change their clothes for dinner, and went down to a long slow dinner that started with cold sausage and wound up with a green hard apple. And then they went to bed.

Flo's trip would be different! All sunshine on peasant farms, and three girls devouring wayside meals after long mornings of rapturous exploration and adventure.

Between school work at home and home duties in the kitchen, cooking, and books, and long talks and walks with Rose, and Rose's delicious companionship on trips to market or Saturday's with Weeny and Georgie and Virgie-Lou in the park, Flo's time flew by. One was only thinking of oneself as 18 and here was 17 coming along!

Amateurs Should Have Contracts Says Conn Smythe

(By The Canadian Press)

President Conn Smythe of the Toronto Maple Leafs said Thursday night that bickering about amateur player rights could be avoided if amateur clubs accepted a suggestion from the National Hockey League to introduce standard contract forms.

"We offered the amateurs a chance of protection last year," he said in Toronto. "But apparently they do not trust even themselves judging from my experience in recent years."

He cited the case of Danny Lewicki, former Fort William junior star recently released to Stratford junior; Smythe, who bought professional rights to Lewicki, said he had a letter from the Fort William club saying it did not intend to grant Lewicki his release to any amateur club this year.

"The next thing I knew they were talking money and Lewicki joined the Stratford club," he said. "Stratford paid Fort William $3,500 for Lewicki's certificate and they can force the youngster to play all season with any remuneration.

"Most of the hollering I have heard comes from amateurs objecting to the pros taking their own players."

Western Colts upset Varsity Seconds 20-8 at London, Ont., Thursday in their final game in Ontario's Intermediate intercollegiate football union. The victory meant little to Colts, since the best they could do was finish third but it ruined Toronto's hopes of finishing in a tie for first place with Ontario Agricultural College. The Aggies defeated by Varsity last week, need only to beat the winless McMaster Rams to cop their second straight title.

J. J. McIntosh, vice-president of the Toronto Maple Leafs baseball club said Thursday night at Toronto no steps have been taken yet to pick a new club president to replace Peter Campbell who died Sunday. Acting president Don Ross will represent the Leafs at a meeting of the International League in New York Sunday and probably will talk over the question of a new president with officials of the Philadelphia Phillies with whom Leafs have a working agreement.

If Ray Robinson defends his welterweight championship in January as scheduled, he probably will meet the winner of tonight's 10 round bout between Kid Gavilan of Havana and Tony Pellone of New York in New York's Madison Square Garden. Gavilan, a flashy Cuban who has taken the best punches of Robinson and Ike Williams and come back for more, rates a 1-to-2 favorite to whip Pellone.

At Mexico City, Henri Rochon Canada's No. 1 tennis player Thursday entered the finals of the Mexican singles championship by defeating Anselmo Puente of Mexico in a five-set match. Rochon rallied to win the three sets 4-6, 4-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-0.

Joe Dimaggio, star outfielder of New York Yankees, was admitted to Johns Hopkins Hospital at Baltimore Thursday night for examinations to determine whether an operation on his right heel is necessary. The slugger underwent an operation at the hospital last year. At that time, a bone spur was removed from his left heel. A similar growth appeared on the other heel during the past playing season.

United States foaled horses will be barred from future sales conducted by the Canadian Thoroughbred Horse Society, it announced Thursday at Toronto. The Society's directors voted to permit only thoroughbreds foaled in Canada in Society sales. One American bred yearling was sold in the ring last year.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor

Trenton RCAF Flyers flashed their potential 1948-49 hockey strength before the railbirds at Memorial Arena the other afternoon and the consensus was that the Flyers will do. Veterans of last years squad were in evidence plus a flock of newcomers who won't detract one iota from the Flyer power. Big Al Middleton and Bullock are back in the Flyer fold as are the elusive Nicky Sargent, Bill McLeod, Andy Christie, Jim Provost, O'Meara, Miller, Cordy Ault, "Brack" Brackenbury and others. The newcomers showed plenty of form and the Flyers squad as last year, will again be a force to be reckoned with.

• • •

And that augurs well for the opening game here next Tuesday when Squadron Leader Bob Thompson's charges clash with Jim McDonald's Trenton Hockey Club. Both teams appear to have plenty of power and with the traditional rivalry still afire, the joust should prove just what fandom's asks for in an inaugural.

• • •

Jim Ethier's Canadian National Railway "Diesels" also took to the ice and there were some familiar faces caverting over the ice surface in a heterogenious collection of nondescript uniforms. Big Vern Geyer and brother Leo Geyer were out there with Dick Fitzpatrick, Jerry Moher, Berny Meagher, Mark Storms, Russ Soules, Wardaugh and a bevy of unfamiliar faces. 'Tis too early to predict what power the Diesels will flash. Besides Tim Williams, who, it is reported will wear the green and yellow of the Diesels and Al. Meagher, were not an hand. Looks like a powerful crew at that. Maurecce by gar (LeFort) she is in der goal, too.

Sports tidbit tonight is the first Armouries Boxing Show being staged in the Bridge Street building of that name, which will feature what should be some of the best bouts seen here during the current season. Fred Harding, well-known Oshawan, and reputed to be one of the country's best young scrappers in his division tangles with Tommy Cerrick in the main bout. Corrick, a product of Toronto comes here with an enviable reputation and local fandom is agog with interest.

• • •

Then there's the Ronny Mansfield-Glen Dafoe joust which in itself should be a thriller. It will see the swinging, aggressive Dafoe racing in there throwing punches against the cooler clever Mansfield. This too, should be a must for the fans. Bud Henry, another fan favorite clashes with Wally Hilts highly-regarded Toronto slugger who packs a mean wallop and backs up from none. The heavyweight class sees Irish Keith McCoy take on Rocky Dean from Oshawa while Gerald Ellis, a prime favorite here matches punches with Danny Renwick. The other bouts round out a highly entertaining card. The first fight starts at 8.30 sharp.

There will be high jinks up around Hogtown way on Saturday afternoon when what is termed the intercollegiate football classic of the season will be staged between the powerful undefeated Mustangs of the University of Western Ontario and the high-flying Beavers of the University of Toronto. The Mustangs have not said "uncle" to any intercollegiate team in their last 27 starts while the Blues have not been scored on on their last three games. There'll be plenty of the old college spirit, snake-dances and general bedlam, besides a bang-up football struggle.

• • •

It's plainly a case of love and opinion, but we again go out on the well-known limb and call the Alma Mammy to acknowledge defeat by at least one touchdown. Yep, we'll string along with the Mustangs despite the sudden surge of more or less expert opinion that their string of victories will be broken—and all that y'know. After all, a lot of people thought Dewey would win.

• • •

Undefeated and united thus far this season, "Red" Townsend's powerful Belleville Collegiate Institute junior football team trek to Port Hope tomorrow afternoon where they meet the strong Peterborough C. I. squad in a playoff battle. The winners will tackle the Port Colborne juniors for the COSSA title. Headed by George Locke and Dowsett, the BCI youngsters form a powerful young team with plenty of balance all around. The line is big and husky while the backfield is fleet of foot and know what to do with the pigskin. "Red" will leave the city with the team at 11 a.m. Saturday on the jaunt to Port Hope where the game will be played starting at 2.30 on the Trinity College School grounds.

The Peterborough kids took their group series yesterday by defeating the Oshawa CVI juniors by a 14-0 score at Peterborough.

Thirty-five aspiring junior Rockets trotted out on the ice at Memorial Arena last night under the eagle eyes of Manager Bill Cook and Coach Ken MacNaught. The boys were sent through a stiff skating and play session with various lines and team arrangements being tried out. Manager Cook said today that he was well satisfied with the showing of the squad and selected a few of the boys who showed possibilities.

The Rockets will hold another practice session tonight starting at ten o'clock and the management requests the following players to report for the workout: Loney, George Graham, Joe Barrett, Bill Strachan, Stan Creeggan, Ted Burley, Young, Brown, and Fisher. Rockets will get down to serious business tonight and will likely be kept going at top speed throughout the session. They open the schedule of the Belleville District Hockey League next Tuesday with the Cobourg Orphans as the opposition. Trenton Hockey Club and the RCAF Flyers will provide the nightcap.

Y. Sat. Night Club to Hold Inaugural

A novel feature of Y.M.C.A. program will be inaugurated for the young adult members on Saturday night. On this occasion at 7.30 p.m. the Y.M.C.A. Saturday Night Club will be born. An executive of Y.M.C.A. young people have been busy for many weeks formulating plans to feel a need for wholesome supervised community recreation which will appeal to the varied interests of young adults in the community.

Foremost in the thinking of those responsible has been the idea of a modest cost without detracting from the ability to provide entertainment in which everyone is an active participant.

There will be a dry canteen and dancing as feature attractions along with recreational games, swimming bowling, bridge, badminton, volleyball, ping pong, table games. Because of the wide variety of the program young people are reminded to come prepared with gymnasium shoes, a bathing suit and a badminton racquet.

Drummond McDonald and Douglas and Eaton of the Y.M.C.A. staff will be in charge.

The Big Seven

(By The Canadian Press)

Grant Warwick and Eddie Sandford each picked up a point last night and this was enough for the Boston sharpshooters to retain their one-two position in the National League scoring race. Warwick added an assist and now had 13 points while Sandford fired a goal to boost his total to 12. Montreal's Billy Reay garnered two assists to edge into a third-place tie with Pete Babando of the Bruins with 10 points.

The Leaders:	G.	A.	Pts.

More Punches Than Goals As Detroit and Montreal Win Games in the N.H.L.

(By The Canadian Press)

Even the spectators got in the act in the Montreal Forum Thursday night as police pried the Montreal Canadiens and Chicago Black Hawks apart.

Things were just about as rugged in the Boston Garden where the Bruins squared off with Detroit Red Wings. Three times players threw away their gloves and started swinging. But there, the staid Bostonian spectators stayed out of it.

When the smoke had cleared the score was 4-1 in both games. Boston won one, Montreal the other.

Detroit's loss kept them on top of the National Hockey League and left Boston and Montreal tied for second place, two points behind Red Wings.

The Boston game was a replay of the Wednesday night game that was postponed by fog and soft ice in the Garden.

The Montreal riot started when Doug Bentley of the Hawks threw away his stick and went for Elmer Lach after Lach jabbed Bentley along the boards. But Gadsby sailed into Lach and started on some fans after the three were sent to the penalty box.

Lach drew a 10-minute major and an automatic misconduct while Bentley and Gadsby each goal and Ken Smith shoved Bosthat held up the game for 10 minutes.

Detroit came out of the game with injuries to Ted Lindsay and Gordon Howe. Lindsay hurt his ankle and Howe got a battered knee in the final period.

Fighting in First

Grant Warwick got an assist and Ed Sandford got a goal for the Bruins to maintain their pace as No. 1 and No. 2 in the league scoring race.

All the scoring came in the final two periods but the fighting came in the first. Murray Henderson and Gord Howe each got majors for fighting. That was the preliminary to bouts between Pat Egan of Bruins and Max McNab of Detroit and Detroit's George Gee and Bruin Fernie Flaman.

Woody Dumart got the first goal and Ken Smith shoed Boston two up minutes later. Milt Schmidt and Sandford tallied in the final while Sid Abel got the Detroit goal in the last minute of play.

Until the Montreal battle started, the only goal was Joe Carveth's tally in the final two minutes of the first period. After the battle there were three quick goals by Norm Dussault, Rip Riopelle and Carveth. Adam Brown scored for Chicago.

Hawks' tempers began to rise early in the game when two goals were disallowed. Jim Conacher tipped in a rebound, just after the blue light had gone on to end the first period and in the second the puck sailed past Bill Durnan from a scramble just after the whistle.

Toronto Maple Leafs broke up their rookie line as Conn Smythe took advantage of an idle week to figure out why his world champions weren't any higher than 4th in the league standings.

He sent utility man Joe Klukay on to the line with Max Bentley, with the third man either left winger Les Costello or right winger Fleming Mackell. Klukay can play either side.

"We cannot afford to have both the kids out there at the same time during a tight game" Smythe said.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON, JR.

New York, Nov. 12 (AP) — The fact that Dan Topping has hung a "for sale" sign on the Newark Bears emphasizes that everything isn't rosy in minor-league baseball despite a record attendance of nearly 43,000,000 for 58 leagues during the last season...the late Judge W. G. Bramham issued a stern warning to club owners some years ago that they'd better cut out the reckless spending... maybe the Bears haven't been too reckless, considering present-day baseball salaries, but they haven't made money or produced enough major-league ball players to justify the expense...and when you get down to Class "C" or "D" the problem is even more acute.. the farm operators are beginning to drop out and the independents can't come back when it costs around $50,000 a season to operate a Class "D" club and they can't raise ticket prices above the 50-75 cent level because that would just send the customers to the movies.

Sports Before Your Eyes

The week's big question is: Who is Mike O'Dowd? The guy is supposed to fight Billy Conn in Macon, Ga., but nobody, including the Macon promoters or Conn's eastern representative, can supply any information about Mike ... Babe Didrickson Zaharias, who took a couple of lickings at golf this summer, has given up such things as sportsmen's shows and skiing to concentrate on her golf game...Chances are she'll appear in a few exhibitions with Sammy Snead and Byron Nelson during the winter.

$12,500 Stallion Ready to Race At Dufferin Park

Toronto, Nov. 12 (CP)—A $12,500 stallion arrived here Thursday night, ready for the opening of the Dufferin Park harness racing meet Saturday.

The stallion, the Diplomat, was purchased Thursday by Alex Parsons of Brantford and London from E. J. Haynes of Duquoin, Ill. The Diplomat is expected to race for the first time in his new colors in the $1,500 championship pace Nov. 27.

The five-year-old stallion has been clocked at 2:1 4-5 for the mile and is a half-brother of Ambassador, previous winner of the Hambletonian.

Fort Worth Ties For First Place

(By The Associated Press)

Rookie Sam Casanato played through Fort Worth's first nine games in the United States Hockey League scorning only one goal.

But he found the range Thursday night and poked in two goals to lead the Rangers t oa 4-2 victory over Houston.

Freddie Weaver and Sam Kennedy added the other Fort Worth scores.

The Fort Worth victory gave the winners a tie for first place in the southern division with the idle Tulsa Oilers.

St. Paul won from Kansas City 2-1 on the Saints' home ice in a northern division game.

Kansas City went ahead in the second period on a goal by Johnny Miller, but midway through the third period Hal Brown and Dutch Del Monte scored for the winners.

Providence Reds Come from Behind To Beat Capitals

Indianapolis Nov. 12 —(AP)— Providence Reds came from behind with three goals in the last period to beat Indianapolis Capitals 6-4 Thursday night in an American Hockey League game before 6,080 fans.

Cliff Simpson scored three goals but they were not enough to stop the high-scoring Reds.

Simpson's first goal got the Caps away in front, but Jack Stoddard and Chuck Scherza scored to put Providence ahead at the of the first period.

Harvey Fraser made it 3-1 for Providence at 11:49 of the second period but Simpson counted two goals 67 seconds apart to tie the score. The Caps went ahead at 4-3 on Pat Lundy's screen shot.

In the third period when Jackie Hamilton scored to tie the count, Johnny Chad put the Reds ahead with a long shot at 5:51 and Bedard got the final goal at 14.12.

Golfers, Traders Tied for Lead In Major "A"

Belleville Golf bowlers of the Major "A" League retrieved some of the ground they lost last week at the regular weekly night session at the Bowl-O-Drome last night when they defeated the cellar-dwelling Lawn Bowlers by a 7-0 score. The win puts the Golfers on a par with York Trading at the top of the league standing. The Traders absorbed a 5-2 defeat at the hands of the second place Northern Electric team.

Callaghan Ice showed smart bowling form to hand the C.N.R. a 7-0 setback while Central Cigar hit the win column by turning back the Electronics 5-2.

Walter Moore toppled the individual efforts with a high triple of 838 with L. Hopkins kegling the high single of 348. Other players who bowled over the 700 triple mark were L. Lennox, 777; L. Hopkins, 755; J. Semark, 750; R. Shettler, 746; H. Ridley, 739. D. Tobe had a single of 311.

The scores:

Belleville Golf, 7 points	3439
Lawn Bowlers, 0 points	2960
Callaghan Ice, 7 points	3397
C.N.R., 0 points	2922
Northern Electric, 5 points	3252
York Trading, 2 points	3004
Central Cigar, 5 points	3015
Electronics, 2 points	2695

Calgary Wins First Western Football Championship Since 1911, Fight in East Still On

By The Canadian Press

e work's all done this fall in western rugby roundup, but ems like only the beginning ome of the clubs in eastern da.

ur eastern squads battle it Saturday in the second game e eastern semi-finals. There's a long way to go before one m meets Calgary's unbeaten peders in the east-west clas or the Dominion champion- two weeks from tomorrow at onto.

Stampeders brought the cowtown its first western championship in 37 years Thursday by beating Saskatchewan Roughriders 17-6 in the western final.

Ottawa Rough Riders, favored to take the Big Four title, were upset 21-19 by Montreal Alouettes Thursday in their first clash of the two-game total-points league playoffs. Alouettes gave away three touchdowns. They twice spotted the Ottawa club leads and came from behind to win.

Fabulous Frank Filchock and the Hamilton Tigers, undefeated this season, are out to make it two straight when they meet Toronto Beaches Indians. Tigers took the first game of the best-of-seven Ontario union playoffs and the third game, if needed, will be played in Hamilton Wednesday.

Winds Up Saturday

The college circuit winds up tomorrow—unless University of Toronto stops the march of the University of Western Ontario Mustangs to their fourth straight title. There'll be a playoff in the game if Varsity beats Western in the game at Toronto. Queen's and McGill square off in the battle to stay out of the league cellar.

Tomorrow's a big day, too, for the juniors. In Saskatoon, Vancouver Blue Bombers battle with Saskatoon Billtops for the western championship while in Hamilton, Point Edward meets Hamilton Wildcats for the eastern championship. The east-west junior finals is scheduled for Nov. 20.

Alouetttes and Riders had split their four regular league games this season. But it looked like a walk for the Riders on the first play when Tony Golab intercepted a pass from Montreal's Bruce Coulter and went 30 yards for a touchdown. Alouettes came back into a 12-7 lead, dropped behind again when Golab got another touchdown then fought their way into a 21-13 lead and stayed ahead.

Golab scored all three Ottawa touchdowns, two on intercepted forwards and once when he recovered his own kick behind the Montreal line. Wilf Tremblay converted three and Howie Turner got a rouge.

Wagner Scores Two

For Montreal, it was big four scoring champion Virgil Wagner who went for two majors. Joey Pal got a touchdown and Ches McCance booted a field goal and three converts with Steve Nemeth converting one.

The largest crowd—10,000—ever to see a football game in Calgary nearly dropped through their seats on the opening play of the game when Gabe Patterson went 78 yards for Saskatchewan's only touchdown. He converted it himself.

Paterson made most of the 167 yards Regina picked up rushing. But quarterback Keith Spaith — most valuable player to his team in the western league—went for two Stampeder touchdowns and big Paul Rowe got another one. Fred Wilmot kicked two converts.

Saskatchewan had battled the Stamps to a 4-4 stalemate in the opening game of the playoffs.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

Every bridge player needs a method of deciding how many tricks his hand may take. Do it by bird's eye view. Or by judgment. Or by what some expert advocates. But do it.

Nearly all counts have some merit. Some are better than others. Some are easier. Some take too much effort. Some take too much time. Some are adaptable only to certain types of players.

The Horse Sense count is right on the button. Prove this with any number of deals. Take a pair of hands. See how they combine to make the amount of tricks determined by this method.

At a no-trump bid count one for each high card (any ace or king or queen). Nothing else. No jacks. No tens. Unless you are pushing into a higher contract on a gamble.

At a suit bid add to the high cards one for each short card. A short card means each card short of (average) three in each suit. High cards and short cards at a suit bid. That's all.

Use this count with the right basis for your first bid. Raise once for each additional trick in either department. Amaze yourself with the sudden confidence this gives you in bidding.

An opening of one in your biddable suit needs five suit tricks. Four of them must be high cards. Two of these must be sure tricks. Note that your opening suit bid guarantees four no-trump tricks.

Open with a bid of one heart when you hold this hand:

♠A J 7
♥A Q 8 5
♦K Q 9
♣K 10 4

Say the response from your partner is one no-trump. It does not force you to bid again. And you have no more suit bids. So, what?

Your opening suit bid showed four high cards (no-trump tricks.) Your hand contains six (high cards). no-trump tricks; enough for two raises in no-trump. Step right in there with three no-trump.

The Horse Sense count removes a doubt that many only guess about.

The Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Nov. 12 — (AP) — Far be it from Larry Parks to get typed as Al Jolson's film ego. He's seeking an action story as his next film.

Under his new Columbia contract, Larry gets 35 weeks as a free agent after he finishes "Jolson Sings Again." He wants to use at least part of the time in producing his own picture, which is the only way for a star to make real money in this town.

Despite rising costs, the "Jolson" sequel will cost less than the sensational original. There will be no production numbers. Jolson's voice and Parks' face will have to put over the songs.

Hither and Yawn!

Ginger Rogers came back from her Oregon ranch for retakes of her Sarah Bernhardt scenes in "Barkleys of Broadway." The sequence was so good that people thought someone else doubled for Ginger. So she'll do some close-ups to prove it's all hers . . .

"I Married a Communist" will pull no punches. It's about life of the San Francisco waterfront and Bay City should find it interesting. One of the writers on the film is Art Cohn, former Oakland Tribune staffer . . .

Angela Lansbury finally plays her own age in "Samson and Delilah" — 24-year-old Semadar. The British gal has played a range of ages, up to the 45-year-old publisher in "State of the Union." She has done every kind of role except comedy — and she started as a comedienne in New York night clubs.

THE WHOLE WORLD AWAITS, WITH BATED BREATH, THE OUTCOME OF THE SADIE HAWKINS DAY RACE IN DOGPATCH!! THERE'S ONE POOR SOUL WHOSE FATE EVERYBODY IS WORRYING ABOUT—

[BLO]NDIE — By Chic Young

NOW FOR THE S

Go to bed early tonight and get your nerves in shape, advises manager Willard Fawcett of the McCarthy theatre in order to be on hand at 11:23 Monday midnight, Nov. 15th for a screen and stage performance that is guaranteed to thrill you, chill you and have you screaming for mercy.

"Chasm of Spasms," with Dr. Ogre Banshee and his eerie company, of spooks will come out of the stygian blackness of the night with more unhallowed machinations than the "Old Ned" himself. Astral bodies are scheduled to float through the audience; a head, unsupported by either earthly or spiritual body, may perch upon your shoulder. Sinister beings may spirit away your wife! Icy, creeping fingers are likely to send your neighbor sprawling in the aisle. When Verga, the ghosts' sweetheart, takes her bath on the stage at midnite, you will find your spine dissolving into nothingless.

This super thrill show may be seen for one mid-nite performance only Monday, Nov. 15th. It comes directly from London, where Dr. Banshee made a name for himself (albeit a fiendish one) entertaining the boys during the war.

Appearing with the unholy doctor and his assembly of spooks is a thrilling, horror-laden picture entitled "Blood and Thunder."

Tickets for this special attraction may be purchased at the McCarthy box office, any time. All ticket holders will be guaranteed a seat.

AT THE CAPITOL — All dolled up .. Wallace Beery dons a tuxedo and top hat for the first time in fifteen years for his new starring role in "Alias a Gentleman," current attraction at the Capitol Theatre. In his latest role as an ex-crook who tries to crash society, Beery develops a taste for the fine arts, becomes a stickler for etiquette, and even dances a snappy rumba! Tom Drake, Dorothy Patrick and Gladys George head the supporting cast. On the same program "The Bold Frontiersman". Continuous show Saturday from 1.00.

Little Benny's Note Book

Last nite I dreemed it was raining, and when I woke up this morning and looked out my window, the dreem was true, and I sawt, Heck, I wish I didn't have to go to school in weather like this.

Probably being the same thing I sort of wished even if the weather had been just the opposite, only the rain made it seem still sadder, and all of a suddin I remembered I could only find one of my rubbers the last time I looked for them.

Making me feel hopeful, and I went down to breakfast, saying, Say pop, G, ma, I dont know where one of my rubbers are. I'm

Oh, the odds are at least even pop said. You have 50 per cent less chance of catching cold than if both rubbers were missing, he said, and ma said, Besides, why cant you hop to school on the foot with the rubber on?

By gollies yes, that would keep your other foot dry and give you splendid exercize, pop said, and I said, Aw, it would give me a cramp in the leg, more likely.

Anyway, let's stop worrying, ma said. Your other rubber is in the umbrella stand. Dont ask me why, but it is, she said, and I said, Aw heck, ma, I mean G roozalem, why didn't you say so and save me all that waisted trubble?

What trubble? ma said. Have you the faintest idea what he means, William? she said, and pop said, Oh, does he mean something?

SAYS CARDINAL WON DELAYS IN BOMBING OF ROME

New York, Nov. 12 — (AP) — Francis Cardinal Spellman appealed to Winston Church in 1943 and won delays in the bombing of Rome, an article in Collier's magazine says today. "Although Churchill had long wanted the job done," the article, a discussion of Gen. Jimmy Doolittle's war career, by W. B. Courtney, continues, "He desisted, but only temporarily, after Cardinal Spellman had spoken to him."

SEVEN REPORTED KILLED

Cairo, Nov. 12 — (Reuters) — Seven persons were reported killed and 34 injured in the most violent explosion ever to rock Cairo when a charge of dynamite or gelignite wrecked a newspaper building early today.

Preliminary police investigations established that the explosion was caused by a British-made "baby" car laden with explosives.

U.N. President Appeals to Big Four to End Crisis

Berlin Issue Chief Obstacle To Peace Between East, West

Paris, Nov. 13 (AP)—The President of the United Nations Assembly and the U.N. Secretary-General made an urgent personal appeal today to the political leaders of the United States, Russia, Britain and France to settle the Berlin dispute at once.

Dr. Herbert V. Evatt, Australian foreign minister, who is president of this assembly session, and Trygve Lie, the secretary-general, offered their good offices to the Four Big Powers in efforts to solve the dispute. Their action was without precedent in the U.N.

The two invoked the recent Mexican revolution, approved unanimously by the assembly, which had called upon the Big Four to do all possible to settle all their differences.

Contenas of Letter

The Evatt-Lie letter said in part:

"Every day that the deadlock over Berlin continues, the danger to the peace and security of all nations continues undiminished.

"Fear of another war is crippling the effort of all nations to repair the damage of the last war and return once more to the ways of peace.

"The work of the general assembly and of the United Nations as a whole in every field of endeavor is being delayed and undermined."

Evatt and Lie told the four leaders if is within their power to end this danger to peace.

"We therefore respectfully urge upon the governments of France, the Union of Soviet Socialist Republics, the United Kingdom and the United States . . . the desirability of immediate conversations and of taking all other necessary steps toward the solution of the Berlin question, thus opening the way to a prompt resumption of negotiations for the conclusion of the remaining peace settlements for Germany, Austria and Japan."

While Evatt and Lie were discussing the final draft of their letter to the four powers, Soviet Deputy Delegate Andrei Y. Vishinsky again lashed out at Britain and the United States on the Berlin issue.

He told the 58-member political committee that the western powers had "wrecked" the compromise proposals on the Berlin crisis drafted by the Security Council "neutral" members.

Argentine Delegate Juan Bramuglia meanwhile was reported working on a new formula to end the crisis. He conferred with Vishinsky Friday night and was to see the other Security Council neutral today.

Sources close to Bramuglia said they discussed the Berlin situation.

The Bramuglia-Vishinsky meeting came after State Secretary Marshall of the United States told a press conference Friday that the United States was looking to the Security Council neutrals to see what they might propose in the Berlin crisis. Canada is classed as a member of this group.

Marshall also said the United States is determined the Berlin air lift will go ahead as long as is necessary.

KING KEEPS PRESS GUESSING ON NEW CABINET MAKEUP

Says Farewell to Colleagues and Newsmen Before Retiring from Office Monday

Ottawa, Nov. 13 (CP)— Enigmatic to the end, Prime Minister Mackenzie King today left all hands guessing on the makeup of next week's new cabinet after saying farewell to colleagues and newspaper men.

Bidding goodbye to the parliamentary press gallery, he said almost — but not quite—enough Friday to indicate that good-sized cabinet shuffle was in the making.

Reporters trying to interpret his remarks on the procedure involved in his resignation next Monday, found themselves up against the familiar and tantalizing job of pinning down just what Mr. King actually meant.

What he said in his final press conference was that after Justice Minister St. Laurent is asked formally to head the cabinet, he will go to government House Monday afternoon with his list of ministers if he is able to complete it in time.

If there is no shuffle, preparing a new cabinet list should not take much "time." The only firmly known change is the conclusion of Premier Garson of Manitoba, and his entry is expected to involve merely stepping into Mr. St. Laurent's justice portfolio.

Mr. King went on to say that the only ministers to be sworn in would be new ones or those changing portfolios.

Did Not Say Actually

But he did not say actually that there would be new ministers or portfolio changes.

One announcement he did make was that his resignation would be handed to the governor General about 11 a.m. EST at Rideau Hall.

At that time, as he ends more than 21 years in office, he will advise Mr. St. Laurent —already chosen Liberal party leader—be named his successor. Viscount Alexander then will summon Mr. St. Laurent.

While Mr. King looked visibly worn after the illness that struck him in London last month, he told the newspaper men that he was not resigning primarily because of physical condition.

"I am not retiring because of ill health," he said firmly, "but because I feel that insofar as my task relates to the administration of public affairs, it is now fulfilled."

"I think my day's work is done" he said later when asked if a number of appointments he made today to the federal district commission would be his last task in office

The commission has the task of developing Ottawa as a beautified capital site and its work has been close to Mr. King's heart for years. Today's appointments gave the commission members from every province.

Won't Go South

"My resignation," Mr. King said, "coming as it does at this time, is not to be associated with any circumstances, either personal or political, which may have occurred within the last year . . .

"It is true that my recent indisposition is a consequence of strain over many years and due particularly to a series of pressures during the past year, but this condition is temporary and will I believe, disappear with necessary rest."

Declaring he was "feeling better every day," he added he would not go south this winter for his health.

"There's nothing better than good Canadian air," he said as an answer to reports that he was planning to spend the winter in Jamaica B.W.I.

As to his political future, Mr. King said he intends to remain

600 Planes Fly Berlin Air Corridors Every Day but Task is Intricate

Berlin, Nov. 13 — (Reuters) — The Berlin crisis has brought into being an Anglo-American civilian-military air force co-ordinating group to handle the air lift traffic job and ensure that no plane in the 24-hour shuttle between Berlin and the West is ever without a load to carry.

More than 600 planes now fly the Berlin air corridors every day and make the task of the air lift co-ordinating committee as intricate and as vital as any traffic organization job ever performed, in peace or war.

Maj.-Gen. Charles Gross, deputy chief of the bipartite transport group in Frankfort, now is chairman of Bealcom.

The bipartite control office early took up the task of streamlining and simplifying all behind-the-scenes obtaining of air lift supplies to the seven bizonal airfields serving Berlin.

volves "moving the right trains and carrying the right supplies at the right time to the right airfield."

Since airfield storage facilities are negligible, an average of three days' supplies are held on freight cars at airfield railheads.

Military cargo represents approximately one-eighth of the total tonnage carried.

But food for Berlin's west sectors is the most important single item carried.

Keeping internal trade going between Berlin and the western zones has been another important part of the traffic job. To keep the flow of industrial goods close to normal under air lift conditions has required complicated administration.

Because of the committee's flexibility and its wide representation, plans for air lift changes or improvements can be submit-

LEAKAGE ON NEW SECRET AIRCRAFT TO BE PROBED

RCMP Searching For Unknown Person

Ottawa, Nov. 13. (CP)—The R.C.M.P. today were searching for an unknown person who divulged secret information on Canada's new pure-jet aircraft new under construction at Malton.

And Air Marshal W. A. Curtis, chief of the Air Staff, hopes when the person is found, there will be a charge under the Official Secrets Act placed against him.

The Official Secrets Acts, Canada's Wartime Statute, was used in the prosecution of nine persons on charges of conspiracy and giving confidential information to Russia or to unauthorized persons.

The Air Chief said Friday he was certain there had been a leakage of information. It was "very upsetting". The R.C.A.F. was "most anxious" to prosecute the persons responsible. A prosecution under the Official Secrets Act could be used "as an example to snap anything of this sort right now".

However, there was no indication that there would be any attempt to prosecute either the magazine or the writer of the article which gave details and specifications of the jet plane—the interceptor fighter aircraft CX-100.

Aviation Week, in its Nov. 1 issue, identified the man who "broke the story" as Charles W. Cain, a British aviation writer, now on his way back to Britain.

The magazine said he wrote the article as a result of a tour of the plant of A. V. Roe Limited where the fighter is being produced. Officials of the company would neither confirm nor deny that he visited the plant.

A Toronto aviation editor says Mr. Cain did not have to make the visit to write the story. He was expert enough to "look at a blueprint or assemble stray bits of gossip to duplicate on paper a fairly accurate replica of the machine."

Make Newspapers Easier to Read Suggest Editors

Chicago, Nov. 13 — (AP) — Managing editors were told Friday they can get more readers and create more understanding by making their newspapers easier to read.

Members of the Associated Press Managing Editors Association tackled the readibility problem at their annual meeting.

Associated Press stories have become "sharper and crisper" as a result of a readability campaign. This was reported by Dr. Rudolph Flesch, psychologist and author, who has been an AP consultant on the problem during the last year.

"More people now read newspapers who didn't read them before," Dr. Flesch said. "But they are more distracted by the radio, the movies, and television which are often . . . far easier to understand."

William P. Steven of the Minneapolis (Minn) Tribune was elected president of the A.P.M.E. He succeeds Stanley Barnett of the Cleveland (Ohio) Plain Dealer.

Proud of Keeping Dominion United Through the War

Ottawa, Nov. 13 — (CP) — Prime Minister Mackenzie King Friday declared that the proudest parts of his public life were "the things that had to do with keeping this nation united through the war."

At a press conference after he had said goodbye to his cabinet, a reporter asked the prime minister which was the greatest moment of his many years in office —"the golden moment."

"I have never thought of any particular moment," Mr. King replied. He hesitated and then, speaking with obvious feeling, referred to the war years.

"All Canada's contribution was basically dependent on keeping this nation united," he declared. "I feel our policies were right—I feel the government's policies have been fully vindicated over the years."

Drew Outlines Conservatives' Railway Policy

Moncton, N.B., Nov. 13. (CP) —George Drew said here Friday night that as head of a federal government he would oppose amalgamation of the railways and would favor better social security legislation for Canada.

Nearing the end of a tour of the Maritimes, the Progressive Conservative leader chose this railway centre to make these points:

1. The Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways will not be amalgamated by a Progressive Conservative government.

2. His party is on record in favor of family allowances on an "even level" for every child regardless of size of family.

3. His party stands for Old Age Pensions at 65 without the means test.

4. He hopes to convince the government at the next session to reduce living costs by slashing taxes.

5. If elected, one of the first things his government will do is reconvene the Dominion-Provincial conference to settle constitutional and taxation issues.

Mr. Drew, who moves to Fredericton today to complete his tour, said a whispering campaign has already started and people are being told that if they vote Progressive Conservative the railways will be amalgamted, offices centralized and the shops moved to large centres.

He had never suggested any such a course of action and had never believed in centralization. He believed in decentralization because it brought work and development to all parts of the country.

Finance Minister Abbott had stated recently that the government would have a surplus of $500,000,000 this year. That amount was being "unnecessarily collected and added to living costs," he said. He hoped that in the House of Commons he will be able to convince the government to reduce living costs through tax reductions.

Body of Drowned Teacher Found

Sturgeon Falls, Nov. 13 — (CP) —The badly-decomposed body of Miss Prima Brault, 21-year-old school teacher, has been found on the shore of Lake Nipissing, 2½ miles from Wigwam Point on the south side of the lake, about 12 miles from Sturgeon Falls. Miss Brault was drowned last Aug. 29 when the light boat in which she was a passenger upset and swamped near the mouth of the Sturgeon River. Her companion, Roy Collins, 24, of Sturgeon Falls, was also drowned. His body was discovered about a week later.

Body of Miss Brault was found by William McLeod, Garden Village, a trapper and guide who was making his regular rounds in the area. The body was identified by a ring and a wallet.

SINGER WEDS

Hollywood, Nov. 13 — (AP) — Laverne Andrews, one of the singing trio, was married Friday night to Lou Rogers, recording company executive, at the home of her sister, Maxene Andrews Levy. Maxene's husband, Lou Levy, manager of the singers, was best man. Patti Andrews Melcher, the remaining sister, kept the

Believe Robbers Of Bank Came From Montreal

Montreal, Nov. 13 — (CP) — Police said today they had established that four men who robbed the Bank of Nova Scotia branch at Maxville this week, of cash and bonds valued at $200,000 were from Montreal.

The automobile they used to escape was stolen in Montreal the night before the robbery. It was learned that the acetylene gas tanks used for the blow torch to pierce the iron doors of the vault were stolen from the Montreal Welding Co.

The auto was found abandoned near Hawksbury, after the robbery and police believe the robbers made their way back to Montreal by train.

City detectives here are co-operating with Ontario and Quebec provincial police in the search. Several suspects have been questioned.

Ten U.S. Airmen, Down in B-29, Are Uninjured

Tokyo, Nov. 13 — (AP) — Ten American airmen, forced down in a B-29 near the tiny island of Fais, 350 miles southwest of Guam Friday, were rescued today by a navy seaplane from Saipan.

All were reported uninjured.

The Superfort went down in shallow water off Fais FFriday while searching for another B-29 missing for several days on a flight from Okinawa to Guam.

Will Hirohito Show Sympathy With Ex-Advisers

By FRANK WHITE

Tokyo, Nov. 13 (AP)— Both Japanese and foreigners speculated today on whether Emperor Hirohito would make a gesture of some sort in sympathy with his former advisers, seven of whom were sentenced Friday to be hanged and 18 to prison.

There have been consistent rumors since Japan surrender that the Emperor would abdicate in favor of a regency for his son. Most observers felt, however, that the Emperor would stay where he is —on the throne.

The President of the Court that convicted the 25 Japanese leaders Friday —Sir William Webb of Australia —censured the Emperor as the leader of the Japanese in the war and said he could not escape responsibility. The Emperor was granted immunity.

Most Japanese today were bewildered by the whole thing. In the former police state of Japan, the average citizen had little acquaintance with the law and its workings. They followed the Emperor blindly.

Judge Agreed With Accused

London, Nov. 13. (CP)—Sidney Cain, 43, always signed hotel registers as "Sir Sidney Cain", but, democratically, he told people to call him "just plain Sidney."

"I don't believe in using your handle too much," he used to say.

Nor did a learned judge at the Old Bailey. He sentenced Cain to three years' imprisonment on charges of fraud.

Police said Cain wore an Etonian 'Old School" tie and stayed at the best hotels. He was a painter by trade. In Blackpool he obtained £1,400 ($5,600) from a woman by telling her he was connected with a large brewery firm and was putting through a "big deal'.

"Sir Sidney" then took her to Chester in a Rolls-Royce, paid for with £50 she lent him for "business expenses". He then signed her into a hotel and disappeared.

Weather Synopsis

Toronto, Nov. 13 — (CP)—Synopsis: The cold air which was over Northern Ontario and the prairie provinces Friday has already advanced over Lake Huron and will envelop the entire province by early evening. Not much clearing will be experienced before evening. In the eastern portion of Southern Ontario the steady rain which held sway during the night

PRISONER FAILS IN ATTEMPT TO ESCAPE JAIL

Montreal Police Say Perreault Gang Involved

Montreal, Nov. 13 (CP)—Police said today that Noel Cloutier one of three men charged with the bank-holdup murder of two policemen, attempted to break jail early this morning and was knocked unconscious by a prison guard.

At the same time police let it be known that, acting on an underworld tip that plans were being made to free Donald Perreault and Douglas Perreault, they took five members of a gang into custody.

Donald and Douglas Perreault, with Cloutier, are charged with the September policemen killing, and their case is due to come to trial next week.

Double-Barrelled Plan

Police said the escape plan was double-barrelled.

The prisoner trio were to do their part and at once outside the Bordeaux jail were to be aided by the five men now held by police.

During the night extra police and detectives took over at the jail. All were heavily armed.

Other squads moved through the city and rounded up five members of a gang with which it was believed Douglas Perreault and Donald Perreault once operated.

The five were taken to headquarters for questioning. One of the men taken to cells was said to be the leader of the gang.

Police were frank in saying they believed the tip about a possible attempt to liberate the two men charged with the policeman's slaying was valueless. But they said they wanted to take no chances.

More Bow and Arrow Hunters in Woods

Toronto, Nov. 12 — (CP)—The increasing number of modern Robin Hoods who go a-hunting in Ontario woods with bows and arrows will still have to carry rifles with them, the Ontario Lands and Forests Department said today.

There are special licences issued for such hunting, the Department said, but they won't be issued unless hunters take guns along to make sure that wounded animals aren't left to suffer in the bush.

FINED $100 FOR POSSESSION

Summerside, P. E. I., Nov. 12—(CP) — Walter Bergmann of nearby Traveller's Rest and Toronto, has been sentenced to a fine of $100 with costs after pleading guilty to a charge of having liquor in his possession without vendor's labels, it was announced here today.

Mr. Bergmann had been originally charged in July with illegal possession of liquor and he pleaded not guilty. When the disposition of the case was announced today it was also disclosed that Mr. Bergmann's charge against two Royal Canadian Mounted Police constables for illegal trespass had been withdrawn.

WOODEN LUNG FOR TREATMENT OF POLIO

Berlin, Nov. 13 — (Reuters) — A wooden lung for treatment of polio has been invented at Goetteigen in the British zone of Germany. It costs only one-fifth the price of an iron lung and is just as effective, according to the inventors, Dr. Bruener and Dr. Rindfleisch of the Goetteingen Institute for Medical Physics.

Snuffers Around Canadian Capital Must be as Rare as Dodo Birds

Ottawa, Nov. 13 — (CP) — Zounds! The snuffer around here must be as rare as the dodo bird.

It's easy to locate men and women in the capital who will say they've seen a snuff-box. They will even demonstrate how the stuff is snuffed.

But ask them whether they ever take a "pinch," and they'll all sniff disdainfully.

But elsewhere in Canada it must be different.

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics reports that in the last five years Canadians have been "consuming" snuff at the rate of 81,000 pounds a month.

And evidently snuff-users must be increasing — somewhere — because of the first eight months this year .615,000 pounds were

In the opinion of one Ottawa tobacconist, Canadians don't sniff their snuff, they suck it.

"I've been 25 years in the tobacco business and I'd figure that we sell one tin of the sucking snuff a week to one tin a month of the sniffing variety."

He admitted Ottawa certainly was no mecca for snuff-users.

"The greatest number of buyers come from the farming communities," he said. "Factory workers also use it."

Practically all snuff used in Canada is manufactured right in the Diminion. The D.B.S. reports that for the first eight months of this year only 1,045 pounds were imported.

"The inhaling stuff has to be imported," said the tobacconist. "During the war we tried to man-

Chinese Waging Titanic Struggle To Save Nanking

National Air Force Thrown In To Bomb, Strafe Communists

Nanking, Nov. 15 (AP) — On the water-laced plains around Suchow today Chinese soldiers rallied in a titanic struggle to save their Nanking capital from the Reds.

A million or more men were locked in their fourth night of fighting with the outcome still uncertain. The National Air Force was thrown into the battle, bombing and strafing the Communists.

Outcome of the great battle could determine the civil war for months to come. The Reds, hoping to seize Nanking, 170 miles to the south, are putting their all into the battle.

(The Communist radio claimed Kuomintang (government) troops were in utter confusion and 200 miles of the Lunghai railroad east and west of Suchow was in their hands. The Reds claimed the capture of 10 towns and said the government had suffered 20,000 casualties in the early fighting.)

One thing was obvious here. The Chinese civil war goes on only because of the determined will of President Chiang KaiShek. His fierce opposition to Communism holds together the National Government in the face of continued military and economic disasters, each one worse than the one before, competent observers say.

On top of his other troubles, Chiang was saddened today by the death of his close adviser, Chen Pu-Lei, 58. Chen died of a heart attack.

All-out air support of the government forces, locked with Red troops in a vast battle of more than 1,000,000 men, was hurled into the struggle.

Across the flats and chocolate waters of the bisecting Grand canal the battling men fought.

Both sides claimed a margin of victory. Both charged to the other huge losses in men and material.

Government sources said the Reds had been stopped cold west of Suchow. They said Friday approximately 150,000 Tsinan veterans of the Communist armies were pushed back across the Grand canal east of the city.

Red forces asserted gains had been made north, east and west of Suchow and that other Communist forces had by-passed the whole field of battle and were moving cautiously toward the Yangtse river, which skirts Nanking.

Some Communist attempt to probe the Nanking defence line is not unexpected here. Pillboxes have been erected but the city is calm, although the exodus of foreigners is being stepped up some.

At Shanghai the situation had calmed considerably after food riots earlier in the week.

Northward the forces of Gen. Fu Tso-Yi at Peiping awaited some show of Communist strength from the Red forces reported to be flowing through the great wall from Manchuria.

Eighteen Canadian Jesuit students were among the latest groups evacuated by air from Peiping and Tientsin.

URANIUM IN SOUTH AFRICA

Johannesburg, Nov. 13 (Reuters)— Existence of uranium has been definitely established at Blyvooruitzicht Gold Mine in South Africa, W. Frames, chairman of the company operating the mine, announced Friday. The government has not yet decided how to deal with the find, he told the company's annual meeting.

HALIFAX MOST HARASSED PORT ON EAST SEABOARD

U. S. Longshoremen Tie Up Piers from Maine to Virginia in Strike

Halifax, Nov. 13. (CP) — While an impatient old lady loafed through the Atlantic and striking United States longshoremen tied up piers from Maine to Virginia, Halifax today was becoming the most harassed, booming port on the eastern seaboard.

Latest arrival, Cunard White Star's Britannic, was shunted into Pier 20 this morning by tugs on the heels of the departing Holland-American steamship Veendam. The 26,943-ton British ship carried 900 passengers from Liverpool.

Railway officials kept special trains on the move, carrying passengers from pier-side on the first lap of their 36-hour jaunt to New York Lining up and loading from dawn to dusk and throughout the night, the shuttle is continuing its wartime intensity.

With the arrival of the Britannic—expected to dock at 8 a.m., A.S.T. today—nearly 3,000 passengers have piled up here in the past three days.

Some 1,180 aboard the Mauretania, which sailed out of a Remembrance Day drizzle, have been cleared and are well on their way. Customs and immigration finished checking the Veedam's 550 rerouted persons Friday night and today they boarded the Britannic.

Tuesday night— slightly ahead of schedule— the veteran Aquitania disgorges another 1,800 passengers at Pier 21. She will dock as soon as the Mauretania weighs anchor. The four-stacker is proceeding at reduced speed some hundreds of miles off here, awaiting her turn at this old port's strained facilities.

A harbor official said the 83,673-ton Queen Elizabeth is due to sail from Southampton Wednesday, and will arrive here Nov. 21—providing New York is still strikebound. Her sister Mary sails a week later. Each usually carries 2,00 passengers.

City and District News

FEW VENDORS ON LOCAL MARKET DUE TO HEAVY RAIN

Sullen skies and intermittent showers restricted dealings on the market square this morning and few vendors were on hand. Vegetables constituted the main offering with potatoes, beets and carrots at 50 cents the peck; parsnips, 75 cents; sweet Spanish onions, 50 and 40 cents; and cabbages ranging 10 cents a head.

The inside market was bustling with activity with numerous offerings of chickens, eggs, home-cooking, and honey. Chickens sold for an average 50 cents a pound, while eggs were 50 cents a dozen for small, 55 for medium, and 60 cents for large.

VETERANS TO ATTEND MEMORIAL SERVICE

The annual Remembrance Day and Memorial service will be conducted in St. Thomas' Church Sunday morning. The local military units, the Canadian Legion, the Army and Navy, Air Force and the C. N. R. Veterans have been invited to attend the service. The Rector, the Ven. Archdeacon Arthur Smith, will conduct the service and the sermon will be delivered by H/Lieut.-Col. the Rev. C. G. F. Stone, D. D., M.B.E., Principal Protestant Chaplain of the Canadian Army. He will also preach at the evening service.

SUFFERS SCALP LACERATIONS

Struck by an auto as he was crossing Bridge Street and the Front Street intersection, Mr. Bert Kiser, 19 Franklin Street, age 75 years, suffered scalp lacerations last evening.

Mr. Kiser was walking north across the intersection when he was struck by a car driven by Michael Graville of Kingston. The car was making a left hand turn when the accident occurred. Injuries suffered by Mr. Kiser were not sufficient for him to be taken to the hospital.

DELAYED ACTION

Sanderstead, Surrey, England—(CP) — Frank Eyles brought a watch home from his Swiss holiday last year without declaring it. He came back from a similar holiday this year wearing the watch. Customs officials questioned him and he was fined £25 ($100) for attempted evasion of duty — and the watch was confiscated.

Thieves Ransack Warehouse, Take Cash Box

Forcing the padlock of the front door of the warehouse on Pinnacle Street, thieves last night entered the office of Dobbs Plumbing Shop and after ransacking the premises escaped with the cash box and an undetermined amount of cash.

Police stated that it appeared the padlock had been forced off the warehouse door with the use of an iron bar, the thieves then forcing the door of the main office. The entire office was upset and desk drawers ransacked before the thief or thieves made off with the cash box.

VegetableGrowers Re-elect S. Lazier Pres. of Assoc.

Sherman Lazier was re-elected president of the Hastings County Vegetable Canning Crop Growers Association at a largely attended meeting held at Cannifton Town Hall. The growers went on record as favoring that peas be sold on a graded basis, also were in favor of a uniform contract.

Mr. Wm. Walker of Dunnville was the guest speaker for the evening. He explained the proposed new contract and stated that the only fair way of marketing peas was by grade.

He stated that the association had come a long way since 1935 and urged the farmers to take more interest in their organization and attend annual meetings.

He hoped there would be a large atendance at the annual convention to be held in Hamilton on December 9th and 10th.

Mr. Clare Carter, district representative on the Marketing Board, gave a report on the meetings of the board held during the past year.

Mr. L. Butler spoke on the diseases of tomatoes and how they were treated.

After some discussion it was decided to ask for a price of $35 per ton for 1sts and $25 per ton for seconds on tomatoes and $30 per ton for corn, these prices will be negotiated with the canners in January.

The officers for the coming year are as follows:

President — Sherman Lazier, R. 1, Corbyville.

Vice President — Bruce Martin, R. 1, Corbyville.

Secretary Treasurer — Fred Mitchell, R. 6, Belleville.

District Representative — Clare Carter, R. 2, Thomasburg.

Directors — Everett Hubble, R. 5, Belleville; Elwin Hart, R. 5, Belleville; Chas. Long, Shannonville, and Thomas Keilty, R. 3, Thomasburg.

Corvette Planner Dies in England

Gateshead, Durham, England—(CP)—William Reed, 73, the man largely responsible for designing anti-submarine corvettes and frigates, died here.

His experience on whale-hunts were embodied in his corvette designs, which were accepted by the Admiralty in 1940 and built in many parts of the world, including Canada.

He studied the queer tricks of whales, which can submerge for long periods without giving any indication of their undersea course," said an official of the Middlesborough yard of Smith's Dock Company. Mr. Reed was general manager of the company for many years.

"He dscovered that to have any chance of brnging the whaler's harpoon gun to bear, the ship would have to be fast, extremely manoeuvrable and capable of standing up to any weather."

Central Mortgage to Buy Land East of City Upon Which 106 Rental Homes Will be Built

The Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation will purchase land outside the eastern limits of the city for the construction of 106 rental housing units, it was learned at a special meeting of council held Friday evening.

The meeting was called for the consideration of a by-law, which if passed would have placed the matter of the purchase of the property before the electors of the forthcoming municipal election. Cost of the property was not to exceed $45,000.

The motion to place the matter of the land purchase before the electors was passed at the regular council meeting two weeks ago, but between then and last night's meeting the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation was reported to have signified its willingness to purchase the needed property and proceed with the project without the city forwarding any money.

City Would Have Purchased

Had the matter gone to the people, according to the terms of the by-law the city would have purchased the land and supplied services for which they would be re-imbursed by Central Mortgage and Housing.

When the by-law came up for discussion Alderman Clarke asked what information the electors would be given to decide whether the city should purchase the property. He noted that the by-law made no mention of the cost of services. He admitted that he had not fully understood the terms on the previous agreement with Central Mortgage and Housing through which 102 rental homes were now being constructed.

Alderman Armstrong replied that he was surprised that any alderman had not understood the previous agreement the terms of which were for the municipality to be paid for the cost of the land and services and then grant a reduction in taxes of ten per cent of the cost of the services per year for ten years.

"It just means that the city actually will not get anything back, but it will have 106 rental homes," pointed out Mayor D. L. Storey.

"Then if that means the city is getting something for nothing I don't know anything about money matters," replied Alderman Clarke.

In Hands of Committee

Alderman Hyde wanted to know why lots on the county home property could not be used for the construction of rental housing. He was told that the county home property was in the hands of a committee. Also he did not know what price the city would set on lots in this area.

Voting for the by-law to have an expression of the people as to whether the property east of the Parkwood Heights area should be purchased by the city were Aldermen Allin, Clarke, Lazenby and Follwell, while voting against the by-law were Mayor D. L. Storey and Aldermen Armstrong, Duffy, Hyde, and Lloyd.

Council Takes No Action on Request Of Trailer Residents in Tourist Camp To Remain There for Winter Months

City council last evening took no action with respect to a request from a delegation of persons residing in trailers at the city tourist camp that a previous council recommendation calling for them to vacate be re-considered.

Two weeks ago council voted that no trailers be permitted as living quarters within the city limits and asked persons presently residing in trailers at the city tourist camp vacate by November 15th.

Malcolm Robb, local solicitor, acted as spokesman for the heads of nine families who comprised the delegation waiting on council. He denied that the trailers at the tourist camp would create a slum condition there and also submitted that allowing them to remain for the winter would affect in no way the city's long term policy with respect to housing.

Invited to Cancel Plans

"By your resolution in September which called for winterizing of the tourist camp, these people were invited to cancel other plans for the winter," stated Mr. Robb. "I think these people are entitled to have the matter reviewed."

Alderman Tice, as chairman of the tourist and publicity committee, pointed out that all the trailer residents at the camp were veterans with from three to five years overseas.

"They can't get apartments because they have children," said the alderman. "Council gave authority to winterize the camp and the M. O. H. sanctioned the erection of an outside toilet and the installation of a hydrant for water. Then because of a condition which seemed imminent in the Sydney Street area all trailers were barred from the city."

Just a Matter of a Home

Mr. Tice held that if health regulations were complied with, trailer residents at the tourist camp would in no way effect residents of that area for the winter months. "It is a matter of emergency —a matter of a home for these people for the winter," he said.

Ex-Mayor G. E. Thompson, chairman of the board of health was present at the meeting and stated that the board had not sanctioned the trailer camp, although the permission of the M.O.H. had been granted for the construction of the outside toilet.

Alderman Lloyd admitted that he had been responsible for the recommendation calling for the banning of trailers. He realized the need of housing in the city but pointed out the trailer home project which had been planned for the Sydney Street area by private interests would be objectionable.

He felt that asking trailer occupants at the tourist camp to vacate should cause no hardship as they had come in the spring without intention of remaining for the winter.

"However," he said, "I was told by one man who occupies a trailer at the camp that certain alderman last spring told him that trailers would be permitted to remain for the winter."

"It certainly was not I," quickly replied Alderman Tice.

Alderman Allin declared the entire discussion out of order and recommended the matter be referred to the committee.

Asks for Re-instatement

Ex-Mayor Thompson as chairman of the board of health asked that council re-instate Mr. Geo. Whitman as welfare administrator for the city. He noted that Mr. Whitman's resignation had been accepted by council when they had been informed that Mr. Whitman had secured another position. However, there had been an unexpected development in connection with the expected appointment, Mr. Thompson asked that Mr. Whitman be re-instated as administrator.

The matter was laid over for consideration in committee when it was pointed out by Alderman Lazenby that the position had already been advertised and applications had been received. In committee it was recommended that the motion accepting Mr. Whitman's resignation be rescinded and that he be re-instated. Applications received for the position will be filed.

Requests Damages

Mr. Muir, Bleecker Ave., appeared before council asking payment of damages to his property which were caused last March when sewer gas exploded in his basement, damaging equipment. This too was referred to committee for consideration.

Council also authorized the city solicitor to prepare the necessary application for presentation to parliament to ratify the local by-law authorizing the two year term for members of council whereby seven aldermen out of the 14 are elected annually for the term of two years, and also for ratification of the by-law to increase the membership of the Public Utilities Commission from three to five members.

Canadian Education Week

Education Week in Canada is an annual one-week program devoted to the aims, ideals and needs of Canada's schools and their teachers and pupils.

This program is presented by the Canadian Teachers' Federation for the use of all who wish to take part in promoting better educational facilities and standards throughout this great country.

Education Week was first held in 1921 in the United States under the auspices of the American Legion and the National Education Association of the U.S.A.

Canada's first Education Week was held in 1935 at the initiative of the Canadian Teachers' Federation. Since that time it has been an international institution, with Canadian and American educationists co-operating to take stock of education's achievements and problems during one special week of each year.

Following is the theme for Sunday:

Without ideals and moral standards the world would soon become a sorry place in which to live. A full and satisfying life involves the pursuit of more than just material gain. The school shares with parents and with religious leaders the task of awakening youngsters to the importance of all that is highest and finest in life.

A vast country like Canada has plenty of room for differences of emphasis in spiritual matters. But there are certain concepts, principles and ideals which all our Canadian cultures and religious communities hold in common. Among these are:

The Brotherhood of all men under the Fatherhood of one God.

Charity and the Golden Rule.

Justice and Fairness to all men alike.

Self-respect and Respect for the rights of others.

The Dignity of the Human Individual.

Our children are under the care of schools and teachers throughout most of their waking hours. The teacher has, therefore, a large share of the task of teaching spiritual values. No higher duty exists for Canada's schools and teachers than to help translate these abstract principles into real living habits and practices for each one of our three million school-pupils.

The school emphasizes spiritual values.

DEAD CAT ELUDES POLICE

Proceeds From Radio Auction Used by Y's Men for Welfare

Members of the local Y's Men's Club on Tuesday evening, November 16th, will hold their radio auction during which practically everything ranging from a new Ford car down to a radio phonograph combination, hardware and toilet sets will go on the auction block and be sold to the highest bidder.

Proceeds from the radio auction will be used to assist in carrying out the welfare work of this energetic service club.

What is a radio auction the reader may very well ask. Essentially it is just what the words imply, the only difference being that the auctioning is done over the air. Advance bids will be accepted on all items. Manufacturers and merchants have rallied to the support of the Y's Men's Club in their venture, while some of the major prizes have been purchased with club funds.

100 Different Items

The list of merchandise, including well over 100 different items being offered for sale, has already appeared in the Ontario Intelligencer. The list will appear in two later editions as well.

Participants in the radio auction are advised to have a full page sheet containing the list of merchandise which may be clipped from the newspaper. The program will go on the air at 7:45 Tuesday evening and will continue until midnight.

Citizens are advised to choose the articles they may want well in advance of the auction and thus be ready to telephone their bids to Radio Auction 5000 where a battery of telephones will be ready to handle their bids.

Described by Number

Articles on which bids are made should be described according to the article number as listed in the newspaper advertisement. Name and address also should be given, following which the caller may sit back and listen for results. The approximate values of all articles to be auctioned are listed in the newspaper ads. As many bids as desired may be submitted.

When the article is sold an authorized member of the Y's Men's Club will be on his way immediately to the home of the purchaser where the deal is completed. The article will not be delivered at this time but a certificate of purchase will be issued entitling the winner to his merchandise when he calls at the store of the donor.

Simple?. Why certainly! So clip newspaper sheets and on Tuesday evening at 7:45 be ready for the Y's Men's radio auction over station CJBQ. Remember, Christmas is only weeks away and this may be an easy and exciting way to get some Yuletide shopping done.

Contract for Sewer and Water Services in Parkwood Heights Area Awarded by the Council

City Council in committee Friday evening accepted the tender of the H.J. McFarland Construction Company of Picton for the construction of sewers and water services in the Parkwood Heights area. The amount of the tender was given as $20,405. The recommendation requested that the by-law be prepared for Monday evening's council meeting in order that there be no delay in the commencement of the work.

In order that contractors may be given additional time to line up needed materials for the job, tenders for the construction of the proposed new fire hall on Moira Street West, will be extended from November 13, to November 17th.

Fireman A. Rump of the city fire department was granted a month's leave of absence with pay to undergo an operation. Fireman Rump, a newcomer to the fire department is still on probation and ordinarily would not be eligible for pay during absence. However other members of the fire department have volunteered to take turns working Mr. Rump's shift so that he would not lose the time.

The Ontario Association of Plumbing Inspectors will be invited to hold their annual convention in Belleville in 1949.

Referred for Checking

A signed petition from residents of Moodie Street requesting the construction of a sidewalk was referred to the city clerk for checking.

Statements of the city debenture debt, and of all expense accounts of city aldermen which have been paid in 1948 were requested for the next council meeting. Also the Chairman of Industries was requested to submit to council a list of industries located in Belleville during 1948 and to make a financial report of the Industrial Commission from January until the present time.

The city solicitor was also asked to give a written report as to whether in his opinion the seven aldermen elected in the municipal elections in December 1947, will be legally entitled to sit in council in 1949. This was asked in accordance with the provision of the city by-law regarding the above as it is now constituted.

DEATHS

ROBINSON—In the Hospital for Sick Children, Toronto, on Friday, Nov. 12th., John Gregory Robinson, age five years, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Robinson, Madoc Township.

The funeral will be held from the home of the parents on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 14th., at two o'clock. Interment O'Hara Cemetery.

IN MEMORIAM

ROSS—In loving memory of a dear husband and father, George Jay Ross, who passed away one year ago, Nov. 14, 1947.

He is gone, but not forgotten,
And, as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking,
Thoughts of him are always near.
Days of sadness still come o'er us,
Friends may think the wound is healed.
But they little know the sorrow
That lies within the heart concealed.

Lovingly remembered by wife, Nelson and Edaline, Bill and Ruth.

Sunday School Lesson of the Week

The Oldest Question Ever Asked

By ROY L. SMITH

A study of the world's most ancient literature reveals the fact that one of the oldest questions ever asked — perhaps the oldest — is this: "Why do good people suffer and bad people seem to prosper?"

Practically every religion has taught that if we will be good we will be happy. But life does not work out that way. It is true, of course, that good people are saved some of the terrors that afflict evil people, but no one has ever discovered a complete and satisfactory insulation against suffering.

Job Faces The Problem

In the Old Testament book of Job we read the thinking that an ancient Jewish philosopher did on the subject of suffering. It is impossible to know, who this old-time thinker was, for nowhere in his book does he even give a hint as to his identity. Certainly Job is not the author for, like the book of Jonah, the book is about Job and not by him. Much valuable time and energy has been wasted trying to prove that he was, or was not an historical character. The answer to that question is not important. The spiritual worth of the book does not lie in the historicity of the characters of the drama, but in the validity of their reasoning.

The Book of Job is cast in the form of a drama. The leading character is a good man who, by a series of misfortunes, is deprived of his riches, his family, and his health. Reduced to dire straits, he is visited by a group of friends, each one of whom attempts to explain to him the reason for his sufferings. In reply to each he makes a speech in which he defends himself.

The Easy Explanations

The modern thinker, upon reading the Book of Job, will discover that it gives all the answers there are to the question: "Why do good men suffer?"

The first one is, of course, the simplest. Job has not been, really, a good man. Somewhere in the background of his life there is some dreadful wickedness which is now being punished. This the good man indignantly denies, and challenges either man or God to prove him guilty of grossness. That is not the answer.

As the suffering hero of the drama struggles with the problem he comes to the conclusion that the day will finally arrive when he will be vindicated. It may be after his death, but it will come. In the meantime he proposes to hold on by blind faith.

The most moving section of the drama appears at the point when God speaks to Job, and assures him he has not been deserted. The poor and wretched man is not relieved of his pain, assurance which enables him to rise above his suffering. It is not that the problem is solved but that God is revealed, and that to a man of faith is enough. Because he believes in God he also believes that there is a solution to his problem, and therefore he proposes to wait until the solution shall appear. The just is saved by his faith.

Though He Slay Me

In all of literature, and in all of philosophy, there is not a better answer to the problem of pain than that one proposed by the Book of Job.

In a highly dramatic passage the sufferer is challenged to look at the world about him, and consider the stars, the sea, the light, the storm, the frost, the snow, and the monsters of the deep. "Could you make all these?" Job is asked, and, it is implied: "No but God did." And if God was able to make the universe and all the creatures that live upon the face of the earth, is it not reasonable to believe that he can manage man's affairs for him in such a manner that in time even pain will appear profitable?

Atheism Must Answer

The religious man has become confused many times because he has not been able to answer all the questions raised by the irreligious. Oftentimes it happens that he thinks his religion has failed him, or that he has failed his religion, because he has not had all the answers.

But atheism also is required to answer questions. In fact the same profound problems which tax the mind of the man of faith stand at the door of the atheist's mind and demand an answer.

There are but two answers possible. One is the answer of the agnostic and the atheist —"I don't know." The other is the answer of the man of faith—"I believe."

As for me, I accept the believer's answer.

That is what Job has done for me!

BULLETINS FROM BIRDLAND

BY WINIFRED E. WILSON

THISTLE BIRD

Some Goldfinches leave us in November for slightly milder climates, but many stay in southern Canada throughout the cold weather. In mid-winter you may have met Mr. Goldfinch without recognizing him, because he has changed his canary yellow and black summer suit to an even more drab costume than his little wife's summer dress of olive-brown with dusty black trimmings. All their colors are greyed now. His dull greenish-brown coat is a regular disguise, and although his wings and tail are still black, they are broadly feathered with white, while he has for the present entirely discarded his cute little black cap.

Unless their conical, seed eaters' bills are noticed, these members of the Sparrow tribe may well be mistaken for Warblers, they are both the right size and coloring. Like Chickadees, they travel around in flocks, except when housekeeping, which they do much later in the year than most birds. But they have a reason for this. About mid-July the site is chosen—usually in a fork of a maple sapling or a berry bush. The nest is carefully constructed of grasses and plant fibres, and lined with thistle-down, which by that time is ready. Unfortunately, this artistic-looking home does not appear so neat soon after occupation, because Goldfinches are among the few birds which do not keep their nests clean. Although they eat noxious insects occasionally in summer, their staple diet is weed seeds. "Thistle Birds", as they are sometimes called, show a preference for thistles and dandelion seeds, often strewing them around much to the farmer's annoyance, and they greatly appreciate lettuce and sunflower seeds, and even ragweed. Youngsters in the nest are fed by regurgitation.

"Wild Canary" is a most appropriate name. We sometimes hear that a pet must have broken loose, as a Canary has been seen around. The Goldfinch certainly bears a close resemblance to this near relative both in coloring and voice. The questioning "see—e", with an upward inflection, is quite Canary-like, as is its song which, however, nev? er ends in a trill. The two - syllabled nesting call, that has been translated as "ba-bee", is apparently used exclusively when talking to its own family. But the word "per-chic-o-ree", while keeping the rhythm in undulating flight, makes identification unmistakable.

A delight of spring is wakening to a chorus of Goldfinches in treetops; and though the song is now meagre, their sweet voices are still a joy to hear.

Marmora

Marmora. — Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hulsman spent a few days with relatives in Tillsonburg last week.

Mr. Don Bailey was in Renfrew on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Marshal McCoy and family have moved into the Stephen's Apartment on Madoc Street, recently vacated by Mr. William Pearson.

Miss D. Hulsman, and Mr. A. Hulsman of Peterborough, spent the weekend with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hulsman.

Major Percy Gray has accepted a position in Renfrew with the new lumber and woodworking business of James Baskin, formerly of Norwood.

Roy Cheeseman, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Cheeseman, of Ottawa, formerly of Deloro, has received his Bachelor of Science degree at Queen's University. Roy is a graduate of Deloro Public School and Marmora High School.

Mr. John Finnegan, who has been cheesemaker at Silver Leaf Cheese Factory this year, has added to the long list of honors he has won during the years he has made cheese. He was the only maker in Madoc and Marmora district scoring 100 per cent. All of his cheese scoring No. 1. Only a very few in all Central Ontario have reached that standard. He also made a fine record at Madoc Fair winning three first prizes, one second and one fourth in an exhibit of over sixty cheese.

Self-Styled 'Slave Boy' Remanded

Toronto, Nov. 12 (CP)—Gordon Kelley, 19-year-old self-styled "slave boy" was remanded today for another week in the Toronto psychiatric hospital on a nominal charge of vagrancy.

The boy has been under observation in the hospital for some three weeks — since he was found scratching on a back door in suburban Etobicoke begging for food. Naked to the waist, with matted hair reaching almost to his shoulders, he told of being kept in a closet for a year on a diet of bread and water.

Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Smith, the boy's foster parents since he was a child, denied that he had been mistreated.

Many British Controls Lifted

British controls are being lifted on a wide range of United Kingdom manufactures, some 130 commodities being affected. The consumer industries affected include textiles, leather, plastics, household goods, toys and sportswear. Manufacturers concerned will be able to go ahead and increase production as much as possible and in whatever ways are open with present material supplies; and an improved raw material position is one of the main reasons why decontrol is now possible.

Britons, who bore the brunt of the war for the entire period of the struggle and were greatest factor in achieving victory by the stout defence in the dark days when Hitler threatened from the French side of the Channel, have borne restrictions during and since the war and it must be with a great sense of satisfaction that they will now take advantage of these manufactures and products outside the range of control.

President Harold Wilson of the Board of Trade has said that broadly speaking the Government recognized controls to be necessary only when there was still either scarcity of materials or manufacture dgoods, provided always that the materials or manufactured goods, provided always that the step in decontrol is to "assist our industrial efficiency and our power to export . . . Apart from those basic controls essential for British economic recovery, for industrial efficiency or for full employment, it is our policy to maintain all those controls and only those controls which are essential to secure a proper distribution of materials which are still scarce. A wide range of materials still continues in short supply" necessitating continuance of the measures while at the same time continuing to introduce improvements and greater flexibility.

The step is an experiment in voluntary co-operation between the government and industry as an alternative to statutory control," said Minister of Supply Straus.

Is Virus Cause of Cancer?

The question has been raised, is cancer a virus disease?

It is reported that a new kind of malignant growth has been discovered which does not occur spontaneously but which can be induced in mice by injecting abdominal fluid from a victim. This announcement by Dr. Ryojun Kinoshita from Japan is naturally attracting attention. On this the New York Times says that though Dr. Kinoshita does not regard this cancer as another proof that cancer is caused by a virus, some specialists who heard the doctor speak, thought otherwise.

The theory of a virus as the origin of cancer has been gaining ground, says the newspaper, "since Dr. John Bittner, in 1935, found that the milk of a certain inbred strain of mice carries a mysterious agent which causes their young to generate cancers of the breast. If the newborn young of susceptible mouse mothers are transferred at birth to a resistant foster mother the incidence of mammary cancer is markedly reduced. Similarly, when the young of a resistant mother are transferred at birth to a cancer-susceptible mother breast tumors are sure to develop. When Dr. Kinoshita injects a fluid from one mouse into another and thus starts a cancer it would seem as if the case for the virus theory, which rests on the milk agent, is strengthened.

"The diversity of behavior among viruses is extraordinary. Some viruses are attracted by nerve cells, others by lung cells, still others by blood cells. Some prefer one kind of host; others are not so particular. Some virus diseases are followed by permanent immunity; many others are not. The point is that viruses are so many that they must be considered in developing a theory of cancer's origin.

"It has been known for years that extracts from some tumorous human tissues can produce cancer in animals. But unless enough of the extract is injected there will be no abnormal growth. The milk factor stands on a different basis. It does not produce cancer immediately and directly as a virus should. Hence the authorities who favor the virus theory must assume that, just as typhoid germs may lurk in the body for years, so the milk factor may remain dormant until at last the tissue environment is ready for a tumor. As matters stand, much more will have to be discovered about viruses and about the origin of cancer before the virus theory of cancer can be accepted without reservations. Nevertheless, the discovery first of the milk factor by Bittner and now of this new form of transmissible mouse cancer by Japanese scientists is worth all the attention that both are bound to receive."

BETTERMENT

He dug a little garden on his lot of fifty feet,
Planted peonies and roses;
made a lawn and kept it
neat,
And the blossoms came in summer and his neighbors used to say:
"Twas a better street to live on since he entered it to stay."

He painted porch and windows when the need for paint was plain,

Others followed their example, doing everything they could,
And they suddenly discovered they'd improved the neighborhood.

Well, that better world we hope for needs some one to show the way;
To set the good example for his
fellowmen today.
For from such a small beginning—say a little street improved—

LOOKING BACKWARDS

GLEANINGS FROM OUR FYLES OF BY-GONE YEARS.

20 YEARS AGO

Nov. 13th., 1928.

Mr. L. B. Boyle was home yesterday with his parents at their home on Olive Street.

Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Ashley of Deseronto will spend the weekend here with Mrs. W. F. Ashley, Victoria Avenue.

Mr. Arthur Wilson has left for Rochester, N.Y., after visiting his parents in this city.

Mr. Don Thrasher has left for his home in Cleveland, Ohio, after visiting his parents at their home on Park Street.

Belleville needs a War Memorial and much discussion has taken place recently with regards to the form such a memorial should take. His Honor Judge J. F. Wills is strongly recommending the erection of a cenotaph.

30 YEARS AGO

NOV. 13TH., 1918.

It was a proud moment for the members of the staff of the Ritchie Store when they were gathered together and informed they had been awarded the first 100 per cent Honor Flag to be presented in Belleville or Hastings County during the present Victory Loan campaign. Mr. W. B. Deacon, chairman, of the local Victory Loan committee, made the presentation and congratulated the members of the staff and the management upon their splendid showing of practical patriotism.

Mr. W. M. Whyte has returned home after a trip to Portland, Oregon.

A poultry show will be held here next January.

40 YEARS AGO

NOV. 13TH., 1908.

Jack Winchester, former hockey star here, will keep goal for the Ottawa hockey team this season.

Mr. C. L. Owen, M.P., for East Northumberland, was in town today.

A social evening was spent at the officers quarters on Church Street at which about fifty persons were present, including the officers of the regiment and many civilians. The occasion was a farewell to Capt. William Conger who left yesterday for his new field or duty in Winnipeg. During the evening Lieut. Col. Thomas Stewart, who presided, presented Captain Conger with a handsome signet ring on behalf of the officers of the 15th Regiment.

50 YEARS AGO

NOV. 13TH., 1898.

Mr. H. C. Hunt is spending a few days in Norwood.

Dr. James Potts returned home today after a trip to the Peace River country.

Mr. J. A. Vandervoort is home to spend the weekend.

Messrs. E. D. O'Flynn and W. H. O'Flynn of Madoc were in town today.

Mr. James E. Wallbridge is home from Toronto to spend the weekend.

Mr. Ellis Bogart is home to spend the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Bogart. "Bud" played with the Varsity football team in the recent game at Kingston.

A very pleasing event took place at St. Andrew's Manse on George Street last evening, when the ladies of the congregation presented a fur coat to the minister, the Rev. M. W. MacLean, to mark the 25th anniversary of his pastorate of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church.

A BOOK OF PROMISES

People very often miss the fact that the Bible is a book of promises.

The Bible is divided into two parts, the Old Testament and the New Testament. The word testament means "covenant" or "promise." So the Old Testament is the promise made to the Hebrew people that the Messiah would come, and the New Testament is the promise made to the world that through this Messiah sinful men may experience the forgiveness of sins and the power of a new life.

These are the great promises of the Bible. But there are hundreds of other promises made. These are the promises of comfort in sorrow, of victory over temptation, of the eventual triumph of peace over human strife. The Bible bids us hope for better things. God is pictured as eager to give — more eager in fact than we are to ask or to receive. Almost every chapter in the Bible has some great promise in it by which the heart of man may de comforted.

It is for this reason that believers through the ages have cherished the Bible. It is the most hopeful and optimistic of all appraisals of human life, although it is also unbelieveably realistic. The fact that so many people whose minds are bewildered and whose hearts are heavy with sorrow should know so little about this Book which fairly bristles with promises of help, is a tragedy of the first magnitude.

Charge US Hunter After Friend Killed

North Bay, Nov. 13 — (CP) — John Adams of Struthers, O., was charged with manslaughter here following the death from a rifle bullet of Delmar Ralya, his 51-year-old hunting companion.

Ralya was shot Thursday near Aylen Lake in the Nipissing district shortly after both men entered the bush to hunt deer. Police believe Adams mistook Ralya for a deer and fired at him from about 75 yards distance.

Adams was remanded for preliminary hearing to Nov. 17 with bail set at $500.

Murder, Suicide In Bathtub Deaths

Chicago, Nov. 13 — (AP) — A verdict of murder and suicide from sleeping tablets and drowning was returned by a coroner's jury investigating the bathtub deaths of a couple planning to be married.

The dead were George Readings, 40, Detroit precision machinery salesman and Mrs. Jessie Beck, 31, of Chicago. Their bodies were found side by side Oct. 21 in the overflowing bathtub of Reading's hotel room.

The jurors held that Mrs. Beck died from drowning while under the influence of poisoning "administe ed by George Reading with intent to destroy the deceased." Reading, the jurors added,

Mackenzie's Column:

Sentences May Revive Argument About War Trials

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press News Analyst)

The sentences of death by hanging for war crimes, meted out in Tokyo to Hideki Tojo, former Japanese premier, and six of his top leaders — not to mention terms of imprisonment for others — recall (and may revive) the argument revolving about the Nuernberg trials of Nazi leaders.

The dispute was over whether such trials were admissible under international law and, if they were, whether there was moral justification for the death sentences. The first of these two points is, of course, legal; the second as based largely on the commandment "Thou shalt not kill."

As for the legal aspect, much has been made of the claim that international law never had recognized such charges prior to the Second World War, and that the various war-crimes trials have been based on a law created after commission of the crimes alleged. However, the allies obviously have felt sure of their position, which was summed up in the Harvard Law Review in 1946 by Dr. Sheldon Glueck, professor of criminal law at Harvard, in this way:

"Every recognition of custom as evidence of law must have a beginning some time; and there has never been a more justifiable stage in the history of international law than the present, to recognize that by the common consent of civilized nations as expressed in numerous solemn agreements and public pronouncements the institution or waging of an aggressive war is an international crime."

Generally Accepted

As far as the trials are concerned, the peoples of the various allied countries generally accept them not only as justified but as necessary warnings to countries which might develop warlike notions. Few if any allied citizens would challenge any sort of punishment by imprisonment, no matter how severe.

However, the death penalty raised other issues in the minds of a lot of folk. Some object on moral or religious grounds. This has just cropped up in Germany in connection with the continued executions in Munich of former Nazi guards at the Mauthausen concentration camp, convicted of large-scale extermination of prisoners by various methods. German church leaders have protested the executions but 15 more of the 139 originally condemned were hanged Friday, leaving 81 still to die.

Of course, there's no possible doubt about the guilt of Tojo and his barbaric leaders. If anyone ought to die for crime, they certainly should.

First Jet Airliner Will be Used In February

Toronto, Nov. 13 — (CP) — A. V. Roe, Canada, Ltd., Friday announced that the first commercial airliner designed to use the power of the turbo-jet will take to the air in February for its first tests preparatory to going into Trans-Canada Air Lines service.

Seating 40 passengers, the Avro C-102 will have a cruising speed at 35,000 feet of 430 miles an hour, nearly twice the speed of TCA's Montreal-built North Star, and three times the speed of the Douglas DC3s which are standard feeder-line equipment on major United States air lines.

The company claims the C-102 as the world's fastest commercial airliner.

At Winnipeg, Trans-Canada Air Lines officials said Friday night they were not planning to use turbo-jet airliners as passenger aircraft. Air line officials had no other comment.

Networks Battle Involves Millions

Hollywood, Nov. 12 (AP) — The battle of the networks reached the war of nerves stage today as NBC tried to work out a several-million-dollar deal to keep Jack Benny in its stable.

CBS gave up on the Benny front and went after Edgar Bergen. NBC is reported to have $4,000,000 or close to it ready for the ventriloquist.

"They are paying out money to hold on to what they already have, while we have only to pay out to add to what we already own," a CBS executive told the Hollywood Reporter, a movie trade paper.

NBC is countering efforts of CBS to raid its star list. The method: Capital gains deals such as the one that switched Amos 'N' Andy, to CBS.

Today's Talk

By George Matthew Adams

THIS DAY

Many of the most significant things in life we give so small note to — the new day, for example. Most of us take it as a matter of course. We go to sleep at night expecting that we will open our eyes on a new day. And we usually do. There are some who do not.

To me the new day is always a thing of wonder — actually a miracle. For long hours I am lost in sleep.. All the doors to consciousness have been closed. Then suddenly I awake, with not even the memory of a dream. But the light of a new day streams into my room. No other day exactly like it, none other ever to duplicate it. This day — unique!

The first thing upon awakening in the morning should be to express our thankfulness to God for the privilege of another day, and for the opportunity to do something of moment and to help someone else to be thankful for the day. How little any of us ever know about the possibilities that a single day may reveal!

If we could only impress ourselves with the fact that this day will never dawn again, its significance would be impressed upon us with such power that we would do our best to make it outstanding to the full extent of our ability.

When we think of how many great events have transpired, and how many great thoughts have been uttered and expressed in a single day, each of us may be inspired to do our best to make both the day and ourselves important and notable. How many a single poem has been written in the space of a few hours in a single day — but to last into centuries of time! How we should reach for and hang to this day of ours, so that as it leaves it will take something of us along with it into the years ahead.

Yesterday is a memory, and tomorrow is but a dream. This is today. It's full of equipment — hope, beauty, love, joy, laughter, encouragement and assurance. Take hold upon each hour, and ride it out! Then part with it—with a smile.

The Packsack of Gregory Clark

With the leaves gone from the trees, it is possible now, if you live in a city that has black squirrels infiltrating out from its parks, to see a comedy of nature that never fails to wow an audience — a young black squirrel negotiating its first telephone wire.

You can spot a young squirrel by its slightly Walt Disneyish head. It has had all summer and fall to explore its home tree and venture abroad in the secret wilderness of the leaves. But all of a sudden, the leaves fall, the branches stand naked. And here and there among the branches, the telephone wires, strung from post to post up the street, offer an inviting footing to a young squirrel suffering, we may guess, from a slight stage fright as the result of the fallen leaves.

Three or four times he essays short runs of two or three feet out on the wire, always managing a swift about-face when he senses the trickiness of the footing. But the appeal of the wire, goes.

When he is half way across the abyss, say ten feet out, the wire begins to wobble gently as the result of the squirrel's erratic movements. The comedy begins. Front and hind legs bunched, back arched, big tail madly weaving, the little animal attempts to turn back. The wire's wobbles grow more violent. A foot, two inches, another foot, one inch, the squirrel frantically moves along the wire, all his actions imparting still erratic vibrations to the fragile bridge. I have never yet seen a squirrel fall. But I have seen them suffer fifty times the agony a fall would involve.

You cannot watch a young squirrel on a wire without thinking of young people venturing into life. But yesterday, while I was watching a squirrel on the wire across my faded garden, the noon news broadcast was on, full of the usual gloom and quavers. And the odd thought emerged: maybe humanity is not old. Possibly humanity is young, only a season out of the nest, and just

PERSONAL HEALTH TALKS

(Signed letters pertaining to personal health and hygiene, not to disease, diagnosis or treatment, will be answered by Dr. Brady if a stamped self-addressed envelope is enclosed. Address Dr. William Brady, care of this Newspaper.)

NOT ALL ERRORS ARE TYPOGRAPHICAL

With the hope that this catches all hands sober and tolerably free from domestic and business worries, I'm going to take a chance and print the recipe for Fool Proof Home Made Cough Medicine today. What I mean is you are going to take a chance if you cook up a batch of the cough medicine for yourself or a member of your family.

Not all errors are typographical. Gosh, no, I am suffering deep despondency right now over the discovery that it was my error and not the printer's that made such a mess of the medicine to be used in the non-surgical drainage of the gall bladder. I prescribed just three times as much magnesium sulfate as you should use to make up the medicine, that's all.

Ol' Doc Brady's Home Made Fool Proof Cough Medicine is fool proof in the sense that it can't do you or the baby any harm. It is not proof against typographical errors.

This is the recipe for the Fool Proof Cough Medicine—but remember, I shall not be responsible for what the typographers, to say nothing of the proof-reader or the editor, may do to it:

Steep a heaping teaspoonful of flaxseeds (whole) — in a pint of water for half an hour. Dissolve in this flaxseed tea one ounce of citrate of soda (sodium citrate), a fluidounce (about two tablespoonfuls) of glycerin, and when cool add the juice of a lemon and two or three drops of oil (essence) of peppermint, or other flavor if you prefer. Finally strain, pour into a scalded pint bottle, cork with scalded cork, and label Foolproof Cough Medicine.

It will keep for weeks in the refrigerator, but at room temperature it spoils in a few days. That is of little consequence since two or three days is generally long enough to continue the medicine. It is easy enough to cook up a fresh batch when you need it, for Grampa, Uncle Pete, the Hired Girl or the Baby. The medicine is equally good and safe for all of them.

The dose is a teaspoonful every two hours for a baby or young child. A tablepsoonful every two hours for older child or adult.

Foolproof cough medicine is a sedative expectorant which tends to loosen and ease or make effective expectorant which tends to loosen and ease or make effective the tight, harsh, irritating, unproductive cough which occurs in the early stage of various acute respiratory affections.

Many persons with chronic bronchitis (winter cough) have found the foolproof cough medicine excellent relief of the cough at times when it becomes difficult and exhausting. It is particularly kind in such cases because, beside being expectorant (aiding or increasing flow of mucus from respiratory passages) the foolproof cough medicine is a gently diuretic (promotes kidney excretion) and diphoretic (promotes sweating), and it tends to prevent or combat acidosis attending any acute illness.

Final Warning: I do not and shall not authorize or permit any person or firm to use my name in connection with this or any other remedy I may recommend or suggest here.

(Signed) Wm. Brady, M.D.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Pharmacist Has a Side Line

Having felt increasingly nervous and fidgety the past year I told a pharmacist about it and he sold me some —— Since I have been taking it I notice—— and I wonder if you would advise me to continue. (M.M.)

Answer—When your money is all spent and your health is unquestionably affected it might be wise to consult a physician.

Running Ear

Seven-year-old son has had running ear for two years, with a disagreeable odor. (R. McN.)

Answer—Send stamped self-addressed envelope and ask for the pamphlet on Running Ear. Examination by your physician may reveal a foreign body lodged in ear canal. Foreign body lodged in nasal passage not rarely accounts for malodorous discharge from one side of nose. Just one reason why medical examination is always necessary in such cases.

Dizzy Spells

Have you any pamphlet on high blood pressure? My husband, in his sixties, has dizzy spells, especially when he stoops over or gets up quickly. Could this be high blood pressure. (Mrs. M. L.)

Answer—No. The title of chapter in the booklet C V D which deals with heart and artery diseases, is my answer to your query, Ma'am. The chapter is titled Never Mind Your Blood Pressure. That is, leave it to your physician. For the booklet send twenty-five cents and stamped self addressed envelope.

Two New Ranks For Naval Petty Officers

Ottawa, Nov. 13 — (CP) — Creation of two new ranks for naval petty officers was announced by Defence Minister Claxton.

At present the navy has the ranks of petty officer and chief petty officer. The new set-up will have P.O. and C.P.O., first and second class.

C.P.O. First Class will be equal to W.O. 1 of the army and R.C.A.F. and will be distinguished by a gilt crown above the three buttons now worn on the cuff. The C.P.O. Second Class will rate with W.O. 2 of the other services. He will wear the three buttons only, as C.P.O.'s now do.

P.O. First Class will rank with the army's staff sergeant and the R.C.A.F.'s flight sergeant. The badge will be a crown over cross-anchors. P.O. Second Class will be the equivalent of sergeant. The insignia will be crossed anchors without the crown.

Smash 'Cut Rate' Drug Racket Aim of Police

London, Nov. 13 — (CP) — Scotland has set out to smash a new "cut-rate" drug racket among colored seamen in British ports where death-dealing drugs can be bought for as little as three shillings (60 cents) a package.

Criminal Investigation Department officials said today that the three-shilling drug packets — mostly Indian hemp — contain enough dope to kill an inexperienced person or incite murderous impulses.

It can be smoked or drunk in tea and white-women associates of colored traffickers are rapidly becoming addicts, the officials said.

Thursday in a Birmingham magistrate's court, Professor James Webster, Home Office pathologist, identified a collection of small packages of drugs found on Hedley Palmer, 29-year-old

Capital Closeups:

Ottawa Hasn't Had City Hall Since 1931

By JOHN LEBLANC
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Ottawa, Nov. 13 — (CP) — Canada's fountainhead of government is conspicuously lacking in one of the adjuncts generally considered essential to government.

It doesn't seem to care, either.

Perhaps no community in Canada's hinterland is so humble as to be without its town hall or city hall, but this national capital of 150,000 persons doesn't possess one.

In fact, Ottawa hasn't had a city hall since 1931.

If you want to see the mayor or one of the civic officials, you find your way to an elderly edifice called the Transportation Building in the business district of Rideau Street, Ottawa's No. 2 shopping area.

Visitors to the capital are constantly astounded by the civic phenomenon. After paying due homage to the national legislative buildings that crown Parliament Hill, they turn naturally to the civic corporation structure.

Elusive Building

They must be directed to a brick building across the road from Parliament Hill, and on the bank of the Rideau Canal. This turns out only to be the police station, a dismal, motheaten relic that has long been outworn.

If they do manage to find their way to "city hall," it proves to be just a plain business block, little different from the rows of its fellows except that it needs a wash a little more urgently than most.

This situation has existed since the legitimate city hall burned down in 1931.

Every so often, civic politicians get exercised about it and plans for the "new city hall" are hauled out of the pigeon-holes and pored over. Speeches are made in city council, there are references to lack of funds, and then the plans go back into the pigeonholes for a few more years.

Public Apathy

The general apathy may stem from the fact that the backbone of Ottawa's body politics is made up of civil servants. They are from all over the country and, naturally, have a somewhat restricted

Kentucky Hill Tunes Close To Great Music

Toronto, Nov. 13 — (CP) —The tunes of the Kentucky hills are closer to being great music than the songs of Broadway, Dr. Howard Hanson, director of the Eastman School of Music at the University of Rochester said Thursday night.

"I doubt if music of nobility could be derived from jazz," he told the graduation exercises of the Royal Conservatory of Music. "It might be possible to write a jazz symphony, but it would be devoid of emotional quality or spiritual depth."

Redwater Oilfield 'Very Promising'

Edmonton, Nov. 13 — (CP) — Alberta Lands and Mines Minister Tanner yesterday said development of an oilfield at Redwater about 30 miles northeast of Edmonton is "very promising" and that "keen interest" is being shown.

Mr. Tanner was commenting on the fact that Crown oil and gas rights to Redwater lands were sold for $1,037,070 to three companies, boosting the total return for such sales this year to more than $2,000,000.

Highest price was paid by the Anglo-Canadian Oil Co. Ltd. which bought part of the 639 acres of land for $351,025. Home Oil paid $302,039 for an adjoining piece and Pacific Petroleums bought a block for $283,033.

The Redwater sales were the first since discovery of a field there by Imperial Oil Ltd. and followed closely the announcement by that company that a second well has struck the pay zone.

Craft Chooses Spiritual Adviser

Kingston, Nov. 13 — (CP) — Austin Craft, who will end his life of crime on the gallows Jan. 24, has selected Rev. C. W. Kay of the Free Methodist Church as his spiritual adviser. The minister said he would visit the Brantford convict regularly and accompany him to the scaffold.

Craft was sentenced to be hanged after a Supreme Court jury found him guilty of murdering a Kingston Penitentiary messenger, John D. Kennedy. The 47-year-old convicted bank robber admitted firing the two shots that killed Kennedy as Craft and 21-year-old Norman Urquhart escaped from the federal prison last April 26.

At his trial Craft told the court the story of his life as he conducted his own defence in the four-day trial after "firing" a lawyer he said took no interest in his case. He had been sent to an orphanage at the age of five, he said, recalling a life that had given him "no chance to learn to love."

FRED G. GOULD DIES

Toronto, Nov. 12 — (CP) — Frederick George Gould, 69, former assistant general freight agent for Canadian National Railways, died Thursday. He retired in 1944.

He spent 1924-27 in Ottawa as divisional freight agent there.

WEDDINGS

BUNTON—TRUDEAU

On Saturday morning, November 6, at ten o'clock, a very lovely marriage was solemnized by Rt. Rev. Monsignor J. F. Nicholson, V.G., in the Church of St. Michael the Archangel, Belleville, when Mary Doris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Trudeau, became the bride of Albert Charles Bunton, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bunton. The church was beautifully decorated with baskets of cameo 'mums and ferns and the guest pews were marked with white satin ribbons. The wedding music was played by Sister Mary Bibiana and Miss Sharon Lucy was soloist. During the ceremony "Ave Maria", "On This Day O Beautiful Mother", "Mother Beloved" and "Because" were very beautifully rendered.

The bride, given in marriage by her father was radiant in an original model designed on Victorian lines of crystal white satin with fitted bodice, nylon marquisette yoke, and off-shoulder bertha of cutwork, appliqued satin and embroidered with seed pearls. The very full skirt, accented with side bustles flowed to a graceful train, and the long sleeves extended to points over the wrists. Her long veil of French tulle illusion fell from a coronet of white satin, roses and lilies of the valley. She carried a shower cascade of white Starlite roses and bouvardia. With this she also carried a prayer book bound in hand painted moire silk.

Miss Cecelia Trudeau was her sister's maid of honor, wearing a gown of deep rose faille taffeta with off-shoulder shawl collar, buttoned down back to deep bustles, fashioned similar to that of the bride's dress, with full skirt extending to a slight train at the back. She wore a braided halo caught with a spray of flowers and matching mitts. She carried a crescent bouquet of hyacinth blue pompom 'mums.

Miss Jeanne-Marie Trudeau, ter of the bride, wore a gown of deep turquoise, identical in lines to that worn by the maid of honor. Her matching braided halo was caught with a spray of flowers and she carried a crescent bouquet of yellow pompom 'mums.

Miss Celetus Trudeau, another sister of the bride, wore a gown of ing in deep rose faille taffeta, with matching braided halo and mitts. She carried a crescent bouquet of hyacinth blue pompom 'mums.

Miss Barbara Bunton was a lovely bridesmaid in deep turquoise faille taffeta with matching braided halo and mitts and carried a crescent bouquet of yellow pompom 'mums.

Immediately after, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, the bride's mother receiving in taupe satin with "Claret Wine" accessories. She wore a corsage of American roses and white pompom 'mums.

She was assisted by the groom's mother, who wore a crepe dress in cinnamon shade and matching accessories. Her corsage was of yellow Gloria roses and bronze pompom 'mums.

Amid showers of good wishes the happy couple left for Niagara Falls, Chicago, New York, Quebec City and Montreal, the bride choosing for travelling a gabardine suit of loganberry wine with white stitched beret, grey accessories and a fur jacket of silver grey kidskin completed her ensemble. Her corsage was of white Starlite roses and bouvardia.

Guests from out-of-town were from Chicago, Toronto, London and Tweed.

The happy couple will reside at 73 Chatham Street.

Loyal Division Observes 44th Anniversary

The Loyal Division 337 of the B. of L. E. celebrated in a special way its 44th anniversary Wednesday evening, since its founding by the late Mrs. Sproule. Guests and members were welcomed by the president, Mrs. Grey, and a special welcome was extended to Mrs. E. A. Taylor, sole surviving Charter Member of the original 19 which formed the nucleus of the division.

The banquet table was decorated with pink tapers in silver candleholders, with baskets of pink carnations. A three-tiered birthday cake was placed at the head table. Mrs. Grey officiated as chairlady for the occasion, and Mrs. J. Reid played piano accompaniment for the lively singsong.

Several Toasts

The toast to the King was proposed by Mrs. A. Clarke, and the toast to Grand Division, proposed by Mrs. F. Gymer, was responded to by G. O. I. Mrs. R. Muirhead, who spoke briefly of the work of the division and expressed the hope that the members would be able to attend the Dominion Union Meeting to be held in Winnipeg, Manitoba, to witness the ritual work. Mrs. H. Brown proposed a toast to the Charter member, which was responded to by Mrs. Taylor speaking of the struggle and difficulties encountered through the years and expressing every wish for good luck to the division members.

Four 40-year memberships were presented, two to members in absentia. The toast to the B. of L. E. was proposed by Mrs. Morgan, with response by Mrs. McGee, Chief of Division 189, who congratulated the division on the attainment of the 44th anniversary, extending the best wishes of Division 189.

Cards Enjoyed

Mrs. Taylor was invited by Mrs. Grey to cut the birthday cake. Two solos were sung by Mr. E. Brown, with Miss Isabel Orne accompanying on the piano. Later, card games were played by those present, after which Mrs. Grey expressed her appreciation to her committee for the success of the celebration. Members of the committee included Mesdames Cathers, Kerr, Henley, Vanstone, Petty. Convener of the banquet was Mrs. Cathers.

Winners of prizes during the entertainment, convened by Mrs. A. Clarke, were: ladies first, Mrs. E. Pigden, second, Mrs. MacLean; men's, Mr. Fisher and Mr. Orne; consolation, Mrs. Wilson and Mr. M. Boyd. Brief addresses were given by Mrs. J. Gymer and Mrs. J. Reid, 40-year members.

The Loyal Division No. 337 of B. of L. E., met recently, with the president, Mrs. L. Grey, on behalf of the officers and members, welcoming the past presidents to the meeting. Mrs. Hart escorted Mrs. W. Hammet to the rostrum where she was given the Grand Honors and invited to take the chair for the meeting. Assisting officers were V. P., Mrs. R. Orne; secretary, Mrs. W. Barlow; treasurer, Mrs. G. Naylor; chaplain, Mrs. J. Elliott; guide, Mrs. H. Brown; sentinel, Mrs. Wilson; flag, Mrs. E. Taylor; musician, Mrs. E. Reid; marshals, Mesdames P. Hunter and E. Bolton; pillars, Mesdames P. Kerr, W. Fairbairn, P. Buck and E. Pigden.

Mrs. Grey expressed appreciation for the efficient manner in which the meeting was conducted and Mrs. Hammet asked Mrs. Brown to escort Mrs. Muirhead to the rostrum to receive Grand Honors.

After the division had closed a social hour and refreshments were enjoyed.

Enticing Display of Lovely Goods Seen at St. Thomas' Guild Bazaar

St. Thomas' Guild bazaar and tea was officially opened by Venerable Archdeacon Arthur Smith, in the parish house on Friday afternoon, and, in spite of threatening skies, proved the realization of the conveners' dreams.

As one entered the outer hall, the flickering flames from two, stately red tapers in silver holders, upon a little table, offered a royal greeting. Here, like Matthew at the receipt of customs, sat the treasurer, Mrs. John Watson. Further on the many guests were graciously received by the President, Mrs. Allan H. Ketcheson, Mrs. Arthur Smith, Mrs. Hawkins, vice-president, and the secretary, Mrs. Archie S. Lewis.

Directly in front was a vista seldom seen; a large booth gayly festooned with garlands of pink and blue, and filled with dolls, and dolls and more dolls. One was a ovely, little dancing girl with bouffant skirts of yellow frilly net; little frilly wristlets of the same material, and a head titian hair—a perfect dream of a doll. Not far from this aristocrat of the doll society was an Indian lass, and "Topsy", showing that all racial differences had passed from the scene, for the nonce, at least. There were baby dolls, cute little cuddy ones, and then, also, there was the boy doll, dressed in a suit of checkered tweed, and hanging up across the top of this booth were dolls' dresses, slips, undies, pajamas, more dresses and all the things any lady doll would ever want or need. The conveners Mrs. George Smith, Mrs. J. Genet, Mrs. Seibert, Mrs. J. Howard and Mrs. Alwyn Geen were kept busy wrapping up parcels of dolls en route to the not-so-distant Christmas tree.

Gay Aprons

At the right of the doll emporium was apron table with aprons of various makes, and of all materials, all usuable, and all lovely One in particularly that caught the eye was made from small patchpieces with designs of fruit, flowers, and what-have-you. A gay apron, radiating cheer and good will. Aprons lined the front of the table, and hung from a line behind. Here Mrs. L. Fozard and Mrs. N. Garbutt were kept busy with the would-be purchasers.

Opposite to the apron table, on the far side of the room was the "white elephant" table, with its velvet cover, and overlaid with beads, necklaces, ear-rings, clips and brooches, a white china swan in majestic manner overlooked the array of jewels. On the other end of the same table were books, story books, books of history, books of fiction, and one telling the story of the Royal family. This was convened by Mrs. Austin Smith with Mrs. Nicholson assisting.

Attractive Setting

Next to the apron booth was that of the fancy goods and knitted articles; a booth teeming with lovely things for little ones; knitted coatees with matching bootees; dresses of sheerist materials, all so carefully made. Here, too, were pretty shell brooches with matching ear-rings, black covers for bridge tables with colorful apliqued flowers down on the corner; little plaques made from dainty saucers with pictured centres and borders of blue ruffled ribbons with loops to hang on nursery walls, and many other hand worked articles too numerous to mention. Behind this booth with its lovely array was a beautiful, tulip quilt, a veritable flower garden with tulips of every hue, evenly and carefully quilted, and edged with a border of blue and pink. A cream colored periwinkle centre piece, hand crocheted, with little doilies to match. Over this booth presided Mrs. F. L. Patterson with her co-conveners, Mrs. Carl Fisher, Mrs. McBrien, Mrs. Gibson and Mrs. McNish.

The candy table was very attractive with its green boughs and Autumn leaves, and boxes and cups of fudge, maple cream, chocolates and generous squares of maple sugar and pink and white cocoanut candy. All so tempting that the patrons thronged around about it eager to select and taste. Mrs Legate with Mrs. Saunders and Miss Penberthy very capably were looking after this.

Handmade Belts

Handmade, woven leather belts of brown and black, made by the Girls' Auxiliary, and pieces of needle point, made the next table an interesting one. Much credit is due the girls who so carefully executed these attractive and useful articles. This booth was convened by Mrs. A. K. Ketcheson and Mrs. R. McBride.

At the far end of the room and opposite to the booth of dolls were the booths of plants and the home cooking At the home cooking booth one could find cookies, taffy tarts, lemon pies with piled-up meringue; white loaf cakes with bands of pink icing; Christmas cake and plum pudding topped with holly plume, jars of jelly and canned fruits, olives and various kinds of pickles. All so good looking, it was hard to choose. Mrs. Wilkinson, with Mrs. Collins and Mrs. Hutchinson were in charge here.

The plant table was a miniature garden with ferns, geraniums, begonias, sansavari, and many other plants to cheer and gladden during the winter's long, cold months. Mrs. Tilley convened here.

Tea Room Busy Scene

The tea room, which was convened by Mrs. James Forrester with her committee consisting of Mrs. A. B. Hunt, Mrs. Edgar Bateman and Mrs. Yonge-Leslie was down stairs, and prettily arranged with three tables with silver candelabra and yellow 'mums and silver services. Those who poured the tea from 2.30 to 4 were Mrs. Martin and Mrs. William Van Tassel, and Mrs. Alec Bell, assisted by Mrs. McKenna from 4 to 5.30. Mrs. Edward Taylor was kept busy making the tea.

Those who served the delicious sandwiches and dainty cakes were Mrs. Edwards, Mrs. Milton Davidson, Mrs. W. H. Johnson and Mrs. Connolly, Mrs. R. Keel, Mrs. Jeffery and Mrs. R. E. Abrams. Those who served from 4 to 5.30 were, Mrs. Mac. Smith, Mrs. John Clarke, Mrs. Robert Tanner, Mrs. Gordon Miller, Mrs. A. Miller, Mrs. White, Mrs. R. Pringle, Mrs. Henn, Mrs. Georgia Smith, Mrs. Harry Alford Mrs. Roy Stafford and Mrs. Douglas Chant.

The bazaar and tea was a decided success and amply repaid those who had so unstintingly given of their time and talents.

Women's Activities

C.W.L.

The executive meeting of the C.W.L. held in St. Michael's High School discussed arrangements for the forthcoming bazaar and the reading of achievement reports were the main items of business.

A report by the first vice president showed a total of 337 paid members from April to November. A suggestion was made regarding membership payments before June. Mrs. Finkle voluntarily agreed to replace Mrs. Ryan as councillor upon the latter's request for a replacement.

The third vice president reported that the Benevolent Society had undertaken the extending of aid to a new family. A report was heard on two euchre parties held in aid of the bazaar. The procedure of the bazaar was outlined by Mrs. K. Doyle. Donations of a doll, quilt, and chesterfield set were reported received as articles on which tickets in aid of the bazaar could be sold.

Mrs. Finkle and Mrs. Hopkins were appointed as hospital visitors and Miss McAvoy read a report on the Retreat at Heathfield.

AVONDALE NEIGHBORS' AID

Mrs. Hobson, Trent Road, opened her home on Thursday afternoon for the November meeting of the Avondale Neighbors' Aid. There were about twenty members present and several visitors.

The President, Mrs. A. Daniels was in charge and Mrs. J. Chambers was at the piano.

The devotional was given by Mrs. T. Anger and Mrs. Daniels. The treasurer's report showed a substantial balance in the treasury. The December meeting will be a Christmas Party at the home of Mrs. E. Windover.

Mrs. Clarence Holmes then conducted the election of officers, the new slate of officers are—

President, Mrs. T. Anger
Vice President, Mrs. L. Reid
Rec.-Sec., Mrs. M. Robson
Treasurer, Mrs. S. Lough
Cor.-Sec, Mrs. K. Chambers
Flower Convener, Mrs. P. Boulton.
Press Sec., Mrs. E. Windover
Pianists, Mrs. K. Bird, Mrs. J. Chambers.

A contest arranged by Mrs. K. Bird was won by Mrs. F. Reid. The wedding anniversary prize, Mrs. Fred Denyes. The birthday prize, Mrs. T. Anger. Mrs. H. Wright and Mrs. M. Robson also were prize winners.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Earl Bush and Mrs. L. Reid assisted by the hostess.

Elizabeth Takes Night Out Before Birth of Child

London, Nov. 13 (CP)— The whole town is talking today about Princess Elizabeth's night out.

To everyone's surprise, Elizabeth, whose first-born is expected this weekend went with her husband, Prince Philip, in his car to dine with friends in fashionable Belgravia.

For some three hours the Royal couple was entertained at the residence of Lord and Lady Bradbourne, about a mile from Buckingham Palace.

Lady Bradbourne, the former Lady Patricia Mountbatten, elder daughter of Earl and Countess Mountbatten, is a close friend of Elizabeth, who was a bridesmaid at their wedding.

The Royal couple made the trip without a police escort, but a Scotland Yard detective kept a close watch outside Bradbourne house.

The princess wore a black evening dress and a fox cape and was hatless.

A crowd soon gathered in front of the house. When the couple left shortly before midnight, a cheer went up. Elizabeth smiled gaily and her husband waved to the bystanders.

In expectation of the Royal birth, the King and Queen, who usually spend their weekends at Windsor lodge, plan to remain at the Palace. Princess Margaret, who inspected a group of girl scouts in Nottinghamshire Friday night, was expected to be away over the weekend.

Princess Elizabeth had not made a public appearance in weeks until Friday. Then she stood for a time at her third-floor window in Buckingham Palace to watch the colorful ceremony of the changing of the guard.

Princess Elizabeth's doctor, Sir William Gilliat, visited her Friday and said the 22-year-old Princess is in excellent health. Sir William is standing by in London this weekend, waiting for a call to Buckingham Palace.

Opportunity Shop Filled With Many Bargains

To step into the Opportunity Shop, filled with new and used jewelry, china, clothes, shoes, hand-bags, books, and other articles, not only bespeaks of surprises and anticipation, but heralds that great possibility, dear to all — a bargain.

Contributions pour in from all sources and after a month's trial this venture, sponsored by the Women's Hospital Auxiliary and the City Council, has been so successful that the effort is considered well worth while. All proceeds go to the Belleville General Hospital.

Mrs. E. O. Keeler, clothing convener, says that both the babies' wear and men's clothing departments are constantly sought after, and for this reason there is a great need for more and more such contributions. It is suggested that women who wish to knit for profit could not do better, if they plied their needles in fashioning baby garments for the demand is heavy. Adept needle-women would also find a ready market for their work.

So look again, to make sure not to overlook anything that might be contributed to the Opportunity Shop, Market Building, open on all market days, Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, 9:30-11:30 mornings and 2-4 afternoons, where a competent staff, under the convenership of Mrs. A. R. Wilson, will serve the public.

Mrs. Howard Graham and Miss Ivy Dickens were delegates from the local Women's Auxiliary at Ontario Hospital Association convention held in the Royal York Hotel, Toronto. It is interesting and gratifying to note, that, from reports read at the convention, Belleville has the only Hospital Auxiliary which operates an Opportunity Shop. Delegates from various centres were intensely interested in the project particularly when told the sum of $300 was realized in the first day, consisting of four hours, in sales in the shop.

Community Chest Lacks $3,500 Of Objective

With an amount of $12,400 reported the Red Feather campaign of the Belleville Community Chest lacks over $3,500 of its minimum objective of $16,000 at the close of the fourth week of canvassing. While greatly regretting the way in which the canvassing is dragging out, the executive of the chest under the chairmanship of H. W. Ackerman is hopeful that the total objective will be reached. At a meeting held yesterday estimates of outstanding subscriptions exceeded by a small margin the minimum objective and the generosity of a sympathetic public, many of whom have not made previous donations, is almost certain to swell the total objective. The inability of workers to date to cover the scores of calls yet remaining is a matter of considerable concern. Many citizens have acted on the suggestion which has been frequently made to wait no longer for the canvasser but to send in their subscriptions direct to the campaign headquarters in the Y.M.C.A.

Charles L. Hyde, chairman of the Board of the Children's Aid Society, Clare B. Morgan, chairman of the Victorian Order of Nurses and John W. Deacon, chairman of the Board of the Y.M.C.A. have met to consider the prospect of curtailment of essential services of these organizations in the community if the minimum objective to cover the below-cost work of these agencies is not reached.

They speak with confidence of the support which they feel will be given to the final efforts of the campaign. They ask every wage earner who has not yet given to make a contribution no matter how small, from the next pay envelope. A pledge without the money at the present time will be equally acceptable. They also urge employers to complete their subscription lists in plants and other establishments so that all donations may be turned into headquarters immediately.

Camera Club Meets

The Belleville Camera Club held its regular meeting on Tuesday night at Corby Public Library with Mrs. J. W. Howard presiding.

After the general business, John Bromfield gave a brief book review.

A helpful talk on photographic composition was presented by Mrs. T. W. Law. She said the picture itself contains the final enjoyment regardless of the technique used.

Bill McCormick gave a talk on the making of personal Christmas cards.

The subject of prints for the evening's contest was scenes in Belleville suitable for postcards. Mrs. J. W. Howard and Joy Howard were the winners. Prints are on display in the library.

Remembrance Day Services

MARMORA

The annual Remembrance Day service was held at the Memorial Hall on Thursday morning. Ex-service men paraded there under Lieut. Percy Gray, of Deloro, and the service was also attended by a goodly number of citizens. Rural Dean J. M. Brownlie, of Marmora Branch 237, Canadian Legion, conducted the service and offered the prayers. Rev. G. Bache read the Scripture lesson. Rev. Father H. J. Farrell gave a short but appropriate message on "Remembrance".

Wreaths were placed beneath the Memorial tablets by Mrs. Cyril Tandy of the Ladies' Auxiliary, for the Province of Ontario; Miss M. Savage for the Marmora Chapter of the I.O.D.E., and Past President, Wilbert Mumby, for the Marmora Branch of the Legion. Last Post and Reveille were sounded by Robert Sanderson with two minutes silence observed.

TWEED

A fitting Remembrance Day parade and memorial service at the Memorial Park cenotaph was conducted Thursday morning in memory of the men of Tweed, who fell in battle in the First World War and the Second World War. Marching in the parade, which was led by the High School Bugle Band, were the members of the Tweed Branch of the Canadian Legion and the Senior pupils of the Tweed Consolidated School and St. Carthagh's School.

The prayers were led by Rev. A. L. Sisco, with the roll call of honored dead read by Len Taylor, president of the Legion Branch.

The address was given by F. F. Downing of St. James' Anglican Church and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. Dean Garvin of St. Carthagh's Church.

The Last Post was sounded by Archie Sinclair Jr., and the Salvation Army Band accompanied the singing of hymn "O God Our Help in Ages Past". Wreaths were placed at the cenotaph by the Province of Ontario, Mrs. Geo. King, Mrs. Irene Wilson, the Canadian Legion, The I.O.O.F., the Masonic Lodge, the Village of Tweed, the Tweed Kinsmen Club, the Consolidated and St. Carthagh's School. The names on the roll as read by President Taylor were as follows: 1914—1918—Capt. Luther Sills, M.D., Pte. Percy Beaumont, Pte. Archie Grier, Pte. John Nolan, Pte. Arol Shaw, Pte. Harry Villeneuve, Sgt. Percy Godfrey, Dvr. Ford Elliott, Lt. Harry Rath, Pte. Frank Orr, Pte. Harmon Simmons, Pte. Jas. Woodcock, Pte. Chester David McConnell.

1939—1945—Sgt. Bert Reynolds, Pte, Teddy Drew, Gnr. C. D. Kleinsteuber, Capt. Don. McCrea, Pte. Jerome Allore, Cpl. Ross Duggan, Pte. Leonard Rashotte, Spr. R. M. Rashotte, Spr. C. C. Rashotte, Sgt. Frank Keilty, Pte. Oakley Cassibo, Pte. Eugene Cassibo, Pte. Orville Thompson, Pte. Teddy Thompson, Sgt. M. Wilson, Pte. Edward Thompson.

Wreaths placed at the cenotaph by the school children were purchased by them from the Canadian Legion.

The sum contributed by the pupils of each school far exceeded the cost of the wreaths.

The balance of the money will be added to the already fine total of the Poppy Fund. St. Carthagh's School $8.70, Consolidated School $9.80.

THURLOW JR. INSTITUTE

On Wednesday evening, Nov. 10, a group of girls, under the leadership of Miss Muriel Glass, met at S.S. No. 11 Thurlow, to organize a Girls' Club, a branch of the Thurlow Junior Institute.

The following officers were elected for the forthcoming year 1949—Leader, Miss Muriel Glass; Assistant Leader, Mrs. John Lawrenson; President, Erma Swan; Vice President, Marilyn Eggleton; Secretary, Shirley Twiddy; Reporter, Beryl Swan.

The theme for the year is "The Club Girl Entertains".

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Clayton Ritz on Monday evening, Nov. 22 and a full attendance of the girls is requested.

BITTER LAKES

Before the Suez Canal was constructed, the Bitter Lakes, near the southern end of the canal, were dry, salt-encrusted depressions.

Lonely Channel Island Of Alderney Being Brought In Orbit of Civilization

St. Anne, Alderney, Channel Islands, Nov. 13 — (Reuters) — The lonely Channel Island of Alderney, where there is no income tax and most children finish their schooling at the age of 11, is about to be brought within the orbit of modern civilization and its accompanying responsibilities.

For hundreds of years this gale-swept outpost of Great Britain, only nine miles from the coast of France and 60 miles from the English mainland, has enjoyed complete freedom from income tax liability as part of its virtual autonomy.

The advance of social services by-passed Alderney while its people basked in their tax immunity, shared by the residents of the Scilly Isles, off the extreme southwest tip of Britain.

Now, all that is to be changed. The 1,400 islanders of Alderney have decided to barter their tax immunity for a share in the social services of neighboring Guernsey Island.

From Jan. 1, Guernsey will become responsible for public services in Alderney, including police, education, maintenance of the island's airfield, upkeep of roads, maintenance of water and sewerage systems, and other social and health services.

In return for this share of modern amenities, Alderney will pay the same income tax, duties and water tax as Guernsey.

During the war, the Germans used the island as a concentration camp for Soviet slave labor.

Its inhabitants, except for one family, were evacuated to the mainland. Only about half of the pre-war population came back after the war.

They found a scene of desolation and destruction. The last of Hitler's occupation troops had ravished the island, burning furniture and wrecking houses.

Now the English language will replace Norman French as the official language in parliament and in all legal documents.

All adult men and women who have lived on the island for a year will be able to stand for election to the Royal Court. The existing disqualification for Roman Catholics, who have hitherto been debarred from standing for election by reason of the nature of the oath to be sworn on assuming office, will be removed.

It remains to be seen whether the new Alderney will retain an ancient law — still in active operation — which forbids all work on the Sabbath, apart from milking cows.

The Story of CP

By JOHN DAUPHINEE
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Toronto, Nov. 13 — (CP) — Forty years ago the distribution of news in Canada was a railway monopoly. Today the basic supplier of news to almost all daily newspapers is a $1,000,000-a-year co-operative, with world-girdling connections, which they operate themselves.

[illegible] transition from monopoly to co-operation, from external control to complete independence, is the subject of "(CP) the Story of The Canadian Press," just published here (by the Ryerson Press).

The author is M. E. Nichols of Vancouver, retired managing editor of the Vancouver Daily Province and before that of the Winnipeg Tribune.

He was president of CP from [illegible]31 to 1933 and a CP director for many years.

Mr. Nichols says he wrote his [illegible]-page book at the suggestion of other newspaper men who "earnestly believe that the achievements of The Canadian Press deserve a place in Canadian history."

[illegible] W. Brockington, K.C., of Ottawa, who writes the foreward, goes even farther.

"It could well be argued," Mr. Brockington says, "that no single happening helped more than the founding of The Canadian Press to fashion the pattern of modern Canada, to harmonize our warring economies in a growing unity and to give shape and substance not only to our apprehension of ourselves but also to our knowledge of the world forces which govern our destinies."

Mr. Nichols starts his story in 1907. The Canadian Pacific, which then had a virtual monopoly of collection and distribution of news in Canada, doubled its charges for the news service supplied to the three Winnipeg daily newspapers.

Then President.

The author then was president and editor of the Winnipeg Telegram. E. H. Macklin was general manager of Sir Clifford Sifton's Manitoba Free Press and John W. Dafoe its editor-in-chief. R. L. Richardson was owner of the Winnipeg Tribune. These four decided to defy the corporation.

They formed the Western Associated Press, an agency to do the pick-and-shovel work for erection of C.P.

W.A.P. started from scratch, in a single room. Its lineal descendant, The Canadian Press, has an annual budget of more than $1,000,000; a new head office building in Toronto; bureaux in all major Canadian cities; offices manned by Canadians in London, New York and Washington; and well-established contractual relations with other agencies which blanket the world.

Turning-point in the early battle came in 1910. The W.A.P. appealed to the railway commission, which controls telegraph rates, against the high tolls its members had to pay for news transmission.

In 1910, when the railway commission declared in favor of equal rates for all press material, the battle was over.

Canadian Press, Limited, was formed early in 1911. It became a holding company for the AP service, with four almost-autonomous units: W.A.P. in the west, a similar organization named Eastern Press Association in the Maritimes, and separate organizations for morning and evening papers in Ontario and Quebec.

Annual Grant Provided

An annual grant of $50,000 was provided by Sir Robert Borden's Conservative government. September 1, 1917, a national news service began to function, under Canadian Press, Limited, at last as a centralized unit. In 1923, by Act of Parliament, it became The Canadian Press, incorporated under the non-profit clauses of the Federal Companies Act.

A year later, the Liberal government of Prime Minister Mackenzie King withdrew the grant.

The annual CP meeting in 1925, Mr. Nichols recalls, went on record that the co-operative should "never again accept assistance from this or any other government." Since then it has stood alone, each year bringing expansion.

In 1941 it set up a subsidiary, Press News Limited, to supply news to radio stations. By Autumn of this year, Press News served 81 of the 100-odd private stations—about double its competitor's total — and provided the basic service of the Canadian Broadcasting Company.

Latest CP venture mentioned by Mr. Nichols is a co-operative Canadian picture service, started Sept. 6 this year.

Ivanhoe

Ivanhoe — The W.A. of Fuller United Church held their November meeting at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mitts on Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Gordon Mitts presided. The roll call was answered by repeating a verse of scripture. Several small accounts were passed and ordered paid. Rev. J. F. Everson offered prayer and gave a short address on "Armistice Day." Readings were given by Mrs. Harry Redcliffe, Mrs. J. F. Everson and Mrs. Borden Redcliffe. Mr. H. R. Burke, a visitor at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mitts, closed the meeting with prayer. A delicious lunch was served and a social time enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Smith are for the time being residing in Port Hope where Mr. Smith has been called to do carpentering work.

Mr. Luffey Everson of Oakwood, brother of Rev. J. F. Everson, and his son Clare were recent guests at the United Church parsonage.

Cars bearing their trophies from the hunting grounds have begun to trickle through the village on their way home after a successful trip to the north lands. Several men from Ivanhoe and surrounding district have gone deer hunting.

The long spell of weather free from frost is giving the farmers a fine opportunity of getting their plowing done and has offset the dry time in the early autumn when plowing was greatly hindered.

WILL WORK AFTER ALL

New York, Nov. 13 — (AP) — Gypsy Rose Lee will work in a Broadway night club after all — despite "walking out" and being "fired" Friday, a club management spokesman said Friday night.

The ex-stripper and novelist said she got fired when she asked for four weeks' salary — $10,000 in advance.

The club, "La Martinique," said she "simply walked out" and it would sue her for $150,000 in lost profits.

Friday night, however, the spokesman said there had been a reconciliation and that Miss Lee

MONKEY BUSINESS — This East London, Ont., pet shop shows what happened when a monkey got to monkeying around too much. Escaping from his cage, "Joe" started his spree on packaged animal food. Frankford

Memorial Services Held in Village

A simple, but impressive memorial service was held in Frankford Thursday, as veterans and private citizens of the village paid respects to their fallen heroes. In the absence of Reeve George Montgomery, Councilman J. M. Dafoe acted as chairman. In a few well chosen remarks, he welcomed everyone to the services. Rev. H. H. Lackey of the United Church, led in prayer. Last Post was blown by Bugler E. Smith of the Trenton Salvation Army, following which two minutes silence was observed. At the end of the two minutes, Reveille was sounded. Then followed the placing of the wreaths. For the Legion, Comrade Harold Gage placed a wreath for the 1914-18 war, and Comrade Jack McInally placed the 1939-45 wreath. For the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Legion, President Mrs. W. Rankin placed a wreath. The government wreath was placed by Mrs. J. Tompkins, whose son George was lost during his service with the R.C.A.F. A very fine address was delivered by Rev. W. G. Fletcher, of the Wooler United Church. He emphasized the fact that whereas it was good and proper to honor our dead, we should also remember the living who came back, particularly those who will carry scars of the war as long as they live. Rev. H. H. Lackey pronounced the Benediction. The King was sung.

Most of the merchants and business men of Frankford paid due respect to the fallen ones of the village, by closing their places of business for part of the morning on Thursday.

The Petunias, a Frankford entry in the Trenton-Frankford Mixed Bowling League, picked up three points from the league-leading Spark Plugs of Trenton. They lost one of the games by a single pin, and another by ten pins. The luckless Shmoos, Frankford's other entry again fell before the onslaught of the Egg Graders of Trenton, in all three games. This coming Wednesday night, the two Frankford teams tangle in a battle royal. They are even up in wins, each having beaten the other three times.

The two Frankford teams have just obtained their new crests. The Shmoos hope that this is the good luck charm which they need.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Patrick will shortly be moving into the apartment on Mill Street, formerly occupied by Mr. and Mrs. William Tarr.

Friends of June Nicolson are glad to hear that she is well again after a two weeks' illness. Her pleasant personality has been greatly missed in Madill's drug store where she has clerked for some years.

Different citizens of Frankford have reported finding ripe strawberries and lately blueberries in their gardens.

Arnold Westlake, Wayne Arbuckle, Ed Tomecek and Gene Lohnes have added a new thrill to the old game of Snooker, playing it by flashlight during the blackout hour in Trenton. They report unusual accuracy in their shooting.

A number of places of business have been closed this week, as the proprietors are deer hunting. Among the business men who are away are C. D. Powell, Charles Bennett, Claude Wyatt, Claude Moran, Cecil Reid and others.

Menominee, Mich. — (AP) — A couple of Columbus, O., boys who drove 589 miles Thursday to see a football game got nearly the right town but definitely the wrong state.

Waitress Joan Kapitz, who said she didn't know their names, said the boys came in for lunch and asked when the game started. She knew of no game, but they told her Stout Institute was playing Michigan Tech and they'd driven up to see it.

Miss Kapitz shook her head sadly and informed them they'd miscalculated slightly. Stout Institute is in Menomonie, Wis., 200 miles from here.

Sioux City, Iowa — Santa Claus police were told Thursday, is making too much noise.

A resident complained that a laughing Santa Claus in a downtown store display is "causing a disturbance" until 10:30 or 11 p.m.

He said he thought most children were in bed by 9 p.m. and Santa should stop laughing at that hour.

Pittsburgh — (AP) — Business is brisk at Mack's Supermarket, and no wonder. Hamburger sells at 25 cents a pound, bacon 31 cents.

Hamburger was bringing 53 to 55 cents elsewhere in the district. Bacon was at least 68 cents a pound. And the price reductions extended to all meats, eggs and butter.

Owner Morris Deakter claims he isn't losing money.

"Volume," he explained. "Volume will let us sell good meat at these prices and the other stores could do it, too. These are the prices the Democrats promised and in some cases, they are even lower."

COMPLETE IN FIVE YEARS

St. Catharines, Ont., Nov. 13 — (CP) — A sports centre covering 29 acres is under construction here and officials expect it to be completed in five years.

The centre, expected by parks board officials to cost hundreds of thousands of dollars, will house a baseball diamond, a lacrosse bowl, football stadium and a rugby and soccer field.

The site was chosen on land formerly part of the third Welland Canal.

FUND FOR QUADS OPENS IN EDMONTON (ENG.)—Big news in Edmonton these days is the birth of quadruplets. But hold on, it's not the Edmonton familiar to Canadians we're talking about but a community in England — North Middlesex county. The mayor of Edmonton has launched an appeal fund for the quads and states that trustees will be appointed to administer the fund. The quads have left their oxygen tents and are now quartered in a special nursery. Many Industries Working Weekend To Save Power

Toronto, Nov. 13 — (CP) The wheels of Ontario industry are grinding through still another weekend in an effort to conserve electric power.

The number of plants on weekend operation is greater than a week ago, with employers switching hours of work to use off-peak power imports. In Toronto it was announced that the amount of power earmarked for Saturday use had nearly reached its limit but electricity still was available for Sundays.

Toronto hydro officials announced Friday night that the city saved close to 8,000,000 kilowatt hours by cutoffs and voluntary reductions during the Monday-to-Friday period this week. But, despite its efforts, the city exceeded its power quota by about two per cent.

With the cutoff system due to swing into a program of simultaneous city-wide breaks Monday, citizens continued to adjust their living habits to fit in with the cutoffs. A downtown theatre presenting plays arranged for its Wednesday matinee performances to start at 1 p. m. and end just before the 4 p. m. power interruption.

Mushroom growth of industry, coupled with lack of water in rivers feeding generating plants, brought on this second power shortage in Ontario in eight months.

The water situation was emphasized in a report issued Friday by the federal government. It said stream flow conditions during October were "notably deficient" from Ontario to the eastern seaboard.

Penguins Arrive For Toy Show

New York, Nov. 12 — (AP) — Three white-tie-and-tails birds — officially know as penguins — arrived here by plane Thursday night from Chile to take part in a department store Christmas toy show.

Two hired Eskimos met the penguins, which weight about 10 pounds each and were described as being the black-footed Humboldt variety.

The penguins originally came from Tierra Del Guego, an island off the southern tip of South America.

At least one of the penguins expressed satisfaction with New

BRIG. GENET TAKES SALUTE

Kitchener, Nov. 11 — (CP) — Bright, crisp weather favored the Remembrance Day ceremonies here today with hundreds of ex-servicemen of two wars and next of kin of Kitchener war dead attending the simple service at the city hall Cenotaph.

Brig. J. E. Genet, C.B.E., M.C., commandant of the Royal Canadian Signal Corps, took the salute at the march past while small planes flying overhead sprayed the crowd below with poppies. The officer will be the main speaker at the annual Remembrance Day banquet here tonight by the Canadian Legion.

Football Season Narrows Down To the Sudden-Death Stage As Five Titles Will be Decided

(By The Canadian Press)

Five football championships may be decided today — three in senior ranks and two in junior — as the season narrows down to the sudden-death stage in a buildup for east-west classics.

There will be two dominion finals this year, the juniors getting official word Friday night that for the first time since 1933 their series is definitely on.

In the east, the Montreal-Ottawa contest amounts to a sudden-death clash for the Big Four title. The Alouettes picked up a two-point working margin with their 21-19 victory in the first game at Montreal Thursday but the betting public still installed Rough Riders 9-5 favorites to sweep the total-points series in the return game.

A record crowd of more than 17,000 was expected to jam Ottawa's Lansdowne Park for the battle. The winner draws a berth into the Eastern Canada final.

The other eastern finalist may be decided at Hamilton meantime. Frank Filchock's Tigers defeated Toronto Beaches Indians, 8-0, in the first game of the best-of-three series for the Ontario Union title. They can end it all with a victory today. If Beaches Indians win, it will be decided by a third game in Hamilton Wednesday night.

Can Settle Back

The western champions meantime can settle back and watch these shenanigans. Stampeders copped the west's crown Thursday by beating Saskatchewan Roughriders and are waiting for the east-west final in Toronto's Varsity Stadium Nov. 27.

While that date was decided at the Canadian Rugby Union's annual meeting last winter, the time and place of the eastern final is still indefinite.

If the Big Four and the Ontario Union champions can't come to mutual agreement, the eastern final may be played as a sudden-death clash in "neutral" Toronto Nov. 20.

Kent Phillips, C. R. U. president, assured the juniors last night that they will have a dominion final in Eastern Canada Nov. 20.

That gave added interest to the two sudden-death junior semi-finals today, both night contests. Point Edward, O. R. F. U. champs and Hamilton Wildcats, Big Four titlists, meet for the eastern title in Hamilton while Vancouver Blue Bombers play the Hilltops at Saskatoon for the western crown.

The fifth championship may be decided in the east's Intercollegiate Union fixture at Toronto's Varsity Stadium where University of Toronto Blues are hosts to Western Mustangs.

The only contest in which honor alone is at stake is the intercollegiate clash between Queen's and McGill at Montreal.

Solunar Tables:
Rabbits And The Solunar Periods

By JOHN ALDEN KNIGHT

Noted Sportsman, Author, and Creator of Solunar Tables

Of all the creatures of the wild, the cottontail rabbit probably leads the most precarious existence, Every predatory animal or bird that is larger than he is finds him to be a handy source of nutriment. Even the weasel, who is about one quarter his size, considers him fair game. It's a smart bunny who lives out his allotted life span. Most of them come to violent and untimately ends. Of course, if this were not true and rabbits were allowed to go along unmolested, we would find ourselves knee-deep in rabbits within a very few years. But Nature strikes a balance between supply and demand so that the rabbit population maintains a fairly static level as the years pass.

Being fair game for almost everybody, a rabbit must take care about exposing himself. Much of his feeding is done nocturnally and the majority of the daylight hours are spent in the safe seclusion of briar patches, brush piles, hedgerows and burrows. It is entirely possible to hunt good rabbit cover without turning up so much as one single rabbit. However, there are times of each day when rabbit seems to lose a great deal of his natural caution and expose himself to the hazards of the open feeding cover. Should a hunter be able to anticipate these times, his chances for good hunting are much improved.

Use of Tables Help

Anticipating the daily movements and behavior of rabbits or, for that matter, any form of wildlife, is relatively simple. All you have to do is to look up the times of the daily Solunna Periods. Then it is that you will find the bunnies in the open fields, away from the safety of the heavy cover, and then you can find good shooting.

In my files I have a letter from a resident of Ohio. He had been bragging to some friends of some top-notch rabbit cover that he had found. Accordingly they planned for the following day. To his great embarrassment, his prize cover produced not a single rabbit although they combed the place with good dogs. At last they drove to another cover where the hunting was just about as bad.

It so happened that this fellow had a copy of the Solunar Tables in his pocket, so he looked up the times for the Solunar Periods for that day and found that a major Solunar Period was scheduled to arrive in about an hour. After much argument, he persuaded his friends to return to the area they had hunted first. They arrived there just at the start of the Solunar Period. In that same territory, which had produced no game earlier in the day, they bagged nine rabbits in less than two hours.

This is not in any sense an isolated instance. Over the past twenty-odd years, since I first began to study the workings of the Solunar Theory, I have seen much the same sort of thing happen many, many times. If you will think back over your days in the field in past years, you will recall times when every cover seemed to be filled with game. Conversely, you can remember tramping many weary miles without once mounting your gun to your shoulder. Now it is possible for you to plan your hunting trips so that you can be in good territory at the same time the game is there.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor

There's a ray of hope for soccer players and fans of the city . . . A highly authoritative source has it that plans are afoot in an industrial plant here to form a soccer team next Spring, with ideas of joining the strong Peterborough League . . . Soccer has lain dormant in this village for years, and a half-hearted attempt to resurrect it a few years ago did not bear fruit . . . However, if the aforementioned plans materialize there is a possibility of a city league being formed . . . Lindsay Curling Club opens its new artificial ice plant with the holding of a one-week bonspiel Nov. 29-Dec. 3 . . . Club boasts a membership of 350 including junior curlers from the local collegiate institute . . . City editor here pipes up and wants to know "What is wrong with Belleville curlers? . . . Seems there are quite a few of the laddies of the broom and stane in this village who would like nothing better than to see their favorite sport spring into being here . . . Not to mention Squadron Leader Bob Thompson, Trenton R.C.A.F. who, they tell me, flips a mean stane.

* * *

Gary Schreider, youthful football star of St. Michael's Juniors and one of the best midget hockey goal-keepers extant in these parts, suffered a wrenched shoulder in the final football game . . . He will be laid up for quite some time . . . Tough luck, as the youngster is rarin' to go to get those new goal pads in action . . . Ontario Church Basketball Association conclaves in Hamilton Sunday Nov. 14th. Affiliated clubs and those desirous of joining are requested to send representatives . . . Contact Stanley Burnes, 415 Dundurn St., Hamilton . . . R. Hermiston will pilot the classy Stirling juvenile hockey team this year . . . The kids were tops in the Midget C class last season, and they should go well in the higher bracket.

* * *

When is the wind-up meeting of the COBL taking place, somebody, please . . . There are awards to be handed out, 'tis believed . . . Belleville Baseball League will festive board it Monday eve at the St. James' Hotel, Trenton . . . Most valuable player award will be presented to Bernie Dunning, R.C.A.F. Flyers first-baseman . . . Likely the league trophy will be presented with trimmings to Walt Gerow's Napanee Athletics, champions of the loop . . . Walt. Gerow, St., has been ordered to bed for ten days by the family doctor . . . Walt's anatomy has been kicking up didoes and a rest will do him the world of good . . . Speedy St. Louis will probably do the master-minding while Walt is under the doctor's care . . .

Prospects for a sponsor for a city juvenile hockey club look exceedingly dark . . . A former potential sugar-daddy organization finally turned thumbs down on the proposition . . . Which is something akin to a shame . . . There's a juvenile team in this city, five of which are graduates from the Cy Barriage-Bobby Strachan midgets of last year, which should make the best of 'em step . . . It's too bad that these fine young athletes' ability will be wasted, or at least diverted from organized hockey when they are on the threshold of their hockey careers, and are stars in the making . . . Trouble with this city is there are too many "knockers" of sport . . . They yell blue murder, tear coaches, managers and players apart if the team does not win at least eleven out of twelve games . . . They're the rinkside referees, the armchair quarterbacks, the first to criticize and the last to dig in the personal purse to help sport along its rough rocky road here . . . Other centres are taking up minor sport seriously . . . There are foresighted men who can see the handwriting on the wall and are readying today by their interest and financial support, the stars of tomorrow . . .

With the exception of a scant few, this type of sportsman is sadly lacking in this city . . . And that applies to organizations in the main . . . There are, that we know of, two smart minor league hockey teams at the present time being held up for the lack of a sponsor . . . And the immediate future does not look any too bright for them . . . Yet the wiseacres are screaming because this city is not represented by a "Senior "B" team . . . It won't be unless some sort of concerted action replaces the howling to the wilderness . . . If these youngsters were taken over by some responsible group of men or an orgninization, within a few years there would be junior, intermediate and senior squads of which any city would be proud . . . And the location here of several large industries will greatly assist in keeping the lads at home through their employment agencies . . .

* * *

Bill Cook and the members of the Belleville Hockey Association have done and are doing a fine job in keeping a Junior "B" squad together . . . But they cannot be expected to shoulder the entire burden . . . Surely there are other sports-minded men or associations in the city who would take a chance on this investment in youth . . . There's talk of a juvenile court in Belleville . . . Perhaps it's needed — it probably is . . . But the juvenile judge will be a lot less busier if organized sport for minors gets under way . . . When your boy's in sport — he's not in mischief . . . Better by far to have him dodging body-checks on a hockey rink than policemen in an alley . . .

* * *

Cobourg scribe must have been reading the American papers which published Dewey's election . . . He states that the Belleville District Hockey League opened this week with the Cobourg team having only one practice . . . The at-the-moment football-mad lakeshore town will ice a strong team with most of last season's regulars back garnished with some new faces . . .

* * *

In case Art Stewart, secretary of the Belleville Baseball League reads this, this corner with Don Thomas, will attend the festivities Monday eve at the St. James' . . . The newly-formed Hastings County Ski Club has selected a new hill nine miles north of Trenton as the scene of their winter activities . . . The hill is 200 to 250 "up" with a 400-yard run . . . The master-minds expect to have eight runs in operation while a tow will be installed to operate Wednesdays, Saturdays and Sundays, weather permitting, and such other times as there are 20 or more members or guests present . . . A refreshment booth will be operated in a nearby farmhouse . . . There is talk of a district badminton league being formed with teams from Trenton, Marmora, Campbellford, Madoc, Warkworth and Frankford clubs participating . . . Take it away, Charlie m'boy, the week is "thirty."

Hamilton Tigers Held to Draw By the Marlies

(By The Canadian Press)

The season's cellar - dwellers, Toronto Marlboros, didn't pull out of that position Friday night —but at least they have company.

The youthful Toronto squad battled to a 1-1 overtime tie with the league-leading Hamilton Tigers, to garner one point — enough to catch up to Stratford Indians with nine.

In another Senior Ontario Hockey Association game last night, Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen trounced the second - place Owen Sound Mercurys 7-2.

In the junior circuit, Barrie Flyers moved into sole possession of fourth position by besting Toronto St. Michael's College 6-3. Oshawa Generals moved into 3rd place when they walloped the fifth-place Guelph Biltmores 5-1.

Marlboros opened the scoring in their game against Tigers, in the first period when Billy Johnson blasted a close-in shot past Art Childs. Two minutes later Johnny Conick got the equalizer on a pass from Dillon Brady.

Kitchener, led by Ted Grasser with three goals, had little trouble disposing of Owen Sound.

Grasser got his first goal when the game was only a minute old and a penalty to Bummer Doran minutes later cost Owen Sound three goals — Doug Verity, Trent Anderson and Harvey Hacklin scoring for the Dutchmen.

Art Hurst of Kitchener and Pat McReavy of Owen Sound each counted once in the second frame. Grasser netted his two other markers in the last period while Bruno Favero clicked for Owen Sound.

Grab Only Goal

Barrie grabbed the only goal of the first period when Sid McNabney beat netminder Tom Shea on a close-in shot.

McNabney got his second goal early in the middle period on a pass from Stan Long and Gord Pennell put Flyers three up before Gord Hannigan beat Gil Mayer on a pass from Bill MacNamara. Bob Chevreflis put the Flyers ahead minutes later.

The teams split two goals in the final period — Don Rope and Walt Clune counting for St. Michael's and Bobby Hogg and Chevreflis for Barrie.

Oshawa potted two goals in the first period, one in the second and two more in the third. Guelph's lone marker came in the second frame.

Rangy Dick Gamble notched 2 goals for Oshawa while Frank Hooper, Dusty Blair and George Hall got singletons. Hal Kewley counted for Guelph.

Kitchener clashes with Owen Sound tonight in the only senior game scheduled for the weekend. In the junior loop, Stratford Kroehlers meet Marlboros, Guelph meets Oshawa and Windsor Spitfires play St. Catharines Teepees.

LARGE ROMAN VILLA UNEARTHED IN KENT

Farningham, Kent, England — (CP) — A large Roman villa, believed to be of the first century, has been unearthed here. It is 160 feet long and 45 feet wide with two projecting wings.

Facing southeast, the villa has a large corridor along the front. Behind lies a series of rooms backed by a corridor.

Head into Heaviest Weekend Schedule Of Young Season

(By The Canadian Press)

The National Hockey League clubs tonight head into the heaviest weekend schedule of the young season with four teams in action twice, and come Monday the leadership picture in the early race should be a little clearer.

Montreal Canadiens, tied for second place with Boston 2 points back of the pace-setting Detroit Red Wings, could move to the top of the ladder with victories in their two weekend assignments, providing the tail-end Chicago Black Hawks upset Detroit in the windy city Sunday night.

Canadiens meet Rangers in New York tonight, and then move up the coast to Boston where they take on the Bruins in a Sunday tussle.

In other games, Chicago invades Toronto to meet the Leafs tonight, and on Sunday Toronto goes to New York.

Butch Bouchard of Canadiens did not accompany the club on the start of their five-game road trip because of a leg injury received in the game against Chicago.

The team doctor said Bouchard suffered a twisted ligament in the left leg when he fell during a pile-up behind the Montreal net and will be sidelined for 10 days.

At the same time Canadiens announced that Hal Laycoe would be recalled from the American League Buffalo Bisons to replace Bouchard.

Sports Roundup

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

New York, Nov. 13 (AP)—In these days of two-platoon football teams, the best thing you can say about 60-minute players is "try and find them"... this department did set out to pick an all all-the-time team with the following results ,time out for an occasional "blow" doesn't count: Backs G. Drazenovich, Penn State; Chandnois, Michigan State; Kusserow, Columbia and Cloud, William and Mary. Centre—Bednarik, Penn. Guards—Karas, Columbia and Healy, Georgia Teck. Ends—Haven't seen any but Barney Poole, Mississippi, and Dean Laun, Iowa State, might do. (We've observed all the other players mentionel and can state they're right good)... Tackles — there's the real catch. Couldn't find any 60-minute men. The going must be rough in that part of the line.

Sportspourri

Rutgers will play its 600th game of football against N.Y.U. today. The 80-season record stands at 285 won, 281 lost and 34 ties... Now that Ken Strong has retired, the grid giants are threatening to sign up Joe Lapchik to kick extra points. In Thursday's basketball game, Joe got so excited when one of Pat Kennedy's decisions went against the Knicks that he booted the water bucket half the length of the floor... Norm Daniels of Wesleyan probably is the only head football coach of a college team who has an undefeated record. Better get that in quick before something happens. Wesleyan hasn't lost since Norm took charge in 1945.

Weak End Notes

If you don't want that new car with all the extras, why not take the dough and buy the Newark ball club. The price is about the same... Dick Rasmussen, tall skater, with the Ice Follies, builds and runs midget automobiles as a hobby... In a high school football game at Springfield, Ill., recently, the ball was kicked out of bounds, bounced in among the bandsmen and disappeared. After quite a search, it was found inside the mass horn... Seems the wrong guy blew it dead that time.

MEDICAL SUPERSTITION

In Mexico, patients often enquire if medicine is to be taken with the right or left hand. If the former, the liver is believed to be benefitted, if the latter, the kidneys.

Torchy Peden Quits Bike Racing After 20 Years

New York, Nov. 13 — (CP) — After 20 years of fame as one of the world's great six-day, bicycle riders, William (Torchy) Peden has turned in his bike and jersey for a set of carpenter tools, a tape measure and overalls, and has gone to work.

At the age of 42 the Victoria-born Peden has announced that he has "hung up his bikes" for good to devote all of his time to an idea he and a fellow Canadian cyclist dreamed up years ago — a portable bike track.

Peden, the old "iron horse" who has won more six-day marathons than any other rider in the history of the sport — 38 — and Albert Schelstraete of New Delhi, Ont., an amateur cyclist who turned professional before the war, first experimented with a portable track in small amateur races in Canada.

They set up their first track in Simcoe, Ont., and later at Shawinigan Falls, Que. It proved so practical that Peden decided to build a bigger one for the pro 6-day riders. The big redhead and Schelstraete, a Belgian - Canadian, worked for months on the project.

Installed at Buffalo

It was installed in Buffalo for last month's international six-day race and proved so successful that the oval was shipped to Chicago for last week's race and then here where another "whirl to nowhere" opens Sunday night.

The new track is made of steel and masonite — a porous material providing a strong surface for the bikes — and is constructed in sections so that it can easily be transported by truck. The oval cost $30,000 but the saving, Peden says, is in being able to use it for years where the old wooden tracks had to be ripped down after a race was over.

In the pre-war days it cost six-day promoters anywhere from $4,000 up to build a wooden track. Today the cost has almost doubled, making it virtually impossible for a promoter to run a race on a paying basis.

"I found it impossible to compete with the best in the world and be half in shape," Peden said Friday in an interview. "I didn't want to give up the portable track idea because I think it will prove a boon to six-day bike racing. So I decided to get off the bikes for good."

84-GAME SCHEDULE

Brantford, Ont., Nov. 13— (CP) — An 84-game schedule for the big seven group of the Ontario Hockey Association was announced Friday.

The schedule calls for twelve games home and 12 games away for the teams, Grimsby, St. Catharines, Niagara Falls, Brantford, Preston, Woodstock and Guelph.

Owing to St. Catharines' delegates not being able to furnish 12 home dates, some of their games were left in abeyance.

Woodstock will not have artificial ice until December, thus asking for all away games in that month. Preston will play at Hespeler until it obtains natural ice. Niagara Falls will play its home games at Welland.

Canadian Sport Snapshots

By KEN JOHNSON
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Toronto, Nov. 13 (CP)—Here's one subject good for a few thousand words and a bucket of water from any sports writer: Officials.

Choose a category: Their handling of goals and assists in any hockey game—just any old one.

We're off!

Bill (Owen Sound Sun-Times) Dane gives the well-honored theme a good workover but with a slightly different angle. He isn't complaining about the scoring in other cities in the Ontario Hockey Association League. He's objecting to some that is going on in his own bailiwick.

Why, Bill!

Says he: "One matter on which the O.H.A. referees could show a little more discretion than they sometimes do is that of awarding goals and assists. All too frequently we have seen two assists dished out on a goal when no assist should be given at all. On others we have seen the playmaker completely ignored and the goal scorer given credit for an unassisted tally...

"This year at the (Owen Sound) arena we have often seen two assists given on a goal that is scored from a rebound...

"Another instance of cheap assists arises out of goals that are deflected into the net off a defending player.

"Referees, if they are to continue as the official scorers should award assists on the basis of pure merit."

And That's That

Chick (Stratford Beacon-Herald) Appel, the sage of western Ontario, has roused the ire of Bobbie Rosenfeld, distaff sports columnist of the Toronto Globe and Mail.

Appeal accused Toronto Marlboros of the Ontario Hockey Association Junior "A" League of having "drag" with the Canadian Amateur Hockey Association, by having five—count 'em— branch-to-branch imports.

"For the sake of the records, Marlboros haven't any special drag with the C. (save the A.) H.A. The Dukes are within the bounds of the limited two branch-to-branch Junior "A" transfers permitted. While it would appear Marlies have secured transfers for five, actually Roy McMeekin (Manitoba) and Larry Regan (Quebec) are the only two outside the province.

"Lorne Pirie (N.O.H.A.) is within the Ontario boundaries, while Normie Schriner and Ron Stewart (both from Alberta) carry a Junior "B" tag . . . which series is exempt from the ruling."

Charlie Conacher Told Officials About Refereeing

(By The Canadian Press)

Charlie Conacher brought his Chicago Black Hawks into Toronto Friday and lost no time telling the world that he thought his team got the worst of the officiating when they dropped a 4-1 decision to the Canadiens in Montreal, Thursday night.

"We had two goals disallowed by Butch Keeling," said the coach of the National Hockey League doormats. "The first would have tied the score. The second would have put us in front. Our players skated back to centre ice for the face-off and then realized Keeling had disallowed both.

Big Chuck said he "told Keeling plenty and it's a wonder he didn't put me out of the rink". Clarence Campbell, League president, was a spectator and "I told him what I thought about his officials."

Several of Canada's leading race horse owners will leave this weekend for Lexington, Ky., to attend the yearling sales.

Rumors are plentiful in Toronto Baseball circles here that the Philadelphia Phillies will either purchase the Toronto Maple Leafs' International League franchise outright or become partners with the present Toronto group. Don Ross, acting president of the Toronto Baseball Club since the recent death of Peter G. Campbell, will represent the Leafs at an International League meeting this week-end in New York City.

Conn Smythe, manager of Toronto Maple Leafs, said Friday night he had never heard of the "ankle body check" described by Boss Frank Selke of Montreal Canadiens as Leafs' secret weapon. Selke said in Montreal the new checking technique is the sole property of Leafs and consists of suddenly and slyly sticking out the foot.

"If we've been using that technique it hasn't been very successful," Smythe said. "The way we're going we better get rid of it right away."

Leafs currently are in fourth place in the National Hockey League.

Wanted: One black cat before 2:15 p.m. today. Reply to Johnny Metras, coach of the University of Western Ontario Mustangs.

Metras is searching for a black cat because he's faced with a football crisis. His Mustangs play University of Toronto Blues today in their final game of the Intercollegiate football schedule and a Mustang win would give Western their fourth straight title and 28 straight victories.

If there is a senior intercollegiate football playoff it will be played at Toronto, Nov. 20, it was announced Friday by Warren Stevens, Athletic director of the University of Toronto. Stevens said he had reached an agreement with Johnny Metras, athletic director of the University of Western Ontario at London, Ont.

Varsity Blues can force a playoff match by defeating Western Mustangs in their scheduled game at Varsity Stadium here today.

Western Canada middleweight Boxing Champion Roddy McDonald of Edmonton will meet rugged Roy Wouters of Montreal in a title fight at Vancouver next month. The winner of the 10-round bout may get a crack at George (Rock-a-bye) Ross of Nova Scotia, the Canadian title holder.

Kent Phillips of Saskatoon, President of the Canadian Rugby Union, said Friday night that the Canadian Junior Football final definitely will take place in the east Nov. 20. He confirmed that funds are being made available to transport the western winners to site of the Dominion final. Western titlists will be declared Saturday when Saskatoon Hilltops clash with Vancouver Blue Bombers. Point Edward, O.R.F.U. champions, meet Hamilton Wildcats for the Eastern title in Hamilton today.

Time and place of this season's Eastern Canada football final will be set at a meeting in Toronto Sunday. Percy Robinson, Canadian Rugby Union Secretary, said Friday night the meeting will be attended by representatives of all eastern teams still in the running and the C.R.U.

The 10-round non-title fight between welterweight champion Ray Robinson and Steve Belloise, originally scheduled for Dec. 2 at the Jersey City armories, will be staged one week later, Dec. 9, promoter Andy Niederreiter of the tournament of champions said Friday.

Blind Man, Guided by Screams, Swims to Girl's Rescue

WINS DOW AWARD

FRANK SIMPKIN
OF TORONTO
saves 13-year-old girl from drowning at Ward's Island

Frank Simpkin, 42, who runs a newsstand at Dundas and Keele Streets in Toronto, was blinded in an explosion when he was 24. One day in September, in spite of his blindness, he swam to the rescue of a drowning girl in the cold waters of Lake Ontario, off Ward's Island.

Simpkin was on a picnic with his family, and that of a friend when the screams of a young girl suddenly pierced the air. The 13-year-old youngster was in serious trouble, choking and spluttering, about 50 yards from shore.

SCREAMS GUIDE SWIMMER

In seconds, Simpkin was in the water with only the girl's screams to guide him. Once, he seemed to lose direction . . . but frantic cries of "Hurry, hurry!" put him back on the track. A few moments later he had reached the girl and was able to bring her in to shallow water . . . and from there in to shore and safety.

The heroic action of this totally blind man merits the praise of every Canadian. We are proud to honour Frank Simpkin, of Toronto, through the presentation of The Dow Award.

Although completely blind, Simpkin leaped to his feet when he heard the screams . . . and, without hesitating, swam 50 yards to rescue the drowning girl.

Confined to her bed for a short time, the young girl soon recovered. As an expression of her gratitude, she offered to help Simpkin with his work in her spare time.

THE DOW AWARD is a citation for outstanding heroism and includes, as a tangible expression of appreciation, a $100 Canada Savings Bond. Winners are selected by the Dow Award Committee, a group of editors of leading Canadian newspapers.

The Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Nov. 13 — (AP) — The casualties of Hollywood's economy drive, not mentioned until right here and now, are those dimpled darlings, the child stars.

I don't mean that Margaret O'Brien should start applying for Social Security. She and a handful of other current juvenile favorites are secure as long as their youth and charm hold out. But there are tough times ahead for kids who hope to follow in the golden footsteps of Jackie Coogan, Baby Peggie, Jackie Cooper, Mitzi Green, Baby Leroy, Shirley Temple and Jane Withers.

The blunt fact is that studios can't afford child stars.

Child acting is a specialized field and an expensive one to studios. The regulations regarding use of children in studios are involved enough to warm a bureaucrat's heart. This will give you an idea:

Children must have a permit to work. The permit must be renewed every six months and can be revoked any time. Children must pass a physical examination and keep up school grades to work. One welfare worker must be hired for every 20 youngsters. Every child under 12 must be accompanied by a guardian.

No child can be on a studio lot more than eight hours at a time. Lunch cannot be later than 12:30 or dinner later than 6:30. Of the eight-hour day, three hours must be spent in school and one in recreation.

This leaves four hours or less a day for a child star to be used on a movie set. When you consider that adult actors work eight hours daily or more, you can see how expensive film moppets can be to studios.

Franco Tells M.P. Of Hitler Offer

London, Nov. 13 — (AP) — Dr. Mont Follick, Labor member of parliament for Loughborough, quoted Generalissimo Franco as saying Adolf Hitler offered him "slices of France" if Spain would enter the war on the Axis side.

Franco said he refused, Follick told newspapermen.

Follick just returned from Madrid. He said he had a 90-minute interview with Franco.

"In turning down the offer," Follick said, "Franco told Hitler he wanted to be friends with all his neighbors and felt, after the war, Spain still would be France's neighbor."

GENERAL TAKES OVER

Moscow, Nov. 13 — (AP) — Gen. Sergei M. Shtemenko was promoted today to chief of staff of the Russian army. He replaces Marshal Alexander M. Vasilevsky who was relieved of his duties because of the burden of too much work.

Vasilevsky retained his job of first vice-minister of the armed forces. Shtemenko was elevated from the rank of colonel general to general.

AT THE McCARTHY

"Chasm of Spasms"

In order to assure yourself a seat for the chilling "Chasm of Spasms", which is scheduled to appear at the McCarthy theatre, Willard Fawcett, Manager, has made arrangements whereby patrons may purchase seats in advance. No seats are reserved, but everyone holding a ticket will be assured a seat. The attraction has been secured for one mid-nite performance only.

Featuring Dr. Ogre Banshee, in person on the stageñ, "Chasm of Spasms" maintains a rip-roaring pace throughout and is guaranteed by manager Fawcett to leave the onlookers limp in their seats from both fright and laughter.

Dr. Banshee and his assistants summon up all the imps from the nether-world to bedevil and amuse the audience. Ghosts, floating, bodies, body-less heads send chills and thrillsp down the spine of even the staunchest souls.

This is the first American tour of "Chasm of Spasms," Dr. Banshee having been brought here directly from Europe, where he was a familiar figure during the war, entertaining boys in service. It was in response to the requests of so many G. I's that this special tour was arranged.

Besides Dr. Banshee, this 2-hour thrill packed show features "Blood and Thunder," a blood-curdling story full of suspense and horror, it is a fitting complement to the weird and ghastly performance of Dr. Banshee and his assistants.

The doors of the theatre will open for this special performance at 11.23 P.M.

NEW EMPHASIS PLACED

London, Ont., Nov. 13 (CP) — Canada will place new emphasis on domestic steel production, Trade Minister Howe indicated here Friday night.

Mr. Howe said the Dominion government plans to "encourage" Canada's output of steel. He would not go so far as to say, however, that a new national policy on steel and coal production was forthcoming.

He asserted that Canada's "austerity" position had not improved to the degree that the embargo could be listed on the import of American automobiles.

Puds Simkins called me up on he telefone to talk about things n general nuthing in particuler, which we did for about 20 mintes and then ma poked me mung the ribs with her finger, ying, Benny, I want to ask you thing.

G, I'm talking to Puds ins, I said, and ma said, Well lk to me a moment. Have you ny socks to be mended? she said.

Aw heck, ma, I'm talking to uds, I said, and ma said, And I'm lking to you. I asked you a uestion. Have you any socks to e mended? she said.

Jimminy Crissmas, ma, how do know? I said, and Puds said,

Nuthing, wait a minute, I said, and ma gave me another poke, saying, What do you mean by saying you dont know? Who should know if you dont? Who's socks are they? she said.

G roozlem, ma, how do you expect me to talk to Puds? I said, and ma said, I didn't say I expected you to talk to Puds.

Well then how does Puds expect me to talk to him? I said, and ma said, That's a matter for you and Puds to settle. What I want to know is, have you any socks that need mending? she said.

Aw heck, ma, G, willickers, I meen gosh, I said, and Puds said, Hay, what's going on, I'm going to hang up.

Hay, wait a minute, wont you? I said, and he said, No.

Which he didn't, and I said, Now you went and did it, ma, going to darn any socks now, I said, and she said, That's rite, my question was of practically

Auto Prices Rise On Aussie Market

Sydney, Australia (CP)—Prices of used automobiles, decontrolled by the federal government, have risen in Australia.

The first auction sales of used autos since 1942 were rushed by buyers, and prices were well above the government's valuations. Some late model automobiles sold well above "black market" prices asked before controls were lifted.

Australia is still starved for new cars. Most new registrations taken out are for British models. Before the war there were few English makes on Australian roads but now there are scarcely any other makes available. American automobiles are sold on high priority when they are available.

More British cars were imported to Australia during the first few months of this year than in the whole of 1938, the last full export year before the war. But imports may be cut because of the gasoline shortage.

Motorists were given a further cut of 20 per cent in their gasoline ration which brings most of them down to their war time ration.

Motor traders believe that Britain will have to release more dollars for gasoline if she wishes to hold her exports to Australia. Otherwise, they say, sales of British cars will drop.

T.B. Cure Was Fun In Good Old Days

Blenheim, Ont. (CP)— Cures for tuberculosis had a kick in them until science stepped in and spoiled the fun.

Here's a recipe dated 1871, which Mrs. J. L. Gosnell found among some papers which once belonged to her grandmother:

"To cure consumption, get 10 cents worth of yellow dock, put one pint of boiling water on it and let it stew to get the strength off it. Pour that pint off and put another pint of boiling water on the same yellow dock and let it stand as before. Now put two pints together and add one cupful of whiskey.

"Dose: Take a little every time the coughing starts, then put fat pork across the chest until it draws out into pimples, then take off the pork and put on a flaxseed poultice. Take a wineglass full of wine every morning with an egg in it. Every third morning pound the egg shell up fine and eat it alone."

Pacific Phosphate Deposits Will Be Developed by N. Z. and Australia

By J. C. GRAHAM
(Canadian Press Correspondent)

Auckland, N.Z. — (CP) — Evidence of the determination of Australia and New Zealand to boost their output of farm produce is the efforts these two Dominions are making to develop to the utmost the phosphate fertilizer resources of the Pacific. Both countries make great use of phosphate for pastures as well as for general agricultural purposes and in spite of a grave setback during the war they are rapidly increasing their stocks.

Chief sources before the war were Nauru and Ocean Isands, almost on the Equator, which were seized from Germany in the First World War and administered by Britain, Australia and New Zealand as a joint mandate. Naura was the main source, and an amazing cantilever loading was constructed to enable ships standing off shore to load there. The open roadstead made it possible for vessels to dock.

The equipment was destroyed by the Japanese during the war, but already it has been partially restored. One arm of the cantilever is back in service, enabling ships to load 750 tons an hour, and the second arm will be operating by Decemmber.

Population Moved

At Ocean Island the entire native population has been moved to enable the phosphate workings to be extended. The islanders have been settled at the fertile island of Rambi, in the Fiji group, where they are already prospering.

A further major step by the two Dominions has been the purchase of the phosphate deposits at Christmas Islands, in the Indian Ocean, for $11,000,000 from the British company now operating the concession.

It is estimated that this purchase, together with the deposits at Nauru and Ocean Islands, should be sufficient to supply the requirements of the two countries at the present rate for nearly 100 years. Nauru and the Christmas Island supply is conservatively estimated at 30,000,000 tons. Present consumption of the two countries is about 1,250,000 tons a year.

DECISION ON VALIDITY OF MARGARINE BAN EXPECTED NEXT WEEK

Ottawa, Nov. 12 — (CP) — The Supreme Court decision on the validity of the margarine ban — expected next Monday—has been delayed and will not be handed down until later next week, it was learned today.

The The judgment will determine whether the legislation prohibiting the importation, manufacture and sale of margarine in Canada is constitutional. It was adopted 62 years ago.

Link With Ancestor Found in Papers

Winnipeg, (CP)—Vera Kelsey, Winnipeg-born writer now living in New York, has filled a gap in her family tree during research and work on a history of the Red River Valley which she is writing.

Through her research channels Miss Kelsey found a link with one of her ancestors, Henry Kelsey, a Hudson's Bay Company employee who lived from 1670 to 1730. He was the first white man to see the prairies in the north, setting foot there in 1692.

Kelsey was probably the first white man in America to see the bison and grizzly bear and was the first Briton to venture into Red River Valley, arriving there in 1698.

"I had no idea, before I started to write this book, that there was any connection until I started to dig around the family tree and found the link," Miss Kelsey said.

She first came to Winnipeg in 1944 and travelled north through the old Selkirk tracts and up on Lake Winnipeg and the surrounding district .

"I received letters and telephone messages from people who were anxious to help me gather data, and from these people I received old diaries, early letters and books which have proven to be invaluable to me in my search for material."

Miss Kelsey feels inhabitants of the Red River Valley do not realize what a fascinating history lies behind their territory or the effect it had on the growth of this section both in the United States and Canada.

"The background of this land has been like a jigsaw puzzle for many years now, and the true history brought to life will be like the missing piece that draws all the others into place.

"I received letters from the universities of Manitoba, Minnesota, Toronto, Wisconsin and Washington telling me of their references on the subject and offering me every assistance in locating their material. This proves that there is a widespread interest in the story."

Miss Kelsey's book will be published in 1949 as part of a program to celebrate the 100th anniversary of the founding of Minnesota.

She attended schools in Grand Forks and the University of Washington and took her master's degree in English at Brown University.

COLLEGIATE NEWS

ASSEMBLY

The assembly this week took the form of a Remembrance Day Service. It was impressive. All the lights in the auditorium were out except special ones on stage, where was set a scene not uncommon in the world today. Stark, wooden crosses in a field red with poppies.

Although the individuals participating in the service were not seen by the audience, they were heard distinctly. During the prayer, address and the poem, the audience remained seated, but stood for the rest of the service. The names of all B.C.I.V.S. students who died in either of the two world wars were read. Then, for one minute, between the playing of "The Last Post" and "Reveille," there was a silence so complete that the movement of the clock seemed loud.

The finishing touch to the service was supplied by the organ providing the accompaniment for the singing of the hymn "Give Peace Again" and "O Valiant Heart."

"Dinty."

GIRLS' SPORTS

On Monday night, both the senior and junior Napanee volleyball teams came to the Collegiate to play their return games, which promised to be good with plenty of competition.

The senior teams played first. It was a hard-fought game and the score was close throughout. Napanee came out on top with a score of 34-31. Barbara Houston and Betty Gibson were the highest Belleville scorers and Joan Allen and Donna Sills played well. The girls from Napanee played a good game, the outstanding player being Empey who was also the highest scorer in the game.

The junior game was next and was not as keenly fought as that of the seniors. The Belleville team steadily surged ahead, led by Kay Mills and Pat Smith. The game ended with the one-sided score of 40-18 for Belleville. The outstanding players for Napanee were Delores Smith and Mary Pidgeon.

With Belleville winning this game the series is evened with one game apiece. Napanee seniors have beaten B.C.I. seniors in both games to date.

Thursday night the volleyball Jamboree will be held in the Armouries. The games should be good and keen competition from the other schools is expected.

The house league basketball has been very successful so far. The teams have been chosen and the captains are Donna Sills, Thelma Ruttan, Marie Marinoff and Betty Gibson and Katherine Mills. The practices are held at noon on Wednesdays and after school on Fridays.

In P. T. classes most of the forms have started gymnastics. However, some are still passing their badminton tests.

Remember: "To play sports, be a good sport."

BOYS' SPORTS

G12B Takes Upper School Championship

Having won the first game on Nov. 3rd, G12B lost the second game 18-12 to G13B. With both teams tied with a game apiece, G12B came through with flying colors to win the final game and championship, 11-0.

In the first half, Galbraith lateralled to Dowsett, who, faking an end run, threw a forward to Ewald for the touchdown. The convert was no good as the team was off side.

In the last few minutes of the first half, the above trio went to work again completing two forwards, the last one being good for a touchdown. The convert, a pass, was unsuccessful.

In the last half, Cameron, receiving a kick, was tackled behind his own goal line by Dowsett and Ewald for a point. Final score 11-0.

Throughout the game, passes were used frequently while G13B pulled some beautiful bucks and end runs.

G12B — Quarter, Galbraith; halves, Locke, Dowsett; centre, Dolan; ends, Connolly, Ewald; subs, Kravache, Dyer.

G13B — Quarter, Buchanan; halves, Ketcheson, Scott; centre, Stackhouse; ends, Cameron, Bromfield; subs, Bertrim, Rose, Boozer.

CUFF NOTES

The Sadie Hawkins dance was a great success—ha. There weren't any nice tidy rows as before which would lead one to believe that the girls aren't very choosy. We saw several slouching souls silently munching slightly wilted corsages — must have been the shortage of cokes. The gymns were crowded with millions of girls, long lean lanky girls, slim smiling sophisticated girls, big brawny, barefaced girls, and girls who had ventured out from seclusion to have one wild fling at life for this year. Some were tagging the males real shy-like, others were dragging the boys onto the floor in true Dogpatch style. Ain't it great to be popular fellows?

Wilburs Wildcats have won the Upper School championship due no doubt to their rigorous training and special diet of sulphuric acid and frog livers.

THE VENABLES

BY KATHLEEN NORRIS

"And never been kissed," said Aunt Daisy. Kissed! Flo tossed her red braids. She should hope not! Not by a boy, anyway. She loathed them and often told Rose of this or that unsuspecting acquaintance that she would not marry him if he were the last man on earth.

In May of their second year in the Shotwell Street house a real anxiety came into Willie's life. She had no sooner reconciled herself to the discomforts of the new home, and accepted the presence of her mother and sister as regular boarders there, than her tenancy was threatened by the appearance of a lawyer who explained that he represented his client, Major Burns, and that the Major was at last determined to do something with the old Shotwell Street places.

Mr. Arnold Belcher, the lawyer, explained to Willie that gas and the new incandescent light were to be brought in, defective plastering everywhere made complete, good bathrooms and laundry tubs installed, doorbells and doorknobs and stairway railings replaced, the old sheds and fences of the back yard removed and the gardens completely renovated.

"It's a good property," said Mr. Belcher, a tall, handsome man with a pleasant, sympathetic manner. "And Major Burns could be getting an income from it."

"Oh, dear!" trembled Willie, looking pretty and young and helpless in the sunshiny doorway, with Spencer clinging to her knee. "That means rent, doesn't it?"

"It means a great deal more comfort, Mrs. Venables."

"Yes, I know. But rent! What will the rents be?"

"Well, that I couldn't say. It all depends." He had brought a contractor with him, and they were walking about estimating the general damage and shabbiness and making notes. "It certainly is a dilapidated old place," Arnold Belcher said. "I marvel that you and that fine boy have been comfortable here!"

"I've six children, four girls and two boys!" Willie said, color in her face as she laughed. "And we've not, strictly speaking, been comfortable here. But I'm widowed, you see. Mr. Venables died more than two years ago, and Major Burns was kind enough to offer us this place rent free."

"He told me you'd had a — a sad time of it. And you've six children!"

"And my mother and sister live here too," Willie said.

When Flo came in at four o'clock, flushed and tumbled, guiding the smaller girls home from school, it was to find the unwonted situation of her mother talking to a strange man easily, laughingly, even familiarly, in the dining-room.

"Flo, dear, how dreadful your hair looks! And what's that you have got on your face — flour? Oh, chalk?" Willie said, laughing. "Mr. Belcher, my second daughter. I told you that my Lily is abroad with her aunt. And Virgie-Lou and Weeny . . . Other hand, darling. Do take them upstairs and clean them up a bit, Flo. Grandma and Aunt Ida were going to have a cup of tea, and I asked Mr. Belcher to join us."

When Flo came back five minutes later, the caller was gone but her mother was still standing in the open doorway, looking down into the pleasant, lingering Spring light in the shabby street.

Flo settled herself on an old couch under the window in her room. Her soul was at peace with the world. Tomorrow would be Saturday; there were but fifteen more days of school.

She heard her grandmother's panting return and the statement they had all been making all day: "I tel lyou it's summer!" Then there were long murmurings between her mother and Aunt Daisy and Grandma. Once or twice she heard the unusual sound of her mother's laugh — a young, protestant laugh.

And at dinner, while they did discuss the changes to be made in the house and the probable necessity of paying rent, it was in some subtle fashion rendered not a serious talk by an undercurrent of something that at once seemed to be annoying and amusing and embarrassing and delighting her mother. Mama was upset tonight, but she somehow looked very pretty in spite of confusion.

"How old is Mr. Belcher?" old Mrs. Hawkes demanded suddenly.

"I'm sure I haven't the faintest idea!" Willie answered lightly, beginning to hum faintly as she served the stew.

"I can tell you exactly how old Arnold Belcher is, because his brother was in High with me," Daisy said. "He's eight years older than Arthur was. "He's forty-one or two. Goodness!"

"Well!" said the old woman.

"Mama, for heaven's sake!" Willie protested, laughing, shocked, as she paused.

"Well, I say you're a mighty attractive woman, Willie," her mother persisted, undaunted.

"I don't — really I don't like this kind of talk," Willie said, her head held high, tears in her eyes. "It's all nonsense, and it doesn't seem loyal — loyal to Paul. And it puts notions into the children's heads! Let's think what we'll do when the plasterers and paperers get in here."

Nothing more of a romantic nature was said, but the conversation took on the slightly strained note that always prevails when one certain burning topic is forbidden.

Willie said several times in the next few days that she never expected to see Arnold Belcher again. But on Sunday he came out to chat with her for an hour and tell her what plans had been made for the renovation of the house.

Perhaps her mother had been half expecting him, Flo thought, for she certainly looked her best, and the house was in good order too.

After that Sunday he became a regular visitor at the house, never staying very long but more and more friendly, and usually bringing a box of caramels.

By this time the workmen were in the house, and the big family had to live through and beneath and over and around their activities. Buckets of plaster, barrels and planks were in the halls, holes for wiring were made in the walls; pipes were carried upstairs; men clumped and shouted on the roof.

When the old house had been painted gray with a clean white trim and most of the sheds and outhouses were gone, when the hall and parlors were papered in stripes of gold and chocolate embellished with red fleurs-de-lis, when the kitchen had been a bright blue, and the pump at the sink had given place to two shining faucets, the tone of the whole family improved to match.

Standards automatically raised themselves; Flo indulged in the luxury of many baths; incandescent light made the whole place bright.

The haunting fear that she would have to move gradually died in Willie's heart.

By the strangest coincidence, which had supplied the base of a thousand talks among the women, Paul, long before he had known Willie at all, had saved the old Major's life. Paul had dissuaded him from a hasty plan of suicide in a moment when gambling debts and extravagances had threatened to wreck his career, and Bill Burns, most opportunely winning a large lottery prize at the moment, had taken young Paul Venables abroad with him in recognition.

The knowledge of this gave Willie a comfortable feeling about accepting favors from the now highly respectable old man, who had gone into profitable real-estate ventures and was reputed to be rich.

"After all, he's got to leave that money somewhere!" Willie mused.

The idea of her mother marrying was not a welcome one, but Flo was almost 17, and she knew that life was not all ideals, was not quite as simple as children were apt to think it. There was no reason why mama should not marry Mr. Belcher.

Five children — fir Lily need not be included, at present, at any rate — was quite a number to take into a new married life. Florence was the only one who could really understand the situation or help her mother. The others would be just as exacting, just as jealous of their mother's time and love as if Mr. Belcher had no claims at all.

They'd probably be married in the Belcher house and simply remain there. His mother lived there too.

Flo had not seen the house, but her mother had. One Sunday afternoon her mother had gone driving with Mr. Belcher, and they had stopped there to call on his mother.

"It's perfectly magnificent!" Willie had said. "A great big gorgeous place with a view of the Bay at the back, and statues in the library, and two big sideboards in the dining-room simply covered with silver pieces!"

"And what's his mother like, Mama?" Flo had asked.

"Oh, she's a lovely old lady. Dignified, a little bit stiff, you know. But naturally she's not going to rave over Arnold's friends"

"I wish Mama had — better sense," Flo thought, sighing deep within her being, entirely unconscious of the disloyalty of the thought.

Spencer was at last asleep. She could creep from the room and go down through the hot, dark house, determining to catch Weeny or Virgie - Lou as they raced across the garden and say sharply:

"Stop shrieking! Baby's just off!"

But as she reached the front doorway her interest was diverted to a carriage that was stopping at the steps, and to a slender girl who sprang from the carriage and ran up to the garden, crying between laughter and tears:

"Mama! Mama darling! It's Lily! I'm home!".

Lily, in a Frenchy lined tailored jacket with a brown hat, her feet in patent-leather pumps — Lily, who seemed six years rather than six months older than the Lily who had gone away!

Aunt Lizzie, well pleased at the effect of her surprise and the impression created by Lily's appearance, followed them all into the house, and much breathless kissing and laughing and disconnected odd bits of news and chatter were exchanged.

They could not believe the beautiful, slender young lady was Lily, and Lily could not believe the improved house was the disreputable old Shotwell Street place! Wonder kept them all breathless, and it was fully three minutes before Arnold Belcher, a sympathetic onlooker at the scene could be presented. Lily gave him her hand, and a look from black-fringed violet eyes.

"Flo, you've grown up so! You are thinner! But glasses?"

"Oh, I don't have to wear 'em all the time," Flo said hastily, taking them off. "But I was going to read."

"I can't believe I'm home!" Lily was finally seated in the midst of them; they were all admiring and listening.

PRINCESS ELIZABETH AND BABY ARE FINE

ELIZABETH'S SON IS FOURTH GENERATION IN ROYAL FAMILY

GREAT-GRANDMOTHER GRANDMOTHER MOTHER

Queen Mary has become a great-grandmother and Queen Elizabeth a grandmother when Princess Elizabeth gave birth to a boy on Sunday evening, making the fourth generation in the Royal Family. A temporary nursery has been set up in Buckingham Palace and the cradle, lent by the Queen Mother, was once used by Princess Elizabeth herself. Elizabeth and her husband, Prince Philip, are expected to leave Buckingham Palace about the middle of December to spend Christmas at the King's favorite country place, Sandringham, in Norfolk.
—Central Press Canadian

—Central Press Canadian

Although the baby will have many new toys of its own, Princess Elizabeth has treasured some of her own baby things. These, including rattles and soft cuddly dolls, are waiting in the nursery set up in Buckingham Palace. Princess Elizabeth and Princess Margaret are shown in their childhood when they paid a visit to their old home in London, where an exhibition of royal treasures was held. The Princesses are shown standing beside Princess Elizabeth's cot, surrounded by some babyhood toys which formed part of the exhibition.

Congratulations On Birth Pour Into Palace

London, Nov. 15 (CP)— Congratulations on the birth of a son to Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip poured into Buckingham Palace today from royalty, heads of state and just plain folks throughout the world.

In Paris, the Duke of Windsor, the baby's great-uncle, wshed him "every possible happiness."

Prime Minister tAtlee said. "I am delighted."

British soldiers in Malayan jungle outposts launched a celebration at daybreak when they heard the news. In Australia and New Zealand, carillons played when the announcement arrived as the work day began.

Danish Prime Minister Hans Hedtoff said in Copenhagen "let us hope the little child will lead a generation which will maintain peace in the world."

In Canberra Prime Minister Chifley sent this message to the King through Governor-General W. J. McKell:

"The news of the brth of a son to Her Royal Highness Princess Elizabeth was received by the government and people of Australia with the greatest of pleasure."

Weather Synopsis

Toronto, Nov. 15 (CP)—Synopsis: The province will receive but a brief respite from the cloudy weather. The disturbance which gave rain in Southern Ontario and snow in Northern Ontario and whose eastward motion will give clearing skies this evening, is being closely followed by another disturbance which is presently over Alberta. This disturbance wil lbe centred over the province midnight Tuesday with precipitation reaching the province Tuesday.

Godfrey Doesn't Think Musicians' Laughter Worth $800 Extra to Him

Washington, Nov. 15 (AP) — Radio comedian Arthur Godfrey has ordered his musicians not to laugh at his jokes.

He said it would cost an extra $800 to $900 a week salary for each man. Union rules, he explained. If they laugh or sing they'll come under an additional union, —American Federation of Radio Artists. They already belong the AFL musicians.

"Here for three years the six boys in my band and I have been having all kinds of fun," Godfrey said. "They'd sing choruses and we'd kid each other.

"Then all of a sudden AFRA begins to squawk and says if they open their mouths to singthey came under AFRA jurisdiction. That adds the extra money.

"They dont dare laugh even."

Godfrey was answering a report he was "very angry" in his Friday broadcast. He said was just squeezing some fun out of the situation.

"When one of the boys started to laugh "I'd say shut up. you can't do that.'"

George Heller, national executive secretary of AFRA said. "If musicians sing on a program they should be paid the AFRA scale for singers. There is a good deal of unemployment among singers, and the ruling is for their protection. It is not our intention of singling out Mr. Godfreys program. The rule applies to all programs where a similar situation exists."

Baby Abrams Arrives on Day Of Royal Birth

The Stork, with its efforts concentrated on the royal birth in Britain on Sunday when Princess Elizabeth and the Duke of Edinburgh became the proud parents of a royal prince, took time out to slip across the Empire to deposit bundles of happpiness commensurate with arrival of the new member of the British Royal Family.

Only one baby was born in the Belleville General Hospital on Sunday, November 14, the date of the birth of the royal baby. It is Baby Abrams who first saw the light of day at 11.25 a.m. Sunday, approximately five hours before the arrival of the royal child.

Belleville's "royal baby" is young Master Abrams, a bouncing baby boy, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Abrams, 13 Emily Street.

Poisoned Food Thrown by 'Fiend' To Ducks, 12 Die

Toronto, Nov. 15 — (CP) — Poisoned food is believed to have killed a dozen ducks in Riverdale Park pond here Saturday night, police said today.

Police said a "fiend" had thrown poisoned food to the ducks. Eleven were found dead and another died Sunday.

MONEY TAKEN FROM SAFE

Wallaceburg, Nov. 15 (CP)— A 400 pound safe stolen from the Hawken Milling Co., office Saturday was found on the Bear Line Road of Dover Township early today by Bernard Coneny, farmer of Dover.

MACKENZIE KING, P.M. FOR 21 YEARS, RESIGNS OFFICE

Brief Ceremony Marks Act of Resignation

Ottawa, Nov. 15 (CP) — Prime Minister Mackenzie King tendered his resignation today, and the Governor-General quickly called on Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent to form a new government.

Mr. St. Laurent, now Justice Minister, left Government House at 12.:10 p.m EST without indicating to reporters whether he had accepted, but it was a certainty he would take over the government this afternoon and bring in two new cabinet members.

It was expected the changeover would be made between 3.40 and 4.00 p.m. with Mr. King remaining Prime Minister until the actual shift.

The two ministers, a Government House source said, will be former Premier Garson of Manitoba as Justice Minister and R. H. Winters, 38-year-old commons member for Queens-Luxenburg. as Minister of Reconstruction and Supply.

Today's history-making developments, ending the long Mackenzie King era, came quietly, with no external display and in the presence of few spectators.

The whole procedure had a matter-of-fact air. Watching newspaper men and a halfful of passers-by at Laurier House where formalities involved in the transfer of power, except for those officials directly concerned.

For the morning's proceedings, Mr. St. Laurent was dressed casually in a black lounge suit. However, the Governor-General and Mr. King wore formal morning clothes.

The Prime Minister's morning trip from his home to Government House and return took less than a half hour. He left his home at 11.48 a.m. to submit his resignation.

A. B. Saunders, C.N.R. Supt., Dies In St. Thomas

Toronto, Nov. 15 — Word has been received at regional headquarters here of the sudden demise yesterday afternoon of A. B. Saunders, superintendent, St. Thomas Division, Canadian National Railways, with headquarters at St. Thomas. The late Mr. Saunders was 56 and well-known in railway circles, particularly in Ontario where he served at a number of points during his long association with the National System. Funeral service was held at Williams Funeral Home, St. Thomas, Ont., this Monday morning following which the late Mr. Saunders was taken by train to Toronto for interment in Park Lawn Cemetery, Tuesday.

Alexander B. Saunders was a native of Dutteville, Oregon, where he was born December 27, 1892. He began his railway career as a locomotive fireman at Mimico, Ont., in 1912, and was promoted to engineer five years later. In 1923, he became instructor of firemen and, in 1930, was moved to Hornepayne, Ont., as master mechanic. Three years later he was transferred to Stratford, Ont., as engine tester, and in July, 1935, went to the Belleville division as master mechanic. He was named superintendent of the Hornepayne division, in June, 1941, and on July 1st, 1944, was appointed superintendent of the St. Thomas division.

FORMER O.A.C. PRESIDENT DIES

Port Hope, Nov. 15 (CP)— Dr. Joseph Benson Reynolds, 80, President Emeritus of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, died Saturday in nearby Bowmanville.

Born at Solina, in Durham Dr. Reynolds graduated from the University of Toronto in 1893 and joined the staff of the Ontario Agricultural College. in 1915 he became president of the Manitoba Agricultural College in Winnipeg and in 1920 he returned to O.A.C. as its president. He retired to his home in Port Hope in 1928.

Canada Demands U.N. Order Arabs and Jews to Negotiate Armistice in the Holy Land

Paris, Nov. 15 (CP)—Canada today demanded that the United Nations order Arabs and Jews to negotiate an immediate armistice in the Holy Land.

Gen. A. G. L. McNaughton offered a new resolution to the Security Council following closely suggestions of acting mediator Ralph Bunche.

The Canadian draft calls the Palestine situation a threat to peace. It said an armistice is a necessary bridge between the broken truce and a final settlement.

The resolution called on the Jews and Arabs to negotiate either directly or through Bunche to set up permanent armistice demarcation lines. It asked for a withdrawal and reduction of Israeli and Arab troops to maintain the armistice.

Informed circles said the United States has shown great interest in the original Bunche proposal to replace the truce with an armistice. These sources said United States delegation members talked with Israeli and some Arab delegates.

The General Assembly's 58-power political committee spent its first half hour arguing whether to begin debate on political questions in Palestine.

McNaughton, in the 11-power Security Council, said he conferred with Belgium and France. He is known also to have consulted the United States and Britain. The Council invited representatives of Israel, Egypt and Lebanon to the meeting.

Only Short Time Available

"We would have ranged farther in our discussions but a very short time was available to do so," the Canadian delegate said. He apologized to "my other colleagues" for not having consulted them beforehand in the resolution.

The Security Council has before it a proposal to extend the U.N. truce now in effect in the Negev desert of southern Palestine to all of the Holy Land.

The report of the new United States move came amidst strong Israeli protests against an order for Jewish troops to withdraw from southern Negev.

Israeli officials here and in Tel Aviv protested the order of Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, acting U. N. Palestine mediator, received in Tel Aviv Sunday. The order requested Israeli forces to withdraw from Negev territory won from the Egyptian army since last Oct. 14 and turn over the town of Beersheba to the Arabs. The U. N. previously had ordered that hostilities cease on Oct. 14.

If the order finally is carried out, Israeli soldiers will be pulled out of a section of southern Palestine about 20 miles long and 25 miles deep. Egyptian troops would hold their present positions and the U.N. would supervise the evacuated area until a final Palestine settlement is reached.

Premer Mahmoud Fahmy Nokrashi Pasha of Egypt said Sunday night Egypt has accepted Bunche's recommendations for restoration of the status quo in the Negev.

Despite Israeli protests of Bunche's plan, there has been no indication what step the new Jewish state will take next. Israeli has protested repeatedly against giving up any territory won from the Arabs.

CHINESE TROOPS FIGHT TO ESCAPE COMMUNIST TRAP

New Mechanized Arm Assisting Forces

Nanking, Nov. 15 (AP)— Government troops today fought with the aid of a new mechanized arm to escape a massive Communist trap in the battle for Central China.

Pro-government press dispatches indicated the attempt to crack through the pincers movement was succeeding, but they lacked confirmation. Shanghai accounts went so far as to declare the Nationalists had turned the red tide at Suchow Sunday.

Suchow is 200 miles northwest of Nanking. It is there the Chinese Red army must be stopped—or the road to the Chinese capital will be open. Suchow itself might fall without serious consequence if government commanders can avoid entrapment.

All sources agreed the Communists had cut off General Huang Potao's seventh army corps at Nienchuang, 33 miles east of Suchow. Chinese Central News Agency reported General Chiu Ching-Chuan's new mechanized army—first of its kind in China—had broken through Communist lines around Suchow and joined units of the seventh corps. The official spokesman here declined to confirm it, however.

(Word that Chiang Kai-Shek's younger son, Col. Chiang Wei-Kuo, led troops reaching Nienchuang suggested that possibly only advance elements had made junction with the seventh corps.)

There was new danger to the west flank of the Suchow battle. Chinese press advices reported four Communist columns had moved southward to menace isolated Sunsien, on the rail line 45 miles south of Suchow.

Heavy fighting also was reported between Suchow and Pengpu, about 100 miles south.

Fall of Paoting, capital of Hopei Province, was reported imminent. Official quarters in ePiping confirmed the evacuation of government regulars and top officials from the city, 90 miles southwest of Peiping.

Tiger Claws Zoo Official, Later Trapped, Shot

Stoneham, Mass., Nov. 15 (AP) —A full-grown tiger Sunday broke loose from his cage in the midst of 150 persons at the Spot Pond Zoo and clawed a zoo official before he was trapped and shot by police.

James McCarthy, 57, assistant curator of the zoo, suffered a compound fracture of the right arm and several deep face cuts while trying vainly to hold the cage door shut.

Attendants said 150 persons in the long house which is lined on both sides with animal cages escaped uninjured only because the tiger attacked a lion house in a near-by cage as soon as he gained freedom.

News That 'It's a Boy' Starts Canadians Rejoicing Over Birth

(By The Canadian Press)

Twenty-one gun salutes booming out today in Ottawa and in most provincial capitals helped Canadians celebrate the birth of a prince to Princess Elizabeth.

A Royal Canadian Navy flotilla at Esquimalt, B.C., fired a salute almost immediately the news came through late Sunday. On the other coast, a broadside today by the aircraft carrier Magnificent was timed to coincide with the arrival of a United States Navy task force arriving in Halifax on a courtesy visit.

Morning papers broke out their "second coming" type for the headline: "It's a Boy!"

Canadians shared with the rest of the Commonwealth the jubilation over the arrival of the infant who may some day be king. In private homes, many a toast was drunk to the "really splendid baby" of the young Princess and her handsome sailor-husband.

Church bells pealed in joyful celebration in a score of cities across the land. Congregations offered special prayers for the baby Prince and other members of the Royal Family.

The Governor-General, Viscount Alexander, sent a message of congratulation to the Princess on behalf of all Canadians. As one of his last official acts as prime minister, Mackenzie King, retiring today, in a cable expressed the good wishes and felicitations of the Canadian government.

Mayor William L. Houck of Niagara Falls, Ont., was one of the first Canadian mayors to get a congratulatory cable away to the Royal Mother. More than a year ago his city invited Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip to visit Niagara Falls on their honeymoon.

The mayor of Brantford, Walter J. Dowden, prepared to shop for at least four little silver dollars for D. A. Thomson of Woodstock, planned money gifts for each baby born in his city the same day as the Princess' first child.

"A Bonny Lad" Say Members Of Royal Household

New Prince Weighed Seven Pounds, Six Ounces at Birth

By NORMAN CRIBBENS
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

London, Nov. 15 — (CP) — A son who may one day rule the Commonwealth was born Sunday night to Princess Elizabeth. Today Buckingham Palace announced that the new Prince weighed seven pounds, six ounces at birth.

The announcement of the weight of the royal child came shortly after palace officials flashed word to a jubilant Britain that the condition of both mother and son "is satisfactory."

Members of the royal household described the Prince as "a lovely boy, a really splendid baby," and "a bonny lad."

The four doctors who attended the birth Sunday night visited the mother and baby early this morning while church bells pealed and happy crowds clustered at the palace gates.

They issued this bulletin:

"Her Royal Highness the Princess Elizabeth has had some sleep during the night. Her condition and that of the infant Prince is satisfactory."

Court circles said the wording of the doctors' bulletin, referring to "some" sleep, indicated the Princess did not have an entirely restful night.

Today cities, towns and hamlets in Britain, the Dominions and the Colonies gave the new Prince a royal welcome.

Sunday night's momentous news of the birth came in a formal 26-word announcement from the doctors attending the Princess. It said:

"Her Royal Highness, the Princess Elizabeth, Duchess of Edinburgh, was safely delivered of a Prince at 9:14 p.m. (4:14 p.m. EST) today (Sunday). Her Royal Highness and her son are both doing well."

Thousands Wait For Hours

Joyous thousands, who had waited for hours in the mild November weather, heard of the safe delivery nearly an hour later.

ROYAL BABY — Page 4

Birth Briefs

London, Nov. 15 — (CP) — The arrival of Britain's new Prince to Princess Elizabeth and Prince Philip ousted Princess Margaret as second in succession to the throne. She moved to the third, place, followed by the King's brother, the Duke of Gloucester, as fourth.

No extra financial provision will be made for the child until he becomes 18. Princess Elizabeth now receives £40,000 ($160,000) annually and Prince Philip £10,000 ($40,000) from state funds.

The birth crowded most other news from Britain's morning newspapers, but the communist Daily Worker did not give it a single line. The Daily Graphic dropped all its advertising and devoted six of its eight pages to the birth.

The beautiful Church of St. Mary Magdalene in Sandringham, the King's favorite country estate, probably will be the scene of the christening. The Royal Family usually spends Christmas at Sandringham. Elizabeth and Philip are expected to go there in mid-December for the Yule season. The Archbishop of Canterbury is expected to officiate at the christening, aided by the Archbishop of York.

In Buckingham Palace, the baby had a more elegant birthplace than either his mother or father. Elizabeth was born in her maternal grandfather's private home in London's Mayfair district. Phillip was born in a private establishment of the Greek Royal Family on the Island of Corfu.

Brothers Die Hours Apart

Napanee, Nov. 15—Two brothers of the Napanee district, Chester Snider, 87, and J. Edgar Snider, 78 died hours apart over the weekend and a double funeral service will be conducted here this Monday afternoon. Chester was taken ill on Thursday and died Saturday morning. Later his brother died Friday following a long period of hospital confinement.

During their active years they had worked together as carpenters and were well known among the farming community. Barn work was their specialty. Chester resided in South Napanee and is survived by his widow, formerly Margaret E. Davies and two daughters, Mrs. Birrell Brown, and Mrs. Marguerite Young of Napanee.

GOVERNOR-GENERAL TO OPEN NEW LEGION HALL AT PICTON

Viscount Alexander of Tunis, Governor-General of Canada, will formally open the new quarters of Branch 78 Canadian Legion, Picton, on Saturday, Nov. 20th. A portrait photograph of the Governor-General has been donated to the branch and will be hung in the main hall of the new club. The portrait measures four by five feet and is in a gilt frame. It was the gift of the Picton manager of the Canadian Department Stores.

Police Blotter

Young boys testing their stone-throwing abilities were active in two different sections of the city over the weekend with residents on Ponton Street and also on Dufferin Ave. reporting their residences being hit by stones.

The Ponton Street resident complained that the stone went through the glass in the storm door and then came into the house when it crashed through the glass in the front door. In the other instance the front door was damaged by the stones.

A branch of a large tree at the corner of Queen and William St., which tumbled to the pavement, disrupted traffic during the early afternoon on Saturday. Police guarded the downed hydro wires until workmen were able to repair the damage.

Miss Jean Brickman, William St., reported the loss of approximately $200 in cash and cheques. Miss Brickman was unable to state where the money had been lost but it was thought to have been on the street after leaving the store on McAnnany Street.

Numerous traffic accidents of a minor nature were reported during the weekend. No injuries were reported as result of any of the fender clashes.

Stirling Woman Instantly Killed On Ridge Road

Struck by an auto as she was walking on the Ridge Road, two miles east of Stirling, Mrs. David Heath, age 60 years, of R. R. 2, Stirling, was instantly killed early Saturday night.

Driver of the car involved in the accident, Melbourne Moorcroft, 21, of R.R. 3 Stirling, told provincial police, that he had been driving west along the county road when he was blinded by the lights of an approaching car. He felt a slight bump on the car and immediately stopping the vehicle, found the body of Mrs. Heath on the north shoulder of the road.

Coroner Dr. E. A. Carleton of Stirling ordered an inquest looking into the death of the woman, the preliminary being held this morning at the Belleville Burial Funeral Home.

The coroner's jury empanelled by County Constable Thomas Thorne included Bob Christmas, Ralph Knowlton, Arthur Rogers, Wesley Evans and Neil Harris.

Born at Kellar's Bridge

The late Mrs. Heath was born at Kellar's Bridge in Madoc township and was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Sanford. With the exception of the past five years which she had lived in the Stirling district, she had resided in Madoc township. She and Mr. Heath were retired from the farm.

She was a member of St. Paul's United Church, Stirling, and was Past Noble Grand of the Oakdale Rebekah Lodge, No. 134 Madoc. Two years ago she had transferred to the Laurel Rebekah Lodge No. 211 at Stirling.

Surviving are her husband, David Heath, four daughters, Mrs. Boyne (Marjorie) Heath, Dunnville, Ont.; Mrs. Thomas (Grace) Wedlock, Toronto; Mrs. Archie (Lorna) Abbott, Victoria, B.C.; and Mrs. Arthur (Tris) Alexander, of Queensboro, and two sons, William Roberts and Earl Roberts, both of Toronto. There are two stepsons, Clarence Heath, Toronto, and Boyne Heath of Dunnville, also two stepdaughters, Mrs. Ernest Stewart, Bonarlaw, and Mrs. Harold Reid, Toronto.

The funeral announcement is made elsewhere in this edition.

MORTALITY RATE DROPS

London — (CP) — During the third quarter of 1948 Britain's infant mortality fell to a new low. The death rate for children under one year of age was 28 per 1,000 live births. This compares with 31 per 1,000 in the previous quarter and 42 ten years ago.

Annual Regimental Dinner Of 9th Anti Tank Regt. Held After Veterans Attend Parade

Preceded by the annual church parade, Lieut. Col. Jack Cousins, commanding officer, the 9th Anti Tank Regt (RCA), his officers and all ranks held the yearly regimental dinner in a lecture room at the Bridge Street Armouries on Sunday afternoon. Special guest was Lieut.-Col. C. G. F. Stone, D.D., M.B.E., Ottawa, principal Protestant chaplain of the Canadian Army, who addressed the troops and a large number of veterans of two wars at St. Thomas' Church, during the morning memorial service.

An impressive feature of the service was the tribute to the memory of those of St. Thomas' Parish who gave their lives in two great wars. Major the Ven. Archdeacon Arthur Smith, unveiled the plaque on which are inscribed the names of those who died for civilization, and read them to the congregation.

Headed by Pipers

Some eighty veterans, members of war service organizations, attended the service in conjunction with members of the 9th Anti Tank Regiment. Headed by the skirling pipes of the Belleville Kiltie Band under Pipe Major Jamie Clark, the parade left the Armouries a few minutes before eleven and marched to the church where it occupied the centre block of pews.

Following the impressive address by Col. Stone, the muted notes of "Last Post" rang out from a hidden trumpeter, followed later by the "Reveille." Lieut.-Col. Cousins read the Scripture lesson. Presiding at the organ was Mr. Ernest Wheatley, Mus. Bac., ARCO.

Following the memorial service the parade returned to the Armouries where the dinner was served to officers and other rank of the regiment. In charge of the catering were the Regent and members of the Argyll Chapter, I.O.D.E., who were the recipients of many fine tributes for their outstanding efforts in providing the repast.

Welcomed by O. C.

At the head table were Col. Stone, Col. Cousins and his officers from the Napanee and Belleville batteries of the unit and Regimental Sergeant Major Lacey and guests.

Col. Cousins formally welcomed the officers and men of the unit in a brief address besides paying tribute to the ladies of the I.O.D.E. chapter. R.S.M. Lacey in a brief address which was intended mainly for the other ranks of the unit stressed the importance of regular attendance on regimental parades—and the pride of unit.

Col. Stone paid fine tribute to the regiment and the I.O.D.E. for the dinner stating that it was one of the best regimental functions of its kind he had been privileged to attend. "It is a fine gesture on the part of your commanding officer," he told the regiment, "one that is highly commended."

Tribute Paid I.O.D.E.

In his tribute to the I.O.D.E. Col. Stone commended their interest and effort stating that the Regent and members were setting a fine example for others to follow.

Speaking of the Reserve Army, he said that he hoped the citizens of this city would get behind the reserve units and encourage them as much as possible. He recalled, he said, "the awful state the reserve army had gotten into during the interim between wars; the cutting of estimates etc., and the general lack of interest on the part of the public. Things are better now, he said for the permanent forces now have a purpose of assisting to build up and encourage the reserve units.

The dinner concluded with a general sing-song and social amenities.

Council Gives Tentative Approval Of W.C.A. Plans to Build Home

Members of city council Friday evening gave tentative approval to plans of the Women's Christian Association to construct a 30-patient old people's home on the site of the former home which last January was badly damaged by fire that swept through the structure.

Council recommended, however, that before any definite action was taken with regard to construction of the building that the advice of Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, Ontario Minister of Health, be asked.

In a letter to city council asking financial support for the venture, members of the W.C.A. stated they would like to build a new and modern home to the full extent of the present site on Dundas Street. They asked for assurance from the city that the municipality would meet the cost of the building.

No Estimate of Cost

The letter went on to say that it was impossible to secure a definite estimate as to the probable cost of the building until the Association was in position to know they had the financial means for the building. The city was asked to make a grant of $60,000 toward the building under its agreement of supplying up to $100,000 for replacement of the former home. With the city's promise of financial aid plans and prices would be secured for the approval of council.

The Association felt that the site of the former home for the aged had many definite advantages for that particular type of building.

In a recomendation council "approved in principle" with the request of the W.C.A. in regard to building a new home. It added, however, that the advice of the Minister of Welfare be asked before any definite action was taken in the matter.

Housewife Wins $30,200 in Prizes

New York, Nov. 15 — (AP) — An Attleboro, Mass., housewife yesterday won $30,200 in prizes for correctly naming the "mystery melody" on the American Broadcasting Company's "Stop the Music" program.

ABC said the jackpot was the biggest in the history of the "Stop the Music" give-away show.

Mrs. Edward Easton, 34, a jewelry salesman's wife, identified the program's mystery melody over the telephone as "The Minstrel's Return from the War."

Keen Competition Marks Final Contest Of S. H. Public Speaking Competition

Sponsored by the South Hastings Educational Association, the final public speaking contest for the area was held in Queen Alexandra School Auditorium on Friday evening. Mr. Harry Harrison, Reeve of Thurlow township, and president of the S.H.E.A., acted as chairman for the meeting at which 13 county pupils participated.

Winners of the first three prizes in the competition were Jimmie Stafford, Grade 5, S. S. 29 Tyendinaga, for his talk on "A Dream;" Roberta Allen, Grade 8, S. S. 29, Tyendinaga, "Our Forests;" and Marion Reid, Grade 6, Foxboro, "Conservation of Trees and Wild Life."

The quality of each contestant's composition and delivery was such that the judges found their task not an easy one.

The competitors in alphabetical order were:

Jack Boyes, Grade 7, R.C.A.F. Breadner School; Joan Campbell, Grade 6, No. 20 Sidney; William Mainer, Grade 5, R.C.A.F. Breadner School; Getha Joslin, Grade 8, Foxboro; Lawrence Moore, Grade 8, Cannifton; Jack Rushnell, Grade 6, No. 23 Sidney; Rosemary Shannon, Grade 6, No. 22 Tyendinaga; Jacqueline Smith, Grade 7, Wallbridge; Nada Stavjanik, Grade 8, Frankford, and Barbara Stickle, Grade 7, Frankford.

Report Presented

After a musical number by Miss Verna Fox, a report on the committee on conservation and reforestation as they affect schools was given by the president, H. A. Harrison. The principal of Queen Alexandra School, W. Gordon Anderson, commented on the speeches given by the contestants.

Miss Fox led the meeting in a lively and enjoyable singsong accompanied by Mrs. J. Parrot at the piano. The Warden's Medal for highest marks on High School Entrance was presented to Miss Marion Sills, S. S. 9 Thurlow, by George West. S. H. E. A. Scholarships were awarded Miss Enid Coombes, No. 19 Sidney; Miss Sheila Preston, No. 17 Thurlow; and Miss Mary Rodd, S. S. 29, Tyendinaga; were presented by J. A. Warren.

Awards Given

School Improvement Awards, given by the Ontario Horticultural Association for the most improved school in each township, were presented by Inspector Macklem of the Board of Education to representatives of the winning schools. Awards were presented to No. 24 Sidney, Chairman J. Campbell; Teacher, Miss G. Gunter; S. S. 22 Thurlow, Chairman, G. Macdonald, Principal, H. C. Walkom and S. S. 29, Tyendinaga, Chairman J. Haight; Teacher, Mrs. K. McGurn.

The report of the nominating committee was heard and officers were elected for the coming season.

Sen. MacDonald Dies in P.E.I.

Charlottetown, Nov. 15 (CP)—Senator J. Alexander Macdonald, 75, died today at his home in nearby Cardigan. A senator since 1935, he had previously served as a Conservative Member of the House of Commons for Kings. Death was due to a heart attack.

Born at Tracadie, P.E.I., April 12, 1874, John Alexander Macdonald was the son of Scottish parents. He became a merchant and produce exporter as president of the J.A. Macdonald and Company Limited firm at Cardigan and president of Associated Shippers Incorporated at Charlottetown.

Canadian Education Week

Education Week in Canada is an annual one-week program devoted to the aims, ideals and needs of Canada's schools and their teachers and pupils.

This program is presented by the Canadian Teachers' Federation for the use of all who wish to take part in promoting better educational facilities and standards throughout this great country.

Education Week was first held in 1921 in the United States under the auspices of the American Legion and the National Education Association of the U.S.A.

Canada's first Education Week was held in 1935 at the initiative of the Canadian Teachers' Federation. Since that time it has been an international institution, with Canadian and American educationists co-operating to take stock of education's achievements and problems during one special week of each year.

Following is the theme for today:

The School Teaches Responsible Citizenship

We are not born responsible citizens; we are not even born with the ability to get along with our brothers and sisters. We have to learn these things.

Before we reach school age our ability to learn anything not obviously connected with immediate need is severely limited. After we leave school it is often too late to change habits already formed. While we are at school, we have both the opportunity and a growing amount of ability to learn how to get on with other people, and how to take an active part in community, provincial and national life.

A responsible citizen is:

a good neighbor — one who understands the other man's point of view;

one who respects the rights of others;

one who knows that every privilege has a corresponding responsibility;

one who understands how democracy should work in his community, province and nation, and in his daily life—and takes part in it;

one who respects the democratic process, the laws that it produces and the properly constituted authorities who see that they are carried out.

The foundation of good citizenship is good human relations. The school teaches tomorrow's citizens how to get along with one another.

TORONTO STOCKS

Toronto, Nov. 15 (CP) — Industrials rose steadily as trading slowed here today. Golds continued to slip downward to touch the lowest figure on the exchange's index since 1943. Base metals were moderately active for small gains.

Changes were generally confined to fractions in the industrial list as the list was slow in moving ahead. Early fractional losses were wiped out towards noon and utilities, steels and liquors showed light improvement. International Paper, Consolidated Paper and Great Lake Paper were ahead fractions while refining oils weakened.

Smelters rose briskly in the base metals list, gaining 1 1/4. Hudson Bay and International Nickel also added fractions and New Calumet, Pend Oreille and base metals were ahead 4 to 10 cents.

Trading virtually disappeared from the recently active speculative golds. San Antonio, Kirkland Lake, Discovery, Yellowknife and Wright - Hargreaves were among the losers.

TORONTO LIVESTOCK

Toronto, Nov. 15 (CP) — Trade was slow wth prices weak on lower grade cattle on the livestock market here today, but the few good to choice cattle offered sold about steady. Hogs were unsettled and lambs were generally 50 cents higher. Receipts reported by the Dominion Marketing Service were cattle 4,800; calves 1,200; hogs 600; sheep and lambs 1,200. Held from last week's trading were 500 head and the present supply includes 1,500 stockers.

Weighty steers sold at $17-$24.75 with butcher steers at $17-$22. Heigers were mostly $16.50-$21. Butcher cows were $13-$17.50 with bulls at $15.25-$21. Fed yearlings were $20-$28 with a few at $30. Stockers sold mostly at $17-$19 with a few good feeders up to $21.

Good to choice calves were firm at $27-$29 for good to choice with heavies at $18-$25. Grass calves were $14-$15.

No hog prices were established.

Lambs were generally 50 cents higher with the bulk of good ewes and wethers at $23.50 wth $1 discount on bucks. Cull lambs were $14-$16. Sheep were strong at $6-$10.25.

Guardian Says King Wins His Place in History

Manchester, England, Nov. 15 (CP)—The Manchester Guardian says today that Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Prime Minister longer than any other man in British history, "led Canada from adolescence through the perils of a world war to a mature nationhood which is nowhere called into question."

The Prime Minister is resigning today.

Mackenzie King kept the standard of liberal democracy flying despite being "bitterly assailed by the isolationists of Quebec and by the imperialists of Toronto and by the socialists and by big business," The Guardian says in an editorial.

"He leaves Canada more united, more prosperous, more self-assured than he found it; in its independence of a better friend than ever of Britain, a more respected neighbor of the United States and an acknowledged leader amongst the secondary powers of the democratic world.

"He has won his place in history. Canada will feel strange without him at the East Block".

HYDRO SHORTAGE MORE CRITICAL WITH EACH DAY

Further Cuts Will be Necessary for Municipalities to Keep Within Quota

Ottawa, Nov. 15 (CP)— More power cuts appeared imminent today for Ontario municipalities as the critical power shortage continued in the wake of diminishing supplies.

Brockville and St. Thomas may lengthen their power cuts, starting today. Ottawa will introduce further blackouts if there is no general improvement in the power scene.

Meanwhile, on record were two statements as to the reasons for the root of the shortage, one by Robert H. Saunders, Ontario Hydro Chairman, and the other by Trade Minister Howe.

Mr. Howe, speaking in London, Ont., Saturday laid full blame for Ontario's hydro crisis on George Drew, former Ontario Premier and now National Progressive Conservative leader.

He told a convention of Liberals: "The shortage is serious now and threatens to assume calamity proportions next year. It is wholly due to neglect in dealing with a solution that was foreseen six years ago."

In contrast was the view of Mr. Saunders. Although he made no direct reference to Mr. Howe's remarks, he told the Ottawa Curling Club on the same day that a general lack of sufficient water was responsible for Ontario's power shortage.

"No person can be blamed for the present shortage," he said.

Most Critical Period

To back up his statement, the Hydro Chairman said with the same water supply available Nov. 1 as last year, hydro had a supply of 35,150,000 kilowatt hours, or a reserve of 971,673, since the demand took only 34,178,327 kilowatt hours.

"We won't be worrying about cut-offs next year" if normal water levels prevail, Mr. Saunders said. But right now Ontario Hydro was going through "one of the most critical periods in its four decades of service."

There was every need to conserve power. As an indication, figures released in Toronto by the Ontario Hydro Commission during the weekend showed:

Deliveries of power from Quebec contractors to the Ontario Hydro-Electric Power Commission were cut last week to less than one-half of the amounts the original contract called for.

LONGSHOREMEN REFUSE TO WORK DIVERTED SHIPS

Workers Do Not Wish To be Classed as Scabs

Halifax, Nov. 15 (CP)— Halifax longshoremen announced today they would not work any more ships diverted here from strike-bound United States ports.

J. J. Campbell, President of the Halifax Longshoremen's Association (A.F.L.), said, however, that the stevedores had decided to complete loading and unloading of the Mauretania, already in port, and were considering doing the same for three other ships.

He felt the same decision would be made regarding these ships, the Veendam, Britannic and Oregan.

Mr. Campbell said the decision to stop working diverted ships came after the Unted States longshoremen's strike became official. While the U.S. strike was unofficial Halifax longshoremen had continued to work but now they did not wish to be classed as "scabs" and would work "no more diverted ships."

Halifax has about 2,000 longshoremen but today's no work call will affect only several gangs.

The longshoremen will still continue to work ships whose original destination was Halifax.

Whether Mr. Campbell's "original destination" statement covered ships such as the Queen Elizabeth which announced its destination as Halifax before departing from Southampton was not known.

Walk Off Ships

The immediate effect of the decision means that several gangs of stevedores have walked off three big ships diverted to this port after having sailed from Europe for New York. The ships are the Mauretania, Britannic and Veendam.

Previously, the longshoremen's president said all diverted ships would be treated as "routine arrivals."

This new development would mean a serious business cut for Halifax which has been basking in a booming shipping business since United States longshoremen went on strike.

Railway officials were kept busy sending special chartered trains in and out of Halifax carrying strike-stranded passengers.

Diverted ships brought nearly 3,000 passengers into this old wartime convoy gathering point before today's work stoppage announcement.

Drew Outlines Major Points Of Party Policy

Fredericton, Nov. 15 (CP) — George Drew, national leader of the Progressive Conservative Party, returned to his home in Toronto Sunday after completing a tour of the Maritime Provinces.

The one-week tour took him into the capitals of three provinces and into a number of other communities. He and Mrs. Drew made scores of speeches, visited many friends and met privately with supporters to discuss party matters.

In his speeches, Mr. Drew stressed his stand on the question of Dominion-Provincial relations. But in doing so, he made some major statements of party policy. For instance, in Moncton, N.B., major rail centre of the Maritimes, he declared that:

1. He is opposed to amalgamation of the Canadian National and Canadian Pacific Railways.
2. His party is on record in favor of family allowances on an "even level" for every child regardless of the size of the family.
3. His party stands for old age pensions at 65 years without the means test.
4. He hopes to convince the government at the next session to reduce living costs by slashing taxes.
5. If elected one of the first things his government will do is reconvene the Dominion-Provincial Conference to settle constitutional and taxation issues.
6. The present government could reduce the cost of living, not through rigid controls, but by reducing taxes now running "unnecessarily" at a rate which would give the government an estimated $500,000,000 surplus this year.

Mr. Drew, 54-year-old former Premier of Ontario, was elected to the national leadership of the party at a convention in Ottawa last month.

A task now facing him is a by-election campaign in the Ontario constituency of Carleton where he will seek election to the Commons Dec. 20. He will attend a nomination convention in the constituency Nov. 20 and then plan his campaign.

Two Are Killed In Car Crash Near Niagara Falls

Niagara Falls, Ont., Nov. 15 — (CP) — A Toronto woman and a St. Catharines' motorist lost their lives shortly before 1 a. m. today in a two-car crash six miles west of here on the Queen Elizabeth Way.

Dead are: Mrs. Mary Chorner, Toronto, and Wilfred A. Sheehan, (163 St. Paul Crescent) St. Catharines.

Injured are: Alex Chorner, husband of the dead woman; Norman Gold, Toronto, and Harry Wishen, Toronto.

Police said that the Chorner vehicle crashed into the rear of an overturned auto owned by F. R. Dore, of R. R. 3, St. Catharines. The impact of the crash threw Sheehan to the road and he died instantly. Police said he had stopped his auto to go to Dore's assistance after seeing the Dore vehicle lying on its side, partly off the highway.

None of the injured people are seriously hurt and all are expected to recover. Dore escaped from the original crash with minor injuries.

Truck Goes into Ditch Driver Slightly Injured

Driver for Montrose Dairy, Edgar McCreary of Corbyville, escaped with only a cut wrist thi morning when his truck went ou of control on Hghway No. 2 a Jones' Creek, three miles west o the city, and slid down a ten-foo embankment and into the water.

Provincial police who investigated the accident stated no othe car was involved in the acciden

McCreary was driving east, th truck loaded mostly with empt milk bottles when for some reaso it went out of control and wen down the embankment on th north side of the highway. Th truck came to rest on its side i the water of the creek. McCreary' injury was not serious but th truck was badly damaged.

REMANDED A WEEK

Lindsay, Nov. 15 (CP)— Herman George Woodcox, 33-year-old lumberman, charged with th shotgun killing of Arnold Gill 20, at Tory Hill on Hallowe'e night, today was remanded fo one week. Woodcock appeare only briefly before Magistrate E A. Gee as crown attorney Lorn Jordan requested the remand until Nov. 20 when the preliminar hearing is expected to proceed.

I. E. Weldon, K.C., of Lindsa and Toronto, is acting for Woodcox.

Saving Fire Loss in Forests

Fire damage in Ontario's forests this year will be par- lly redeemed by a new salvage plan to save 200 million t of red, white and jack pine in the north. Logging ns have been let contracts to undertake this work. Trees ich have been killed by the forest fires will have to be this autumn and stored in the waters of the northern rts to save the timber from the plague of insects. On the already are 900 men and timber to the amount of six llion feet is safe in the Mississagi streams and rivers and es.

At this time the country needs timber and saving of a ge amount will be of immense assistance to the build- g trade.

Fires played a bold hand this year, causing heavy de- uction because of the dry conditions. Now it is well to ow that modern lumbering can save a large amount of is type of timber and help undo some of the harm caused fire. Forest wealth is something to be treasured for it ows its crops as do grains.

Stout-Hearted Britons to Celebrate

Britain is planning for an event of importance in the t distant future, a great celebration on a national scale mark the end of the economic stringency which Britain s felt and which she is struggling by means of exports d work to overcome.

The end of the problem is expected to come in 1952, at is the hope. The observance to mark her emergence m the problems will be on a vast scale, something like e observance of D-Day. General Lord Lemay, advisor to e wartime Premier, Mr. Churchill, will have the plans in s charge and expects to create through this happy ending the economic strain something which will be a mighty petus to the spirit of the individual and of the people as whole. The scene will be set in London on a large site on e south bank of the Thames. 27 acres will be cleared of rehouses which are now on the property and here will erected a "Festival City," with every evidence of the owth of British scientific and technical skill.

The buildings will be permanent structures, the Lon- n County Council planning to erect a five million dollar ncert hall which will hold 4,000 people. Here will be estival City," displaying the evidence of the march of ence and technique in industry. Britain herein shows r sense of values which make up the national life and aracter.

There will be many local festivals during that summer places where many visitors come in the course of the ason. There will even be a large travelling exhibition iting many large cities.

Britons will have every rsason to be proud of their pro- ess. They have known austerity and have been bearing rdens with a smile and with a willing mind and hand in der to conquer the problems which have faced Britain.

Her course has been a remarkable one — an example the world of tenacity and readiness to bear burdens hich they know ought to be borne not only for their own ke but for the sake of other peoples.

Their planning and their execution of the plans can ell have an important effect upon the mood of the world. will again bring recognition of the courage of the British ople in facing and triumphing over all sorts of tasks and ties. Britons have earned the admiration of the world ot only in the great times of danger but they merit praise Britain's achievements in this and other times.

Britons have not dodged austerity. They have faced with courage which inevitably brings triumph by sur- ounting difficulties as stepping stones to higher ings.

Fallen Leaves

Almost the last of the leaves have fallen and tree life as completed another year or cycle. Many have been auled away, many destroyed, others are curling and hrinking or have become sodden with moisture.

A New York Times writer draws attention to the speed which leaves fall, noting that they are really not light ut heavy. He says that if they were light as described they ould remain on the trees or blow far out to sea and would orm a model for all airplane draftsmen. The secret is the ingspread which is "tremendous." "They drop down just s quickly as they can, and, it will be remembered, in a acuum one leaf falls as rapidly as a ton of bricks."

DIFFICULT CHOICE

All the experts say to me:
"Naught's so greedy as a tree,"
Taking food that I supply
For the peonies nearby,
Stretching out its arms to gain
More and more of run and rain.

In a selfish way it shoots
'Neath the grass its slender roots.
Night and day I'm told they feed
On the food the roses need,
And the experts say to me:

make!
Which of two friends to forsake?
Which of two old friends to doom:
Shady tree or lovely bloom?
Keep them both? They answer: "No!
One to death must surely go.

"Keep the tree if you should choose,
Rose and peony you'll lose.
Keep the flowers? Then it must be

DO ALL MEN HAVE THEIR PRICE?

Abraham Lincoln always tried to make sure before he took a case that his client was innocent of any wrong and that full justice was on his side.

Occasionally he was fooled. Once, as a case progressed, it became evident that Lincoln's client was a rascal who had made his case seem plausible by lying to his lawyer. Lincoln finally left the courtroom. After a few minutes the judge sent a tipstaff to find Lincoln. He was at the hotel across the street washing his hands, trying, as he said, to his client's dirt washed off. He sent word back to the judge that he was through with the case.

There is a modern writer who claims that all idealists compromise. They start out well, but eventually the game of life makes them cut corners, and finally justify everything that makes them richer or more comfortable.

Such writers should remember not only Abraham Lincoln, who died many years ago, but the countless obscure men and women in this and every age who won't dirty their hands with evil for any price or for any person.

Today's Talk

RESENTMENTS

Nothing weighs heavier on the mind, or is more difficult to carry, than resentments. Not only do they rob us of essential energy, but they actually trip us up as we wend our way through life. By resenting another's happiness or good fortune, we lessen our own.

Resentment embitters one's entire outlook on life, influencing one's decisions in more ways than are realized. And what a damper to happiness! Why should we resent the happiness or good fortune of another? He always climbs highest who helps another up, even though that other one may later pass him. Time is a great equalizer!

Resentments are carried around only breeds unhappiness. The sooner it is wiped out the happier everyone concerned is sure to be.

An outstanding justifiable resentment is resentment of injustice. We should all take up with that, and whenever possible, do our best to correct such a condition. We should resent and fight against it everywhere.

How easy it is to commend another for good work done. Here in this western world it is characteristic of the people to cheer those who, through ability and merit, rise to exalted positions. Especially are we happy when those whom we have known or loved are so honored. Where Freedom flies its flag, resentments among the masses are few and far between.

To a lesser or greater degree we all have worshippers. We unity among us and immediately our literature would shrink, our arts shrivel, and our scientific and inventive genius become dull and uninspiring .

How do you think anyone could long enjoy his success, or earned happiness, if it were to be resented by any appreciable number of people? The knowledge

Mackenzie's Column:

Many Believe Communism Will Finally Blow Up

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
(Associated Press News Analyst)

Those who espouse the belief that communism will blow up in due course because of its undemocratic structure (and they are many) have received plenty of encouragement for this view in the efforts of the 58-country social committee of the United Nations Assembly in Paris to draw up a charter of human rights.

Progress in writing this all-important document has been marked by a fierce battle between Russia and the anti-communist countries. The efforts of the Muscovites have been aimed at limiting the rights of the individual and making him a pupet of the state.

New and Old

In order to understand the significance of this, it is essential that we recognize the structure of present day communism.

The current so-called communism is Bolshevism. It is a cold - blooded philosophy of totalitarian dictatorship in which the individual is wholly subservient to the state — a cog in a machine. It is an ism which expands by strong-arm aggression.

Basic Freedom

That is the background for the manoeuvres of Soviet delegate Alexei Pavlov in the social committee — and he has fought doggedly for the totalitarian code. For example, he sought to delete freedom of religion from the declaration of human rights. Naturally this aroused hot opposition among the democracies, to which freedom of religion is a cherished right.

The Russian position in this argument about religion is easy to understand. One of the cardinal tents of bolshevism is that religion is the dope of the masses and must be destroyed. The reason is obvious: A religious person can't subscribe to the evils of aggression and totalitarianism. Hitler followed a similar line with his totalitarian nazism. He tried his best to destroy religion in Germany.

Loss of Historic Church, Stirs Quebec People

By WILLIAM STEWART
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Quebec, Nov. 15 (P) — Not in a long time has loss from fire so stirred Quebec people as the blaze which burned the big Roman Catholic church of Montmagny, Quebec, on Thanksgiving Day, and destroyed so much that was linked to the earliest days of New France.

No amount of money can replace its destroyed store of robes, sacred vessels and examples, nearly two centuries old, of the wood-carving art of French Canada.

Officially the loss was estimated at between $700,000 and $800,000.

The edifice itself, modelled on the church of St. John Lateran in Rome, was 128 years old, the fourth to serve ancient St. Thomas parish.

Canon Auguste Lessard, 73-year-old parish priest and his six church wardens, have discussed plans to replace the church. The treasures it contained are gone forever.

The grey, stone Montmagny church with twin 130-foot steeples was regarded as one of the finest in the south shore farming district of the lower St. Lawrence.

The aluminum paint of its spires, a distinguishing mark of the rural churches of Quebec, could be seen from a great distance across the rolling countryside and attracted visitors motoring through Montmagny on the Gaspe tours.

The gilt main altar had been carved by Francois Noel Levasseur, Quebec sculptor who lived from 1703 - 1794. Six old carved wooden candlesticks and the church's ornate pulpit, believed to have been carved by Francois Ballarge or under the direction of that old Quebec painter, sculptor and architect, were destroyed too.

FAT IN THE FIRE

Halifax — (CP) — The fat was in the fire for a few moments at H.M.C. Dockyard. A pan of cooking fat on a galley stove in a vessel at berth ignited but the crew members put out the blaze before any damage was done.

ROYAL BABY

Word of the birth was brought to the anxious crowds by a blue-liveried page who walked briskly across the courtyard of the palace and notified the police constable on duty behind the massive bronze gates that the Princess was safely delivered of a child.

The constable promptly boomed —"It's a boy!"

That was the signal for thunderous cheers, wild hand-waving and an outburst of enthusiasm such as austere London has not known since Elizabeth, 22-year-old heiress presumptive to the Throne, and handsome Prince Philip, Duke of Edinburgh, were married last November.

The birth came six days before the first anniversary of that dramatic event in Westminster Abbey.

41-Gun Salutes Fired

While the bells of London pealed in rejoicing and 41-gun salutes were fired in Hyde Park and at the Tower of London, members of the Royal household eagerly sought a glimpse of the tiny Royal Prince. Those who had no pretext for visiting the improvised nursery on the second floor of the palace had to be content with scraps of information from others more fortunate.

Hardly a trickle of information has leaked from the Royal household but one lucky member who had seen the new Prince said: "He is a lovely boy, a really splendid baby."

The brief palace bulletin was the only official statement issued. It left many questions unanswered.

How much does the baby weigh?

Was trilene, an anaesthetic, administered?

How long was the Princess in labor?

Have the Prince's names been chosen?

Issue Second Bulletin

The desire of the rejoicing peoples of the Commonwealth of Nations may be partly satisfied in a second bulletin which, it is understodd, will be issued today.

The birth evidently was uncomplicated. Labor apparently lasted some two hours. An anaesthetic was used but reliable reports said it was not trilene.

Although the name of Elizabeth's son was not announced, the King already has disclosed he will have the title Prince (christian name) of Edinburgh and will be addressed as "His Royal Highness."

The infant's name will perhaps be kept secret until the christening—probably in the church at Sandringham, the King's favorite country estate, where the Royal Family is expected to spend Christmas.

Name Selected

One may assume that selections have been made—and that two of them are George, for the King, and Philip, for the father. Albert may be included in deference to a custom initiated by Queen Victoria, who asked that the name of her consort be included in that of future princes. In the running, too, is Louis, for Earl Mountbatten, Philip's uncle.

From the moment the birth was announced until well past midnight the crowds at the palace swelled, standing patiently, squatting on curbs, milling about or clambering over the huge Victoria monument in front of the palace.

They shouted, "we want Philip, we want Philip," and once, when police through a loudspeaker asked for silence, a man shouted "he's our Prince and we're going to cheer him." Immediately there followed the lusty chorus of "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow."

Set a Precedent

Sir Alan Lascelles, the King's private secretary who had the duty of notifying the Governor-General of Canada and the other Dominions, was hurrying to the palace when the birth took place.

Notification to the Dominions set a precedent, adding yet another indication of London's recognition of the new order in commonwealth relations.

This may have explained the lapse of an hour between the time of the Prince's birth and the official announcement.

The royal baby is the first born at Buckingham Palace since Lady Patricia Ramsay, daughter of the Duke of Connaught, a former Governor-General of Canada, was born there in 1866. That the Princess, who herself was born in London, chose the war-battered capital as the birthplace of her child warmed the hearts of Londoners.

Child of dynasty, the royal infant born to Philip and Elizabeth, symbolizes the pride and faith of millions who pledge allegiance to the throne. The Prince is second-in-line heir presumptive to the crown now worn by his granfather, the King.

WHOSE FAULT ARE HEMORRHOIDS

One of the most furious scoldings I have received in years came from a reader who purported to be the wife of a surgeon. She wanted to know how I could have the termerity to tell intelligent people it is stupid to suffer from piles. I wouldn't be so — so smart if I happened to get piles myself, etc., etc. I gathered than the lady's hnsband rses nineteenth century methods and that is her bad luck.

A good many readers have told me that it is stupid. They realize just how stupid it is, or was, now that they have been cured.

What! By operation?

No, stupid, the readers who have been cured are living in the twentieth century.

Piles (hemorrhoids) are essentially varicose (enlarged, dilated, overfilled) veins. Internal or "blind" piles are situated within the orifice and extend upward for an inch or two. They are generally painless, though often responsible for vague discomfort referred to the back or down the thighs and ascribed to "kidney trouble," "rheumatism" "lumbago", "sciatica", etc.

The most serious manifestation of blind piles is bleeding.

This bleeding sometimes escapes notice because the victim, having no actual pain, does not realize what the trouble, real trouble is, but worries along with a persistent or chronic anemia, a careworn, apprehensive countenance and progressive impairment of the general health until some emergency occasions a proper medical examination and discovery of the piles.

Internal (blind) bleeding piles too often go unrecognized and neglected, first, because being internal and not visible, and not painful, their presence is not evident to the victim. But internal (blind) piles may escape recognition even by the physician if the physician is the type of charlatan who treats a patient on the patient's assumption that the trouble is piles, without the formality of an examination. And even when the physician makes a pretense of examining the patient who complains of "piles" the examination is only a pretense if it does not include the use of a speculum, for internal piles may differ so slightly from the normal lining of the canal that it is impossible to determine whether the trouble is present except by visualizing the area directly.

Some individuals who are afflicted with this condition suspect there is something of the sort the matter, but fail to seek medical advice because they are afraid.

Afraid of what? Afraid to undergo examination — as a child is afraid of the doctor's examination rntil the child learns that, after all, there's nothing to be afraid of. Afraid the treatment, if not the examination itself, will hurt.

The treatment the old timers recommend or gave was pretty formidable. The standard operation for hemorrhoids, the only radical cure the old timers knew, was and still is, where nineteenth century methods are good enough for the customers, the crbdest surgical treatment I have ever given or seen given in an operating room, save only wholesale tonsillectomy. It is or was the only operation which, to my mind, seems the more dreadful the more you know about it. The more you know about appendicitis and appendectomy, for example, the less you dread the operation. Not so with hemorrhoids and hemorrhoidectomy.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Albumen

Has white of egg any food value? In what circumstances should one avoid it? I assume it is not good for one with kidney trouble and have been giving only the yolk. (M.F.H.)

Answer—It has as much food value as lean meat. It has nothing whatever to do with kidney trouble. The yolk is all right, but so is the white.

Low Metabolism

Significance of constantly subnormal body temperature? (A.F.K).

Answer — Low metabolism. Send stamped self addressed envelope and ask in writing for pamphlet The Iodin Ration.

Betty, R. N.

I am a registered nurse who follows your articles daily, and may I say we could do with more doctors of your spirit. Even if your column is not always adaptable for Sunday school, we find your style as enjoyable as your lessons are practical. (Betty ——, R.N.)

Answer — Thank you, Betty. You know, it is as rare a happening to get a pleasant word from an R.N., as it is to get one from a D.D.S. or M.D.

Student Nurse Had to Mop Floors

One of your readers wanted to know the name of the hospital where student nurses have to mop floors. If she desires it I would be glad to furnish the name of the hospital where the student nurses had to do just that during the war. I know because I was one of them.

(——, R.N.)

Answer — Thank you, but aside from the la-di-da school of nursing of course we all know that a real nurse often has to mop the floor.

Royal Winter Fair Opens On Tuesday

Toronto, Nov. 15 (CP)— The 1948 Royal Winter Fair starts tomorrow with all the trappings and trimmings and color that have made it the world's largest agricultural exposition.

Spread over 26 acres at Exhibition Park, it has exhibits for everyone—from back-concession farmers interested in growing better potatoes to socialites wanting to know what the well-dressed huntsman wears.

This year's fair, culmination of fall fairs across the country, is expected to attract a record number of entries from farmers of nine provinces. They have sent their grain, horses, vegetables, cattle, potatoes, sheep, swine and poultry here in search of national and international recognition to add to their local awards.

Since its birth as a national fair in 1922, the big show has broadened out into international competition.

Judging at the Royal is international as well. Experts from the United States and Scotland, as well as Canada, will award the 10,000 ribbons and rosettes and the thousands of dollars in prize money that go with the ribbons.

Thirty-two horsemen of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police will put their mounts through the colorful intricate patterns of their famed musical ride.

Three Military Teams

Three military teams from France, Mexico and Canada will continue the international jumping competition that began at the Olympic games in London last summer and continued at New York City's recent National Hrose Show.

The precision-drilled Mexican four-man team, which took Olympic team honors and the majority of the New York prizes, is favored to repeat. But Canadians will also be watching Lt. W. R. Ballard of Weston, who won two surprise triumphs at New York, mounted on Skip Along and Reject.

For women there will be a dazzling fashion show. Cooking demonstrations and films in the Royal Theatre will draw Mrs. average housewife to learn new wrinkles in cooking and housekeeping. And two huge glassed-in refrigerators, stretching for several hundred feet, will display the produce of world trade— meat, eggs, milk products, fruits and vegetables.

HUNTERS HUNTED BY BEAR

Oshawa, Nov. 15 — (CP) — Six Oshawa hunters were hunted for a few nerve - wracking minutes during a weekend deer hunt north of Lindsay, they related Sunday night. A 360-pound black bear reared out of the bush at one of the hunters, Frank Gehoe, who said "I was too surprised to shoot." The other five weren't afraid and chased the bear into the bush, eventually killing him.

Friends of Mrs. Isaac Wannamaker, 42 Moira Street, are sorry to hear she is a patient in the Belleville General Hospital and hope for a speedy recovery.

Mr. Charles Orrell is a patient in the Kingston General Hospital.

The many friends of Miss Isabel Elliott, of Plainfield, will be pleased to learn that she has returned to her home from the Belleville General Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Wilmot Bailey, 2nd of Sidney, motored to Toronto on Sunday to spend the day with the latter's sister, Mrs. J. McPherson, and Mr. McPherson, Willowdale. Miss Jewel Bailey, London University, was also a guest at the MacPherson home.

Mrs. Elizabeth Simpson, 14 Bay Street, who suffered a heart attack last Tuesday, is still seriously ill at her home.

WEDDINGS

BUNTON—TRUDEAU

On Saturday morning, November 6, at ten o'clock, a very lovely marriage was solemnized by Rt. Rev. Monsignor J. F. Nicholson, V.G., in the Church of St. Michael the Archangel, Belleville, when Mary Doris, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Trudeau, became the bride of Albert Charles Bunton, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Bunton. The church was beautifully decorated with baskets of cameo 'mums and ferns and the guest pews were marked with white satin ribbons. The wedding music was played by Sister Mary Bibiana and Miss Sharon Lucy was soloist. During the ceremony "Ave Maria", "On This Day O Beautiful Mother", "Mother Beloved" and "Because" were very beautifully rendered.

The bride, given in marriage by her father was radiant in an original model designed on Victorian lines of crystal white satin with fitted bodice, nylon marquisette yoke, and off-shoulder bertha of cutwork, appliqued satin and embroidered with seed pearls. The very full skirt, accented with side bustles flowed to a graceful train, and the long sleeves extended to points over the wrists. Her long veil of French tulle illusion fell from a coronet of white satin, roses and lilies of the valley. She carried a shower cascade of white Starlite roses and bouvardia. With this she also carried a prayer book bound in hand painted moire silk.

Miss Cecelia Trudeau was her sister's maid of honor, wearing a gown of deep rose faille taffeta with off-shoulder shawl collar, buttoned down back to deep bustles, fashioned similar to that of the bride's dress, with full skirt extending to a slight train at the back. She wore a braided halo caught with a spray of flowers and matching mitts. She carried a crescent bouquet of hyacinth blue pompom 'mums.

Miss Jeanne-Marie Trudeau, sister of the bride, wore a gown of deep turquoise, identical in lines to that worn by the maid of honor. Her matching braided halo was caught with a spray of flowers and she carried a crescent bouquet of yellow pompom 'mums.

Miss Cletus Trudeau, another sister of the bride, looked charming in deep rose faille taffeta, with matching braided halo and mitts. She carried a crescent bouquet of hyacinth blue pompom 'mums.

Miss Barbara Bunton, a sister of the groom, was a lovely bridesmaid in deep turquoise faille taffeta with matching braided halo and mitts, and carried a crescent bouquet of yellow pompom 'mums.

Mr. Robert J. Bunton, brother of the groom, was best man and the ushers were Mr. William Lynch, Mr. Ray Peets and Mr. Len Drake, Toronto.

Immediately after, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents, the bride's mother receiving in taupe satin, with "claret wine" accessories. She wore a corsage of American Beauty roses and white pompom 'mums. She was assisted by the groom's mother, who wore a crepe dress in cinnamon shade and matching accessories. Her corsage was of yellow Gloria roses and bronze pompom 'mums.

Amid showers of good wishes the happy couple left for Niagara Falls, Chicago, New York Quebec City and Montreal, the bride choosing for travelling a gabardine suit of loganberry wine with white stitched beret, grey accessories and a fur jacket of silver grey kidskin completed her ensemble. Her corsage was of white Starlite roses and bouvardia.

Guests from out-of-town were from Chicago, Toronto, London and Tweed.

The happy couple will reside at 73 Chatham Street.

CARSON—MORROW

The home of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Morrow, Wooler, was the setting on Nov. 9th., for the wedding of their youngest daughter, Evelyn Jean, to Charles Elberne Carson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carson, of Bloomfield. The Rev. F. B. Francis was the officiating clergyman.

Mrs. Walter Morrow of Frankford, aunt of the bride, played the wedding music and the accompaniment for the soloist, Rev. R. Walsh, of Bloomfield, who sang "I'll Walk Beside You".

The bride was given in marriage by her father, and wore a floor-length gown of blush pink satin, fashioned on simple lines with a bustle back, long train, and long fitted sleeves. Her full-length veil was gathered to a halo of seed pearls, and she carried American Beauty roses.

Miss Virtue Carson of Bloomfield, sister of the groom, attended the bride, wearing a floor length gown of pink taffeta, styled with fitted bodice and full skirt. A beaded headdress held her shoulder length veil of pink illusion and she carried a bouquet of pink baby 'mums.

The bride's cousin, Mrs. Mac Anderson, of Trenton, was bridesmaid, and was charming in a floor length gown of powder blue sheer, made with sweetheart neckline and long sleeves. She wore a shoulder length veil of matching net gathered to a beaded headdress and carried bronze 'mums.

The flower girls were Anne Morrow, niece of the bride, and Verda Craig, cousin of the groom. Their frocks were or blue and wine velvet respectively. Each wore a floral headdress and carried a nosegay of baby 'mums.

The groom was attended by his brother, Mr. Orley Carson. Mr. Hilliard Morrow, brother of the bride, was usher.

Following the ceremony, the guests were received in the Sunday School rooms of the United Church where the wedding dinner was served.

The bride travelled in a white wool dress, matching hat, muskrat coat and brown accessories.

The happy couple will reside in Picton on their return from a wedding trip to New York City.

Out-of-town guests were from Ottawa, North Gower, Smiths Falls, Belleville, Stirling, Bloomfield, Picton, Frankford and Brighton.

BRENNAN—O'NEILL

A pretty wedding was solemnized in the Lady Chapel, St. Patrick's Church, Montreal, at 9 a.m., on Saturday, November 6, when Margaret Mary O'Neill, daughter of P. J. O'Neill, of Marmora, and the late Mrs. O'Neill, became the bride of John Thomas Brennan, of Montreal, son of Mrs. Hannah Brennan and the late Mr. Brennan of Arnprior. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Francis French, Ottawa. The church was prettily decorated with yellow and white 'mums and Autumn foliage.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride, wore a Victorian style white moire gown, and a veil of tulle illusion, held in place by a coronet of crystal beading. Her single ornament was a cameo locket, the gift of the bridegroom. She carried a cascade bouquet of white 'mums and gardenias.

Miss Elaine Barber, as maid of honor, was gowned in deep red silk jersey with fitted bodice, full long sleeves, and full circular skirt, and headdress of matching tulle.

Miss Jane O'Neill, sister of the bride, and Miss Ellen Harkness, were bridesmaids, wearing gowns, styled identical to the maid of honor; Miss O'Neill in lime yellow, and Miss Harkness in Autumn brown. All three carried cascade bouquets of yellow and bronze 'mums.

Mr. Paul Boise was groomsman and the ushers were Mr. Gerald Dunne and Mr. William Arthurs.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Berkley Hotel, Montreal.

Mr. and Mrs. Brennan left on a motor trip to the United States, the bride travelling in a raspberry wool suit, chocolate brown topcoat, grey accessories and a corsage of gardenias.

They will reside at 1926 Lincoln Ave., Montreal.

Out-of-town guests were, Mr. and Mrs. P. J. O'Neill, Marmora; Mrs. Hannah Brennan, Arnprior; Mrs. C. E. O'Connor, Copper Cliff; Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Felix French, Shawinigan Falls; Mr. and Mrs. John French, Mr. and Mrs. Redmond Cunningham, Dr. and Mrs. F. A. French, Miss Anna French, Misses Marion and Mary McDonald, Miss Dorothea Brennan, Mr. Charles Brennan, all of Ottawa; Dr. and Mrs. McReary, Arnprior.

REID—STAPLEY

A quiet, but pretty wedding took place at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Stapley, Stirling R.R. 4, on Saturday, November 13, at 2 o'clock, when their daughter, Hilda Eileen, was united in marriage to Thomas Robert Reid, Bonarlaw, R.R. 1, son of Mrs. Thomas Reid, and the late Mr. Thomas Reid. The Rev. William Hynd, of Hamilton, assisted by the Rev. Simon Bronson, Trenton, officiated. Ferns, with pink and white streamers formed a lovely background for the occasion.

Mrs. Harold Stapley, sister of the bridegroom, in navy moire taffeta, provided the wedding music, and during the signing of the register, rendered the selection "A Marriage Hymn".

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, was charming in a gown of azure blue, floor length, with metallic trimming, white shoulder length veil, and carried a bouquet of American Beauty roses.

Miss Blanche Reid, sister of the groom, wore powder blue, and carried a nosegay of pink chrysanthemums and roses.

Mr. Samuel Stapley, Stirling, brother of the bridegroom, was groomsman.

After the reception, which was held at the home of the bride's parents, where the bride's mother, in brown crepe with beige trimming, assisted by the bridegroom's mother in black crepe, received the immediate family guests. The happy couple left for Toronto, Hamilton and Niagara.

The bride wore for travelling, a dress, coat and hat of hunters' green with brown accessories, and, upon their return will reside on the bridegroom's farm, in Seymour.

REDNERSVILLE

Young Married Couple Feted

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Clarke, recently married, were feted at a surprise party given by friends and neighbors at the home of Mr. E. Clark, Rednersville. The 'do' was arranged by Mr. Norman Post and Mr. Chas. Champagne, and plans for an old-fashioned "shivaree" were only slightly hampered by a shortage of cow-bells, circular saw blades and shot guns.

Dancing was the main entertainment on the program with music being rendered by Messrs. Joe Doxtator and 'Porky' Post. The host and hostess served refreshments at the conclusion of the dancing.

Among the guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Post, Norman, Bill and Joyce; Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Champagne, Bernice, Lewis, Doris, Marjorie, Eileen and Gerald; Mr. Joe Doxtator, Leslie, Wallace, Royce, and Marilyn; Mrs. D. Lauder; Mr. E. Tompkins, Shirley Ann; Jack Sherrard, Ronald Redner, Garry Sills, Jim MacKay, Warren Terry, Jim Fraser, Ron Ellis, Don Redner, Sharon Conway, Lyle Preston, and Douglas Wannamaker.

The best wishes of the community are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Clarke.

Manly MacDonald Visits Belleville Arts, Crafts Club

The Belleville Arts and Crafts Club held their November meeting Friday evening, at the home of Mrs. Gilbert Stackhouse, with the President, Mrs. Harold Robbins, in the chair. Mrs. Bert Simpson, the new secretary-treasurer, enrolled several new members. Plans were made for the sale of members' work at the Opportunity Shop starting December 7th., with Mrs. Mary Quinn convening art section and Mrs. Leonard Dandeno convening handicrafts.

Mr. Manly MacDonald graciously gave of his time to demonstrate his method in painting a landscape. Several of his paintings were viewed with pleasure and profit to the group. He also gave helpful criticism on some work shown by the members.

Refreshments were served by the hostess.

BETHLEHEM SHRINE

Bethlehem Shrine No. 11, held their annual birthday party, Wednesday evening, last. After the regular meeting in the I.O.O.F. hall, the members and visitors assembled in the upper hall where a pot-luck supper was served. A beautiful three-tier birthday cake, decorated the head table and brought admiration from all. After the supper toasts were proposed to the distinguished officers, charter members and visitors (many of whom had come from distant points), which were graciously responded to.

Mr. Gee played several selections on the electric guitar which were enjoyed by all. The singing of "Auld Lang Syne" brought this very happy evening to a close.

Margaret Miller Bride-Elect Of Month Honored

Mrs. Charles Siple and Mrs. Harold Arnott were co-hostesses for a tea and shower on Thursday evening, in honor of Miss Margaret Miller, bride-elect of this month, at the latter's home, Burnham Street.

The tea room was tastefully decorated with bouquets of large, bronze chrysanthemums, and the tea table, with its lovely Madeira cloth, centred by a silver deposit bowl of bronze and yellow baby 'mums, and tall, yellow tapers in silver holders, was very charming.

Mrs. James Miller and Mrs. Fred Wiggins presided over the tea service, while Mrs. S. Millard, Miss Dorothy George, Miss Joyce Wiggins, Miss Helen Arnott, Miss Barbara Miller, sister of the bride-elect, and Mrs. Herbert McCabe graciously served the refreshments.

Many beautiful and useful gifts were received, for which Margaret, in a most charming and gracious manner, thanked the givers.

Women's Activities

TABERNACLE EVENING AUX.

The Tabernacle Evening Auxiliary held their November meeting at the home of Miss Ethel Horton. Mrs. A. Miller had charge of the devotional period.

Mrs. F. Shane read "Doctors Old and New" from the study book "West of the Gorges". The group is finding the study book interesting this year.

Mrs. G. Stanton attended the Belleville section rally at Plainfield of the Church of All Nations and brought back some interesting facts in her report.

The pleasant evening was brought to a close with refreshments served by Mrs. K. Matthews and Mrs. A. Miller.

WHISTLING SWANS COME

Niagara Falls, Nov. 15 — (CP). — Four big white whistling swans apparently had their seasons mixed Sunday when they settled briefly on the Niagara River here. Normally the swans come in big flocks in the spring.

This Dessert Has Everything

TROPICAL FRUIT MEDLEY

- 1 package Lemon Jell-O
- 1 cup (each) hot water and orange juice
- 2 tablespoons sugar
- ½ cup (each) diced canned pineapple, seeded sweet grapes, sliced maraschino cherries

Dissolve Jell-O in hot water. Add orange juice and sugar. Chill. When slightly thickened, add fruits. Chill in individual moulds.

IRRESISTIBLE eye appeal . . . matchlessly bright, tangy flavor . . . just-right consistency — Jell-O offers all the things you want most in desserts. And it's unbelievably easy to make.

Add the fact that Jell-O is about the most economical dessert you can serve, and you'll agree — "Jell-O has everything".

Only Jell-O with its exclusive "locked-in" Jell-O flavor gives the most satisfying results. Look for the big red "JELL-O" letters on the box.

Veterans of two wars marshalled by Comrade Harold Skillicorn, sergeant-at-arms of the Stirling Legion, paraded to and from the Cenotaph. Rev. A. J. Anderson, rector of St. John's, [illegible]ed as chairman and had associated with him in the service Rev. H. C. Vaclavik of Rawdon circuit United Church; Rev. W. H. V. Walker, of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church and Rev. R. W. Barker, St. Paul's United.

Following the invocatory prayer by Rev. A. J. Anderson and Scripture lesson by Rev. R. W. Barker, the hymn "O God Our Help in Ages Past" was sung. An appropriate address was given by Rev. A. J. Anderson followed by prayer by Rev. W. H. V. Walker and the hymn "Abide With Me."

Wreaths Deposited.

Wreaths in memory of the fallen were deposited by Mrs. H. Rodgers, for Stirling; Mrs. R. Herrington, for Rawdon; Mrs. E. Luery, for I.O.D.E., and Mrs. H. Martin for the Province of Ontario. Last Post and Reveille were sounded by Bugler Benny Mason, after which benediction by Rev. A. J. Anderson brought the impressive service to a close.

Following are the names of those who gave their lives in World Wars I. and II.:

World War I.—D. L. Anderson; Roy Bean; Roy Bissonette; Norman Payne; Arnold Rutherford; Arthur Conley; George Gilroy; Vincent Whitty; Alexander Conley; Ernest Gould and Fred Daley.

World War II.—Alvin Stoneburg; Irwin Woodbeck; Maurice Woodbeck; Ivan Martin; Aubrey Rodgers; Donald Stapley; Jack Wood; Stanley Dainard; Coolidge Ashley.

Those from Rawdon Township not included in the above list are: Harold Taylor; Kenneth Smith; [illegible] Herrington; George Dunk[illegible] Raymond Ray and Earl Kir[illegible].

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Holmes, Marilyn and Melburn, Mr. and Mrs. Morley Eaves, Kingston; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Bowes, Trenton, and Mr. J. Beauder, Arnprior, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. John Holmes.

Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Menzies and family, Warkworth, Misses Berne Beatty, Lois Moore and Helen Moore, Peterboro, recently visited Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Menzies.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sarles, of Holloway, spent a day with Mr. and Mrs. Ernest White.

Miss Betty McConnell attended Holloway anniversary services and played the accompaniment for a vocal solo rendered by Mrs. Done Rose.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Curry, Brockville, spent last week with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Smith and other relatives.

Burr's

Burr's — The Bowerman's Anniversary supper on Wednesday evening was a decided success. The delicious supper was followed with a splendid program of music and song, with local and Wellington talent taking part. Rev. J. F. Lane presided. The proceeds were $160.00.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wildman of Moira, are moving to the F. Maxwell farm, Irvin Gore.

Mr. Eric Edwards and Mr. Thomas Vancott are spending a few days in the north country deer hunting.

Madoc

RemembranceDay Service at Madoc

Madoc—Remembrance Day service was held in Madoc Armouries on Thursday morning, Nov. 11, with only a fair representation of the village. Reeve George West was chairman and clergymen taking part in the service were Rev. W. Poulter, Rev. N. W. Wagar, Rev. A. W. Smith with Rev. Mr. Heslip giving the address.

A special musical number by an octett of high school boys added to the service. The members of Madoc Legion No. 363, with Major E. T. Nayler, in charge marched from the Legion Hall to the armouries. At the conclusion of the service wreaths were placed on the Cenotaph in Thompson Memorial Park. Wreaths were from Madoc Legion No. 363, Province of Ontario, Madoc Village and Women's Institute. Comrade Wesley Vollick sounded the Last Post and Reveille.

Church Faced With the Need For Expansion

Hamilton, Nov. 15 (CP)—Most Rev. G. F. Kingston, Anglican Primate of all Canada and Archbishop of Nova Scotia, said Sunday that the church in all lands is faced with the need for extension.

"I must sound the note for expansion in face of the great and difficult situation in the world today," he told the final festival service commemorating the 75th anniversary of the founding of All Saints' Anglican Church. "The world needs an uplift, a sureness in God."

Gen. MacArthur, Allied Occupation Commander in Japan, had recently asked for 1,000 missionaries to be sent to Japan. But Japan's requirements were only part of the need of the entire world and this was no time to be parochial.

"In a world so largely given to indifference, it is important for everyone to be a witness for the church. Members of the Church of England do not like to wear their religion on their coat sleeves but it is important to witness for Christ. It is not necessary for people to go around talking about religion, but the business man and the housewife can help by word and example in their daily lives."

Canada's Air Force Pitifully Small Says Leckie

Toronto, Nov. 15 (CP)—Air Marshal Robert S. Leckie, wartime chief of staff of the R.C.A.F., said Saturday night Canada's air force is "pitifully small" and reduced almost to the level of impotency.

For the next four or five years Canada will have to prepare for the eventuality of war, he told the Ontario Committee of the Air Cadet League of Canada.

"Fear of reprisals is the only thing that's holding the Russians back. Thank God we have the atomic bomb."

He said he was partially responsible for the decisions on the post-war strength of the air force. But after the war he had not been 'able to visualize the threat of new hostilities when implementing government policy designed to cut the strength of the R.C.A.F.

Canadian Legion Requests Help In Berlin Airlift

Ottawa, Nov. 15 (CP)—Canadian participation in the Berlin airlift was requested by the Canadian Legion in a three-fold brief presented to the cabinet Saturday.

The meeting, made a part of history by the chairmanship of Prime Minister Mackenzie King who retires Monday, saw a 25-man delegation of the Legion's Dominion Council ask:

1. Participation in the Berlin airlift because air force personnel of other commonwealth countries were doing so;

2. Increasing the rates of war veterans allowances from $40 to $50 for a single person and from $70 to $85 for married personnel

3. Switching administration of veterans' wartime housing from Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation to Veterans Affairs Department; allowing veterans first opportunity to buy such homes or allowing them to remain if they carry out rental agreements.

A spokesman for the delegation said that Mr. King decided to preside over the meeting when, he paid a surprise visit to the parliament buildings Saturday to say goodbye to his staff and members of the Privy Council.

The delegation spokesman told The Canadian Press:

Opportunity To Censure Drew Says Jolliffe

Britt, Ont., Nov. 15 (CP)—E. B. Jolliffe said Saturday night the Dec. 9 Parry Sound Ontario by-election will give electors "an opportunity to censure Mr. George Drew's disastrous meddling in hydro affairs."

The Ontario C.C.F. leader spoke on behalf of Roy Smith, C. C. F. candidate in the by-election called to fill the seat vacated by the death of Charles Cragg, Progressive Conservative member elected in the June 7 Ontario election. Progressive Conservative candidate is Alex Johnston, of South River. The Liberals have nominated Dr. M. T. Armstrong who represented Parry Sound in the last legislature and was defeated by Mr. Cragg.

Mr. Jolliffe charged in a prepared address that Mr. Drew refused in 1943 to allow work to be started on the 400,000-horsepower Des Joachims hydro-electric generating plant on the Upper Ottawa River and that the present Ontario government had failed to prepare "any constructive plan for meeting this year's emergency."

Daily Telegraph Bids Editorial Farewell to King

London, Nov. 15 (CP)— The Daily Telegraph today bids an editorial "hail and farewell" to Prime Minister King.

Noting that he is to tender his resignation to the Governor-General today, The Telegraph comments that it is "not given to many statesmen thus to retire at the high tide of their reputation, without acrimony or recrimination and with the sense of having achieved what they set out to do."

The paper expresses hope his services will continue to be available to the commonwealth because "there is a particular value to his counsel."

Hunting Mishaps Figure in Four Of 25 Fatalities

(By The Canadian Press)

A Hamilton boy who dared his chum to pull a rifle trigger died of a neck wound after the weapon discharged. James Gray, 13, said later that he didn't know the gun which killed 12-year-old Alfred Mayall was loaded.

Hunting mishaps figured in four of the 25 other fatalities reported in Eastern Canada during the weekend, a Canadian Press survey shows. Traffic accidents took 12 lives.

Accidental discharge of a fellow hunter's gun fatally wounded Provincial Constable John S. Hare, 28, of Toronto, in the Espanola area, west of Sudbury. The officer was struck by a blast from a rifle a companion was unloading in the front seat of an automobile.

When a hunter stumbled at Iroquois Falls, Ont., a rifle caught in a tree and discharged and its bullet killed Delmar Cybolski, 23.

Two duck hunters were drowned after canoes upset in Ontario's Peterborough district. They were Fred Hickey, 41, of Peterborough, and Vincent Simcoe, 50, of the Rama Indian Reserve near Peterborough. In both cases, other persons survived.

Dead Since June 6

The body of a 32-year-old woman patient in the Ontario Mental Hospital at Whitby, was found in a room used by the hospital to house air-conditioning equipment. It was believed the woman, missing since June 6, was electrocuted.

J. A. Miller, 61, of Detroit, was found dead in his hotel room in Windsor. An investigation into the cause of his death was started.

Lionel Bissonette, [illegible] of Montreal, a longshoreman found dead in a steamer's hold in Montreal harbor, probably fell into the hold, investigators said. A fall from a freighter to a pier killed another longshoreman, Harry Perry, 53, in Summerside, P.E.I.

Philippe Guimond, 49, was found drowned in the harbor at Richibucto, N.B. Police said they believed he fell out of his boat.

Rosario Aumond, 62, suffered fatal injuries in a fall in his Montreal home.

A level-crossing crash near Joliette, Que., killed L'Omer Delorme, 29, and Lorenzo Dube, 32, both of St. Michael Des Saints, Que., and injured two others.

Traffic Victims

Other Quebec province traffic victims were: Sylvia Picard, 40, Lucien Marseille, 30, Roland Menard, 11, Zotique Lelage, 68, Mrs. Emile Ares, 43, and Antoine Beregron, all fatally injured in separate Montreal accidents; and Philippe Bishara, 48, of Boucherville, Que., who died in a Montreal hospital from injuries suffered in a crash Nov. 6.

Victims of Ontario highway mishaps were: Mary Ann Harcar, six, struck by a car in front of her Windsor home; Mrs. James Martin, 53, of Welland, knocked down on a Welland street; Almerian Johnson, 67, a retired farmer, hit by a car near his Fort Erie home; Mrs. Clara Mansz, 49, Gowanstown, in a two-car collision; Lem Soon, 43, Barrie, whose Whizzer bicycle collided with a car; and James Mizek, 47, Cochrane, who died in hospital at Timmins.

AGED SISTERS DIE SAME DAY

Yonkers, N. Y., Nov. 15 — (AP) — The spinster Kiley sisters, inseparable for 86 years, are dead. Miss Catherine Kiley, 86, died Friday at noon in Yonkers General Hospital. Her sister, Johanna, 90, died in the same hospital three hours later.

Contempt Charges Laid Against Printers' Union

Chicago, Nov. 15. (AP)—The International Typographical Union (A.F.L.), striking against 49 newspapers in 29 cities in the United States, Canada and Alaska, has been given until midnight Monday to purge itself and four top officers of contempt charges.

Federal Judge Luther M. Swygert found the Union guilty of evading his March 27 injunction against Taft-Hartley law violations. He held that the Union was seeking to maintain closed-shop conditions in negotiations with United States newspaper publishers.

The Union appealed the contempt convictions but lost in the United States Circuit Court of Appeals. The higher court Wednesday cancelled a stay it had granted previously and ordered Swygert's contempt order reinstated.

In fixing the deadline for compliance with his injunction, Swygert directed the Union's officials to show proof by Monday that they are carrying out terms of the order.

The widespread strikes against newspaper publishers in the United States began Nov. 20, 1945, in St. Petersburg, Fla. Those against publishers in Canada began Nov. 8, 1945.

The work stoppages spread in the United States in 1946 and 1947, involving 28 newspapers. In Canada the number of publications affected increased to seven. Another 14 newspapers in the United States, and one in Alaska, were struck by the printers this year.

The work stoppages resulted from disputes between the publishers and the Union over wages, working conditions and contract forms.

Five Chicago dailies and a Hammond, Ind., newspaper continue to use a photo-engraving process to print the news.

The largest single group of printers on strike is in Chicago, where 1,500 men started their work stoppage Nov .24, 1947.

The Canadian papers affected are The Free Press and Tribune, Winnipeg; the Hamilton Spectator; The Morning and Evening Citizen, Ottawa; The Edmonton Journal and The Vancouver Province.

ATTACKS MENCKEN

Moscow, Nov. 15 — (AP) — Russian author Ilya Ehrenberg has attacked H. L. Mencken for "calling for a deadly struggle with the Russian barbarians." Writing in the communist party newspaper Pravda, he said Mencken predicted the United States in a future war might cause greater losses than she would receive and declared: "I remember how Goering also told his countrymen not one bomb would ever fall on a German city."

Life has Changed for the Family Man

Most men live longer than their grandfathers. Women have a better life expectancy, too. So have children — not only that, but children nowadays spend more of their years getting an education.

These facts have brought significant changes in the family man's financial obligations. They mean that he must be prepared to support everyone in his family longer — including himself!

Fortunately, there is an effective way of meeting financial obligations of this nature — a well-planned insurance programme. Life insurance is a sure means by which a man can provide protection for his family in the event of his death or an income for himself should he live to retirement age.

The family man is wise to review his insurance requirements in view of changing conditions. If you would like expert advice, a representative of the Manufacturers Life will be glad to give it to you.

Interesting Phases in Life of P.M. in Pictures

CONSCRIPTION ISSUE — One of the bitterest political battles Prime Minister King waged during his long career in the Commons was on the conscription issue during the Second World War. The government in the early years of the war depended on voluntary enlistment. As the war continued many Canadians advocated conscription while others opposed it. In 1942 Mr. King called for a plebiscite to free the government from its anti-conscription pledge. This photo shows Mr. King surrounded by autograph seeking children as he emerged after casting his ballot. The results favored release of the administration from its pledge.

(C.P. Photo)

YOUNG CAMPAIGNER — Following his graduation from University of Toronto, Prime Minister King worked on Toronto newspapers as reporter and later as a special writer on social condition. It was as a result of his articles Sir Wilfrid Laurier picked him as Canada's first deputy minister of labor. In 1908 he was promoted to labor minister and contested his first election campaign in Berlin, now Kitchener, that year. This photo shows him emphasizing a point during his campaign speech.

(C.P. Photo)

DOG LOVER — Prime Minister King is a great lover of dogs but confined his choice to one variety — the Irish terrier. The prime minister also kept to one name — Pat. After Mr. King assumed office as prime minister he always had Pat as a companion on his long walks in the Ottawa countryside. The present dog is Pat III, the other two having died. N This photo by Karsh of Ottawa, shows Mr. King with Pat III at his Kingsmere country home looking over the Gatineau Valley.

AT UNITED NATIONS — It was during his trip to Paris and London this fall that Prime Minister King became ill and was forced to take a complete rest. Mr. King enjoyed comparatively good health throughout his many years as prime minister. This spring, at 73, he suffered from influenza and a strenuous session of parliament left him in a weakened condition. He attended several sessions of the United Nations in Paris and is shown here talking to Kuzma Kysselev, minister of external affairs for Byelorussia. ....

BECOMES PREMIER — It was a sincere, earnest person who was chosen by the Liberals of Canada to succeed their great leader, Sir Wilfrid Laurier, following his deatn in 1919. At that time Mr. King, a former minister of labor, was comparatively unknown to Canadians. This photo was taken as he assumed leadership of the party.

FUTURE LEADER — When his parents recorded the childhood play of William Lyon Mackenzie King, shown here seated astride a rockinghorse at the age of two, they little thought their son would grow up to become prime minister of the Dominion of Canada. Not only did he become prime minister but he served in that office until his retirement today for 21 years, five months and eight days — a total of 7,899 days, longer than any other person has been prime minister in the Commonwealth.

DEVOTED SON — Throughout her lifetime, Isabel Grace King, youngest daughter of William Lyon Mackenzie, who was exiled for his leadership in the responsible government rebellion of 1837, received the earnest devotion of her eldest son. This is one of the best photos of Prime Minister King with his mother and father, taken at Scarboro fair in 1911 when the prime minister was 36. John King, K.C., his father, was an able lawyer.

ROYAL TOUR — One of the highlights of Prime Minister King's term as Canadian prime minister was the tour of the Dominion by King George and Queen Elizabeth in 1939. The visit of the King and Queen marked the first time in history reigning monarchs crossed the ocean to visit the citizens of a Commonwealth country. Mr. King acted as official guide for the entire tour. This photo shows Their Majesties with Prime Minister King at Banff.

Towson, Md. — A 33-year-old bachelor has figured out a problem that might have stumped the advice-to-the-lovelorn experts:

How to clear up a double involvement with two women, each of whom has borne him three children?

Bennett B. Cockey, a lawyer, said in court Friday that his client proposed to marry the mother of the three children, divorce her, and marry the mother of the other three.

The defenadnt, Wm. C. Cranston, was up for violation of probation, after it was reported he struck one of the women. The probation was ordered in September when he was convicted of assaulting a policeman.

Not mentioned was which woman Cranston would marry first and divorce, or whether he would prefer to divorce the second one as well. However, he must serve 18 months in jail before crossing the bridge.

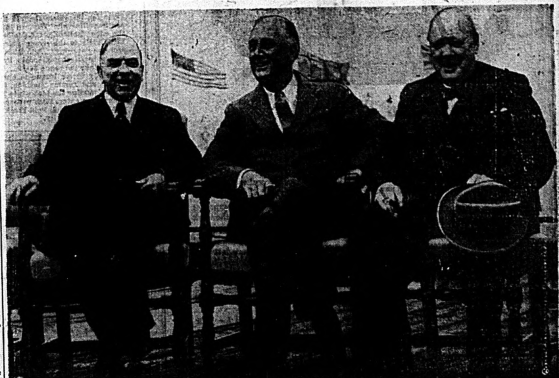
EGYPTIAN COST-OF-LIVING

Montreal (CP) — The average Canadian white-collar worker would need an $800 monthly pay check to live comfortably in Egypt, said Mrs. C. Pilley of Cairo on a visit here. The cost of living in Egypt has jumped 400 per cent since 1939, she said.



QUEBEC CONFERENCE — One of the most important conferences held in Canada during the Second World War was the first meeting at Quebec of Prime Minister Winston Churchill and President Franklin Roosevelt in 1943. Held in the historic Citadel, the talks mapped future strategy of the war. Prime Minister King not only acted as host for the parley but took an active role in the discussions. Mr. King is shown here with the two great wartime leaders of the Allies.

Ottawa and Hamilton Meet In Capital in Sudden Death Game for East Football Title

(By The Canadian Press)

While Calgary Stampeders watch and wait, Ottawa Rough Riders and Hamilton Tigers will battle it out for the Eastern Canada football championship.

They'll meet in a sudden-death game in Ottawa Saturday, the winner meeting Calgary for the Dominion championship the following Saturday at Toronto's Varsity Stadium.

Ottawa took the marbles in the Big Four by hitting Montreal Alouettes 15-7 in the second game of a total-points series before a crowd of 16,000 at Ottawa. Hamilton crushed Toronto Beaches Indians 31-1 to take the Ontario Union title before a crowd of 10,000 at Hamilton.

As a happy crowd of graduates moved in for the University of Toronto's first homecoming weekend, the Blues upset the mighty Mustangs from the University of Western Ontario 23-8 before a crowd of 20,000 at Toronto's Varsity Stadium. It was the Mustangs' first loss in 28 games and forced a playoff for the intercollegiate title, the first since 1938 when McGill defeated Western for the championship.

The playoff will be a sudden-death game next Saturday at Varsity Stadium.

Queen's beat McGill 10-7 and wound up the season in third place in the league with McGill languishing in the cellar.

For Ottawa it was sweet revenge as well as its first championship in seven years. Riders had been beaten 21-19 by Montreal Thursday in the first game of the series but won the round 34-28.

Als Finally Score

Rough Riders led 15-0 midway through the last quarter when Alouettes finally hit the scoring column on a touchdown by Bob Cunningham, a convert by Steve Nemeth and a single by Ches McCance.

Ottawa scored on touchdowns by Matt Anthony and Tony Golab, two singles by Howie Turner, a convert and a single by Eric Chipper and a single by Golab.

The Tigers' win was their 11th straight. The Toronto crew led once in the game when Don Crowe kicked a single in the first quarter. But minutes later Tigers shook Jack Stewart across for a touchdown and the parade was on.

Playing coach Frank Filchock fired touchdown passes to Doug Smith and George Festeryga and ran 35 yards for one himself. Joe Cihocki went for the other one.

Six on Bench

Six of the Mustangs were on the bench with injuries as the blues rolled for their fourth straight win.

Bruce Cummings ran for two of Varsity's touchdowns, converted two and kicked a single for 13 points. He passed 28 yards to Bill Danylchuk for Varsity's first touchdown. Tommy Waldon got the other major.

Western went into a 2-0 lead when Nick Volpe recovered a Varsity fumble behind their own goal line. Blake Taylor got the sole Western touchdown and Doug Gray converted.

The end of the schedule left McGill in the cellar with a single win and Queen's in third place with two wins and four defeats.

The Gaels counted on a touchdown by Bill Huntley, a convert and single by Al Lennard, and a placement by Ross McKelvey. McGill scored on George Valoiso's first-quarter touchdown. Rocky Robillard's convert and Doug Heron's single.

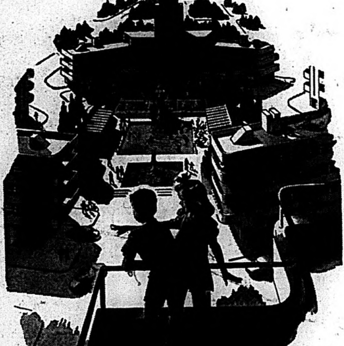
TOPS IN WOOL

Australia is the world's largest wool producer.



What kind of world will your children inherit?

• Probably it will be a better world in every way.

Certainly it will be a healthier world. For science is working ceaselessly to devise more effective ways of treating and preventing disease.

But the task is enormous—and costly. That is why the life insurance companies in Canada have contributed large sums of money for many years toward the work of medical science — particularly in the field of preventive research.

As a result, more men and women are enabled to work in well-equipped laboratories waging war against cancer, tuberculosis and polio. More facts are being discovered in order to promote better nutrition, prenatal care and dental hygiene. And, the skill and devotion which these scientists bring to their work promises new freedom from sickness in years to come.

By supporting their efforts, the life insurance companies help to raise the health standard of the nation.

By owning life insurance, you help to create a healthier world for your children.

CHIPS OFF THE SPORTS BLOCK

By GEORGE H. CARVER, Sports Editor

The six National Hockey League teams are strong advocates of the accent on youth policy which is becoming so prevalent in sporting circles these days. The average age of a player in the N.H.L. this season is 25.4 years. Only 19 of the 101 players in the League have reached the 30 or more mark, Ken Mackenzie, demon N.H.L. statistician, informs us.

• • •

Toronto Maple Leafs, a team that consistently comes up with youthful squads, has the youngest average of any team in the circuit this season. The average age among the Leaf players is 24.2 years. Turk Broda is the only player on the Toronto roster in the 30 or over category, and oddly enough he is also the oldest player in the National Hockey League. Broda was born on May 15, 1914, three months before Neil Colville of the Rangers, who is the second oldest player in the N.H.L.

• • •

Besides boasting the oldest player in the National League, the Leafs also boast the youngest player in the loop in right-winger Fleming Mackell. Fleming was born on April 30, 1929, six weeks after Canadiens' Eddie Dorohy, second youngest player in the League.

• • •

Second youngest N.H.L. club this year is Detroit, with an average age of 24.9 years. Only two of the 17 players on the Red Wings roster, Jack Stewart and Sid Abel, have seen 30 birthdays. Stewart is the oldie of the team at 31, while Abel is an even 30. Gordon Howe is the youngster of the squad at 20.

• • •

The combined years of the 17 players on Montreal Canaddiens total 432, which gives the Habitants an average of 25.4 years per player. Dorohey at 19 is the baby, while veterans Murph Chamberlain and Bill Durnan, both 33, are the oldsters of the team. Canadiens have five players on their roster 30 or more years old. Besides Chamberlain and Durnan there are Joe Carveth, Billy Reay and Elmer Lach, who are all 30.

• • •

Boston Bruins are icing the fourth youngest crew in the N.H.L. this season with the average Boston player being 25.9 years. Five of the team are in the 30 or over bracket—namely Jack Crawford, 33; Frank Brimsek, 33; Woody Dumart, 31; Milt Schmidt, 30; and Pat Egan, 30. Youngest player on the club is Paul Ronty at 20. Eddie Sandford is also 20 but Ronty was born four months later than Sandford.

Chicago Black Hawks have a team average of 26.2 years which is a decimal point higher than New York Rangers at 26.1 and makes the Black Hawks and Rangers the loop's oldsters. Chicago has three players over 30, in the persons of Roy Conacher, 32; Doug Bentley, 32; and Red Hamill, 31. Metro Prystai was born on November 7, 1927, three months Bill Gadsby, second youngest player on the team. Nick Mickoski, Rangers5 rookie forward is the neophyte among the Broadway Blueshirts at 20.

Murray Swartz' inaugural boxing show at the Ahmouries Friday night satisfied the large crowd of the faithful despite the fact that it was slightly delayed in getting under way. However the calibre of the bouts more than offset any disappointment in lateness of starting and Swartz can bring these boys back any time. Fred Harding and Tommy Corrick staged a five round main bout thriller that ended in a well-deserved draw. Both lads are flashy, hard-hitting fighters and the crowd had its money's worth.

Glen Dafoe slashed a popular victory over Ronnie Mansfield and got the unanimous decision over the popular Belleville fighter. Red Hall also pounded out a victory over Bud Henry while Roy Deshane, Trenton, went to a draw with Bern Merritt of Toronto. Chuck McDermott lost a unanimous decision to Billy Merritt, Toronto, while the heavyweights, Irish Keith McCoy, Trenton and Rocky Dean, Oshawa, staged a pleasing show with Dean getting the nod all the way around. George Wanamaker, Trenton, lost to Belleville's Ray Lucas with the popular Wilf Duby pounding out the decision over Ray Oderico of Toronto. Eddie Lee was the third man in the ring and gave his usual efficient performance. Maurice Callaghan handled the announcing chore with D. Chant and B. Crawford the judges. Cecil Reid was the timekeeper.

Swartz announced that he would stage another card in the Armouries two weeks hence with an all-star card of fighters as the attraction. Swartz has been doing a fine job among promotional lines and he has yet to stage a fight that has not pleased the crowd. He deserves the all-out support of the boxing crowd here with his clean-cut well-arranged bouts.

Tomorrow night the Belleville District Hockey League gets under way with the Belleville Rockets juniors meeting Cobourg in the opener and the Trenton Hockey Club tangling with their old rivals from the Trenton Air Station. The teams have had a few practices under their belts and fandom should get a pretty fair idea of what to expect during the coming season. Referee in Chief Speedy St. Louis will be in charge of the games with probably linesmen McKenna and Gray of the RCAF assisting him. The first game will get under way sharp at eight o'clock.

Twenty thousand howling football fans saw the inevitable on Saturday when the rampaging Beavers of the University of Toronto defeated the fiery Mustangs of the University of Western Ontario by a 23-8 score. The string of victories for the bangtails was finally stopped at the 27 mark...Meanwhile Queen's Gaels were nipping the Redmen of McGill 10-7 at Montreal...Beavers and Mustangs will play a sudden death game for the intercollegiate title...And the way the Blues are travelling plus Western injuries gives the big Blue team the edge..Belleville C.I. football juniors hitherto undefeated lost finally to the strong Peterborough C. I. kids by a 14-1 score on Saturday...And Ottawa Roughriders nabbed the Interprovincial championship by nudging Montreal Alouettes 15-7 to take the round 34-28...Plans are under way for a possible city soccer league to operate in the Spring. Johnny Foxon, and Tommy Sneddon, two former Old Country players are nursing the idea while Trenton RCAF Flyers are considering an entry. With perhaps one from BCI...And there's a ray of sponsorship light breaking for the midgets and juvenile squads of the city.

Junior Teams Meet in Toronto For Grand Final

(By The Canadian Press)

Hamilton Wildcats and Saskatoon hilltops will square off next Saturday in the first official east-west Junion Football final since 1932.

They both rolled for shut-out victories Saturday to qualify for the Dominion final.

Saskatoon won the Western championship by beating Vancouver Blue Bombers, winners of an unofficial east-west final last year 28-0. Hamilton took the Eastern championship by beating Point Edward 16-0.

The hilltops plan to leave for the east next Wednesday or Thursday but the site of the game has not been decided.

Hamilton, winners of the Big Four Junior League who beat the Quebec Union Champions in the Eastern semi-finals, were led by big Brian Timmis, Jr, whose father led the Hamilton Tigers years ago.

Timmis went for two touchdowns while Carl Andree scored a third.

It was the first loss of the season for Point Edward, Ontario Union Champions. Badly outweighted along the line, they were unable to produce any kind of an attack.

More than 2,700 fans watched hilltops bring the Western Junior championship to Saskatoon for the first time in 16 years.

Saturday's game will be the first official Dominion final since 1933, when Toronto Argonauts defeated Montreal. The West was not represented that year but in 1932 the University of Toronto beat Moose Jaw in the last official final.

Back of HOCKEY VICTORIES

HOCKEY equipment really "takes a beating" in every game of big time hockey. Fast skating, instant turns, collisions, spills and immediate stops impose terrific strains on skates and shoes.

The failure of a skate or shoe may cost the game, or the trophy, so championship players use C.C.M. Matched Sets and take no chances.

The Toronto Maple Leafs won the world's Professional Championship, the "Stanley Cup," with C.C.M. Matched Skating Sets on every player.

The Edmonton Flyers won the Canadian Senior Amateur Championship, the "Allan Cup," with C.C.M. Matched Skating Sets on every player.

The Port Arthur West End Bruins won the Canadian Junior Amateur Championship, the "Memorial Cup," with C.C.M. Matched Sets on every player.

So goes the story of amateur and professional hockey in Canada and the United States—over 95 per cent of the players used C.C.M.'s.

Buffalo Bisons Chalk up New Scoring Record

(By The Canadian Press)

Buffalo Bisons Sunday night chalked up a new American Hockey League high scoring record by trouncing the eastern division cellar-dwelling Philadelphia Rockets 16-4. Buffalo also took Saturday night's encounter 5-3.

The previous high was 14 goals, by Pittsburgh against St. Louis on March 1, 1945.

Trailing 2-1 in the first period, the Bisons racked up 13 straight goals as everyone but defenceman Lloyd Finkbeiner and goalie Connie Dion got into the act with goals or assists. The Bisons packed nine goals into the second stanza.

Kenny Mackenzie paced the onslaught with three tallies and three assists while Murdo McKay also scored three times and had two assists. George Agar, Fred Hunt and George Pargeter tallied twice while Curry, Doug Lewis, Art Lessard and Leo Gravelle scored once apiece.

Philadelphia snipers were Phil Hergesheimer who got two markers and Mulholland and Stefani who knocked in one each.

St. Louis Flyers hold a slim one point lead over second place Pittsburgh in the western section after splitting two weekend games with Cleveland Barons.

Flyers Split Even

The Flyers took Sunday night's tilt 4-2 but dropped a 4-3 decision to the Barons Saturday.

Trigger-men for the Flyers were Sullivan, Doran, Gladu and Trigg. Sprout, and Brennan divided Cleveland's scoring honors.

Scoring twice in the final session, Hershey Bears edged out New Haven Ramblers 3-2.

Jerry Brown, Dave Creighton and Silvio Dettio bagged the Bears' goals while Sherm White and Jean Paul Denis shared the scoring for the losers.

Providence Reds scored their first shutout in more than two years by blanking Pittsburgh Hornets 3-0. Carl Liscombe, league leading scorer, tallied once. Roger Bedard and Johnny Chad were the other goal-getters.

Indianapolis battled to a 5-5 tie with Washington. Indianapolis' goals were scored by Cliff Simpson, Baldy Mackay, Eddie Bruneteau and Gerry Reid who got two counters.

Lions' marksmen were Win Mousseau, Ken Schultz, Fred Porteous, Phil Vitale and Gordon Duggan.

Saturday's Games

Doug Lewis and Leo Gravelle each scored two goals and Fred Hunt got one marker to push Buffalo ahead of Philadelpia Rockets 5-3. Ernie Prentice and Phil Hergesheimer got the Rockets' points.

Cleveland edged St. Louis 4-3 with Bryan Hextall getting two tallies for the victors. Johnny Holota and Augie Herchenratter also found the mark for Cleveland. Henry Becors tallied twice and Barry Sullivan once for St. Louis.

Pittsburgh Hornets were held to a 4-4 tie by Providence. Pittsburgh's markers were chalked up by Sid Smith, Peanuts O'Flaherty, Pete Langelle and Rudy Migay. Ray LaPlante, Roger Bedard, Pete Kapusta and Art Michaluk were the Providence scorers.

New Haven Ramblers defeated Springfield Indians 4-2. Ken Davies, Chick Webster, Gino Rozzini and Fred Brown notched the Rambler goals. Bill Summerhill and Fritz Kaiser were the Springfield goal-getters.

Indianapolis Capitals trounced Hershey Bears 6-2 with Eddie Bruneteau getting two goals. Gordon Haidy, Frank Melong, Cliff Simpson and Pat Lundy shared

Detroit Still in Top Position As Dog-Fight Continues For Leadership of National Loop

(By The Canadian Press)

Detroit Red Wings came out of a weekend of heavy action still on top of the heap in the National Hockey League, but the dog-fight for the loop leadership has become even tighter.

The Wings invaded Chicago and whipped the Black Hawks 3-1 Sunday night in their only weekend contest, while Montreal Canadiens split their two weekend contests and Boston Bruins won their only game, a 3-2 triumph over Canadiens in the hub Sunday night.

The result left the Wings in first place with 15 points, two more than Boston and Montreal who are deadlocked in the second slot with 13 each.

In the other weekend fixtures, Toronto Maple Leafs were bounced by Chicago 6-3 right at home in the Queen City, while Montreal handed Rangers a 3-1 setback in New York in a pair of Saturday games, and the Leafs moved to New York to earn a 4-4 draw with the Rangers Sunday night.

The bottom half of the race also tightened up, with Toronto, New York and Chicago now running fourth, fifth and sixth with eight, seven and six points respectively. Only nine points separate the top and bottom clubs.

A crowd of 16,984 Chicago Stadium fans saw the Hawks hold Detroit to a 1-1 standoff in the first period, but the Wings rallied for single goals in each of the last two sessions to romp home in front.

Jimmy McFadden, Jerry Couture and Sid Abel scored the Detroit goals, while Gaye Stewart hammered a 30-footer past goalie Harry Lumley for the lone Hawk counter.

Brimsek Saves Bruins

Only some sensational work between the pipes by Frankie Brimsek saved the Bruins from a beating by Montreal Sunday night.

Bill Durnan had only 19 stops to make in the Canadien cage compared to 34 the flying Frenchmen flung at Brimsek, but the final score read 3-2 for the Bruins.

Sophomore winger Howard (Rip) Riopelle notched both the Habitant markers, while Jimmy Peters, Milt Schmidt and Kenny Smith collected the Boston goals.

In New York Saturday, veteran Joe Carveth sparked Montreal to their 3-1 triumph over Rangers by banging home two goals. Defenceman Glen opening the scoring for the Habs by blasting a 30-footer past goalie Chuck Rayner.

Two of the Canadien goals were scored while New York was a man short. Eddie Kullman's third-period marker was the only one of 24 Ranger shots to elude Durnan.

Given Rude Jolt

Any hopes manager Conny Smythe had that Toronto Leafs would make mince meat of Chicago at Maple Leaf Gardens Saturday night were given a rude jolt by the Hawks who upset the defending Stanley Cup champions 6-3 for their first road victory of the season. Sugar Jim Henry was spectacular in the Chicago nets.

Chicago marksmen were Metro Prystai, Adam Brown, Jim Conacher, Gus Bodnar, Bep Guidolin and Gaye Stewart fired the Hawk goals, while Max Bentley, Howie Meeker and Harry Watson hit the target for Toronto.

Stellar netminding by veteran Turk Broda helped the Leafs to hold Rangers to a 4-4 stalemate in New York Sunday night.

Right-winger Bill Ezinicki led the scoring parade for Leafs with a goal and two assists, while former Ranger Cal Gardner was right behind with a goal and an assist.

Harry Watson and Ted Kennedy sniped the other Leaf counters, while Penti Dund with two, Eddie Kullman, who scored the tying marker in the third session, and Dunc Fisher collected the Ranger tallies.

HORSE SENSE BRIDGE

By SAM GORDON
The Kibitzer

A new chain letter has started. The idea is to send the letter, accompanied by your most undesirable bridge partner. A man dare not break the chain for fear of getting back his own wife.

This calls to mind the subject of husband and wife playing as partners. A married couple seldom makes a congenial bridge twosome. Why should the marital status cause discord in a bridge pair?

Perhaps it is because of the sheltered position acquired by a wife in the home. What if the biscuits burn?? Or the children have been naughty? Is she censured? No. She is sympathized with.

She hopes for the same protective consideration in the presence of others. And in bridge, the brute desires to assert his superior ability. It is humiliating to her if he criticizes.

Other pairs separate for a time after each match. There is some sort of a cooling off period before they meet again. But a hitched pair is likely to carry their differences far into the night.

The exception is Mr. and Mrs. Knittingham. She admits knowing little about the game and cares less. She fears to become declarer. She sighs with relief when he must play the cards.

Came the deal you see here:

She was the dealer in north. After a long and worried study she opened with a bid of one spade. He jumped at once to a bid of six no-trump. This made sure he would play the hands.

With two club finesses the slam rolled in. Opponents expressed surprise at his bid. He smiled fondly at his spouse and remarked: "When my wife opens I can depend on her having all the tea in China."

The missus took this as a compliment. She beamed all over the place. And pride for her husband stuck out in her eyes. Such pairs make the best married bridge partners.

The Movie Column

By BOB THOMAS

Hollywood, Nov. 15 (AP —The United States' top record star, Bing Crosby, expects to resume singing for wax this week.

The groaner tells me he'll probably be recording again in a few days, although the deal awaits the go-ahead signal from the east. It would be the first discs he has made since the Petrillo ban went into effect anuary 1.

Bing plans to be through with "Top O' The Morning" before Christmas.

Hope Hunt.

Bob Hope says he is looking for a place in his picture for Bing's usual guest appearance. It's a shipboard film and Bob says "maybe we can find a small trunk somewhere." Bob is mulling "My Favorite Redhead" or "A Date with the Duchess" to replace the "Easy Does It" title. He wants to inject some romance in the film's handle.

Vancouver-born Yvonne DeCarlo is hepped up about entertaining troops in Germany next summer. "They've been forgotten," she says on the "Calamity Jane." "Entertainment has fallen off to nothing."

Latest Hollywood story is about a radio gag writer who had an idyllic home in the San Fernando Valley — until his next-door neighbor put in a turkey farm. Maddened by the racket, the gagman put up a sign in front of his house which read "Lion Farm." Every time he leaves the house he turns on a loud speaker that blasts a record of lion roars towards the neighbor's house.

Capsule review: "You Gotta Stay Happy" (J-I) is light, breezy stuff of the reliable "It Happened One Night" formula. This time a madcap heiress (Joan Fontaine) chases an air freight lines owner (James Stewart) across the country.

Butler, Pa. — (AP) — The Butler Trinity Lutheran Church is going to have a new $1,100 heating system thanks to the ingenuity of the pastor and 110 of his parishioners.

Last June Rev. Hudson M. Clemenents borrowed $900 from a bank and distributed the money to 110 members of his church in amounts varying from $2 to $10.

The 26-year-old minister told the 110 to invest the money in any manner they saw fit and to bring in their capital and any profits.

Sunday at morning services the 110 reported — with a total of $2,124, enough to pay off the $900 loan and buy a new heater for the church.

Hollywood — (AP) — Spike Jones can make music (?) with cowbells and washboards but not, says he, with rubbber cheques.

Spike and his zany musicians played a first show Saturday night before the largest crowd in the history of Slapsie Maxie's restaurant — then walked out.

He said a $10,500 cheque for the band's first week at the night spot bounced. The contract called for a four-week stay.

Charles Devore, co-owner of the restaurant, said "the whole thing is a misunderstanding."

Lithia Springs, Ga. — (AP) — Lacking a horse and buggy, Lula Cooper, 14, and J. R. Teel, 18, eloped on horseback back in 1882.

Friends shook their heads glumly, saying that such a hasty marriage could hardly last.

Lula and J. R. Tell proved them all wrong Sunday by observing their 66th marriage anniversary.

CARS THROWN UPON LAWN

Toronto, Nov. 15 — CP)—Two automobiles were thrown up onto a lawn in a freak accident in northwest Toronto Sunday night. One struck a parked car, shoved it 20 feet up onto a high lawn and buried its hood beneath the back of the parked car. Mrs. WiFlfred Chowan, a passenger in one of the cars, was treated for head injuries.

Attempted Uprising of Negro Slaves Forms Basis of Guild Production

By PAT USSHER
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

New York, Nov. 13 (CP)—As its first production of the season, the Theatre Guild has delved into history for an earnest, painstaking account of an attempted uprising of Negro slaves in Charleston, S.C., in 1822.

The play is "Set My People Free," by Dorothy Heyward. At times it is eloquent, at times slow-moving, but the sincerity of the presentation compels attention.

Principal interest centres in the dilemma in which George, a head slave in the household of Captain Wilson, is placed by the planned insurrection. He is torn between his loyalty to a kindly master and his desire to stand with his own people.

Canada Lee gives an understanding and at times moving performance in this role. Juano Hernandez does a fine job as Denmark Vesey, ringleader of the abortive plot, and so does Mildred Smith as Rose, George's wife.

Somer Albert, former Montreal actor, appears briefly as trader Henir, a cruel slave-owner who is killed by his own people.

Camile Televised

Judith Evelyn, noted actress who was born in Moose Jaw, Sask., and began her stage career in Winnipeg, stars Sunday night in a televised performance of Alexandre Dumas' "Camille." The version in which she appears (over WNBT and the NBC video network, 9-10 p.m. EST) was specially written for her by Andrew Allan, well-known producer of CBC shows. Adding to the Canadian flavor of the presentation, Toronto-educated Bert Lytell is production supervisor.

Aisle Jottings

"Mister Roberts," the salty and successful play about nautical life in wartime backwaters, has passed its 300th performance at the Alvin Theatre..."Born Yesterday" the Judy Holliday vehicle which has been creating laughs at the Lyeum Theatre since Feb. 4, 1946, moved this week to Henry Miller's theatre to make way for a newcomer, "Bravo!" ..."As the Girls Go", Michael Todd's new musical comedy production with Bobby Clark and Irene Rich, opens this weekend.

Unionists Want Swift Repeal Of Taft-Hartley Act

Cincinnati, Nov. 15 (AP)—The American Federation of Labor keynoted the start of its 67th convention today with a demand for swift repeal of the Taft-Hartley Labor Act and the re-shaping of a strong labor department.

President William Green, who has set the tone of every convention since 1924, was scheduled to open this one. He was to be followed by Labor Secretary Maurice J. Tobin, who has informal approval from the A.F.L. for to rebuild the labor department. Sharp appropriations cuts and agency transfers by the Republican-controlled 80th Congress have drastically reduced its size in the last two years.

The 75-year-old Green, who was eight years old when the A.F.L. was formed in 1881, was expected to claim for the federation a large share of credit for President Truman's re-election.

The A.F.L. entered a political league in the 1948 campaign for the first time in its history. The league never officially endorsed Truman but 98 per cent of its backers worked for a Democraaic victory, A.F.L. leaders said.

In the congressional contests, the A.F.L.—like all the other labor political organizations — campaigned to beat lawmakers who voted for the Taft-Hartley Act.

On the eve of the convention opening, the A.F.L. council voted to demand outright repeal of the Act, now that the Democratic party controls both Houses of Congress.

A gap between repeal of the Taft-Hartley Act and passage of another law would leave a serious "hiatus" when the United States would be without a National Labor Relations Board, a Federal Mediation Service or other agencies to handle disputes outside the railroad industry.

The A.F.L. leader hastened to correct the impression that they wanted that to happen.

AT THE McCARTHY

Sissies are warned to stay home by Manager Fawcett when Dr. Ogre Banshee and his company of spooks take over the McCarthy for one mid-night performance tonight, Monday Nov. 15th. This master of the occult and magic arts brings forth phantoms and ghosts right before your eyes and causes them to float about over your head. Verga, the beautiful "Ghosts' Sweetheart" takes a bath at mid-night on the stage.

All this takes place in "Chasm of Spasms" and as if it were not enough to entertain you for more than an hour with all the magic black arts at his command, Dr. Banshee also offers a thrill packed drama which appears on the McCarthy's screen. It is "Blood and Thunder," a suspense filled spine tingling movie.

In order to handle the expected crowds more easily, Manager Fawcett is offering patrons the opportunity to buy tickets for this special mid-night show in advance. They may be obtained at the box office. Seats are not reserved, but all ticket purchasers will be assured a seat. Box office remains open all evening.

Ted Lindsay Will Be Out of Action For a Month

(By The Canadian Press)

Ted Lindsay of Detroit Red Wings, only unanimous choice of last season's National Hockey League all-star team, will be out of action for at least a month, it was learned in Toronto Sunday night.

Lindsay received a fractured left foot against Boston Bruins last Thursday. Wearing crutches, he watched Saturday night's Toronto-Chicago game before going on to his home at Kirkland Lake.

"It happened when Milt Schmidt chopped me over the foot with his stick," he contended.

An amendment to allow lead-offs and increase the distance between bases from 55 to 60 feet was defeated Sunday at the 18th annual meeting of the Provincial Women's softball union at Toronto.

Another amendment, which carried, will allow men to catch on the base lines in Junior games.

Mrs. Marge Stewart of St. Catharines was elected president. Other officers include: Vice President, Beth McLeod, Welland; Treasurer, Mrs. Dorothy Millar, Peterborough.

Ontario Agricultural College won its second straight Ontario Intermediate Intercollegiate Football title at Guelph Saturday, crushing the winless McMaster University Rams 58-0 in the final game.

Aggies lost only one game—to the University of Toronto—last week during the schedule. Next week they'll meet the Eastern Ontario Intercollegiate Champions in defence of their title.

Hitting the form that the team will need in following rounds of the Senior "B" playoffs, London R.C.A.S.C. Falcons crushed Niagara Falls Dynamos 21-2, in a sudden-death playoff game at London Saturday afternoon.

The Falcons are now only two games away from the Dominion Football championship and meet the winner of the Cobourg-Orillia playoff for the right to enter the finals next Saturday.

Argentine fans didn't like the way the first race was run at La Plata racetrack Saturday.

Item won the race, but the crowd felt that the heavily-backed Aldor, which came in second had been given a poor ride by Jockey Luis Martinez. So:

One person was wounded by a bullet, and an inspector employed by the track was held on a charge of using firearms; angry bettors jumped on to the track, smashed windows in the stands and burned newspapers in an effort to set fire to the installations.

Police eventually restored order.

International League directors granted permission today for the transfer of the Newark Bears' baseball franchise to another city.

The New York Yankees, owners, have announced the franchise is for sale.

There also has been talk that the club would be moved to Reading, Pa., for many years an International League member.

The International League directors, meeting here in their annual fall session, voted approval of a transfer to a city agreeable to the League.

Queen's University Juniors scored their fifth straight exhibition victory of the season, Saturday as they whipped the Royal Military College Juniors 8-1 in a muddy Richardson Stadium field, Kingston.

The R.M.C. Cadets, capably coached by Capt. Tommy Wagstaffe of last year's Calgary Stampeders, held the bigger Queen's thirds to a 1-1 tie at half time.

Henri Rochon of Montreal, Canadian Tennis Champion, was defeated Sunday in the finals of the Mexican National tournament at Mexico City.

He lost to Pancho Guerrero Arcocha, Mexican Davis Cup player and No. 3 ranking player, 6-3, 6-3, 14-12.

Rochon was the only foreigner invited to play in the National championship this year.

If you have children— consider this

Many men are now buying Insurance Policies for their 'teen age children and for children even younger. They buy them to provide money for children's higher education or to provide capital for the starting of a modest business; as well as for protection.

Sometimes there is an understanding between father and son that when the son earns enough to pay all or part of the premiums, he will do so. This compact between father and son works out well. It teaches thrift to the young man and strengthens his sense of responsibility.

Stampeder Fans Plan Wild West Invasion of East

Calgary, Nov. 15 (CP)—Toronto is going to be treated to a rootin, tootin parade—western style—come Nov. 27.

Elaborate plans for a wild west "invasion" of the Ontario capital are underway here today as red-hot grid fans from this foothills city prepare to give all-out support to their beloved Stampeders' bid for Dominion football laurels.

Stampeders will leave here Thursday night to set up training camp at Oakville, Ontario, for the Grey Cup classic against Ottawa Rough Riders or Hamilton Tigers. The undefeated western champions will train at Appleby College in Oakville for one week prior to the grid final.

A group of fans met with the team's executive Sunday night and began laying plans for the "invasion."

More than 200 fans—all wearing cowboy garb complete with 10-gallon stetsons and colorful bandanas—will arrive in Toronto aboard a "Stampeder special" train the day before the big game. Also aboard will be horses and a chuckwagon.

Organizers promise the parade the day of the game will be something to make eastern "tenderfoots" pop-eyed.

It will be complete with cowboys, and perhaps even a few Indians in ceremonial regalia.

Stampeders will leave their Oakville training camp in time to join the parade and be escorted to the game.

Some of the cowboys are hoping to ride their mounts right into Varsity stadium and up into the grandstand. The chuckwagon, however, will remain just outside the stadium's main gates. There the chuckwagon crew will serve up "flap-jacks" for anyone wishing to sample western range grub—and all for free too.

Minneapolis Runs Winning String To Eight Games

(By The Canadian Press)

Minneapolis Millers ran their unbeaten string to eight straight games with two weekend decisions over Kansas City, leader of the United States Hockey League's northern division.

The Millers outshot the Pla-Mors Sunday night 3-1 at Kansas City after winning by the same score Saturday at Minneapolis.

St. Paul also posted two victories over Omaha in the home-and-home series. The Saints won 7-5 Sunday night although they were short-handed 12 straight minutes as a result of two fist fights. Saturday's score was 10-2.

Fort Worth and Tulsa shared the southern division's leadership after splitting their two games. The Rangers scored two goals in the first three minutes Sunday night and Vic Lofvendahl added another in the final period to edge Tulsa 3-2. Tulsa took Saturday's game 8-6.

Dallas defeated Houston Saturday 7-2.

The Big Seven

(By The Canadian Press)

Joe Carveth, veteran Montreal right-winger, picked up two goals Saturday night to move into third place tie with Canadien teammate Billy Reay who added an assist in the National Hockey League scoring race. Both have 11 points. Grant Warwick, Boston winger, managed to stay on top of the ladder by picking up an assist Sunday night to give him 14 points, while linemate Eddie Sandford remained in second spot with 12 points.

Montreal, Nov. 15 (CP) — The battle is on — did Alouettes' Joey Pal pull a boner in the Big Four play-off opener here Thursday or was he the victim of an official's miscue?

The play in question was in the second quarter of the opening game between Montreal Alouettes and Ottawa Rough Riders for the Big Four championship.

Pal took a punt from Ottawa dynamo Tony Golab behind his own touchline. He was surrounded by Rough Rider tacklers so he held the ball to the ground with one hand.

Golab roared in, knocked Joey to one side and fell on the ball. For a hotly contested touchdown. The officials ruled it good.

Golab No Gentleman

Elmer (Montreal Herald) Ferguson doesn't think the Ottawa ace is much of a gentleman. Says Fergie:

"Golab is a forthright fellow with no appreciation of such niceties. Instead Tony, the golden boy, or lady luck skillfully disguised, raced up, rudely knocked the ball from Joey's fingers, and promptly fell on it for a touchdown."

"You can't just hold a ball in your fingers-tips with a guy like Golab around and call it possessing," Fergie says. "You'd better curl up over it, and for additional safety, try to embed the dilated pig into the earth as deeply as possible."

Pal Takes the Stand

Here the Alouette half-back takes the stand:

"I knew I couldn't get out and was ready to concede the point. I was on one knee, one hand on the ball when I heard a horn. Munro rushed in and said okay Just then Field Judge Johnny the ball is grounded," so I figured he counted a rouge."

"The next thing that happened," Joey said, "Golab came tearing in, swooped on the ball and knocked me over. Behind him rushed the referee, Seymour Wilson, who shouted, "it's a touchdown."

Oshawa Generals In Second Place Tie With Windsor

By The Canadian Press

The pace-setting St. Catharines Teepees, with 10 wins, three losses and a tie, snapped Windsor Spitfires' eight-game winning streak Saturday night.

The fleet Windsor squad had beaten all their Junior Ontario Hockey Association opposition before they dropped the 5-4 decision to Teepees.

In the other junior games during the weekend, Oshawa Generals moved into a second-place tie with Windsor by defeating Guelph Biltmores 12-6, and the fourth-place Stratford Kroehlers bested the cellarite Toronto Marlboros 3-2.

In the only senior game, Kitchener-Waterloo Flying Dutchmen moved into sole possession of second place defeating Owen Sound Mercurys 5-4.

Windsor made a last-ditch attempt to tie up the game with 26 seconds remaining in the game when they yanked netminder Dennis Mooney and sent six forwards into the battle.

Teepees, hustling and outskating Spitfires by a wide margin in the first period, established a 3-1 lead, but Windsor picked up in the second to deadlock the count 4-4. Bud Evans slammed home the winning goal with five minutes remaining in the game.

Opens Scoring

Bruce Giesbrecht of Windsor opened the scoring early in the first period on a pass from brother Bert. Teepees struck swiftly for three unanswered counters by Marcel Clements, Jack McIntyre and Red Sullivan.

Doug McGinn, Bert Geisbrecht and Glen Skov scored for Windsor in the second period with Sullivan answering for St. Kitt's.

Guelph broke into the lead early in the first period when Mel Mullens scored on a pass from Lorne Ferguson but Dusty Blair evened the count minutes later.

In the second frame Generals held an 8-4 margin, and lengthened it in a penalty-riddled third. Thirty penalties were handed out in the game, including seven minors and four majors in the final period.

Two Score Three

Dusty Blair and Frank Hooper of the Generals each garnered three goals. Bill Scott and Dick Gamble scored two apiece for Oshawa while Ron Stephen and Ted O'Connor grabbed singletons.

Don Oberholtzer with two, Mullins, Don Richardson, Joe Shay and Gar Vasey scored for Guelph.

Stratford racked up its first goal early in the opening game when Bob Houston scored from close in. Gord McKennell tied it up in the second frame on a screened shot.

Dinny Flanagan broke the deadlock for Stratford mid-way through the third session on a pass from Pierre Cadieux, that was lengthened when Houston got his second goal. Neil Grenke cut the margin down minutes later and a last-minute rush by Marlies failed to get the equalizer.

It was Kitchener's second win in two nights over Owen Sound and it put them one point ahead of their third place victims.

Ted Grasser and Mike Dzuira each scored twice for Dutchmen with Doug Verity getting a singleton. Doug Gillespie, Buck Forslund, Mike Shabaga and Pat McReavy counted for Mercurys.

Mercurys took the lead in the first period on Gillespie's goal while the Dutchmen were short-handed. Kitchener drove back and made it 3-1 in the second on goals by Verity, Grasser and Dzuira. But while Grasser was off on a penalty, Forslund, Shabaga and McReavy scored within 15 seconds for Owen Sound.

Dzuira's second goal in the final frame tied the score and Grasser pushed home a loose puck from the crease for the deciding tally.

In the only O.H.A. game tonight Toronto Marlboros seniors clash with Stratford Indians.

MEET IN PETERBOROUGH

Toronto, Nov. 15 — (CP) — Orillia and Cobourg will meet in Peterborough Wednesday in a second sudden-death semi-final in the intermediate division of the Ontario Rugby Football Union, it was announced Sunday night.

Orillia and Cobourg played to an overtime 16-16 tie in a first sudden-death semi-final Saturday.

The winner meets London in a sudden-death final for the provincial championship next Saturday but the locale of the game has not been settled.

Aviation Expert Denies He Was Author of Article

London, Nov. 15 — (CP) — Charles W. Cain, a British aviation expert, Sunday night denied he was the author of an article in a United States aviation magazine in which information about the new Canadian C-100 twin-jet fighter plane was disclosed.

Interviewed in his Kensington home he said:

"I probably am suspected of being the writer because recently I went to Canada to cover a story about the C-102, a four-jet transport made by the makers of the C-100 — A. V. Roe at Malton, Ont.

"While I was there I asked about the C-100 but they would tell me nothing."

The magazine, Aviation Week, early this month published a story giving a detailed description of the twin-jet C-100.

In Ottawa Air Marshal W. A. Curtis announced that the R. C. M. P. is making an investigation and the R. C. A. F. is "most anxious" to prosecute the person responsible for the leak of information about the secret aircraft.

THE VENABLES

BY KATHLEEN NORRIS

"Lil, you went to the Louvre?"

"Oh, did we go to the Louvre? How I hated it!"

Aunt Lizzie had gone home in the carriage now, leaving Lily to stay the night with the family on condition that she get home for lunch the next day. "The real fun at the Louvre," Lily went on haughtily, "was a perfectly adorable little French soldier — oh, in his red-and-blue uniform he was simply delicious! Aunt Lizzie used to get tired and sit down in front of some picture she liked, and I used to look at him! Mama, am I simply wicked? But the miles I walked in that Louvre! Horrible place!"

"Lily, you didn't talk to him?"

"Oh no, Mama!"

"But you saw the Mona Lisa?" This was Flo.

"Everyone sees the Mona Lisa, darling; tourists gather around it as if there was something magic in it. It's really very simple, exactly like a thousand others!"

Flo thought Lily wonderful, but after this she would not risk any reference to the Winged Victory of Ghirlandajo. Lily's interest, amazing as it seemed, appeared to concern itself chiefly with boys.

"I don't know why I always imagined that Miss Lily was dark," Arnold Belcher said.

"Lily doesn't sound dark?" Lily herself said, smiling up at him.

The group was breaking now, the smaller children going to bed, Lily and Flo and Grandma and Mama to sit on for a while talking over the great adventure and all the home events that had taken place since Lily had gone away.

Arnold Belcher departed, and Lily, looking with raised, dark, delicate eyebrows from one face to another, with a naughty little expression on her eyes, asked dramatically:

"Who's he? Calling Mama 'Miss Willie' and evidently knowing all the Venables intimately except me? And isn't he handsome? I'll tell you who he makes me think of: Mephistopheles in Faust. We heard Faust in Paris at the Opera House — divine!"

"Mephistopheles is the devil, isn't he, Lil?"

"He is indeed. And Mama, your handsome tall beau, looks as if he could be a devil, too, if he made up his mind to it!"

When bedtime came, Flo and Lily whispered and giggled for hours.

"Mama isn't really thinking of marrying Mr. Belcher, is she?"

"I don't know. She kind of talks as if she might, Lil."

"But is he in love with her?"

"I don't think that's what's stopping him. Six of us, you know."

"I know."

"Is Mr. Belcher rich?"

"Well, they seem to have an awful lot. Big house, you know. Mama seems to think they're rich."

"They?"

"His mother lives with him."

"Oh, tiens!" said Lily. "Do you think money — expenses —might have anything to do with Mamy's marrying?" she asked.

"Well, I suppose so. She spoke of having a place and an income for the children."

"Flo, have you ever liked a boy?" Lily asked, after a long silence. Her eyes glinted in a ray of light from the street as she rose on one elbow to look at her sister.

"No. A boy at school, Bessy McNulty's brother, tried to kiss me once, and gave me a chipmunk skin and a bag of lemon drops," Flo said, laughing. "I gave him, in return for these love offerings, a good crack on the jaw."

"But you've never been all—oh, chills and fever, over a boy, Flo?"

"No, and I never will be. Why, have you?"

"Oh, heavens!" Lily was all young lady again. Her chin went up haughtily. "There was a boy on the boat going over, and a boy Aunt Lizzie knew the mother of in London," she confessed, "and there was an Italian, and my little French soldier!"

"You couldn't be in love with all of those, Lily!" Flo exclaimed, scandalized.

"Well, not in love exactly. But they had crushes, all right!" Lily boasted. "Flo, what rent could Mama pay now?" she asked, following some obscure line of thought.

"I don't know and I don't think she does. What I was thinking," Flo said, "was that some day I'd go and see Major Burns. I'd ask him if he'd let us stay one year for twenty-five dollars a month."

"But why bother him if he has not said anything about it, Flo?"

"Well, I kind of hate taking so much for nothing."

"I don't!" said Lily, and she laughed. "I'll go with you," she decided.

"Oh, Lily, you don't have to! It'll be awfully embarrassing."

"Listen if I go and cry, he'll be glad to do it," Lily said.

"And cry?" Flo repeated, puzzled.

"Yes. A little. I'll remind him how Papa always thought the world of him, and if he says that there'll be no talk of rent until you and I are married, I'll kiss him," Lily said dreamily.

"Lily Venables!"

"But Flo, there's no harm in kissing a nice old man. And what is more," Lily added, "I think Aunt Lizzie ought to give Mama more money than she does."

"But Lily, she does so much for you! And she gave me a dollar."

"Flo, Aunt Lizzie's going to give me a big party next November and have it in the newspapers and everything. But that's not it. It's this. When Aunt Lizzie dies she's going to leave me that house and a lot of her money. She's going to give Annie some, because Annie's been with her for twenty years, and Curtis some, for driving her, and Su King — that's our cook—a little. And the rest is for me!"

The magnificence of this fairly took Flo's breath away.

Lily, when she went back to Aunt Lizzie's the next day, took Flo with her. The travellers' trunks had arrived, and it was thrilling to Flo to share the luncheon and watch the various treasures unpacked.

Her share included a coat with fur on it; gloves; nightgowns. But when Aunt Lizzie spoke of taking Lily to see Madame Modjeska as Mary Stuart on the following day, it was several of the girls from Miss West's school whom she proposed as guests.

Flo felt a little chilled as she took the Pacific Avenue car across Polk Street and walked home from Market. Lily was older, of course, and would naturally go with these girls of her own age. But she and Flo had been inseparable once . .

In July, Lily and Aunt Lizzie went to Tahoe; life in Shotwell Street became foggy, dull. Rose was with Lin in Berkeley; Flo had the little girls to guard and amuse. Aunt Daisy continued to lament the imposition upon poor Willie that all their appetites represented.

Willie did not mind the size of her family. But when Arnold quite suddenly and completely stopped calling, she drooped and became absent minded and irritable. The house was noisy and untidy with all the children at home, and the loss of what had never been more than a dream fretted her nerves and depressed her.

Lin and Rose asked Flo to share a cabin at Iverness with them for two weeks, and life promptly went rose-colored for Flo and her heart sang a paean of joy.

They were all in dark-blue alpaca — the neat bloomers topped by waists trimmed with rickrack braid yellowed with salt water and buttoned with white bone buttons. As there were two or three vacationing young men on the beach, they wore stockings—old stockings, and Flo's had holes in the toes, but still they did cover the young bare legs, and anything else was unthinkable with boys about.

One boy was an instructor and came up to help Flo. She did not like boys much, but she liked him; he was nice. His name was Ned Lingard. He asked her how old she was and she said 17.

"That seems old to me," said Flo.

Walking home relaxed and cool, with damp hair dangling and drying, and finger tips gummy and blue, they exultantly counted the days that were left of this enchanted holiday, and planned. They would swim every day twice. That was positive. But they might take a picnic one day 'way up the bay and swim there. And they must walk, they must explore in every direction.

The note of the whole week was laughter — laughter delicious at the time and to be recalled and repeated whenever they remembered these cloudless days.

Flo's feeling for Lin increased rather than lessened with each fast-flying day. It was the little girl idolatry of a year ago and something more — something that appertained to Flo's rapid growing-up, that indeed had a part in hastening it.

"Lin, I want you to know that I think you're a perfectly wonderful person," she said awkwardly on the last morning. Lin looked at her across the telescope basket that she was strapping.

"Thank you, Flo. That's a pleasant thing to hear," she said without smiling. And after a second of hesitation she added: "Come out on the porch with me, Flo. I want to speak to you.

"Last year Rose and I went to Fallen Leaf Lake for three weeks. Lovely weeks, too. But I've never enjoyed any holiday as I have this one, Flo. I've never laughed so much."

Flo's blue eyes met hers quickly, and over Flo's fair freckled skin the hot color spread. Lin's tone was unmistakable; she was saying that Flo had contributed something to this happy time.

"Rose and I are rooted, we're bushes," Lin said, smiling, taking her figure of speech from the straggling little garden at their feet: "You're a climbing vine. You're that passion vine, Flo, scrambling up over the top of the arbor there. That's why you — you have to do differently from Rose and me.

"Everything decorous and mannerly and — and conventional comes easily to us. We never think of doing anything else. We take our daily baths; we brush our hair, we fasten the plackets of our dresses and put tucks in our petticoats when they're too long. We — we don't exaggerate when we talk."

Flo sat perfectly still, her eyes fixed on Lin's face; her cheeks blazing. Her throat was dry; she could not speak.

"I see all sorts of girls, all day long, year out and in," Lin resumed. "Some of them have wonderful manners and stupid insides. They have nothing but manners; they don't forget their thank-you notes. They change their linen every week and tip their soup plates the right way and put grapeskins on the sides of their plates. They are nice, and they are dull.

Russia Rejects Appeal for Peace By U.N. Officials

Insists Whole German Question be Discussed

Paris, Nov. 16 — (AP) — Russia, replying to the peace appeal of top United Nations officials, held firm to her previous position today — and the Western Powers also were reported standing pat.

Russia replied she still insists on taking up the question of all Germany, in any negotiations on Berlin.

The Russian reply to the peace appeal by Trygve Lie, United Nations secretary general, and H. V. Evatt, assembly president, was signed by the Soviet deputy foreign minister, Andrei Vishinsky. The Moscow radio announced its terms.

Personal Contact

The Russians said the Soviet government shares the opinion of Lie and Evatt "about the significance and importance of personal contact and mutual trust between the leaders of the powers in the matter of improvement of relations."

The foreign ministers of Britain, the United States and France met at the French Foreign Office to frame their reply and adjourned after 40 minutes.

The nature of this reply was kept secret, but authoritative sources said it coincided with a French view that the West will not negotiate under the duress of the Berlin blockade, but hopes that the Berlin issue can be solved by conciliation.

A French government spokesman announced this stand earlier.

Featured in Moscow

Moscow newspapers displayed the Evatt-Lie letter prominently today, but did not comment on it.

Mitterand said France's position on the Soviet blockade of Berlin has not changed. France has stood with the United States and Britain in refusing to negotiate with Russia under duress. The West has considered the blockade a form of duress.

Mitterand said Foreign Minister Robert Schuman will draw up France's official reply to the Evatt-Lie proposal.

OFFER AMERICANS LAST CHANCE TO FLEE FROM CHINA

Communist Thrusts Deepen Threat to North and Central China

Nanking, Nov. 16 — (AP) — Communist thrusts deepend the threat to North and Central China today, and United States authorities offered Americans what may be their last chance to flee to safety.

The embassy here and consulates in Shanghai, Peiping and Tientsin told the 7,000 American civilians to get out while they could or risk remaining under "hazardous conditions."

United States embassy dependents are being evacuated immediately. The embassy said the majority would go to Manila to await "clarification" of the Chinese situation.

Jacques Meyrier, French ambassador and dean of the diplomatic corps, called a meeting of

Court Decision On Margarine Delayed Again

Ottawa, Nov. 16 (CP) — The Supreme Court margarine decision has been delayed again.

Expected this week, the judgment on the validity of parliament's ban on the butter substitute has been deferred by a continuing heavy roll of court cases.

Court sources say the judgment now may be brought down next week but even this new date is tentative.

The Supreme Court heard argument of the constitutionality of the prohibition early in October. The legislation prohibits the importation, manufacture and sale of margarine in Canada. It was adopted 62 years ago.

Pilot Parachutes, Jet Plane Strewn Over Farmland

Detroit, Nov. 16 (CP)— The flame-scarred wreckage of a Selfridge Field jet fighter plane, strewn over more than an acre of Macomb County farmland, was explored today by an army accident investigation board for the cause of a crash in which the pilot and terrified spectators escaped death.

With the P-80 "acting crazy", Lt. Clifford Spears, the 23-year-old pilot, parachuted to safety from 1,500 feet. He is being treated in hospital for a sprained ankle.

As Spears jumped to safety, his ship hurtled earthward, crashing in a field within a few feet of three houses and exploding with a thunderous roar.

Weather Synopsis

Toronto, Nov. 16 (CP)—Synopsis:

An intensifying disturbance over Nebraska and a lesser one near Lake Winnipeg threaten increasing cloud and rain. This threat will be realized in the southwestern section in the late afternoon with the weather moving rapidly eastward and northeastward. Increasingly strong winds accompany these disturbances and have already caused storm warnings to be displayed over Superior and these will soon be followed by warnings over the other Great Lakes.

16-Bed Hospital At Port Perry Will be Closed

Port Perry, Nov. 15 — (CP) — Lack of trained nurses and funds have closed the 16-bed hospital in this community 15 miles north of Oshawa.

About 5,000 persons in the village and district found a "no admittance" sign hung on the door — the first time in 30 years they have been without hospital services.

For several months three graduate nurses and a practical nurse have been working 12-hour shifts, but the resignation of one meant they could not continue.

The last patient is Harry Heaps of Raglan, but when he is discharged the doors will be locked.

Union Announcement Throws Cold Water on 'Port of Halifax Week' Plans

Halifax, Nov. 16 (CP) — The United States ports strike at first was a premature Christmas present for the port of Halifax but today the Scrooge of labor trouble had crossed the border and slowed down activity here.

A spokesman for 2,000 Halifax stevedores said Monday that they will no' work ships diverted here from strike-bound American ports, but will help to relay for sailing four big liners already in port.

The announcement had a touch of irony to harbor boosters, in the midst of opening a "port of Halifax week," a promotional scheme to advertise and bring more business here.

Industry Minister Harold Connolly of Nova Scotia appealed to the longshoremen to "weigh carefully" their decision in a public address and a radio broadcast Monday night.

J. J. Campbell, President of the Halifax Longshoremen's Association (A.F.L.), who made the "no work" announcement, said the union would not "scab" American labor but would take care not to break the Canadian federal labor code.

The legal status of the Halifax action appeared to be in some doubt and the Dominion Labor Department announced it was investigating the matter. Montreal longshoremen also said they would not handle diverted ships.

In London, it was announced that the sailing of the Queen Elizabeth escheduled to leave for Halifax Wednesday, has been postponde and it is believed that the Queen Mary will meet a similar fate.

The Aquitania, expected to arrive late today with 1,800 passengers on her regular run to Halifax, will not be affected as the dock workers' action applies to diverted vessels only.

Mr. Campbell, who made his announcement following a conference with international officers of the union, said Halifax longshoremen had decided to help ready for sailing four liners already diverted here—Mauretania, scheduled to sail tonight, Britannic, Veedam and Oregon.

NO NEGOTIATIONS UNTIL BLOCKADE LIFTED—TRUMAN

Has No Plans to Meet Stalin, Send Emissary

Key West, Fla., Nov. 16—(AP) —President Truman said flatly today the United States will not resume Four-Power negotiations on Germany until Russia lifts its Berlin blockade.

At the same time, he told a press conference that he will review the entire international situation with State Secretary Marshall at the White House Nov. 22.

Truman made it clear that:

1. He has no plans for a meeting with Stalin. He said he will not leave Washington for such a conference, but that his invitation to Stalin to visit Washington still stands.

2. He has no plans to send an emissary to Moscow to talk with Stalin.

Pope Pius Cables Congratulations On Royal Birth

Vatican City, Nov. 16 (AP) — Pope Pius today cabled the Royal family his congratulations on the birth of Princess Elizabeth's son.

Israeli Court Frees Briton Of 7-Year Term

Jerusalem, Nov. 16 (Reuters)— The Israeli Supreme Court today freed Frederick William Sylvester, 32-year-old Briton previously sentenced to seven years' imprisonment by the Jerusalem District Court on charges of broadcasting information useful to the enemies of Israel.

Sylvester's appeal was upheld in a four-minute session today and the court ordered his immediate release.

An employee of the Jerusalem Electricity Corporation, he was one of five Britons seized at gunpoint by Irgun Terrorists from a building under United Nations protection July 8.

Three of them were released within two weeks and a fourth Sept. 29.

Tavistock Cutoff Stepped Up to Five Hours Daily

Tavistock, Nov. 16 (CP)— Hydro cutoffs for this village have been stepped up to five hours daily with announcement today that third blackout period has been designated for two hours each night from 10 p.m. to midnight, effective tonight.

Previously, power has been cut from 7 a.m. to 8 a.m. and from 4 p.m. to 6 p.m. and these blackout periods will continue.

Consumer Resistance Heavy Retail Stocks Force Production Down

Quebec, Nov. 16 — (CP) — Fewer Canadian shoes are being made this year because of consumer resistance and heavy retailers' stocks, L. Paul Duchaine, president of the Shoe Manufacturers' Association of Canada, said here today.

He told the association's annual meeting that estimated production for 1948 will not exceed 31,000,000 pairs, a drop of 13 per cent from 1947 figures and 28 per cent below 1946.

First, he said, decontrol of leathers in 1947 enabled manufacturers to catch up with orders and second, a retail price increase created "a normal consumer resistance."

He estimated that 1949 production might go as high as 34,000,000 pairs.

The Quebec shoe manufacturer attributed the trend towards heavy shoes for men to the reaction from the lighter types made during the war. The changes in women's shoes to go with the "new look" were a stimulus to production.

Manufacturers had been disappointed when they found that there was little hope of obtaining shoe orders under the Marshall Plan. It has been made plain that Canada will supply mostly raw materials.

Mr. Duchaine said he found it "difficult to understand" a government policy which prevented importation of United States leather for Canadian shoe manufacture when, at the same time, American shoes were allowed in to the full limit of their quotas "and sold to the Canadian public at prices far in excess of comparable Canadian shoes."

Canadian Airman Trains Pilots At Hankow

Brantford, Nov. 16 (CP)—Jack H. Turnbull of St. Thomas, a nephew of R. Turnbull, of Brantford, has been identified as one of several airmen training Chinese Nationalist pilots at Hankow within 100 miles of the Communist advance in China.

Brantford relatives this weekend received word that Mr. and Mrs. Turnbull and their baby son, born on Friday of last week, had been ordered to evacuate Hankow before conditions in the city became serious.

The Canadian airman went to China last spring after being hired by the Nationalist government to train pilots. He is a former member of the Royal Canadian Air Force. Other airmen from the Dominion reported to be at Hankow include "Moose" Fumerton, distinguished flyer with the R.C.A.F. in the Second World War.

Mrs. Robert B. McLure, wife of a well-known missionary doctor in China, said Monday at Toronto that her husband is now at Hankow She also reported the presence of Turnbull, Fumerton and a George Stewart.

General Store, Garage Burned At French River

French River, Nov. 16 (CP)—A general store and garage in this resort town, both owned by Hindle Brothers, were completely destroyed by fire this morning. Estimate of the damage was not immediately available, but is expected to run into thousands of dollars. No one was injured.

The fire broke out in the store about 9.30 a.m. At last reports, the two buildings were still burning, but the flames were sufficiently under control to prevent spreading to adjacent buildings.

A gasoline tank and pump, between the store and garage, did not explode. Water was continuously poured on these to prevent a blast that would have rocked the community.

Three cars were in the garage when the fire broke out. These were rolled out of the building to safety. All garage equipment was lost.

Included in the loss were living quarters, attached to the store. All personal effects of five persons living in the rear of the store were said to be a total loss.

The garage and store were bought just a little over a month ago by Hindle Brothers from Gordon McLeod, of Parry Sound.

The fire-razed structures are close to the French River Bungalo Camps, but a favorable wind aided firefighters in preventing the blaze from spreading beyond the store and garage.

CREATIVE WRITING COURSE TO BE ADOPTED

London, Ont., Nov. 15 — (CP) — The University of Western Ontario today announced a course in creative writing, to be given in bi-weekly seminars.

Lecturer will be James R. Scott of the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation. Native of Seaforth, he formerly was on the faculty of the University of Saskatchewan and a teaching Fellow of the University of Toronto.

He is living at present in Bayfield where he is completing a novel.

Clamp Curtain Over Talks On Eire's Future

By ALAN HARVEY
(Canadian Press Staff Writer)

Paris, Nov. 16 (CP)— The Eire delegation today clamped a rigid security curtain over talks with representatives of Britain, Canada, Australia and New eZaland on the future position of Eire in the Commonwealth.

Emerging from a two-hour parley in the tapestried conference room of the Palais Chaillot, Foreign Minister Sean MacBride of Eire told reporters: "We're not talking—that's all."

The talks will continue this afternoon and will finish then because some of the Eire delegation must return home tomorrow.

Australias Dr. Herbert Evatt, chairman of the U.N. Assembly for this session, was host at this morning's meeting.

Britain was represented by ord Chancellor Jowitt; Canada by . B. Pearson, Minister for External Affairs; New Zealand by Premier Peter Fraser; and Australia by Evatt and J. A. Beasley, High Commissioner in London.

The subject under discussion is the exact status of Eireann citizens resident in the British Commonwealth after Eire has severed her last link with the British Crown by the repeal of the External Relations Act, expected tomorrow.

South Africa and other Commonwealth countries are not taking part as they have no Eireann minorities.

MacBride said Monday that Eire's seccession was almost an accomplished fact.

It was learned here that the meeting would go through the findings of the law officers of the crown on the consequences of Eire leaving the Commonwealth.

What these detailed findings were not made known, but it was made clear that they covered:

1. People born in Eire and now working in Britain and enjoying British status would become aliens, with all the consequences involved.

2. Eire would automatically lose her preferential position inside the Commonwealth with regards to trade.

VINCENT MASSEY DELAYED

Southampton, England, Nov. 16 — (CP) — Rt. Hon. Vincent Massey, former Canadian High Commissioner to the United Kingdom, was among 2,200 passengers whose departure aboard the Queen Elizabeth was delayed today by the longshoremen's strike in the United States.

Three boat trains scheduled to leave London today for Southampton were cancelled.

POLISH BANKS SOCIALIZED

Warsaw, Nov. 16 — (AP)—Poland socialized all its banks today except one lone institution handling financial services for foreign trade.

A government decree said the country's entire banking structure is being adjusted "to new tasks which confront the people's state on the road toward socialism."

LIVING IN TENT LOSES JOB, FINDS ANOTHER

Montreal, Nov. 16 (CP)—Russell Durocher, living with his wife and five children in a tent since their eviction from an army barracks in September, found double trouble when he lost his job. But Monday he was offered a new one—demolishing barracks huts described as unihabitable.

"It made me sick," he said, but he took the job anyway.

ALL WELL WITH ELIZABETH AND HER NEW SON

Relatives Gather For Peek at New Prince

London, Nov. 16 — (AP) — All was reported well today with Princess Elizabeth and her new son as relatives gathered to peer at the two-day-old prince who may be Britain's next king.

Royal physicians have issued no bulletins since Monday morning, but the absence of further announcement was accepted as a sign that the condition of Elizabeth and her baby continues satisfactory.

Sir John Weir and Sir William Gilliatt, who assisted at the birth, called at Buckingham Palace Monday night to see the Princess. Earlier it was declared both the mother and child were in satisfactory condition. Palace sources said no additional bulletins will be issued until some time today.

The Princess was permitted to have her baby with her for a short while Monday.

There was no indication how soon she would be up. Elizabeth always has enjoyed exceptionally good health and some sources believe her stay in bed will not be prolonged.

As for the yet-unnamed baby, doctors' opinions were not needed to persuade those who saw him that he was a "model" prince.

The youngest caller at the palace Monday was six-year-old Prince William of Gloucester who trooped in with his mother, the Duchess of Gloucester. He bore a gift of red roses and a letter he had written to his 22-year-old cousin, Elizabeth. William was a page at the Royal wedding last year.

Drew Challenges Howe to Debate On Hydro Issue

Toronto, Nov. 16 (CP)—George Drew, National Progressive Conservative leader, said Monday night he would challenge Trade Minister Howe to meet him on "the public platform" and debate Ontario's Hydro shortage.

He was commenting on Mr. Howe's speech in London, Ont., Saturday in which the Federal Trade and Commerce Minister said the power shortage was a "man-made calamity" and the man responsible for it "is the present leader of the Progressive Conservative party at Ottawa, Mr. George Drew."

In a prepared statement Mr. Drew said Mr. Howe's speech was a "low and unprincipled attempt to play dirty politics with a situation which affects every worker, every home and every producer in Ontario."

He said he would meet Mr. Howe "anywhere...in Ontario where a radio hookup can carry our words to the people of every part of the province. In that way they will learn what the facts really are and how to judge his reckless effort to sabotage the fine spirit of co-operation which has been shown everywhere since the lowest water levels on record in Ontario and Quebec created the serious and unavoidable shortage of electricity."

Mr. Howe's speech was "just another example of his complete and well-known disregard for the truth," the former Ontario premier said.

Toronto Hydro Will Consider Offer Of Diesel Plant for 2,400,000 KWH

Toronto, Nov. 16 (CP) — E. M. Ashworth, general manager of the Toronto hydro-electric system, said today he will consider an offer of a United States diesel firm to provide Toronto with equipment capable of generating 2,400,000 kilowatt hours daily.

L. P. Falk, president of Consolidated Diesel Corporation or Mount Vernon, N. Y., said his firm can deliver within five months enough steam and diesel generating equipment to supply 50 per cent of the city's daily quota of 4,530,000 K.W.H. He estimated the cost would be $150 a kilowatt.

The annual report of the Toronto system for the year ended Dec. 31 1947, showed an accumulated surplus of $9,941,071.

Chairman Robert H. Saunders of the Ontario Hydro - Electric Power Commission said Toronto's quota would not be cut, nor would any other municipality's quota be cut, if the local system were able to find power sources other than the Ontario Commission. Any purchase of generating equipment would have to be approved by the commission which would investigate the financial structure of the local hydro system. The approval could be obtained "in a matter of a few days."

Toronto city council Monday night decided to ask the federal government to appoint a power controller for all Ontario to ensure fair distribution of reduced power supplies.

Louis St. Laurent Sworn in as P.M.; Two New Ministers

Dominion Has Its Second French-Speaking Premier

Ottawa, Nov. 16 — (CP) — A new political dynasty took root in Canada today.

The Dominion had its second French-speaking prime minister in Rt. Hon. Louis St. Laurent, and it had two new ministers bringing a blend of youth and experience to the cabinet.

It had witnessed the end of an unparalleled epoch in the public life of the Commonwealth — the retirement of William Lyon Mackenzie King, worn with more than 21 years in office and the guiding of his country through war and its aftermath.

Quietly and unobtrusively, Mr. King bowed out Monday, handing over office to the 66-year-old Quebec lawyer whom he had hand-picked as his successor years ago and who was elected Liberal leader at the party's national convention in August.

The slender effervescent Mr. St. Laurent promptly injected new blood into the cabinet with the entry of Stuart Garson, 49, former Manitoba premier, as justice minister and R. H. Winter, commons member for Queens-Lunenburg as minister of reconstruction and supply.

At 38 with little more than three years of politics behind him, the towering new reconstruction minister became the cabinet's youngest member. He was quickly handed one of its toughest — and most thankless — jobs by being put in charge of all federal housing activities.

In Making for Months

Both the appointments had been in the making for months. Mr. Gerson quit his premiership at the federal government's request to take over the justice portfolio from Mr. St. Laurent himself. Mr. Winters, who has been transport parliamentary assistant fills the Nova Scotia

Toronto, Nov. 16 (CP) — The newly-born Prince will receive 50 perfect Queen Elizabeth roses chosen from the finest of thousands of blooms on display at the Royal Winter Fair which opens today. Presented by Canadian rose growers, the flowers will be flown to London today.

A duplicate exhibit of the roses sent overseas has been set up in the west annex of the Royal Winter Fair here.

Exploded Gun Cotton Near Prayer Ground

New Delhi, Nov. 16. (AP)— Madan Lal, one of the defendants in the Gandhi murder trial, told the court today he exploded gun cotton near Mohandas K. Gandhi's prayer ground Jan. 20, 10 days before the slaying.

The 23-year-old Punjab refugee declared his intention was 'only to make sufficient noise to attract Gandhi's attention to the miserable plight of the refugees."

Madan Lad is the fourth defendant to plead so far. M. V. Godse has admitted he fired the fatal shot, but denied anyone conspired with him. Two others, N. B. Apte and V. R. Karkare have pleaded innocent.

POWER MANAGER SUGGESTED BY TORONTO COUNCIL

Claimed Queen City Deserves Special Consideration in Power Allotment

Toronto, Nov. 1 6(CP) — The Toronto city council, seeking an increased hydro quota for Toronto, wants the federal government to appoint a power controller for all Ontario to ensure fair distribution of shrunken supplies of electricity.

The council made its request after a six-hour discussion on hydro problems Monday night. Mayor Hiram E. McCallum contended that Toronto, as a supply centre for many other communities, deserved special consideration in its power allotment.

At the same time, George Drew, national leader of the Progressive Conservative party and former Ontario Premier, in a prepared statement released to the press, challenged Trade Minister Howe to debate publicly Ontario's power situation. Mr. Howe said in a speech in London, Ont., Saturday that Mr. Drew was the author of Ontario's power shortage.

The Toronto council discussion came at the end of the day on which Ontario's capital and largest city standardized its three-a-day week-day cutoffs so that the power is interrupted in all sections simultaneously.

The downtown area served by the hydro's "network system" still is exempt from cutoffs due to technical difficulties in arranging the breaks. But it was announced Monday night that power cuts will start in that area, too, in 10 or 12 days.

Feeds Outside Industries

Mayor McCallum said he felt provincial hydro engineers should have made provision for possible shortages by constructing steam generating plants for use throughout the province.

Sea Cadet Corps Request Grant From the City

A municipal grant to provide financial assistance for the local Sea Cadet Corps was asked of city council Monday evening when representatives of the Belleville Branch of the Navy League appeared as a delegation before council.

Gilbert Stackhouse and J. J. Galloway acted as spokesmen for the delegation which also included Thomas Wrightmeyer, treasurer of the Navy League.

Mr. Stackhouse outlined the good work being done for local youth througth the Sea Cadet Corps and read letters from Police Chief Walter Probert and from His Honor Judge J. C. Anderson, praising the work of the cadets in combatting juvenile delinquency.

Previously without a home in the city, the Sea Cadets two years ago had been provided with their own "ship" with the purchase of the athletic club premises on South Front Street. This had been purchased at a cost of $4,000 and another $5,000 had been spent in alterations. Now it was necessary to spend another $4,500 for a furnace room and heating plant so the "ship" could be used all year round.

"The Navy League is providing the money for this addition, but only with the provision that the local cadets receive the support of the citizens," stated Mr. Stackhouse.

Mr. Galloway also spoke in behalf of the Sea Cadets, noting that the corps members were receiving worthwhile training. "If young boys do not receive the proper training they cannot grow up to be the good citizens of tomorrow," he urged.

The delegation set no amount which they considered may be a suitable grant from the municipality but later in council Alderman Duffy introduced a motion recommending that the 1949 council provide $1,000 for the Sea Cadets next year.

Mystic Show Produces Thrills, Chills in Audience

A near capacity audience paid admission at the McCarthy theatre Monday to see the midnight stage and screen presentation, "Chasms of Spasms" by Dr. Ogre Banshee and his troupe.

The show consisted mainly of popular parlor magic, with the customary sleight-of-hand tricks, and better grade feats of mysticism. Soliciting the aid of a few volunteers from the audience, Dr. Banshee kept everyone highly amused as he demonstrated the powers of hypnosis and suggestion.

To conclude his 45-minute show, Dr. Banshee fast-talked his audience into a near-frenzied state with a description of the spooks and what-nots that he intended to release in the theatre. When the power of suggestion had accomplished its purpose, the theatre was blackened out and wild, spooky music poured forth from the amplifying system.

While the air was filled with screams, luminous spectres floated through the air, whizzing about and giving off an eerie glow, seemingly taking on many different shapes. The wind-up lasted merely a couple of minutes. The lights were again turned up and the projectionist put the screen presentation "Blood and Thunder" in motion.

The film was a production based on the occult powers of a magician who could induce the state of suspended animation at will. Those, who went to the showing with the intention of allowing themselves to be mystified, were not disappointed. Though the tricks performed were partly of the variety, that some expert students of parlor magic could perform, an enjoyable time was had by all. (R. G.)

Welfare Minister To be Approached Respecting Home

Mayor D. L. Storey will arrange for a meeting with the Ontario Minister of Welfare, Hon. W. A. Goodfellow, to discuss the feasibility of erecting a new home for the aged in Belleville replacing the one destroyed by fire last January.

This was voted by city council Monday evening following a request from the Women's Christian Association for assurance of financial assistance should it be decided to erect the new home for the aged. At Thursday's committee meeting council "approved in principle" with the erection of the new home but added that the advice of the minister of welfare would be sought.

The decision to meet with Mr. Goodfellow came when Alderman Armstrong noted that the possibility was being considered of the city going in with Hastings county in the erection of their new home for the aged west of the city.

Use Pit Run Gravel

Council gave its approval for the surfacing of road areas in the Parkwood Heights and Churchill Heights districts with pit run gravel. This work will be done following the completion of installation of sewer laterals and water services in the area. It was estimated by the city engineer that approximately 9,000 tons of gravel would be needed for surfacing operations. Tenders will be called for the job.

The Port Hope Construction Company was awarded the contract for the construction of sewers in the Cherry Gardens area off MacDonald Ave. The price was $2,531.

Nearly All Within Budgets

As Chairman of Finance, Alderman Clarke noted the amount of money appropriations for the various council committees and stated whether accounts were overdrawn or had a balance at the present date. All departments with the exception of Market and City Property, garbage collection and administration of justice were within their budgets. These departments were slightly overdrawn

Under inquiries Alderman Clarke asked why hydrant rental for 1947 had not been returned by the utilities commission as promised. Mayor Storey replied he could not answer the question.

Also speaking on the hydrant question Alderman Duffy noted that there should be a hard and fast rule to assure that fire hydrants at all times were in good working order. This would mean an inspector being regularly on the job, and also would be a matter of education for all departments using the hydrants to leave them in the proper order.

Some Found Frozen

The alderman noted that in the winter time firemen had in some instances found hydrants frozen when they answered fire alarms.

Under motions council moved to reimburse Mr. R. Muir, Bleecker Ave., to the amount of $150 for out of pocket expenses and for the public works department to repair floors at his residence. Mr. Muir contended that last spring sewer gas exploded in his basement causing the damage. The recommendation to repair the damage was not an admission of the city's liability, it was noted in the motion.

Property Transferred

Alderman Lazenby brought up the matter of a piece of property adjoining the Alliance Tabernacle on Moira Street West, which recently had been voted turned over to the Industrial Commission. The alderman asked that the placing of an industry on the site be reconsidered as the church organization wished to purchase the property.

Alderman Tice informed council that the Alliance Tabernacle wished the property to erect a Sunday School, following which a motion was introduced by Alderman Lazenby to rescind the recommendation turning the property over to the Industrial Commission and to transfer it to the special property committee.

Alderman Lazenby also asked if the new plastic floor in the arena was satisfactory. Alderman Tice replied the floor was entirely satisfactory and that a good sheet of ice had been frozen over the floor.

Additional Power Cuts Will Be Likely in City Says O.H. Scott If More Savings Are Not Made

"The power situation in the city is critical at the present time and no doubt will become worse as winter progresses," O. H. Scott Public Utilities manager told the Retail Merchants' Division of the Chamber of Commerce at its meeting last night.

Asked if the present quota was likely to be reduced during the winter months, Mr. Scott stated that with darker days the consumption is much heavier and with cold weather approaching an additional cut will quite likely be necessary.

The present quota of the city is 96,700 kilowatts, he said and it is not likely there will be any let-up in the near future with shorter days and increasing demands.

"The situation is daily becoming more difficult and the city will have to decrease its consumption or industry will be forced to curtail operations."

The reason some municipalities are hit harder than others is due to the varying in percentage of domestic and industrial and commercial consumption.

Can Stagger Hours

Some cities with a large percentage of industrial consumption can stagger industrial working hours and remain within their quota so that blackouts are unnecessary.

"In Belleville," Mr. Scott said, "industries are using only 27 per cent of the total power. The remaining 73 per cent is used by commercial and domestic users. Industries are making a 25 per cent saving and if domestic and commercial users would do likewise, our troubles would be nearly over."

Appliances in the home draw a heavy drain on power. Everyone should try to use as few burners on their stoves as possible. If meals are planned with this in mind a great saving can be affected. Being economical with the use of hot water will reduce the heavy drain on power now being used by hot water heaters.

Could be Amortized

Asked if he would recommend the purchase of power plants for use in retail stores, Mr. Scott said "that no new developments would be supplying power before 1951, and that if the cost of a power plant is amortized over three years its might be worthwhile."

"Every day our loads are increasing and of course, the lack of rainfall this year has been unprecedented. It has been the worst season in years."

Summer cuts will be unlikely but a lot depends on the rainfall next season, also taking into consideration the lesser amount of power used in the summer months owing to longer days and none required for heating.

Chairman Bill Brown pointed out to the merchants that the Santa Claus parade scheduled for November 25th., is lined up and that the quota cost was within $281 of the objective with twenty merchants to hear from.

The meeting unanimously agreed that Boxing Day which falls on Sunday this year be observed on the following Monday.

The question on what nights the stores might stay open during the two weeks preceding Christmas was discussed. The matter was deferred until taken up with hydro authorities.

Municipal Band Delegation Asks Larger Grant

The Belleville Municipal Band is desperately in need of additional funds to carry on the organization, members of city council were told Monday evening when they were addressed by a delegation from the band.
